Mr. DECLAN FORD, 14057 Brookcrest, Dallas, Texas, friend and advisor of MARINA OSWALD, made available an envelope and letter received by MARINA OSWALD. The letter was signed by Doctor LUDVIK JANOS, and the envelope bore a return address of 1611 Kennedy Place, Northwest, Washington, D. C. The letter was written in the Russian language. Mr. FORD furnished an English translation written by his wife, Mrs. KATHERINE FORD. This translation is as follows:

"Dear Madam:

"I am writing to you in Russian for the very simple reason that I like the Russian language. I am not a Russian or an American, but I am a refugee Czech. I left Czechoslovakia in 1963 and now I am Professor of Mathematics at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. For a long time I have been interested in your life and your children and primarily your life, dear madam. And I am thinking one solution - not mathematical but a life solution. Merry Christmas to you and your children. Happy New Year.

TRANSLATION FROM RUSSIAN

A letter written in the Russian language, dated 12/9/64, is addressed to Mrs. Marina Oswald and signed by Doctor Judvik Janos. The envelope is addressed to Mrs. Marina Oswald, Dallas, Texas, with a penciled notation of "Richardson" on it, and postmarked December 10, 1964. The return address of Dr. Ludvik Janos, 1611 Kennedy Place, North West, Washington, D. C., appears on the reverse side of the envelope.

Washington

Dear Madam:

I am writing to you in the Russian language for the simple reason that I like it. I am not a Russian nor an American, but I am a refugee Czech. I escaped from Czechoslovakia last year, in 1963, and now I am Professor of Mathematics at George Washington University in Washington, D. C. For a long time I have been interested in your life and your two children, but personally in you, dear madam. And I am thinking about one solution, which is not mathematical, but one of life. I congratulate you and your children and wish you good holidays and a successful New Year.

Yours,

On February 15, 1965, the Washington Field Office advised that its files reflected the following information concerning a Dr. LUDVIK J. JANOS, who was possibly identical to the Dr. LUDVIK JANOS who had corresponded with MARINA OSWALD:

On November 9, 1963, LESLIE ARMOUR, 14th Street and Madison Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., advised SA HUGH B. McGAHEY/the following information:

ARMOUR said that he is employed by the Melpar Corporation in Falls Church, Virginia, and attends night classes at George Washington University where he is a student in the mathematics class of Dr. LUDVIK JANOS. ARMOUR described Dr. JANOS as a Czechoslovak defectee and a possible [redacted] He claimed Dr. JANOS is emotionally unstable and has accused ARMOUR of making remarks critical of his teaching. ARMOUR continued that Dr. JANOS was very upset over this criticism and wanted ARMOUR to comment before the class that ARMOUR loved JANOS and became emotional when ARMOUR refused. ARMOUR advised he refused to consent to JANOS' wishes and plans to discontinue his class with JANOS. ARMOUR stated that Dr. JANOS has never requested him to [redacted]

Dr. JANOS, according to ARMOUR, spent ten years trying to get out of Czechoslovakia by pretending to sympathize with the communist regime. ARMOUR said he wondered if JANOS is now pretending to "go along" with democracy in the United States since he once said, in discussing the racial problem, that people in this country were using communist pressures to better their conditions in the United States.

The record of Dr. LUDVIK JANOS at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., was made available to SA WILLIAM S. MEEHAN on November 19, 1963. It reflects that LUDVIK JANOS, born October 3, 1922 at Brno, Czechoslovakia, had been appointed as a full time Associate Professor in Mathematics from September, 1963 to June, 1964. At the time this record was reviewed, Dr. JANOS was teaching at George Washington University, and was residing at 1611 Kennedy Place, N.W., Washington, D. C.

DL 100-10461

On January 7, 1964, SA ROBERT F. OLMERT determined that the files of the Visa Office, U. S. Department of State, Washington, D. C., indicate that as early as August 14, 1963, George Washington University made inquiry at the U. S. Department of State as to when a visa would be issued to JANOS. The visa file for JANOS further noted that the American Consulate at Frankfurt, Germany, advised the U. S. Department of State by communication dated August 19, 1963, that Dr. JANOS had applied for a visa on August 5, 1963, under the non-preference portion of the Czechoslovak quota. A visa was issued to JANOS on September 16, 1963, at Frankfurt. A note in the visa file reflected that JANOS had been at George Washington University since September 23, 1963.

On January 9, 1964, another government agency which conducts security type investigations, advised that subsequent to his defection to the West on April 9, 1963, at Shannon, Ireland, LUDVIK JANOS volunteered the following information:

LUDVIK JANOS advised he was born on October 3, 1922, at Brno, Czechoslovakia. His mother died in 1954, and he became alienated from his father, EDWARD LUDVIK JANOS, a Communist Party leader, and thrice married. Dr. JANOS' sister and brother-in-law were also Communist Party leaders but JANOS himself never joined the party. Prior to his defection, he had worked for thirteen years in the Investigation Institute for Turbines in Prague, Czechoslovakia. He studied mathematics for one year in Russia and vacationed there in 1958. He is fluent in the Russian language and has some knowledge of German, French, English and Spanish.

JANOS has been assessed by a representative of the above government agency as "the absent-minded professor type", and is devoted to his profession. He is extremely polite and cooperative, but nervous and easily agitated. JANOS was evaluated as being definitely pro-West. It was further noted there was no way of knowing whether JANOS' admitted

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent THEODORE A. SANDERS in an effort to locate DONALD ANDREW WOLF who is reported to have been the author of a letter to Mrs. MARINA OSWALD dated December 6, 1963, Knoxville, Tennessee:

The Knoxville City Directory reflects no listing for DONALD ANDREW WOLF.

On December 8, 1964, MILDRED WHOLFORD, Clerk, Knoxville Police Department, and CLARA BULL, Clerk, Knoxville Credit Bureau, each advised their files contain no record for WOLF.

On December 8, 1964, Mrs. HAZEL CHASTAIN made available records of the Knox County Election Commission which contained the following information:

On December 5, 1963, one DONALD A. WOLF, 6122 Clinton Highway, applied for permanent voters registration for the first time. He indicated that he had resided in the State of Tennessee all of his life and in the county for six months. He indicated his occupation was "disabled vet". He reported that he was born March 3, 1941, Fentress County, Tennessee, and his height was 5'11", weight 130 pounds, hair and eyes brown. The records indicated that he had never voted in Knox County subsequent to his registration.

On December 9, 1964, Special Agents THEODORE A. SANDERS and WILBERT W. SMITH contacted Mrs. RUBY McDONALD and her daughter, Mrs. JUDY HULING, both of whom reside 6122 Clinton Highway in a residence in the rear of the Courtesy Grill located at the same address which is operated by Mrs. McDONALD. Both advised they did not know WOLF and that he had never resided at this residence nor had he used it for mail. Mrs. McDONALD stated she had never employed WOLF and stated that she can recall no customers in the grill who might be identical with WOLF and who might have used this address. She advised that in the Fall of 1963, this address was also used by McCloud Used Car Lot.

On December 9, 1964, OLLIE A. McCLOUD, McCloud Used Car Lot, 4500 Clinton Highway, advised that he formerly had a car lot located at 6122 Clinton Highway in 1963 and that he did not leave this address until after Christmas, 1963. He advised that he had never employed DONALD A. WOLF and had no information which could identify this individual. He made inquiries among other employees with negative results.

On December 11, 1964, inquiries were made by Special Agent SANDERS of ED HAWKINS, Sleep Motel, and FRANK SPARKS, Dwarf Restaurant, both of which are located in the immediate vicinity of 6122 Clinton Highway, and neither of these individuals could furnish any information concerning WOLF.

It is noted that the envelope containing WOLF's letter to MARINA OSWALD is postmarked at Jamestown, Tennessee, which is the county seat of Fentress County. It is noted that the DONALD A. WOLF who registered with the Knox County Election Commission gave his birthplace as Fentress County, Tennessee.

The following investigation was conducted by SA WILLIS S. TURNER:

On January 20, 1965, Miss OVA BLAIR, York Institute, Jamestown, Tennessee, advised that ROBERT D. McDONALD, date of birth March 3, 1941, son of WILLIE and DOROTHY McDONALD, had attended high school the school year 1957-1958. On September 13, 1963, he took a General Education Development examination and made a score high enough to qualify him as a senior student. In the fall of 1963 he entered York Institute as a senior and was permitted to take senior subjects. He received his high school diploma in the Spring of 1964, that is, on May 8, 1964, when he graduated. It was noted that a transcript of his record had been sent to the Veterans Administration at Atlanta, Georgia, on August 10, 1964, and on August 5, 1964, a transcript of his record had been sent to Cumberland College, Lebanon, Tennessee. She advised that his file reflected that he was a member of the student council his senior year and he was also elected the most courteous boy in the senior class.

On January 21, 1965, IRVIN R. JONES, Sheriff, Jamestown, Tennessee, advised that he did not know of anyone by the name of DONALD ANDREW WOLF in Jamestown or in that vicinity and did not know of anyone by the name of WOLF in that general area.

On January 15, 1965, Mrs. DONALD PASCHAL, Veterans Administration Hospital, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, advised that BOBBY D. McDONALD C # 21046255, had not returned to this facility since December 21, 1959. She stated, however, that they have an out-patient clinic at Knoxville, Tennessee, operated by the Veterans Administration Hospital, and in all probability McDONALD would be receiving treatment through the out-patient clinic there. It is not a part of the Veterans Administration Hospital at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, however. She pointed out that the Regional Office of the Veterans Administration in Nashville, Tennessee, might possibly have up-to-date information and the latest diagnosis on McDONALD.

In 1962 in connection with another FBI investigation it was determined that several individuals living in the vicinity of Jamestown, Tennessee, had received anonymous threatening letters, all postmarked at Jamestown, beginning in June, 1962, and continuing through August, 1962. The letters were all threatening but no demand was made for money or anything of value. They were signed in most instances by "The Wolf."

McDONALD admitted writing the letters. In addition, handwriting specimens were taken from McDONALD and were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory. They identified all of the handwriting as being that of McDONALD except the letter addressed to JUNIOR BYRD and the letter and envelope addressed to ALEX BEATY. Similarities were noted in this questioned handwriting and hand printing when compared with the known handwriting of McDONALD, however.

On August 30, 1962, records of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, a mental institution, disclosed that BOBBY D. McDONALD, Army Serial Number RA 14606708, Veterans Administration Claim Number 21046255, had been in military service from July 17, 1958, to June 5, 1959, as a private. He had received an honorable discharge. His date of birth was listed as March 3, 1941, at Wilder, Tennessee, and his father was shown as WILLIE McDONALD. He received a total disability of $180.00 per month, and his mother, DOROTHY McDONALD, Jamestown, Tennessee, was his guardian.

He was admitted to the hospital on November 19, 1959, for examination and observation, being admitted as a schizophrenic reaction. On December 21, 1959, he was given a pass to visit his relatives in Jamestown, Tennessee. He never returned to the hospital.

[redacted]

The following description of McDONALD was obtained by observation and interrogation on August 29, 1962:

Race	White
Sex	Male
Date of Birth	March 3, 1941
Place of Birth	Fentress County, Tennessee
Residence	Jamestown, Tennessee
Height	5' 10"
Weight	150 pounds
Hair	Brown, cut short
Eyes	Brown

He had completed his first year of high school at York Institute, Jamestown, Tennessee.

Marital Status	Single
Father	WILLIAM J. B. McDONALD, who was employed by Leland Electric Company, Dayton, Ohio, and who resided at 212 Troy Street, Dayton, Ohio
Mother	DOROTHY, Nee CRAVENS, Jamestown, Tennessee

Prosecution was declined in view of the mental condition of McDONALD, the declination being on December 10, 1962, since it appeared that he had ceased writing threatening letters.

FD-302 (Rev. 1-25-60) FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

1 Date 1/28/65

ROBERT DONALD McDONALD was interviewed at his residence, RFD, Jamestown, Tennessee, at which time he advised that he is also known as BOBBY McDONALD.

He advised that in May, 1963, he was in Nashville, Tennessee, when they were having racial demonstrations and the Negro people were trying to integrate some of the restaurants. He stated that he had never been around many Negroes and had never seen many Negroes and got a big thrill out of seeing the altercations between the Negroes and the whites and the police. He stated that he kept near enough to the action so that he could see what was going on but not where he would get hurt.

He advised that he was in Nashville at the time President JOHN KENNEDY made an address there, which he believed was in May, 1963, or in the Spring of 1963. He claimed that he and two boys, RICHARD BLAIR and NOBLE HOLT, who are both from Jamestown, Tennessee, and who are both ex-convicts, were staying in a little apartment on the fringe of a large Negro area in Nashville, Tennessee, the address, street and house number of which he did not recall. BLAIR and HOLT were working for some unknown construction company, but he, McDONALD, was not working. He advised that one night a man came to the apartment about the time KENNEDY was there, and he made some remarks about how easy it would be to shoot KENNEDY right in Nashville, Tennessee, from some building or high place. McDONALD claimed that he (McDONALD) liked KENNEDY and he and this unknown person, whom he could not describe, had an argument and almost got into a fight. He stated that he did not remain in Nashville for a long period of time until he returned to Jamestown, Tennessee. However, he was present the day that President KENNEDY was in Nashville, Tennessee, and saw him from a distance.

About the time KENNEDY was assassinated, McDONALD stated that he was in Knoxville, Tennessee, having gone to Knoxville, Tennessee, for some sort of treatment by the Veterans Administration doctors there. He stated that he was there about a week, but he could not recall where he stayed or lived while he was in Knoxville. He stated that he did not know anyone by the name of RUBY McDONALD in Knoxville, Tennessee.

by SA VERNE D. GAUBY and SA WILLIS S. TURNER:wp Date dictated 1/22/65

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

He admitted that he had written a letter while he was in Knoxville, Tennessee, to MARINA OSWALD and had signed this letter DONALD A. WOLF. He stated that he could not recall just what he had said in the letter, since it had been a long time, having written the letter sometime in the latter part of November or early December of 1963, but that he thought he volunteered to help her if he could do so. He stated he used the name DONALD ANDREW WOLF on occasions because he liked that name. He further stated that on one occasion he had been stopped by the police in Chattanooga, Tennessee, and he did not want to tell them who he was, so he told them his name was DONALD ANDREW WOLF, and he was immediately released.

He stated that he liked President KENNEDY very much but that he had never met LEE HARVEY OSWALD. However, after the assassination of President KENNEDY and OSWALD's picture was shown in various papers and on television, he decided that probably OSWALD was the man who came to his apartment when he was living in Nashville, Tennessee, in May of 1963 and said something about how easy it would be to shoot President KENNEDY from a building or a high point. He stated that he would not hurt anyone, and the only reason he wrote Mrs. OSWALD was to offer his sympathies insofar as he could recall and to offer her any assistance. He could not recall what return address he put on the letter and could not recall any other contents of the letter.

He advised that the Veterans Administration had prescribed two different tranquilizers for him, one of which was Thorazine in 50 milligram capsules, and the other was Sparine in 10 milligram capsules. He advised that he took them to make him sleep. He stated that he drinks but not heavily.

At the conclusion of the interview he stated that he did not and had never known LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and although he had written a letter to Mrs. OSWALD and had signed his name as D. A. WOLF, the only thing that he could recall was that he had offered to help her if possible to do so.

Mr. DECLAN FORD, 14057 Brookcrest, Dallas, friend and advisor of MARINA OSWALD, advised SA WALLACE R. HEITMAN on March 2, 1965, MARINA OSWALD had returned to Dallas on February 28, 1965, and is presently residing in her home at [redacted] Belt Line Road, Richardson, Texas, with her children. She has no definite plans for the future. The manuscript of the book being written by PRISCILLA JOHNSON on the life of MARINA OSWALD, has not yet been submitted to the publishers. FORD advised MARINA OSWALD's knowledge of the English language has improved, particularly in grammar.

IV. EFFORTS BY MARINA OSWALD TO OBTAIN PROPERTY OF LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

DL 100-10461

"The Dallas Times Herald", Dallas, Texas, on March 23, 1965, contained an article captioned "Husband's Estate Sought by Marina". This article stated that MARINA OSWALD had filed an application in Dallas County Probate Court to become administrator of the estate of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. The Community Administrator Application was filed during the previous week in Judge F. W. BARTLETT, JR.'s, court. County Judge LEW STERRETT appointed three appraisers to inventory the property owned by OSWALD. The appraisers were ROBERT M. MARTIN, JR., and CHUCK CARLISLE BLALOCK, both Dallas attorneys, and HARRY H. MC KAY, Administrative Assistant to Judge BARTLETT.

The article stated that the application points out that OSWALD left no will and that his interests in the community property, consequently, passes to the two OSWALD children. The application states that Mrs. OSWALD has filed in a Federal District Court a declaration of her intention to become a United States citizen.

The article continues that MARINA's attorney, WILLIAM BLALOCK, has sixty days to file an inventory of OSWALD's property at which time the three appraisers will study the list and report to Judge STERRETT, who will then decide whether to appoint MARINA OSWALD as administrator. If named as administrator, MARINA OSWALD will have to post a bond to be set by the Judge.

This newspaper article continues that a community administrator differs from administrators normally named, in that the community administrator is entitled to settle the estate without further proceedings in court, and states that according to the statutes, MARINA OSWALD would be appointed to "control, manage and dispose of community property" in accordance with the law. The article stated that assets acquired by Mrs. OSWALD since her husband's death would not be affected by this proceeding.

"The Dallas Times Herald", Dallas, Texas, on March 26, 1965, carried an article captioned "Oswald Guns Now Valued At $10,000".

This article stated that the rifle used to assassinate President KENNEDY and the revolver with which Police Officer J. D. TIPPIT was slain have been valued officially at $10,000 by three appraisers appointed by County Probate Court. The article continued that Mrs. MARINA OSWALD had been named by Probate Judge F. W. BARTLETT, JR., as Community Administrator for the property, and that she was bonded in the amount of $5,000, one-half the property's value as required by law. Included in the inventory listing of property was a four-power telescopic sight, a two-piece sling, and a cartridge clip. All of these items were included in the $10,000 appraisal, and no real property was listed in the inventory. This article stated that MARINA OSWALD's attorney had indicated that a $10,000 bid for the two weapons had been made by a gun collector. The article commented that the attorney, WILLIAM BLALOCK, had stated he was not at liberty to discuss the possible sale of the weapons, which were both now in the possession of the Department of Justice, and he was not sure what steps might be required to regain possession. The article quoted Mr. BLALOCK as stating, "I don't think the Government has any right to keep them since the Warren Commission has finished its job. They belong to Mrs. Oswald and her children."

The article commented that the well-publicized diary of OSWALD was not included in the inventory and attorney BLALOCK was quoted as saying, "I did not think it had any value now; however, Mrs. Oswald was trying to regain the document from Federal authorities."

Dear Mrs. Oswald:

I am, I feel a very close friend to your late husband L. Harvey Oswald, and I feel a close kin to you.

I wish to say that Harvey always did for you and his wife, what he thought was the best. I am very sad that this plan did not work out, but if I may be of help and assistance to you and yours please let me know.

Let me tell you this, he died for what he believed in, his death was not in vain. I do wish that you would stay here in the U.S. until I could meet and talk with you. At the moment, I am very busy working I feel for the good of the world.

I will close with this line that Harvey only felt close to a few more than a dozen people, and you by far was the one he loved.

I am yours truly,

D. A. Jeffries

ReBulet 3/22/65.

Enclosed herewith are the original and eight copies of an LHM prepared in the captioned matter, together with copies of an informant's evaluation memorandum.

T-1 referred to in the LHM is [redacted]

The Bureau's attention is called to Bureau R/S dated 3/19/65 entitled, "RODOLFO OSVALDO DI MARCO," forwarded Legat for information, which enclosed two copies of a self-explanatory letter from DI MARCO, who advised that his address in the "Argentine Republic" is Calle Laguna 1330, and that his other name is JOHN CHARLIE BEADLEY, whose address in the U. S. is:

"Calle Tulane Avenue
New Orleans, Louisiana, No. 2474"

In the same enclosure, DI MARCO stated that the Warren Commission's report is negative with respect to the masterminds of the death of the late President JOHN F. KENNEDY, and asked that the Bureau extend its investigation to Argentina in whatever form is appropriate. The Bureau pointed out in its R/S that no action was being contemplated since DI MARCO appeared to be a mental case. On the basis of information set forth in and furnished with ReBulet, together with that in the attached LHM, it appears that the author of the letters forwarded by Bureau R/S as well as the communication given to ROBERT KING HIGH, Mayor, City of Miami, while in Buenos Aires 2/10-12/65, are the same person.

Records of the American Embassy, Buenos Aires, contain no information identifiable with the name of JOHN CHARLIE BRADLEY, which DI MARCO claims he uses as noted above.

In view of the foregoing, as well as other information developed to date, no effort is being made to arrange for an interview of DI MARCO, UACB.

The attached LHM is classified "Confidential" since unauthorized disclosure of the information contained therein might jeopardize informant's identity, to the detriment of Bureau and U. S. interests.

Although no plan is being made to arrange an interview with DI MARCO, in view of the allegation set forth in the LHM that he is a "Peronist-leftist sympathizer", plus the fact that he has applied for an immigrant visa to the U. S., a separate file is being opened on DI MARCO to determine whether or not any additional subversive-type allegations exist against him.

At 2:45 PM., 4/21/65, Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, 3704 Crestline Road, Fort Worth, Texas, mother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, telephonically contacted the Fort Worth RA and furnished the following information to IC JAMES VON WHITE:

MARGUERITE OSWALD stated she had just purchased the current edition of "Life" magazine and that there was an article in this issue concerning one TOMMY THOMPSON, a former resident of Fort Worth, Texas, who has been promoted to an assistant editor of "Life" magazine. Mrs. OSWALD stated that on the day of the assassination of President KENNEDY, TOMMY THOMPSON interviewed her and her daughter-in-law, MARINA OSWALD, at the residence of Mrs. RUTH PAINE in Irving, Texas. She stated that THOMPSON was only a simple reporter at that time but that since the assassination he has been given a big promotion.

Mrs. OSWALD then related that this is not the first time she has heard of others involved in reference to the assassination of getting promotions in their work or occupation. She stated that while her son, LEE HARVEY OSWALD, was in Russia she hired an attorney in Vernon, Texas, by the name of JOHN STOREY, to send affidavits to the State Department and American Embassy in Moscow, Russia. She stated JOHN STOREY sent the final affidavit that brought her son, LEE HARVEY OSWALD, back to this country. She stated that since the assassination, JOHN STOREY, and his son, ROBERT STOREY, of Dallas, Texas, have since been given big political jobs.

Mrs. OSWALD advised that before her son's return from Russia, she was in contact with the current head of CIA, SAM

VOLUME VII, Number 6 April 23, 1965

THE STRANGE DEATH OF JOHN F. KENNEDY

For many years there has been an awareness of the need for a thorough investigation and housecleaning regarding security risks in the Department of State. One of the key individuals responsible for permitting Lee Harvey Oswald to return to the United States from the U. S. S. R. was known to be a security risk and had been reported as such by the late Scott McLeod five years earlier, although the fact that he was a security risk had been known for sixteen years.

On October 31, 1959, Lee Harvey Oswald appeared at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow, at which time he turned over his U. S. passport, and submitted the following statement:

"I Lee Harvey Oswald do hereby request that my present citizenship in the United States of America, be revoked.

"I have entered the Soviet Union for the express purpose of applying for citizenship in the Soviet Union, through the means of naturalization.

"My request for citizenship is now pending before the Supreme Soviet of the U. S. S. R.

"I take these steps for political reasons. My request for the revoking of my American citizenship is made only after the longest and most serious considerations.

"I affirm that my allegiance is to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

(signed) Lee H. Oswald"

In a report to the Department of State made on November 2, 1959 from the U. S. Embassy in Moscow by Richard Snyder and approved by Edward L. Freers, Charge d'Affairs, these facts were made known. The report and copies were sent to the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, Office of State Department Security, Central Intelligence Agency and other interested government departments. It showed that Oswald's manner was "aggressive, arrogant and uncooperative," and that he stated he had been a radar operator in the U. S. Marines and had already told Soviet officials that he intended to give them all the information he possessed. This would have included some very confidential data learned in the service. The report stated Oswald is "presently residing in non-tourist status at the Metropole Hotel in Moscow."

In a report written on April 7, 1964 for the Warren Commission, John A. McVicar, now Principal Officer in the U. S. Consulate in Bolivia, and formerly assigned as Secretary-Counselor at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow, pointed out: "Russian visas are given to tourists at $30.00 per day for individual tours or the applicant must join a group. A regular visa is issued only after checking with Moscow and usually takes several months." (Oswald had obtained a visa at Helsinki immediately.) Mr. McVicar also stated that Helsinki was a port of entry of the type the Russians themselves would have chosen for Oswald. Oswald entered the Soviet Union at Vyborg on October 16, 1959, using U. S. passport #1733242 and had obtained a Soviet Visa #4173339 within less than forty-eight hours. In Moscow Oswald lived in the Hotel Berlin and the Hotel Metropole.

On October 21, 1959, Oswald was admitted to the Botkin Hospital in Moscow for an alleged attempted suicide. He had a small superficial type cut on his left forearm, which required four stitches. He, nevertheless, remained in the hospital until October 28, 1959, and during a portion of this time was in the psychiatric division of the hospital.

It is a well established fact in intelligence circles that the Soviets make a practice of having a psychiatric study and interrogation made of defectors and candidates for intelligence training to help eliminate the possibility of their being double agents. Oswald's whereabouts became a mystery shortly after his hospital sojourn as shown in a dispatch from R. E. Snyder, U. S. Embassy, Moscow, to the State Department, Washington, D. C., dated March 28, 1960, which reads: "The Embassy has had no contact with Oswald since his departure from the Metropole Hotel in Moscow in November 1959 and has no clue as to his present whereabouts."

NOT RECORDED

If the U. S. Embassy in Moscow considered Oswald as a U. S. citizen rather than a definite defector, they could easily have asked the Soviet Foreign Office as to his whereabouts, since the Embassy does keep track of U. S. citizens while they are in the Soviet Union.

Under date of March 28, 1960 the Department of State in Washington, D. C. sent a dispatch to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow as follows:

"An appropriate notice has been placed in the look-out card section of the Passport Office in the event that Mr. Oswald should apply for documentation at a post outside the Soviet Union."

After the assassination of President Kennedy, an investigation of the "look-out card" and what happened to it brought this reply from the State Dept. to the Warren Commission: "Miss Bernice Waterman prepared a 'refusal' sheet and an Operations Memorandum which show that she authorized the preparation of a lookout card; however, investigations, to date, fail to reveal any other indication or evidence that a lookout card was ever prepared, modified, or removed. -- it appears that someone in the Files or Clearance Section missed the 'Refusal' prepared on March 25, 1960, and failed to follow standard operating procedures to prepare a lookout card or that the 'Refusal,' after it left the Foreign Operations Division, was misplaced or misguided in transit--"

Another explanation made by the State Department through Abraham Chayes, Legal Adviser, stated: "A 'lookout card' was probably prepared on Oswald on the ground that he might have expatriated himself, but this cannot be determined with certainty and no such card is now in the 'lookout file'. A memorandum dated Mar. 28, 1960 from the Department to the Embassy in Moscow states that a card was prepared, and the customary forms dated Mar. 25, 1960 were completed directing the preparation of a card. The usual notation on such forms indicating filing of a 'lookout card' was not made, however, nor was a notation placed on the slip that the card was withdrawn, also a usual practice."

Immediately after Oswald's arrest for the Kennedy assassination, Abba Schwartz, head of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, reportedly removed Oswald's file, and it has never been returned, a reliable source states.

Oswald eventually turned up in Minsk, Russia, where he allegedly worked in the experimental section of a radio factory, doing assembly work. During the month of March 1961 Oswald met a Russian girl named Marina Nikolaevena Prusakova. By April 20, 1961 they had applied for permission to marry. According to statements given the Warren Commission by Marina, she was dating other men durin the month of March 1961; and Oswald was patient in Clinical Hospital #4 at Minsk. H was admitted at 10 A. M. on March 30, 196 had a nasal operation and an ear infection take care of, and was discharged from the hospit April 11, 1961. This would have allowed but very short time for a courtship between th niece of an important Soviet official and a no Soviet citizen.

They were married on April 30, 1961. Marina, whose parents were deceased, had been living for the previous four years with her mother's brother, Lt. Col. Ilya Vasilevich Prusakov of the K. G. B. (Soviet Intelligence) who reportedly was in charge of security for the Soviet lumber industries in the area. She lived with her aunt and uncle, who were childless, in Apartment 20 at 39 Kalinin St., Minsk. After her marriage, she and Oswald lived at Apartment 4 at 20 Kalinin St., Minsk. (In some documents their address is listed as House 4, Apt. 24, Kalinin St., Minsk.)

By some coincidence Oswald had already been a neighbor of Col. Prusakov before he met Marina. On Page 605 of Vol. XVIII of the Warren Commission Reports, Marina describes his apartment (in which they lived after their marriage) as follows: "He had a small darling one room apartment with a balcony, a bathroom, gas, kitchen, and a separate entrance, quite enough for two, especially if they were young."

Marina continued to work as an assistant in the pharmacy of the Clinical Hospital at Minsk, according to Soviet records supplied to the Warren Commission. According to Oswald's diary, he was very popular with Marina's uncle, Col. Prusakov, who used to give him vodka to drink free. Oswald referred to Col. Prusakov as "my father-in-law."

According to the State Department report to the Warren Commission, Exhibit #950, the Moscow Embassy had no knowledge of the address, activities or any other information about Oswald in the U. S. S. R. from the time he left the Hotel Metropole in Moscow in November, 1959, until they received a letter from him postmarked Minsk, U. S. S. R., date February 1961. In this letter Oswald stated he desired to return to the United States. He closed the letter with the following paragraph, "I hope that in recalling the responsibility I have to America that you remember yours, in doing everything you can to help me since I am an American citizen."

On May 25, 1961 the U. S. Embassy in Moscow received another letter from Oswald which stated: "I am asking not only for the right to return to the United States but for full guarantees that I shall not, under any circumstances, be persecuted for any act pertaining to this case."---"I would not leave here without my wife so arrangements would have to be made for her to leave at the same time I do."--- "So with this extra complication I suggest you do some checking up before advising me further."

On July 8, 1961 Oswald appeared at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow where he was interviewed and filled out a questionnaire form. He applied for a visa for his wife, Marina, a few days later.

On July 11, 1961 a three-page Foreign Service Dispatch, #29, was sent by diplomatic air pouch from the U. S. Embassy in Moscow to the Department of State in Washington, D. C. regarding the Oswald case. It was signed by Boris H. Klosson, Counsellor for Political Affairs. The subject of the dispatch was "Citizenship and Passports - Lee Harvey Oswald." It contained statements and comments by Mr. Klosson. This three-page dispatch paved the way for Oswald to return to the United States where he attempted to take the life of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, and succeeded in taking the life of President John F. Kennedy.

On Page 2, Paragraph 3 of Dispatch #29 is stated: "Oswald was married on April 30, 1961, to Marina Nikolaevna Pusakova, a dental technician." It is important to note that in this vital communication the name of Oswald's wife is not spelled correctly, nor is her occupation listed correctly. Klosson, who signed the dispatch on behalf of the Ambassador, allowed her name to be spelled "Pusakova" instead of "Prusakova" and her occupation to be listed as "dental technician" instead of "assistant pharmacist."

Klosson closed the long dispatch with the following: "Twenty months of the realities of life in the Soviet Union have clearly had a maturing effect on Oswald. He stated frankly that he had learned a hard lesson the hard way and that he had been completely relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union at the same time that he acquired [illegible] understanding and appreciation of the United States and the meaning of freedom---" The report showed Oswald as having earned only ninety rubles per month and having saved two hundred rubles for part of his return fare. This was also incorrect, as Oswald made much more than this and Oswald had lost none of his arrogance.

Since officials in the U. S. Embassy in Moscow were aware that the Soviets conduct training schools for agents and assassins to murder statesmen in the Free World, Klosson's utter disregard for the truth and failure to verify facts concerning Oswald is especially sinister. Who is Boris Klosson?

Boris Hanson Klosson was born in Buffalo N. Y. on January 21, 1919, the son of Michael Klosson and the former Miss Kenena Hanson. He received a BS Degree from Hamilton College in 1940 and a MA Degree from Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy in 1941. He has studied for one year (1938-9) at the Institut Universitaire de Hautes Internationales, Geneva Switzerland. On May 3, 1947 he married Miss Harriet F. Cheston. From 1942-3 he was an analyst for a U. S. Aircraft Company and then went into the U. S. Army, became a lieutenant and was assigned to the O. S. S.

In the O. S. S. he worked for and came under the influence of Gerold T. Robinson who was O. S. S. Chief of the U. S. S. R. Division of Research and Analysis. Robinson was under investigation by U. S. intelligence agencies because of his pro-Soviet activities. He was Director of the American-Russian Institute 56 West 45 Street, New York, N. Y. (along with Avraham Yarmolinsky, father of Adam. This organization was cited as communist by the Attorney General of the United States. The Senate Internal Security Sub-committee stated it was closely linked with the Institute of Pacific Relations. In 1946, in filling out a federal employment application, Klosson gave as personal reference his friend, tutor and associate, Prof. Gerold T. Robinson.

Louise Morley, identified communist, who has taken the Fifth Amendment over forty times is also known as Mildred Vidor and Mildred Linton. She was long suspected of being engaged in espionage activities on behalf of the Soviet Union. In 1943 she had made a trip out of the country under suspicious circumstances. Upon her return it was learned she had on her person a very confidential address book of contacts among whom Boris Klosson was listed. During the couple of years that Klosson was active in

D. S. S., he was reported as being responsible for the leaking out to unauthorized persons of secret and confidential information to the detriment of the United States.

Klosson came into the State Department in 1945 and immediately was assigned with the Division of Research on U. S. S. R. and Eastern Europe, doing highly confidential work. He was promoted many times and worked his way up to become Chief of the Research (Intelligence) Division for U. S. S. R. On July 26, 1959 he became First Secretary of the U. S. Embassy in Moscow and at the time of the report referred to was Counsellor for Political Affairs.

Klosson is now Counsellor and Consul at the U. S. Embassy in Kingston, Jamaica, having been assigned to this post October 14, 1962. Klosson, who speaks fluent Russian, had been reported by the F. B. I. in an investigation which showed derogatory information concerning his background. In 1956 the late Scott McLeod had reviewed his file and "Klosson" was one of the names on his list of 847 security risks in the State Department.

For conclusive evidence that Oswald was not rehabilitated or "relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union" as security risk Klosson would have us believe, we submit the following letter, written by Oswald to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D. C. less than two weeks before he murdered President Kennedy. It is dated November 9, 1963, and states:

"This is to inform you of recent events since my meetings with comrade Kostin in the Embassy of the Soviet Union, Mexico City, Mexico. (Kostin is a high official in the K. G. B.)

"I was unable to remain in Mexico indefinitely because of my mexican visa restrictions which was for 15 days only. I could not take a chance on requesting a new visa unless I used my real name, so I returned to the United States.

"I had not planned to contact the Soviet embassy in Mexico so they were unprepared, had I been able to reach the Soviet Embassy in Havana as planned, the embassy there would have had time to complete our business.

"Of course the Soviet embassy was not at fault, they were, as I say unprepared, the Cuban consulate was guilty of a gross breach of regulations, I am glad he has since been replaced.

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation is not now interested in my activities in the progressive organization 'Fair Play For Cuba Committee', of which I was secretary in New Orleans (state Louisiana) since I no longer reside in that state. However, the F. B. I. has visited us here in Dallas, Texas, on November 1st. Agent James P. Hasty warned me that if I engaged in F. P. C. activities in Texas the F. B. I. will again take an 'interest' in me.

"This agent also 'suggested' to Marina Nichilayeva that she could remain in the United States under F. B. I. 'protection', that is, she could defect from the Soviet Union, of course, I and my wife strongly protested these tactics by the notorious F. B. I.

"Please inform us of the arrival of our Soviet entrance visa's as soon as they come.

"Also, this is to inform you of the birth, on October 20, 1963 of a DAUGHTER, AUDREY MARINA OSWALD in DALLAS, TEXAS, to my wife.

Respectfully,
(signed) L. H. Oswald"

JOHN L. REED
INFORMATION CONCERNING

This memorandum is supplemental to previous memoranda submitted October 20, 1964.

On March 19, 1965, First Lieutenant Bob Bullack, Royal Canadian Mounted Police furnished Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation a letter addressed to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police by John L. Reed, 421 East 5th Street, Sedalia, Missouri.

In the letter, Reed stated he wished to register a complaint concerning certain stock transactions he had with Gairdner and Company, Ltd., a stock brokerage firm located at 1030 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police also furnished the Federal Bureau of Investigation with a report of their investigation of the complaint made by Reed which report explained that Reed's charges against the firm were unfounded.

In addition to the complaint against Gairdner and Company, Ltd., Reed in his letter, went on to say that he is having considerable trouble mailing his letters through the Post Office, as the Post Office will not accept some of his letters. He goes into detail in the letter, explaining that he thinks Mr. Truman, Mr. Johnson, and Mr. Eisenhower, are all German sympathizers, and that He based his statement on the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the fact that the Government failed to break up one German spy ring during World War Two, while there were a number of spy rings broken in World War One. Reed also states that it is his opinion that the "Fuher" in the White House and J. E. Hoover conspired to murder John F. Kennedy, and that the "Secret Police" visited Oswald two weeks before President Kennedy went to Dallas and they supplied Oswald with Kennedy's travel route in Dallas.

Memorandum

TO : Mr. Carl Belcher, Chief

Criminal Division

DATE: April 16, 1965

FROM : John J. Galvin, Assistant Director

SUBJECT: Curtis Dearl Zumbro, Jr., Y-31461-SW (formerly YE-137-LC)

We recently received a letter from the above named, now confined at the Federal Reformatory, El Reno, Oklahoma, in which he stated that an inmate at the Federal Correctional Institution, Lompoc, California, had talked about doing bodily harm to the President. Zumbro had initially been committed to Lompoc, being transferred to El Reno following study under provisions of 18 U.S.C., Section 5010(e).

We asked Warden Pontesso to ask Zumbro to identify, if possible, the inmate who had made this threat. A copy of the Warden's report is attached.

We believe the "Brenard" to whom Zumbro refers is Raymond Marion Joseph Bradburn, A-4121-LC, who is now serving a five-year term at Lompoc for Mailing a Threatening Letter to the President, 18 U.S.C., Section 871. He was initially committed for study and observation under 4208(b). The five-year term was later confirmed on January 20, 1964. Bradburn's parole eligibility date is March 1, 1965. The Board of Parole is currently considering his application for parole. If not released on parole, he will be eligible for mandatory release on June 21, 1967.

This is for your information and for whatever disposition you think appropriate.

In response to Mr. Heaney's Memorandum of March 9, we have talked with Zumbro and can relate the following information. While confined at Lompoc, Zumbro became acquainted with Brenard, age twenty-six, apparently confined for threatening government officials. Zumbro states that Brenard was actively recruiting him, and other inmates, to join the Nazi party. He declares that literature was available along with application blanks at Lompoc. This is hard for us to believe, nevertheless, Zumbro makes the statement. When questioned about Brenard's possible acquaintance with Lee Harvey Oswald, Zumbro stated that Brenard acted like he knew him.

This youth replies that there is a Nazi cell in Santa Barbara, California, headed by a Mr. Ralph Stonwski who was mentioned by Brenard several times. When pressed a little further, he mentioned that assassination plans have been worked out directed against the President. He states that he saw these plans on paper and that the attempt would be made from the Hay Adams Hotel, catercorner from the White House. He mentioned a Mr. Thomas Edwards, who is a bellhop at the Annapolis Hotel, is involved, also, a Billy (last name unknown), cashier at a service station catercorner from the Greyhound Bus Station on New York Avenue.

This is the only information we could elicit. Although Zumbro was sincere in his statements, we do not know this youth well enough to determine whether the above is fact or fiction. Apparently, Brenard is due for release soon. This has concerned Zumbro because he believes that Brenard is serious.

FROM : Herbert J. Miller, Jr., Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division

SUBJECT: Marion Joseph Bradburn

Attached is a copy of correspondence recently received from the Bureau of Prisons which indicates an inmate with Bradburn in the Federal Correctional Institution, Lompoc, California, indicates Bradburn is recruiting for the "Nazi Party," was a possible acquaintance of Lee Harvey Oswald, and has information regarding present plans to assassinate the President.

This correspondence has been furnished by the Criminal Division to the Secret Service for consideration as to the present assassination plans and to the Internal Security Division for consideration as to the "Nazi Party" allegations. In addition to these matters, it is thought the reference to Lee Harvey Oswald may be beneficial to your Bureau in connection with the Warren Commission matters.

Enclosed for each office is a copy of a letter from Assistant Attorney General Herbert J. Miller, Jr., and two enclosures thereto which are self-explanatory. Also enclosed for each office is a copy of Identification Division Record Number 588097C, concerning Raymond Marion Joseph Bradburn.

For the information of each office, Bufiles disclose that the Seattle Office received information in December, 1960 from the Police Department at Everett, Washington, that Bradbu was attempting to organize a group of juvenile boys, several o whom were wards of the court, into a self-styled "Nazi Youth Movement." Police officials also informed the Seattle Office that Bradburn became violent in his denunciation of constitute authority and as a result was arrested and charged with the delinquency of minors on December 14, 1960. Seattle Office also developed information that Bradburn was believed mentally unbalanced by police authorities and that he had been committe to the Northern State Hospital, Sedro Woolley, Washington, on December 16, 1960.

In view of the allegations set forth in the enclosures to Assistant Attorney General Miller's letter that Bradburn acted like he knew Lee Harvey Oswald, the Los Angeles Office should contact the Federal Correctional Institution at Lompoc, California, and make arrangements to interview Bradbur who is incarcerated, for purpose of determining if Bradburn knew or ever associated with Lee Harvey Oswald. In the event Bradburn claims acquaintanceship or association with Oswald, he should be interviewed in detail and pinned down as to dates and places where he was in contact with Oswald.

MAILED 19 MAY 1965 COMM-FBI

This matter should be given prompt attention and resul of your interview with Bradburn should be forwarded to the Bureau in a form suitable for dissemination.

PHILIP GERACI, III

Deputy Sheriff Don Borne of the Juvenile Division of the Jefferson Parish Sheriff's Office, Gretna, Louisiana, telephonically advised the New Orleans Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on May 3, 1965, that in connection with the missing persons notice placed with his department in connection with Philip Geraci, III, a 17 year old high school student residing at 2201 Green Acres Road, Metairie, Louisiana, it had come to his attention that Geraci had an interest in guerilla warfare, explosives and the organizing of groups. Deputy Borne stated Geraci is a mentally disturbed youth who received psychiatric treatments, is rated as being almost a genius, and is reported to have been an acquaintance of Lee Harvey Oswald, the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

In connection with a previous investigation, Carlos Bringuier, operator of Casa Roca Store, 107 Decatur Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised on November 25, 1963, that he is active in anti-Castro Cuban groups in New Orleans, Louisiana. He stated that on August 5, 1963, he met Lee Harvey Oswald when he came in the Casa Roca Store and volunteered to assist in anti-Castro Cuban matters. The next day he returned and left a U. S. Marine Manual at the store, but he did not meet him.

On August 9, 1963, Bringuier stated he observed Oswald passing out pro-Castro leaflets on Canal Street and he attempted to talk to him and this conversation subsequently resulted in a fist fight which resulted in his arrest and two other anti-Castro Cuban friends of his as well as Lee Oswald. He advised that Oswald appeared at Municipal Court and entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10.00. He stated that when he appeared in Municipal Court, he took a seat among the Negro people who were present in court and was not represented by an attorney and offered no defense. Subsequent to this arrest, Bringuier stated that he arranged for a debate on local radio station WDSU in which they debated the effects of Castro's activities in Cuba.

ENCLOSURE

PHILIP GERACI, III

Bringuier advised that he knew of no associates of Oswald with the possible exception of a Philip Geraci, III, who resides in Metairie, Louisiana. He described this person as a youth about 16 years of age who came to his store a few minutes before Oswald appeared for the first time on August 5, 1963, and offered his services to the Cubans who were anti-Castro, and during the time he was in the store, he gained an impression that he might be an associate of Oswald. The only reasons he says he is possibly an associate is because they were both in the store at the same time.

The following information was obtained in interviews with Vance Blalock and Philip Geraci in 1963:

FD-302 (Rev. 1-25-60)

RAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATIO

VANCE BLALOCK, 5708 Boutall Street, Metairie, Louisiana, furnished the following information:

BLALOCK viewed a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, after which he stated he was certain OSWALD was identical to the individual whom he conversed with briefly at the Cuban Student Directorate (CSD), 107 Decatur Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. BLALOCK advised that he and a friend, PHILIP GERACI, went to the CSD to inquire about its activities as he had heard it was an anti-CASTRO Cuban student organization. BLALOCK advised that when he and GERACI arrived at the CSD, located at the Casa Roca Store, 107 Decatur Street, they talked with a CARLOS BRINGIUS (phonetic) who seemed to be the leader of the CSD. While discussing the purposes and activities of the CSD, an individual whom BLALOCK identified as being OSWALD arrived at the store. BLALOCK recalls OSWALD inquiring about the CSD and expressing an interest to become a member and to learn all he could about the organization.

BLALOCK advised that he and his friend, GERACI, had a brief conversation with OSWALD, regarding guerrilla operations. OSWALD informed BLALOCK that he was a former Marine; that he had a Marine Guide Book which he had read and in which he learned all about guerrilla operations and tactics. BLALOCK recalls OSWALD describing to him how easy it would be to derail a train. OSWALD told him that this could be accomplished by securing a chain with a lock and wrapping it around railroad tracks. BLALOCK also recalls OSWALD mentioning that he knew how to blow up bridges and also he knew how to make gun powder and a "ZIP" gun. In addition, OSWALD mentioned that he knew all about guns but BLALOCK could not recall the exact details of what was discussed on the subject of guns.

BLALOCK advised that his conversation with OSWALD lasted probably about fifteen minutes, and that OSWALD never discussed Communism, Marxism or any other political philosophy. OSWALD appeared to him as being well educated and well read. Just prior to OSWALD leaving, he promised BLALOCK and GERACI that in the near future he would let them borrow his Guide Book for Marines in which they could obtain all the information they wanted regarding guerrilla warfare. The last thing BLALOCK could recall regarding his conversation with OSWALD was OSWALD mentioning the new M-14 rifle which OSWLAD described to BLALOCK and informing BLALOCK that most of the Armed Services had this gun at the present time. Finally, BLALOCK stated he recalls OSWALD making some reference to Florida, but could furnish no details regarding comments OSWALD made in this regard. BLALOCK seemed to remember OSWALD mentioning something about him recently visiting the Casa Nostra (phonetic) a Cuban organization in Florida, but his recollection was vague regarding further details in this matter.

BLALOCK stated that he has not seen OSWALD since his brief meeting with OSWALD in the latter part of July, 1963, and could furnish no additional information of any kind regarding OSWALD.

PHILIP GERACI, 2201 Green Acres Road, furnished the following information:

GERACI viewed a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and stated OSWALD was identical to an individual with whom he had a brief conversation lasting about ten minutes, which took place at the Cuban Student Directorate (CSD), 107 Decatur Street, New Orleans, in the latter part of July, 1963. GERACI, age 15, a sophomore at East Jefferson High School, Metairie, Louisiana, advised that at the time he met OSWALD at the CSD he, GERACI, was visiting that place for the first time for the purpose of obtaining information regarding the CSD, which he had heard was an anti-CASTRO Cuban organization. GERACI stated that he discussed anti-CASTRO activities with a CARLOS BRINGIUS (phonetic), who owned the Casa Roca Store, 107 Decatur Street, which was the headquarters for the anti-CASTRO organization, known as the CSD. Accompanying GERACI at that time was a friend of his, VANCE BLALOCK, 5708 Boutall Street, Metairie, Louisiana.

While talking with CARLOS BRINGIUS, an individual whose photograph GERACI advised was identical to LEE HARVEY OSWALD, came into the store and made inquiry of BRINGIUS regarding anti-CASTRO literature. OSWALD expressed an interest in learning all about the CSD and indicated a desire to join the organization. Following a brief discussion of the CSD, its purposes and objectives, OSWALD became engaged in another conversation with GERACI and his friend, BLALOCK. GERACI recalls OSWALD mentioning that he had in his possession a Marine Guide Book which contained information regarding guerrilla tactics, firearms and other subjects. GERACI recalls mentioning to OSWALD that he, GERACI, had done a little reading regarding guerrilla warfare, after which OSWALD informed him that he was familiar with various types of guerrilla tactics. OSWALD informed GERACI that he knew enough about explosives to be able to blow up the new bridge which crossed the Mississippi River from New Orleans to Algiers, Louisiana. OSWALD also mentioned that he knew how to derail a train which could easily be accomplished by placing a chain around the railroad tracks and securing it with a lock.

GERACI advised that the brief conversation with OSWALD lasted about ten or fifteen minutes, and that in addition to discussing the CSD and a brief discussion regarding guerrilla tactics, nothing else was discussed. He cannot recall OSWALD discussing Marxism, Communism or any other political philosophy at the time. GERACI recalls OSWALD mentioning that he was living on Magazine Street, exact address unrecalled, and also that he was looking for a job. In addition, GERACI advised that other than the brief conversation he had with OSWALD in July, 1963, he had no further contact with OSWALD and had not seen him since that time.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 5/6/65

Deputy Sheriff DON BORNE of the Juvenile Division of the Jefferson Parish Sheriff's Office, located in the old Gretna Courthouse Building, 200 Huey P. Long Avenue, Gretna, Louisiana, advised on May 5, 1965, that PHILIP GERACI, III had been reported to his department as missing since April 20, 1965. His parents had reported he had run away from home and his school, the East Jefferson Junior High School, where he was an 11th grade student.

Deputy BORNE stated he had also interviewed and talked with some of the GERACI youth's school mates in the East Jefferson High School concerning PHILIP GERACI, III. He stated the school mates of GERACI with whom he had talked were 16 and 17 years of age. These were WILLIAM "BILL" WINFIELD DWYER, JR., 4009 Bissonet Drive, Metairie, Louisiana, age 16, JESSIE LAFONTAINE, 450 Upstream, Jefferson Parish, Louisiana, age 16, and RAUL NAVAS, 713 Houma Boulevard, Metairie, Louisiana, age 16 or 17.

These youths and possibly some others had associated together from time to time and sometimes called themselves "The Tort," "Sons of the Confederacy," or "The Marsh Maurauders." They would engage in camping and hiking trips and frequently engaged in or amused themselves in playing guerilla warfare and other war games. These youths called their acts "play." Some had combat boots or other articles probably purchased from army surplus stores, but were not known to own or possess any arms, weapons, ammunition or explosives. Investigation developed, however, that it had been suggested among them that they should visit the Alvin Callender Air Field, Belle Chasse, Louisiana, and the Michoud Plant of the National Aeronautics Space Administration (NASA), New Orleans, Louisiana, and conceal, hide or leave in some inconspicuous place at these installations, an empty match box containing the message "This could have been a bomb." It was also planned that one member might use a miniature camera and take some pictures. This would have been for the avowed purpose of showing the public that the security regulations were not strict enough at these two installations.

Generally, those with whom Deputy BORNE had talked felt that in this country people are not severe enought with communists in this country and it would be worthwhile if they could make some contribution in bringing to the public possible laxity of security regulations in various establishments. It had not been planned, however, to plant any actual bombs or to do any actual damage in such actions as they might take.

Deputy BORNE secured from school mates and students whom he had interviewed some books which appeared to be generally army or Government publications concerned principally with warfare, including guerilla warfare. He found in some of these books various references to the use of explosives. The books were said by students interviewed by Deputy Sheriff BORNE to be the property of PHILIP GERACI, III.

Titles of these books are as follows:

(1) "Masters of Deceit" by J. EDGAR HOOVER.

(2) "Small Unit Tactics. Infantry, Including Combat Formations, Signals, Application of Fire," 1st edition, 1948.

(3) "Basic Field Manual, Soldiers Handbook," published by Government Printing Office, 1941.

(4) "150 Questions for a Guerilla" by General Alberto Boyd" printed by Cypress Printing Company, Denver, Colorado, 1963.

(5) "Special Warfare," U.S. Army Publisher.

(6) "The Guerilla - and How to Fight Him," by Lt. Col. T. N. Greene, 1963.

(7) "War Dept. Field Manual, Corps of Engineers, Camouflage of Bivouacs, Command Posts, Supply Points, and Medical Installations," a war department pub., 5/44

(8) "Department of the Army Field Manufal, The Soldiers Guide," Dept. of the Army, 6/52.

(9) "The Cuban Invasion, The Chronicle of a Disaster" by Tad Szulc and Karl E. Meyer, 1962.

(10) "Guerilla Warfare" by "Yank" Bert Levy, 1964.

(11) "Secret Fighting Arts of the World" by John F. Gilbey, 1963.

(12) "We Shall Fight in the Streets!" by Captain S. J. Cuthbert, 1953.

(13) "The Bid Red Lie," by Richard W. Rowan.

(14) "The Communist Manifesto," by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels.

(15) "Blueprint for Enslavement," 1952, by Father James A. McCormick.

(16) "Guerillas in the 1960's," by Peter Paret and John W. Shy.

(17) "What Can I do to Combat Communism?"

(18) "What You Should Know about Communism and Why," 1964.

Deputy Sheriff BORNE stated JESSIE LAFONTAINE admitted that he himself was responsible for the suggestion that they might contribute to the national defense efforts of this country by planting the match box with the message, above mentioned, and thus prove to the public security regulations in this country are not strict enough.

Deputy Sheriff BORNE stated he does not know GERACI's whereabouts since April 20, 1965. He advised GERARI may be almost a genius but is mentally disturbed. He is under psychiatric treatment and apparently must hate his father with intense passion. GERACI would not eat off plates used by his father or put his hand on any door knob which had been handled by his father without first wiping off the door knob.

His investigation reflected GERACI had offered to join "Alpha 66," a group of Cuban refugees who wished to go back to Cuba and overthrow CASTRO. GERACI's services were refused. GERACI also offered to join the "Morgan Brigade," a group of Americans who wished to go back to Cuba and overthrow CASTRO, and was also refused.

The matter of GERACI as being a missing person is carried as Item #4-2733-65 with the Jefferson Parish Sheriff's Office. Deputy Sheriff BORNE stated GERACI is classed merely as a runaway in that he is of legal age in the state of Louisiana. There are no charges against GERACI. There had been indication GERACI may have been associated at one time with one "MARIO", otherwise unknown, who was reported to be a homosexual.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 5/6/65

PHILIP GERACI, JR., 2201 Green Acres Road, Metairie, Louisiana, advised he is the father of PHILIP GERACI, III who has been missing since April 20, 1965. His son left home for school on April 20, 1965. He is an 11th grade student at the East Jefferson High School, Metairie, Louisiana. He had not known his son intended to run away from home but had learned from his son's school mates that he had made plans to do so for some time. Mr. GERACI believed his son may have intended to join "Alpha 66," an organization formed to help overthrow CASTRO in Cuba. He stated his son is for the "underdog," is anti-communist, and seemed to feel that he should help the people of Cuba overthrow CASTRO.

He mentioned that his son had once come in contact with LEE HARVEY OSWALD and had been interviewed by a member of the Warren Commission in connection with possible information which his son might have had concerning OSWALD.

Mr. GERACI stated he once discovered that his son was reading a book on guerilla warfare. He took the book away from him, but was aware that his son continued to be interested in historical material.

At the age of 10 his son received psychiatric treatment for bed wetting. Approximately one year ago his son became peculiar in his actions, spending lots of time to himself, and frequently washed his hands and face to excess; once rubbing his face raw. He refused any longer to eat off plates which he, himself, had used, and would wipe off door knobs which he thought his father had used. Mr. GERACI believed that at one time his son might have done harm to himself with a machette which he took from him. The family physician placed his son on tranquilizers and then ordered him to receive psychiatric treatment. He has received the psychiatric treatment at Tulane University Medical School where a Doctor DRUMMOND was the psychiatrist. The diagnosis by the psychiatrist was that GERACI has a problem in being highly concerned over a possible communist takeover in this country. He was said to be unwilling to leave this matter to the Government and wanted to do something about it himself. This was evidenced by his desire to join "Alpha 66."

The second appointment with Doctor DRUMMOND was to have been on April 20,1965, the same day GERACI ran away from home. The son had thought he might be committed for psychiatric treatment.

In school GERACI, III had flunked algebra but the school records reflected he has a tremendous mental capacity although he is often lazy and apparently disinterested in everything.

Mr. GERACI said it had come to his attention that his son may have tried to get in touch with one "MARIO," otherwise unidentified, who was said to be a homosexual. Mr. GERACI thought this might have happened because his son did not always have enough spending money.

Mr. GERACI stated he, himself, is an electrician for Mason-Rust Company at the Michoud Plant of National Aeronautics Space Administration (NASA) in New Orleans, Louisiana. The Mason-Rust Company maintains the buildings. In connection with his work Mr. GERACI stated he holds a "secret clearance."

Mr. GERACI felt that although his son may have been moody and spent considerable time to himself, he nevertheless seemed to enjoy a normal relationship with his school mates and they frequently had camping and hiking trips on off days from school. It had come to his attention that they frequently tried to get together on Wednesday afternoons after school. He stated the group usually consisted of 12 to 15 school boys, but generally only four to six of them got together at a time. He stated they would engage in mock battles and would practice the arts of bivouacing and camouflage. He insisted, however, that this was nothing more than "kids playing cops and robbers;" that there was nothing at all serious about it. He stated he now feels, however, that his son could have possibly desired to go to Cuba since being missing.

Mr. GERACI stated that he had learned that his son and school mates had discussed testing security regulations at Alvin Callender Air Field and at the Michoud Plant at NASA, but there had been no plans to do any actual harm or damage to either of these two plants. He believed the intentions of the boys were entirely good and that they apparently wished to show the public that security regulations at these two places should be tightened.

He stated he had learned through school mates of his son that STEVE or JESSIE LAFONTAINE had originally suggested the idea that the security regulations at these plants should be tested in order to try and make them more secure.

Mr. GERACI stated his son has no chemicals, has never made any bomb, and insofar as he knows, would not know how to make a bomb. He stated his son had taken chemistry and had once had an inexpensive chemistry set but had flunked chemistry in school. He had learned that his son swapped the chemistry set he had for a first aid kit just prior to his disappearance on April 20, 1965.

He described his son as follows:

Summaries of the above mentioned facts were furnished telephonically on May 5, 1965, at 1:52 p.m. to Special Agent James E. Derry of the 112th Intelligence Corps Group, at 1:58 p.m. to Sergent Harry Stille of the New Orleans Police Department, and at 2:21 p.m. to Deputy Sheriff Ronald H. Hebert of the Plaquemines Parish Sheriff's Office. Notice was also given on May 6, 1965, at 9:48 a.m. to Ed Brauner, acting NASA Security Officer, and at 10:28 a.m. to Special Agent Lloyd Beck of ONI 8th Naval District. Agent Beck said he would immediately give appropriate notice to the Commanding Officer of the U.S. Naval Air Station, Alvin Callender Air Field, Belle Chasse, Louisiana.

SUBJECT: ORDER OF RIFLE FROM KLEIN'S SPORTING GOODS, INC., CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, APRIL 29, 1965
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

PURPOSE:

This concerns the individual who attempted to purchase a rifle from Klein's Sporting Goods, Inc., Chicago, Illinois, utilizing the name "A. J. Hidell," return address 6404 Pelican Drive, South, St. Petersburg, Florida. Tampa determined that the only resident at this address is Lowell Brandle, feature writer for "The St. Petersburg Times." It is a well known fact Lee Harvey Oswald purchased the assassination rifle from Klein's Sporting Goods, Inc., under the name "A. Hidell." Attached is a teletype to Tampa instructing that Brandle be thoroughly interviewed.

BACKGROUND:

Chicago Division by teletype 5/5/65 advised information was received from Mr. William J. Waldman, Vice-President of Klein's Sporting Goods, Inc., that an order for a 30.06 Enfield "Sporter" rifle with a variable three to seven power scope had been received from an individual utilizing the name "A. J. Hidell", 6404 Pelican Drive, South, St. Petersburg, Florida. Mr. Waldman determined through a "source" of his that one Lowell Brandle resided at this address who was a reporter for "The St. Petersburg Times." He said due to the "bizarre implications" Klein's definitely was not filling the order and felt the FBI should be advised.

NOT RECORDED

Tampa has determined Lowell Brandle is a feature writer for "The St. Petersburg Times" and resides at 6404 Pelican Drive, South, St. Petersburg, Florida, with his wife. In addition, there were no references in the St. Petersburg City Directories for "Hidell." Tampa and Bureau indices reveal no derogatory information concerning Brandle and he has previously written several favorable articles about the Bureau and in addition has written articles in which he was critical of the John Birch Society, one of which was dated 10/29/64, wherein he states in effect the Bircher's were told to arm themselves and buy guns for children. The editor of "The St. Petersburg Times" is Mr. Courtland Anderson. It is noted we had cordial relations with this newspaper until October 14, 1964, when the paper printed in an editorial critical parts of the infamous book "The FBI Nobody Knows" written by Fred J. Cook. In the March 26, 1965 issue of this paper they took another "pot shot" at the Bureau by publishing an article captioned "Distorted Crime Rate Figures." In response to this article a letter was directed to the editor, Mr. Anderson, dated 4/2/65, which set the facts, as relating to this article, straight.

Consideration was given to the fact whether the ordering of this weapon under a fictitious name was a violation of the Postal Laws. Liaison Section contacted the Post Office Department and Mr. Saul Mendel, Assistant General Counsel, Post Office Department, advised that based on available facts he did not believe a violation of Postal Laws was involved in this instance.

Further, it is noted the ordering of this weapon which was not shipped does not constitute a violation of either the National Firearms Act or the Federal Firearms Act. The National Firearms Act deals generally with a weapon with a barrel of less than 18 inches in length or a machine gun and such weapon has been unlawfully transported, possessed or imported and the identification marks obliterated or changed. The Federal Firearms Act concerns the possession of a weapon or transportation thereof by a person who has been convicted of a felony.

ACTION:

In view of circumstances surrounding this matter it is believed we should interview Brandle to determine if he did order the rifle and, if so, his purpose in using the name "A. J. Hidell." Attached for approval is an airtel to Tampa instructing Brandle be immediately interviewed. Results of interview will be furnished to U. S. Secret Service, which agency has been advised of the information developed in this case. Department being advised.

ORDER OF RIFLE FROM
KLEIN'S SPORTING GOODS,
INCORPORATED, CHICAGO,
ILLINOIS, APRIL 29, 1965
MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION CONCERNING

On May 3, 1965, Mr. William J. Waldman, Vice President, Klein's Sporting Goods, Incorporated, 4540 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois, advised the Chicago Division, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), that his firm was in receipt of a firearms order postmarked April 29, 1965, from one "A. J. Hidell", 6404 Pelican Drive South, St. Petersburg, Florida. Also enclosed was a money order in the amount of $33.28. A handwritten affidavit apparently from A. J. Hidell was also enclosed with the firearms order in which Hidell advised he was of age, was not an alien, fugitive, drug addict, ex-convict or under indictment.

Mr. Waldman advised that the firearms order apparently had been placed as a result of Klein's Sporting Goods, Incorporated, advertisement appearing in a national magazine. Upon receipt of the order, one of Klein's order clerks noticed the name of "A. J. Hidell" and because the Klein's firm had sold the rifle used in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy under that name, the matter was brought to the attention of Mr. Waldman. Because of the unusual aspect of this order, Mr. Waldman stated, he telephonically contacted a "source" of his in St. Petersburg, Florida. He subsequently learned that no one by the name of Hidell was known to reside at the Pelican Drive address. Mr. Waldman's "source" identified a resident at 6404 Pelican Drive South, St. Petersburg, Florida, as one Lowell Brandis, an employee of the "St. Petersburg Times".

Mr. Waldman advised that Klein's definitely would not fill the order in question. He added that because of the "bizarre implications" of the order, he felt the matter should be brought to the attention of the FBI.

RE: ORDER OF RIFLE FROM
KLEIN'S SPORTING GOODS,
INCORPORATED, CHICAGO,
ILLINOIS, APRIL 29, 1963

On May 6, 1985, the original envelope, handwritten order and handwritten affidavit as described by Mr. Waldman, were furnished to the Chicago Division, FBI, by Mr. Mitchell J. Seibor, Mail Order Manager, Klein's Sporting Goods, Incorporated.

Examination of the envelope in question determined that it was postmarked St. Petersburg, Florida, April 29, 1963. It was addressed to "Klein's Sporting Goods, Department 654, 237 W. Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois 60606". The envelope bears the return address "A. J. Hidell, 6404 Pelican Dr. S., St. Petersburg, Florida".

The original order as furnished by Mr. Seibor reads as follows:

"Enclosed is a money order for $33.28, which includes the price of the Enfield rifle with scope, ($31.78), C23-3213, and the $1.50 postage."

The affidavit accompanying this order is as follows:

"6404 Pelican Dr. S
St. Petersburg, Fla.
April 25, 1963

"Dear Sir:

"I am over 21. I am not an alien, a fugitive or drug addict. I am not an exconvict and I'm not under indictment."

The editor and publisher is reflected as FRANK A. CAPELL.

The only reference in Dallas files to FRANK A. CAPELL, and "The Herald of Freedom" is Bureau letter to Legat, Bonn, dated 2/20/65 in captioned case, wherein the Bureau advised that FRANK A. CAPELL, editor of "The Herald of Freedom," 56 Bay Street, Stanton Island, New York, had furnished the Bureau copies of a news release on the letterhead of the "National Soldiers Newspaper", The Bureau letter indicates that CAPELL had advised that he used the news release as a source in an article on the assassination of President KENNEDY in the 1/17/64 issue of "The Herald of Freedom."

A review of the 4/23/65 edition of "The Herald of Freedom", enclosed herewith, alleges that one BORIS HANSON KLOSSON, an employee of the Department of State, was one of the key individuals responsible for permitting LEE HARVEY OSWALD to return to the United States from Russia and that this individual was known at the time as a security risk.

Much of the material in the article is taken from the Warren Report.

THE STRANGE DEATH OF JOHN F. KENNEDY

For many years there has been an awareness of the need for a thorough investigation and housecleaning regarding security risks in the Department of State. One of the key individuals responsible for permitting Lee Harvey Oswald to return to the United States from the U. S. S. R. was known to be a security risk and had been reported as such by the late Scott McLeod five years earlier, although the fact that he was a security risk had been known for sixteen years.

On October 31, 1959, Lee Harvey Oswald appeared at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow, at which time he turned over his U. S. passport, and submitted the following statement:

"I Lee Harvey Oswald do hereby request that my present citizenship in the United States of America, be revoked.

"I have entered the Soviet Union for the express purpose of applying for citizenship in the Soviet Union, through the means of naturalization.

"My request for citizenship is now pending before the Supreme Soviet of the U. S. S. R.

"I take these steps for political reasons. My request for the revoking of my American citizenship is made only after the longest and most serious considerations.

"I affirm that my allegiance is to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

(signed) Lee H. Oswald"

In a report to the Department of State made on November 2, 1959 from the U. S. Embassy in Moscow by Richard Snyder and approved by Edward L. Freers, Charge d'Affairs, these facts were made known. The report and copies were sent to the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, Office of State Department Security, Central Intelligence Agency and other interested government departments. It showed that Oswald's manner was "aggressive, arrogant and uncooperative," and that he stated he had been a radar operator in the U. S. Marines and had already told Soviet officials that he intended to give them all the information he possessed. This would have included some very confiden- tial data learned in the service. The report stated Oswald is "presently residing in non-tourist status at the Metropole Hotel in Moscow."

In a report written on April 7, 1964 for the Warren Commission, John A. McVicar, now Principal Officer in the U. S. Consulate in Bolivia, and formerly assigned as Secretary-Counselor at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow, pointed out: "Russian visas are given to tourists at $30.00 per day for individual tours or the applicant must join a group. A regular visa is issued only after checking with Moscow and usually takes several months." (Oswald had obtained a visa at Helsinki immediately.) Mr. McVicar also stated that Helsinki was a port of entry of the type the Russians themselves would have chosen for Oswald. Oswald entered the Soviet Union at Vyborg on October 16, 1959, using U. S. passport #1733242 and had obtained a Soviet Visa #4173339 within less than forty-eight hours. In Moscow Oswald lived in the Hotel Berlin and the Hotel Metropole.

On October 21, 1959, Oswald was admitted to the Botkin Hospital in Moscow for an alleged attempted suicide. He had a small superficial type cut on his left forearm, which required four stitches. He, nevertheless, remained in the hospital until October 28, 1959, and during a portion of this time was in the psychiatric division of the hospital.

It is a well established fact in intelligence circles that the Soviets make a practice of having a psychiatric study and interrogation made of defectors and candidates for intelligence training to help eliminate the possibility of their being double agents. Oswald's whereabouts became a mystery shortly after his hospital sojourn as shown in a dispatch from R. E. Snyder, U. S. Embassy, Moscow, to the State Department, Washington, D. C., dated March 28, 1960, which reads: "The Embassy has had no contact with Oswald since his departure from the Metropole Hotel in Moscow in November 1959 and has no clue as to his present whereabouts."

If the U. S. Embassy in Moscow considered Oswald as a U. S. citizen rather than a definite defector, they could easily have asked the Soviet Foreign Office as to his whereabouts, since the Embassy does keep track of U. S. citizens while they are in the Soviet Union.

Under date of March 28, 1960 the Department of State in Washington, D. C. sent a dispatch to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow as follows:

"An appropriate notice has been placed in the look-out card section of the Passport Office in the event that Mr. Oswald should apply for documentation at a post outside the Soviet Union."

After the assassination of President Kennedy, an investigation of the "look-out card" and what happened to it brought this reply from the State Dept. to the Warren Commission: "Miss Bernice Waterman prepared a 'refusal' sheet and an Operations Memorandum which show that she authorized the preparation of a lookout card; however, investigations, to date, fail to reveal any other indication or evidence that a lookout card was ever prepared, modified, or removed. -- it appears that someone in the Files or Clearance Section missed the 'Refusal' prepared on March 25, 1960, and failed to follow standard operating procedures to prepare a lookout card or that the 'Refusal,' after it left the Foreign Operations Division, was misplaced or misguided in transit--"

Another explanation made by the State Department through Abraham Chayes, Legal Adviser, stated: "A 'lookout card' was probably prepared on Oswald on the ground that he might have expatriated himself, but this cannot be determined with certainty and no such card is now in the 'lookout file'. A memorandum dated Mar. 28, 1960 from the Department to the Embassy in Moscow states that a card was prepared, and the customary forms dated Mar. 25, 1960 were completed directing the preparation of a card. The usual notation on such forms indicating filing of a 'lookout card' was not made, however, nor was a notation placed on the slip that the card was withdrawn, also a usual practice."

Immediately after Oswald's arrest for the Kennedy assassination, Abba Schwartz, head of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, reportedly removed Oswald's file, and it has never been returned, a reliable source states.

Oswald eventually turned up in Minsk, Russia, where he allegedly worked in the experimental section of a radio factory, doing assembly work.

During the month of March 1961 Oswald met a Russian girl named Marina Nikolaevena Prusakova. By April 20, 1961 they had applied for permission to marry. According to statements given the Warren Commission by Marina, she was dating other men during the month of March 1961; and Oswald was a patient in Clinical Hospital #4 at Minsk. He was admitted at 10 A. M. on March 30, 1961, had a nasal operation and an ear infection taken care of, and was discharged from the hospital April 11, 1961. This would have allowed but a very short time for a courtship between the niece of an important Soviet official and a non-Soviet citizen.

They were married on April 30, 1961. Marina, whose parents were deceased, had been living for the previous four years with her mother's brother, Lt. Col. Ilya Vasilevich Prusakov of the K. G. B. (Soviet Intelligence) who reportedly was in charge of security for the Soviet lumber industries in the area. She lived with her aunt and uncle, who were childless, in Apartment 20 at 39 Kalinin St., Minsk. After her marriage, she and Oswald lived at Apartment 4 at 20 Kalinin St., Minsk. (In some documents their address is listed as House 4, Apt. 24, Kalinin St., Minsk.)

By some coincidence Oswald had already been a neighbor of Col. Prusakov before he met Marina. On Page 605 of Vol. XVIII of the Warren Commission Reports, Marina describes his apartment (in which they lived after their marriage) as follows: "He had a small darling one room apartment with a balcony, a bathroom, gas, kitchen, and a separate entrance, quite enough for two, especially if they were young."

Marina continued to work as an assistant in the pharmacy of the Clinical Hospital at Minsk, according to Soviet records supplied to the Warren Commission. According to Oswald's diary, he was very popular with Marina's uncle, Col. Prusakov, who used to give him vodka to drink free. Oswald referred to Col. Prusakov as "my father-in-law."

According to the State Department report to the Warren Commission, Exhibit #950, the Moscow Embassy had no knowledge of the address, activities or any other information about Oswald in the U. S. S. R. from the time he left the Hotel Metropole in Moscow in November, 1959, until they received a letter from him postmarked Minsk, U. S. S. R., dated February 196[illegible]. In this letter Oswald stated he desired to return to the United States. He closed the letter with the following paragraph, "I hope that in recalling the responsibility I have to America that you remember yours, in doing everything you can to help me since I am an American citizen."

On May 25, 1961 the U. S. Embassy in Moscow received another letter from Oswald which stated: "I am asking not only for the right to return to the United States but for full guarantees that I shall not, under any circumstances, be persecuted for any act pertaining to this case."---"I would not leave here without my wife so arrangements would have to be made for her to leave at the same time I do."---"So with this extra complication I suggest you do some checking up before advising me further."

On July 8, 1961 Oswald appeared at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow where he was interviewed and filled out a questionnaire form. He applied for a visa for his wife, Marina, a few days later.

On July 11, 1961 a three-page Foreign Service Dispatch, #29, was sent by diplomatic air pouch from the U. S. Embassy in Moscow to the Department of State in Washington, D. C. regarding the Oswald case. It was signed by Boris H. Klosson, Counsellor for Political Affairs. The subject of the dispatch was "Citizenship and Passports - Lee Harvey Oswald." It contained statements and comments by Mr. Klosson. This three-page dispatch paved the way for Oswald to return to the United States where he attempted to take the life of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, and succeeded in taking the life of President John F. Kennedy.

On Page 2, Paragraph 3 of Dispatch #29 is stated: "Oswald was married on April 30, 1961, to Marina Nikolaevna Pusakova, a dental technician." It is important to note that in this vital communication the name of Oswald's wife is not spelled correctly, nor is her occupation listed correctly. Klosson, who signed the dispatch on behalf of the Ambassador, allowed her name to be spelled "Pusakova" instead of "Prusakova" and her occupation to be listed as "dental technician" instead of "assistant pharmacist."

Klosson closed the long dispatch with the following: "Twenty months of the realities of life in the Soviet Union have clearly had a maturing effect on Oswald. He stated frankly that he had learned a hard lesson the hard way and that he had been completely relieved of his illusions acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the United States and the meaning of freedom---" The report showed Oswald as having earned only ninety rubles per month and having saved two hundred rubles for part of his return fare. This was also incorrect, as Oswald made much more than this and Oswald had lost none of his arrogance.

Since officials in the U. S. Embassy in Moscow were aware that the Soviets conduct training schools for agents and assassins to murder statesmen in the Free World, Klosson's utter disregard for the truth and failure to verify facts concerning Oswald is especially sinister. Who is Boris Klosson?

Boris Hanson Klosson was born in Buffalo, N. Y. on January 21, 1919, the son of Michael M. Klosson and the former Miss Kenena Hanson. He received a BS Degree from Hamilton College in 1940 and a MA Degree from Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy in 1941. He had studied for one year (1938-9) at the Institut Universitaire de Hautes Internationales, Geneva Switzerland. On May 3, 1947 he married Miss Harriet F. Cheston. From 1942-3 he was an analyst for a U. S. Aircraft Company and then went into the U. S. Army, became a lieutenant and was assigned to the O. S. S.

In the O. S. S. he worked for and came under the influence of Gerold T. Robinson who was O. S. S. Chief of the U. S. S. R. Division of Research and Analysis. Robinson was under investigation by U. S. intelligence agencies because of his pro-Soviet activities. He was a Director of the American-Russian Institute, 56 West 45 Street, New York, N. Y. (along with Avraham Yarmolinsky, father of Adam). This organization was cited as communist by the Attorney General of the United States. The Senate Internal Security Sub-committee stated it was closely linked with the Institute of Pacific Relations. In 1946, in filling out a federal employment application, Klosson gave as a personal reference his friend, tutor and associate, Prof. Gerold T. Robinson.

Louise Morley, identified communist, who has taken the Fifth Amendment over forty times, is also known as Mildred Vidor and Mildred Linton. She was long suspected of being engaged in espionage activities on behalf of the Soviet Union. In 1943 she had made a trip out of the country under suspicious circumstances. Upon her return it was learned she had on her person a very confidential address book of contacts among whom Boris Klosson was listed. Dur

O. S. S., he was reported as being responsible for the leaking out to unauthorized persons of secret and confidential information to the detriment of the United States.

Klosson came into the State Department in 1945 and immediately was assigned with the Division of Research on U. S. S. R. and Eastern Europe, doing highly confidential work. He was promoted many times and worked his way up to become Chief of the Research (Intelligence) Division for U. S. S. R. On July 26, 1959 he became First Secretary of the U. S. Embassy in Moscow and at the time of the report referred to was Counsellor for Political Affairs.

Klosson is now Counsellor and Consul at the U. S. Embassy in Kingston, Jamaica, having been assigned to this post October 14, 1962. Klosson, who speaks fluent Russian, had been reported by the F. B. I. in an investigation which showed derogatory information concerning his background. In 1956 the late Scott McLeod had reviewed his file and "Klosson" is one of the names on his list of 847 security risks in the State Department.

For conclusive evidence that Oswald was not rehabilitated or "relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union" as security risk Klosson would have us believe, we submit the following letter, written by Oswald to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D. C. less than two weeks before he murdered President Kennedy. It is dated November 9, 1963, and states:

"This is to inform you of recent events since my meetings with comrade Kostin in the Embassy of the Soviet Union, Mexico City, Mexico. (Kostin is a high official in the K. G. B.)

"I was unable to remain in Mexico indefinitely because of my mexican visa restrictions which was for 15 days only. I could not take a chance on requesting a new visa unless I used my real name, so I returned to the United States.

"I had not planned to contact the Soviet embassy in Mexico so they were unprepared, had I been able to reach the Soviet Embassy in Havana as planned, the embassy there would have had time to complete our business.

"Of course the Soviet embassy was not at fault, they were, as I say unprepared, the Cuban consulate was guilty of a gross breach of regulations, I am glad he has since been replaced.

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation is not now interested in my activities in the progressive organization 'Fair Play For Cuba Committee', of which I was secretary in New Orleans (state Louisiana) since I no longer reside in that state. However the F. B. I. has visited Agent James P. Hasty warned me that if I engaged in F. P. C. C. activities in Texas the F. B. I. will again take an 'interest' in me.

"This agent also 'suggested' to Marina Nichilayeva that she could remain in the United States under F. B. I. 'protection', that is, she could defect from the Soviet Union, of course, I and my wife strongly protested these tactics by the notorious F. B. I.

"Please inform us of the arrival of our Soviet entrance visa's as soon as they come.

"Also, this is to inform you of the birth, on October 20, 1963 of a DAUGHTER, AUDREY MARINA OSWALD in DALLAS, TEXAS, to my wife.

Respectfully,
(signed) L. H. Oswald"

Re Bureau letter to Los Angeles, dated 5/4/65.

Enclosed herewith for the Bureau are nine copies of a letterhead memorandum concerning RAYMOND MARION JOSEPH BRADBURN.

Since the enclosures to Bureau letter dated 5/4/65, reflect that Secret Service has been advised by the Criminal Division of the Department regarding BRADBURN's alleged plans to assassinate the President and in that the interview of BRADBURN concerned only his reported association with LEE HARVEY OSWALD, no dissemination of this LHM is being made to Secret Service, Los Angeles. The Bureau may possibly desire to disseminate at Washington.

RAYMOND MARION JOSEPH BRADBURN was interviewed at the Federal Correctional Institution, Lompoc, California, by SA RILEY L. MILLARD, on 5/6/65, as per instructions contained in referenced Bureau letter.

Two copies of instant LHM are being sent to Dallas, who is origin in this matter.

No further investigation regarding this matter is outstanding at Los Angeles; therefore, this case is considered RUC.

RAYMOND MARION JOSEPH BRADBURN

On May 6, 1965, Raymond Marion Joseph Bradburn, inmate at the Federal Correctional Institution (FCI), Lompoc, California, was interviewed by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Bradburn stated that he has never had any personal contact with or firsthand knowledge of Lee Harvey Oswald. He stated that since he has been in prison at Lompoc, California, he has stated on two or three occasions that he knew Oswald, even though such is not true. He said that the reasons for making such statements go back to the basis for his incarceration in the first case. He said that he was sent to prison for having written a threatening letter to the late President Kennedy. He said that this letter was written on an "impulse triggered by temporary irresponsibility". He said that actually it was meant as a joke.

Bradburn said that since coming to prison at the FCI he is the subject of ridicule by other prisoners because other prisoners say "he must have been some kind of nut to get sent to prison for a stupid thing like writing a threatening letter".

Bradburn stated it is his personal belief that the killing of President Kennedy by Lee Harvey Oswald had been a deciding influence on his being sent to prison. He stated that "if President Kennedy had not been killed, I then would have received probation instead of a sentence to prison". Because of the aforementioned, he said he has been interested in the life of Oswald and has read the Warren Commission report two or three times. Because of his intimate knowledge of this report, he believes that his knowledge of Oswald is far above that of the average person. Therefore, he said that, "again on impulse", he has made the statement to other prisoners that "I knew Oswald".

ORDER OF RIFLE FROM KLEIN'S SPORTING GOODS, INCORPORATED, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, APRIL 29, 1965

Reference is made to a memorandum dated May 11, 1965, at Chicago, Illinois, in captioned matter.

On May 12, 1965, Mr. LOWELL BRANDLE, a special writer for the "St. Petersburg Times", St. Petersburg, Florida, telephoned the FBI Office, Tampa, and advised that he had been writing several articles about purchasing guns by mail order. He said he attempted to purchase a gun from Klein's Store in Chicago using a pseudonym "A. J. HIDELL", which is the name used by LEE HARVEY OSWALD when ordering the gun from Klein's which he later used to assassinate President JOHN F. KENNEDY. Mr. BRANDLE stated that he felt if Klein's would accept this order from him under the name of HIDELL, they would accept an order from anyone. He ordered first a catalog from Klein's and later ordered a cheap Enfield rifle using the name HIDELL. Mr. BRANDLE stated that apparently Klein's has been checking into the matter in that they checked city directories and made further inquiries and then advised him that there was no one by the name of HIDELL residing in St. Petersburg, and consequently the rifle he ordered would not be shipped. He added that Klein's was taking the necessary precautionary measures concerning mail order purchases of weapons, and he had directed a communication thereafter to Klein's congratulating them on their alertness.

Mr. BRANDLE continued that he was now attempting the same approach on another arms company by the name of Potomac Arms Corporation, Post Office Box 35SN4, Prince Street, Alexandria, Virginia. He said he received a catalog indicating that the Potomac Arms Corporation have available for sale cannons, Soviet light machine guns, Italian carbines, and the like. He sent one order and requested that a gun be sent to him and he would pay for it on delivery. A reply was received by Mr. BRANDLE instructing him to complete a form which certified that he was over 21 years of age, had never been convicted, and was not a fugitive. He said that he plans to use the name of HIDELL and to order a rifle from the Potomac Arms Corporation. He said that the reason for his contact with the FBI at this time was to place himself on record in the event that any inquiries were received concerning his order of the gun from the Potomac Arms Corporation. He added that if he was able to receive the gun from the Potomac firm, he felt that his nine-year-old daughter could do the same thing and that this firm would not be exercising the same sound judgment as the Klein's store.

ORDER OF RIFLE FROM KLEIN'S SPORTING GOODS, INCORPORATED, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, APRIL 29, 1965
MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION CONCERNING

On May 14, 1965, Mr. William J. Waldman, Vice President, Klein's Sporting Goods, Incorporated, 4540 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois, made available to the Chicago Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) a letter which he received from Lowell Brandle of the "St. Petersburg Times", St. Petersburg, Florida. This letter was as follows:

"Dear Mr. Waldman:

"In reference to your letter of May 5, I am pleased to inform you that--as you suspected--there is no such person as A. J. Riddell living at 6101 Pelican Dr. S., St. Petersburg. That is my home address and I am a special writer on the staff of The St. Petersburg Times.

"I attempted to order the rifle from Klein's in that manner, to see for myself if it was possible for someone else--with a far different motive--to purchase a firearm in a similar manner, using a pseudonym. In the past I've written on the subject of mail-order firearms, and I understand the many problems involved. Also, I know that there is a lot of emotionalism involved, too. This was another reason I sought to purchase the rifle from your firm--to learn facts.

"Well, I am pleased that Klein's has taken whatever precautions are necessary to detect those who might be using a pseudonym on an order. I intend to write an article saying what I attempted, and the result. It would be good if I could include an explanation of the measures your firm takes to avoid selling a firearm to the wrong person. It might help prevent unnecessarily harsh legislation. Would you please give me a brief general statement, concerning the difficulties involved in operating your business in such a responsible fashion, how you overcame those difficulties, and any remarks you care to make on the matter of ordering firearms by mail.

"I know that there are some small, irresponsible firms which are selling firearms. Personally, I feel they are dangerous, and they must be an embarrassment to Klein's in many ways. Perhaps my article will help inform the public that there is a difference between Klein's operation and that of some others. I suspect that in the public mind--as it was in my own mind--all firms selling firearms are lumped together, more or less. This seems most unfair.

"Very truly yours,

"/s/Lowell Brandle

Mr. Waldman also made available a copy of a letter dated May 5, 1965, to Mr. A. J. Hidell, 6404 Pelican Drive South, St. Petersburg, Florida, which letter had been prepared by himself. This letter was as follows:

"Dear Mr. Hidell:

"Please accept our thanks for your order. However . . .

"We cannot fill this order as inquiry by us indicates (1) the resident at 6404 Pelican Dr., So., St. Petersburg, Florida is not A. J. Hidell and (2) we are unable to establish there is such a person as A. J. Hidell residing elsewhere in St. Petersburg.

"While we are anxious to serve you, it is our first concern to conform to the letter as well as the spirit of the law.

We could, of course, ship the rifle and scope ordered and conform to our legal responsibilities. We think however, under the circumstances it would be to your advantage as well as to ours if you were to submit the Affidavit attached bearing a notary seal.

"A refund check in the amount of $33.28 covering your remittance in full is enclosed together with an Order Blank and the Affidavit to be notarized. We will be pleased to fill your order if you will return the notarized Affidavit, the Order Blank with the description of the merchandise desired and your remittance. A postpaid envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

"Very truly yours,

SUBJECT: MRS. MARGARET OSWALD
FT. WORTH, TEXAS

At 11:45 a.m. today Mrs. Oswald, who identified herself as the mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, telephoned long distance and spoke to SA John W. O'Beirne, Crime Research Section.

Mrs. Oswald stated that Vice President Humphrey was in Ft. Worth the other day and that she was kept under surveillance by Secret Service agents from the night before the Vice President's visit until he left. She referred to a murder of one Robert Macklan, an attorney in Ft. Worth, and stated that since Pat Howard, brother of Mike Howard, a Secret Service agent, was now employed as a police officer on the Holcomb City Police Department, she wondered whether there was any connection between Pat Howard and the murder of Robert Macklan. When advised her meaning was not understood she stated, "It is very clear to me" and she thought the Bureau would want to do something about it.

Mrs. Oswald was asked whether or not she had complained to the Secret Service and she said she had. She was informed that the FBI is in no way responsible for the functions of that agency.

Mrs. Oswald appeared to O'Beirne to be incoherent and no sense could be made of her conversation. Secret Service was advised telephonically regarding her call.

RECOMMENDATION:

A copy of this memorandum is designated for Domestic Intelligence Division for any action deemed appropriate. Details of this matter will be confirmed to Secret Service in writing.

MRS. MARGARET OSWALD
FT. WORTH, TEXAS

Mrs. Oswald, who identified herself as the mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, telephoned from Ft. Worth, Texas, to FBI Headquarters, Washington, D. C., on May 19, 1965.

Mrs. Oswald stated that Vice President Humphrey was in Ft. Worth recently and that she was kept under surveillance by Secret Service agents from the night before the Vice President's visit until he left. She referred to the murder of one Robert Macklan, an attorney in Ft. Worth, and stated that since Pat Howard, brother of Mike Howard, a Secret Service agent, was now employed as a police officer on the Haltom City Police Department, she wondered whether there was any connection between Pat Howard and the murder of Robert Macklan. When she was informed that her meaning was not understood, she stated, "It is very clear to me" and indicated she thought the FBI should do something about it.

Mrs. Oswald was informed that the FBI has no jurisdiction in this matter and does not supervise the work of the Secret Service.

This confirms information telephonically furnished to Special Agent Grimes of the Secret Service on May 19, 1965.

Recommunication reflects that MARINA OSWALD, wife of the late LEE HARVEY OSWALD, on October 30, 1964, and again November 16, 1964, turned over to the Dallas Office, correspondence which she has received subsequent to the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY. Among this correspondence, was a U. S. Postal Card addressed to "Mrs. OSWALD, Dallas, Texas", signed "HAROLD STONER and GRANT RICKERT", which is postmarked Toledo, Ohio, August 11, 1964.

For the info of the Bureau and Dallas, extensive investigation at Toledo, Ohio, has failed to identify "HAROLD STONER" and "GRANT RICKERT".

The Bureau is requested to search its indices concerning HAROLD STONER and GRANT RICKERT.

In the event no info is developed by the Bureau, this matter will be placed in an RUC status in the Cleveland Division.

Re Chicago teletype 5/5/65.

As noted in referenced teletype, on 5/5/65, Mr. WILLIAM J. WALDMAN, Vice-President, Klein's Sporting Goods, Inc., 4540 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois, advised that his firm was in receipt of an order postmarked 4/29/65, from one "A.J. HIDELL," 6404 Pelican Drive South, St. Petersburg, Florida. This order called for a shipment of one Enfield rifle, sporter model, and a variable three to seven power riflescope. Enclosed was a money order in the amount of $33.23. Also enclosed was a handwritten affidavit apparently from HIDELL, in which he advised he was of age, and was not an alien, fugitive, drug addict, ex-convict or under indictment.

Mr. WALDMAN advised that the order was apparently placed from an advertisement appearing in a magazine. Upon receipt of the order, one of Klein's clerks noticed the name of HIDELL in that Klein's sold a rifle to LEE HARVEY OSWALD under the name A. HIDELL, which rifle was used in the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY. WALDMAN stated that because of this he had telephonically checked with a "source" in St. Petersburg, Florida, and found that HIDELL was not known to be a resident of the Pelican Drive address. This "source" identified a resident there as one LOWELL BRANDLE, an employee of the "St. Petersburg Times."

Mr. WALDMAN advised that Klein's definitely will not fill the order in question. He added that because of the "bizarre implications" of the order he felt the FBI should be advised.

On 5/6/65, the original envelope, handwritten order and handwritten affidavit were furnished to SA ROBERT J. DOLAN by MITCHELL J. SCIBOR, Mail Order Manager, Klein's Sporting Goods, Inc.

Submitted herewith for the Bureau is the original envelope, handwritten order and handwritten affidavit as furnished by Mr. SCIBOR.

MRS. MARGUERITE OSWALD

At 11:15 a.m., May 13, 1965, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, 3704 Crestline Road, Fort Worth, Texas, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, telephonically contacted the Fort Worth Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and furnished the following information:

She advised that in an issue of the "Fort Worth Star Telegram" during the previous week, there was an article about Mr. Fred Korth who she identified as former president of the Continental National Bank, Fort Worth, Texas, and former United States Secretary of the Navy under the administration of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Mrs. Oswald stated this newspaper article concerned Korth's separation from his wife of 29 years, Mrs. Oswald stated this separation took place on April 30, 1963, in the 67th District Court, Fort Worth, Texas.

Mrs. Oswald further advised that Fred Korth was released from his position as Secretary of the Navy a few days before the assassination of President Kennedy and that Korth was under investigation on November 20, 1963, by some investigative committee in Washington, D. C., because of "bungling" of his job as Secretary of the Navy. Mrs. Oswald continued that Korth is a "sleeper" and is responsible, in her opinion, for the death of President Kennedy as Korth had a "motive for killing President Kennedy more than Lee Harvey Oswald did as Korth was on the spot". According to Mrs. Oswald, Korth was in so much trouble that the Continental National Bank would not take Korth back into their employment because of the foregoing information.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE

MRS. MARGUERITE OSWALD

Mrs. Oswald continued she would like to get the divorce records at the District Clerk's Office but she is afraid she would be spotted by news reporters. She stated she would like to "keep my theories as quiet as possible". Mrs. Oswald related she was fired from her job on November 11, 1963, by a Mrs. Carter, who was a personal friend of Fred Korth. She stated she believed Mrs. Carter and Fred Korth are as much involved in President Kennedy's assassination.

Mrs. Oswald continued that her son, Lee Harvey Oswald, had mentioned Fred Korth two or three times during his interrogation and this is further reason for her to believe that Fred Korth was involved in the assassination.

Mrs. Oswald stated she also believes that in addition to Fred Korth Billie Sol Estes and Bobby Baker are all involved in President Kennedy's assassination. She stated she was firmly convinced that Carol Tyler, the beautiful Capitol Hill secretary called as a witness in the Bobby Baker investigation, who was killed in a plane crash in the Atlantic Ocean recently near Ocean City, Maryland, was involved in the assassination or else she knew something about it.

At 1:15 p.m., May 17, 1965, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald again telephonically contacted the Fort Worth Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, at which time she related the following information:

Mrs. Oswald stated she left her house early that morning in her automobile to run some errands and noticed a car following her. She stated there was a young man in this car wearing "plain clothes" who followed her for about 45 minutes after she first noticed him. She stated he made no "bones" about following her and at first she thought he might be trying to kill her or make her wreck her car as he was following her so closely. Mrs. Oswald stated she remembered hearing over the news broadcasts about Vice President Hubert Humphrey's pending visit to Dallas, and she stated, "I put two and two together" and decided she was under surveillance.

MRS. MARGUERITE OSWALD

Mrs. Oswald stated she went to the Rose Hill Cemetery to visit the grave of her son, Lee Harvey Oswald, and this same car followed her to the cemetery. She stated she asked the man in this automobile if he was surveilling her and he advised her that he was. She stated she told this man that she was going to make him work for his pay and that she drove for two solid hours all over the south end of Fort Worth. Mrs. Oswald stated she telephonically contacted Chief of Police Cato Hightower, Fort Worth Police Department, and asked him if she was under surveillance. She stated he told her that the Fort Worth Police Department had been requested by a government agency to keep her under surveillance during that entire day.

Mrs. Oswald stated she thought it was a crying shame she was being kept under surveillance when they "should watch the men in Washington, D.C., instead of Marguerite Oswald", for there are men in Washington, D.C., who are responsible for the death of President Kennedy. Mrs. Oswald further stated she believed the reason for the surveillance was that she "knows a lot" and knows the "complete story" and "the truth" of it all.

Mrs. Oswald advised she was at her residence at the time of her contacting the Fort Worth Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and she was going to have another glass of ice tea and then was going to drive over most of Fort Worth so the man surveilling her would have something to do and he was going to earn his pay for the day. Mrs. Oswald remarked that she was so furious about the entire matter that she was considering writing President Johnson and the United States Attorney General. Mrs. Oswald commented that she really had not made up her mind whether she should write anyone about this matter because she has had enough grief during the past one and one-half years, but she was tired of being treated in this manner. Mrs. Oswald commented that she thought she would contact Mr. Sorrels, Agent in Charge of the U. S. Secret Service at Dallas, about this matter but that she wanted to check with the Federal Bureau of Investigation to see if they had possibly instituted this surveillance.

EAARC

MRS. MARGUERITE OSWALD

Mrs. Oswald concluded her conversation by stating that she was leaving her residence and was going to give this young man surveilling her a run for his time and money, and stated "After all, this is good for the book I'm going to write, and I have taken two photographs of him."

The "Fort Worth Star Telegram", Fort Worth, Texas, on May 17, 1965, contained an article wherein it was stated that Deputy Police Chief R. R. Howerton, Fort Worth Police Department, had confirmed that they had surveilled Mrs. Marguerite Oswald during the visit of Vice President Hubert Humphrey in Dallas.

The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend interview with Mr. Penn Jones, Jr., editor of the "Midlothian Mirror," a weekly newspaper published in Midlothian, Texas, a community located approximately 24 miles from Dallas, Texas.

Mr. John Russell Freeman, owner and editor of the "Farmer and Miner," a weekly newspaper in Frederick, Colorado, informed Denver Office on 5-17-65 that Penn Jones, Jr., has been conducting thorough investigation of the assassination and has a theory that Oswald was paid large sum of money to assassinate President Kennedy by two brothers from Texas who are very high up in the Government of the U.S. Jones informed Freeman that one of these brothers has been closely associated with President Johnson for several years and is at present a "right-hand man" of President Johnson's in the White House. Jones told Freeman the other brother is a disreputable drunk who holds a high position in the Post Office Department.

According to Freeman, Jones informed him that he (Jones) has discussed this matter with Theodore Sorenson, formerly of President Kennedy's White House staff, and has also discussed it with former Attorney General Robert Kennedy and Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach. Jones told Freeman that Mr. Katzenbach informed him that this was just a theory and facts were needed to support it.

This is the first information Bureau has received concerning this allegation. Neither Jones nor Freeman volunteered this information to the FBI or to the President's Commission during the investigation of the assassination. The Department has furnished considerable information to the Bureau that was volunteered to it concerning Oswald and the assassination. However, we have received nothing from the Department concerning this allegation and it appears quite probable Jones has never passed this information to the Department as alleged by Freeman.

Because of the seriousness of the allegation involved, desirable we contact Mr. Jones and get any information he possesses first hand.

A check of Bureau files disclosed we conducted investigation of Penn Jones in 1953, based upon an allegation that a representative of the Communist Party from New York City had been in contact with Jones during the Summer of 1945. Our inquiries disclosed this allegation had no basis in fact. Our files also disclose that on 4-30-62 an unknown individual threw an incendiary device into the offices of Jones' newspaper, the "Midlothian Mirror." No arrests were made at that time, although it was suspected that a member of an anticommunist group may have been behind this act.

OSWALD

by KERRY THORNLEY

WHO KNEW HIM BEST (AND WHO IN 1960 WROTE THE IDLE WARRIORS, A NOVEL BASED UPON HIM)

—WHAT HE DID NOT TELL THE WARREN COMMISSION—

including the 'Warren' Commission's 106 page deposition of the author; a supportive psychological analysis by Albert Ellis, Ph. D.; a biographical verification by E. A. Simco, fellow Marine of Oswald and Thornley; an eight page pictorial documentation section; and a unique eulogy to John F. Kennedy by Paul G. Helmark.

An illuminating personal analysis of why Lee Harvey Oswald chose to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, as well as an iconoclastic critique of how America helped Oswald to become what he did.

THE AUTHOR

Twenty-seven-year old Kerry Thornley began writing at the age of fourteen. He sold his first piece of work to a local newspaper when he was nineteen and has since had poems, short stories and articles published in the "little" magazines (including Innovator, a libertarian newsletter of which he is editor-in-chief). Thornley's interest in philosophy and politics also began early; while attending high school in Whittier, California, he won a number of public speaking competitions, including the Voice of Democracy Contest. After attending the University of Southern California for one year as a journalism student, he decided to fulfill a two-year active-duty obligation (assumed earlier upon joining the Marine Corps Reserve). He was assigned to El Toro Marine Air Station in Santa Ana, California— where he was to meet Lee Harvey Oswald. Later Thornley served in the Far East, in the First Marine Aircraft Wing, and distinguished himself again as a public speaker on political/philosophical issues by winning first place in the Wing Technique of Instruction Competition. He was therefore sent to Washington to appear in the finals. It was shortly after his return to overseas duty that Thornley read in a newspaper of Oswald's defection to Russia and, as a result of that, began work on his first novel: The Idle Warriors, featuring a protagonist much-modeled after this unusual Oswald personality. After leaving the Marine Corps, Thornley moved to the New Orleans French Quarter to finish The Idle Warriors and to gain background material for future writings. At present he lives in Los Angeles, and is working on a second novel, plus a series of philosophical papers for private publication.

Introduction

The Psychology of Assassination

by Albert Ellis, Ph.D.

Kerry Thornley's first-hand portrait of Lee Harvey Oswald is a most valuable document because it gives an illuminating view of the man who almost certainly murdered President John F. Kennedy and presents him as the author saw and lived with him several years before the assassination occurred. Naturally, Mr. Thornley had his own subjective reactions to Oswald; and, as he frankly states in this book, he had his personal politico-social philosophy which hardly dovetailed with Oswald's. But as a budding novelist, and one who was perspicacious enough to see in the potential assassin a unique individual who could well serve as the protagonist for the great American novel which he then hoped to write, Thornley was beautifully equipped to study and delineate Oswald's character; and it is doubtful whether we shall ever have a more faithful picture of this complex and aberrated human being than is presented in some of the vignettes of him in this book.

I am fortunately in something of the same accurately predictive position as Thornley regarding my diagnostic impressions of Oswald. For immediately after President Kennedy's assassination, Lyle Stuart, who publishes many of my books, and who is also editor and publisher of the unusual monthly periodical, The Independent, asked me to do a piece on "The Psychology of Assassination." I quickly wrote such an article, which was then included in the November 1963 issue of The Independent. Although at that time, I only had a potpourri of newspaper reports to go by, it was turbed individual; and I said so in no uncertain terms. Later published material, including that in the Report of the Warren Commission, and now the present book by Kerry Thornley, has much more fully documented my original impressions of Oswald and the motives for his crime. So if I were interested in crowing, I could well throw out my chest, and say: "I told you so!"

More to the point, however, I am interested in augmenting and substantiating my original thesis on Oswald and the psychology of assassination. So let me now attempt to do this, by using some of Thornley's first-hand impressions of President Kennedy's presumed assassin, as well as material from other reputable sources.

Let me say at the start what I said in my original article: that although, on the surface, assassination may seem to be a cold-blooded result of political choice, it actually rarely is. Contemporary assassins are almost always exceptionally deranged individuals. Many of them, in fact (such as Jack Ruby, the murderer of Lee Oswald), seem to have no political motive whatever. And even the most notorious killer of all time, Adolf Hitler, was obviously not merely fighting for German, or even for Aryan, interests when he sent out his trained gunmen to exterminate his "political" foes. He was clearly an unusually disturbed, terribly anxious and hostile individual, who was personally motivated to kill, quite apart from the socio-economic views which he may have quite sincerely (if benightedly) held.

So, too, is there good reason to believe that most members of revolutionary groups, such as the anarchists of nineteenth century Russia, which openly advocate political assassination, adhere to their creeds of violence because they want to kill, and not merely because they have dispassionately figured out that this is really an effective method of backing up the ideologies in which they believe.

What are some of the main psychological factors that drive people to assassinate political figures? These:

Impotence and self-hatred. Assassins such as Lee Harvey Oswald are often individuals who, although they are not basically stupid, have been so seriously emotionally disturbed all their lives that they have been highly inept in getting what they want out of life. They usually have poor interpersonal relations; they are unable to work steadily on interesting or well-paying jobs; and they characteristically get rejected by friends, acquaintances, members of the other sex, and even political groups or countries to which they would like to swear allegiance.

Because of their inherent low estimations of themselves, they keep failing at one task after another; and then they use their failures as "evidence" that they are really worthless and must necessarily keep failing. Rather than consciously admit to themselves, however, that they are woefully inadequate, and that they'd therefore better do something drastic to change their ways, they frequently build up defensive hostility against others, and insist that they are being persecuted by these others.

Consequently they hate bosses, officials, statesmen, and other authority figures, and insist that it is these "bastards" who are keeping them down. They cannot, of course, acknowledge the hard work and refusal to be downed by physical and other handicaps that are characteristic of statesmen such as Kennedy—since such an acknowledgement would spotlight their own tendencies to goof in the face of even minor difficulties. So they often become insanely jealous of outstanding achievers, insist that they do not truly deserve their places of eminence, and bitterly resolve that something must be done to annihilate them and drag them from the positions they have "unfairly" won.

Typical of the impotence and self-hatred that Lee Harvey Oswald felt for himself is that in his case, as Thornley clearly points out, "despair, it would appear existed—but it was not despair with resignation. Rather, Oswald exhibited something quite prevalent in our culture today: frantic despair." Like so many despairing and self-deprecating people, Oswald apparently had to believe that there were special reasons for his not succeeding in life, so he became defensively paranoid and wishful-thinkingly got himself to "discern" that others were deliberately picking on him and blocking his way. As Thornley succinctly notes: "I don't think he was consciously, perhaps, aware of the fact that he went out of his way to get into trouble. I think it was kind of necessary to him to believe that he was being picked on. It wasn't anything extreme. I wouldn't go so far as to call him a paranoid, but there was a definite tendency in that direction." And again: "I think perhaps the feeling of being persecuted was necessary to his self-esteem. This is, I understand, a common thing, and it certainly fits in with everything else I know about him."

The Warren Report Commission, in its official summary of Oswald's condition, concurs: "He used his Marxist and associated activities as excuses for his difficulties in getting along in the world, which were usually caused by entirely different factors." However arrogant and "superior," then, Oswald appeared on the surface to be, it is evident that he always had deepseated feelings of self-deprecation, and that much of his external swagger and violence was an unconscious attempt to deny or cover up these feelings.

Lack of frustration tolerance. Political change of a profound nature invariably takes a considerable period of time to achieve. Even long after significant revolutions—such as the American Revolution and the Russian Revolution—have occurred, numerous vestiges of the old regime survive; and it is only as a result of constant vigilance and action on the part of the revolutionists that many of their aims are finally achieved.

Political assassins, however, usually are individuals with low frustration tolerance and lack of prolonged discipline who want —or, rather, demand—what they want when they want it—which means immediately, pronto, right now. However worthy their causes may be (or may seem to them to be), they are not willing to keep working to achieve these goals; and they impatiently, and to a large extent mystically, believe that they will be able to attain them at one fell, dramatic swoop. Sudden assassination of their foes is therefore their frequent (and usually quite unrealistic) method of choice.

In Oswald's case, it is fairly clear that he was a short-range hedonist who rarely saw difficult projects through, even when he theoretically believed in them. Although he was intelligent and believed in reading and in education, he shirked his school work as a child and never quite finished high school. He never held on to jobs in a steady fashion; and didn't even stick things out very well when he went to the Soviet Union and tried to become a citizen there. Thornley significantly notes that Oswald, though a seeker after a better philosophy of world order, erred in that respect too: "Had he been willing to exert the effort, Oswald could have worked out for himself a rational view of the world. At times, according to his notes, he attempted to formulate what he called a 'third alternative.' That he did not continue this effort, and that he spent his time instead in conspiring to do violence to those with whom he disagreed, is the fault of no other person than Lee Harvey Oswald."

Even Oswald's vaunted political views, Thornley again indicates, were partly rationalizations for his taking the easy way out and making a great name for himself without his making any persistent effort: "He was concerned with his image in history and I do think that is why he chose the particular method he chose and did it [identified with the Communist cause] in the way he did. It got him in the newspapers. It did broadcast his name out. I think he probably expected the Russians to accept him in a much higher capacity than they did."

Like so many individuals with low frustration tolerance, Oswald was a classical injustice collector. To quote Thornley: "He was always speaking of the injustices which had been perpetrated against him . . . And it was the fact that he had lost his clearance and gone out of his way to get into some degree of trouble, that went on to support this. For example, we would stand at muster in the morning, and Sergeant Spar would call the roll and he would say 'Oswald' and Oswald would step out of the ranks and Spar would send him off to mow the lawn or something. Oswald did get special treatment. As I say, he had brought it on himself, but he made the most of it, too, as far as using it as a means of getting or attempting to get sympathy."

Here, then, we have a picture, which I frequently find in my most seriously disturbed patients, of an individual who builds up who thereby "proves" (at least to his own satisfaction) that reality is definitely the way it should (by his own unrealistic definition) be. Naturally, the only way in which such a frustration-intolerant person is going to be able to right the "wrongs" which have been done him is, with equally trigger-happy unrealism, to harm or to kill those who are more favored than he—and who, usually, have worked their heads off (as Kennedy did) to earn this favor.

Magical thinking. Almost every person who vigorously opposes a pronounced politico-economic way of thinking—whether that way be extremely right-wing, left-wing, or even centrist—at times has the distinct inclination to murder the outstanding spokesmen for the view he despises. But since most political oppositionists are reasonably sane and thinking individuals, they quickly calculate that it would be utterly foolish for them to give in to their murderous inclinations. For, obviously, they would not kill the party they oppose by quickly silencing one or more of its spokesmen—in fact, they might well publicize and aid its cause by thereby creating public martyrs.

By resorting to assassination, they easily are able to see, they would only bring down the wrath of officialdom (and very likely of the shocked populace itself) on themselves and their own supporters, would do their own cause more harm than good, and would very likely end up just as dead as their murdered opponents. Consequently, same proponents of even extremist politico-economic views frequently think of how nice it would be if they could eradicate their opponents in one huge blood bath—but they practically never take any overt steps to execute such a wishful notion.

Political assassins, on the other hand, are not equally sane, and almost always seem to believe that they and their supporters can get away with the bloody deeds they at first fantasize and then actually carry out. The John Wilkes Booths of the world seem to be genuinely deluded, at the moment they commit their misdeeds, that there will be a massive public uprising in their favor; that the individuals they assassinate will be universally condemned rather than raised to martyrdom; and that they, the murderers, won't be caught and punished.

These assassins usually seem to make their wishes father to utterly magical kinds of thought; and those among them who do not expect to escape earthly retribution seem to believe that they will be rewarded in some later celestial existence—in a heaven, of course, that is somehow ruled by their own cohorts. This magical thinking on their part, which usually leaves them with enough perspicacity to carry out their death-dealing blows effectively but to fail to make any reasonable plans for escape, is probably the reason why such a high percentage of political assassins are caught so quickly.

communism was the wave of the future—and that he, personally, would be exalted in stature by his picking this kind of right horse. As Thornley notes: "He looked upon history as God. He looked upon the eyes of future people as some kind of tribunal, and he wanted to be on the winning side so that ten thousand years from now people would look in the history books and say, 'Well, this man was ahead of his time.' He wanted to be looked back upon with honor by future generations. It was, I think, a substitute, in his case, for traditional religion."

Moreover, "In his own eyes he was two conflicting things. On one hand, and perhaps most deeply while certainly not most obviously, he was Oswald the oppressed. On the other hand, he was Oswald the great, the future liberator of the entire human race." Considering how atheistic Oswald was, by his own statements, supposed to be, this high degree of religiosity and grandiosity that he actually felt and practiced is indeed remarkable!

It should come as no surprise, therefore, when we discover that on the day of Kennedy's assassination, Oswald took with him only $13.87 and left behind $170.00, which might have well helped him to escape to Cuba or elsewhere. Like so many other assassins, his plans for escape were either magically non-existent or totally unrealistic.

Extreme moralism and hostility. Although assassins are palpably immoral, since they commit the one act, murder, which is almost universally condemned among the various peoples of the world, they invariably seem to be unusually moralistic or blaming. They not only condemn the basic ideologies of their politico-economic opponents, but they severely castigate these opponents themselves for having such ideas. This excoriation of an individual for espousing certain creeds is, of course, an act of extreme bigotry, and has little connection with our normal opposition to philosophies which we think are mistaken.

For, granting that a man (such as the head of a political party) is wrong about holding certain views (as, of course, his opponents always think he is), he has an inalienable right to be wrong. To be human is to err; and unless each of us is given the inalienable right to be errant, and not to be personally denigrated or cruelly punished for so being, the freedom to think for oneself becomes a mockery and arrant bigotry and obscurantism quickly begins to prevail.

The political assassin is essentially unable to see this: to distinguish clearly between a person's being wrong and his being blamed, punished, and devalued as a human for his mistakes. The assassin dogmatically and authoritatively wants to blame; demands that his own views be considered absolutely right and everyone else's utterly fallacious; insists on making himself the final arbiter of human destiny, while placing all those who dissent from him on an infinitely lower, dehumanized, and preferably non-existent level.

That Oswald was, from his childhood to his death, an unusually moralistic and hostile individual, seems to be well attested by the facts of his existence. Several times during his early years he got into trouble with school and other authorities; and a full decade before he was accused of murdering Kennedy he was suspected of being psychopathic by a psychiatrist who examined him. Thornley himself doubts that Oswald was truly potentially dangerous in his youth and at the time he knew him in the Marine Corps; but he also gives several indications of Oswald's hostility at this time. Thus, in response to Albert Jenner Jr.'s questioning him when he appeared before the Warren Commission, Thornley admits that Oswald "had gotten into difficulty with a staff sergeant and had poured beer on the person of a staff sergeant and gotten into some kind of altercation . . . As a result of that he was court-martialed and had been subjected to the loss of clearance."

Again, according to Thornley: "He seemed to be a person who would go out of his way to get into trouble, get some officer or staff sergeant mad at him. He would make wise remarks. He had a general bitter attitude toward the Corps. He used to pull his hat down over his eyes so he wouldn't have to look at anything around him and go walking around very Beetle-Bailey style."

In regard to Oswald's relationships, camaraderie with others in his Marine Corps outfit, Thornley tells us that these were "Almost nil . . . He got along with very few people." As an example of Oswald's bellicosity, Thornley notes that on one occasion, when he finally remarked to Oswald that "Comes the revolution you will change all that"—meaning, Oswald's views of military organizations—the would-be revolutionist screamed at him and "he never said anything to me again."

Quite typically, then, Oswald exhibited lifetime patterns of surliness and unfriendliness; and it is perhaps noteworthy that at the time Kennedy was shot, he was also at serious odds with his wife and appeared to have no close friends. This does not mean, of course, that every negative, hostile person is likely to become a murderer. Potentially, yes; but in all likelihood, no. Of those individuals, however, who do kill, and who particularly kill in the senseless fashion that President Kennedy was assassinated, a longtime history of extreme resentment against others will frequently be found.

Severe anxiety. Because he absolutely cannot tolerate the dissenting views of others, and because he consciously or unconsciously feels himself to be impotent and unable to cope with a world of probability or chance, where it is inevitable that opposing views to his will be heard and will often prevail, the political assassin is fundamentally an exceptionally anxious person.

His grandiosity, therefore, is to some degree the other side of the coin of his underlying feelings of weakness, and is partially a defense against these feelings. Because he is terribly afraid that others will spot his inadequacies and therefore take advantage of him, he paranoically projects onto them his own poor picture of himself, begins to imagine that they are plotting and scheming against him, and feels impelled to kill them before they actually do him injury.

From the picture just painted, it can be seen that the political assassin tends to be a paranoid schizophrenic; and when he is not precisely in that category, he nonetheless is an exceptionally disturbed individual who has little capacity to think straight about himself and others, and who usually has led a highly disordered, and like as not rebellious and antisocial, life since early childhood.

Typically, for example, we find that Lee Harvey Oswald was a "loner"; was resentful of discipline; was bored and restless in school; shirked his studies, although he was well above average intelligence; felt that he and his family were persecuted by society; was fanatically devoted to communism but still unable to be accepted by the Russians when he decided to give up his United States citizenship; was quite distressed about losing his hair, which he typically attributed to the cold Russian winters; was unable to hold some jobs because of incompetence in performing work that should have been easily grasped by him; acted so suspiciously that causes that he wanted to work for refused to have any connection with him; and generally behaved in a withdrawn, rebellious, and irresponsible manner.

More concretely, we have the first-hand evidence of Thornley, who replies to Mr. Jenner's question, "Do you think he was emotionally unstable?" with an unequivocal "I think so." "That," Jenner continues, "is an opinion you gathered from your association with him in the Marines." And Thornley, again without cavil: "Yes."

When Jenner asks Thornley "To what did you attribute this inability of his to maintain reasonably cordial or at least service-family relations with his fellow Americans," the latter's reply is "Well, at the time I just thought: well, the man is a nut . . . I just thought: something is wrong with him; maybe something is bugging him today; maybe he is crazy; I don't know what . . . Later, I did reflect on it, and that, combined with his general habits in relation to his superiors, and to the other men in the outfit, caused me to decide that he had a definite tendency toward irrationality at times, an emotional instability."

From all this data that we now have on Oswald, including the material in the Warren Commission's Report, that which was independently unearthed by various newspaper and magazine sources, and Thornley's detailed experiences with Oswald that are exposited in this book, it would appear that although he was never hospitalized for mental illness, and might possibly never have been had he lived to a ripe old age, there is little question that he was at least a borderline schizophrenic and that he was

A PRELUDE TO UNDERSTANDING: INTELLECTUAL EVASION AND FRANTIC DESPAIR

"I wonder what would happen if somebody was to stand up and say he was utterly opposed not only to governments, but to the people . . ."

—Lee Harvey Oswald

Aristotle said that if a man gets drunk and, as a result of his drunkenness, flys into a rage and kills another, he is not to be excused in the least from the consequences of his act—for upon willfully allowing his mind to be dulled or his rationality suspended, a man must assume full responsibility for whatever his uncontrolled actions then effect.

In justice, to choose to abandon one's mind in any manner is much the same as leaping from a motor vehicle once it is in motion: what really happens is that the mind abandons the vehicle, the body, and must therefore stand responsible for whatever damage the uncontrolled vehicle causes.

Tragically, there are more ways of dulling or suspending human rationality than drinking. Drinking, in fact, is one of the least popular. Far more common than blind drunkenness is blind faith. And before that comes what is probably the number-one intoxicant the world over, the true opiate of the people: intellectual evasion.

unpleasant question. An intellectual evasion is no answer at all, wrapped up in a package of answer-sounding words. When a politician tells you not to worry about the national debt because "we owe it to ourselves," that is an intellectual evasion. When a door-to-door salesman offers you a set of encyclopedias "absolutely free," provided you agree to pay ten dollars a month, that is an intellectual evasion. When a minister tells you to believe in God because The Bible says there is a God, and to believe The Bible because it is "God's word," that is an intellectual evasion. And when a TV-panel-show debater passes himself off as cultured because of his expertise at intellectual evasion, that is when you'd better jump behind a lamp post; there's a driverless vehicle barreling down the road.

Lee Harvey Oswald, I submit, arrived at a state of mindlessness that would have permitted him to commit murder through a process of intellectual evasion—a process which was partially under way when I knew him in 1959.

Evidence would indicate that Oswald's condition was what could perhaps best be called a state of despair during the time span that included 22 November 1963.

According to the Warren Commission, "Oswald's behavior after the assassination throws little light on his motives. The fact that he took so little money with him when he left Irving in the morning indicates that he did not expect to get very far from Dallas on his own and suggests the possibility, as did his note prior to the attempt on General Walker, that he did not expect to escape at all. On the other hand, he could have traveled some distance with the money he did have and he did return to his room where he obtained his revolver. He then killed Patrolman Tippit when that police officer apparently tried to question him after he had left his roominghouse and he vigorously resisted arrest when he was finally apprehended in the Texas Theatre. Although it is not fully corroborated by others who were present, two officers have testified that at the time of his arrest Oswald said something to the effect that 'it's all over now.'"

Despair, it would appear, existed—but it was not despair with resignation. Rather, Oswald exhibited something quite prevalent in our culture today: frantic despair. One hundred seventy dollars, in addition to the thirteen dollars and eighty seven cents he took with him that fated morning, were in his possession. Yet he left the hundred and seventy dollars in a wallet in the dresser at the house where his wife was staying. In considering the possibility of Oswald's planning an escape to Cuba, the Commission points out that "it is unlikely that a reasoning person would plan to attempt to travel from Dallas, Tex., to Cuba with $13.87 when considerably greater resources were available to him. The fact that Oswald left behind the funds which might have enabled him to reach Cuba suggests the absence of any plan to try to flee there and raises serious questions as to whether or not he ever expected to escape."

Yet we find Oswald killing a police officer and attempting to kill others to resist questioning and arrest. Only an irrational man attempts to embrace contradictions. And Oswald certainly must be judged irrational if one is to go on the basis of these two drastically contradictory tendencies apparent in his alleged behavior on 22 November. But, as I've indicated, assassins don't have a monopoly on unreason, especially on that variety I've named frantic despair.

Consider the philosopher who asserts that life, by nature, is wretched—and yet who devotes years to panic-stricken efforts on behalf of preventing the nuclear destruction of mankind. Or look among the writings of the beats. From the antics of Dean Morarity on down the line, what term can better describe the behavior of these "heroes" than frantic despair?

Nor is frantic despair in contemporary culture confined to those who pass as intellectuals. "You'd be surprised at the number of these happy suburban wives who simply go berserk one night, and run shrieking through the street without any clothes on," quotes Betty Friedan, from an interview with an unnamed doctor, in her bestselling book The Feminine Mystique. Miss Friedan substantiates in her book a view of the American career housewife as typically, a driven woman who is, by and large, both despairing and frantically unresigned in her often random efforts to achieve identity and self-esteem. Further, and perhaps significant in this context, her psychological struggles often seem to affect her children with a tendency to react to life in a similar manner.

So I think it may be safely concluded that the state of frantic despair is prevalent enough among individuals in at least our culture at this time to produce in many situations an atmosphere of frantic despair—an atmosphere more to be expected in a tribe of savages, helpless against nature's whims, than in a highly comfortable and industrially competent civilization such as our own. And, indeed, it has been recently demonstrated by means of a ten-nation survey conducted by Dr. Raymond B. Cattell of the University of Illinois that the highly industrialized nations of the world, including America, have lower general levels of anxiety than do less developed countries, such as India. So we may further conclude that the syndrome involving frantic despair is by no means a result of increased industrialization nor is it universal in our culture. The very fact that it can be discerned with such striking clarity here in modern-day America would seem to indicate that it is in sharp contrast with what most of us regard as the logical reaction to this environment.

It would seem safe then to conclude that the state of frantic despair is something that must be arrived at by a special route. And if the writings of Sartre, Genet, Kerouac, Colin Wilson, and the reports of Betty Friedan are to be credited (and in this instance their popularity itself can be considered as a probable accreditation), it might well be that this special route is being followed by an ever-widening group of people.

It is my opinion that the state of frantic [illegible]

most commonly arrived at by means of intellectual evasion. And, on the basis of my acquaintance with Lee Harvey Oswald and on what I have learned about him since then, I have decided that he did arrive at the state of frantic despair by such means and, in the state of frantic despair, probably attempted to assassinate General Walker and probably did assassinate President Kennedy.

I have gone into this subject in some detail, at the risk of belaboring a point here and there, because it is absolutely essential in explaining how the Oswald I knew could have in just four years and five or so months arrived at a point where he was fully capable of cold-blooded murder. For the Oswald I knew was a wholly different sort of fellow in some essential respects from the angry little man who later was to dwell upon the possibilities of one's standing up and announcing his utter opposition to everything, "governments, . . . the people, to the entire land and complete foundations of his society."

II

PRIVATE OSWALD AND THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING PERSECUTED

"In Thornley's view, Oswald labored under a persecution complex which he strove to maintain . . ."

—The Report of the Warren Commission

No clear picture of my first sight of Oswald remains in my memory. He did not make a lasting first impression on me, for in appearance he was practically nondescript.

I transferred into his outfit, Marine Air Control Squadron Nine, in either the late winter or early spring of 1959. I remember only that it was after New Year and before Easter. Previously I had been with another unit located at the same place and directly next door to MACS-9, so at the time the change was merely a minor one, more important to the Remington raiders in the administration sections than to me.

When I think of Oswald's name in connection with those days, I hear it being shouted by an authoritative voice that seems worn thin by irritation. And in my mind's eye I see an out-of-focus picture of a jarhead private with a swab in hand, slopping soapy water over the wooden plank porch of the operations hut. The private has the bill of his utility cap pulled down over his eyes, apparently so he will have to see as little of the unpleasant military world around him as possible.

Overlaid on this picture, as in a multiple exposure, I see the same private with a broom, with a rake, with a lawn mower, and with a grass edger. Associated in my mind with these visions is a vague feeling of sympathy that might find expression in the question: Why are they always picking on that guy?

As time went on I came to gather other, more vivid impressions of Private Oswald—but the image of him as a poor, persecuted soul never entirely vanished. Oswald kept it fresh. When he was ordered to do something, he would answer, "Yes, sir," in a tone that conveyed clearly that he had fully expected to be ordered to the task but that he sure didn't have to pretend that he liked it any. It was the kind of tone that most people would use while saying, "Wouldn't you know it!" after a particularly bad piece of luck.

And if, by some chance, you didn't see that Oswald was obviously being singled out for special treatment, he would mention it to you in the form of a bitter aside to his conversation—usually adding his opinion that those in command were of the not-too-perceptive conviction that he was a Communist spy or something and therefore felt he had it coming. But, as his words and tone would have by now made clear, Oswald was willing to be grimly amused by the whole thing.

I'm certain that in his own eyes Oswald was the most important man in the unit. To him the mark of destiny was clearly visible on his forehead and that some were blind to it was his eternal source of aggravation. It was far more comforting for him to know that there were those who would gladly kill him than it would have been for him to think that he was just another faceless marine in the ranks at morning muster. For, deep within, he feared that he really was that faceless nobody—and the hostility of others, when directed at him alone, was his most convenient reassurance that he was, instead, a very unique somebody. A somebody who could provoke anger, and perhaps a little fear, in those an unjust system had placed above him was the self-image he required and strove to perpetuate.

As I've indicated, in contrast to Oswald's self-image was his appearance. He was not much taller or much shorter than most other people. Nor was he much fatter or much leaner. His hair was brown, medium brown. His eyes were blue-grey. If anything he was a bit smaller than most men, a bit lighter in weight. That was all.

Considering that he had such a poor foundation on which to build a striking appearance, Oswald did pretty well. First, he usually remembered to set himself off by maintaining a tight and angry little smile at all times. Also, he managed to look a little sloppier in his dress than any other marine. But beyond that, under the circumstances, there was not much else to be done. For the most part, he had to rely on his words to emphasize his individuality, a subject to be handled in detail in a separate chapter.

While all I've said about him up till now is true, I wish to stop short of giving the impression that Oswald's persecution complex was a central aspect of his personality at that time. It was not. It was instead something usually observed out of the corner of an eye while considering the whole man. In my unprofessional opinion he was not paranoid but, as I told the Commission, I did think there was in him a tendency toward paranoia that in certain circumstances might become more pronounced. This last, however, was simply an uninformed guess on my part.

One may now wonder how it was that Private Oswald was most typically observed at some menial job if it were not true that he was a real object of persecution due, perhaps, to his "subversive" leanings. This, I submit, Oswald brought on himself. Elsewhere, I will go into the techniques he used. For now, allow me to say that he went out of his way, time after time, to do whatever he could to displease the officers and staff n.c.o.'s that were in charge of him.

Unfortunately, there were times, though, when Oswald was given genuine reasons to believe "they" were after him. The most dramatic example came to my knowledge second hand, so I may not have all the details correct. I have checked into the origin of the story enough, however, to ascertain that it does have a basis in truth.

It was apparently in MACS-9, and probably before I arrived there, that a young lieutenant happened to notice in the mail room one day a newspaper, addressed to Oswald, which was in the Russian language and by some reports had been mailed from the Soviet Union. According to the story, the lieutenant grew very excited over his discovery and possibly made an open issue of Oswald's probable sympathy to the Communist cause.

Most of the troops, who had learned to take Oswald in perspective, were very much amused at the lieutenant's having "pushed the panic button." Oswald, of course, didn't think it was so funny. But apparently the lieutenant's warnings were ignored by the command, which had perhaps learned to take enthusiastic young lieutenants in perspective.

So Private Lee H. Oswald was the outfit eightball. He was what in the Army they call a yard bird and, in the Marine Corps, a shit bird. He was a born loser. And he was fully as bitter as mess-hall coffee about it.

And concerning the cause of this situation, Oswald chose to believe the explanation that was to him the most attractive—that his unique status as a "subversive" and perhaps his superior intelligence was the reason for his special treatment—and this, in the face of evidence to the contrary, required a process of intellectual evasion.

Yet at that time Oswald was far from despairing. His service in the Marine Corps was about to end. And, beyond his coming day of discharge, a whole new world awaited him—a world that would be somehow different from what he'd known in the past. Perhaps he would go to the Soviet Union and play an important role in the building of a new humanity. Perhaps he would go to Cuba and join Castro in the fight to free the rest of the Caribbean from the clutch of the imperialists. A thousand opportunities awaited the man who bore the mark of destiny; he had only to choose among them.

It may have been about then that O[illegible]

MACS-9 marine, Nelson Delgado, in the words of the Warren Report, "sometimes imagined themselves as leaders in the Cuban Army or Government . . ."

A good summary to this chapter is also contained in that Report: "He used his Marxist and associated activities as excuses for his difficulties in getting along in the world, which were usually caused by entirely different factors. His use of those excuses to present himself to the world as a person who was being unfairly treated is shown most clearly by his employment relations after his return from the Soviet Union. Of course, he made his real problems worse to the extent that his use of those excuses prevented him from discovering the real reasons for and attempting to overcome his difficulties. . . ."

COMRADE OSWALD

AND THE HOLY CAUSE OF MANKIND

"I think the best religion is Communism."

—Lee Harvey Oswald

We were sitting around in the afternoon sun. I was reading a paperback book. Oswald was reading a notebook, possibly studying his Russian. Nelson Delgado was there, involved in a religious discussion with another man. Two or three others were sitting around on inverted buckets, cleaning their rifles or shining their shoes.

Duty was easy in MACS-9. Many of us were watch standers and sometimes we had the afternoons off. We could not leave the base, but we could sit outside the recreation hut and enjoy the California sun, shoot the bull about whatever crossed our minds, read, or take care of our personal effects.

MACS-9 was located at a subsidiary base of El Toro. It was near the tiny town of Tustin. And, with a light breeze, the sharp smell of citrus trees would come floating down the rows of quonset huts.

Gradually, I lost interest in my reading and became engrossed in the bull session on religion. Noticing my interest, one of the men asked for my views. I explained that I was an atheist.

"So am I," said Oswald, glancing up from his note-

"No. I'm not a Communist. I just think they have th best system."

"Why?" I wanted to know.

"Because they have a purpose. And the Communis way of life is more scientific than ours. You don't hav to believe in a bunch of fairy tales to accept it."

My first really vivid memory of Oswald centers around that brief sequence. In further conversations, my initial judgement concerning his interest in Marxism, based on his words that afternoon, was re-enforced. He was a man in search of an integrated, scientific view of life. He found in Marxism the only ideology that didn't demand the same kind of blind faith that the religions demanded. He found in Marxism the only philosophy of modern times that claimed a vital, relevant connection to life on this planet.

Significantly, he was not entirely satisfied with Marxism. Against my charges that it was also rooted in faith and certainly not scientific in many important respects, he could only say, "But what else is there?"

At that time, I could not give him a satisfactory answer. I could only indicate my belief that, ultimately, one must work out one's own personal religion or philosophy. For a man who was out to change the world, a personal philosophy was not enough. Oswald needed a head start. Oswald needed a movement he could join and help bring to fruition in his lifetime. In essence, he did not have the courage to stand alone. And yet to create one's own view of the world, one must stand alone and think.

* * * *

I have never personally known an individual more motivated by what appeared to be a genuine concern for the human race than Lee Harvey Oswald.

Lee was moved by what people usually call the purest humanitarian sentiments. Oswald was a philanthropist.

After our first exchange of ideas, sparked by the discussion on religion, we got into quite a few extended discussions. Sometimes we both took the side of atheism and argued with the more excitable Christian fundamentalists in the outfit. At other times we directed our rhetoric at each other. The result was that there developed between us a sense of kinship tempered with sharp differences.

We were never close friends. Oswald was not the sort who formed close friendships. Yet I think in some ways I came to know him very well because of our disagreements.

His concern for other people, not as individuals but as a mass, was real. Oswald was unselfish. He was so unselfish that he couldn't seem to concentrate on his own affairs. He would rather be busily solving the problems of mankind. I would suggest that he might have been bored with his own life as it stood. The problems of others—the famines, the plagues, the revolutions, and the wars—were far more interesting challenges to his imagination than, say, whether or not his shoes were shined before tomorrow's inspection. So he invariably turned out for inspection with unshined shoes and, when he was punished for it, he preferred to believe that he was being picked on by malevolent beings who hated him for wanting to solve the world's problems, for wanting to liberate those the malevolent beings—the persons in authority—wanted to continue to exploit.

That Oswald observed that his own affairs were boring might have been the major contributing factor to his secret fear that he was just another faceless everyman in the ranks. And, as I have shown, the resulting apathy toward minding his own business probably led directly to his special treatment which, in turn, provided him with counterfeit evidence that he was a special man, instead of a faceless everyman. It was a cycle which would have tended to gain momentum as it went along, like a flywheel —or a whirlpool.

As I told the Warren Commission: "He looked upon the eyes of future people as some kind of tribunal, and he wanted to be on the winning side so that 10,000 years from now people would look in the history books and say, 'Well, this man was ahead of his time.' . . . He w concerned with his image in history . . ."

Such a view necessarily implies that Oswald was co
vinced of the inevitability of a Communist world victor
And I am not sure that he was entirely pleased with su a prospect. First, that he denied being a Communist h possible importance here—but on the other hand, in t circumstances, it might have been going even too far f Oswald to stand up and say he was utterly committed achieving a total Communist victory. What causes me t have second thoughts about his commitment to Com munism is his enthusiasm for a book unpopular with th few self-admitted Communists I have known, for obviou reasons. The book was George Orwell's 1984, a severe criti cism in fiction form of socialist totalitarianism.

As soon as he learned that I had not yet read thi book, he urged me to do so at once. In fact, it might ver well be that he loaned or gave me a paperbound edition Upon his enthusiastic recommendation, I read 1984 an for awhile decided Oswald was not truly in sympathy wit Marxism. It had to be a joke, I concluded. That explained his tight little smile. He was laughing to himself, I wa sure. He saw all the fallacies in socialism that Georg Orwell saw. And, on this final point, I'm still not con vinced I was wrong.

Unfortunately, however, one gaping hole in socialism that both Orwell and Oswald failed to see was the im possibility of supporting an industrial civilization utilizing fear instead of profit as a motivation. Inventors don't in vent because they are ordered to, or because they are told it is their duty. Engineers don't engineer and innovators don't innovate on command. Scientists don't make dis coveries according to master plans or regulations. If this concept is grasped, the vanity of Marxist boasting about the inevitability of the triumph of the dictatorship of the proletariat is seen. Also apparent is the absurdity of those who imagine the world in the grips of an all-powerful Communist conspiracy. If the Communists are to "win", they must continue to gradually renounce the original goals set forth by Marx. If this is done, the Soviet Union will have to become a free nation—with both a free exchange of ideas and a free exchange of goods.

But Oswald could not have understood this, for he saw the future of mankind as a dark one, filled with the poverty and oppression of 1984, controlled by an all-powerful state which would be equipped somehow with all the infernal inventions necessary to check and double check upon its subjects. How such a state could maintain itself, who it would tax for its wealth, how it would per-suade intelligent beings to keep its complex machinery in condition was a problem to which he gave little or no thought. He was therefore a victim of somewhat ground-less fears.

He further observed that the mixed economy of the United States, to which he mistakenly referred as "capital-ism", was moving toward totalitarianism. And if he had wanted to examine the evidence carefully, he could have seen that the present-day Soviet Union was even closer to Orwell's nightmare. But he didn't want to examine the evidence if the conclusion it necessitated might, as he seemed to suspect in this case, prove depressing. He wanted to believe that somewhere there was freedom. So that is exactly what he did believe. And, of course, the only possible place for such freedom had to be on the other side of that communications barrier, the iron curtain. If freedom was not there, it was nowhere. And he wanted to believe it was somewhere.

Further, if freedom was nowhere—and Oswald recog-nized this possibility, for he was not by any means com-pletely out of touch with reality—then he wanted at least to be on the winning side. For on the winning side he could extend his influence in opposition to the all-powerful state. He could work for the creation of an anarchist so-ciety where there would be no state to oppress humanity. Marxism here reasserts itself as a ready-made vehicle for Oswald's ambitions.

For if this did indeed turn out to be a world wherein one must either oppress or be a victim of oppression, Oswald would prefer to be an oppressor. And if he could oppress in the name of freedom, if he could oppress in the public interest, if he could oppress for the even good of all the people—then Oswald would be a tot fulfilled man. He would be having and eating his cake the same time.

I say all this with a great deal of conviction, but I m point out that it is my conjecture, based not so much words I remember having heard Oswald utter as on general subjective impression of his attitude. I must f ther point out that much of my conviction here is reaffirm not only by Oswald's writings that have been publish since I knew him, but by my own line of thinking whi was in part stimulated by my arguments with Oswald a which resulted, about one year later, in my seriously co templating joining the Communist cause. It was only up the basis of the fallacy of motivation by fear—which the same as to say motivation by law—having bee pointed out to me that I came to reconsider not only th validity of Communism, but the validity of all socialis thinking and state planning as well.

* * * *

Now that Oswald's belief in the ultimate victory o
Marxism—in either a malevolent or benevolent form, d pending very much on Oswald's future success in achievin power within the party—has been to some extent estab lished as probable, I shall return to my earlier assertio that he had what the Warren Commission calls "a extraordinary view of history."

Perhaps the words of his arch hero, Fidel Castro, in fluenced him here or perhaps Castro was merely expressin a view especially common with though not exclusive t the Marxist mind: "Men may condemn me, but histor will justify me!"

For some of us who find ourselves stranded one da without a god, there occurs a strong temptation to find substitute, since it is impossible to live without certainty we encounter one occasion after another in life when w must stake our lives on our judgement, and if our judge ment is wrong—if we take the wrong course at the wron

—we are doomed. And when a mistaken choice does not result in our destruction, we are aware that it can still leave us with a ruined life. So, as living beings, we must yearn for certainty. And if we do not care to think, do not care to remain totally rational in all our waking hours, we must counterfeit for ourselves a sense of certainty or go insane or commit suicide.

I think that Oswald's counterfeit sense of certainty issued from believing in history much as many believe in God, except that his belief rested not on anything so obviously absurd as blind faith, but on intellectual evasion—a subtler sort of faith. And I further believe that for his lost religion he found other need-fulfilling substitutes in Marxism. For example, I think he traded in original sin for historical necessity, since both take from man the responsibility of the evil and suffering in the world while at the same time paradoxically placing the burden squarely on his shoulders in an almost-unaltered form—though I have not the vaguest idea as to what need these curious doctrines could fulfill.

So in conclusion I will say that, despite his evident reservations, when Lee said in effect that his religion was Communism—he meant every word of it. And, tragically, his religion was Communism not because of any great superiority on the part of that ideology, but for the lack of a better alternative conspicuously available to him in the United States of America.

OZZIE RABBIT AND THE POWER OF LAUGHTER

"Powers also testified that Oswald was reserved and seemed to be 'somewhat the frail, little puppy in the litter.'"

—The Report of the Warren Commissi

Oswald had what he conceived to be magnific ideas for humanity, but in order to execute them needed power. And, as a private in the Marine Cor he didn't have too much of that. Later he would ca out a secret plan that might put his hands on some lev of power, but for the present he had to use what li there was at his disposal in his own defense.

As far back as he could remember, almost, Osw had been an object of ridicule. In 1952, when he mov with his mother to New York, the other children P.S. 117 teased him about his Texas accent. And in 19 upon returning to the South, he found the children his ninth-grade class laughing at him because of his quired northern accent. And, after he joined the Mar Corps in October of 1956, somewhere along the line got nicknamed "Ozzie Rabbit."

When Lee was very young, however, and first attet ing school, he was large for his age. A former scho mate of his from that period asserted in a news st that Lee, due probably to his size, was the leader of t playground. He was popular. So when he came to feel the sting of ridicule it was all the sharper by contrast.

And while it would not appear that Oswald received more such ridicule than many children who find it difficult to adjust to new surroundings, that he was especially sensitive and tended to withdraw from others his own age perhaps indicates that, due probably to his unsatisfactory home life, and to the dominance accorded him in earlier peer-group relationships because of his size, he certainly did feel the ridicule more intensely than would another. So it might have been in those early days of his life that he came to give undeserved attention to his image in the eyes of other people. For if the opinion of others could so hurt him, then it was something to which he must pay great heed. Further, as time went on it might have been that he extended this false premise to the point of creating his "extraordinary view of history." Whatever the reasons, Oswald came to have an exaggerated concern for impressing it upon others that he was not a fit object of their contempt. This very common and extremely unhealthy obsession is usually expressed in the words, "people may not like me, but they are sure as hell going to respect me." In effect, such a desire puts one entirely at the mercy of others—be they rational or irrational.

From this point on, the problem requires merely a logical extension. If I am being attacked by a man with a deadly weapon, and if I am unarmed, the logical thing for me to do is to arm myself, possibly by wresting the weapon away from the attacker. If that weapon is a gun, I become a gunman. If that weapon is laughter, I become a jester.

And the thing I remember most about Lee is that he was a comedian. His jibes were usually directed at officers. At times they were at his own expense, perhaps in hopes that he would beat others to the punch. They were always witty.

It was by his wit, even more than by his Marxism, that he chose to set himself apart. And likewise, it was his wit that got him into the most trouble—though, once again, he appeared not to perceive that such was cause.

One of his favorite games was to compare the Uni States Marine Corps to the society in 1984. "Be care comrade, with Big Brother's equipment," he would as we unloaded government-owned gear from a truc He would also compare the officers to "party membe because of the special privileges they received.

An analogous theme of his joking was Communis Once when our section chief jumped up onto a tru fender and called for us to gather around and listen t Lee exclaimed, in a thick Russian accent, "Ah! A co lective farm lecture!" He ofttimes referred to hims and others as "comrade." Even when his witticisms ha no direct relation to Communism, he often neverthele uttered them in his Russian accent.

Other of his clever remarks fall in no single categor Often they were quite biting, though, and he was un abashed about making them loud enough so that his in tended victims, even if they happened to be somewha humorless officers, could hear them.

In a group, Lee was a loud and boisterous perso making jokes or arguing the case for Communism, a both, without reserve. Yet, on a person-to-person basi he was shy and reserved. I preferred arguing with him when we were alone, because then he was more incline to listen; he didn't have a front to keep up; without a audience he would more often admit he was wrong on a point.

Whether by intention or in spite of himself, he also projected pathos. At all times, there was a certain sympathy-getting embarrassment about him. And yet I'm sure he wanted it understood that he cared for no man's concern or sympathy, though I'm not at all sure such was really the case.

Despite the barbed nature of his humor, the total effect of his antics was more that of the clown than the satirist. His humor seldom became an effective method of offense. Usually it only achieved defensive ends. The exception was when he did encounter that occasional humorless officer and then, understandably, he made the most of it. And, understandably, he ended up swabbing, raking, mowing, edging, or just picking up cigarette butts.

Another aspect of Oswald's differing nature, depending upon whether he was in a group or alone with just one other individual, was in relation to his reaction to jokes fired in his direction. He didn't seem to mind being called "Comrade Oswaldskovitch," and in a bull session or on a working party he seemed good natured about anything anyone said in fun about him. But my own experience indicated that he might have been different about such matters on a person-to-person basis. When I finally said, in reply to one of his complaints about the Corps, something to the effect of, "Well, comes the revolution you will change all that," he looked at me with an expression of pained surprise and shouted, his voice cracking, "Not you, too, Thornley!"

While Oswald became a clown in the eyes of those around him, I'm sure this is not what he intended. He meant only to defend himself from ridicule and, if possible, use the weapon of ridicule offensively as a means of exercising power.

In his own eyes he was two conflicting things. On one hand, and perhaps most deeply while certainly not most obviously, he was Oswald the oppressed. On the other hand, he was Oswald the great, the future liberator of the entire human race.

Oswald the oppressed was that faceless everyman in the ranks of the human herd whose life was thoroughly uninteresting, except for its importance as an example of injustice. Such a picture of himself would adequately explain his fascination for 1984. Its hero, too, was a victim of oppression. Winston Smith was so oppressed, in fact, that he had a difficult time expressing himself in writing—as did Oswald. Winston Smith was a hero-victim with which Lee could easily identify for many reasons.

Oswald the great was the hero that would issue fo from Oswald the oppressed. Indeed, Oswald the gr lived within the shell of Oswald the oppressed alrea
All that was necessary was that Oswald the oppres throw off his chains, at which time Oswald the gr would step out of the shell and Oswald the oppres would be destroyed forever. But so long as the s image of Oswald the oppressed remained to haunt hi Oswald could not entirely convince himself that was or had it in him to be Oswald the great.

Since his quips seldom permitted him to feel true gre ness, which Oswald came to identify with true power, could not escape knowing that he was, for the mome Oswald the oppressed. So, finally, his sense of hum must fail him.

V

THE IDLE WARRIOR EXPERIENCE

"I observed U.S. imperialism at work while serving in the Marine Corps."

—Lee Harvey Oswald

In June of 1959 I left MACS-9 for Japan. As it happened I was transferred to Oswald's old overseas outfit, MACS-1.

For the sake of all the Marine Corps stands for, I hope MACS-1 was unique. Never did I suspect there was anything like it defending the peace, and discovering such a unit could exist was enough to give me dire reservations concerning the future of the United States. Later MACS-1 was transferred on paper to the States, thus starting life over as a brand new unit. At that time, however, it was and had been for fourteen years the goddamnedest excuse for a military operation ever to give ulcers to a colonel.

It was magnificent! We arrived on the Fourth of July and dragged our seabags into a barracks littered with beer cans. A drunken marine sat weaving in a chair with a broken bottle. He was cutting his own arm with it!

That night after taps there was some noise in the barracks, and when the Duty N.C.O. called for silence he was booed down.

At that time the men of MACS-1 had two things about which to boast. First, they'd, believe it or not, just won a competition in close order drill for the entire Far Ea Second, for the past three months they'd maintained t highest venereal disease rate on the base.

The unit had been in Japan since the end of the w
Each month a new draft of perhaps a dozen men more arrived and about a dozen or so were sent hom
That way the outfit had evidently managed to maint its salty wartime personality by assimilating new me bers in small lots.

According to the testimony before the Commission
William Stuckey, who debated on radio with Oswald
New Orleans, Oswald told him that "the conclusive thi that made him decide that Marxism was the answer w his service in Japan. He said living conditions over the convinced him something was wrong with the system, a that possibly Marxism was the answer. He said it was Japan that he made up his mind to go to Russia a see for himself how a revolutionary society operates, Marxist society."

Speaking personally again, I did not find the conditio in Japan particularly bad. The Japanese people seem enjoy quite a high standard of living and I find it di ficult to imagine Oswald distressed by the economic co ditions he encountered there. I cannot climb inside another man's mind, though, and maybe Oswald s things I didn't see.

On the other hand, Lee may very well have been speal ing of conditions other than economic. Far more like he was speaking of what he called U.S. imperialism. Th subject deserves careful examination.

What Oswald called U.S. imperialism was a direct ou spring of the conditions in the barracks of MACS-1 an I hope to a lesser extent, other outfits. He was referri to the conduct of United States servicemen in their dea ings with the Japanese and other Far East peoples.

I remember especially one heated discussion we ha on the subject. I challenged him to back up Soviet a legations concerning imperialism. At this he became ver excited as he alluded to his overseas experience. "If yo said in effect, adding that my fellow marines equaled any Nazi storm trooper for brutality, given the opportunity to get away with it. His face became chalky as he discussed this matter and he appeared to be genuinely sickened; so I did not press him for details.

When I got to the Far East, though, I kept a keen eye out for U.S. imperialism and I soon saw what he had been talking about. The average serviceman not only resented being overseas when he could not see any good reason for it, he had little respect for native customs. Despite this, many men managed to behave in a civilized manner while on liberty out of deference to the fact that the Japanese after all were people and, overwhelmingly, very courteous ones at that. Some few marines, sailors, soldiers, and airmen failed to comprehend this, though. To them all foreigners were slightly sub-human. The results were sometimes tragic.

For some reason for which I don't imagine one would have to look very far, MACS-1 had a very large share of such men. The anti-Japanese sentiment was especially strong in newcomers, however. In the course of fourteen months, due to exposure, most men came to have at least a begrudging admiration for the "little Nip bastards." Also, the anti-foreign attitude was by no means restricted to Japanese. When we went on maneuvers it was applied indiscriminately to Filipinos and Chinese as well.

I'll not attempt to go into all the factors which I think created this phenomenon, but the most important one was also the most obvious: you don't give a man six months training in professional murder, followed by a half-hour lecture on the importance of good conduct on overseas liberty, and then send him out as an ambassador of good will.

It was therefore with some justice that Lee came to feel that all the Marine Corps did was "teach you to kill."

In the course of my tour I saw perhaps a half-dozen incidences of brutality on the part of Americans toward natives of the Far East. These ranged from the beating up of taxi cab drivers to the dropping, on one occasio of a garbage-filled crate from a ship onto an old ma back as a prank. I heard of dozens more, usually in t form of boasts.

I call this sort of thing juvenile delinquency. Oswa called it U.S. imperialism.

• • • •

Since my ambition had been for many years to be writer, and since going to Japan was the first thing tha had ever happened to me which I could then imagine a an interesting starting place for a book, I went there wit a definite desire and indefinite plan to write a book abou some aspect of Japan.

As after my arrival I became increasingly perturbed over the juvenile delinquency I saw and over the long range effect it was having on Japanese good will, I mor and more came to feel that the book I was to write should deal with this problem as well as other things centering around the existence of peace-time marines in Japan. And, at last, stimulated by a chance comment
I hit upon the perfect title: The Idle Warriors.

Yet I still lacked an essential ingredient for a good novel. I needed a central theme that would tie in all the many minor themes I wanted to handle.

• • • •

One afternoon in the barracks, after work, a friend o mine who had also been in MACS-9 and who had known Oswald handed me a copy of The Stars and Stripes and said, "Look!" There, on about page three, was an article about a United States Marine who after getting out of the service had gone to Russia and requested Soviet citizenship. Of course it was Oswald.

It was not until then that I really believed his commitment to Communism was serious. I was surprised. I wondered how he had come to his decision. I began to ponder the problem. And then I sat down and began work on The Idle Warriors. I had my theme.

• • • •

So I am convinced that the idle warrior experience played a key role in Lee's disillusionment with the United States. If it did, Lee was not the only victim. Many men became alcoholics while serving overseas. Sympathy with Communist ideas was unusually popular. Others found an escape in indiscriminate sexual activity. A surprising number turned to masochistic pastimes such as cutting themselves with broken bottles, biting chunks out of glasses, and arm-wrestling with live cigarette butts between their arms. Others became thieves and saboteurs just for the sake of the thrills involved. Riots were common. Insubordination was ordinary.

As explanation for this mass disillusionment I have given consideration to several possibilities. Most prominent among them seems to be purposelessness and its two companions, disgust and boredom. Few men, if any, really understood why they were over there in the first place.

Much about MACS-1 helps to explain Oswald's behavior in MACS-9. He had just returned from overseas not too long before I met him. And, as we would say in the Corps, he wasn't about to get with the new routine.

VI

HELPING OTHERS: OSWALD'S UNDERLYING MOTIVATION

"Happiness is not based on oneself. . . . Happiness is taking part in the struggle, where there is no borderline between one's own personal world, and the world in general."

—Lee Harvey Oswald

As has been by this time well established, Oswald was a humanitarian. But, like most humanitarians, he could not be satisfied by giving of his own to charity. He wanted his neighbor to be a humanitarian as well, or to put his wealth at Oswald's disposal so Oswald could increase his own effectiveness on behalf of others. What he really wanted, in fact, was to have the whole wealth of the entire world at his disposal, so he could distribute it along what were in his opinion just lines. Beyond this, no humanitarian can wish for anything.

There was no limit to the power Oswald knew he would need to fulfill his unselfishness. So his primary function had to become "taking part in the struggle." And the struggle in politics is always for power. The kind of morality he accepted forced him to seek power.

How does a recently discharged private from a poor family get power? That was his problem. It is not a prob-could dream up the idea of going to the Soviet Union is a tribute to his ingenuity.

I'm sure he felt that if his Communism was ardent enough to cause him to defect, and if he could give the Soviets a propaganda edge by means of his defection, and if perhaps he could provide them with intelligence about the operations of a Marine Air Control Squadron —the Soviets would doubtlessly welcome him into their party. His disappointment at the first rebuff he received by a government official was enough to drive him to attempt suicide.

And later, as it became clear to him that no amount of living in the Soviet Union was going to get him anywhere near to living inside the Kremlin, he decided to return to the United States where, if he couldn't run for President, he could at least build the beginnings of power through political activity of various kinds.

If Oswald's plans were unrealistic, his evaluations of the results they bore were not entirely so. After all, he was not entirely psychotic—and had he been, he probably would have been far more obvious and far less dangerous. He could not pretend to himself that he was successful in achieving anything when the evidence against it, combined with his wife's prosaic nagging, made simply an overwhelming case to the contrary.

The closest he came was in his desperate attempt on the life of General Walker in April of 1963. In this assassination attempt there is evidence that he was a good deal more cautious than in the Kennedy murder. He, for example, hid the rifle for several days after using it. Also, he told his wife he'd been planning the shooting for two months.

Two weeks after the Walker attempt, his wife reports that Oswald said he was going to shoot Nixon. In light of the fact that Nixon was not in Dallas at that time and had no plans to be there in the near future, it is probable that either he or she was mistaken—and that the person referred to was Vice President Johnson. According to her testimony, Marina Oswald thwarted this plan.

It is apparent that Oswald by now was well into the state of frantic despair. His political activity seemed ready to take any available form, no matter how dangerous or how petty. Next it was the Fair-Play-For-Cuba agitation in New Orleans. And then he tried defection again. He went to the Cuban embassy in Mexico City and his path was blocked, but by now he had come to express his disappointment in anger rather than depression. He stomped out and slammed the door. There were other ways open. And sooner or later, he figured, he'd hit the jackpot—or lose everything. His psychology had become that of a habitual gambler—in essence: don't think, just keep trying; you're bound to hit it someday.

His tactics were often desperate ones, involving long odds, but without power he could not live—for to live he must have self-esteem, and to have self-esteem he must have respect in the eyes of others, as many others as possible, somewhere—and it was to gain that respect that he was a humanitarian in the first place.

It is safe to say that Oswald had long come to value the opinion of others on an equal or superior level to life itself. This is evidenced in his diary entry of 21 October 1959, where he describes his own attempt at suicide step by step, presumably as he goes along!

* * * *

Gradually, from his return to the United States on, Oswald begins to lose his perspective. He forgets what reasoning led him to where he now stands. He only knows that he must have power or death. His humanitarianism is now in the background as something to be brought forth as moral justification when needed. Everything else is forgotten in his concentration on "the struggle." And there is no longer, for Oswald, any borderline between his personal world and the world in general. He has become totally selfless in this respect. Even the power is not for him. It is to benefit others. If Oswald has any remnant of selfish desire left in him by the end, it is for his own death.

* * * *

I often wonder how Lee Oswald would have reacted had he lived to be tried and convicted. Assuming (as I do) that he was the assassin, I imagine that before his execution he would have called a press conference and, professing innocence in spite of everything, would have made an emotional speech prophesying doom and destruction for Western society. His reaction would not have been much different from that of Christ on the way to Golgotha, saying, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children." Of course, on a connotative level, Oswald would have identified himself with Christ, translating this emotion into an identification with Sacco and Vanzetti or with the Rosenbergs on a conscious level.

If he could not be Oswald the great through power, he would be Oswald the great by playing the role of Oswald the oppressed with such an intensity that it would become interesting by virtue of his becoming a victim of martyrdom, that short cut to respect which, more than patriotism, is the scoundrel's last refuge.

* * * *

By 22 November 1963, Oswald is fully comparable to a vehicle without a driver. His brakes, the fear of death, will not be used—for under the pressure of his blind drive for either power or martyrdom he has rationalized away or blocked out all that might hinder him. After the act, he will attempt to get a lawyer—should he live so long. He expects to die fighting, though, for there is a pessimistic streak in Oswald the oppressed.

* * * *

Some may wonder in whose eyes Oswald thought he would gain respect by assassinating the President of the United States. I do not know the answer to this. I do not know whether Lee expected most to impress Fidel Castro or the Trotskyite splinter group of the Communist camp or the Red Chinese people or future generations. In this connection it should be remembered though that he apparently took the anti-Kennedy propaganda of both Castro and the Trotskyites seriously, that he was apparently convinced of the inevitability of at least a temporary Communist world victory, and that he was probably out to gain the admiration of as many people as possible. It should be further pointed out that Kennedy's assassination was in fact widely celebrated in Red China. Where could Oswald have found a larger audience?

• • • •

Others may want to ask how different was Oswald from the kind man who actually does become a man of power—a Caesar, Napoleon, or Hitler. Again, I cannot say. Was Oswald less in touch with reality than they? Or was he just at the wrong place at the wrong time? Basically, I think the psychology of all power seekers is similar.

• • • •

In these foregoing chapters, I have endeavored to set forth a hypothesis which would both cover all the known facts and yet explain what thinking habits could have led a "well-meaning", non-violent man to self destruction and murder. The stage is now set, in Oswald's mind, for the ultimate act. Later, basing my conclusions on the aforegoing hypothesis, I'll attempt to determine to some extent what Oswald was thinking as he prepared to strike.

LEE OSWALD AND JOHNNY SHELLBURN

"Lee Harvey Oswald was born in October of 1939 in New Orleans, Louisiana. He was the son of an insurance salesman whose early death left Lee with a fair mean streak of independence brought on by neglect. After Lee's entry into the United States Marine Corps at 17, his streak of independence was strengthened by exotic journeys to Japan and the Philippines and scores of odd islands in the Pacific. Immediately after serving out his three years in the Marine Corps, he abandoned his American life to seek a new life in the U.S.S.R."

—Rewritten from the notes of
Lee Harvey Oswald

The Idle Warriors centers around the gradual moral disintegration of a marine who, at last, defects to Russia. In earlier drafts, certain sections were based almost totally on Oswald. As a matter of fact, originally, my main character's name was Lee—Lee Shellburn. Later I tended as a biography of Oswald. To the extent that I was inept as a writer of fiction, the earliest existing draft tends to reflect Lee's character in places.

After getting out of the Corps, I went to live in the New Orleans French Quarter and, working part time, I there finished a typewritten draft suitable for submission to publishers.

After two rejections, I took a second look at the manuscript and decided it needed more work. I put it away to "incubate" and turned to other things.

In June of 1962 I received a newspaper clipping from my parents, who knew of my interest in Oswald. It was headed, "Ex-Marine Loses Love For Russia," and it concerned Lee's decision to return to Texas. Once again, I was surprised. It seemed unlike Oswald to ever admit he was wrong.

At that time I thought seriously about going to see him before starting the rewrite. He could provide valuable information. I wrote home, "in the fall, I'd like to go to Fort Worth for a week and talk to Oswald. There are many technical details on the psychology of Communism and how one goes about going to Russia that I need for the conclusion."

After considering the time involved, the expense, and that my detailed outline for the new draft of the book had widely departed from any attempt at even a rough sketch of Oswald, per se, I decided against the venture.

• • • •

In April of 1963 I began rewriting. During the summer that followed I did some traveling, working as a waiter to keep alive. In September I returned to New Orleans not long after Oswald's Fair-Play-for-Cuba affair had hit the papers. Oswald was still in town at this time. He was even reputedly stopping in now and then at the bar where I hung out. We may have passed on the streets but, if so, we didn't recognize each other. Only after the assassination did I learn that Oswald had been

In November I was working in a French Quarter restaurant as a waiter. One Friday afternoon during the lunch hour the rumor broke that President Kennedy had been shot. Shortly afterwards I heard that he was dead.

It was a quiet afternoon. With the city in shock, there was no business. I sat with the other employees, having coffee. None of us had a radio.

Finally another waiter came in for night duty with some news: they'd captured a suspect.

"What is his name?" someone wanted to know.

The waiter couldn't remember.

"Well," said someone, "tell us something about him."

"He's a former marine. Supposed to have spent some time in Russia. He . . ."

It was like a guessing game for me. And I guessed the answer on the first try.

• • • •

From the moment I first heard of his arrest until after he was gunned down by Ruby, I did not believe Oswald could be guilty. But as the facts came in, as the evidence piled up, I decided there must have been more violence in him than I thought.

Still, let me tell you, it is a shock to see a picture on the front page of an evening newspaper of a person you once knew being shot in the belly.

I didn't see the Oswald slaying on television. I'm glad I missed it. Upon looking, though, at a sequence of photos that included a snap of Lee just before he was killed—I noticed that same defiant little grin, perhaps a sinister smile, which hid such a complexity of pain and confusion.

THE MOOD OF THE MAN

"His difficulty in relating to other people and his general dissatisfaction with the world around him continued while he was in the Marine Corps."

—The Report of the Warren Commissio

In the thirteenth chapter of the old draft, John Shellburn most clearly resembles Oswald in general at tude. The situation and the incident involved are bas upon my own experience when I was in the process o returning to the States for temporary additional duty a August or September of 1959. This chapter, "Here W Come," was probably first written in December of th year, about a month after Oswald's defection and it wa then inspired by earlier records from my own day-to day notes. For Shellburn's reactions I was here drawin entirely upon Oswald's personality. The final draft of th particular piece was written in 1961.

Note particularly Shellburn's feelings toward both th sergeants. He feels in each case that he has made a fa effort to reason with the man in question but, as is typ cal, he finds him to be oblivious to criticism—and there fore adopts a more fitting attitude of lofty contempt.

Also important in my opinion is Shellburn's disgust a his own blundering and his inclination to become peevish resigned to it—as if it, too, were something entirely out of his control.

A less significant but equally valid characteristic in relation to a portrayal of Oswald is Shellburn's expressed reluctance about leaving Japan. According to the Powers testimony, Oswald didn't care if he ever returned to the States or not.

(13.) Here We Come

Johnny stood in front of the mirror in the men's room. Back in the old days, a couple of weeks ago, he used to swear when he discovered a spot on his uniform or a dirty sock in his shaving kit—some clod's idea of a joke. Now he just mumbled, "Pretty typical," and waited for the next undersized calamity.

His garrison cap fell into the washbowl next. He was rather happy about it—after all, it could have been the commode. He placed it back on his head and walked out to the waiting room.

"Lance Corporal John R. Shellburn, report to the information desk," the loud-speaker said.

"Pretty typical," he thought. What now?

"Here's your orders, soldier," said the smart-ass Air Force sergeant at the window.

"Marine," Johnny corrected.

"You won't be much of anything unless you hang on to those orders." The sergeant turned his back and went to work on something else.

How great it would be not to be much of anything again! No silly uniforms to get spots on them, he dreamed, and no orders to worry about losing!

A staff sergeant came walking toward him, a Marine staff sergeant. "How's it going Corporal."

"Pretty typical, Sarg. You?"

"Fine. I understand our flight leaves in thirty minutes."

"Good. All these airman-type doggies are driving me nuts."

"It'll be good to get out of this rice-eatin' hole for awhile."

"Well if Stateside prices are still high, and if Stateside women still dress like men, I think I'll be real happy I'm only leaving this rice-eatin' hole for awhile."

"You'll know soon enough."

"How long does it take for one of those civilian jobs to fly over the Pacific?"

"About thirty hours or so."

"San Francisco, here we come!"

"Then Washington."

"Yep, then Washington. You ever pull liberty in D. C. Sarg?"

"Oh, God!" the sergeant said, rolling his eyes, "Did I!"

"I hear it's quite the town."

"It is The Town, period."

"It sounds almost as good as Yokohama."

"Lad, let me set you straight. There are more women in Washington than you can shake your stick at. Government secretaries and such all over town, barracks full of them."

"I'll believe it when we get there so I can see it."

The loud-speaker said, "Flight 73 for San Francisco, via Wake Island, leaving in fifteen minutes."

"That's us," the staff sergeant said. "Got all your gear checked in?"

"Come with me." The sergeant pulled a bottle out of his shaving kit and headed for the men's room.

In the men's room Johnny helped him transfer the contents of the fifth into a great number of shaving lotion bottles.

"Nothing like plenty of in-flight refueling with V. O. flying fuel." The sergeant chuckled to himself as Johnny poured the whiskey through the funnel.

"Hey, that sure looks good." It was the Air Force sergeant from the information desk. "Mind if I have a swig?"

"Get lost, wing wiper!" Johnny kept pouring.

"Hey, Corporal, who do you think—"

"Shut up, Sarg," said the Marine staff sergeant. "Just the first time the staff sergeant had called him by name. It was typical of something, something vague—but still typical.

There was no loud-speaker in the men's room and they lost track of the time. Some Marine stuck his head in the door and yelled, "Anybody here for flight 73?"

"Right here," said the staff sergeant as he gathered up the bottles and dumped them into his bulky shaving kit.

"Well get goin'. Hell, they ain't gonna wait!"

"Here we come!"

Johnny followed the sergeant through the terminal and out to the plane. They charged up the gangway.

"Got your ticket?"

"Yep, Sarg, got my ticket; got my orders; got a coffee stain on my uniform."

"What?"

"Nothing."

The stewardess smiled like a well-trained robot.

The sergeant got in his seat and tried to flirt with a young mother across the aisle.

Johnny fastened his safety belt.

"Got your safety belt fastened, Corporal?"

"Belt fastened, orders in hand, and spot on uniform—situation normal."

"What?"

"Nothing."

"What happened to your hat? It looks like you dropped it in the commode."

"I wish I had; I would have flushed it down." Johnny looked out the window at the runway lights. "You know, Sarg, this is all pretty typical of something—I don't know what."

"What are you talking about?"

"Nothing, Sarg. Not a goddamned thing!" It was lucky the engines were revving up; it gave Johnny an excuse to yell.

IX

TO PRAISE THE REVOLUTION AND PASS THE WORD

"I will not say your grandchildren will live under communism; look for yourself at history; look at a world map!"

—Lee Harvey Oswald

Were I to sit down now and try to offer an example of Oswald's methods of argument on behalf of Marxism, I could do no better than the seventeenth chapter to the old draft, written from imagination and memory in 1961 and dropped from subsequent drafts, never to be rewritten again. The only difference is that Oswald, unlike Shellburn, would probably have confronted a group with his protestations instead of an individual—though he could, perhaps, have done just what is here described with a man like Hoolahan.

An important thing to notice in "Dune and Headland" is Shellburn's effect on Hoolahan—for at his best, Oswald could be a convincing advocate. As to whether or not Oswald ever read the works of Kipling, I am not an authority. He is reported to have been seen reading Whitman, though, and what the world considers great literature I found to be well within his range of interests.

Pat Hoolahan saw that the Philippine jungle resembled green fire in the morning sun. Among the domes explosions cracked to fullness under the heat of his glance. Fountains of volcanic verdure rocketed up, halting against the deep sky. An emerald holocaust was spread along the ridge and out across the valley. It was a vast, damp conflagration. It was a foresty jungle at morning's full heat. It was a scene of intense panic and serene reality.

The jeep was pulled up at the road's side. Pat was the driver and Johnny Shellburn was the only passenger.

"Will you look at that, Johnny? Will you look at all those shades of green!"

Johnny closed his book of Kipling's poems and surveyed the land from the side of the road clear down to the sea.

"Damned beautiful."

"It'd be a great day to go fishing."

When they arrived at the radar site, Pat felt a little guilty about stopping to admire the country. The gunny and the others were hard at work erecting the antenna. Pat wheeled the jeep up behind the water wagon and he and Johnny jumped out.

"What'd the old man say?" asked the gunny.

"He said to keep working till noon chow. Then he'll send up Gunny Baxter and the relief crew."

"Fine. Hoolahan, you and Shellburn start unloading that last truck."

"Will do, Gunny Masters."

"Pat," Johnny said when they got out of the gunny's hearing, "when the hell are you going to learn?"

"Learn what?"

"To quit jumping like a damn puppet every time some NCO tells you to do something. 'Will do, Gunny Masters,' " he mimicked.

"Just knock it off, Shellburn. Okay?"

"Okay. Slave away if you want." Johnny walked over to the shady side of the loaded truck and sat down. He opened his book of Kipling.

"Hey! Aren't you gonna help me unload?"

"But the gunny—"

"The gunny sucks wind just like the rest of the Marine Corps. Sit down and relax. Here, listen a minute."

Johnny read from the book:

Far-called, our navies melt away;
On dune and headland sinks the fire
Lo, all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
Judge of the Nations, spare us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

"So what's it supposed to mean?"

"Kipling wrote this back in the old Empire days of England. It was a prediction of what might, and did, come of the British Empire. The same thing's going to happen to America."

"How do you figure?" Hoolahan sat down in the shade.

"Well, hell. Look around you! Look over there at Gunny Masters. Tell me he isn't an exact replica of some old British NCO in India."

Pat looked. The gunny was wearing a Jungle Jim helmet, a handle bar mustache, a red rag around his neck, and no shirt. His face was ruddy from the sun. He was frowning and walking toward the truck. "By God, you're right!"

"Hey, you two, I thought I told you to unload this truck."

"We were just taking a short break, Gunny."

"You'll take a short break in the neck if you don't get that damn truck unloaded by chow time."

"Yeah." Shellburn climbed up onto the truck; Pat followed.

"I want to have a little talk with you, Shellburn. Report to me when you're through here."

That afternoon Pat and Johnny sat in their quarters. Pat cleaned the dried mud from his boots and Johnny thumbed lazily through his Kipling book, talking.

"So the gunny says, 'Shellburn, you've been getting a bit too salty lately. When a senior NCO says for you to do something, you're to say yes, not yeah.'

"I said, 'Gunny, let me tell you something: One of these days this whole fuckin' Corps of yours is gonna fall right down on your head. When I see the inefficient way you so-called leaders are running things, I feel like joining the Russians.' "

"Christ! One of these days you'll open your mouth all the way into the brig, you silly fool."

"You think I sweat the brig? Hell, I'll go to the brig any day! There's not a goddamned thing these people can do to me that I sweat."

"What finally happened?"

"Oh, the gunny walked off muttering something about getting my liberty card taken away if I didn't start acting like a Marine. Those lifers are all alike. They think you're a slob if you're man enough to say what you think."

There were footsteps coming along the wooden walk outside the hut. It was the gunny, standing in the door now. "Say, I know you men are supposed to get the afternoon off; but we're short one man. I need a volunteer."

Hoolahan looked at Johnny. Johnny opened his book and pretended to be deeply engrossed.

"Be right with you, Gunny Masters."

"Thanks, Hoolahan."

Pat stepped into the afternoon heat swearing quietly.

REACTIONS UNDER PANIC

"'Oswald got on. He looks like a maniac. His sleeve was out here . . . His shirt was undone.'"

—The Report of the Warren Commission

The twenty-ninth chapter is another one in which Shellburn bears a startling resemblance to Oswald. "Yankee Fever" was written early in 1962 before the manuscript was submitted for its first clean typing. It was meant as a transitional piece to provide a smoother preparation for Shellburn's defection in the final, thirtieth chapter. I was never entirely satisfied with it, however, because it was purely conjecture as to what someone like Oswald might have done under the pressure of fear. In view of his movements in Dallas between 12:33 and 1:50 p.m. on 22 November 1963 it appears that my guess was pretty accurate. (I attribute this to luck, as I was merely striving for drama.)

Another problem dealt with briefly in this tiny chapter is the possible effect of Japanese anti-Americanism on the mind of a potential defector. There is in Japan a certain fanaticism about political action, both right and left, that is almost totally absent in the West. It is not to be confused at all with the avid enthusiasm of America's so-called "extremists." It is not just enthusiasm; it is and very often explodes into violence and, occasionally, ends in an assassination. I think it is very possible that Oswald picked up a touch of this "yankee fever" when he was there.

(29.) Yankee Fever

When Johnny Shellburn stood on the curb, hypnotized by bright lanterns swinging overhead—and Japanese, American, and Soviet flags on the lampposts—he told himself he came to see people standing up for their rights. He was humming America, The Beautiful.

Now he could hear the drum of the marchers. There, down Ginza Street, came the first group. He thought of the Buddhist chant: Nani ginko, nani ginko. . . . The toneless repetition and the basic rhythm were similar, but the demonstrators were chanting something different.

The faces were passing: green, red, and everything but golden faces in the tinted lantern light.

Nani ginko, nani ginko, nani ginko . . .

Signs in Japanese and English: Yankee Go Home; Go Home—U-2; Peace!; Keep Out of Japan; Gentlemens' Agreement—Remember?

Nani ginko, nani ginko, nani ginko. . . .

He got a look of admiration in his eyes.

"Yankee go home!"

"Diajobi!" he answered, smiling.

"Nani ginko, nani ginko, nani ginko. . . .

If the MP's caught him, that would be the end. He told himself the MP's must not catch him. Ginza Street was, tonight, off-limits. He decided to leave.

"Hey, Mac! You in the service?" MP's, two of them, stood behind him.

"Yes." He didn't know how he'd explain it; he hadn't meant to come to the demonstration. He hadn't even been thinking about it.

"You're under arrest."

"Hey!"

"Halt! Halt!"

He plunged into the crowd as into an ocean surf.

Around the corner! Down the narrow alley! They're coming! Quick, to the right! He ran along the side of a building.

In back was a high, chain-link fence; it divided two trucking docks; it was as high as the building.

He jumped against the fence, curling his fingers around the steel. The pointed toes of his shoes barely fit into the links, and most of the weight hung on his fingers. He was breathing through his teeth in short, frantic gasps. He hauled himself over the edge of the building's top and fell to the roof.

Between breaths he heard nothing but the chant of the demonstrators. There was no more rattling of the fence. He'd lost them,

He laughed a little.

Nani ginko, nani ginko, nani ginko. . . .

"Blundering dolts! Whole country full of incompetents! Defenders of the status quo! Defenders of the status quo, your time has come!"

Nani ginko, nani ginko, nani ginko. . . .

His breath regained, he stood up and looked at the bell-bright stars.

Nani ginko, nani ginko, nani ginko. . . .

"But God is on your side, Jimmy Brown, Henry Hamilton, Pat Hoolahan. Sons of Superstition Row! Sons of Superstition Row, your days are numbered!"

Born twenty-five years ago in Utah, B. A. Simco enlisted in the Marine Corps in November, 1958. Upon completion of military schools in Florida and Mississippi, he was assigned to the 3rd Marine Aircraft Wing near Santa Ana, California, where he met Thornley and Oswald. In June, 1959, he rotated to the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing, then in Japan, and served in the Far East until shortly before his discharge in October, 1960.

Oswald and Thornley

by B. A. Simco

I had just graduated from a military school in Mississippi when I joined Marine Air Control Squadron 9, or MACS-9, in June of 1957. It wasn't until almost two years later that Lee Harvey Oswald and Kerry Thornley entered the squadron. Oswald checked in from a returning overseas draft, and Thornley transferred to MACS-9 from MACS-4, a sister unit located on the same base.

The squadron was essentially the same when Oswald, and later Thornley, arrived as when I arrived; most likely their impressions of MACS-9 were similar to my own. I was initially impressed by the drabness, although this characteristic is commonly shared by most military installations. MACS-9 was a small organization and was located apart from the main sphere of base activities. At midday the squadron area had a sleepy quality about it. Except for the ever-present growl of generators and the occasional bark of the Sergeant of the Guard over the loudspeaker, MACS-9 was quiet, as befitted the rural area in which it was located.

Being a relatively small unit, in size and number, we were afforded certain advantages ordinarily unavailable to junior enlisted men. Specifically, this concerned our living quarters. We were billeted in pale yellow metal huts lined in neat, short rows. Each hut was divided in half, with three rooms in each half. Normally, two men were assigned to each room, and for the first time in the service most of us experienced relative privacy. Our quarters, I have been told, were originally used as temporary housing facilities for married enlisted men and their families, but after considerable usage they were condemned as unfit for human occupancy. Despite their squat, ugly appearance and their condemned status, most of us would not have voluntarily chosen to change them for the usual impersonal barracks, devoid of privacy.

The atmosphere in MACS-9 was such that talk flowed freely and [illegible] found himself generally familiar with most came acquainted with Thornley I recognized him as the corporal who always carried a book with him. In turn, Thornley once said to me that before he knew me he always thought of Simco as the one who always had shiny boots. It was in such ways that general impressions were made.

Thornley and I found that we were scheduled to be sent to Japan on the same draft. Thornley, possessing a thirst for knowledge, was quick to jump at a chance to debate with anyone and usually on any subject. With some he gained a reputation of being argumentative, but to most he was thought of as a worthy opponent in any serious discussion. He was also noted for his keen sense of humor, one which he displayed often.

Lee Oswald joined the squadron shortly before Thornley transferred in. Oswald was a part of a rather large group of enlisted men who returned from a fourteen-month tour of duty in Japan. There is no specific incident, as such, that I recall in first becoming aware of Oswald's presence. Oswald, of average, nondescript size and weight, just seemed to blend into the new transferees, and into the squadron. He impressed me as being an inoffensive, quiet person; at that time I was not aware of his activities in Japan. I did note, however, that Oswald was a private when he came to MACS-9; since almost no one who returned from an overseas tour of duty had less than two years in the Corps, it seemed unusual that Oswald should still be a private. Many marines suffer a reduction in rank as the result of a violation of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, and I had heard that there was more than ample temptation and opportunity to run afoul of [illegible] MJ in Japan.

[illegible] the junior enlisted personnel in MACS-9 had no over[illegible]hind them, and when the returning draft transferred [illegible] were impressed by their "saltiness" and cocky at[illegible]s, at one time or another, were held in rapt at[illegible]e-unheard-of exploits.

[illegible] that Oswald was studying the Russian lan[illegible] related that he had become interested in [illegible] Without really being conscious of it, I [illegible] did a great deal of reading. He [illegible]s. Since he did speak Russian it [illegible] a phrase or two, almost al[illegible]mber that on one occasion [illegible]s a house," just in case [illegible] house" was in Russian. [illegible] were in the recrea[illegible]nad not been secured [illegible]ned to a working party [illegible]e would be on hand in [illegible]uld filter down through the [illegible]ght his tape recorder into the which the brass of the Marine Corps usually wound up as the butt of a joke. Oswald was there at the time. He took the microphone and asked if he could practice a little Russian. All of us were interested as to just how fluent his Russian was and readily agreed. For a few moments Lee spoke in a very emphatic manner, gesticulating as he talked, and in a way that one might assume when speaking to a large crowd. Of course none of us knew how proficient Oswald was, but he enunciated carefully and sounded as if he knew what he was talking about. Although I remember him uttering phrases in Russian at other times, I never again heard him speak to the extent that he did on this day. I was impressed.

Most of what was said and done by junior enlisted men was taken lightly by officers and sergeants. Each unit had almost every character type, but humor was a feature that all of us shared. We joked with ourselves and about ourselves, and often the most serious and solemn functions took on a comedic aspect. Since we were a part of a military, regimentated society, we referred to ourselves as the backbone of the Corps, and positioned ourselves somewhere in the vicinity of the last vertabrae.

Therefore, no one thought any less of Oswald when he would utter a "good morning, comrade," in ranks during muster. Often Oswald and other marines would speak to each other in English with thick Russian accents when referring to such things as that our leaders were due for a "collectivist labor meeting," or referring to our formations as part of the "party function." Since Oswald was known to have an interest in the Russian language and Marxism, one would automatically joke about the Communist implication, but this was done with a tongue-in-cheek attitude. Even though Oswald was seriously engaged in the study of the Russian language and the philosophy of Marxism, I did not consider him to be a subversive, a Communist, or even a Communist sympathizer, and at that time I do not think that Thornley thought of him in this manner either.

Oswald appeared to be well versed on foreign affairs and often spoke of the world situation. I didn't question his motives for his preoccupation with the Soviet Union, the Russian language, or Marxism. At the time I thought this was probably a diversion, since most of us had our special interests which we would verbally explore in bull sessions. Yet few marines spent their off-duty hours in such an intellectual pursuit as Oswald apparently did.

I was not surprised when I learned that Oswald subscribed to a Russian newspaper. This information was related by a fellow marine, who said that a lieutenant had discovered a Russian newspaper that was addressed to Oswald, and the lieutenant was reportedly quite upset and wanted to know why Oswald should be [illegible] When informed of this I was but thought his subscription to the newspaper was designed to antagonize his superiors, particularly people such as the lieutenant, who was not particularly popular.

I was aware that Oswald was from the state of Texas, but he spoke of his family, schools, or other personal matters, of his age and time in the Corps, I didn't think he had education beyond high school. Lee held himself aloof usual off-duty activities of the enlisted personnel. OSWALD: Graphic

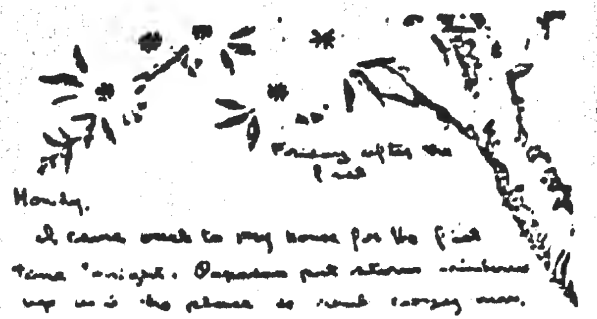
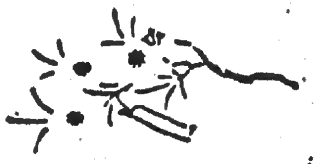
"Lee was moved by what people usually call the purest humanitarian sentiments. Oswald was a philanthropist."



Monday.

I came back to my home for the first time tonight. Oswald put above mentioned up on the phone as usual carrying name. Letter used to be able to tell by the word written upon.

I was reading in the paper the other day about an old MACS-9 friend of mine - Lee Oswald. He worked for the U.S. Embassy in Moscow the other day and turned in his passport; he plans to take out Russian citizenship papers! He used to be in MACS-1 and we learned Russian over here, in MACS-9 he used to instruct in Russian. He quit out of the Corps about after 2 hitch. P. S. years - how he got to Russia am in no man knows.



"Lee said in effect that his religion was Communism—he meant every word of it. And, tragically, his religion was Communism not because of any great superiority on the part of that ideology, but for a lack of a better alternative conspicuously available to him in the United

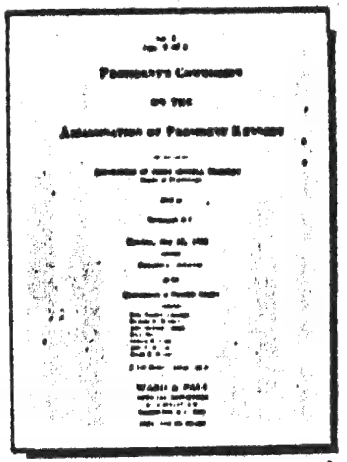
"It was stimulated by my arguments with Oswald and resulted, about one year later, in my seriously contemplating joining the Communist cause."

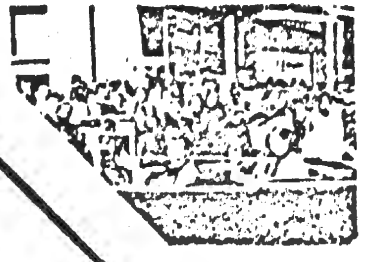


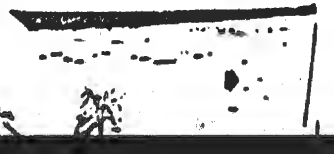
"For the sake of all the Marine Corps stands for, I hope MAC-1 was unique. Never did I suspect there was anything like it defending the peace, and discovering such a unit could exist was enough to give me dire reservations concerning the future of the United States."

" 'He recalled the advice of his Marine Corps rifle coach. Aim in at six o'clock—and squ-e-e-e-ze the trigger. Yes, this time he must aim low. That's why he had missed Walker. Too high. Damn it.

He eased the weight of his body forward to the window, keeping the weapon just below the sill behind the boxes. It was an uncomfortable position, but it was only temporary.

Motorcycles were passing by. A car was behind them. No, it wasn't the President. More motorcycles had rounded the corner of Main and Houston, followed by another car—they turned onto Elm and roared past the Depository.' "





" 'The din grew deafening as the President's car came into view on Houston.

Lee's heart quickened. No, he decided, he was not going to shoot John F. Kennedy. Walker was different. Walker was a fascist madman. Kennedy was only a symbol.

He zeroed in above the branches and fired again as the President, clutching his throat and falling to the side, came into view.

He waited to feel the happiness all men of all ages and all cultures said could be found—beyond the self.' "

"When news of Oswald first began to appear, I wondered how any man could have changed so thoroughly in a few short years. A national news magazine called him a psychopath, a neurotic, a schizoid, a paranoid, and a probable homosexual—all in the same, single column of print! Suddenly I was reading that he was constantly fighting with his fellow Marines and that in the service he displayed a conspicuous zest for physical violence. I observed no such traits. Frankly, I agree that the man was sick, but I further think his sickness was, in the long run, self induced in the manner previously outlined . . ."

Over the past decade, in addition to serving as editor-in-chief of a midwest publishing complex, Paul G. Neimark has written over 750 nationally and internationally published articles ranging from Reader's Digest popular-inspirational pieces on the Olympic games to iconoclastic intellectual-abstract critiques on "Contra-antidisestablishmentarianism: The Philosophical Schizophrenia of Barry Goldwater." Though he is only 30, a number of Neimark's pieces are required school textbook reading, and have been anthologized with those of Mark Twain and Abraham Lincoln.

The Meaning of What We Felt

Eulogy to John F. Kennedy

by Paul Neimark

Simply seeing the aliveness of his being said to you that being alive is a singular gift; only hearing the music of his spirit told you that Man's spirit should be magnificent.

That is why the spirit of Man staggered and a planet gasped when he slumped down and stopped breathing that day in Dallas.

How he died was tragedy personified because of how he lived, because he did live,
all his minutes,
in a world secretly hungering for life while it simultaneously contemplates its suicide.

His politic was but his paraphernalia;
his concentrating eyes and hatless head, volatile walk and unyielding youth were the one who died and cannot be replaced.
For the ineluctable force inside him was the Universal Force: the inevitable thrust toward matter, toward motion, toward life, toward mind.

The unassailable good within him was the intrinsic Good in Existence without which there is no other good:
Burning starmass within next-to-infinite emptiness, cooling whirling gas-sphere in dawntinged space, suddenspark-life from liquid earth, shoestranded watercreature struggling for new breath, single cave-ape moving closer to flames from which all else had fled.

Is that melodramatic?
Life is melodramatic.
To uncritically abide the explicit man because of his implicit radiance could be a major mistake of mind—yet to hide from that unadulterated glow because of a darkness inside ourselves would be an unconscionable compromise of character.

Nor was it the so-characteristic convertible in which he rode that caused his death; century upon century of false concepts about Man, repeated and compounded, as even he

But if his ideas were a product of his time, his style was for all time;
if he did not free the minds of men, he moved the real soul of Man to an extraordinary reaffirmation of its perfection.

In the most profound manner, he was our leader.

It is for us, then, to discover the lyric of Life to parallel its unmatchable melody, and to build a world of beauty devoid of beautiful martyrs.

THE MOOD OF THE PLACE

"Powers believed that when Oswald arrived in Japan he acquired a girl friend, 'finally attaining male status in his own eyes.' That apparently caused Oswald to become more self-confident, aggressive and even somewhat pugnacious, although Powers 'wouldn't say that this guy is a troublemaker.' "

—The Report of the Warren Commission

Other chapters from The Idle Warriors might be helpful to those interested in the environment of Oswald's overseas tour. Two of them are therefore excerpted here. Much of the writing is based upon observation, some, as with all fiction, imaginative interpolation. But all of it, I think, throws light upon our object.

(25.) Lost Our Dough

. . . They walked on down into the well-illuminated, carnival depths of Olongapo. Girls stood in the doors of the night clups tempting them.

Shellburn said to Kidd, "At last, Bob, I've developed a philosophy of life. I call it Hindic Humanism. It's a cross between Marxism and Vedanta."

"Groucho Marx or Communism?" Willy asked. It was the first time in his life he had attempted to enter a philosophical conversation; he was ignored.

He decided to quit listening to them and just watch their facial expressions. When Johnny talked, he grew excited. As he looked at you, his eyes were parallel and reflected the pale blue of some hazy, distant sky in back of you. Bob Kidd just listened and asked questions, anymore, keeping his face almost expressionless. When you asked him point blank, he gave his opinion in a loud voice and with a lot of arm waving—but, judging by his eyes, he didn't care whether you heard him or not. It's pretty funny, Willy thought. Neither one of them have a thing to say; they both just like the sound of their own voices.

Willy's attention wandered to his surroundings, Olongapo—the miniature Sodom and Gomorrah of the north end of the South Seas—where you could buy anything from murder to narcotics and rent women by the hour, day, or month.

Look at those damn-fool moths, he directed himself, banging against that neon sign. Big bastards! Must have a wing span of four inches each. I wonder why they don't wise up.

Johnny's excited voice broke up his thoughts. "That's just it, Bob, you gotta be detached as hell. You can't give a damn about life; otherwise it's got you by the balls. You have to view everything in its proper perspective."

"I don't know who said this, but it's very true: 'He who goes through life avoiding pain only succeeds in avoiding pleasure.' "

"Maybe it's worth it."

"Do you really think that?"

"Of course."

"Do you really think that?" Bob Kidd repeated.

"Yes."

"Do you really think that?"

"Well, I feel—"

"Save your feelings for your girl friends. Do you think that?"

"Man," Willy moaned, "Put on a new record. I'll see you guys. I'm gonna go get loaded."

(28.) July in Japan

Johnny Shellburn wrote a letter, mailed it, took a hot shower, skipped shaving, put on his dress shoes, put on his black trousers and a red shirt, threw his grey coat over his shoulder, went to the Duty NCO's room and checked out his liberty card, walked over to the Enlisted Club and bought ten bucks worth of yen, and climbed into a cab to get taxied to Yamato Station.

Today he needed sex and he didn't feel like messing around.

He sat down in the Yokohama-bound train and relaxed. He had been to New York and had ridden the subways. It struck him now how much like the subways these Japanese trains were. The design was nearly identical. One difference: these three-car electric trains sped over the open fields.

The sun had just risen, but the sky was overcast. The farm houses—oriental lanterns during the nights—were well blended among the trees now.

He put his jacket on and turned up the collar. He leaned his head against the window and let himself be vibrated to sleep by the rumble of the train.

Someone tugged at the collar of his grey jacket. "Yokohama Station." The Japanese conductor grinned. So it was; good thing Yokohama was the end of the line. "Domoarigato," Johnny thanked, returning the grin. He rubbed his eyes as he moved along in the crowd. Outside the station he caught a taxi for Isezaki Street.

Johnny walked down Isezaki Street for awhile and then switched over to the alley that runs parallel with Four-and-a-half Street on the opposite side of Isezaki. This wide alley was, he knew by former experience, the best place to pick up street creeps. He walked at a brisk pace, watching the sky for rain signs.

He went for several blocks without coming across a

He switched back over to Isezaki Street and started back, thinking about ducking into a bar for awhile. He passed no bar that seemed right for his mood. Finally, he passed a mamasan who was handing out little ad cards; they were for the Bar Three Star.

"Doko?" asked Johnny. Where?

"You follow me," said the old mamasan.

As he walked down the street behind the mamasan, he wondered if any of the people they passed thought the mamasan was some street creep taking him to her room in a short-time house. He fell about ten paces behind her.

The Bar Three Star was a couple of blocks off Isezaki on a little, out-of-the-way side street. Inside were three girls and no customers. He sat at the bar and one of the girls got up and came around behind it.

"Beer." He put two hundred yen coins down on the counter.

"How are you today?" She poured his beer.

"Fine."

She leaned on the counter; he had a good view down her dress.

"How long you been in Japan?"

"One year ago today I came."

"So. You like?"

"Number one."

They talked and then didn't talk for quite a while. She asked him to buy her a beer. He said he was almost broke. He invited her to share his. She did. She checked her watch.

"Nanji?" he asked. What time?

"Eight," she said. "Maybe you would like to take me home?"

"How far do you live?"

"Oh. . . ." her voice trailed off into an evasive, soft laugh.

"Need to take streetcar, bus, cab—what?"

"Nani?" What?

"Oh, never mind. Sure, I'll take you home."

"Okay, I go change first." She disappeared through a

Johnny sat there, smiling at his beer. How about that? She was a real doll, too. The time passed. He listened to the music from the radio behind the bar. He listened to song after song. Time kept passing. The beaded curtain hung there, very still. More time passed. He'd been sitting there a half hour at least. He was getting restless and he was starting to think.

It was a favorite joke of some of these girls—yeah, very funny—to stand a guy up for fun—yeah, big joke, bitch! He let two more songs go by, finished his beer, set the glass down with a slam, and walked out.

"Thank you," chirped one of the girls, automatically.

Johnny got a cab for Yokohama Station and then bought a ticket for Ueno Station in Tokyo. He'd read somewhere that in that area was a great brothel section. It was probably gone now, but he'd take a look anyway.

He walked around for about forty-five minutes, looking at the streets and seeing them just plain, average Tokyo streets with no girls on them in the daytime. He found no signs of a brothel section, so he returned to the station and bought a subway ticket to Shimbashi.

Johnny wandered around the winding, narrow and bar-lined alleys of Shimbashi. He refused invitations to "come and have one beer—no cover charge," and threw away the bar ad cards he'd been handed.

It began raining pretty hard. The next press-agent-for-a-bar he met had an umbrella, so they proceeded together to the Bar Somethingorother.

The Bar Whatchamacallit was down a winding flight of stairs. He was greeted at the bottom by a grinning, white-coated bartender. Johnny went over and sat at a small table, almost knocking the damned thing over with his knee as he sat down.

A group of bar girls were huddled over in a corner having a Japanese gossip session. The bartender spoke harsh gibberish to one of them. She moaned, got up, and came over to sit with Johnny Shellburn. Oh, the trials of duty!

giving the waiter a thousand yen bill. The waiter returned with the beer.

"One moment. I catch change."

"Diajobi," Johnny replied.

The waiter went to "catch" the change next door.

"What your name?" asked the bitch.

Johnny thought, Oh my God! Why couldn't one of them ever come up and say, "The blintzes are in the ash can and I think the flock will fly tonight," or, "The time has come to talk of shoes, ships, sealing wax, cabbages, kings, and the price of tea in Hong Kong," or, "Who in hell are you, anyway?"

"Johnny. What's yours." He might as well get it over with.

"Lola."

Silence followed while Johnny took a long, slow, drink of beer.

"You have cigarettes?" she begged.

"Just Ekoi," he told her, referring to the pack of Japanese cigarettes he'd carried in his coat since before going to the Philippines. Johnny guessed they were only about six months old.

"Good. I always buy Ekoi when I get cigarettes." There was greed in her eyes.

He tossed the pack down on the table. "Work out." He felt around in his pocket till he found a light. She took one drag and put it down. He didn't say anything.

"You buy me drink?"

"No can do. S'koshi o-kane." Not too much ready cash, bitch.

"That's okay. You buy me just one."

"That isn't okay," he explained with super-human patience. "I'm going to be in Tokyo all day and I don't even have fifteen hundred yen."

She gave him a bored look of disbelief.

"Honto—" bitch. The smoke from her cigarette was drifting up into his eyes. He crushed it in the ash tray, pretending the tray was Lola's hand.

"Lookee," she whined, "no cover charge here. You can

"If Lola wants to drink, Lola can get another glass and drink some of my beer."

"Okay. Then you give me a hundred yen."

"Good Lord, girl. It's you who should be paying me to drink MY beer. If you don't want it, don't drink it. I'm not going to hire you to do it."

"I not make any money if you not buy me drink, Janaino?"

"The name is Johnny. Look, it's a big gomen, from the bottom of my heart, but I have to eat today and I can't buy you a drink. Maybe some payday, when I get over paid or something, I'll come back here and buy you your lousy drink. But no can do tonight. Dig?" Bitch!

"I don't believe you will ever come back."

No shit, Little Beaver! Oh this bitch was brilliant. "Well, that's your privilege."

"Nani?"

"Forget it—" bitch.

There was a silence. Then the wheels seemed to start turning in her head. Or was it the bartender rattling glasses? Her voice got tender, soft, and sweet. "You get change back yet?"

"No. Boysan go catch. Why?"

She piped a short Japanese sentence to the bartender.

Soon the waiter arrived with a couple of hundred yen—all that was left of the thousand—and a drink for the lady which must have cost plenty! The sly little bitch looked at him proudly.

He looked down at his beer. The wheels were now turning in his head. He wondered whether to go to the bartender, who probably owned the hole, and raise hell—or bear up under the injustice with Christ-like silence. He decided on a compromise: he would be Christ-like and silent until he finished his beer and then he'd go over to the bartender and raise hell, call out the Japanese Police, the Military Police, and the Shore Patrol—have the bitch, the bartender, and the waiter thrown in jail—then come back with a sledge hammer and smash the whole god-

A PRELUDE TO CONCLUDING:

LOGICAL REDUCTION AND THE EVIDENCE

"No one will ever know what passed through Oswald's mind during the week before November 22, 1963."

—The Report of the Warren Commission

In the first part of this book an attempt was made to provide an objective hypothesis that would take into account the known facts and in so doing explain what personal considerations allowed Oswald to aim himself down a primrose path to the kind of nihilism necessary in performing a suicidal assassination.

In the middle part the goal was to provide some subjective insights about the emotions of a man who is in the process of so negating his mind and numbing his spirit that he may embrace that nihilism without either knowing that he is running contrary to reality or feeling the deep sense of loss necessarily involved.

As part of the conclusion a try will be made to combine objective analysis with subjective impression in a quasi-fictional reconstruction of the scene of the assassination from Oswald's viewpoint. Such an endeavor is hazardous, for any errors in fact, logic or conjecture in the earlier parts will distort the validity of the concluding picture. So, while every effort has been extended to should be nevertheless taken with a grain of salt, as they say.

At last, as a conclusion to this entire effort, the problem of establishing Oswald's full responsibility—assuming again that it was Oswald who pulled the trigger—will be considered, for that there were outside factors which contributed to Oswald's state of frantic despair seems a possibility worth pondering in the aftermath. This is not to say that any of the numerous conspiracy theories, though a few are within the range of possibility, will be seriously discussed but, rather, that attention will be given to the more overt cultural influences in Dallas, in the United States of America, in Western culture, and in the world which might have enabled Oswald to more easily justify his murderous and suicidal attitude.

* * * *

As a prelude to these concluding chapters, it is well to review Oswald's activities during the week preceding the fateful act.

At that time Lee was separated from his wife. She was living at the home of the Paines in Irving, a suburb of Dallas. It was customary for him to visit her on weekends. But on the weekend of the fifteenth his wife requested that he skip his visit, as the Paines were planning a family birthday party at which Ruth Paine's husband, Michael, was to be present—and, according to Marina Oswald, Lee didn't like Michael Paine. Marina also testified that she suggested over the telephone that perhaps it was not convenient to the Paine family that he spend every weekend there. Oswald is said to have replied, "As you wish. If you don't want me to come, I won't."

On that same Friday The Dallas Times Herald carried a notice that mentioned the Trade Mart as the expected site of the Presidential luncheon. The next day this report was confirmed in the paper with the further announcement that the President's motorcade "apparently Street, en route from Dallas Love Field to the Trade Mart, which is north of the Texas School Book Depository on Stemmons Freeway." It would therefore have been possible to conclude that the motorcade would probably pass the Depository to get from Main Street onto the freeway.

At this time Oswald was living in a rooming house on North Beckley Avenue. Unbeknownst to his wife or to Ruth Paine, he was using the assumed name of O. H. Lee. On Sunday, Marina Oswald and Ruth Paine decided to call him. Since they asked for Lee Oswald, he was not called to the phone.

Oswald called Marina on Monday, the eighteenth. In answer to her angry questions concerning his use of an alias, Marina reports that he said "he did not want his landlady to know his real name because she might read in the paper of the fact that he had been in Russia and that he had been questioned." It is worth noting here that about five weeks earlier Oswald had rented a room from Mrs. Mary Bledsoe, who later was to witness Oswald's boarding a bus and traveling a short distance in his apparent escape attempt after the assassination. Mrs. Bledsoe testified that in October, after he had rented from her for one week, she told him, "I am not going to rent to you anymore." She claimed in her testimony that she "didn't like his attitude. . . . Just didn't want him around me." It could be that this incident prompted him to adopt the assumed name under the illusion that Mrs. Bledsoe had read in the paper that he had been to Russia.

The telephone conversation ended when Marina, peeved at her husband's foolishness, hung up on him. He had called several times earlier; the above, apparently, was the last conversation.

On the morning of Tuesday, 19 November 1963, the Morning News reported that the President's motorcade would travel from "Houston to Elm, Elm under the Triple Underpass to Stemmons Freeway, and on to the Trade Mart." It could now be positively concluded that the

On Wednesday a front page item announced that the streets on which the President would travel included "Main and Stemmons Freeway." On the morning of Thursday, the twenty first, Oswald asked Buell Wesley Frazier, a fellow employee at the Book Depository and a neighbor of the Paines, if he could ride out to Irving with Frazier that afternoon. Since it was usually Oswald's custom to ride to Irving with him on Fridays, Frazier asked him why he was going to Irving this time on a Thursday. Oswald is reported to have said, "I'm going home to get some curtain rods . . . (to) put in an apartment." Oswald's landlady later testified that his room had curtains and curtain rods, and that he had never discussed the subject with her. Further, Oswald is said never to have mentioned to Ruth Paine or Marina Oswald anything about curtain rods that evening. According to Frazier, there was little conversation between them on the way home.

According to Marina, Lee gave as his reason for coming that evening "that he was lonely because he hadn't come the preceding weekend, and he wanted to make his peace with me." She refused to talk to him and "he was very upset." Then, according to her testimony, "He tried very hard to please me. He spent quite a bit of time putting away diapers and played with the children on the street." Lee also suggested to her that she resume living with him in Dallas, promising that if she accepted he would locate an apartment the next day. He repeated the offer several times, but Marina refused. Oswald then charged that "I was preferring my friends to him, and that I didn't need him."

Evidence indicates that between the hours of eight and nine on the evening of the twenty first, while Marina and Mrs. Paine were occupied with the children in the bedroom at the opposite end of the house, Oswald went into the garage where his personal belongings were stored, unwrapped his rifle from the brown and green blanket that was around it, disassembled the weapon, and placed its parts in a paper bag which he had made by hand from [illegible] at the Book Depository. It made a long, bulky bundle. Upon leaving the garage, he forgot to turn off the light. He went to bed immediately afterwards.

When his wife joined him later, he did not speak, although she thought he was still awake. He left for work on the morning of the twenty second before anyone else arose. He left his wedding ring in a cup on the dresser.

He rode to work that morning with Frazier. The package of "curtain rods" was in the back seat. According to Frazier, for the first time Oswald was not carrying a lunch bag with him. Frazier parked the car about two blocks north of the Depository. Oswald, carrying the brown paper bag, walked ahead. Frazier stopped and watched some railroad cars being switched on the tracks as he crossed. Oswald entered the rear door of the Depository about fifty feet ahead of Frazier.

XIII

THE APPOINTED HOUR

"Givens said to Oswald, 'Boy, are you going downstairs? . . . It's near lunch time.' Oswald said, 'No sir. When you get downstairs, close the gate to the elevator.' Oswald was referring to the west elevator which operates by push-button and only with the gate closed. Givens said, 'Okay,' and rode down the east elevator. When he reached the first floor, the west elevator—the one with the gate—was not there. Givens thought this was about 11:55 a.m. None of the Depository employees is known to have seen Oswald again until after the shooting."

—The Report of the Warren Commission

A tangle of sharp pain gathered inside him as he hid his clipboard in a pile of book cartons. Moving swiftly and efficiently Lee went to work on the boxes, at last positioning two heavy cartons near the window and bringing two smaller ones over to stack on top of one of them for a rifle rest. Concentrating on the labor, he tried to forget his hurt.

He didn't want to feel it. He didn't care to identify it —for it was an ugly mixture of fear and hostility and self pity. It was a confusion of despair.

And now—now as he slid the brown paper bag from its hiding place—now he no longer had reason to heed the pain, the disappointment with . . . To hell with it! No, face it—he told himself—with yourself. With the Marine Corps, with Russia, with Cuban red tape, and with Marina—but mostly with Lee Harvey Oswald, 1653230. His old U.S.M.C. serial number! It had come out automatically. It's just like 1984, he thought, everybody has a number. Then he looked at the brown sack in his hands and said with an ironic smile, "Down with Big Brother."

He sat on one of the cartons he had placed by the window. Carefully, he removed the rifle parts from the bag into his lap. Then, after putting the bag on the floor, he spread the smaller pieces out on the brown paper and began assembling the weapon.

He noticed now that the sky had cleared. Just so there were no strong winds. That was important.

Now each thing he did was magnified a thousandfold! This was the real thing. This was history! His hands were putting together the instrument that would once and for all blast down the barrier between self and the world in general, the barrier between him and happiness. At last he was throwing himself into the struggle! And this time he was resolved to succeed.

Yes, the self, he thought. That's the thing this rifle will murder. Not the President. No room after this act for petty, selfish wounds of the spirit. This act will obliterate petty concerns. Curtain rods! Ha!

And washing machines. Marina asked him to buy her a washing machine. Last night, during the argument. He said he would. Then, cruelly, she told him to save his money. Fine thing. Curtain rods, washing machines, and money. Such middle-class preoccupations had been thrust upon him! It was all a trap. Love, and all the bourgeois clap trap. He should have known better.

"Trap. Trap. Trap," he announced under his breath. "Clap trap!"

Well, let them find the bait to trap an unselfish man!

Then, as he leaned the rifle against the pipes that ran up the wall to his left, he realized with a sweeping finality that all his actions of the past had been leading him to this. How had he been so stupid? Why had insignificant failures bothered him for one moment? He was above all that. Selfish little worries were for lesser men. That's why he had failed—and that kind of failure paved the way to triumph.

But wait! Someone was nearby! Lee grabbed the rifle and put it on the floor, covering most of it with the bag. Then he crept forward to peer between the cartons that hid his window from view. He held his breath.

Lee relaxed. Just some poor nigger eating lunch—chicken and a bottle of pop. Now if that guy just doesn't come over to watch the parade . . . If he does, I'll shoot him. Just before I shoot Kennedy, I'll pull out the rifle and shoot him. Poor dumb nigger.

But Lee knew that the ends justified the means, knew that one individual was nothing in the face of all history—that even Lee Oswald was nothing more or less than the humble tool of a great, inevitable process. And at this particular moment that was comforting knowledge.

He returned to his seat by the window.

People were gathered along the Elm Street ramp in front of the building and in the plaza across the way. He could hear them.

A thrill quivered through his body. He knelt by the window and looked out over the throng, thinking—step right up, folks, to the greatest show of a lifetime. See Lee Harvey Oswald gun down the prime symbol of United States oppression. See the yankee tyrant die!

He placed his arm against the improvised rifle rest and tested it for firmness. After readjusting the top box, which rested along the sill, he drew back to sit on the large carton again.

After awhile, he heard the Negro worker's footsteps. Good, the guy was leaving. One less problem.

Oswald took the rifle out of hiding. Keeping it low beside him, he sat near the window again, appraising the curve in Elm Street where the motorcade would have to slow down. There was some foliage in the way, from an oak tree, but he would have time for one shot below it and several more after the car moved on toward the Triple Underpass. He had practiced reloading for hours at a time and he estimated he could get in four or five shots if necessary.

Now he could hear noise over on Main Street. Cheering. Blocks away yet.

He locked and loaded with one round.

In his head he heard a voice. "All ready on the right. All ready on the left. All ready on the firing line. Watch your targets. . . ."

Lee ducked back to get in a better firing stance. He folded one foot underneath him and sat on it. He adjusted the sling around his left arm.

The cheering was growing louder.

He recalled the advice of his Marine Corps rifle coach. "Aim in at six o'clock—and squ-e-e-e-ze the trigger." Yes, this time he must aim low. That's why he had missed Walker. Too high. Damn it.

He eased the weight of his body forward to the window, keeping the weapon just below the sill behind the boxes. It was an uncomfortable position, but it was only temporary.

Motorcycles were passing by. A car was behind them. No, it wasn't the President. More motorcycles had rounded the corner of Main and Houston, followed by another car—they turned onto Elm and roared past the Depository.

The din grew deafening as the President's car came into view on Houston.

Lee's heart quickened. No, he decided, he was not going to shoot John F. Kennedy. Walker was different. Walker was a fascist madman. Kennedy was only a symbol.

As the Presidential car moved toward Elm, Lee looked out toward the Triple Underpass and wondered if he would really go through with it. He would almost surely be caught. His eyes fell on the spot below the oak leaves. He brought the rifle to his shoulder.

Then, as he leaned th... uld see the President's up the wall to his left, ... as it passed directly that all his actions ... ifle down and caught this. How had he ... at with the intersect- failures bothered ... to the destined spot. that. Selfish litt... zing. he had failed ... base of the target. triumph. ...gth.

But w... Cheering. and pu... Then ... right. hid... ...r any farther.

...ushed behind the leaves.

...geons fluttered around the window.

"Son of a bitch!" he cursed, reloading.

He zeroed in above the branches and fired again as the President, clutching his throat and falling to the side, came into view.

A siren screamed.

Reloading quickly, he fired again and reloaded.

People were running pell-mell.

Walking quickly along the east aisle toward the stairs, he fought to suppress the growing sense of panic that had now replaced his tangled hurt.

He waited to feel the happiness all men of all ages and all cultures said could be found—beyond the self.

As he thrust his rifle between two stacks of book cartons near where he had hidden the clipboard, he wondered if all those other people might not be wrong—about happiness.

The sense of panic loomed larger within his mind.

WHY THE TRIGGER WAS PULLED

"No man, having known, having lived under the Russian Communist and American capitalist system, could possibly make a choice between them; there is no choice; one offers oppression and the other poverty. Both offer imperialistic injustice, tinted with two brands of slavery."

—Lee Harvey Oswald

At this writing more than a year has elapsed since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Assuming that Oswald was the assassin, as the evidence seems to indicate, it was then Oswald who pulled the trigger—not the city of Dallas, not the "rightwing extremists," and not the Soviet Union. In the past year, nearly every absurdly irrelevant possibility imaginable has been discussed as a contributing factor—while very little has been said about those factors which did obviously contribute to the "four tragic days."

For example, there has been much conjecture over what possible effect certain rightwing newspaper advertisements which appeared in Dallas had in influencing Oswald, an avowed leftist, toward firing upon Kennedy. But the effect of newspaper sensationalism on excitable and ignorant people such as Jack Ruby has not been widely noted. Fidel Castro has to date ordered the cold-blooded executions of hundreds of innocent people, yet I have never seen even one diatribe directed at him which equaled those directed at the untried and unconvicted, suspected assassin of the President.

But the matter is deeper and broader than a mere problem of press sensationalism and post-assassination hysteria. And it is even more vital than the problem of the reckless hunt for a political scapegoat that continues to this day. For behind all the accusations and counter accusations over the murder of the late President seems to lie a near-universal sense of guilt.

Surveys have reported that an overwhelming majority of Americans complained of real, physical discomfort after hearing of the President's death. And in the weeks that followed 22 November 1963 there was much talk about soul searching. Since that day the unspoken thought of almost every American has been, "Somehow we have failed." And the unspoken, unanswered question implied is, "How have we failed?"

Was it because that in the spring of 1963, around the time of the attempt on General Walker, some of us applauded a movie called The Manchurian Candidate—the moral of which seemed to be: it is okay to shoot public figures so long as they are political "extremists"? I often wonder if Oswald saw that movie. He would have liked it. He would have identified with its hero.

Or is it because we know our land is no longer as free as it should be? In using the word "misfit" to describe Oswald we confess that we live in a closed society —for only where individualism is difficult or impossible can the word "misfit" have any significance.

Or is it something less specific? Is it a feeling related to the general consensus that our culture is in crisis. And if so, what is the nature of that crisis? What drove Lee Harvey Oswald to Russia? What made it impossible for him to live in America upon his return? After having lived in both countries, why did he feel there was little difference between them? Was he that stupid? Or was he right?

I do not pretend to know all the answers. But of one thing I am sure. Lee Harvey Oswald embraced Marxism for the lack of a conspicuous alternative available to him in the United States of America.

* * * *

It is time for Western intellectuals to find some less equivocal answer to Communism than Existentialism; to find some more rational answer than the John Birch Society; to find some more up-to-date answer than Zen Buddhism; to find some more relevant answers than watered-down, fundamentalist, or orthodox Christianity and Judaism; and, above all, to find something more satisfactory in the way of answers than imitation.

It is not the intention of the above paragraph to attack the philosophies named therein but, rather, to call for other alternatives for those who find them wanting—to call for more diversity. Frantic despair, in the last analysis, is man's natural reaction to the absence of alternatives.

And the great conflict between the Communist ideology and the West is not properly a conflict over who shall rule the world, but over how long it will be before the individual is the master of his own destiny. Free men who understand the value of their freedom do not commit irrational acts of violence. Every assassin in history either could not have or did not want his freedom.

In respect to alternatives to Communism, it is worth emphasizing that Oswald, in his writings, continually confused the present American economic system of mixed socialism with capitalism. Total capitalism is a system in which the government does not interfere in any way with the life of the individual—so long as the individual does not initiate force or commit fraud. Such an economic system was roughly approximated at one time in the United States, but it has not yet existed in an undistorted form anywhere in the world. Capitalism would not produce either oppression or poverty, for it rules out initiated force and encourages production. As with most individuals aware only of the Marxist approach to economics, Oswald lumped all non-Marxist systems together. Like most Communists, he saw little difference between capitalism and such anti-individualistic systems as fascism. So, due to his confusion, he was unable to look upon capitalism as a possible alternative to totalitarianism.

While the lack of available and rational alternatives to Marxism certainly must have been a contributing factor to Oswald's defection and in all probability contributed to the state of frantic despair in which he committed the act of assassination, it must be kept in mind that cultural bankruptcy is never an excuse for violence. Had he been willing to exert the effort, Oswald could have worked out for himself a rational view of the world. At times, according to his notes, he attempted to formulate what he called a "third alternative." That he did not continue this effort, and that he spent his time instead in conspiring to do violence to those with whom he disagreed, is the fault of no other person than Lee Harvey Oswald. Any man who undertakes because of his own unexamined or examined philosophical convictions the destruction of another human being, while at the same time admitting that those convictions are not yet entirely in accord with reality, is a calculating and deliberate murderer. No outside influence can excuse him.

PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

DEPOSITION OF KERRY WENDELL THORNLEY taken, pursuant to notice, in Room 405, Fourth floor, 200 Maryland Avenue, Northeast, Washington, D. C., commencing at 9:40 a.m.

PRESENT:

Albert Jenner, Associate Counsel

John Ely, Counsel

AUTHOR'S NOTE: The following version of my deposition before the Commission differs from the official one in minor respects. For clarity, some irrelevant passages have been dropped and certain especially awkward sentences have been reconstructed. No changes or deletions have been made that would in any way alter the meaning or nature of the proceedings in so far as they pertain to Oswald.

Mr. Jenner. Mr. Thornley, in the deposition you are about to give, do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?

Mr. Thornley. I do.

TESTIMONY OF KERRY WENDELL THORNLEY

Mr. Jenner. You are Kerry Wendell Thornley, spelled: K-e-r-r-y W-e-n-d-e-l-l T-h-o-r-n-l-e-y?

Mr. Thornley. That is correct, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Mr. Thornley, where do you reside now?

Mr. Thornley. At 4201 South 31st Street in Arlington, Virginia.

Mr. Jenner. Did you at one time reside at 1824 Dauphine Street in New Orleans?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. What is your present occupation?

Mr. Thornley. I am a doorman at the building where I reside, Shirlington House.

Mr. Jenner. Doorman.

Mr. Thornley. At the building where I reside.

Mr. Jenner. What is the name of that building?

Mr. Thornley. Shirlington House.

I also work on the switchboard there three nights a week.

Mr. Jenner. I see.

By the way, Mr. Thornley, you received, did you not, a letter from Mr. Rankin, the general counsel of the Commission in which he enclosed—

Mr. Thornley. Confirming this appointment—

Mr. Jenner.—copies of the legislation, Senate Joint Resolution No. 137, authorizing the creation of the Commission, and President Johnson's order 11130, bringing the Commission into existence and fixing its powers and duties and responsibilities?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. And also a copy of the rules and regulations of the Commission for the taking of depositions?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. I take it you understand the basic obligation placed upon the Commission is to investigate the facts and circumstances surrounding and bearing upon the assassination of President Kennedy, and some collateral events thereto.

In the course of doing that the Commission and its staff, and I, Albert Jenner, Jr., a member of Commission legal staff, have been interviewing and taking the testimony of various persons who, among other things, came in contact with a man named Lee Harvey Oswald, and we understand that you had some contact with him, fortuitous or otherwise as it might be.

Are we correct in that?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Would you tell us the—may I ask you this first? Were you born and reared in this country?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Are you married or unmarried?

Mr. Thornley. Unmarried.

Mr. Jenner. "Unmarried" you said?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. What is your age?

Mr. Thornley. I am 26.

Mr. Jenner. When was your birthday?

Mr. Thornley. April 17, this last month.

Mr. Jenner. April 17 of this last month? I am poor in mathematics, what year was your birth?

Mr. Thornley. 1938.

Mr. Jenner. When did you first become acquainted with him?

Mr. Thornley. I was—it was around Easter of 1959, either shortly before or shortly after.

Mr. Jenner. Let's see. He was in the Marines at that time?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. I take it you also were?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. How long had you been in the Marines?

Mr. Thornley. At that time I had been in the Marines over half a year. I had been in the Reserve for many years. I had been on active duty for over half a year.

Mr. Jenner. You were then 21 years of age?

Mr. Thornley. About. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Tell me about what your occupation and activity had been up to the time you enlisted in the Marines.

Mr. Thornley. Well, the year before I was a student at the University of Southern California, and before that I was a student at California High School in Whittier, California.

Mr. Jenner. I take it then that you are a native Californian?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Did you receive your degree?

Mr. Thornley. No. I completed my freshman year and then I went on active duty to serve my two year obligation in the Marine Reserve.

Mr. Jenner. You did not return to college after you were mustered out of the Marines?

Mr. Thornley. No, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Was your discharge honorable?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Where were you based when you first met Lee Harvey Oswald?

Mr. Thornley. At a subsidiary of El Toro Marine Base, referred to as L.T.A., Santa Ana, California, or just outside of Santa Ana.

Mr. Jenner. What was your rank at that time?

Mr. Thornley. At that time I was acting corporal.

Mr. Jenner. What was your assignment then?

Mr. Thornley. I was an aviation electronics operator, which was working in an aircraft control center, reading radarscopes and keeping track of in-going and out-going flights.

Mr. Jenner. What was Lee Harvey Oswald's assignment and activity servicewise at that period?

Mr. Thornley. At that time his assignments and activities were primarily janitorial. He was—he had lost his clearance previously, and if I remember, he was assigned to make the coffee, mow the lawn, seen swabbing down decks, and things of this nature.

Mr. Jenner. What were the circumstances, as you learned of them, or knew of them at the time, as to how or why he "lost his clearance" as you put it.

Mr. Thornley. Well, I asked somebody, and I was told, and I don't remember who told me, it was a general rumor, general scuttlebutt at the time, that he had poured beer over a staff NCO's head in an enlisted club in Japan, and had been put in the brig for that, and having been put in the brig would automatically lose his clearance to work in the electronics control center.

Mr. Jenner. I was going to ask you what losing clearance meant. You have indicated that—or would you state it more specifically?

Mr. Thornley. Well, that meant in a practical sense, that meant that he was not permitted to enter certain areas wherein the equipment, in this case equipment, was kept; that we would not want unauthorized persons to have knowledge of and on occasion information, I imagine, would also come to the man who was cleared, in the process of his work, that he would be expected to keep to himself.

Mr. Jenner. I assume you had clearance?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir, I was, I think, cleared for confidential at the time.

Mr. Jenner. Cleared for confidential. I was about to ask you what level of clearance was involved.

Mr. Thornley. I believe it was just confidential, to work there at El Toro with that particular equipment.

Mr. Jenner. That is the clearance about which you speak when you talk about Oswald having lost it?

Mr. Thornley. Oswald, I believe, had a higher clearance. This is also just based upon rumor. I believe he at one time worked in the security files, it is the S & C files, somewhere either at L.T.A. or at El Toro.

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever work in the security files?

Mr. Thornley. No, sir.

Mr. Jenner. And that was a level of clearance—

Mr. Thornley. Probably a secret clearance would be required.

Mr. Jenner. It was at least higher than the clearance about which you first spoke?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. The clearance that you had in mind, that you first spoke of, was the clearance to operate radar detection devices?

Mr. Thornley. Right.

Mr. Jenner. And your knowledge of his loss of clearance was by hearsay or rumor, that, as I understand it, while off base one day—?

Mr. Thornley. No, this was on base, as I understand it. It was in the enlisted club or staff sergeants' club, something of that nature.

Mr. Jenner. He had gotten into difficulty with a staff sergeant and had poured beer on the person of a staff sergeant and gotten into some kind of an altercation?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. As a result of that he was courtmartialed and had been subjected to the loss of clearance?

Mr. Thornley. That is correct.

Mr. Jenner. Was that clearance of his restored?

Mr. Thornley. I doubt it very much. I know it wasn't restored while I was in the outfit.

Mr. Jenner. When did you leave the outfit?

Mr. Thornley. I left in June and went overseas.

Mr. Jenner. Up to that time his clearance had not been restored?

Mr. Thornley. Definitely not and shortly thereafter he got out of the service.

Mr. Jenner. Would you state the circumstances under which you became acquainted—let me put it this way first: What was the extent of your acquaintance with Lee Harvey Oswald, and here at the moment I am directing myself only to: Were you friends? Were you merely on the base together? Indicate the level of friendship first, or acquaintanceship.

Mr. Thornley. I would say we were close acquaintances in the sense that we weren't friends in that we didn't pull liberty together or seek each other out, yet when we were thrown together in an assignment or something, moving equipment, something of that nature, we spoke and when we were on the base and happened to be in the same area and were not required to be working, we would sometimes sit down and discuss things. That would be my statement there.

Mr. Jenner. So there was a degree of affinity in the sense that you were friendly in performing your military tasks together whenever you were thrown together. In that respect, you felt friendly toward each other. You were never off base with him on liberty?

Mr. Thornley. No, sir.

Mr. Jenner. There were times when you were at liberty on the base, I assume, and you and he fraternized?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. Now, did you live in the same quarters?

Mr. Thornley. Well, not actually. We lived in quonset huts there, and he lived in a different hut than I did. We did live in the same general area, however.

Mr. Jenner. This acquaintance arose in the spring of 1959, is that correct?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Can you fix the time a little more definitely than merely the spring?

Mr. Thornley. I really can't, sir. I have been racking my brain on that one since November, and I can't fix the time. I do remember having take some time off that year, around Easter, and going on a trip with some civilian friends of mine, who were out of school for Easter vacation, and I know I was in the outfit that Oswald was in at that time, and I know that either shortly before that trip or shortly afterwards, I can remember from the books I was reading at the time and things like that, that I met him.

Mr. Jenner. Do you associate the books you were reading at that time with anything Oswald may have been reading?

Mr. Thornley. Yes. Oswald was not reading but did advise me to read George Orwell's, 1984, which I read at that time.

Mr. Jenner. Was he on the base when you came there?

Mr. Thornley. Well, I was on the base in a different outfit before I came into MACS 9, the outfit he was in.

Mr. Jenner. Marine Air Control Squadron.

Mr. Thornley. I was in MACS 4 which is right next door to MACS 9, or was at that time, on the base.

Mr. Jenner. Were you aware of his presence when you were in the other MACS?

Mr. Thornley. No, not until I came into his outfit and sometime after I came into that outfit did I become aware of his presence.

Mr. Jenner. Were you—I will withdraw that.

Was Oswald as far as you know on the base before you came over to his unit?

Mr. Thornley. I would assume so, but I wouldn't know for sure. I know he was recently back from Japan, as were most of the men in Marine Control Squadron 9 when I came into it. How long he had been back I don't know. I certainly didn't know at that time and thinking on what knowledge of him I have gained since then, I still couldn't say.

Mr. Jenner. Well, in any event you first became acquainted with or aware of his presence around Easter time in 1959?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. And you were transferred from that base when?

Mr. Thornley. June.

Mr. Jenner. In June.

So it was likely that you knew him in April, May and in June, until you were transferred out?

Mr. Thornley. Right.

Mr. Jenner. And when in June were you transferred out?

Mr. Thornley. Once again the exact date would be available in my military record, but offhand—

Mr. Jenner. Give it to me as best you recall it. Forepart? Latter part? Middle?

Mr. Thornley. Let's see; it was toward the latter part. In fact, I can give you pretty close to the exact date. It was around June 25, because we arrived in Japan on July 4 and it took 11 days to get over there. It took us some time to get debarked—or to get embarked, rather.

Mr. Jenner. All right.

I take it from the remark you have made in your reflecting on this matter that you were—you devoted yourself to some fairly considerable extent to reading?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. And in what fields?

Mr. Thornley. Completely omniverous. Anything that I would happen to get ahold of, I would read. At that time I was reading, well, at Oswald's advice I read 1984. At someone else's advice I was reading a book called Humanism, by Corliss Lamont, as I remember, and I was reading either the Brothers Karamazov or the Idiot, by Dostoevsky. I forget which at that time.

Mr. Jenner. But your reading had some reasonable amount of organization or direction?

Mr. Thornley. None whatsoever. No, sir. It never has.

Mr. Jenner. I see.

You weren't engaged in any organized reading at that time, were you?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. But there were areas which did draw your attention by and large?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. What were those areas?

Mr. Thornley. Philosophy, politics, religion.

Mr. Jenner. Did you find that Oswald had reasonably similar interests?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, I would say.

Mr. Jenner. In his reading?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, particularly in politics and philosophy.

Mr. Jenner. Was it those mutual interests that brought about your acquaintance with him? Or some other fashion?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir. It was those interests.

My first memory of him is that one afternoon he was sitting on a bucket in front of a hut, an inverted bucket with some other Marines, and they were discussing religion, and I entered the discussion, and it was known already in the outfit that I was an atheist, and immediately somebody pointed out to me that Oswald was also an atheist.

Mr. Jenner. Did they point that out to you in his presence?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Thornley. He said, "What do you think of Communism?" and I said—

Mr. Jenner. He didn't say anything about having been pointed out as being an atheist?

Mr. Thornley. No, he wasn't offended at this at all. He was—it was done in a friendly manner anyway, and he just said to me, with kind of his little grin, he looked at me and he said, "What do you think of Communism?" and I replied I didn't think too much of Communism in a favorable sense and he said, "Well, I think the best religion is Communism." and I got the impression at the time that he said this in order to shock. He was playing to the galleries, I felt.

Mr. Jenner. The boys who were sitting around?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Engaged in scuttlebutt?

Mr. Thornley. Right. He was smirking as he said this and he said it very gently. He didn't seem to be a glasseyed fanatic, by any means.

Mr. Jenner. Did you have occasion to discuss the same subject thereafter?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. From time to time?

Mr. Thornley. From time to time.

Mr. Jenner. Did you have occasion in those additional half dozen instances of discussing with him the viewpoint you have just expressed: that his initial raising of the issue was more by way of provoking or shocking those about him, rather than any utterance on his part of sincerity in a belief that Communism was itself a religion?

Mr. Thornley. It became obvious to me after a while, in talking to him, that definitely he thought that Communism was the best—that the Marxist morality was the most rational morality to follow that he knew of. And that communism was the best system in the world.

I still certainly wouldn't—wouldn't have predicted, for example, his defection to the Soviet Union, because once again he seemed idle in his admiration for Communism. He didn't seem to be an activist.

Mr. Jenner. Would you explain what you mean by "idle in his admiration" of the Communist system?

Mr. Thornley. Well, it seemed to be theoretical. It seemed strictly a dispassionate appraisal—I did know at the time that he was learning the Russian language. I knew he was subscribing to Pravda or a Russian newspaper of some kind from Moscow. All of this I took as a sign of his interest in the subject, and not as a sign of any active commitment to the Communist ends.

Mr. Jenner. You felt there was no devotion there. That it was somewhat of an intellectual interest, a curiosity. I don't want to put words in your mouth.

Mr. Thornley. I wouldn't put it quite that weakly.

While I didn't feel there was any rabid devotion there, I wouldn't call it a complete idle curiosity either. I would call it a definite interest.

Mr. Jenner. A definite interest.

Mr. Thornley. [illegible] fanatical devotion.

Mr. Jenner. You said you knew at that time that he was studying Russian. How did you become aware of that?

Mr. Thornley. Probably by hearsay, once again. I do remember one time hearing the comment made by one man in the outfit that there was some other man in the outfit who was taking a Russian newspaper and who was a Communist and when I said, "Well, who is that?" he said, "Oswald," and I said, "Oh, well." That is probably where I learned it.

Mr. Jenner. How did you learn that he was a subscriber to Pravda and the other Russian publications you have mentioned?

Mr. Thornley. Well, I don't think—it was either Pravda or some other Russian publication.

Mr. Jenner. I see.

Mr. Thornley. The way I learned that was a story that I believe Bud Simco, a friend of mine in the same outfit, told me: that one time a lieutenant, and I forget which lieutenant it was, I do remember at the time I did know who he was talking about, found out that Oswald, by—he happened to be in the mailroom or something, and saw a paper with Oswald's address on it.

Mr. Jenner. That is the officer happened to be in the mailroom?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, and he noticed this paper was written in Russian and at the time got very excited, attempted to draw this to the attention of Oswald's section chief and also the Commanding Officer, and, of course, there was nothing these people could do about it, and at the time the story was related to me, I remember I thought it was rather humorous that this young, either second or first lieutenant should get so excited because Oswald happened to be subscribing to a Russian newspaper.

Mr. Jenner. Was this lieutenant's name Delprado?

Mr. Thornley. I will bet it was. That is very familiar. I think so.

Mr. Jenner. Have you ever subscribed to a Russian language newspaper or other publications?

Mr. Thornley. Other Russian publications?

Mr. Jenner. Yes, sir.

Mr. Thornley. No, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Have you ever subscribed to a publication that was printed in the Russian language?

Mr. Thornley. No, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Have you ever been a subscriber to any literature by way of news media or otherwise reputed to be Communistic or pink or that sort of thing? I don't want to get it too broad.

Mr. Thornley. Only I. F. Stone's Newsletter and that certainly—

Mr. Jenner. Whose?

Mr. Thornley. I. F. Stone's Newsletter and I wouldn't say—

Mr. Jenner. Tell me about that.

Mr. Thornley. He is a Washington reporter who is a rather extreme leftist, but certainly within the bounds of what is accepted in this country as non-subversive.

Mr. Jenner. Describe yourself in that respect. Where are you, a middle-of-the-roader?

Mr. Thornley. I would say I am an extreme rightist. I call myself a libertarian, which is that I believe in complete sovereignty of Mr. Jenner. You don't have to be an extreme rightist to believe in the sovereignty of the individual.

Mr. Thornley. Well, it is getting that way in this country today. At least most people who listen to me talk call me a rightist. I wouldn't say so either. I think the political spectrum was fine for France at the time of the revolution. I don't think it applies to the United States of America today in any respect whatsoever. I don't think you can call a man an extreme leftist, rightist or middle-of-the-roader and have him classified that simply.

Mr. Jenner. Do you have any brothers and sisters?

Mr. Thornley. I have two brothers.

Mr. Jenner. What do they do?

Mr. Thornley. One of them goes to junior college, I believe, and the other one goes to high school. They are in Whittier, California.

Mr. Jenner. Are your folks alive?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. What does your father do?

Mr. Thornley. He is a photoengraver.

Mr. Jenner. Let's get back to Oswald.

Describe this individual to me. First describe him physically.

Mr. Thornley. Physically, I would say he was slightly below average height. Had, as I recall, gray or blue eyes. Always had, or almost always had a petulant expression on his face. Pursed-lip expression, either a frown or a smile, depending on the circumstances. Was of average build, and his hair was brown, and tending to, like mine, tending to bald a little on each side.

Mr. Jenner. Above the temple.

What would you say he weighed?

Mr. Thornley. I would say he weighed about 140 pounds, maybe 130.

Mr. Jenner. How tall was he?

Mr. Thornley. I would say he was about five-five maybe. I don't know.

Mr. Jenner. How tall are you?

Mr. Thornley. I am five-ten.

Mr. Jenner. Was he shorter than you?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. What habits did he have with respect to his person? Was he neat, clean?

Mr. Thornley. Extremely sloppy.

Mr. Jenner. Extremely sloppy?

Mr. Thornley. This I think might not have been true of him in civilian life. I don't know.

Mr. Jenner. You don't know one way or the other?

Mr. Thornley. No, but I do have reason to believe that it wasn't true of him in civilian life because it fitted into a general personality pattern of his to do whatever was not wanted of him, a recalcitrant trend in his personality.

Mr. Jenner. You think it was deliberate?

Mr. Thornley. I think it tended to be deliberate. Yes. It was a gesture of rebellion on his part.

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever discuss that matter with him, his dress?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Thornley. No, because this attitude of rebellion was a fairly common thing in the service.

Mr. Jenner. On the part of others as well as Oswald?

Mr. Thornley. As well as Oswald. Oswald did carry it to—was the most extreme example I can think of, Stateside. However, overseas, in the outfit he had been in before, as I discovered later, this was quite common.

Mr. Jenner. How much later?

Mr. Thornley. Three months—well, immediately, as soon as I left, as soon as I got overseas. I walked into the barracks on the Fourth of July over there and saw beer bottles spread all over, and some character sitting in the back of the barracks with a broken beer bottle cutting his arm, for what reason I don't remember. They found beer cans in a trash can in MACS 9 and there was a drastic investigation. So there is an indication of a difference between Stateside and overseas and Oswald was typical, very typical of the outfit he had just left overseas.

Mr. Jenner. So is your impression, you would say, I gather, that as of that particular time when you first knew him he was still carrying some of his experience, personal attention-wise, from what he had experienced overseas?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. And he was still following the habits he had acquired overseas?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. Did you think it went beyond that, this unkemptness or this sloppiness?

Mr. Thornley. It did go beyond that, because he seemed to be a person who would go out of his way to get into trouble, get some officer or staff sergeant mad at him. He would make wise remarks. He had a general bitter attitude toward the Corps. He used to pull his hat down over his eyes so he wouldn't have to look at anything around him and go walking around very Beetle-Bailey style.

Mr. Jenner. What is Beetle Bailey?

Mr. Thornley. Beetle Bailey is a comic strip character who walks around with his hat over his eyes very much as Oswald did.

Mr. Jenner. You want to keep in mind, Mr. Thornley, I am an old man and there are things I don't pick up or get hep to.

Mr. Thornley. This is nothing recent. This is a comic strip that has been around quite a few years now.

Mr. Jenner. You go on and tell us about his personality.

Mr. Thornley. All right.

Mr. Jenner. Including any physical characteristics or habits.

Mr. Thornley. I think I have covered all physical characteristics. His shoes were always unshined. As I mentioned, he walked around with the bill of his cap down over his eyes and you got the impression that he was doing this so he wouldn't have to look at anything around him.

Mr. Jenner. And he was doing that so that he would not be assigned additional work or—

Mr. Thornley. No. This was just an attempt, I think, on his part, to blot out the military so he wouldn't have to look at it. He wouldn't have to think about it. In fact, I think he made a comment he would see as little as possible, because he didn't like what he had to look at.

He had, as I remember, a sense of humor, and I can only think of a couple of examples of it. I have only been able to think of a couple of examples of it over the past few months, but I have a strong general impression in my mind that there were more examples that I just don't remember.

Mr. Jenner. Well, you draw on your recollection as best you can and you just keep telling us now in your own words and I will try to not interrupt you too much.

Mr. Thornley. All right.

Of course, it was well known in the outfit that or popularly believed that Oswald had Communist sympathies.

Mr. Jenner. You didn't share that view?

Mr. Thornley. Not as much as some did, and while this was popularly believed, I mention this as kind of a framework for the significance of Oswald's comment, Master Sergeant Spar, our section chief, jumped up on a fender one day and said, "All right, everybody, gather around."

And Oswald said in a very thick Russian accent, "Ah ha, collective farm lecture," in a very delighted tone.

This brought him laughs at the time. And he had gotten me to read 1984, as I mentioned earlier, and this was one of his favorites—

Mr. Jenner. Tell me what 1984 was, first.

Mr. Thornley. It is a projection into the future, supposed to take place in 1984 in England under a complete police state. It is, I would say, an anti-Utopian novel by George Orwell, a criticism of English socialism and what it might lead to, based upon Orwell's experiences of what happened with Communism and nationalism, his observations. It is about a society in which a mythical leader called "Big Brother" dominates everybody's life. Where there are television cameras on every individual at all times watching his every act. Where sex is practically outlawed. Where the world is perpetually at war, three big police states constantly at war with one another. And where thought police keep all of the citizens in line. Oswald would often compare the Marine Corps with the system of government outlined in 1984.

I remember one day we were loading equipment—

Mr. Jenner. By way of protest against the Marine Corps?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, humorously, satirically.

One day we were unloading, moving a radar scope off the truck and it slipped, and he said, "Be careful with Big Brother's equipment."

It was things like this. He did a lot of that.

I remember one day I was walking along with my hands in my pockets, which is something you don't do in the service, certainly if you are in an infantry outfit you don't dare. Things were a little lax in our outfit, so we could get away with it once in awhile, so I happened to be walking along with my hands in my pockets and suddenly I heard a voice: "You, Smith, Winston," and rattle off a serial number, "get your hands out of your pockets," which was a direct quote from the book 1984.

Mr. Jenner. I am stimulated to ask you this question by something you just said: Did he have a good memory?

Mr. Thornley. I think he must have had a good memory, yes. If he wanted to remember something, he could. I think he also had good ability to blot out unpleasant thoughts in his mind.

Mr. Jenner. What about his powers of assimilation of what he read and any critique?

Mr. Thornley. I certainly think he understood much more than many people in the press have seemed to feel. I don't think he was a man who was grasping onto his particular beliefs because he didn't understand them. I don't think he was just trying to know something over his head by any means. I think he understood what he was talking about.

Sometimes I think there were gaps in his knowledge. I think there were many things he didn't know, and this came from a haphazard education.

Mr. Jenner. You became acquainted with the fact that he had had a somewhat haphazard education?

Mr. Thornley. It was obvious. I didn't become acquainted with it specifically until recently in the news. But—

Mr. Jenner. You had that impression at the time?

Mr. Thornley. I had that impression, yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. How did that impression arise, because of the lack of analysis or real critique on his part of that which he was reading, inability to assimulate the thrust of a work?

Mr. Thornley. No, I wouldn't say that. I would say he could analyze what he read very well, but it was a very subjective impression, and the idea I got was that there were a lot of things he didn't know, and just a lot of facts that he wasn't familiar with; I guess sometimes probably in discussions, I would run into something. I would mention something and he would say, "What is that?"

I know we did have a couple of very hot arguments and I am sure we were throwing facts at one another, and he was certainly able to belt them out when he wanted to, facts that suited his purpose in arguing.

Mr. Jenner. What was your impression of his—the extent of his formal education and the extent of any private education, that is, a reading—self-education.

Mr. Thornley. Self-education? I was certainly surprised that when I read in the papers that he had not graduated, I think they said he had not graduated from high school.

Mr. Jenner. That is correct.

Mr. Thornley. I thought he had graduated from high school. I assumed that. I would say that his self-education certainly must have been—perhaps, in fact, he took USAFI courses, United States Armed Forces Institute courses, or something along that line, because he was one who gave the impression of having some education, certainly.

Mr. Jenner. Do you have an impression of his intellect?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, I think he was—

Mr. Jenner. I am speaking in the abstract.

Mr. Thornley. I think he was extremely intelligent; with what information he had at hand he could always do very well with it, and in an argument he was quick. He was quick to answer, and it was not a matter of just grabbing at something. It was a matter of coming back with a fairly precise answer to your question or to your objection to his argument.

Mr. Jenner. I take it then it was your impression—I will change my question because I don't want to ask a leading question here. What was your impression as to whether his learning, in the sense we are talking about now, was superficial? Was he able to master that which he read, and engage in personal self-critique of that which he read, its weaknesses, and its major thrust?

Mr. Thornley. Well, I would say as I have said before, he certainly understood what he read. How much he had read, I don't know, but I do know that when he got on a subject in which he was interested, he showed a grasp of it. This is true with the book 1984, for example. It is true with Marxism.

Mr. Jenner. Now that interests me also. You mentioned that before, that is: his espousal or interest in Marxism as such. What was his ability, if he had any, and I am talking now idealistically only, to compare Marxism, Communism, democracy.

Mr. Thornley. I understand. I think—

Mr. Jenner. And did he understand the distinctions?

Mr. Thornley. Well, I think he understood the distinctions as well as most reasonably educated people do. I think he certainly had a Marxist bias in how—where he drew the lines.

For example, he could look upon the Soviet system today as a democracy by, of course, giving a completely different definition to the word "democracy" than I, for example. He would give—

Mr. Jenner. Can you remember some discussions or incidents that explain that?

Mr. Thornley. Well, I remember one in particular that always reminded me of his general outlook.

One day we got into an argument and I thought I was really going to pin him to the wall, I thought I was going to win this argument.

Mr. Jenner. On what subject?

Mr. Thornley. On Marxism. On the theory of history.

Mr. Jenner. Reconstruct the argument for me.

Mr. Thornley. Well,—all right. Let me add this:

When I was in my freshman year in college, we had been required to read and discuss the Communist Manifesto, which presents an indication of the theory of the Marx-Engels outlook on past and future history. The dialectical outlook. Oswald was also familiar with this outlook. As to what it constituted we both agreed. Oswald had argued previously that Marxism was a rational approach to life, a scientific approach to life.

Mr. Jenner. This was in argumentation with you?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. All right.

Mr. Thornley. With me.

I challenged him to show me any shred of evidence to support the idea that history took place in the manner described by Engels and Marx, that this was not just an arbitrary system looted from Hegel. And he, after some attempt to give me a satisfactory answer, which he was unable to do, admitted that there was no justification logically for the Marxist theory of history, but that Marxism was still, in his opinion, the best system for other reasons.

Mr. Jenner. Best as against what?

Mr. Thornley. Well, primarily as against religions. That first comment always sticks in my mind, him saying Communism was the best religion. He did think of Communism as, not as a religion in the strict sense, but as an overwhelming cultural outlook that, once applied to a country, would make it much better off than, say the Roman Catholic Church cultural outlook or the Hindu cultural outlook or the Islamic cultural outlook, and he felt that, as I say, to get back to this argument, he felt that there were enough other things about Communism that justified it that one could accept the theory of history on faith.

Mr. Jenner. What other things?

Mr. Thornley. Well, for one thing, he felt, as did Marx, that under capitalism workers are exploited, that in some way they are robbed of their full reward for their work by means of entrepreneurs' profits, and he felt that Marxism took this money and, instead of taking it away from the worker, spent it on the worker.

He felt that under a Soviet—under the present Soviet system, for example, that the money was spent for the benefit of the people rather than going to the individual who happened to be running the enterprise, and he thought this was a juster situation.

Mr. Jenner. Did you raise with him the price for the accommodation of the worker under the Communist system, of the substance or money of which you speak being returned to the worker, the price in terms of individual liberty as against the capitalistic or democratic system?

Mr. Thornley. You couldn't say this to him. Because he would say, "How do you know? How do you know what is going on there?"

Mr. Jenner. First, did you raise it with him?

Mr. Thornley. I raised it with him.

Mr. Jenner. You being a libertarian, as you say.

Mr. Thornley. Well, at that time I was—my ideas have changed since that time. At that time I was much to the left in my political thinking, I would say about in the same position that Mr. Stone who I spoke of earlier is now. I was on the lefthand side of the acceptable political spectrum in this country, and so, therefore, these issues, the issues I would now raise with him had I again the chance to speak to him would be much different than the issues I raised with him at that time.

I did not raise that issue particularly, I did not push it.

Mr. Jenner. Was there much, if any, discussion at the time on the issue of individual liberty?

Mr. Thornley. No, very little, because I wasn't too concerned about it at the time and neither was he. We were both concerned about what was the best for the greatest number of people. I don't think that concept was clear to either one of us.

Mr. Jenner. But, even having in mind the status of your political thinking at that moment, your political thinking did not square with his?

Mr. Thornley. No. I was opposed to the great trust that he put in—much greater than I suspected at that time, of course—trust that he put in the Soviet government in the world today. I felt they were misguided idealists. He felt they weren't misguided.

views with respect to capitalism as he understood existed in this nation.

Mr. Thornley. Well, I wouldn't say that we—I can't recall us having gone into any detail about anything so relevant to anything as capitalism in this nation at the time.

Mr. Jenner. These discussions were broader. They were more abstract?

Mr. Thornley. Usually, yes. Whenever we got specific we usually discussed the Marine Corps.

Mr. Jenner. I see.

You did not discuss the United States of America as such?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. And the Soviet Union as such, and compared the two countries?

Mr. Thornley. Well, as I say, you couldn't do this with Oswald because whenever you tried to make any statement about the Soviet Union he would challenge it on the grounds that we were probably propagandized in this country and we had no knowledge of what was going on over there.

Mr. Jenner. Did he purport to know what was going on over there?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. Did he show any interest in what was going on over there?

Mr. Thornley. He definitely showed interest.

Mr. Jenner. Give us some examples and tell us.

Mr. Thornley. I would say he took an agnostical approach to this. He'd claim that he didn't know whether to believe what he read in his newspaper, not that he used those exact words, or what he heard in this country. He took the attitude that "Well, they may be right and we may be right, but I suspect they are right."

Of course, once again, I always got the impression in any of these discussions that part of his slight bias toward the Communist way of life was an act of rebellion against the present circumstances.

Mr. Jenner. Do you think that bias, if any, was a mild bias?

Mr. Thornley. I thought so at the time.

Mr. Jenner. Did you have any impression at any time that he was interested from an objective standpoint, or that he might like to experience by way of personal investigation what was going on in Russia?

Mr. Thornley. It never dawned on me. It was the fartherest thing from my mind, although I certainly will say this: When he did go to Russia it seemed to me as a much more likely alternative for Oswald than say joining the Communist Party in the United States.

Mr. Jenner. Excuse me.

Mr. Thornley. It seemed to fit his personality.

Mr. Jenner. Would you read that? I lost the thought of it.

(The reporter read the answer.)

Mr. Jenner. Would you elaborate, please?

Mr. Thornley. Well, Oswald was not militant. At the time it didn't seem to me that he was at all militant. That he was at all a fighter, the kind of person who would glory in thinking of himself as marching along in a great crusade of some kind. He would be the kind of person who would take a quiet, as quiet as possible, for

For example, going to the Soviet Union would be a way he could experience what he thought were the benefits of Communism without committing himself to storming the Bastille, so to speak.

Mr. Jenner. Is it a fair statement that, in seeking to interpret or enlarge upon what you say, that you did not have the impression of him as being a person who thought in terms of seeking to implant in this country, for example, by force or violence or other leadership, Communism or Marxism so as materially to affect or change the government here?

Mr. Thornley. No, I didn't think he felt he had to do that. I thought he felt that that would inevitably happen some day and he was just getting into the swing of things by doing things his way.

I didn't think he felt that he could do much to promote the Communist cause or hinder it.

Mr. Jenner. Did he ever lead you to believe or did you have the impression that he had any thought or desire or inclination to implant Communism here or elsewhere.

Mr. Thornley. No, not any more than merely to win the argument. He certainly would have liked to have converted me or any other person who was willing to discuss it with him; he would have liked to have persuaded them that his ideas were correct.

If he had done so, I have no idea what he would have done then. I don't think he did either.

Mr. Jenner. What about his relationships, camaraderie with others on base?

Mr. Thornley. Almost nil.

Mr. Jenner. Almost nil.

Mr. Thornley. Yes, he got along—

Mr. Jenner. Enlarge on that please.

Mr. Thornley. He got along with very few people.

Mr. Jenner. Why was that, in your opinion?

Mr. Thornley. He was extremely unpredictable. He and I stopped speaking before I finally left the outfit. This will give you an example of—

Mr. Jenner. How did that arise?

Mr. Thornley. It was a Saturday morning. We had been called out to march in a parade for a man or some men, I believe they were staff NCOs who were retiring from the Marine Corps. This was a common occurrence. Every now and then we had to give up our Saturday morning liberty to go march in one of these parades and everybody, of course, having just gotten up, and having to look forward to a morning of standing in the hot sun and marching around, was irritable.

So, we were involved at the moment in the "hurry-up and wait" routine common to large organizations like the military.

We were waiting at the moment, in the parking lot by the parade ground, sitting. Oswald and I happened to be sitting next to each other on a log that was used to bank cars against in the parking lot.

I had just finished 1984 a couple of days earlier, and I had not yet discussed it with Oswald, and I was—he said something and I said something. I don't recall what it was. I was definitely thinking of 1984 at the time and I was using terms from 1984.

Oswald didn't seem to be particularly amused by what I was saying, and he seemed to be kind of lost in his own thoughts, and so I stopped making any comments at all to him for awhile, and then he turned to me and said something about the stupidity of the parade, of the whole circumstance right at the moment, how angry it made him, and I said, I believe my words were, "Well, comes the revolution you will change all that."

At which time he looked at me like a betrayed Caesar and screamed, screamed definitely, "Not you, too, Thornley."

And I remember his voice cracked as he said this. He was definitely disturbed at what I had said and I didn't really think I had said that much, and he put his hands in his pockets and pulled his hat down over his eyes and walked away and went over and sat down some place else alone, and I thought, well, you know, forget about it, and I never said anything to him again and he never said anything to me again.

Mr. Jenner. You mean you never spoke to each other from that time on?

Mr. Thornley. No. And shortly thereafter I left the outfit for overseas. I don't recall that we were ever in a situation where we would have spoken, but I know we never spoke after that. And this happened with many people, this reaction of Oswald's, and therefore he had few friends. He never seemed to have any one friend for a long length of time, one acquaintance. He seemed to guard against developing real close friendships.

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever—excuse me, you recall being interviewed by an agent of the FBI?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Did you say to them in connection with this sudden termination of the relationship between yourself and Oswald that you had made this comment to Oswald: "that he was a Communist and that things would be different when the revolution came?"

Mr. Thornley. No, I didn't tell them I said he was a Communist, no. But Oswald, certainly that was his reason for his anger.

There was an implied accusation of Communism in my saying "Comes the revolution you will change all that."

Mr. Jenner. Yes.

Mr. Thornley. You see, he wasn't understanding the comments I was making in relation to 1984 at all. Our traditional meeting ground here. He was interpreting them in light of his alleged Communism, and that is why he became angry. But no, I didn't say to him, "you are a Communist," ever.

Mr. Jenner. It is your explanation—

Mr. Thornley. This was not my opinion.

Mr. Jenner. You are interpreting that he in turn interpreted your comment that you accused him of being a Communist and then he made the remark "Not you, too."

Mr. Thornley. I am sure he interpreted that that way, but I certainly didn't think he was a Communist and I certainly didn't tell him so.

Mr. Jenner. To what did you attribute this inability of his to maintain reasonably cordial or at least service-family relations with his fellow Americans.

Mr. Thornley. Well, at the time I just thought: well, the man is a nut—at the very moment it happened. I dismissed it without thinking about it.

Mr. Jenner. See if you can articulate a little more, when you say

"a nut," a lot of people will interpret the expression "a nut" differently.

Mr. Thornley. I understand that. I was just trying to give you my first impression first, that he was some kind of a nut, and I stopped thinking about it.

Mr. Jenner. You mean "a nut" in the sense of an extremist, not an organized thinker.

Mr. Thornley. I didn't think about that enough to classify it. I just thought: something is wrong with him; maybe something is bugging him today; maybe he is crazy; I don't know what. But it just wasn't at that moment that important to me; I didn't feel much better than he did that morning, I am sure, so I just shrugged it off.

Later, I did reflect on it, and that, combined with his general habits in relation to his superiors, and to the other men in the outfit, caused me to decide that he had a definite tendency toward irrationality at times, an emotional instability.

Once again, right away I didn't know exactly what was the cause of this. A couple of years later I had good reason to think about it some more, at which time I noticed—

Mr. Jenner. Now when? Before the assassination?

Mr. Thornley. Yes. While working on The Idle Warriors.

Mr. Jenner. About when was this?

Mr. Thornley. From the time he went to the Soviet Union until February of 1962.

Mr. Jenner. You learned that he had gone to the Soviet Union?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, I was stationed at his former outfit, Marine Air Control Squadron 1, at the time he went to the Soviet Union.

Mr. Jenner. Where were you then stationed?

Mr. Thornley. That is where I was at the time.

Mr. Jenner. What country?

Mr. Thornley. At Atsugi, Japan.

Mr. Jenner. I see.

And you learned about it through what source?

Mr. Thornley. The Stars and Stripes, the military newspaper in the Far East. It was on page 3, I believe, a little article about Lee Harvey Oswald having appeared in the American Embassy in Moscow, having plopped down his passport and having requested Soviet citizenship.

My first reaction was "Good Lord, what is going on here?" And afterwards, I, of course—it began to occur to me, his interest in Communism, and I started kicking myself. Well, you know, just for so misjudging a person. I just—

Mr. Jenner. Misjudging? What respect, please.

Mr. Thornley. As far as his sincerity went. I did not ever think he was so interested in Communism to go to all the trouble to go to the Soviet Union and to jeopardize his citizenship, and so forth.

This was a great surprise to me. And right away I began to try to figure out the mechanism of his thinking.

Mr. Jenner. I see.

Keep going and tell me what your rationalization and thinking was at that time.

Mr. Thornley. And what caused him to do this.

This gets us back to the emotional instability and why did it occur. I do believe, to begin with, Oswald, how long he had acquired the idea I don't know, but I think in his mind it was almost a certainty that the world would end up under a totalitarian government or under totalitarian governments.

I think he accepted Orwell's premise in this, that there was no fighting it. That sooner or later you were going to have to love Big Brother and I think this was the central, I think this was the central thing that disturbed him and caused many of his other reactions.

I think he wanted to be on the winning side for one thing, and, therefore, the great interest in Communism. I think he wanted—I think he felt he was under a totalitarian system while in the Marine Corps, and, therefore, the extreme reactions when someone would call him a Communist. I think he had a persecution complex, and I think he strove to maintain it. I could not go so far as to say why. Perhaps it was necessary to his self-esteem in some way, and this was and is the general conclusion I now have as to his general motivations, his over-all motivations, insofar as he has tended to be emotionally unstable.

Mr. Jenner. Do you think he was emotionally unstable?

Mr. Thornley. I think so.

Mr. Jenner. That is an opinion you gathered from your association with him in the Marines.

Mr. Thornley. Yes. Primarily, once again, from that last experience, that short exchange and just the complete unexpectedness of it. And then, of course, after that is when I learned some of the other things, such as the pouring the beer over the staff sergeant's head. These things, I don't know when I learned them, but I do definitely know I learned them afterwards because I—

Mr. Jenner. You mean you learned of that incident after you left the base at El Toro?

Mr. Thornley. I believe I learned it over in Japan, as a matter of fact, I believe soon after I came out there somebody mentioned it in some connection or another, and that was because I remember, yes, I am sure it happened over there because I remember, then I said, "Oh, he was in this unit? He was in here in MACS 1," and somebody said, "Yes," and that was another connection in my mind as far as Oswald was concerned.

And then when the defection occurred, I therefore felt that I —I had been thinking for sometime of writing a book on the Marine Corps. I had not decided exactly what it was going to concern, what it was going to be about as far as plot or theme went, but the background would be the Marine Corps in Japan, because that was the first big, at that time to me, dramatic experience of my life suitable for a book and worth telling about.

So, when the defection occurred, on that same day, I thought, "Well, this is it. I am in a perfect position to tell how this took place, why this happened." I was not so interested in explaining Lee Harvey Oswald to myself or anybody else, as I was in explaining that particular phenomenon of disillusionment with the United States after serving in the Marine Corps overseas in a peacetime capacity, thus the title, The Idle Warriors.

Since Oswald inspired the book, I did base a good deal of it as a matter of convenience on his personality and on his ideas.

Mr. Jenner. You said you had the impression as you sat there in Japan that here was a man whom you felt wanted to be on the winning side.

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. What impression did you have as to why? Did you, for example, have the impression that he felt that his life had been such that he had been deprived of the opportunity to be on a side?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. What he conceived to be the leading side?

Mr. Thornley. No. I had a definite impression of why.

Mr. Jenner. All right.

Mr. Thornley. I think it is a mistake that many people make, and I think it is a mistake he shared, and that is that he looked upon, not only Marxists make this mistake, but he looked upon history as God. He looked upon the eyes of future people as some kind of tribunal, and he wanted to be on the winning side so that ten thousand years from now people would look in the history books and say, "Well, this man was ahead of his time." He wanted to be looked back upon with honor by future generations. It was, I think, a substitute, in his case, for traditional religion.

The eyes of the future became what to another man would be the eyes of God, perhaps, or to yet another man the eyes of his own conscience.

Mr. Jenner. So it wasn't in the prosaic sense of merely wanting to be on the "winning side."

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. When things developed.

Mr. Thornley. No, I don't think he expected things to develop within his lifetime. I am sure that he didn't. He just wanted to be on the winning side for all eternity.

Mr. Jenner. And you had the impression that that was in terms of selflessness. That he thought also in terms that Lee Harvey Oswald would be associated with this forward thinking.

Mr. Thornley. Right. He was concerned with his image in history and I do think that is why he chose the particular method he chose and did it in the way he did. It got him in the newspapers. It did broadcast his name out. I think he probably expected the Russians to accept him in a much higher capacity than they did.

I think he expected them in his own dreams to invite him to take a position in their government, possibly as a technician, and I think he then felt that he could go out into the world, into the Communist world and distinguish himself and work his way up into the Party, perhaps.

Mr. Jenner. Did it have to be the Communist world or could it be any world that he saw projected into the future?

Mr. Thornley. Any world.

Mr. Jenner. And, as you put it, this, in your opinion, had become a religion with him.

Mr. Thornley. Much more than he himself realized, even though he called Communism his religion.

Mr. Jenner. Did you have the impression there was a personal selflessness, that is a—I will put it in terms of disregard, or, rather, this way: that as far as his physical person was concerned, he wasn't concerned about life in the sense that he would continue to maintain life in his body?

Mr. Thornley. No. I think he wanted physical happiness. I think this is why he didn't do something like just join the Communist Party. I believe he felt that was dangerous. I think he wanted to live comfortably. But I think if it came to a choice between the two, or to put it this way, more relevant to events that developed later: I think if it became to his mind impossible for him to have this degree of physical comfort that he expected or sought, I think he would then throw himself entirely onto the other thing he also wanted, which was the image in history.

I think he wanted both if he could have them. If he couldn't, he wanted to die with the knowledge that or with the idea that he was somebody.

Mr. Jenner. Did you have the impression at any time that he, in turn, embraced a realization that his ability to accomplish personal comfort and status would be hindered by a lack of ability, capacity, training, education on his part?

Mr. Thornley. When I knew him, I don't think he had the vaguest thought in that direction. I do definitely, of course, based solely upon what I have read in the newspapers, think he came to that moment, after returning to the United States from the Soviet Union. I think he was getting panicky.

Mr. Jenner. In our discussion you can see it is important to me to obtain your thinking, uninfluenced to the extent you can do it. Of course complete lack of influence is impossible, but I am seeking your views first as to your state of mind prior to November 22.

Mr. Thornley. All right.

I would say that prior to November 22, I felt that he had gradually become disillusioned with the United States for many reasons, at the bottom was also his conviction, well, in fact, his disillusionment with the United States in the Far East probably contributed to some extent to his conviction that the Communists would eventually prevail, the Communist culture would eventually prevail in the world, and I then had the feeling that he certainly—I thought he would probably stay in Russia, for example, forever.

I didn't know what he was doing there. I realize from what I read at that time that he was not—he did not have Russian citizenship. He was staying there as an immigrant. I expected him to probably adjust to Russian life and that would be the last that the Western world would ever hear of Oswald.

Everything Oswald has ever done has surprised me.

Mr. Jenner. Please elaborate on that.

Mr. Thornley. When I knew him and since I knew him. When I knew him I was surprised when he was offended at my statement about the coming of the revolution that Saturday morning. I was surprised when I read in the papers overseas that he had gone to the Soviet Union. I was surprised when he came back. And I was entirely caught unawares when it turned out that he was involved in the assassination—to such an extent that for some time afterwards, I thought he was innocent.

Mr. Jenner. Why were you surprised first when he came back? And tell us before you do that where were you and how did you find out about it.

Mr. Thornley. I was in New Orleans. My parents sent me an article from the Los Angeles Times about it. The reason I was surprised at his coming back was, as I said before, I just expected that would be the last I would hear of him. I fully expected him to adjust to Soviet life." I thought what he—at that time I thought what he probably lacked in the Marine Corps was any sympathy for the over-all purpose of the Marine Corps. Whereas he certainly had sympathy for the over-all purpose of the Soviet government, so I didn't think he would mind the restrictions imposed on him, as he resented them in the Marine Corps.

I did not expect him to become disillusioned with the Soviet Union. I am not, of course, sure that he did become disillusioned with it. It just seemed unlike him to come back to this country that he said he would never live in, either as a capitalist or as a worker.

Mr. Jenner. When did he say that?

Mr. Thornley. He said that at a press conference in Moscow, according to the papers.

Mr. Jenner. This was something you read in the Stars and Stripes?

Mr. Thornley. I don't know whether I read this in the Stars and Stripes or whether I read this—I certainly read it when he came back from Russia, I remember. It was in the article from the Times my folks sent me. Said when he had left for the Soviet Union he had said such and such, quote.

Mr. Jenner. You said you did not expect him to become disillusioned with Soviet Russia. Was it your impression at any time, take the several stages, that he had a conviction with respect to any form of political philosophy or government?

Mr. Thornley. Well, he did definitely always before and after have a Marxist bias.

From anything that has come to me, I never had reason to doubt that.

Mr. Jenner. That, you think, was a conviction.

Mr. Thornley. I think that was an irrevocable conviction, you might say.

Mr. Jenner. Do you think it was not merely a theoretical concept which he used for argumentation?

Mr. Thornley. Let me put it this way: I think you could sit down and argue with him for a number of years in a great marathon argument and have piles of facts and I don't think you could have changed his mind on that unless you knew why he believed it in the first place.

I certainly don't. But I don't think with any kind of formal argument you could have shaken that conviction.

And that is why I say irrevocable. It was just—never getting back to looking at things from any other way once he had become a Marxist, whenever that was.

Mr. Jenner. Was he able to articulate distinctions between Marxism, Communism, capitalism, democracy?

Mr. Thornley. At the time I knew him and argued with him he didn't bother to articulate distinctions between Marxism and Communism.

At a latter time I understand he did.

Mr. Jenner. He attempted to.

Mr. Thornley. At the time I knew him, Communism was the modern, living vicar of Marxism, period.

Mr. Jenner. Were you in New Orleans when he was arrested for

Mr. Thornley. I arrived in New Orleans in the early part of September. If I was in New Orleans—

Mr. Jenner. 1963?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. This occurred in August of 1963.

Mr. Thornley. Then I wasn't there, no.

Mr. Jenner. Did you hear about it?

Mr. Thornley. No, I didn't. I didn't hear about it until after the assassination.

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever hear any of those tapes?

Mr. Thornley. I heard part of one of them, after the assassination, once again.

Mr. Jenner. Did that part include his effort to distinguish between Marxism and democracy in response to a question put to him by either Mr. Stuckey or one of the other participants?

Mr. Thornley. That is exactly what he was talking about at the time. I happened to be standing in the television station in New Orleans and he was saying, and I just got a snatch of it, I was passing through the room or something, and he was saying, "Well, there are many Marxist countries in the world today."

Mr. Jenner. This was by way of his answering a question as to what is the distinction between Marxism and Communism?

Mr. Thornley. Yes. He was saying there are many non-Communist, Marxist countries in the world today and he was definitely making a distinction between Marxism and Communism.

Mr. Jenner. But all he did was to cite the countries. He didn't attempt to make the distinction.

Mr. Thornley. It was only a snatch of it.

Mr. Jenner. That was a fair representation of his utterances during those two radio broadcasts and one television broadcast.

You mentioned also that you had a feeling on his part that he was laboring under a persecution complex?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. That was based, not necessarily first, but on the incident you relate that occurred on that Saturday morning.

Were there other incidents?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, there were many comments on his part about the walls having ears. I think, he felt the Marine Corps kept a pretty close watch on him because of his "subversive" activities, and for that reason alone. In fact I think he sought to keep himself convinced that he was being watched and being pushed a little harder than anyone else.

I don't think he was consciously, perhaps, aware of the fact that he went out of his way to get into trouble. I think it was kind of necessary to him to believe that he was being picked on. It wasn't anything extreme. I wouldn't go so far as to call it, call him a paranoid, but a definite tendency there was in that direction I think.

Mr. Jenner. Would you put it in terms that he had the feeling that he was being unjustifiably put upon?

Mr. Thornley. Oh, always, yes. He was, in fact, you almost got the feeling that he was—this was happening because of his defense. I mean he was always speaking of the injustices which had been perpetrated against him.

Mr. Jenner. Of his injustices as to him personally different from

Mr. Thornley. To him personally, yes. Well, and it was the fact that he had lost his clearance, and had gone out of his way to get into some degree of trouble, that went on to support this. For example, we would stand at muster in the morning, and Sergeant Spar would call the roll and he would say "Oswald" and Oswald would step out of the ranks and Spar would send him off to mow the lawn or something.

Oswald did get special treatment. As I say, he had brought it on himself, but he made the most of it, too, as far as using it as a means of getting or attempting to get sympathy.

Mr. Jenner. Well, what was the sergeant's name?

Mr. Thornley. Sergeant Spar.

Mr. Jenner. Spar, in using his name, I don't wish to, I am not suggesting anything personal as to Sergeant Spar, but I am just using him as a Marine Sergeant.

Mr. Thornley. And a very good one.

Mr. Jenner. You Marines, at least some of you, I assume, as had GI's and others, you "buttered up" sergeants, too, didn't you, in order to avoid being assigned too often to disagreeable tasks?

Mr. Thornley. No, you didn't have to. So long as you kept in line and obeyed orders, you didn't have to—you weren't assigned any disagreeable task in the kind of outfit I was in because there weren't that many.

When there was a disagreeable task to be done, it was assigned to somebody who had stepped out of line and there were always enough people who had stepped out of line and there was no problem to find them.

In fact, the problem was to find enough disagreeable tasks to go around. The only exception to this would be overseas a typhoon would hit sometimes and then everybody would have to go out and we would have to all, much to our dismay, wade around at two o'clock in the morning and tear down tents and so on and so forth.

Mr. Jenner. That was a thing that was common to all of you.

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. It was not a disagreeable task in the sense we are talking about.

Mr. Thornley. Right, and it was never necessary to have to "butter up" that I can ever think of to a superior of any kind in order to get exempted from anything.

Mr. Jenner. Well, do you think Oswald was aware that all he had to be was more tractable to the customs and practices of the Marine Corps in which he was then living and he would not be assigned more often than others disagreeable tasks?

Mr. Thornley. Well, that is hard to say. I don't know whether he was aware of that or not. I am not sure whether he permitted himself to be aware of it. Maybe he was aware of it and maybe he couldn't help it. Perhaps he had compulsions to do these things. Maybe he thought it was worth it and maybe he didn't feel that he was being treated unjustly at all. Maybe he just wanted everybody to think he felt he was being treated unjustly, if you follow me.

Mr. Jenner. I do.

Mr. Thornley. It could have been any of these things. I think it would take a good psychiatrist to find out which.

maintain" the status or milieu in which he had brought himself.

Mr. Thornley. Yes. I think this was possibly so. I think perhaps the feeling of being persecuted was necessary to his self-esteem. This is, I understand, a common thing, and it certainly fits in with everything else I know about him.

Mr. Jenner. Did you have that impression that you have just expressed at the time that you were associated with him in the Marines?

Mr. Thornley. At the time I was associated with him, I didn't have that impression because I was too busy wondering just what it was. I used to—I would see him doing stupid things. Maybe a wisecrack to an officer, for example, and I would say, "Well, doesn't the idiot know that if he does that he is going to have to do this" and yet he would resent his punishment.

Mr. Jenner. What would he do afterward?

Mr. Thornley. As if it had been thrust upon him for no reason whatsoever out of the blue.

Mr. Jenner. Did you have a feeling that he was impulsive in that respect, in the sense that sometimes he did things?

Mr. Thornley. He was definitely impulsive.

Mr. Jenner. That he had no control?

Mr. Thornley. Well, I don't know whether he had no control or whether he would just do things without thinking. I think maybe he just relaxed his controls once in a while, and why, I don't know.

Mr. Jenner. Did you have the feeling he was impulsive?

Mr. Thornley. Oh, definitely.

Mr. Jenner. He acted on the spur of the moment?

Mr. Thornley. He was spontaneous, very much so. I had this impression the whole time I knew him.

Mr. Jenner. You did have the impression, and I think you have mentioned it several times, that he had an exaggerated, either mild or otherwise, self-esteem.

Mr. Thornley. No, I didn't mention that that I recall. I did say that I think maintaining the persecution complex was necessary for his self-esteem and he was concerned very much with his image in history, but I don't think in the sense of being secure about his self-esteem; I don't think he was either conceited, for example, egotistical or just plain confident.

I don't think—I don't have any reason to believe that he, in his own eyes, had any reason to be proud of himself beyond the average, at most.

Mr. Jenner. I wasn't thinking of self-esteem in that sense and I didn't gather from your remark that you were thinking of it in that sense either, but rather in the sense of self-esteem in his own eyes, not in the sense of accomplishment or egoism.

Mr. Thornley. Now, I don't know. Self-esteem in one's own eyes, it seems to me, would have to be justified by some means. Some people justify it by means of their attraction to the opposite sex or by means of their standing in some country club. I think Oswald justified it by means of his recalcitrance, kind of a reverse self-esteem.

By means of his unwillingness to do what he was ordered, for example.

of others, not necessarily his officers, but the esteem of somebody or some group or some persons about him and in his life—

Mr. Thornley. I think he wanted this very much, but I don't think he knew how to go about getting it. He wanted it, and yet he certainly didn't—I think he would have felt he was cheating himself if he had offered them anything in exchange for it. He wanted it, but he wanted it to come to him for no reason. He didn't want to have to earn it. I got that impression. That is a very mild impression.

Mr. Jenner. We are dealing in a very delicate field here and I am pressing you very severely.

Mr. Thornley. These are sometimes very gray, thin lines we have to distinguish between.

Mr. Jenner. We are probing for motivation. Did you ever discuss with him the matter of education?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. His own education in the abstract, the need for education in order to attain accomplishments, any regard to whether his status in life, his personal comfort, his personal peace, could be advanced by further education?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever have the feeling of any discomfort on his part, inferiority because of his limited education?

Mr. Thornley. No.

First of all, in the Marine Corps there is a prevalence of this kind of feeling among many of the enlisted men, and Oswald was exempt from it.

Mr. Jenner. What do you mean "exempt from it"?

Mr. Thornley. Well, he didn't, for example, have the usual bitterness towards somebody who read, well, just merely because he did read.

Mr. Jenner. He may have felt superior because he did read, did you have that feeling?

Mr. Thornley. Oh, yes.

Mr. Jenner. That was a definite feeling?

Mr. Thornley. I wouldn't say anything in my experience with him caused me to particularly notice that he felt superior because he did read. But, yes, there is one time. A friend of his, I don't know who it was, I haven't been able to recall the name so far, one morning looked over at our Commanding Officer who was walking by, Colonel Poindexter, an air ace in Korea.

Mr. Jenner. A what?

Mr. Thornley. An ace pilot in Korea, and made the comment, "There goes a mental midget" which drew him—drew glee from Oswald, as I remember. But aside from that one particular incident—well, in any case, when he was dealing with military superiors he always felt superior to them.

You got that impression. But dealing with the other Marines who maybe did have an education or did not have an education, I didn't get any, ever get any impression one way or the other that he had a tendency to react to this.

Mr. Jenner. As between yourself and him and your association, what was your feeling? He regarded himself as compatible with you and you with him?

—I thought his education was about the same as my own, which certainly isn't spectacular by any means. I thought he might have had a year of college. I knew he had—I figured he had graduated from high school. It never occurred to me to think any more about it. I did, as I mentioned before, notice once in a while that he had gaps in his knowledge, but many people do, in fact all of us do I am sure in all fields.

But in Oswald's case they perhaps had an unusual pattern to them or something that made me notice them, perhaps. Perhaps he was better read, for example, on Marxist economics than any other school of economics, things like this. But that was the extent of it.

Mr. Jenner. Do you recall some other readings of his in addition to 1984?

Mr. Thornley. I do recall having mentioned Dostoevsky to him and I know he had read something and I think it was Crime and Punishment, but I am not sure. It was something I had not read by Dostoevsky when I had read I guess at that time about three or four books.

Mr. Jenner. It is a great book.

Mr. Thornley. Some day I am going to get around to it.

Mr. Jenner. Have you not read it yet? It is a really great book.

Mr. Thornley. And I don't recall him mentioning any other books offhand. I don't—I can't think of a thing besides 1984 and some book by Dostoevsky.

Mr. Jenner. While you were based at El Toro did he engage, did you notice, in any officer baiting on his part with respect, in particular, to such matters as foreign affairs?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Not on foreign affairs, no, but the same officer. Lt. Donovan spoke of a foreign affairs lecture in the newspapers. I do remember him baiting him on a couple of occasions.

Mr. Jenner. Oswald attempting to bait Officer Donovan?

Mr. Thornley. I don't remember what it was. I believe Lt. Donovan was also a lieutenant which I had had a couple of run-ins with, if I remember correctly.

If not, it may have been Lt. Delprado. It was probably one of the two of them. Mine were completely accidental and I went to great lengths to keep away from one of them because it seemed like any time I was around him I happened to do something to irritate him. But Oswald, I don't recall exactly what he said, but he, a couple of or three times, went out of his way to say something to one of these lieutenants that would cause them to be irritated and in this you can't really say that he was exceptional. It happened many times. In Oswald's case though, it was exceptionally—

Mr. Jenner. You mean it happened many times with respect to other non-coms in the Marines with respect to these officers?

Mr. Thornley. Right.

But in Oswald's case it seemed a little more deliberate. Some guys would get mad and they would say something, or sometimes they would do something by accident, and they would get themselves involved and then they would decide, "Well, what the hell," and push it all the way.

Oswald it seemed didn't have to have any reason. He just told an officer to get lost.

Mr. Thornley. Yes. I might mention that this was one means by which he won the admiration of others in the outfit in that the junior officers especially are usually disliked, or were in that outfit, and this made him on such occasions as he engaged with an officer in some kind of officer baiting, this won the respect for at least a few minutes of the men, who would kind of laugh about it, and chuckle over it, and tell others about it. Perhaps this is why he did it.

Mr. Jenner. You mentioned some slovenliness on his part. What about his quarters, his barracks? Did you have occasion to observe them?

Mr. Thornley. I don't think I was ever in his barracks. I do recall having been told that he had Russian books and that is all I—that is the only connection I can make now in my mind with his quarters. I don't think I ever saw them.

Mr. Jenner. You already have given us something of his view of the United States Marine Corps.

Would you give us a summary of that? Give us your impression of his views with respect to the United States Marine Corps.

Mr. Thornley. Well, definitely the Marine Corps was not what he had expected it to be when he joined. Also he felt that the officers and the staff NCOs at the Marine Corps were incompetent to give him orders.

Mr. Jenner. Incompetent in what sense? They were below him intellectually?

Mr. Thornley. They were below him intellectually—and for various reasons in each case, too.

Maybe this officer was ignorant, as was brought out about foreign affairs in Oswald's mind, knew less than Oswald did about it. I don't hold with the stand that Oswald would study up on foreign affairs simply in order to bait the officer. I think it just happened to be that Oswald would see that the officer was basing his foreign affairs maybe on Time Magazine when Oswald had done a little more reading and I think he resented this Time-Magazine approach to foreign affairs.

Mr. Jenner. How did these descriptions arise, Mr. Thornley. The discussion of foreign affairs by officers.

Mr. Thornley. Well, the officers, every so many weeks, this is mentioned somewhere in this pile of papers, every so many weeks a lieutenant is appointed to give a foreign affairs lecture or a current affairs lecture, pardon me, to the troops, at which time he explains the world situation in a half hour.

I remember having one second lieutenant telling us about Dalai Lama—or it was a first lieutenant—and I forget what he told us but it was something completely absurd. I think at that time the Dalai Lama had just disappeared or something, and one would get the impression that the Dalai Lama was a leader in Pakistan or something.

Mr. Jenner. That is the impression the lieutenant tried to convey?

Mr. Thornley. Well, I think that was the impression the lieutenant had. At the last minute, he got down and started going through the news magazines to get his information, got it somewhat inaccurately, and didn't particularly care whether it was accurate or not anyway. Stood up in front of the troops and reeled [illegible] of the enlisted men didn't know enough to criticize him either because they weren't that interested, and that was it—with a couple of people laughing up their sleeves, and this happened later, this didn't happen at the time I know Oswald.

However, in such a situation Oswald would have been careful, I am sure, to raise his hand and correct the lieutenant.

Mr. Jenner. I was going to get to that.

During the course of these lectures did the troops, as you called them, engage in discussion with the instructor?

Mr. Thornley. They were permitted to ask questions, to raise their hand to ask a question. And Oswald would have probably asked a question which would have made light of the lieutenant's ignorance.

Mr. Jenner. Put the lieutenant at a disadvantage?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. Were you present at any times when you were at El Toro, when the lectures occurred, at which time Oswald raised his hand and engaged in dissertation?

Mr. Thornley. I might have been, but I don't recall it if I was. I recall being present at several lectures at El Toro, and it just might have happened. It was the kind of thing Oswald would do and it wouldn't even have phased me. I probably wouldn't even have bothered to remember if it had happened. It would have been just part of the daily routine there, so I would have—

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever engage in that sort of thing?

Mr. Thornley. No. I never had guts enough to stand up and tell an officer he didn't know what he was talking about. Behind his back I might tell somebody that such and such officer didn't know what he was talking about, but I was never quite that brash, in that particular respect anyway.

Mr. Jenner. What were your impressions on Oswald being interested in music?

Mr. Thornley. Not being interested in music myself particularly—

Mr. Jenner. I take it you had none, that is, any impressions as to his interests?

Mr. Thornley. So, therefore, I had none, correct.

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever play chess with him?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever see him playing chess with anyone else?

Mr. Thornley. Just now, as you mention it, the word "chess" has a definite association; I think he did play chess. I can't place the person. This—there were some other people in the outfit who played chess. There is one man I have been trying to remember for a long time, and I think it starts with "win" something. "Winter" something, probably way off base there. But a tall, blond corporal, I believe, played chess—and a couple of other men in the outfit played chess. At that time I guess I knew how to play chess. I have never been particularly interested though in the game, so I don't—I am pretty sure I didn't play chess with him.

In fact, come to think of it I had just been cured of playing chess three months before that; somebody beat me in about six moves and I stopped playing for about a year. It wasn't me.

Mr. Jenner. While at El Toro did Oswald become engaged in any physical altercations with anybody?

Mr. Thornley. No, definitely not to my knowledge. Never got into any fights or even any hot personal arguments over anything that I know of.

Mr. Jenner. What was your impression, if you had one then, as to his disposition in that regard?

Mr. Thornley. I had the impression that he avoided violence.

Mr. Jenner. While you were at El Toro do you recall whether Oswald ever went off the base on liberty?

Mr. Thornley. As far as I know he didn't.

Mr. Jenner. Were there any discussions on the base as to what, if anything, Oswald had—

Mr. Thornley. Not in my presence.

Mr. Jenner. What, if anything, Oswald had done off the base on liberty?

Mr. Thornley. Not in my presence.

Mr. Jenner. Was there ever any discussion of Cuba and Castro and that problem?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. All right, tell us all about that.

Mr. Thornley. Well, at that time I and Oswald were both, and a couple of other men in the outfit were quite sure that Castro was a great hero.

Mr. Jenner. Why?

Mr. Thornley. Well, he was liberating Cuba from Batista and, of course, we had heard all about Batista and what an evil man he was, which I am sure was true, and most of us had read some of the things written by Castro, some of Castro's promises such as that he would take no part in the government after the revolution and such things. I remember there was one Puerto Rican boy, myself, Oswald, a couple of others who had quite an admiration for Castro, and thought the pro-Communist statements he was or might be making at the time were made simply to guarantee a little more independence for his island because it was located so close to the United States.

In other words, I felt at the time he was playing both ends against the middle in order to go his own way, something like Charles de Gaulle is doing right now by recognizing Red China.

I felt it was purely statesmanship, statecraft, power politics. I didn't feel that Castro was a dedicated Communist. Whether Oswald did or not I don't know. He admired Castro because of the social reforms Castro was introducing.

So did I at that time.

Delgado, the Puerto Rican boy, as I recall it, was becoming worried at that time because he was beginning to think maybe Castro was Communistic. I didn't think so. Oswald, as far as I know, didn't have anything to say on that matter. And that is about all I can tell you.

Mr. Jenner. Well, you say that you admired Castro and you knew Oswald admired Castro, but you tell us on what you base that comment?

Mr. Thornley. Well, as I remember there was one of these afternoon discussions once again, and somebody was saying something, worried about Castro. It might have been Delgado; it might have been somebody else; I don't think it was Delgado that day because I think he was defending Castro. Somebody said something against

He thought Castro was good for Cuba, and they asked why, and I took up the argument, which was the argument I just gave you, the naive idea I had at the time that he was playing for independence, and Oswald remained silent shaking his head affirmatively a couple of times, and that was it.

Mr. Jenner. Shaking his head affirmatively with respect to the comments you were making?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, to my argument, to my justification of Castro.

Mr. Jenner. But you recall no provocative remarks that he made in that connection?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. Did Oswald have a nickname?

Mr. Thornley. Not that I know of, except "Oz" sometimes.

Mr. Jenner. Did you ever hear him referred to as "Ozzie Rabbit"?

Mr. Thornley. Well, yes. I didn't realize that anybody else referred to him as such, but I always thought of him as such. He reminded me very much of a cartoon character at that time. It was kind of pathetic. There was something about this little smile of his, and his expression on his face and the shape of his head, just the general, his general appearance established a definite association in my mind with some cartoon character. And I very recently in a discussion with someone, describing Oswald, mentioned that he reminded you of, I said, "I think there is a character called 'Oswald Rabbit' who appears in movie cartoons." And they shook their head.

Now, I know where I got that particular example. So I probably heard him referred to as "Ozzie Rabbit," though I don't recall specifically when.

Mr. Jenner. Did he occasionally have a nickname or a reference made to him attendant upon his interest in the study of the Russian language or his interest in Communism or in Russia or Soviet—

Mr. Thornley. Only he was sometimes called a Communist and as far as his study of the Russian language went he made no attempt to hide this.

In fact, he made, would make attempts to show it off by speaking a little Russian.

Mr. Jenner. He was proud of that, was he?

Mr. Thornley. Yes. There was someone else in the outfit who spoke Russian, don't ask me who, they used to exchange a few comments in the morning at muster and say hello to each other or something, and he also would make jokes in Russian, not in Russian, but in English, in a thick Russian accent many times; this was very typical of him.

Mr. Jenner. He resorted to that area and use of satire?

Mr. Thornley. Yes. Until I had made the comment that implied he was a Communist, I had no idea—

Mr. Jenner. That he was sensitive?

Mr. Thornley. —that he was sensitive about it, because he didn't seem to be.

Mr. Jenner. Did he have any visitors?

Mr. Thornley. Not that I recall.

Mr. Jenner. Was there any discussion at any time about the possibility of his going to Russia?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. This was a complete surprise to you when you saw

Mr. Thornley. Somebody would say to him "Why don't you go and live in Russia," in the middle of an argument.

Mr. Jenner. I didn't mean that in that sense, but did he volunteer a statement on his part about his going to Russia?

Mr. Thornley. Never anything, no.

Mr. Jenner. I take it it was your opinion he was not a Communist at the time he was assigned to El Toro?

Mr. Thornley. That was my opinion.

Mr. Jenner. I take it you have never seen or talked with Oswald subsequent to the time you left for Japan, from El Toro?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. My statement is correct?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. It follows, I take it, that you were never aware that he was in New Orleans when you were there?

Mr. Thornley. No, I wasn't.

Mr. Jenner. You were not aware of his comings and goings other than the newspaper report that your folks sent you?

Mr. Thornley. I was aware that he had come back from the Soviet Union and gone to Dallas, and I know I at that time did think about going to see him in Dallas for the book, to find out just why he did go to Russia, to check it with my own theory.

Mr. Jenner. I take it that Oswald had no close personal friends, at least that you observed?

Mr. Thornley. That is correct.

And the name of his closest friends I do not know. I do remember he had a close acquaintance that he seemed to get along with pretty well.

Mr. Jenner. In the unit?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, but I don't recall this man's name. If it was mentioned to me, I probably could, but—

Mr. Jenner. You were groping for it when you were interviewed. You suggested it might be Charles—

Mr. Thornley. I mentioned a Charles.

Mr. Jenner. Weis.

Mr. Thornley. Weir, but that was not the man. This was a friend of a friend of the friend, or a man who could give them that information, perhaps, that I couldn't.

At this time perhaps, also, I was thinking of a possibility it might have been Weir and since then I have remembered definitely who Weir was.

Mr. Jenner. Who was he?

Mr. Thornley. I don't remember whether his first name was Charles but I remember who he was. There was a man named Cooley. There was somebody else, and these are my associations, but who it was who used to talk Russian in the ranks with Oswald in the morning I don't know, but that is who it was.

Mr. Jenner. Is this particular man you now mentioned the man who occasionally talked Russian with Oswald in the ranks, is he the man who you had in mind?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. As having been a friend of Oswald's?

Mr. Thornley. Yes. In that in the same respect that I was a [illegible] the exact terminology I would use

Mr. Jenner. Yes, I would say from your [illegible] of the relationship with Oswald it was an acquaintanceship [illegible] than a friendship.

Mr. Thornley. I think it was probably the [illegible] with this person from what I recall, to my knowledge.

Mr. Jenner. In other words, when you say "friend," he wasn't a buddy of Oswald?

Mr. Thornley. No, Oswald was not the [illegible] person who had, as it has been emphasized on all parts, I [illegible] had it confirm[illegible] my own impression, was not the type of person [illegible] made close friends or who stuck with close friends.

Mr. Jenner. You saw no instance in which Oswald evidenced affection for anybody, I mean in the nice [illegible] the word?

Mr. Thornley. No, none whatsoever.

Mr. Jenner. Or anybody evidence any affection in the nice sense of the word for him?

Mr. Thornley. No.

Mr. Jenner. I take it your trip to Mexico [illegible] was purely one of general interest as you have described and [illegible] nothing to do with any interest on your part in going to Cuba [illegible] attempting to go to Cuba?

Mr. Thornley. Believe me, no! I have the [illegible] to go to Cuba unless I am going to take a rifle and be [illegible] invasion force or something.

Mr. Jenner. Did you hear of anybody in the [illegible] Corps, whose last name was Hidell?

Mr. Thornley. At the time this name was [illegible] to me that was—that person, whoever it was that Oswald [illegible] to speak to in the ranks in the morning came to my mind. But I can't say that that was the name, and I am—of course, now, I am very leery that that —very uncertain as to ever having heard the name "Hidell," and I doubt it very much.

Mr. Jenner. Shortly after the unfortunate [illegible] of November 22, 1963, you were interviewed by Secret [illegible] Agents, were you not?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. This was the evening of the [illegible] of November?

Mr. Thornley. Was it the 23rd?

Mr. Jenner. It probably ran over.

Mr. Thornley. It must have been Saturday [illegible] then. I had thought it was Sunday evening.

Mr. Jenner. In any event you were [illegible] interviewed by some newspaper reporters?

Mr. Thornley. Yes. That was quite [illegible] afterwards.

Mr. Jenner. Well, it was before November [illegible], was it not?

Mr. Thornley. It was after the 25th, I [illegible] it was after I had finished talking to the F.B.I., as I remember.

Mr. Jenner. I will mark as Thornley [illegible], I what purports to be a Xerox reprint of a newspaper article

(The document referred to was [illegible] Exhibit No. 1 for identification.)

Mr. Jenner. Are you acquainted with [illegible]

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. In what newspaper was [illegible]

Mr. Thornley. The States-Item of New [illegible]

Mr. Jenner. And that article was a result of the newspaper man's interview with you?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Did you see it upon its publication?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. You are familiar with it?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. Does it substantially accurately reflect, at least portions of it, in reasonable context, the interview you had with the newspaper reporter?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, to a surprising degree for a newspaper on the basis of my past experience and dealings with them.

Mr. Jenner. Is there anything in that article that you regard as reasonably seriously erroneous?

Mr. Thornley. Not when I read it the last time.

Mr. Jenner. In so far as it attributes anything to you?

Mr. Thornley. May I reread it?

Mr. Jenner. Yes.

Mr. Thornley. I would say this is accurate in everything it attributes to me.

Mr. Jenner. All right.

I offer Thornley Exhibit No. 1 in evidence.

Now, it appears from that article and from the testimony you have given this morning that, as you have indicated, you prepared at least a first draft of a book or pamphlet or article respecting your experiences in the Marine Corps, one of the central characters of which, mythical or otherwise, was a friend, Oswald.

Mr. Thornley. That is correct.

Mr. Jenner. And when I spoke to you by telephone the other day, I inquired of you as to whether that was still in existence and you responded that it was.

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. And you were kind enough to say you would bring it with you.

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. Have you done so?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. May I see it, please?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir. Here is the draft completed in February of 1962.

Mr. Jenner. Yes, I am interested in seeing that in its condition as of that time.

Mr. Thornley. Right. That is it. There is only one addition and there is some blank paper on top. There is one addition, and that is the short preface written yesterday to give some idea of how much was fact and how much was fiction.

Mr. Jenner. All right—the page numbered two?

Mr. Thornley. There was a table of contents once and it took two pages.

Mr. Jenner. Which I might identify in addition thereto as having the word "Preface" at its top and your name and May 17, 1964, Arlington, Virginia, at the bottom is what you prepared yesterday. Is that correct?

Mr. Thornley. Correct.

Mr. Jenner. All of the balance, therefore, commencing with the pages numbered 3 and running through, I assume, consecutively.

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. To page 250 is the article as it was when you completed it in February 1962?

Mr. Thornley. Precisely.

Mr. Jenner. I would like the opportunity of reading through this and, of course, 200-odd pages, we don't have the time to do it as the moment, and the Commission would like to have it among its records. May I have the material and I will take it in the back room and we have a Xerox and have it duplicated? This, I appreciate, is your personal property and it is of value. It is not something that the Commission will place in the hands of others who may make commercial use of it.

Mr. Thornley. I am quite sure that it will be perfectly safe.

Mr. Jenner. All right. It is in the same condition now, that is, pages 3 through 250, as those pages were when you completed this manuscript in February 1962?

Mr. Thornley. Yes. There might have been a couple of spelling errors corrected since then or typographical errors, but that is all.

Mr. Jenner. And that article of which we now speak and which for purposes of identification I will mark as Thornley Exhibit No. 2, and I offer Thornley Exhibit No. 2 in evidence.

(The document referred to was marked Thornley Exhibit No. 2 for identification.)

Mr. Jenner. Subsequently thereto, I understand from my conversation with you, you prepared a revision of that paper.

Mr. Thornley. I have been working on a revision.

Mr. Jenner. And you were kind enough to say you would bring that along with you as well.

Have you done so?

Mr. Thornley. I have between this draft—

Mr. Jenner. When you said "this draft" you are referring to Thornley Exhibit No. 2?

Mr. Thornley. No. 2, and the draft I am now giving you several illegible drafts were made. This represents now the latest draft, the latest typewritten draft. It represents a fragment of it.

The first third, almost the first third, minus a couple of pages of a novelette based upon this Exhibit No. 2.

Mr. Jenner. For purposes of identification the witness has now handed me a set of letter-sized pages numbered 1 through 37 consecutively.

Are they consecutive?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. And I take it, as against the length of the other paper, that is pages 1 through 37, incomplete.

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. That is it covers only a portion of the areas and times covered by Thornley Exhibit No. 2.

Mr. Thornley. This one takes a completely different approach in that this did not take a chronological approach to the development of the character based on Oswald, but takes a flashback approach.

Mr. Jenner. I see.

Mr. Thornley. Centering around an investigation of that character after his defection to the Soviet Union.

Mr. Jenner. For further identification of the document which I will mark Exhibit No. 3, page 1 is entitled Chapter 1, "Gung Ho."

Page 14 in the upper portion is entitled Chapter 5, "Peace Gospel."

And page 37, Chapter 12, "The Chicken."

(The document referred to was marked Thornley Exhibit No. 3 for identification.)

Mr. Thornley. Now, this Exhibit No. 3 is a much greater fictionalized approach toward, well, as far as reference goes to Oswald, the character upon—the character which is based upon Oswald in Exhibit No. 2, Johnny Shellburn, Exhibit No. 3 is much farther from life.

Mr. Jenner. Is Johnny Shellburn assimilated to Oswald?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, much more so in Exhibit No. 2, though, than in this one.

Mr. Jenner. That is No. 3.

Mr. Thornley. Yes, since I wrote No. 2, I have learned to write fiction rather than a lengthy disguised biography.

Mr. Jenner. In other words, Exhibit No. 2 was primarily a biography?

Mr. Thornley. Not in the strict sense that it portrayed a man's life in detail, but in the sense that any reference, most of the references, as is explained in this preface, towards the end of the book—

Mr. Jenner. When you say this preface, you mean the preface to Exhibit 2?

Mr. Thornley. That is: Johnny Shellburn toward the end of the book, well, from before the middle of the book on, tends more and more to reflect Oswald's character, and I definitely was thinking about Lee Harvey Oswald when I wrote this book, Exhibit No. 2, whereas—

Mr. Jenner. In your discussion refer to them by Exhibit numbers.

Mr. Thornley. I will keep my hands below the table.

Mr. Jenner. You don't have to do that. Just use the exhibit numbers.

Mr. Thornley. Whereas in Exhibit No. 3, I have universalized it more, tried to get away from giving any impression that I am making a chronology of the life and times of Lee Harvey Oswald, which is something I thought would be relevant as far as the Commission would be concerned in reading the material.

Mr. Jenner. Would you mark Exhibit No. 3 accordingly, Mr. Reporter.

I offer in evidence Thornley Exhibit No. 3. I take it, Mr. Thornley, that you commenced the preparation of Exhibit No. 3 subsequently to the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir.

Mr. Jenner. And that Exhibit No. 3 reflects a course of events and their imprint upon you that occurred on and after November 22, 1963.

Mr. Thornley. No, no. Exhibit No. 3 reflects the same course of events reflected in Exhibit No. 2. As far as the telling of the story goes and the characters therein it takes place back in 1959. It makes a definite attempt, however, to get away from Oswald as a specific character and to discuss the problem of disillusionment in the peacetime military or disillusionment with values on a much more universalized range than Exhibit No. 2.

Mr. Jenner. All right.

May I make a copy of Exhibit No. 3?

Mr. Thornley. Yes.

Mr. Jenner. Under the same circumstances and upon the same conditions as you granted your consent to make a copy of Exhibit No. 2?

Mr. Thornley. Yes, sir. Exhibit No. 3 also does include some things on—that I have acquired through the news on Oswald since the assassination because Oswald tends to reflect the type of person I was talking about.

So to put it, to make it as clear as possible, right now I realize I am saying Exhibit No. 3 is more like Oswald and less like Oswald, to put it as clearly as possible—

Mr. Jenner. You are going in two directions at once.

Mr. Thornley. Exhibit No. 2 is more like the Oswald I knew in MACS 9, the Oswald of my experience, whereas Exhibit No. 3 is a universalized Oswaldian-type character based upon not only my own experience but the news that has come to me about Oswald, about other people like Oswald, other defectors, other assassins, and so on and so forth, since November 22nd.

Mr. Jenner. All right.

Now, Mr. Thornley, tell me something about Kerry Thornley. You obviously, to me, are not a doorman.

Mr. Thornley. Oh, yes, I am a doorman.

Mr. Jenner. You are at the moment performing that service. But that isn't your objective in life.

Mr. Thornley. My objective is to write books, novels primarily, as many as I can in the years that are given to me, and possibly upon publication of one of them to go back to school to further my ability to write.

Mr. Jenner. Are you taking any training in that respect or have you in recent years?

Mr. Thornley. Well, not formally. I have devoted myself to a lot of exercises in writing, and I have availed myself of the help of any experts I could grab on to, including successful novelists and former newspaper reporters and so on and so forth, to help me solve problems in my writing and improve it, but there is really, to my mind, my outlook on writing a novel, for example, there is not much you can learn from a formal course in writing. I think you can learn much more from, say, the study of linguistics or semantics if you are going to learn anything from a university, for example, on writing, and this I intend to do in due time.

Mr. Jenner. We occasionally have been off the record, not often, and I have talked with you on the telephone, is there anything that was said between us in the course of our telephone conversations or in any off the record discussions that you think is pertinent to the Commission's assignment of investigating the assassination of President Kennedy that I have failed to bring onto the record?

Mr. Thornley. No, sir, I think we have very thoroughly covered it.

Mr. Jenner. Is there anything that occurs to you that you would like to add that you think might be pertinent to our inquiry and of help to the Commission?

Mr. Thornley. No, there is certainly nothing else I can think of.

Mr. Jenner. Your deposition will be written up rather promptly. We probably will have it tomorrow, and would you be good enough to call me, say, —when do you go on duty?

Mr. Thornley. At five o'clock.

Mr. Jenner. Call me in the forenoon, I mean right after lunch. And if it is convenient will you come in and read over your deposition and sign it?

Mr. Thornley. All right.

May I, just to make absolutely sure, may I take down your phone number once more?

(Whereupon, at 12:40 p.m., the taking of the deposition was concluded.)

AUTHOR'S NOTE: According to the Warren Commission's report, certain statements in the foregoing were in error. Most importantly, Oswald did not lose his clearance at any time. Also, he apparently did not ever work in the security files—though he continued to work in radar operations up to the time of his discharge.

9 Uniquely Constructive Attacks on America by

Carl Sandburg—Nelson Algren

G. Harry Stine—Paul G. Neimark

Herbert Hyman—James T. Farrell

Charles E. Wilson—Louis G. Alexander

L. Sprague De Camp

THIS IS CRISIS:

FARRELL: "Democracy has always been in danger. History is a nightmare of blood. But some of that blood is the blood of heroes."

ALEXANDER: "It is doubtful that Henry Ford's concept of a self-propelled vehicle could be processed through all the chain of command of the Ford Motor Company today."

HYMAN: "Instead of being an efficient and frightening competitor, it is only the bungling inefficiency of the Kremlin which has kept us from being outdistanced. . . ."

SANDBURG: "It has happened before. Strong men put up a city and got a nation together . . ."

ALGREN: "I suspect we are well on our way toward gaining a moon and losing ourselves. For nowhere before has there been such a monstrous division between the actual lives of a people, and representation of those lives as purveyed by Cinerama, LIFE, TIME or The Reverend Peale."

NEIMARK: "America's victory or failure will pivot upon its recognition—or evasion—of the difference between two words: egotism and egoism."

WILSON: "I think there comes a time in the affairs of men when that which is called 'practical' must fit into what is called 'ideal' . . . Man's real enemies are ignorance and fear of the unknown, with their handmaidens, prejudice and greed and impulsive stupidity, which are sometimes mistaken for self-interest."

STINE: "Will the Russians attack us? . . . Remember Warsaw in 1945. Korea in 1950. Budapest in 1956. Do you think that the men responsible for these acts would hesitate for a moment to attack us if they thought they could get away with it?"

DE CAMP: "Soft-headed Americans must be convinced . . . Of course, many knowing people will say what I propose is politically impossible. Well, maybe. But if it is, then perhaps it is also impossible for the United States of America to survive. It's nice to have known you."

LYNDON B. JOHNSON said of CRISIS:

"I have read several of the articles and found them most interesting. One thing that stands out in my mind is that this is a race for the minds and hearts of men. We must endeavor to win . . . My warm thanks to you."

The initial print run of CRISIS on newsstands and in bookstores has sold out. New Classics House will reprint a second edition in fall of 1969. If you wish to obtain a copy of CRISIS prior to that, send $5 with your name and address to

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

The New Classics House, Chicago, Illinois, recently sent to the Director, a copy of a book entitled, "Oswald" by Kerry Thornley.

Kerry Thornley was a former associate of Lee Harvey Oswald at a Marine base near El Toro, California, during the approximate period April, 1959, to June, 1959. During that period, Thornley was in frequent contact with Oswald, but did not associate with him off the base nor was he a close friend of Oswald.

Following Thornley's discharge from the Marine Corps, Thornley worked as a doorman and waiter, and wrote a book entitled, "The Idle Warriors," based upon his experiences in the Marine Corps. He was unable to obtain a publisher for the book. However, following the assassination Thornley decided the main character in his book closely resembled Oswald in philosophy and actions and is now trying to interest publishers in the book. In the current book entitled, "Oswald," Thornley uses several chapters from "The Idle Warriors" in an effort to embellish his knowledge of and his association with Oswald.

In his current book entitled, "Oswald," Thornley does not produce any facts concerning Oswald that were not brought out during our investigation of Oswald. Much of his effort is spent in psychoanalyzing Oswald and speculating as to Oswald's motives for the assassination and his plans for the future had he escaped. Thornley is of the opinion Oswald had a desire for power and that failing to achieve his objective either in the United States or in Russia, sought fame through killing President Kennedy. Thornley feels that Oswald would never have confessed to the crime, but would have maintained he was innocent to the very end. The final chapter of Thornley's book is merely a report of his testimony before the Warren Commission. In this testimony he refers to the fact that he had been interviewed by the FBI, but does not elaborate on his testimony nor is he at all critical of the FBI.

OBSERVATIONS:

This book by Thornley is not a good piece of literature. The language in the book at times is raw and there does not seem to be any continuity of contents. It sells for seventy-five cents a copy, in paper back form and appears to be an effort by Thornley and the publisher to make a quick financial killing. It is highly doubtful if it will achieve this purpose.

John Russell Freeman, Frederick, Colorado, personally appeared at the Denver Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on May 28, 1965, and stated that Penn Jones, Jr. had telephonically contacted him today and stated that he had been contacted by Dallas FBI Agents today. Freeman stated Jones was very angry with him for furnishing information to the FBI and indicated that he did not divulge the names of the two high Government officials and apparently denied much of the information furnished by Freeman. Freeman stated further that Jones informed him Dallas Agents handed him a 3-page, single-spaced FBI report containing Freeman's comments.

He stated further that he believes Jones feels that if he tells the FBI the names of the two high officials in Government, that this fact will get back to these officials and Jones fears for his life.

He stated further that Jones has also informed him on one occasion that when he is able to prove his theory that he will come to Frederick, Colorado, and he and Freeman will print the entire story in three weekly newspapers and then they would both hide out in the Rocky Mountains.

Freeman added that he may at some time in the near future furnish the identities of the two high Government officials to the FBI.

Rodolfo Osvaldo Di Marco,
Also known as John Charlie Bradley

In March, 1965, a letter written in Spanish and dated March 11, 1965, was received by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) at Washington, D. C., from an individual who identified himself as Rodolfo Osvaldo Di Marco, but who also advised that his other name is John Charlie Bradley. The writer of this communication, which was unsigned, furnished his address in the "Argentine Republic" as Calle Laguna 1330, and stated that his address in the United States is "Calle Tulane Avenue, New Orleans, Louisiana, no. 2474".

Continuing, the translated letter, in part, reads as follows:

"As you know, the Warrens (sic) Comission Report is negative with respect to the masterminds of the death of the late President John F. Kennedy.

"I ask you to please extend your investigation to this country in whatever form is appropriate.

"Since I am being charged with the crime, when in reality I do not know anything about the cell (sic), it is not possible that I bear sole responsibility.

"I leave it up to you, sir; please, put an end, once and for all, to such a long investigation.

"I believe that you know who are the parties responsible for his death".

Re: Rodolfo Osvaldo Di Marco,

On March 11, 1965, T-1, a confidential source in position to obtain the information furnished, advised that one Rodolfo O. Di Marco, 1330 Laguna Street, Buenos Aires, Argentina, who is personally unknown to T-1, recently indicated that the death of John F. Kennedy was planned in Buenos Aires. No further information or details were furnished by Di Marco.

Records of the Consular Section, American Embassy, Buenos Aires, Argentina, disclosed that Rodolfo Osvaldo Di Marco, residence Calle Laguna 1330, Apartment 2, Buenos Aires, Argentina, is in the process of applying for an G-1 immigration visa to the United States. Further data in the records disclosed that Di Marco was born on December 10, 1934.

On February 26, 1965, the Consular Section forwarded a notice to Di Marco instructing him to complete the necessary documents in connection with his desire to obtain an immigration visa. No derogatory information concerning Di Marco was shown.

On March 31, 1965, T-2 stated he had verified that Rodolfo Osvaldo Di Marco resides at Calle Laguna 1330, Apartment 2, Buenos Aires, together with his mother and a brother, having lived at this address for the past twenty years. Neighbors of Di Marco considered him to be a good person and "normal" in every way.

Di Marco, according to source, was previously employed by the Union Telefonica (Telephone Union) in Buenos Aires, but was dismissed some years ago, the reasons for such dismissal being unknown to source. He is presently employed by the City of Buenos Aires, exact nature of his work unknown.

Continuing, the same source advised that at least one person in the vicinity of Di Marco's residence who is acquainted with him regards the latter as being a "Peronist-leftist sympathizer."

Enclosed to the Bureau are 10 copies of letterhead memorandum concerning information furnished by PENN JONES, JR., on 5-28-65. One copy furnished Denver.

As stated in referenced Dallas teletype to Bureau, JONES was interviewed by two Agents in a Bureau car in front of his newspaper office and was not at any time furnished any documents. The information attributed to him as a source by JOHN RUSSELL FREEMAN was discussed with him in detail in order to obtain his version.

For the information of the Bureau, PENN JONES, JR. was the subject of Dallas file 100-9057 (Bufile 100-395874). JONES apparently was the subject of ill-founded and malicious rumors accusing him of being a communist sympathizer. It was further noted JONES was primarily involved as the victim in Dallas file 157-187 entitled, "UNSUB; Incendiary Device Thrown into 'Midlothian Mirror', Midlothian, Texas, 4-30-62".

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On May 28, 1965, the following information was furnished by Penn Jones, Jr., owner and editor of "Midlothian Mirror", a weekly newspaper published at Midlothian, Texas, in reply to information furnished by John Russell Freeman, owner and editor of the "Farmer and Miner", a weekly newspaper in Frederick, Colorado, as set out in Denver, Colorado, letterhead memoranda dated May 18 and 28, 1965. The information furnished by Freeman was discussed in detail with Jones, but no documents were shown to Jones.

Jones first met Freeman in Dallas, Texas, in October, 1963, after Jones had made a speech at the Unitarian Church. The speech had been made against the conduct of the ultra-right wing element in Dallas at the time Adlai Stevenson was a guest speaker in Dallas.

After the speech, Freeman introduced himself and stated he was in full accord with Jones' ideology and wanted to know what he could do in this regard. Jones suggested he purchase a small newspaper with which to publish his Democratic ideas.

Following the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Jones covered the trial of Jack Ruby on a part time basis as a newsman. Freeman assisted him somewhat by covering part of the Ruby trial.

As to Freeman's statement that Jones has a theory about the assassination that Lee Harvey Oswald was paid a large sum of money to commit the act by two brothers from Texas who are very high up in the Government of the United States, Jones emphatically denied ever having such a theory or ever mentioning to Freeman or anyone else that a large amount of money was paid to Oswald by anyone. He denied knowing any brothers from Texas or anyone else referred to by Freeman.

During the spring of 1964, Jones did visit in Washington, D. C. and met Theodore Sorenson, who was formerly on President Kennedy's White House staff, and had Sorenson autograph a copy of his book, "Decision Making at the White House". Jones had only a brief visit with Sorenson and did not discuss any theory he had of the assassination with Sorenson. Sorenson did not refer him to Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

During the same trip to Washington, D. C., he did contact Attorney General Kennedy for the purpose of having him autograph Jones' copy of a book entitled "Profiles in Courage" written by the late President Kennedy. This visit was very short, and he did not discuss any theory he had concerning the assassination with Kennedy.

Kennedy introduced Jones to his assistant, Nicholas Katzenbach, in order to get rid of Jones. Jones then talked to Katzenbach five or ten minutes, during which time he expressed his sorrow for the assassination. Jones stated he did not discuss any theory he had concerning the assassination with Katzenbach and did not mention anyone he suspected of paying Oswald to assassinate President Kennedy.

He has had no further contact with Katzenbach since that time.

As to Freeman's statement that Jones had much information in his possession which he could document, for example, proof that Oswald was in Atlanta, Georgia, about one year before the assassination of President Kennedy and that a scheduled stop President Kennedy was supposed to make at Atlanta was called off, Jones advised he recalled that President Kennedy was supposed to have stopped at Atlanta but the plans had been changed. He further recalled that according to the news media, Oswald had stayed at a motel in Atlanta where he had left his rifle and had to return for it. Jones continued the news media subsequently stated the story was a hoax and the motel operator had admitted Oswald had not stayed there.

FOUNDAT

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Concerning the "Postal Advisor" who was supposed to have been in Atlanta on the date Oswald was there, as well as being in Dallas on the date of the assassination of President Kennedy, Jones stated he knows of no postal advisor in Dallas or anywhere else as referred to by Freeman and knows of no postal official taking a leave of absence at the time Lee Harvey Oswald was reportedly in Mexico.

Jones volunteered the following information concerning the Jack Ruby case:

He is planning to print a story in his June 2 issue of the "Midlothian Mirror" concerning George Senator, Ruby's former roommate, lying to the Warren Commission. In the Warren report, Senator stated on the date of Oswald's murder in Dallas, after being interrogated by the Dallas Police Department, he was released. He then went to the TV Bar, where he stayed a while and later went home with Attorney Jim Martin. According to Jones, Senator failed to tell about a conference the same night in his apartment between himself, Tom Howard, reporter; Bill Hunter of a Long Beach, California, newspaper; Jim Koethe, a reporter and Dallas Attorney C. A. Droby.

Jones declined to furnish his source on this information but stated Attorney Droby and George Senator set up the conference for the purpose of taking pictures and getting the story at Ruby's apartment. Jones pointed out Tom Howard has since deceased with a heart attack, Bill Hunter has also deceased, as well as Jim Koethe, who allegedly had been killed in Dallas by Larry Earl Peno with a Judo chop.

Jones stated he had interviewed Droby concerning the above conference, but Droby did not discuss it other than to state the conference was set up at the request of an unidentified newsman. Droby told Jones he was at the conference but did not hear any conversations as he sat down in the living room while the others walked around the apartment conversing.

JOHN RUSSELL FREEMAN
OWNER AND EDITOR OF THE "FARMER AND MINER"
A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN FREDERICK, COLORADO

Lieutenant Guy Miles, Colorado State Patrol, Lafayette, Colorado, advised on May 14, 1965, that he had heard that the owner of a newspaper in Frederick, Colorado, had information that $125,000 was paid to Lee Harvey Oswald for the assassination of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Lieutenant Miles further advised that this amount of money was reportedly paid to Oswald by someone in the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. Lieutenant Miles stated that he did not obtain this information directly from the owner of the newspaper and that he had heard it from a lady, not further identified.

Mrs. Elaine Freeman, wife of John Russell Freeman, Frederick, Colorado, advised on May 14, 1965, that her husband was not available for interview on that date inasmuch as he was out of the city; however, he would be available on May 17, 1965.

Mr. John Russell Freeman, Frederick, Colorado, was contacted on May 17, 1965. He is a male Caucasian, born on January 2, 1934, in De Leon, Texas. Mr. Freeman advised that he has lived in the State of Texas most of his life and that he attended North Texas State University and Southern Methodist University, pursuing a journalism course; however, he did not receive a degree in journalism. He continued that after leaving school he began working for the "Dallas Morning News" as a reporter and later as a printer. He stated that he was employed by this newspaper for about eleven years and was employed there until July, 1964, when he purchased the "Farmer and Miner" in Frederick, Colorado.

JOHN RUSSELL FREEMAN

Mr. Freeman stated that while in Dallas, Texas, he became acquainted with Mr. Penn Jones, Jr., Editor of "The Midlothian Mirror," a weekly newspaper published in Midlothian, Texas, a community located about 24 miles north of Dallas, Texas. He advised that Jones was the winner of the 1963 Elijah Parish Love Joy Award for Courage in Journalism. Mr. Freeman stated that both he and Mr. Jones are strong Democrats and are dedicated in finding and printing the truth.

Mr. Freeman further advised after the assassination of President Kennedy, Mr. Jones began a very thorough, painstaking investigation on his own to determine the entire truth behind the assassination. He stated that after hearing Mr. Jones speak, he (Freeman) approached Mr. Jones and asked what he could do to help. Jones informed him that he should leave the "Dallas Morning News" and purchase a weekly newspaper where he could express his views. Mr. Freeman stated that he took Mr. Jones' advice and has also been aiding him in this investigation of the assassination.

Mr. Freeman continued that Mr. Jones has a theory about the assassination that Lee Harvey Oswald was paid a large sum of money to commit the act by two brothers from Texas who are very high up in the Government of the United States. Mr. Freeman stated he knows of no exact amount paid to Oswald and he does not know the source of the figure, $125,000.

Mr. Freeman stated that he knows the identity of the two brothers; however, he is not at liberty at this time to divulge their identities to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). He stated that he is not trying to work against the FBI but that this theory is Mr. Jones' theory and Mr. Jones has not authorized him to divulge the identities of these two men. He did state, however, that the older brother has been associated with President Lyndon B. Johnson for many years prior to Mr. Johnson becoming President and that he is at the present time a "right-hand man" of President Johnson in the White House. He advised further that the younger brother is a disreputable drunk, however has, through the efforts of his older brother, served in the United States Government as a "Postal Advisor" in the Post Office Department. Mr. Freeman stated further that since Mr. Johnson became President, both of these brothers have risen rapidly to become high Government officials. He stated that Mr. Jones believes the motive behind the assassination was to further the positions of the two brothers in Government. He added that neither he nor Mr. Jones believes that there is any connection between Oswald and the communists or the ultra-right; however, they are both convinced that Oswald could not have possibly been alone in the commission of this crime.

Mr. Freeman stated that both he and Mr. Jones have conducted much investigation concerning this theory and that in about February or March, 1964, Jones contacted Theodore Sorenson, formerly on President Kennedy's White House staff, and discussed his theory on the assassination with Sorenson. Mr. Freeman advised that Mr. Sorenson referred Jones to Mr. Robert Kennedy who was at that time still Attorney General of the United States. He continued that Jones personally contacted Mr. Robert Kennedy in Washington, D. C.; however, when Kennedy learned the purpose of the visit, he stated that he did not wish to hear about it himself and suggested that he furnish the information to the Assistant Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach.

Mr. Freeman stated that Jones did discuss this entire matter with Mr. Katzenbach and that Mr. Katzenbach advised that it was just a theory and that facts were needed to support it. Mr. Freeman added that he felt sure Mr. Jones furnished the names of the two brothers to Mr. Katzenbach during the initial contact and subsequent contacts that Jones has had with Mr. Katzenbach.

by THEAARC

He advised further that he does not believe that Mr. Jones has contacted the Dallas Division of the FBI concerning this matter since he has been furnishing all of his information to Mr. Katzenbach who is now the Attorney General of the United States.

Mr. Freeman stated that Mr. Jones has much information in his possession which he can document and for example stated that Jones has positive proof that Oswald was in Atlanta, Georgia, about one year before the assassination on the day that President Kennedy was scheduled to make an Atlanta stop; however, for some reason, the Secret Service did not allow his plane to land in Atlanta on that occasion. He added that Jones can also prove that the "Postal Advisor" referred to above, was in Atlanta, Georgia, on the same date that Oswald was there and also was in Dallas, Texas, on the day of the assassination. He stated that Mr. Jones can also prove that this same official took a leave of absence from the Dallas Post Office at the same time Oswald was in Mexico; however, he has no proof that he met Oswald in Mexico.

Mr. Freeman concluded that the best source for additional information and documentation concerning the above theory is Mr. Jones in Midlothian, Texas. Mr. Freeman added that he (Freeman) is scheduled to give a speech on May 21, 1965, before the Journalism Department of Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colorado, and that it was his intention to mention this theory slightly, however, not to go into it in detail.

Dear Mr. Allen:

I read your column about Boris H. Klosson, State Department official. You write that Mr. Klosson is about to receive a promotion after having been the government employee responsible for clearing Lee Harvey Oswald's return to the United States in spite of Oswald's alleged defection. In your article you infer a possible ethical contradiction between Mr. Klosson's behavior in this regard and his recent promotional reward. But as Lee Oswald was no more a Marxist or a genuine defector than you are, I see no reason to withhold from Mr. Klasson this deserved career step-forward.

Many years ago, when I was a much smaller girl than I am now, I was taught that truth will out. Murder will out, too, if one gives it time enough.

Re Dallas airtel to Bureau dated 10/27/64 concerning L. H. (BUDDY) HOUGH, who is reportedly endeavoring to obtain certain items relating to LEE HARVEY OSWALD for the creation of an "Oswald Museum" at St. Augustine, Florida.

On 6/2/65 Detective R. W. WESTPHAL, Special Service Bureau, Dallas PD, telephonically advised SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING that the Dallas PD had received a letter from the St. Augustine, Florida, PD asking that the Dallas PD verify whether L. H. HOUGH had actually purchased any items of furniture from residences where OSWALD resided in Dallas, Texas. Detective WESTPHAL said it appeared the St. Augustine PD was interested in knowing exactly what HOUGH was attempting to do and were not particularly pleased with his efforts to establish an "Oswald Museum" at St. Augustine, Florida.

Detective WESTPHAL advised that he contacted the former landlady of OSWALD at 621 North Marsalis, a Mrs. BLEDSOE, who admitted to Detective WESTPHAL that she had sold HOUGH a bed, dresser, chair and desk from the room that OSWALD had occupied and that she had not received any cash payment for these articles but had permitted HOUGH to repair her front porch. Detective WESTPHAL stated that Mrs. BLEDSOE was on some type of pension and would not accept cash payment from HOUGH for fear it would effect her continued receipt of the pension.

The above is furnished the Bureau for its information in the event it should receive any inquiry concerning HOUGH's establishment of an "Oswald Museum" at St. Augustine, Florida.

SUBJECT: CONGRESSMAN JOHN M. SLACK, JR.
Democrat, West Virginia
Member of House Appropriation Subcommittee
Handling State, Justice, Etc., Appropriation Bill

Congressman Slack telephonically contacted the writer and referred to the fact that during the course of the hearings on the State Department appropriation bill he had raised some questions with regard to the repatriation of Lee Harvey Oswald, the assassin of President Kennedy. He pointed out that this questioning developed the fact that one Boris H. Klosson was Counselor for Political Affairs at the Moscow Embassy who signed the despatch with regard to Oswald and indicated that Oswald had learned a hard lesson the hard way and had acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the U. S. with regard to Oswald's desire to return to America. Congressman Slack inquired as to the present assignment of Klosson and the State Department furnished for the record the information that Klosson is now assigned to the American Embassy at Kingston as Deputy Chief of Mission.

Congressman Slack went on to state that a few days after the release of the State Department hearings an individual had contacted him and indicated that Klosson had, back in the mid 1940's, allegedly been associated with some woman who was a known Communist. Slack indicated that he would appreciate it if it would be possible to know what, if anything, the Bureau's records might reflect concerning Klosson's background, particularly in the mid 1940's, with regard to this information and stated he did not wish to discuss over the phone any further details of his conversation with this unidentified party at this time. I advised the Congressman I would check and see what, if anything, we had concerning Klosson and be in touch with him, which was agreeable with him.

A review of the Bureau's records reflect that Klosson was originally the subject of an Internal Security-Russian investigation in 1943 as an employee of the Department of State. This investigation was instituted on information received from the State Department that Klosson was a member of the USSR Country Committee of the State Department and that he was alleged to be a pro-Soviet member of the Committee. Bureau files revealed that the name of Boris Klosson, 1066 Colvin Boulevard, Kenmore, New York, and/or 136 Curtis Street, Medford, Massachusetts, appeared in an address book in the possession of Louise Morley, a suspected Soviet agent, upon her arrival in the United States in January, 1943. This investigation revealed no additional derogatory data concerning Klosson. It did reveal, however, that he was a representative of the State Department attending a Russian language course at a school being handled by the Office of Naval Intelligence.

Memorandum for Mr. Mohr
RE: CONGRESSMAN JOHN M. SLACK, JR.

In addition to the above, Klosson was the subject of a full-field investigation in November, 1953, under the Security of Government Employees program. A preliminary inquiry under the Loyalty of Government Employees program was conducted in 1948 based on the same data as appeared in the 1946 investigation set forth above. On 11-22-54 the Civil Service Commission advised Klosson had been "retained." At this time Klosson was Deputy Chief, Division of Research for USSR and Eastern Europe, State Department. Attached is a compilation of the background material available in the Bureau's records, including the above, concerning Klosson. Also attached for information are Zerox copies of the pages dealing with Congressman Slack's questioning of the State Department dealing with the repatriation of Lee Harvey Oswald.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the writer be permitted to call on Congressman Slack, orally apprise him on a confidential basis regarding the information set forth above and ascertain what, if any, additional information the Congressman has learned as well as the source of such information concerning Klosson.

BORIS HANSEN KLOSSON
FORMERLY BORIS HANSEN KLOWSKI

Klosson was born as Boris Hansen Klowski, January 21, 1919. at Buffalo, New York (his name was legally changed to Klosson in 1923).

Klosson was originally the subject of an "Internal Security - Russian" investigation in 1946 while an employee of the Department of State. This investigation was instituted on information received from the State Department that Klosson was a member of the USSR Country Committee of the State Department and that he was alleged to be a pro-Soviet member of the Committee. Bureau files revealed that the name of Boris Klosson, 1056 Colvin Boulevard, Kenmore, New York, and/or 136 Curtis Street, Medford, Massachusetts, appeared in an address book in the possession of Louise Morley, a suspected Soviet agent, upon her arrival in the United States in January, 1943. This investigation revealed no additional derogatory data concerning Klosson. It did reveal, however, that he was a representative of the State Department attending a Russian language course at a school being handled by the Office of Naval Intelligence. (100-345566)

In 1948 Klosson was unit chief (acting) at the State Department and a preliminary inquiry under the Loyalty of Government Employees program was instituted based on the same data as appeared in the 1946 investigation. No additional derogatory information was developed during this preliminary inquiry. In November, 1953, a full-field investigation under the Security of Government Employees program was instituted at the request of the State Department based on the same information as the 1946 investigation. No additional pertinent information was developed during this inquiry other than one reference who had sponsored medical aid to Russia in 1941 and had commented favorably concerning the Soviet constitution in 1936. On November 22, 1954, the Civil Service Commission advised Klosson had been "retained." At the time of this investigation Klosson was Deputy Chief, Division of Research for USSR and Eastern Europe, State Department. (121-8468)

In 1957 Klosson was the subject of a "Atomic Energy Act - Applicant" investigation as he was assigned to the National War College as a faculty member. No derogatory data was developed during this investigation. (116-431656)

ENCLOSURE

According to a list of State Department employees assigned to the United States Embassy in Moscow from 1956 to 1962 (when the list was prepared), Klosson was assigned to the Embassy as "Political Officer" in 1959 and was there as of March, 1962, when the list of employees was compiled. (65-67259-3)

In connection with the investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President Kennedy, the passport file of Oswald revealed that his passport renewal application on July 10, 1961, was sworn to by Oswald before Richard E. Snyder, Consul, American Embassy, Moscow. A State Department despatch number 29 from the American Embassy, Moscow, dated July 11, 1961, listed the reporting officer as Snyder and the despatch was signed for the Ambassador by Klosson, "Conselor for Political Affairs" at the Embassy. (This despatch contains information concerning Oswald's appearance and interview at the Embassy in Moscow on July 8, 1961, relative to his desire to return to the United States with his wife and Snyder appears to be the official who interviewed him). (105-82555-3937)

This State Department despatch number 29 sets forth the following paragraph relating to Lee Harvey Oswald as noted by the American Embassy interviewing official, Mr. Richard Snyder:

"Twenty months of the realities of life in the Soviet Union have clearly had a maturing effect on Oswald. He stated frankly that he had learned a hard lesson the hard way and that he had been completely relieved of his illusion about the Soviet Union at the same time that he acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the United States and the meaning of freedom. Much of the arrogance and bravado which characterized him on his first visit to the Embassy appears to have left him. He stated that he is in contact with his mother and a brother in the United States. He stated that he had about 200 rubles and that he and his wife would save more for eventual costs of traveling to the United States."

The FBI reviewed this despatch during our checks of State Department records concerning Oswald prior to the assassination. It was this despatch that was the basis for the Director's statement in his testimony before the President's Commission on May 14, 1964, that "The report of the State Department that indicated this man was a thoroughly safe risk." This despatch appears in the "Hearings Before the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy" as Exhibit 935, Volume XVIII, pages 137-139.

visas and you have not had an increase in personnel. Is that correct?

Mr. YLITALO. The streamlining program is carrying on, Mr. Chairman.

(Discussion off the record.)

Mr. YLITALO. There was a total increase of nonimmigrant visas last year of 23 percent worldwide.

Mr. ROONEY. I am trying to find out if you came up with some innovations in this operation as Mr. Welch did some years back.

ISSUANCE OF VISAS BY MAIL

Mr. YLITALO. We are working on innovations now. One of the innovations already in effect is the issuance of visas by mail. Now we are giving the highest priority to finding ways of improving our visa card files at Foreign Service posts. For the most part, these cards are the records of previous applications. We have millions of cards around the world and it is quite a workload for the staff to work with these cards every time somebody applies. While maintaining the qualitative standards of the law, we think it is possible to reduce this file and do a better job. Such an improvement does not necessarily require mechanization, but rather involves a study of the length of time the posts should retain those cards as well as a careful study of the purposes of the cards. We think in a short time we will have a new procedure which will make it easier for the posts to handle the increasing visa workload. And, of course, we are in favor of automating. We have worked closely with the automation people and we see a real good chance of reducing the workload. It seems there is a good possibility that through the use of a machine, without going into what the cost might be as soon; that is, with utilization of a machine we might have for other purposes as well, perhaps we can perform some of these functions in a more efficient way.

Mr. ROONEY. Has your area been the beneficiary of any research contracts?

Mr. YLITALO. No, sir.

Mr. ROONEY. You probably are doing a good job as you always have, and without frills.

Mr. YLITALO. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. Slack?

Mr. SLACK. Mr. Schwartz, you are the Administrator of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Yes, sir.

Mr. SLACK. Then I could assume you are familiar with all the rules, directives, and regulations regarding the issuance of passports?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. To an extent, yes, sir.

REPATRIATION OF LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. SLACK. Are you prepared to answer some questions growing out of the repatriation of Lee Harvey Oswald?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I am generally familiar with it.

Mr. SLACK. I am in the right department?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I think so, yes.

Mr. SLACK. The Warren Commission states that from November 1959 to February 1961 the American Embassy heard nothing of

ENCLOSURE

Oswald. He had turned in his passport and indicated he planned to remain in the Soviet Union. Then in February 1961 he wrote the Embassy and asked that arrangements be made to permit him to return to the United States. He came to the Embassy in July 1961 and was interviewed. On the basis of this interview apparently the Embassy concluded that Oswald had not legally expatriated himself. He was given back his passport, which at that time was valid only until September 1961. In May 1962, after 15 months of dealing with the Embassy, his passport was renewed and he and his wife were given permission to enter the United States.

Now, to me, Mr. Schwartz, it is obvious that any American who disappeared from sight in a foreign country for over a year and then suddenly reappeared and requested reentry into the United States could have developed almost anything in the way of a physical disease, some form of addiction, or emotional breakdown.

Is it a fact that the pertinent Federal law permits reentry under these conditions and, if so, who must be satisfied as to the acceptability of a citizen?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Sir, once it was determined that Oswald had not lost his citizenship——

Mr. SLACK. Does Federal law permit reentry under these conditions as was just stated, according to the Warren report?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Yes, sir.

Mr. SLACK. The second part of that question is, if so, who must be satisfied as regards the acceptability of a citizen?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The Department of State must be satisfied that the person is a citizen. The Immigration Service, if it did not agree with that determination, would exclude the person at the port of entry.

Mr. SLACK. In a case of this kind who makes the final decision?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The final decision on citizenship in the Oswald case was made by the Department of State in Washington, based on reports from the Embassy that Oswald was still a citizen.

Mr. Hickey, if my memory fails me on this, will you correct me? It is my recollection the determination was made in the Department.

Mr. HICKEY. That is correct.

Mr. SLACK. Are any written or oral tests given of any kind, or is it simply an interview after which the individual is turned loose on the body of American citizens?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. When the Embassy is in doubt a question is often given to the applicant. A questionnaire was given to Oswald in this case. He had to fill out a questionnaire, which is one of the items taken into account in determining whether or not he had performed any act which could have resulted in his expatriating himself.

Mr. CROCKETT. But on the point of emotional stability and all that, we have no jurisdiction over any of that.

Mr. SLACK. How many U.S. Embassy officers participated in the interview or interviews with Oswald in Moscow?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I would have to check the file on that. I do know certainly one officer, the one who testified before the Commission. My recollection is that there was at least one other officer who had spoken to or interviewed Oswald. I am sure of one, Mr. Snyder, who testified before the Commission.

ENCLOSURE

The Department's files and the "Report of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy" (app. XV and testimony of Mr. Snyder in hearings vol. V) indicate that Oswald was interviewed by Mr. Richard E. Snyder on October 31, 1959, concerning his expatriation and again by Mr. Snyder on July 6 and July 10, 1961, concerning the return of his passport. Oswald was also interviewed by Mr. John A. McVickar on July 11, 1961, concerning Marina Oswald's admittance to the United States.

RETURN OF AMERICANS FROM CUBA

Mr. SLACK. I noticed in the press of February 16 that three American shrimp fishermen had run aground off Cuba the week prior to that and that they did this deliberately so they would not have to return to the United States. What will happen, under present law, if they go to the Swiss Embassy, which I understand is presently acting for the United States, and request a right to return?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. This is an active case at this very moment. I believe that they will be repatriated, returned to the United States.

Mr. SLACK. You say they will be returned?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The Swiss will report to us and if, as you indicated, a request came in from them to us to come back, they would be returned to the States.

My recollection is that some, if not all, of these people are fugitives from the States. There are some criminal charges against them, I believe.

REPATRIATION OF LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. SLACK. Mr. Schwartz, on October 2, 1964, the Washington Star had a press report with regard to testimony before the Warren Commission of the Director of the FBI, Mr. Hoover. Mr. Hoover states that his department received from the Department of State a document which evaluated Lee Harvey Oswald as a "thoroughly safe risk."

The following day, on October 3, for the State Department, a spokesman, Robert J. McCloskey, denied there was any such document in the files of the Department. The conflict here apparently refers to a two-and-a-half-page summary of an interview between Oswald and Richard E. Snyder of the American Embassy on July 9, 1961.

What is the present occupation and responsibility of this Mr. Richard Snyder?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I will have to check that, sir. I do not know where Mr. Snyder is now.

(The information follows:)

Richard E. Snyder is now assigned to the American Embassy, Tokyo, as special assistant to the Ambassador.

Mr. CROCKETT. If I may, Mr. Slack, I would like it specifically understood that the State Department does not have any authority to investigate any American citizen for entry into the United States on security, emotional health, or anything else.

Mr. SLACK. Do you think it might be well if there were legislation introduced in this field?

Mr. CROCKETT. I do not know. It might well be.

I would just like to have it understood no State Department person was derelict in his duty in this case because he had no authority, no jurisdiction or responsibility in any of these areas of emission, health, or security, in the return of an American citizen to this country.

Mr. SLACK. Mr. Schwartz, in this press release of October 3, it was reported that Mr. Boris H. Klosson, counselor for political affairs at the Moscow Embassy, reported that 20 months of the realities of life in the Soviet Union had clearly had a maturing effect on Oswald.

It quotes Klosson as saying:

He [Oswald] stated frankly he had learned a hard lesson the hard way and that he had been completely relieved about his illusions about the Soviet Union, at the same time that he acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the United States and the meaning of freedom.

To quote again:

• • • much of the arrogance and bravado which characterized him on his first visit to the Embassy appears to have left him.

I would like to know the assignment and responsibility Mr. Boris H. Klosson now has with the Department.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I would have to check that unless somebody present happens to know.

(The information follows:)

Boris H. Klosson is now assigned to the American Embassy, Kingston, as deputy chief of mission.

Mr. SLACK. On that same day, October 3, reference is made in the press to another document written by the Office of Soviet Union Affairs of the Department to the visa office recommending the issuance of a visa to a Mrs. Oswald. In this document it is recommended that Mrs. Oswald be given a visa to get Lee Harvey Oswald and his family out of the Soviet Union.

It is understood that the document contains this language:

An unstable character whose actions are entirely unpredictable, Oswald may well refuse to leave the U.S.S.R. or subsequently attempt to return, and if we should make it impossible for him to be accompanied from Moscow by his wife and child, such action would permit the Soviet Government to argue although it had issued a visa to Mrs. Oswald, to prevent the separation of a family the U.S. Government had imposed a forced separation by refusing to issue her a visa. Obviously this would weaken our Embassy's position—and so forth.

POLICY RELATING TO DEFECTORS

Is it the policy of the State Department to encourage return to this country of defectors the Department itself labels "unstable and entirely unpredictable" so that diplomatic negotiations may continue toward the end that additional Soviet citizens may be brought to the United States at the request of American relatives?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Slack, I am afraid I would not be competent as a witness to testify on the policy relating to defectors. I could only tell you that from my experience there are certain instances where efforts are made to have a defector returned.

I think in the instance that you are citing here, the overall policy of the Department was to encourage the uniting of families. We have had problems with the Soviet Union over many years in their refusal to permit Russian wives, for instance, to leave and join husbands who are in the States. We have generally adopted the policy of doing everything reasonable to effect family reunions.

SUBJECT: John J. King v. Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, Attorney General of the United States
(USDC D. Colo.) Civil No. 9168

A copy of the complaint recently filed in this action is enclosed.

In order that we may defend this action, please send us, not later than June 21, 1965, a report, in duplicate, setting forth the facts involved. If you cannot send us the necessary material before that time, please let us know as promptly as possible so that we can inform the court of the reason for the delay.

If any departmental regulations or orders are involved, we would like to receive the references to the Code of Federal Regulations and the Federal Register where they may be found. If such regulations and orders are not published in the Federal Register or in the Code of Federal Regulations, we would appreciate receiving four copies of them with your report.

You should also include four sets (one of which should be certified) of relevant documents, such as contracts, items of correspondence, transcripts of administrative hearings, and administrative rulings or orders.

It will be helpful if you will state specifically which allegations of the complaint should, in your opinion, be admitted and which should be denied, and make suggestions for any affirmative allegations to be made in the answer.

Please include a list of the names, official positions, and addresses of persons who have personal knowledge of the facts involved and a brief summary of the matters about which they can testify on behalf of the Government.

DESPITE RUMORS, WILD TALES

FBI and Dallas Police Not at War

By JIM LEHRER
Staff Writer

A WAR between the Dallas Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation would make great reading. It would be chock full of juicy incidents of agents and detectives fighting over evidence, withholding information from each other, snarling at one another on the street.

But to the chagrin of the sensationalists, it's just not true, despite hints and rumors and wild tales to the contrary.

It is true that no Dallas police officers have been admitted to the FBI's national police academy since November, 1963, and have FBI agents acted as instructors in the local police school—except for riot training since that time.

DOES THIS mean war?

No, say the facts gleaned from officials of both of the law enforcement agencies, plus Times Herald interviews with the men who do the work—the police officers and the FBI agents.

"Oh, yeah, before we go out and make an arrest together or swap a little information we'll talk for a few minutes about how much we hate each other," quips one officer.

The bosses put it more formally.

"I know of no lack of cooperation on matters of mutual interest," says J. Gordon Shanklin, special agent in charge of the Dallas FBI office. He notes that there is continual exchanging of information and aid between the agencies.

DALLAS POLICE Chief Jesse Curry says: "Our relations with all local agents are fine — nothing is strained as far as we're concerned.

"We work together on a wide variety of cases, as you can plainly see by the fact that there are agents in and out of our offices all day long."

SO WHY all the noise? Where and why did the "war talk" get started?

It began, as anyone who followed the investigation knows, immediately after the assassination of President Kennedy.

The nation and the rest of the world looked desperately for a scapegoat. The Secret Service, the State Department, the FBI and the Dallas police all took their turns at the whipping post.

And as rapidly as the heat came, each agency tried to avert it.

OCCASIONALLY this left Chief Curry and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover at opposite ends of the statement pole. There was a flap immediately after the assassination when the chief said the FBI had never informed his department of Lee Harvey Oswald's presence in Dallas, for instance.

There were countermoves and counter-countermoves between the two officials, some of them involving direct statements, others indirect "leaks" to the press.

The most recent direct slap came from Mr. Hoover a few weeks back when he told a congressional committee that Jack Ruby would never have been able to murder Oswald if the accused assassin had been a federal prisoner, implying heavily that the FBI knows more about handling prisoners than the Dallas police.

THE CLIMAX of this parrying came in the now-famous statement which FBI Agent James Hosty did or did not make in the basement of City Hall shortly after the assassination to a Dallas police lieutenant, Jack Revill.

Lt. Revill, in a written memorandum, quoted Agent Hosty as saying that the FBI was familiar with Oswald and knew that he was a Communist capable of assassinating the President.

Agent Hosty denied saying any such thing.

Chief Curry stood resolutely by his officer. Mr. Hoover, equally resolute, backed up his man, too.

And there they stood and still stand. The Warren Commission merely pointed out the diversity in testimony but elected not to resolve it.

THIS AND OTHER incidents left their wounds on both the chief and the FBI director.

This leaves the day-to-day relations between the FBI and the Dallas Police Department to the detectives and the agents.

Like the interservice rivalries at the Pentagon, only the admirals and the generals are involved in this squabble — if one chooses to call it that.

FBI AGENTS don't, for instance, knock Jack Revill. Nor do Dallas police officers attack Jim Hosty, who was transferred to Kansas City last fall.

Lt. Revill is still the chief of the department's important criminal intelligence section and, as such, is in almost daily contact with FBI agents on matters involving subversion, organized crime and similar investigations. Agents like him personally and respect him professionally.

Though he is no longer in Dallas, Agent Hosty is considered a top-flight investigator and "the best man on security matters in the business" by detectives who worked with him.

COOPERATION between the FBI and the Dallas police in other sections also is good. Relations between the FBI and the detective bureaus — homicide and robbery, burglary and theft, forgery and auto theft — are considered excellent.

Both agencies had nothing but praise for each other for the "teamwork" in the solving the Oct. 1964, First National Bank hold-up. For instance, leads and physical evidence tests were swapped and shared from the beginning.

This same working-together atmosphere resulted in the recovery of $15,000 worth of antique guns taken in a recent North Dallas burglary. The Dallas burglary and Theft Bureau provided leads and information which enabled FBI to find the stolen guns in El Paso and the accused burglars in California.

Many other examples in recent months of close FBI-Dallas police cooperation on minor cases too.

THIS BRINGS IT all back to police schools and instructors. Will FBI men go back into the Dallas school as before and will Dallas officers again be permitted to go to the national academy in Washington?

The Dallas office of the FBI has nothing to do with either. The Washington office will say if and when formal instruction again comes under the cooperation umbrella. Academy acceptance is made there. The Dallas office can only recommend.

Under a new congressional appropriation, the FBI will soon expand its present academy facilities at Quantico, Va. to accommodate 1,200 police agency students annually. The present one takes care of 100. Maybe there will be room for Dallas people in the new one.

RELIABLE SOURCES say Mr. Hoover has used this no-student, no-instructor "punishment" before. When a mild flap erupted between the FBI and the New York City Police Department several years ago, the academy suddenly got "overcrowded" and unable to handle any more New York officers. Even the Washington, D.C., police got the same treatment once following a rift between Mr. Hoover and that chief.

Chief William Parker of the Los Angeles Police Department confirmed to The Times Herald this week that he had a similar experience five or six years ago. His department had an appropriation to send an officer to the academy, but when he was ready to go the FBI said there probably wouldn't be a vacancy for him for "several years."

"THE INFORMATION came to me that the FBI was not interested in having any officers from this department in its academy," he said, noting that he and Mr. Hoover had had a difference of opinion on the ways to fight organized crime shortly before.

"To be frank," he said, "I had the definite impression that the reason for their lack of interest in our officers was because of me as an individual."

There is only one officer presently in the entire Los Angeles Police Department who is a graduate of the FBI school. It has been more than 10 years since one attended.

He emphasized that this apparent rift at the top level, as in

CHIEF CURRY
. . . Ignore Dallas?

Dallas' case, has not affected and will not affect the working relationship between his officers and agents.

"On the operational level there is the closest cooperation between our department and the FBI," he said.

THE SIMILARITIES between the Los Angeles situation and Dallas' are remarkably similar.

Law enforcement is not suffering because Mr. Hoover had a disagreement with the chief there, nor is it here.

So, if there is a war between the Dallas Police Department and the FBI, it's a strange war indeed.

Fortunately for the citizens of Dallas, no Indians are on the front lines.

Only chiefs.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

PURPOSE:

To advise the Department furnished a letter enclosing a copy of a complaint filed in U. S. District Court, Denver, Colorado, by John J. King against the Attorney General for the return of the assassination rifle and .38 caliber revolver used to kill Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit. The letter requested information from the Bureau to defend this action. We do not have the information requested and no previous information has been received concerning the contracts to dispose of the weapons and no investigation has been conducted concerning this matter. Bureau reply attached.

BACKGROUND:

A letter dated June 9, 1965 from Mr. John W. Douglas, Assistant Attorney General, Civil Division, enclosed a copy of a complaint filed in U. S. District Court, Denver, Colorado, on May 24, 1965 by John J. King, v. Nicholas deB Katzenbach. In brief, King claims he is the owner of the assassination rifle and the .38 caliber Smith and Wesson Revolver used by Oswald to kill Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit and requested the return of these weapons. King claimed the Attorney General does not own these weapons and has no right under the law to retain them either for his own account or in his official capacity, as the Attorney General of the United States.

The letter from Mr. Douglas made several requests of the Bureau in order to defend this action:

1. A report in duplicate setting forth the facts involved. We have no knowledge of this matter other than that published by local newspapers and a check with our Dallas Office revealed that they have no information concerning

It. Dallas did advise however, newspaper articles had indicated Marina Oswald has attempted to sell these weapons. Aside from his allegation we have no facts to indicate Ming purchased the weapons. In addition, we have not conducted any investigation concerning this matter.

2. If any Departmental regulations or orders involved the Department wanted to receive references to the Code of the Federal Regulations and the Federal Register where they may be found. We have no knowledge of this and if such information was published such research would be the responsibility of the Department.

3. Department wanted copies of relevant documents, such as contracts, items of correspondence, transcripts of hearings and administative rulings or orders. We have none.

4. Department desired our opinion regarding allegations of the complaint which should be admitted and which should be denied and any affirmative allegations to be made in the answer. This is not our responsibility or function.

5. Department desired a list of names, official positions, and addresses of persons who have personal knowledge of the facts involved and matters that they can testify to on behalf of the Government.

In connection with item No. 5, it is pointed out the rifle and pistol were both obtained by police agencies in Dallas and we were requested to be temporary custodians until the appropriate disposition was determined. The Department is also being referred to the report of the President's Commission on the assassination which reveals identities of individuals who acquired these weapons.

Presently there is pending proposed legislation relating to the retention of exhibits in this case. The bill would allow the Attorney General to designate certain items of evidence to be retained by the Government which would items when so designated by the Attorney General.

Bureau files contain several references concerning one John J. King who is described as an oil man and considered a millionaire residing in Denver, Colorado, who may be identical. There were several references in the Jack L. Ruby file which were not derogatory.

ACTION

Attached for approval is a letter to Mr. Douglas outlining the Bureau's position as set forth above and advising that no investigation has been conducted concerning this matter.

SUBJECT: CONGRESSMAN JOHN M. SLACK, JR.
Democrat, West Virginia
Member of House Appropriation Subcommittee
Handling State, Justice, Etc., Appropriation Bill

Reference is made to my memorandum to you of 6-4-65 captioned as above in which it was approved that the writer be permitted to orally apprise Congressman Slack of confidential information contained in the Bureau's files concerning Boris H. Klosson, who was Counselor for Political Affairs in the Moscow Embassy and who had signed the despatch with regard to Oswald in connection with his repatriation to the U.S. Congressman Slack had indicated he had received some information subsequent to the publishing of the State Department hearings and was wondering whether the Bureau was aware of this and what, if anything, the Bureau might have concerning Klosson that he could be made aware of.

Congressman Slack has been ill with an attack of the virus and the writer called on him this morning and he was furnished orally the information in the Bureau's records as set forth in the attachment to referenced memorandum. He was particularly interested in the fact that Klosson's name was contained in an address book in the possession of Louise Morley, a suspected Soviet agent upon her arrival in the U. S. in January, 1943. However, investigation predicated upon this information revealed no additional derogatory data concerning Klosson nor has subsequent investigation in connection with the Security of Government Employees program and an investigation under the "Atomic Energy Act-Applicant."

Congressman Slack stated that shortly after the release of the State Department hearings he had been called from the floor of the House by a newspaper writer whose name he could not recall at the moment since he was not that well acquainted with him, but who indicated he was either with the United Press International (UPI) or Associated Press (AP), who informed him that he understood that Klosson was suspected of being tied in with the Soviets in some way because of the fact that he had understood also that his name had been in the possession of a suspected Soviet agent. Slack stated that it appears we have already explored this situation and the newspaperman has not made any further contact with him nor did he at the time of the initial contact have any further specifics that are not already in the Bureau's possession.

It was suggested to the Congressman that should he recall the newspaperman or be contacted by him again in the future, that he suggest that the newspaperman get in touch with the FBI in order that we might obtain the benefit of any and all information he may have. The Congressman indicated he would do so but further indicated his satisfaction that apparently the Bureau was already well aware of Klosson's background.

During the course of the discussion the Congressman was most laudatory in his praise of the Director and his administration of the Bureau and stated it was certainly a striking difference between the way the Director is prepared when he appears and presents his justification for the appropriation being requested as opposed to witnesses from some of the other agencies and particularly the Department of State.

The above is submitted for information and record purposes.

Lee Harvey Oswald

In response to your letter dated June 8, 1965, your reference [illegible]:ic, 144-12-670, the described weapons listed in the complaint of John J. King are being temporarily retained by this Bureau. We have not received any previous information concerning contracts to dispose of the weapons and no investigation has been conducted concerning this matter. The President's Commission assigned these weapons Commission exhibit numbers, which were revealed in the Commission report. The rifle was given Commission Exhibit Number 139 and the .38 revolver Commission Exhibit Number 143. The President's Commission utilized these weapons on several occasions during the course of their official investigation and subsequently returned them to this Bureau for temporary retention until disposition is determined by the Attorney General.

This Bureau is not aware of any Departmental regulations or orders relating to this matter. By letter dated February 24, 1965, addressed to former Assistant Attorney General Norbert J. hearings and administrative rules or orders relating to this matter or any information which would establish the legal ownership of the weapons described in the complaint by Mr. John J. Ring.

It is pointed out this Bureau did not recover the described weapons. The rifle was recovered in the Texas School Book Depository Building by representatives of the Dallas County Sheriff's Office and the Dallas, Texas, Police Department which information may be found in the report of The President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy, page 79. The revolver was recovered by members of the Dallas, Texas, Police Department following the arrest of Lee Harvey Oswald in the Texas Theater Building and the facts relating to this arrest begin on page 170 of the Commission report. Subsequently, these items were furnished to the FBI for appropriate examination and temporary custody.

In connection with the answer to the complaint you intend to file, we have no facts beyond the allegation in the complaint in addition to those set forth herein. Consequently we are not in a position to comment concerning the procedures to be followed by the Department in its pleadings in this matter.

Dear Sir:

Much money and time has been spent on finding or attempting to find the reasons or cause for the death of our late and beloved president John F.Kennedy. Two years ago I sat thru a motion picture which dealt with the asassination of a future president and his wife. The title of this picture was: "Manchurian Candidate" and starred Frank Sinatra.

If the late Harvey Lee Oswald had seen this picture I am sure it would have been the motivating force in his asassination of our late president. I sincerely urge you and if possible a few of the people involved in the investigation of our presidents death to view this picture as soon as possible and form your own opinion. Thank you for taking the time to read this letter and hope it will aid you in your constant search for the truth I remain

Sincerely

Frenchman's Book Says Warren Panel Ignored Plot Angle

Special to The New York Times.

PARIS, June 22—A new book by the New York correspondent of Le Figaro, the highly respected Paris newspaper, accuses the Warren commission on the assassination of President Kennedy of having set out to prove Lee Harvey Oswald guilty.

"The Warren Commission suspected itself not to be an investigating body charged with establishing the truth, whatever it may be, but like a prosecutor obstructed to win his case," the author charges.

The author is Leo Sauvage, who for the last 15 years has represented Le Figaro, a conservative morning daily, in New York.

Mr. Sauvage, throughout his 442-page book, "L'Affaire Oswald," expresses a conviction that Oswald was innocent. He advances an unsubstantiated hypothesis that the murders of President Kennedy and his suspected assassin may have been the result of two separate plots.

The plot to kill the President, according to the Sauvage hypothesis, was conceived by unspecified Southern racists.

According to Mr. Sauvage, a trial of Oswald would have revealed his innocence.

The core of Mr. Sauvage's attack on the Warren Commission is the charge that the panel refused to explore avenues not designed to prove Oswald's guilt. Citing a number of circumstances and charges that in his view are unsolved mysteries, he declares:

"What all these mysteries have in common is that they leave no doubt as to the fact that there has never been a serious inquiry into the assassination of President Kennedy."

Mr. Sauvage's own investigation presents no new evidence.

On 6/25/65, at 11:50 A. M., JAMES C. BOWLES, Sergeant in Charge, Dispatcher's Office, PD, Dallas, Texas, telephonically contacted this office and advised SA EDWIN D. KUYKENDALL as follows:

Miss MAURICE PETTY, telephone clerk, Dispatcher's Office, Dallas PD, at 11:40 A. M. that day received a telephone call. This call was referred to her when it came in and a man on the line told her that President Kennedy got killed in Dallas on 11/22/63, and asked her did OSWALD kill him. The caller told her it was the FBI in Chicago, Illinois, calling. She asked him if his call was from the FBI in Chicago and he repeated that it was. She then turned this call over to Sergeant BOWLES.

Sergeant BOWLES then was informed by the male caller that he was DAVID LAWVER, a white male, age nineteen, calling from Akron, Ohio, and gave his telephone number as JE 5-9994. The call came in, according to BOWLES, without comments from a long distance operator which indicated that direct dialing was apparently utilized by the caller. The caller said he had his back injured while in the Navy and was in Walter Reed Hospital in 1954. This comment indicated to BOWLES that the caller would have to be more than nineteen years of age.

The caller told BOWLES the reason for his call was that he had been going over the book on JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY's assassination and he wanted to know why OSWALD killed KENNEDY; why RUBY was in the City Hall basement; why RUBY had a gun; why OSWALD was killed; how many shots were fired; did they still have RUBY; what did they plan to do with RUBY; and a few other similar questions.

BOWLES stated the caller sounded insane to him. He furnished the above for the FBI's information.

Dallas Office indices are negative concerning DAVID LAWYER.

The Bureau and Chicago are furnished the above for information, Chicago being advised because subject first claimed the call was being made by him from FBI, Chicago.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald
Box 9573
Fort Worth, Texas

Dear Mrs. Oswald:

Lee Harvey Oswald

I recently came across a new development in the Kennedy murder case. I find that there is substantial reason to believe that Mr. Kennedy was not riding in the motorcade at the time of his reported assassination. I have reason also to believe that the man taking his place in the car was named Officer J. D. Tippit.

Several months ago I sent a telegram to Mr. Robert Kennedy requesting him to make a Senate speech denouncing the murderers of his brother, President John Kennedy. To date, this speech has not materialized and now it is obvious to me that if what I believe now to be the truth, it would be impossible for Senator Kennedy to make any denounciation of an event that did not happen.

A careful study of the Warren Commission report is now in order to reassess some of the heretofore unexplained events and statements.

As reported to you earlier, I stated that a simulated assassination attempt was in progress at the time of the shooting at 12:30 P.M., November 22, 1963. This statement still holds as factual. The complete reading of all Secret Service personnel reports verify this, since all reports include the fact that a firecracker was discharged at the critical moment.

As you know, I feel that your son, Lee Harvey Oswald, was part of this protective screen of agents working on behalf of President Kennedy. Since this has been proved, it is incongruous to believe that President Kennedy would have been allowed to expose himself personally to the dangers inherent in such an operation. The information that the man taking his place was Officer J. D. Tippit is withheld at the present time from this correspondence. However, it would be wise to reassess in light of some of the information contained in this letter as follows:

(1) Reason for the haste to remove the body from the state of Texas and the lack of any autopsy by the state of Texas authorities.

NOT RECORDED
199 JUL 7 1965

ORIGINAL FILED IN 105-82555-4036

(2) The finding of four 38 caliber bullets of two manufacturers in the Tippit murder and the coincidence of "President Kennedy" being struck by at least four bullets.

(3) The tremendous sympathy and compassion evidenced for Mrs. J. D. Tippit following the assassination.

(4) Mr. J. D. Tippit's reported association with Jack Ruby prior to the assassination; keeping in mind that Mr. Ruby was part of the protective group.

(5) The heretofore unexplained reason for Mr. Jack Ruby's visits to the scene of the assassination, his reported presence at Parkland Hospital, and the physical evidence of the bullet on the stretcher, and the 38 caliber cartridges found in the Oak Cliff section which ballistically matched the bullets in Tippit's body.

(6) The covering of President Kennedy's head from the view of photographers upon his admission to Parkland Hospital even though a subsequent tracheotomy was performed to allow him adequate breathing.

(7) The fact that pictures of the arrest of Lee Harvey Oswald at the theater are subject to doubt, and the fact that Lee Harvey Oswald did not throw away the evidence of his revolver up until the time of his reported arrest.

(8) The fact that Lee Harvey Oswald was charged only with the Tippit murder initially by the Dallas police.

(9) Explains the lack of details of the Tippit autopsy in the Warren Commission report whereas complete details of other people supposedly murdered on that day are fully covered.

(10) Explains Warren Commission affadavits which question the reason for lack of photographs of Officer Tippit.

(11) Possibly explains in some degree the burning of the doctors' notes during the autopsy of "President Kennedy".

(12) Explains serious discrepancies in the Tippit shooting in the Oak Cliff section.

(13) Gives a reason why Officer Tippit did not call on the radio prior to his supposed shooting in the Oak Cliff section.

(14) Explains why it was necessary for Tippit to have been shot four times with a .38 caliber bullet, which, of course, was the caliber of the bullet used in the Depository Building area.

(15) Possibly explains to some degree why "President Kennedy's" shirt was washed and not kept for existing condition for

(16) Explains a coincident happening of two "murders" in Dallas within such a short period of time of each other, and explains the reason why the "lip-it murder" had to take place in the Oak Cliff section following the abortive attempt to expose the murder plot and national conspiracy to overthrow the Government.

(17) Explains lack of detail of the methods by which Secret Service was possibly utilizing doubles in protection of public figures.

(18) Possibly gives an explanation of a reported secret tape made which quoted Chief Justice Warren as saying that President Kennedy died of natural causes.

The above items are just a few lines of investigation which should be conducted to determine the facts of not only your son's participation in this affair; but the clearing of the dishonor to this country that is being compounded daily.

Some of this information was given to the local agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation two days ago for evaluation.

I sincerely hope, Mrs. Oswald, that this will be of some value to you in your studies.

Thank you again for your kind association in the past and the privilege of permitting me to participate on your behalf until this is completely cleared up.

Sincerely yours,

George C. Thomson

SUBJECT: CRIMDEL

ASSASSINATION CALLED PSYCHIATRIC PROBLEM

The "Minneapolis Tribune" newspaper of June 29, 1965, carried the following feature news article:

"Psychiatric rather than political motives prompt men like LEE HARVEY OSWALD to murder presidents, a University of Minnesota physician has concluded.

"If someone other than JOHN F. KENNEDY - Democrat or Republican - had been president, he would have been OSWALD's victim, Dr. DONALD W. HASTINGS believes.

"In the assassin's eyes, the important factor is the position of his victim, not his personality, according to HASTINGS, head of the university's Psychiatry Department.

"He explained that 'all the assassins of American presidents - with the exception of the two Puerto Ricans who tried to kill HARRY TRUMAN - were mentally ill.' The assassinations were the acts of 'disordered minds,' not of foreign or domestic intrigue, he said.

"HASINGS recently completed an extensive study of the psychiatric makeup of nine presidential assassins (four were successful, five unsuccessful). He pored over old newspaper clippings, biographies and medical journals to determine what made these men the kind of murderers they were.

"HASTINGS' four-part series on the subject is appearing in current issues of Journal-Lancet, an Upper Midwest medical magazine.

"In his opinion, seven assassins of American presidents were, in psychiatric lingo, 'paranoid schizophrenics' - mentally ill persons who believe someone is out to get them and who may murder to 'even the score.'

"According to HASTINGS, the other two assassins were 'fanatics' who thought they could help Puerto Rico by killing TRUMAN, but 'they had no thought of overthrowing the U. S. government.'

"A paranoid personality, the doctor explained, may think he's being persecuted by the FBI, the university radio station, the local police of the government of the United States. Mixed with this is the paranoid's belief that he's someone pretty special, for it's not every TOM, DICK or HARRY who has the whole government after him.

"Sometimes the paranoid schizophrenic becomes violent and lashes out at whomever he thinks is responsible for his frustrations.

"OSWALD apparently thought he was an important person with important ideas, HASTINGS believes. Yet, for the most part, he was ignored - first by his mother, who doted on one of his older brothers; then by the Russian government, which refused him citizenship, and then by the U. S. government, which refused his request to return to Russia.

"By killing KENNEDY, OSWALD hoped to show the world he was someone to be reckoned with, HASTINGS explained. He chose KENNEDY because he was a person of high rank, an authority figure.

"Doctors do not know what causes paranoid schizophrenia. HASTINGS noted, however, that 'it is often associated . . . with parental rejection, broken homes, the lack of a strong male figure with whom the growing boy can identify himself, and emotional stresses' that prevent the developing child from dealing successfully with his fellow men.

"'Repressed homosexual drives' also may be involved, HASTINGS added.

"For example, the doctor said, OSWALD's father died just before his birth 'and he never had a meaningful male figure around which to pattern himself. His mother, eccentric, rejecting, and with little or no understanding of LEE's problems and her contributions to them, laid the seeds of hatred of authority which came to assume psychotic proportions.'

"The psychiatrist continued:

"'Unfortunately, the woods are full of paranoid schizophrenics. There are hundreds and hundreds of LEE HARVEY OSWALDS walking the streets.

"'The disease is no respecter of race, religion or social status.'"

A. Why was no action taken regarding this letter?

B. Why did Naval Officials, both prior to and after the Dallas Tragedy conceal the fact that they knew of the existence of this letter and that Governor Connally had received this letter ?

C. The Warren Commission was furnished a copy of this letter, other evidence including some still shots from an 8MM film which was made from the upper reaches of the Texas Building showing how the assassination appeared to the ASSASSINS. After this EVIDENCE was received by the Warren Commission, Chief Justice Earl Warren stated " Some of the testimony taken by his Commission would not be made PUBLIC 'in our lifetime'. WHY?

D. Why was J. EDGAR HOOVER, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and his staff of trained investigators by-passed in setting up this INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE? If you can't believe it, the great American public—and most of Europe—share your doubts. It's easy to accept the idea that Oswald was a half-crazed Communist; it's hard to picture Ruby—the small-time crook—as a man who would kill in an outburst of patriotic fervor.

My dear Senator:

I received your communication on July 26th with the enclosed letter from Mr. George H. Davis, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Mr. Davis was interviewed by a representative of this Bureau on March 5, 1964, in Pueblo, Colorado, at which time he made similar allegations against Michael Bezek, a fellow employee at the Pueblo Army Depot. A subsequent interview of Mr. Bezek and investigation by the FBI determined that Bezek was in the Pueblo area during the time of the assassination of President Kennedy and that he neither knew Lee Harvey Oswald nor had any connection with him.

It was determined, however, during the investigation resulting from Davis' allegation, that a doctor whom Davis had been consulting diagnosed Davis as possessing a senile psychosis, involving chronic brain syndrome, schizophrenic tendencies with definite hallucinations and paranoiac ideas and a person who should be examined by a psychiatrist with the objective of determining whether he should be admitted to a mental institution.

I am returning Mr. Davis' letter with this communication.

Attorney General

SUBJECT: Public disclosure of Warren Commission records

In a memorandum of February 8, 1965, I requested an expression of your views with regard to public disclosure of unpublished documents that were furnished to the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy by the Bureau.

Following a review of your recommendations and the recommendations of the heads of other interested departments and agencies, I submitted a memorandum to McGeorge Bundy, Special Assistant to the President, proposing certain guidelines for determining which of those documents should be made available to the public. By a memorandum of April 19, 1965, Mr. Bundy approved those guidelines and asked me, in coordination with the National Archives, to instruct the appropriate agencies to conduct a review of pertinent documents in accordance with those guidelines and to complete that review by September 1965.

In order to facilitate this review, the National Archives has prepared a list of the documents which are in the files of the President's Commission which were submitted by, or originated in, the Bureau. This list includes only the documents that were not published by the Commission and those that could readily be determined to have been published only in part.

It is requested that you arrange for the prompt examination of the listed documents with a view to authorizing the removal of existing restrictions on public availability of as many of those documents as possible.

XP-PROC.

JUL 8 1965

51 AUG 18 1965

The guidelines approved by Mr. Bundy, which are set forth in the attachment to this letter, should be applied in making the required determinations.

The document-by-document review that this procedure requires may be undertaken on the basis of file copies of documents which were retained in the files of the Bureau, or, since all records of the President's Commission have been transferred to the National Archives, the Archivist will arrange to give your representative access to the listed documents if that procedure would be more convenient. At the conclusion of your review, a copy of the enclosed list, marked so as to show which documents may be made public and which must remain closed for the time being, is to be sent to Dr. Wayne C. Grover, Archivist of the United States. With respect to items that must be withheld from the public, please indicate the letter or number of the item in the attached guidelines that best describes the Bureau's reason for such withholding..

It is essential that the Archivist of the United States receive a reply by August 15, 1965, since a report to the White House must be prepared and submitted by September 1 on the overall status of accessibility to the records of the Commission. In order to avoid any unnecessary delay in this regard, I suggest that you send your reply to the Archivist. If any questions or problems arise in the course of the review, your representative should contact Dr. James B. Rhoads, Assistant Archivist for Civil Archives, whose telephone number is code 13, extension 22442.

I am aware of the difficulties inherent in this undertaking, but the public interest in these documents, and the determination of the White House Office that they be disclosed to the fullest extent consistent with the national security, sound public administration, and the rights of individual privacy, require that this assignment be accomplished with care and dispatch.

GUIDELINES FOR REVIEW OF MATERIALS SUBMITTED TO THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

1. Statutory requirements prohibiting disclosure should be observed.

2. Security classifications should be respected, but the agency responsible for the classification should carefully re-evaluate the contents of each classified document and determine whether the classification can, consistently with the national security, be eliminated or downgraded.

3. Unclassified material which has not already been disclosed in another form should be made available to the public on a regular basis unless disclosure--

(A) Would be detrimental to the administration and enforcement of the laws and regulations of the United States and its agencies;

(B) Might reveal the identity of confidential sources of information and impede or jeopardize future investigations by precluding or limiting the use of the same or similar sources hereafter;

(C) Would be a source of embarrassment to innocent persons, who are the subject, source, or apparent source of the material in question, because it contains gossip and rumor or details of a personal nature having no significant connection with the assassination of the President;

(D) Would reveal material pertinent to the criminal prosecution of Jack Ruby for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, prior to the final judicial determination of that case.

Whenever one of the above reasons for nondisclosure may apply, your department should, in determining whether or not to authorize disclosure, weigh that reason against the overriding policy of the Executive Branch favoring the fullest possible disclosure.

Unless sooner released to the public, classified and unclassified material which is not now made available to the public shall, as a minimum, be reviewed by the agency concerned five years and ten years after the initial examination has been completed. The criteria applied in the initial examination, outlined above, should be applied to determine whether changed circumstances will permit further disclosure. Similar reviews should be undertaken at ten-year intervals until all materials are opened for legitimate research purposes. The Archivist of the United States will arrange for such review at the appropriate time. Whenever possible provision should be made for the automatic declassification of classified material which cannot be declassified at this time.

SUBJECT: PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF WARREN COMMISSION RECORDS

Request of the Attorney General

By letter dated July 8, 1965, the Attorney General requested that a review of pertinent documents now in the possession of National Archives relating to the assassination of President Kennedy be made for the purpose of a public disclosure of information on file which has not previously been disclosed. The letter made available certain guidelines which had been approved by McGeorge Bundy, Special Assistant to the President, which guidelines were to be used in making this review.

Material to be Reviewed

The items listed by National Archives for review comprise 202 pages of items and list more than 2000 items for review. It appears National Archives has listed every report that was submitted to the Warren Commission by the Bureau, as well as all letterhead memoranda, all letters and any other written material that was furnished to the Commission, such as the preliminary report consisting of five volumes which was made available to the Warren Commission.

Guidelines for Review

(1) Statutory requirements prohibiting disclosure should be observed.

This appears to apply to national defense information and restricted data, disclosure of which is prohibited by the Espionage Statute and by the Atomic Energy Act.

(2) Security classifications should be respected, but the agency responsible for the classification should carefully re-evaluate the contents of each classified document and determine whether the classification can, consistently with the national security, be eliminated or downgraded.

JUL 21 1965

CONTINUED - OVER

With reference to security classifications in material furnished to the Warren Commission, we have previously declassified practically all material wherein such a request was received from the Warren Commission. This guideline will be followed in making the review.

(3) Unclassified material which has not already been disclosed in another form should be made available to the public on a regular basis unless disclosure--

(A) Would be detrimental to the administration and enforcement of the laws and regulations of the United States and its agencies;

(B) Might reveal the identity of confidential sources of information and impede or jeopardize future investigations by precluding or limiting the use of the same or similar sources hereafter;

(C) Would be a source of embarrassment to innocent persons, who are the subject, source, or apparent source of the material in question, because it contains gossip and rumor or details of a personal nature having no significant connection with the assassination of the President;

(D) Would reveal material pertinent to the criminal prosecution of Jack Ruby for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, prior to the final judicial determination of that case.

Regarding (A) above, there is no problem.

With regard to Items (B), (C) and (D) above, these guidelines will be followed in making the review and the Department will be advised of any situations where because of the application of these guidelines the information cannot be disclosed.

With respect to the Ruby material, a legal decision will have to be rendered by the Department as to whether any of the reports in the Ruby case can be disclosed in view of the pending prosecutive action concerning Ruby.

The guideline indicates that in any instance where the foregoing reasons for non-disclosure might apply, we should in determining whether or not to authorize disclosure weigh that reason against the overriding policy of the Executive Branch favoring the fullest disclosure.

Memo to Mr. Belmont from A. Rosen

The comment is also made that unless the material has been released to the public, classified and unclassified material not now available to the public shall, as a minimum, be reviewed five and ten years after the initial examination (and each ten years thereafter) has been completed. The criteria applied in the initial examination, as previously outlined, is to be applied in each subsequent review.

All of the above guidelines will be followed to the fullest in making our review.

It is to be noted that many of our reports do contain information received from confidential sources where disclosure of same might possibly affect the Bureau's operations. In addition, many of our reports contain data received from banks, telephone companies and other places of business where disclosure could place such business concerns in a most embarrassing position unless appropriate subpoenaes were issued for this data prior to public disclosure. There is also the possibility that disclosure of some of the information as now contained in our reports could result in lawsuits wherein the claim would be made that character assassination, injury to reputation, or other miscellaneous claims resulted.

The review will be made by the Domestic Intelligence Division, the General Investigative Division and the Laboratory, and there is a possibility that some of the items may refer to matters handled in the Identification Division and possibly the Administrative Division. Where such applies, these Divisions will handle their own material.

In making this review considerable savings in time can be achieved by having the list furnished by the National Archives checked against the material actually in the possession of Archives in order to make sure that we are reviewing the proper material.

The letter from the Attorney General requested the results of our review be furnished directly to National Archives by August 15, 1965. Due to the circumstances relating to our reports, we do not contemplate furnishing results of our review to National Archives but instead will furnish it to the Attorney General as recommendations and advise the Attorney General that the final decision as to disclosure rests with the Department.

ACTION: A review of this voluminous material is starting today and will be completed as rapidly as possible.

PURPOSE:

To advise that Leo Sauvage has prepared a 442 page book entitled, "L'Affaire Oswald" (The Oswald Affair). This book questions the sincerity of the Warren Commission in conducting an objective investigation into the assassination. It is written in French.

BACKGROUND:

Legat, Paris has furnished a new book, "The Oswald Affair," by Leo Sauvage, which is written in French. Also furnished was an article concerning this book which appeared in the "New York Times," International Edition, Paris, dated 6-23-65. The Times article quotes Sauvage as charging that the Warren Commission acted like a prosecutor rather then like an investigating body. The Times article states that throughout "L'Affaire Oswald" Sauvage expresses a conviction that Oswald was innocent and Sauvage advances an unsubstantiated hypothesis that the murders of President Kennedy and his suspected assassin may have been the result of two separate plots. Times goes on to state that the plot to kill the President, according to Sauvage's book was conceived by unspecified Southern racists and a trial of Oswald would have revealed his innocence. The Times article states that Sauvage presents no new evidence.

NOT RECORDED

Sauvage is reported to be a correspondent for a Socialist newspaper and was the author of an article entitled, "The Oswald Affair," which appeared in the March 1964, issue of "Commentary," a publication of the American Jewish Committee. The approximate ten page article in "Commentary" was analyzed in a previous memo (A. Rosen to Mr. Belmont, dated 4-27-64, captioned, "Lee Harvey Oswald, aka, Internal Security - Russia - Cuba," copy attached). The "Commentary" article states that as the Dallas authorities convicted Oswald by "press and television" the FBI "forced" the hand of the Warren Commission by leaking the results of our investigation and thus assuring that the Commission would return a verdict of "guilty" for Oswald. The "Commentary" article is based on speculation, unfounded material and half truths.

It appears likely that the book by Sauvage is an expansion of the information contained in the "Commentary" article, (both the book and the article are by the same author and have the same title); therefore, there would appear to be no need to translate the book.

ACTION:

It is recommended that the attached 442 page book not be translated as there is no reason to believe it contains any new material.

Re report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING, 4/19/65, Dallas, and Bulet to Legat, Mexico City, 4/26/65.

A review of captioned file since the submission of referenced report reflects there has not been any investigation conducted which has not been furnished the Bureau in appropriate form for dissemination or by other appropriate communication.

The file reflects that referenced Bulet to Legat, Mexico City, requested certain investigation concerning MIGUEL FONSECA RIVAS, and instructed Legat, Mexico City, to submit results in a form suitable for dissemination. The Dallas files do not reflect that such investigation has been conducted and in the event same has not been conducted the Bureau is requested to ascertain the status of such investigation from Legat, Mexico City.

The Bureau is also requested to advise Dallas upon receipt of any information received by the Bureau from the Department of Justice concerning the disposition of property obtained in instant investigation from various sources in order that any inquiry received from such sources can be intelligently answered and thus avoid any possible embarrassment to the Bureau.

Two extra copies of this letter are furnished to Bureau for possible dissemination to Legat, Mexico City.

At 2:55 P.M., 7/28/65, Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, mother of deceased subject, telephonically contacted the Fort Worth, Texas, RA and advised IC JAMES VON WHITE she had recently moved to a new address. She stated she has recently sold a story to McCall's magazine which will be published in their September edition. She stated she received quite a sum of money for this article and has taken this money and used it as a down payment on a home located at 4029 Byers, Fort Worth, Texas. Mrs. OSWALD stated her telephone number is still PErshing 7-7677.

Mrs. OSWALD inquired as to whether IC WHITE knew any Secret Service Agent in the Dallas area by the name of "CARTER." She stated she knew there was a Mr. TOM CARTER who was a Fort Worth FBI Agent (this is SA B. TOM CARTER), and that she was not confused on that point. She stated she is continuing her "research study" of the Warren Commission Report, and states that in places in the report it does not say whether some of the agents are Secret Service Agents or FBI Agents and that this was the reason she was making the inquiry as to whether there was a Secret Service Agent by the name of CARTER.

Mrs. OSWALD stated she is still continuing her work concerning the assassination of President KENNEDY and that the FBI should not be surprised if she "doesn't crack this case in the near future." Mrs. OSWALD also related she is still writing a book but refused to give any information to IC WHITE regarding this book.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

Enclosed for Dallas is one copy of a letter dated July 4, 1965, bearing the signature "Laura Kittrell, 3009 Bryn Mawr, Dallas, 75225, Texas." This communication was directed to Senator Robert F. Kennedy and was received at the Bureau from the Office of Senator Robert F. Kennedy on July 30, 1965.

From information contained in Kittrell's letter, it appears she is currently or was formerly employed by the Texas State Employment Office. It appears she believed she had interviewed Lee Harvey Oswald at one time but there also appears to be a great deal of confusion as to her recollection regarding the alleged interview in that she frequently refers to a person, named by Kittrell, as "Murray Chotiner." She claimed she had previously been interviewed by a Special Agent of Secret Service, also a document that she prepared regarding this matter was furnished to the U. S. Attorney at Dallas. It also appears from her letter that she wrote the President's Commission and that she is criticizing the "Warren Commission" due to the fact that her communications were not acknowledged. Kittrell also makes reference to the fact that she had received a "mimeographed slip of paper from J. Edgar Hoover" which she claimed was an acknowledgment for one of her communications allegedly furnished to the former Attorney General, Robert F. Kennedy.

A review of Bureau files failed to reveal any reference to Kittrell in connection with any phase of investigation.

RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

relating to the assassination of President Kennedy. However, the Dallas Office is referred to Dallas file 44-1418 captioned [redacted] - Victim, Civil Rights" in which the complainant in this case appears to be identical with the writer of the enclosed communication furnished to Senator Kennedy. Also Dallas is referred to Dallas airtel to the Bureau dated 11/3/64, captioned "Unknown Subject; Precinct 125, University Park School, 3505 Amherst Street, Dallas, Texas, 11/3/64; Miss Laura Kittrell - Complainant, Election Laws."

Dallas should carefully review indices concerning Kittrell and especially any references relating to any phase of the assassination or Oswald investigation. After a careful review of the enclosed communication from Kittrell, and if she is still employed by the Texas Employment Commission, consideration should be given to conducting discreet interviews with employers or established sources regarding Kittrell and her background. Thereafter, Kittrell should be interviewed relative to information furnished in her letter to Senator Kennedy.

Due to complaints previously furnished by Kittrell and the fact her letter indicates a possibility of some degree of instability, this matter is to be assigned to an experienced Agent who has background relating to all phases of the assassination investigation.

The Office of Senator Robert F. Kennedy has requested a report in this matter in duplicate, therefore, results of Dallas' inquiry should be incorporated into a letterhead memorandum suitable for dissemination to Senator Kennedy also U. S. Secret Service and the Department. This matter is to be handled on an expedite basis.

NOTE:

The Office of Senator Robert F. Kennedy forwarded to the Bureau a 14 page handprinted letter written by Laura Kittrell of Dallas. It pertains primarily to her observations and letters that she has written to the President's Commission and to the U. S. Attorney's Office regarding her alleged interviews with Lee Harvey Oswald while she was employed as an interviewer by the Texas State Employment Commission. She indicated she was interviewed by a Secret Service Agent and had received a mimeographed acknowledgment from the Bureau acknowledging one of her letters that was allegedly sent to Senator Kennedy when he was Attorney General. In this respect, our files contain no references to Kittrell in regard to any phase of assassination investigation. We do have two references concerning her which are contained in Bureau file 56-0-1306 concerning a complaint of malfunction in a voting machine which was received from our Dallas Office during November of 1964. We also have a reference in Bureau file 44-20419, a Civil Rights matter where Kittrell made a Civil Right's complaint in favor of her maid whose grandson had been arrested by the Dallas Police Department, for carrying concealed weapons and she alleged that he was beaten when arrested, however, this situation was completely resolved by Dallas report dated 9/7/62 and copies of this report were furnished to the Assistant Attorney General, Civil Rights Division and no further inquiries were requested. The current communication from Kittrell was forwarded to the Bureau from Senator Kennedy and it appears imperative that this matter be resolved and Kittrell interviewed. Results are to be forwarded to the Office of Senator Kennedy, U. S. Secret Service and the Department.

NOTE:

Enclosed for the Bureau and Tampa are copies of documents furnished WFO by LOUIS F. LUCAS, Executive Director and Treasurer, National Rifle Association of America (NRA), 1600 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. (WDC).

LUCAS advised 7/27/65, he received a copy of a letter which had been directed to the Potomac Arms Corporation (PAC) of Alexandria, Virginia. This letter, a copy of which is enclosed, indicated a person named A. J. HIDELL was interested in buying a 6.5 mm Mannlicher Carcano carbine. The PAC, noting the similarity of name and request with the name and request which was used prior to the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY, refused to honor the request and sent a refund by check of $12.50 to A. J. HIDELL. A copy of this check is also enclosed.

When the check was returned from the bank, PAC noted the name of a co-endorser, LOWELL BRANDLE. PAC then ran a check in St. Petersburg, Fla. (Mr. LUCAS did not know if it was a credit check or a criminal check) in order to determine who LOWELL BRANDLE is. LUCAS said he understood that a LOWELL BRANDLE of St. Petersburg, Fla. is connected with a newspaper in that area. LUCAS said that he feels that this LOWELL BRANDLE, the co-endorser of the check, is evidently a newspaper man trying to make a big story out of his ability to obtain a firearm of the same type as the assassination weapon used against President JOHN F. KENNEDY. Mr. LUCAS also noted that the name A. J. HIDELL was an alias of HARVEY LEE OSWALD, KENNEDY's alleged assassin.

Mr. LUCAS stated that PAC is a reputable firm and feels that this LOWELL BRANDLE is trying to victimize their company in order to get a firearm under a fictitious name. LUCAS said of course the rifle had not been sent, but he wanted the FBI to be aware of the unethical tactics used by this alleged newsman.

SUBJECT: Assassination Weapons

This memorandum will confirm a telephone conversation between Mr. Belcher of this Division and Mr. Malley of the Bureau in which it was requested that Bureau headquarters transfer to the SAC in Dallas, Texas, the rifle used to assassinate President Kennedy and the pistol used by the assassin to cause the death of a Dallas police officer.

The purpose of this request is to have these weapons within the jurisdiction of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Treasury Department, so that that Service can institute the administrative forfeiture procedure described in 26 U.S.C. 7325. This administrative action may, at a later time, be converted into a libel action pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 905(b) and 26 U.S.C. 7401. This forfeiture action is being taken at this time in order to assist in defending the case of John J. King v. The Attorney General, U.S. D.C. D. Colo., Civil No. 9168. The Congressional committee considering legislation for disposition of these weapons has been advised the forfeiture procedure is contemplated.

It is not anticipated that it will be necessary that these weapons be relinquished from the custody of the SAC in Dallas. It is deemed necessary that these weapons be placed in the custody of the SAC in Dallas in order that in legal theory the SAC, Dallas, will be the constructive holder of these weapons for the ATTD.

Your cooperation in making an expeditious transfer of these weapons would be appreciated.

NOTE: Dr. Hastings previously corresponded with us requesting statistics relating to sex offenses, and he was furnished data by our letter to him of 12/7/61. Bufiles contain no derogatory information concerning him. Bufiles contain no record of "The Journal-Lancet" or the article named above. Dr. Hastings has approached the subject of presidential assassination as a psychiatrist and has written a four-part article wherein he concludes that with one exception, attempts to assassinate Presidents of the United States have all been the products of disordered minds. He is of the opinion all assassins had schizophrenia and in most instances a paranoid type. His detailed account of the Oswald matter by his admission is based on public source information and not upon the report of the Warren Commission. The Warren Report according to him brought to light no new data of psychiatric importance. Dr. Hastings has concluded that Oswald was mentally ill

The FBI is mentioned on page four of the article with the reference that a sick person is convinced an organization is persecuting him and the organization can be anything: the United States Government, the FBI, etc. This article by Dr. Hastings may already have been brought to the attention of the Warren Commission; therefore, no dissemination is being made.

On 8/21/65, LEE BOWERS, 1923 Viewcrest, Dallas, phone DA 7-2528, telephonically advised SA NEIL W. FORE that he had testified before the Warren Commission and that he had been contacted on 8/21/65 by an individual identifying himself as JONES HARRIS, who he described as a white male, age 30 to 32, 150 to 155 lbs., 5'7" to 5'8", black curly hair, who had indicated he was from New York. According to BOWERS, HARRIS was writing an article about the assassination that was to appear in "Esquire" magazine.

The Dallas files reflect that LEE E. BOWERS, JR., of 10508 Maple Grove, Dallas, a tower man at the North Tower Street Union Terminal, Dallas, was interviewed during the investigation of the assassination as reflected on page 43, of the report dated 11/30/63 at Dallas, and the report dated 9/19/64, pages 10 to 15. He was one of the individuals on the railroad overpass.

On 8/22/65, Miss JEAN LOLLIS HILL, 9402 Bluff Creek, telephone EV 1-2271, telephonically contacted SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING at which time she stated she too had received a call from an individual identifying himself as JONES HARRIS, who indicated he was writing an article on the assassination for "Esquire" magazine. She stated she was hesitant about talking to him and had not decided whether she would give him an interview or not.

Dallas files reflect that JEAN LOLLIS HILL was with MARY MOORMAN, who took pictures while standing on Elm Street, one of which pictures depicted the President immediately after being hit by a bullet. Interviews with Miss HILL are reflected in the

The Dallas files reflect that a JONES HARRIS, referred to in New York airtel to Bureau dated 2/26/65, captioned "PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY", was identified as a free-lance writer residing at 242 East 49th Street, New York, New York, telephone PL 5-8310. This New York airtel reflected that HARRIS was convinced LEE HARVEY OSWALD did not assassinate the President. The files further reflect that apparently HARRIS was not convinced that the individual depicted in photographs standing in doorway of the Texas School Book Depository at the time of the assassination was not LEE HARVEY OSWALD. It is noted that this individual was definitely established as being BILLY NOLAN LOVELADY.

The above is furnished to the Bureau for its information in view of the possibility of an article appearing in "Esquire" magazine by HARRIS.

PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF
WARREN COMMISSION RECORDS

Our letter dated August 10, 1965, forwarded to you copies of our memorandum of the same date which set forth the results of our review of certain material contained in the Warren Commission's Numbered Document File at the National Archives.

On August 18, 1965, Dr. James B. Rhoads, Assistant Archivist for Civil Archives, requested that we review certain documents which were listed in List D in our August 10, 1965, memorandum. We have completed this review as well as a review of several additional Commission documents among the Warren Commission's Numbered Document File which were not listed in the listing of unpublished material prepared by the National Archives. The results of our review of this material which was conducted on August 19 and 20, 1965, are contained in the enclosed memorandum dated August 24, 1965, two copies of which are enclosed. In order to expedite processing of the material in question by the National Archives, a copy of the enclosed memorandum is being furnished to Dr. Rhoads.

We call to your attention that among the documents reviewed on August 19 and 20, 1965, were Commission Documents 692 and 1114 which were originally listed in our List D. Document 692 is an official Central Intelligence Agency Dossier and 1114 is a file of the Department of State, both of which have been classified "Secret" in their entirety by the contributing agencies. The FBI documents contained in these files, which documents are described in the enclosed memorandum, by themselves all fall within the category covered in our List A; namely documents which, according to the guidelines, may at this time be placed in the public domain. However, as the contributing agencies have classified the files in which they are contained "Secret," we have listed them in the enclosed memorandum under List C which pertains to material which must, at this time, be excised under the guidelines. Should the contributing agencies declassify their files which are represented by Commission Documents numbered 692 and 1114, the FBI material contained therein may be placed in List A.

NOTE:

Dr. Rhoads on 8-18-65 requested J. C. Stokes to review certain of the Commission's documents; namely, Secret Service, CIA, and State Department files included among which were much FBI material. These files were not made available to us by Archives during our initial review of material in question. In addition to this material, the Archives located several other documents which were not previously listed by them and, hence, were not reviewed. The attached LHM includes results of review of all this material. For information, three items were found which should be excised.

At 5:45 a.m., 8/21/65, Rockion called the Bureau from a toll station in YMCA in Oakland, California, and spoke with SA Clifford P. Hartley, Night Supervisor, Special Investigative Division.

Rockion admitted he had been drinking. He said he believed Oswald had an accomplice in the assassination of President Kennedy, as there had to be because Oswald couldn't do it alone. Said he felt so badly ever since that he is going to "look around" for the accomplice. Said he, Rockion, had been laid off the local Navy yard and might return to show business.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
November 22, 1963
Dallas, Texas

On July 30, 1965, Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D. C. received from the office of Senator Robert F. Kennedy, a letter dated June 4, 1965, which had been addressed to Senator Kennedy by Miss Laura Kittrell, 3009 Bryn Mawr, Dallas, Texas. A copy of this 14-page handprinted communication is attached hereto.

The 1965 Dallas City Directory lists Miss Laura Kittrell, Counselor, State Employment Commission, residence 3009 Bryn Mawr. The directory also shows at the same address, W. H. (Frances L.) Kittrell, Texas Press Clipping Bureau. The current Dallas telephone directory lists W. H. Kittrell, 3009 Bryn Mawr, Ellerson 3-3011. Miss Laura Kittrell's name does not appear in the telephone directory.

Records of Retail Merchants Association, Dallas, indicate Miss Laura Kittrell to be the daughter of W. H. Kittrell, both residents at 3009 Bryn Mawr, Dallas. Miss Kittrell has been of record since November 1942. Such trade transactions as are of record reflect she has a satisfactory credit rating. The file indicates she was born in October 1904, place of birth not shown. Miss Kittrell is shown to have been employed by Texas Employment Commission in February 1950. Previous employers of record were NYA (believed to be National Youth Administration), Terrell, Texas, in 1940; Neiman's Store, Dallas, date not shown; Tura's Studio and P. J. Caldwell, 1948 and 1949, respectively, locations not shown.

On August 12, 1965, W. H. Miller, District Director, Texas Employment Commission, 8300 John Carpenter Freeway, Dallas, advised that Miss Laura Kittrell is employed as a counselor, Texas Employment Commission, 1206 Ross Avenue, Dallas, and in this capacity counsels persons seeking industrial employment. He said she is the daughter of one W. H. "Bill" Kittrell, a "local politician" who has over the years attached himself in one way or another to campaigns of political luminaries of the moment. He has been employed in the public relations field and more recently provides a press clipping service to various types of clients.

Mr. Miller said Miss Kittrell is a long-time employee of Texas Employment Commission and was first employed as an interviewer. He said that while Miss Kittrell is considered intelligent and a good worker in many respects, she is a "frustrated old maid" and, in his opinion, somewhat "squirrelly". He said she is "inclined to get on the soap box" frequently and is very often "in left field" in connection with some of her statements. He said he recalled one instance in the fairly recent past when employees of the agency were requested to answer a questionnaire by filling in blanks and without signing their names, in connection with a possible change in policy. Miss Kittrell was not content to merely fill in the blanks as requested, but gave a lengthy discourse and signed her questionnaire. He said he thought this was typical of Miss Kittrell's attitude. He said it has not come to his attention that Miss Kittrell has any information which would have a bearing on the assassination of the late President Kennedy, and he had no knowledge of her having communicated with Senator Kennedy, the Warren Commission, or others; however, he said he could not be surprised if she has so communicated, because it is typical of her to inject herself into matters of public interest.

Files of the Dallas FBI Office include information that on November 23, 1963, Mr. Frank Cooney, Counselor, Texas Employment Commission, called to inform he had received information from Miss Laura Kittrell, a fellow employee, that she had interviewed a person on Wednesday, November 20, 1963, who had professed to have a subversive background. She had reported the matter as having a possible connection with Lee Harvey Oswald. Inquiry into the matter on November 23, 1963, resulted in the identification and an interview with the person Miss Kittrell had in mind. No connection of any nature whatsoever with Oswald was disclosed by this inquiry.

On September 4, 1962, Miss Laura Kittrell, 3005 Bryn Mawr, telephonically advised the Dallas FBI Office she had received from her maid information to the effect a grandson of the maid had been abused by officers of the Dallas Police Department when arrested on August 20, 1962, for carrying a concealed weapon. This information precipitated an investigation which resulted in admission on the part of the person who was allegedly abused that he had concocted the story to obtain sympathy. Investigation did not, however, require further contact with Miss Kittrell or result in development of information concerning her.

At approximately 9:05 A.M., November 3, 1964, Miss Laura Kittrell, 3005 Bryn Mawr, Dallas, telephone EM 3-3011, employee of Texas Employment Commission, telephone RI 7-2071, telephonically advised she had just completed voting at Precinct 125, University Park School, 3505 Amherst Street, Dallas, and that the voting machine used by her was not working properly. She demanded the Federal Bureau of Investigation order the machine removed, stating she was not sure her vote would count.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
DALLAS, TEXAS
NOVEMBER 22, 1963

Miss Kittrell stated the lever one uses to vote the straight ticket was inoperative and she was informed by an Election Judge that she would have to turn the lever down over the name of each individual candidate. She said the Election Judges were aware the lever "was broken". She stated the machine used by her was the first machine on the north side of the room "nearest the table". She said there were four machines and that while a long line of persons were waiting to vote, at least one of the booths was vacant at any given time due to delay. She said, accordingly, there was no need for the machine which was out-of-order.

Miss Kittrell stated she had called the office of the United States Attorney, Dallas, and had been informed that office had no authority to order a machine removed. Miss Kittrell, when advised that the Federal Bureau of Investigation would have no authority to order a machine removed but would notify proper persons of her complaint, demanded the action be taken immediately, stating six or more persons could have voted during the time it took the Agent to obtain the basic information from her.

Mr. Crozier Gowen, Election Judge, Precinct 125, advised two of the four machines had, in fact, been out-of-order to the extent that the lever for voting a straight ticket was not operating properly. He stated, however, all persons were being informed that their vote would be properly recorded by placing the small levers down over the names of the individual candidates. He said the machines had been found defective, as described above, shortly after the polls were opened, and technicians had been called to make necessary adjustments but had not arrived at that time.

Mr. V. Damron, Deputy Sheriff, Dallas County, advised complaints regarding defective or allegedly defective machines are being received by his office and that the Sheriff's Office is transporting technicians to the various polling places. He said there was a considerable backlog of complaints, and there would be undoubtedly considerable delay with regard to any particular complaint.

On August 12, 1965, Special Agents of the FBI interviewed Miss Kittrell at her place of employment, Texas Employment Commission, 1205 Ross Avenue, Dallas. Agents exhibited their credentials to her and orally identified themselves as Special Agents of the FBI at the outset. She was informed that a copy of her letter of June 6, 1965, to Senator Robert F. Kennedy had been furnished to the Dallas FBI Office, and that Agents desired to talk with her in regard to the contents of this letter. She stated at this time that her letter to Senator Kennedy had not been acknowledged, and that a previous letter she had written to Mr. Kennedy on December 26, 1963, had not been acknowledged by him, but that she had received a mimeographed slip of paper from J. Edgar Hoover. She said she was, at the time of interview, not certain and in fact doubted Senator Kennedy had ever received the more recent letter. Her attention was directed to a block stamp on Page 1 of the letter which indicated the communication had been received in the Senator's Office on June 8, 1965, at 3:57 P.M. She said this did not prove to her the Senator had in fact received the letter. She was asked to summarize for Agents the information in her letter. She said the contents of the letter speak for themselves, but that she would summarize same.

Miss Kittrell stated that in late September or early October 1963, she had interviewed at her desk at Texas Employment Commission a Negro woman who was seeking employment. She had stated she was from California and had worked formerly for Murray Chotiner. She said she is inclined to believe this interview took place in October 1963, since she recalled periwinkles were in bloom and she had some of these flowers on her desk. She said she also recalls the dresses she and the Negro woman were wearing would suggest the fall season of the year. At the time of the interview with the Negro woman, Miss Kittrell observed a man leaning against the wall near her desk. There were at least two persons with this man, one another man and one a pregnant woman. She said these persons were conspicuous in that the first man she mentioned was wearing a "motorcycle jacket", and the woman appeared to be talking on her hands as if she were a deaf mute.

She said when she had finished with the Negro woman, this man came over to her desk, said he did not mean to "butt into her business", but asked if he had not heard the Negro woman say she was from California, and that she had worked for Murray Chotiner. She said she told the man she could not answer him, as her conversations with persons at her agency were confidential. The man said, "Well, I'll be damned."

A few days later, she said she received a call from Mrs. Pauline Elrod, a neighbor, a claims investigator, and fellow employee of Miss Kittrell. She said she was sending a man, whom Miss Kittrell now believes was Lee Harvey Oswald, to Miss Kittrell and wanted to get him "reclassified". Mrs. Elrod had said the man was from New Orleans. An appointment was made for a specific time. When the man arrived, another person, who also had an appointment with Miss Kittrell, was present and it was necessary to keep the person, whom Miss Kittrell was now calling "Oswald", waiting. She said she apologized to him for keeping him waiting.

She said "Oswald" commented to her at the outset, "Gee, I'll bet your old man has got a lot of dough", to which she replied, "You are mistaken". She said she thought she recognized "Oswald" as the person who had been in a few days previously and asked him if he had ever worked in California and for Murray Chotiner. "Oswald" did not answer directly but inferred he had not worked for Murray Chotiner and said, "He's a crook". Miss Kittrell said she told "Oswald", "I wouldn't say that". "Oswald" said, "Yes, he is".

Miss Kittrell said she was "rattled" for a while after talking to "Oswald". He told her he had been to Russia, but she thought he had made up the story as he said he had worked in an electronics plant in Russia. This information had come out when "Oswald" insisted he should be "classified" for work in the electronics field and after she had told him this could not be as he had no experience along this line. She said at the same time "Oswald" wanted to be classified for "white collar" work in the downtown Dallas area. He said he did not drive a car. He said he had "office experience" in that he had been a motorcycle delivery boy in California at age 16. Miss Kittrell said she seemed to remember the town of Encino, California, but is not certain whether this was the town in which "Oswald" claimed to have worked or whether this was the town in which the Negro woman previously referred to had worked.

Miss Kittrell continued that she had talked to "Oswald" three times in that she had interviewed him, given him some tests, and interviewed him again. On one occasion, "Oswald" told her he was a "teamster". However, he had no union card. He mentioned having worked in New Orleans in a warehouse. He stated on one of the visits that his wife had just had a baby.

Miss Kittrell said she could not be certain the man was in fact Lee Harvey Oswald; she said her recollection of the person is that he seemed to fit the description later published concerning the real Oswald. She recalled she had written the name "Murray Chotiner" on papers concerning the person she referred to as "Oswald", since she associated this person with the individual who was in her office at the same time as was the Negro woman who said she had worked for Murray Chotiner. She said she had taken off work the day of November 22, 1963, to attend the luncheon for President Kennedy. After she returned to work, she was never able to locate any papers concerned with "Oswald".

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
DALLAS, TEXAS
NOVEMBER 22, 1963

At one point during interview, Miss Kittrell was asked to identify the person she had referred to as "Murray Chotiner". She expressed irritation, stating Agents were not qualified to conduct investigation unless they knew who Murray Chotiner is, and that if Agents did not know, she had no intention of telling them. She at that point demanded to again see credentials of interviewing Agents and examined them at length. She said, after such examination, she could not be sure of Agents' identities as Special Agents of the FBI.

At the termination of the interview, Miss Kittrell stated the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy by the Warren Commission was a farce, that neither the Commission nor the FBI had seen fit to interview her, despite her having written to Senator (then Attorney General) Kennedy and to the Commission. She expressed irritation that she had not been called on to testify before the Commission.

SENATOR ROBERT F. KENNEDY
SENATE OFFICE BLDG
WASHINGTON, D.C.

DEAR SENATOR KENNEDY,

I DON'T KNOW WHETHER I AM DOING A SENSIBLE THING OR NOT IN SENDING YOU THIS, SO LATE THAT MAYBE WHAT I HAVE TO SAY MIGHT BETTER BE LEFT UNSAID, BUT I FEEL THAT I STILL HAVE AN OBLIGATION TO SEE THAT SOME HONEST PERSON IN AUTHORITY KNOWS ABOUT IT. I HAVE TRIED VERY HARD TO MEET THAT OBLIGATION, AND NOW, AFTER A YEAR AND A HALF, I AM RIGHT BACK WHERE I STARTED: WRITING A LETTER TO ROBERT F. KENNEDY.

THE LETTER I SENT TO YOU WAS TWO PAGES, AND WAS AIRMAILED SPECIAL DELIVERY, REGISTERED, FROM THE DALLAS POST OFFICE DEC. 26, 1963. (I STILL HAVE THE POSTAL RECEIPT). I COULD NOT HAVE SENT IT ANY SOONER BECAUSE IT TOOK ME UNTIL THEN TO BE SURE OF MY INFORMATION. I HAD TO SIFT THROUGH MANY HUNDREDS OF APPLICATION CARDS AT THE TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION TO BE SURE (AT LEAST REASONABLY SURE) THAT NOTHING I RECALLED HAVING WRITTEN INTO THE RECORDS OF THE MAN I REMEMBERED AS OSWALD WAS ACTUALLY SOMETHING I HAD WRITTEN ON SOME APPLICATION BELONGING TO SOMEONE ELSE. I WAS GONE FROM MY OFFICE ALL DAY ON ANNUAL LEAVE ON FRIDAY, NOV. 22, 1963, AND WHEN I RETURNED, THE FBI OR SOMEBODY LIKE THAT HAD ALREADY PICKED UP ALL RECORDS OF OSWALD, AND I HAD NOTHING TO GO BY EXCEPT MY OWN BEWILDERING RECOLLECTIONS OF THE MAN I REMEMBERED AS LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

FBI—DALLAS

IN WRITING TO YOU, I SAID AS LITTLE AS POSSIBLY COULD, TAKING CARE TO STATE THAT MY LETTER, CONTAINING AS IT DID THE NAME "MURRAY CHOTINER" IN CONNECTION WITH THE NAME OF LEE HARVEY OSWALD, SHOULD PASS THROUGH AS FEW HANDS AS POSSIBLE, AND THAT THAT WAS WHY I WAS SENDING IT DIRECT TO YOU. I SAID IN THE LETTER THAT I WOULD PREPARE A FULLER ACCOUNT OF THE INCIDENT IT RELATED.

WHEN I SENT IT, I NEVER DOUBTED THAT THE LETTER WOULD FETCH THE AUTHORITIES. RECEIVING A REPLY IN A FEW DAYS (A MIMEOGRAPHED SLIP OF PAPER FROM J. EDGAR HOOVER) I PATIENTLY SAT BACK AND WAITED FOR THEM TO PICK UP THE FULLER ACCOUNT I HAD PROMISED. AT FIRST, IT SIMPLY DID NOT OCCUR TO ME THAT I MIGHT NOT HEAR FROM THEM, AND I WAS QUITE A LONG TIME (UNTIL THE END OF MARCH) IN REALIZING THAT I WAS NOT GOING TO, UNLESS I TOOK SOME INITIATIVE IN THE MATTER. THE THING THAT DECIDED ME WAS THAT THE WARREN COMMISSION, IN DALLAS INTERVIEWING WITNESSES, & APPARENTLY FINISHED TALKING WITH THE TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION PERSONNEL, announced THAT IT WAS WINDING UP ITS BUSINESS AND PREPARING TO LEAVE. I HAD NOT HEARD FROM THEM.

I HAD LONG THOUGHT THAT THEY WOULD GET TO ME IN DUE TIME. I DREADED THE THOUGHT THAT THEY WOULD, KNOWING ALMOST CERTAINLY THAT IT WOULD MEAN THE LOSS OF MY JOB (WHICH I LIKE VERY MUCH) WHEN IT BECAME KNOWN THAT I HAD SIDE-STEPPED ALL CHANNELS OF AUTHORITY IN WRITING DIRECTLY TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL ABOUT MATTERS WHICH HAD OCCURRED AT MY DESK AT THE TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION. I HAD SEEN NO WAY OF GOING THROUGH CHANNELS WITHOUT HAVING THE NAME "MURRAY CHOTINER" MENTIONED AGAIN AND AGAIN, AND MAYBE DEGRADED A THOUSAND TIMES AS THAT OF A SUSPECT IN THE ASSASSINATION, WHEN I COULD SEE VERY WELL THAT HE MAY HAVE HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH IT AT ALL. AT THE SAME TIME, I DID NOT THINK I SHOULD BE THE SOLE JUDGE OF WHETHER HE HAD OR NOT.

ENCLOSURE

I WISH TO MAKE IT CLEAR HERE THAT THE LETTER IS NOT MEANT TO ACCUSE MR. CHETINER OF ANYTHING. IT IS MEANT FOR AN ACCUSATION AGAINST THE WARREN COMMISSION, AND AN EXTREMELY SERIOUS ONE, WHICH I AM PREPARED TO BACK UP.

OVER TO HIM, WOULD HE SEE THAT THE WARREN COMMISSION (4) GOT IT, BEFORE THEY LEFT FOR WASHINGTON, SINCE THEY WERE RIGHT THERE IN HIS OFFICE. HE TOLD ME THAT SUCH A THING AS I DESCRIBED WAS NOT CALLED A LETTER, BUT A
"DEPOSITION" AND KINDLY SAID THAT HE WOULD SEND A SECRET SERVICE MAN TO MY OFFICE TO PICK IT UP.

I KNOW NOW, BUT DID NOT KNOW THEN, THAT A
DEPOSITION IS A DOCUMENT SWORN TO. AT THE TIME, I WAS ONLY RELIEVED THAT I WAS NOT ASKED TO SWEAR TO ANYTHING, BECAUSE I DO NOT BELIEVE IN SWEARING, AND IF I HAD BEEN ASKED TO SWEAR, COULD ONLY HAVE REFUSED. HE AND THE WARREN COMMISSION HAD NO WAY OF KNOWING THAT, THOUGH.

UNFORTUNATELY, WHEN THE SECRET SERVICE MAN
ARRIVED, HE DID NOT TELL ME WHO HE WAS, BUT JUST CAME AND SAT DOWN IN MY SECTION TO WAIT FOR ME; AND AS I HAD SEVERAL PEOPLE WAITING TO SEE ME, I KEPT HIM WAITING, BECAUSE I DO NOT INTERVIEW OUT OF TURN, AND I MISTOOK HIM FOR SOME COLLEGE BOY COMING IN EARLY IN THE SEASON TO SEE ABOUT A SUMMER JOB.
FINALLY, HE TOLD ME WHAT HE WAS THERE FOR, AND DISMISSED AT HAVING KEPT HIM WAITING SO LONG,
I DID NOT WANT TO DETAIN HIM ANY LONGER THAN I HAD TO. I GAVE HIM THE MANILA FOLDER AND TOLD HIM TO SIT DOWN AND READ MY ACCOUNT, AND WHEN HE HAD FINISHED, TO ASK ANY QUESTIONS HE NEEDED TO.
WHEN HE READ IT, HE SEEMED IN A HURRY TO BE OFF,
AND I JUST LET HIM GO, AFTER A QUESTION OR TWO
HE ASKED ME. I DID NOT HAVE A CHANCE TO ASK HIM ANYTHING ABOUT WHAT WAS USUAL IN SUCH MATTERS.

± LATER ASKED THE U.S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY (WHO IS JUDGE BAREFOOT SANDERS, AND NOW WORKING FOR KATZENBACH)
IF HE HAD GIVEN MY REPORT TO THE WARREN COMMISSION, AND HE SAID THAT HE HAD SENT IT TO THEM IN THE MAIL.
I ASKED HIM IF HE HAD READ IT, AND HE SAID NO.

THE REASON I ASKED HIM THIS WAS THAT IT WAS THEN JUNE, AND I HAD NOT HEARD FROM THE WARREN COMMISSION, OR FROM ANYONE, CONCERNING MY APRIL LETTER, AND I WAS CALLING THE U.S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO SAY THAT I HAD WRITTEN ANOTHER REPORT, REMINDING THEM OF WHAT I HAD TOLD THEM IN MY APRIL LETTER, AND ADDING DETAILS I HAD LEFT OUT. HE TOLD ME TO MAIL MY LETTER TO HIM AND THAT HE WOULD FORWARD IT TO THEM. I DID MAIL IT TO HIM, AND I AM SATISFIED THAT HE SENT IT ON TO THEM; BUT I NEVER DID HEAR FROM THE WARREN COMMISSION. I NEVER HEARD FROM ANY BODY ABOUT THE LETTERS I HAD SENT THEM.

WHAT ESPECIALLY DISTRESSED ME; WAS THAT EACH TIME I HAD WRITTEN; I HAD ASKED THAT A COPY OF MY LETTER BE SENT TO YOU; AND ITS RECEIPT BY YOU ACKNOWLEDGED. I COULD EASILY HAVE WRITTEN YOU MYSELF, BUT IT SEEMED A COMPLETE WASTE OF EFFORT TO TO WRITE TO YOU, IF THE LETTER WAS GOING TO BE ANSWERED BY A MIMEOGRAPHED SLIP OF PAPER FROM J. EDGAR HOOVER'S (I AM NOT EVEN POSITIVE THAT YOU ARE AWARE OF THE FREE MAIL-ANSWERING SERVICE WITH WHICH THE FBI PROVIDES YOU. PERHAPS THIS RED-CARPET TREATMENT IS RESERVED ONLY FOR YOUR AIR-MAIL, SPECIAL-DELIVERY - REGISTERED LETTERS; WHICH GIVES ME AN INSPIRATION: I SHALL SEND THIS ONE BY ORDINARY MAIL. I HAVE WAITED THIS LONG TO WRITE YOU IN THE HOPE THAT THIS LETTER WILL NOT BE INTERCEPTED BEFORE IT REACHES YOUR DESK, EITHER TO BE READ BY SOME TRUSTED SECRETARY, OR MAY NOT MIND HAVING LETTERS TO YOU ANSWERED BY J. EDGAR HOOVER'S MIMEOGRAPHING SEAT; BUT I MIND A GREAT DEAL HAVING A LETTER I HAVE WRITTEN TO SOMEONE ELSE ANSWERED BY HIM. I MIND JUST ENOUGH THAT I WOULD NEVER VOTE FOR A PERSON WHO ALLOWS HIS MAIL TO BE ANSWERED BY J. EDGAR HOOVER'S MIMEOGRAPHING SEAT; NEEDLESS TO SAY, I HOPE YOU ARE NOT SUCH A PERSON. ANYHOW, I THOUGHT THE WARREN COMMISSION MIGHT HAVE BETTER LUCK TRYING TO REACH YOU THAN I HAD HAD. APPARENTLY THEY DIDN'T EVEN TRY TO REACH YOU, EITHER.

WHEN THE WARREN REPORT CAME OUT THAT FALL, I SPENT MANY HOURS LOOKING UP THINGS IN THE MEAGERLY INDEXED, TWENTY-SIX VOLUMES, TRYING TO FIGURE OUT FROM THE TESTIMONY OF THE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE PERSONNEL, WHY I HAD NOT BEEN CALLED OR QUESTIONED. I FOUND FOR SEVERAL THINGS: SOME OF OSWALD'S EMPLOYMENT SERVICE RECORDS THAT JUST HAD TO BE THERE, WERE'NT. AMONG THESE WERE DOCUMENTS WHICH I HAD REFERRED TO IN MY NOTES TO THE WARREN COMMISSION AS POSSIBLY HAVING THIS AND THAT NOTATION ON THEM, IN MY HANDWRITING. EVEN THE COUNSELING RECORD CARD FROM THE INDUSTRIAL OFFICE WHERE I WORK, WHICH I HAD BEEN CAREFUL TO EXPLAIN TO THEM, WOULD HAVE THE NAME OF ANOTHER COUNSELOR, MR. DON BROOKS, ON IT, BUT WHICH I TOLD THEM I HAD, IF MY SURMISES WERE CORRECT, FILLED IN MY HANDWRITING (WITH THE FINAL NOTATION, "A COLD-BLOODED MARXIST") WAS NOT THERE. A COUNSEL CARD IS A VERY PRIVATE AND GUARDED RECORD, SEEN BY THE COUNSELORS AND THEIR SUPERVISOR, AND SELDOM BY ANYONE ELSE; SO THAT A COUNSEL CARD IS PRACTICALLY NEVER LOST. YET MR. BROOKS' COUNSEL CARD FOR MR. OSWALD, WHICH I HAD WRITTEN THE WARREN COMMISSION TO SAY I THOUGHT I HAD USED IN INTERVIEWING MR. OSWALD, WAS NOT THERE. THE DALLAS CLAIMS INVESTIGATOR RECORD FOR MR OSWALD WAS NOT THERE EITHER. IF I HAD INTERVIEWED OSWALD, AS I THOUGHT I HAD DONE, THEN THE CLAIMS INVESTIGATOR REPORT WOULD NECESSARILY BEAR THE NOTATION THAT MR. OSWALD HAD BEEN SENT TO MISS KNITTELL FOR A REINTERVIEW AND RE-CODING OCCUPATIONALLY, AND ALSO THAT MISS KNITTELL HAD CALLED THE CLAIMS INVESTIGATOR TO SAY THAT MR OSWALD HAD KEPT HIS APPOINTMENT. THE CLAIMS INVESTIGATION RECORD IS A LEGAL DOCUMENT. WHEN A CLAIM HAS BEEN [illegible] IT HAS TO BE THERE. YET IT WASN'T.

I HAVE WRITTEN THE WARREN COMMISSION THAT A DUPLICATION (1)
OF HIS CLERICAL-OFFICE APPLICATION WAS EVIDENT, IF THE MAN I REMEMBERED AS OSWALD, LEE OSWALD, I HAD MADE SEVERAL APPLICATIONS FOR HIM, FOR OUR DIFFERENT DEPARTMENTS, AND I HAD AT KNOWN, UNTIL I HAD MADE THE CLERICAL ONE, THAT HE ALREADY HAD SUCH AN APPLICATION
IN OUR OTHER OFFICE. I FAILED TO STRAIGHTEN THINGS OUT BY THE 'PHONE WITH THE OTHER OFFICE, AND I DISTINCTLY REMEMBER CHANGING MY "142" CLASSIFICATION FOR HIM
TO "134" IN RECORD WITH THE SUGGESTION OVER THE TELEPHONE FROM THE CLERICAL OFFICE, SO THAT WHEN THE CARD I HAD SENDING ARRIVED, IT WOULD AUTOMATICALLY BE FILED IN THE SAME PLACE AS THE ORIGINAL CLERICAL APPLICATION, AND THEY COULD DECIDE WHICH ONE THEY WANTED TO KEEP,
AFTER INCORPORATING THE INFORMATION ON THE ONE
INTO THE OTHER. THE WARREN COMMISSION REPORT SHOWS AN APPLICATION FOR OSWALD MADE IN 1962, HARKNESS BACK TO THE TIME HE HAD ALREADY ARRIVED FROM RUSSIA. IT IS CALLED A CLERICAL-TECHNICAL CLASSIFICATION FOR HIM BEING TO BE CONSIDERED FOR OTHER WORK, WHEN HE HAS A REASONABLY WELL-EXPLAINED INDUSTRIAL
CLAIM AGAINST HIS INDUSTRIAL EXPERIENCE, IS SOMETHING THAT COULD SCARCELY HAPPEN, AT LEAST NOT FOR ANY LENGTH TIME IT WOULD TAKE A CLAIMS INVESTIGATOR TO CALL A COUNSELOR IN THE INDUSTRIAL OFFICE AND ASK THE COUNSELOR SIGN HIMSELF FOR WORK OF AN INDUSTRIAL, SORT, ALSO.

I AM AWARE THAT THIS KIND OF EXPLANATION WILL PROBABLY BE USELESS IN MAKING YOU UNDERSTAND WHAT IS,
AND IS NOT, DONE AT THE TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION.
I HOPE I DON'T FAIL TO MAKE YOU UNDERSTAND THAT SOMETHING WRONG HAS BEEN, SOMEWHERE (I DON'T KNOW WHERE) OR THE RECORDS WOULD BE THERE. MR BROOKS COUNSEL CARD AND THE DALLAS CLAIM INVESTIGATION CARD HAS TO BE THERE, BUT THEY WEREN'T.

WHEN I WROTE TO THE WARREN COMMISSION I WAS PERFECTLY AWARE, AND SAID SO, THAT I WAS GOING OUT ON A LIMB IN TELLING THEM OF THE NOTATIONS I HAD MADE ON HIS APPLICATIONS (THE NAME OF MURRAY CHOTINER, I INADVERTENTLY NOTED DOWN IN THE SPACE FOR FORMER EMPLOYERS OF THE MAN I REMEMBERED AS OSWALD, A FANTASTIC AND INCREDIBLE ERROR ABOUT WHICH I PAINFULLY WROTE TO THE WARREN COMMISSION AND WHICH IT WOULD TAKE PAGES TO EXPLAIN HERE, SO I WON'T, WAS ONE OF THESE NOTATIONS I RECALLED), THAT IS, I WAS GOING OUT ON A LIMB IF SOME OF HIS APPLICATION CARDS, AND ESPECIALLY THIS ONE, HAD BEEN LOST. I HAD AN OBLIGATION TO TELL THEM ABOUT IT THOUGH. AT THE TIME I WROTE THEM, I SUPPOSED THAT THE APPLICATIONS, SUPPOSED BY THE INVESTIGATORS TO CONTAIN ROUTINE INFORMATION ALREADY GATHERED FROM OTHER SOURCES, HAD SIMPLY NOT BEEN EXAMINED CLOSELY; THAT WHEN THEY GOT AROUND TO EXAMINING THEM, IT WOULD PUT MR. CHOTINER IN A VERY BAD LIGHT INDEED; THAT IT WAS ENTIRELY POSSIBLE THAT THE MAN I REMEMBERED AS OSWALD WAS NOT EVEN ACQUAINTED WITH MR. CHOTINER (THIS MAN HAD SERVED ME AS BEING A TERRIBLE LIAR, A PERSON WHO LIED WHEN THE NEED AROSE, AND WHEN IT DIDN'T, LIED JUST TO PASS THE TIME OF DAY)

YET WHEN I WROTE TO THE WARREN COMMISSION I WAS ALSO AWARE THAT EVEN IF THIS APPLICATION CARD WAS LOST, ITS APPLICATIONS SOMETIMES ARE, THERE WOULD AT LEAST BE THE COUNSEL CARD OF MR. BROOKS AND THE DALLAS CLAIM INVESTIGATOR'S RECORD TO CONFIRM OR DENY THAT I HAD TALKED TO OSWALD, FOR THESE TWO KINDS OF RECORDS SIMPLY DON'T GET LOST. I WAS WILLING TO ACCEPT EITHER THE ABSENCE OR PRESENCE OF MY HANDWRITING ON THE COUNSEL CARD AND THE REFERENCE TO MY NAME ON THE CLAIM INVESTIGATION CARD, AS THE PROOF THAT I HAD OR HAD NOT, TALKED TO OSWALD, AND IF I [illegible] EVERYONE, AND TO MAKE

AN APPOINTMENT WITH A PSYCHIATRIST. I WROTE TO THEM PERFECTLY CONFIDENT THAT MR. BROOK'S COUNSEL CARD AND THE CLAIM INVESTIGATION RECORD CARD WOULD BE THERE, EVEN IF NOTHING ELSE WAS. WELL, THEY WEREN'T, AND THAT WAS THAT.

MY COMPLAINT IS THAT I NEVER HEARD FROM THE WARREN COMMISSION. THIS IS MORE THAN A MURMURING OVER THE CIRCUMSTANCE THAT THE THINGS I THOUGHT WERE IMPORTANT ENOUGH TO LOOK INTO DID NOT HAPPEN TO BE THE SAME THINGS THEY THOUGHT WERE IMPORTANT ENOUGH TO SPEND THEIR TIME ON.

I THINK YOU WILL AGREE WITH ME (WHEN YOU HAVE READ THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT OUTLINING THE CONTENTS OF MY LETTERS TO THEM) THAT MY LETTERS TO THEM, SENT THROUGH THE PROPER CHANNELS SO THAT THERE WAS NO POSSIBILITY OF THEIR BEING IGNORED, MADE IT NECESSARY THAT THE WARREN COMMISSION FORMALLY ACCEPT OR REJECT MY STATEMENTS, OR BE SEEN AS, AT THE LEAST, DISHONORABLE MEN, OR AT THE MOST AS CONSPIRATORIALLY DISHONEST. MY PRECISE ACCUSATION AGAINST THEM IS THAT THEY WERE NEGLIGENT OF THEIR PUBLIC AND ASSIGNED DUTY IN NOT QUESTIONING ME ~~THAT~~ DUTY IS LISTED IN THE WHITE HOUSE EXECUTIVE ORDER NUMBER 11130 AS BEING ~~O~~ --- TO EXAMINE THE EVIDENCE DEVELOPED BY THE FBI AND ANY ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE THAT MAY COME TO LIGHT OR BE UNCOVERED BY FEDERAL OR STATE AUTHORITIES -- THIS MEANS THAT ONE OF THEIR SPECIFIC DUTIES WAS TO EXAMINE SUCH EVIDENCE AS I UNCOVERED, FOR I AM (IT DOES NOT MATTER IN HOW SMALL A WAY) A STATE AUTHORITY.

WHAT WAS IN MY LETTERS TO THE WARREN COMMISSION?

TO SUMMARIZE THEIR CONTENTS, I SAID I THOUGHT:

A. A STRANGER, LATER BELIEVED BY ME TO HAVE BEEN OSWALD, HAD TAKEN OCCASION TO MENTION TO ME, AT MY DESK AT THE TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION'S INDUSTRIAL OFFICE ON ROSS. AVE, IN THE EARLY FALL OF 1963, THE NAME OF MURRAY CHOTINER.

B. A FEW DAYS AFTER THIS INCIDENT, A PERSON WHOSE NAME I REMEMBERED AS OSWALD WAS SENT TO ME BY MRS ELROD, A CLAIMS INVESTIGATOR IN THE CLAIMS OFFICE, TO BE INTERVIEWED AT LENGTH AND TO HAVE HIS OCCUPATIONAL CLASSIFICATIONS REVISED AND EXPANDED. HE TURNED OUT TO BE THE STRANGER I HAVE ALREADY MENTIONED, A COINCIDENCE WHICH BROUGHT UP AGAIN THE NAME OF MURRAY CHOTINER, AS NAME WHICH BY A MOST CURIOUS ERROR, WHICH I EXPLAINED, I WROTE INTO THE YOUNG MAN'S WORK HISTORY AS BEING THAT OF A FORMER EMPLOYER.

C. THAT I HAD INTERPRETED FOR THIS MAN AN APTITUDE TEST BATTERY. THIS WAS THE SAME MAN WHO HAD TOLD ME SOME FANTASTIC STORY ABOUT HAVING WORKED IN RUSSIA (THE MOST RIDICULOUS THING I HAD EVER HEARD). THE TEST HAD SUGGESTED TO ME A DISCREPANCY BETWEEN HIS STATEMENT THAT HE HAD BEEN A SHARPSHOOTER, AND A CERTAIN DEFICIENCY IN PHYSICAL QUALITIES MEASURED BY THE TEST. I SAID IN MY LETTER I REMEMBERED THIS MAN AS HAVING BELOW AVERAGE SCORES IN ONE OR MORE OF THESE ITEMS. (SEE OSWALD'S APTITUDE TEST BATTERY SCORE CARD IN THE BIG WARREN REPORT. THIS TEST PART IS NAMED "MOTOR-COORDINATION SCORE ON THE GENERAL IT IS ALSO CALLED "EYE-HAND-COORDINATION" "AVERAGE" (OR MIDDLE POINT ON THE GAUSSIAN CURVE)

D. INSTEAD OF DEFENDING HIMSELF WHEN I BROUGHT UP AS TACTFULLY AS I COULD THE (TO ME CLARIFY) DISCREPANCY AND APOLOGIZED FOR THE POOR SHOWING HE HAD MADE, SAYING "WELL, A TEST ISN'T EVERYTHING," HE HAD SAID FIRMLY, "NO MA'AM, THAT TEST IS RIGHT: THE TRUTH IS I AM NOT A VERY GOOD SHOT. I JUST LIKE GUNS, THAT'S ALL."

E. THAT AT A SUBSEQUENT INTERVIEW, SHORTLY AFTER THIS, A YOUNG FELLOW I REMEMBER AS BEING OF GERMAN DESCENT (ALTHOUGH I DO NOT RECALL HIS NAME) AND WHO MAY AND MAY NOT HAVE BEEN OSWALD WAS SENT TO ME TO BE RE-POLICED. (I RECALL THAT I WAS EXASPERATED AT THIS, BECAUSE I HAD NOT VERY LONG BEFORE ALREADY RE-POLICED HIM, ONCE). HE HAD RECENTLY WORKED IN A WAREHOUSE, USING SOME SPECIAL EQUIPMENT IN LOADING AND UNLOADING MERCHANDISE, A FORKLIFT OR CRANE, OR SOMETHING LIKE THAT, BUT DID NOT KNOW HOW TO DRIVE A CAR. HIS MOST RECENT EMPLOYMENT HAD BEEN IN NEW ORLEANS. HIS WIFE WAS EXPECTING TO HAVE, OR HAD JUST HAD, A BABY. HE LOOKED VERY, VERY MUCH LIKE, AND YET NOT EXACTLY LIKE, THE MAN I REMEMBER AS OSWALD. HE BOASTED TO ME OF HAVING JUST, A WEEK OR TWO BEFORE, JOINED THE DALLAS TEAMSTERS UNION (LOCAL 745) WHEN I REMONSTRATED WITH HIM OVER THIS, SAYING I FOUND IT VERY ODD THAT A MEMBER OF THE TEAMSTERS UNION, WHICH IS THE SAME AS THE TRUCK DRIVERS UNION, SHOULD NOT BE ABLE TO DRIVE A CAR, HE FELL INTO A FIT OF CONSPICUOUS LAUGHTER, THEN SAID, "WELL, I'M A TEAMSTER NOW," AND ABRUPTLY BECAME VERY MELANCHOLY-LOOKING. WHEN I ASKED TO SEE HIS UNION CARD, HE SAID, "WHY, THEY HAVEN'T GOT IT TO ME YET." (INCIDENTALLY I AM NOT AS SURE AS IT WOULD SEEM FROM THESE ITEMS LISTED AT THE START OF THIS THAT THIS MAN WAS OSWALD. IN SPITE OF WHAT I HAVE OUTLINED, MY MEMORY REMAINS OF TWO MEN, ONE THE ONE I REMEMBER AS OSWALD, AND THE OTHER, THIS TEAMSTER PERSON, BOTH MEN HAVING RECENTLY WORKED IN NEW ORLEANS. THIS SEEMS PRETTY ILLOGICAL, I KNOW, AND I TOLD THEM SO, IN MY LETTERS, BUT THAT IS THE WAY I REMEMBERED THINGS, AND I CAN'T HELP THAT. WORKING FOR THE PUBLIC, I AM ACUTELY AWARE OF THE PREVALENCE OF COINCIDENCE, AND WARY OF IT.

F. THAT THE TEST SCORES OF THE MAN I REMEMBERED AS OSWALD WERE: "G", 116; "V", 126; THAT "G" IS SOMETHING LIKE AN "I.Q.", AND "V" MEANS "VERBAL". (THE TEST SCORES, WHICH WERE PHOTOSTATED IN THE BIG WARREN REPORT WERE, HOWEVER, G, 103 AND V, 127, THE LATTER BEING A REMARKABLE SCORE FOR AN EIGHT-GRADE DROP-OUT). I DO NOT THINK I WAS WRONG; I THINK THE MAN I REMEMBER WAS OSWALD, AND THAT I HAD RE-TESTED HIM, AND THAT DUE TO NERVOUSNESS, HE DID NOT DO AS WELL AS HE HAD DONE BEFORE. I REMEMBERED HIS PHYSICAL-QUALITY SCORES (MANUAL AND FINGER DEXTERITY AND FORM PERCEPTION) AS BEING LOWER THAN THE SCORES SHOWN, AND DID NOT SPECIFICALLY REFER TO MOTOR-COORDINATION AS HIS LOWEST IN MY LETTER, BUT SAID MERELY THAT HE HAD SHOWN AS BELOW AVERAGE ON ONE OR MORE OF THESE MUSICAL QUANTITY QUOTING NO EXACT PHYSICAL-QUALITY SCORES (IF YOU COULD SEE, AS I HAVE OFTEN SEEN, THE GENERAL APTITUDE TEST SCORES OF MANY MEN WHO ARE EXCELLENT MARKSMEN), AND MANY SCORES OF 140 TO 150 ON THINGS LIKE MOTOR-COORDINATION, YOU WOULD QUESTION WHETHER A PERSON WHO MARKS BELOW AVERAGE COULD HIT THE SIDE OF A BARN.

THESE, THEN, ARE THE THINGS THE WARREN COMMISSION DECIDED NOT TO ASK ME ABOUT: MY STATEMENT THAT A MAN I HAD GOOD REASON TO BELIEVE WAS OSWALD HAD MENTIONED THE NAME OF MURRAY CHOTINER TO ME, AND THAT I HAD WRITTEN THAT NAME DOWN, BY AN ODD SORT OF CHANCE, IN A PLACE ON THE APPLICATIONS WHICH WAS RESERVED FOR A SUMMARY LISTING OF FORMER EMPLOYMENT; MY STATEMENT THAT I INTERPRETED FOR THIS SAME MAN A BATTERY, DURING WHICH

INTERPRETATION, BOTH HE AND I HAD COMMENTED ON HIS MARKSMANSHIP, THE TEST HAVING SHOWN HIM AS BEING DEFICIENT IN THE PHYSICAL SPEED ONE NATURALLY ASSOCIATES WITH SHARPSHOOTING, AND FINALLY, MY STATEMENT, APPARENTLY MORE PUZZLING TO ME THAT IT WAS TO THEM, THAT THIS SAME YOUNG MAN REMINDED ME VERY MUCH OF A TEUTONIC YOUNG WAREHOUSEMAN FROM NEW ORLEANS WHO COULD NOT DRIVE A CAR, TO WHOM I HAD TALKED AT A SOMEWHAT LATER INTERVIEW, AND WHO HAD LAUGHED VERY LOUDLY WHEN I CHALLENGED HIS CLAIM THAT HE HAD NEWLY JOINED THE DALLAS LOCAL OF THE TEAMSTERS' UNION.

I GAVE THEM OTHER IDENTIFYING ITEMS, WHICH I WILL NOT GO INTO HERE EXCEPT TO SAY THAT THEY COULD EASILY HAVE BEEN CHECKED IF I HAD BEEN ALLOWED TO CONFRONT MRS OSWALD AS A PERSON SAYING THAT I THOUGHT I REMEMBERED HAVING SEEN HER IN THE COMPANY OF HER HUSBAND AND ANOTHER MAN AT THE TSD OFFICE AT A CERTAIN TIME (A PREGNANT WOMAN TALKING ON HER HANDS TO ONE COMPANION, AS THOUGH SHE AND WERE DEAF, AND THEN TO THE ONE APPARENTLY HER HUSBAND, IN NORMAL CONVERSATIONAL TONES, A LITTLE OUT OF MY EARSHOT, IS NOT THE SORT OF THING I READILY FORGET) OR IF I HAD BEEN ALLOWED TO TALK WITH MRS PAINE IN THEIR PRESENCE (TO SEE IF SHE WOULD ADMIT HAVING CALLED A MISS NEITHELL AT THE TSD TO TELL HER, "YOU CAN QUIT WORRYING ABOUT MR. OSWALD; HE HAS FOUND HIMSELF A JOB, AT THE TEXAS SCHOOL BOOK DEPOSITORY," AND IF SHE AT LEAST REMEMBERED LAUGHING WHEN, HAVING BEEN TOLD THAT MISS NEITHELL WOULD LIKE TO SPEAK TO MRS OSWALD, SHE SAID THAT MRS OSWALD DIDN'T SPEAK ENGLISH, AND THEN LAUGHING AGAIN, WHEN MISS NEITHELL ASKED HER TO PUT HER ON THE PHONE ANYHOW, BECAUSE SHE COULD TALK TO HER IN SPANISH, AND FINALLY BECOMING EXASPERATED AT MISS NEITHELL'S RESPONSE TO THE INFORMATION THAT MRS OSWALD SPOKE RUSSIAN: "RUSSIAN? WHY DOES SHE SPEAK RUSSIAN?" AND REPLYING ANGRILY "BECAUSE SHE WAS BORN AND REARED IN RUSSIA, DIRTY WAY," AND THEN BANGING UP THE 'PHONE. MY RECOLLECTION IS THAT I WAS THUNDERSTRUCK TO HEAR THIS, THAT HIS WIFE SPOKE RUSSIAN, I HAD BEEN SO CONVINCED HAVING BEEN TO RUSSIA).

WHERE ARE THE TWO-TEN PAGE LETTERS I SENT TO THE WARREN COMMISSION VIA THE U.S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY? THEY ARE NOT IN THE TWENTY-SIX VOLUME WARREN REPORT. WILL YOU PLEASE AT LEAST FIND OUT WHERE THOSE LETTERS ARE?

I HAVE WAITED THIS LONG TO WRITE YOU THINKING THAT A LETTER SENT TO YOU AFTER SO LONG A TIME MIGHT NOT MEET THE FATE THAT MY AIR-MINDED, SPECIAL-DELIVERY, REGISTERED, LETTER TO YOU SENT DEC 06, 1963, MET: REPLY BY A MIMEOGRAPHED SLIP OF PAPER FROM J. EDGAR HOOVER.

IT IS MY HOPE THAT THIS FINDS YOU CAPABLE OF ANSWERING YOUR MAIL, I REMAIN,

Honorable Robert F. Kennedy
United States Senate
Washington, D. C. 20510

My dear Senator:

Returned herewith is a letter dated June 4, 1965, directed to your office by Laura Kittrell, 3009 Bryn Mawr, Dallas, Texas. The letter was referred to this Bureau on July 30, 1965.

Miss Kittrell, an employee of the Texas State Employment Commission, wrote concerning an interview she had in September or October, 1963, with a person she believes might have been Lee Harvey Oswald. She complained that a previous letter to you had not been acknowledged and that she was never contacted by the Warren Commission concerning this information.

The 1965 Dallas City Directory lists Miss Laura Kittrell, Counselor, State Employment Commission, residence 3009 Bryn Mawr. Credit bureau records indicate she was born in October, 1904, and has been employed by the Texas Employment Commission since February, 1950.

On August 12, 1965, Miss Kittrell was contacted concerning her June 4, 1965, letter. She said she doubted that you actually received the letter since it had not been acknowledged. She reiterated statements in her letter that a previous letter to you had been acknowledged by a "mimeographed slip of paper from J. Edgar Hoover." In this respect, the files of this Bureau contain no information indicating prior correspondence with Miss Kittrell.

Miss Kittrell stated the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy by the Warren Commission was a farce, that neither the Commission nor the FBI had seen fit to interview her despite her having written to you and to the Commission. She expressed irritation that she had not been called on to testify before the Commission.

Miss Kittrell did not appear to possess any information of pertinence to this Bureau's investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy or other matters within our investigative jurisdiction. A superior of Miss Kittrell's at her place of employment has stated he feels there is some question as to her emotional stability.

No further inquiries are being conducted into this matter.

NOTE: On 7/30/65, the office of Senator Robert F. Kennedy forwarded a 14-page handprinted letter from Laura Kittrell of Dallas. Miss Kittrell complained that a registered airmail special delivery she had sent to Kennedy on 12/26/63, was acknowledged only by a "mimeographed slip of paper from J. Edgar Hoover" (this was possibly a postal receipt since we have no record of such letter). She wrote that she had waited for the FBI to pick up a full account of information she had prepared, but no one ever came until finally about April, 1964, after she called the U. S. Attorney in Dallas, a Secret Service man came out and she turned over to him her "20-odd page report." She later called the Dallas U. S. Attorney (Judge Barefoot Sanders) concerning her report and he told her it had been sent to the Warren Commission. She said she told him she had written another report with more details, which she sent to Sanders, but still she did not hear from the Warren Commission. Her letter contained further snide remarks concerning "J. Edgar Hoover's mimeograph department" and rambled at great length concerning her interview with a person she thought might have been Lee Harvey Oswald. Her superior described her as "squirrelly" and from the letter and interview, it appears that she is in a state of emotional unbalance. A letterhead memorandum dated 8/12/65, setting out background data and full details concerning interview of Kittrell as well as a copy of her letter to Senator Kennedy are being furnished to the Department and to Secret Service for information.

Letter not being sent in duplicate since it contains derogatory information concerning Miss Kittrell and should not be disseminated to her.

Miss Kittrell's letter is 14 pages of hand printing and since it is readily readable, in the interest of economy a typed copy is not being prepared and a xerox copy will be retained in Bureau files.

NOTE:

This matter concerns the forfeiture proceedings currently being taken by the Government to retain the rifle used to assassinate President Kennedy and the pistol used to kill Police Officer Tippit. These weapons were previously furnished to our Dallas Office as the Department notified us the weapons must be in the state where the forfeiture proceedings are being handled. This matter comes within the jurisdiction of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service. We previously advised the Department that the weapons were in the custody of SAC, Dallas and further requested the Department to advise us what disposition was to be made of these weapons upon completion of the forfeiture proceedings. The Department noted that disposition of these weapons would be dependent upon the successful completion of the forfeiture proceedings and the civil action of John J. King v. The Attorney General, U. S. D. C., Denver, Colorado, Civil No. 6168. SAC, Dallas advised by airtel dated 9/11/65, U. S. Marshal, Northern District of Texas, served a Warrant of Seizure on these weapons in connection with the forfeiture proceedings. By doing this, he would have constructive custody of the weapons; however, the weapons remained in custody of SAC, Dallas. The USA, NDT, indicated this is the procedure recommended to him by the Department. The various documents mentioned furnished to us by Dallas are being forwarded to the Department for their information and Xerox copies are being maintained in the file.

Mrs. Oswald Says Kennedy Was Dying

Marguerite Oswald, the mother of the man who assassinated President Kennedy, charged yesterday that her son may have been involved in a plot with the Secret Service to remove the President by "mercy killing," because he was suffering from "an incurable disease."

Her theory was reported by Jean Stafford in a copyrighted interview in McCall's magazine, released yesterday.

Mrs. Oswald asserted that President Kennedy was dying of "Atkinson's disease," but may have meant Addison's disease, which is now neither fatal nor incurable, had had three back operations and "would have been a lingering President."

"So I say it is possible that my son was chosen to shoot him in a mercy killing for the security of the country," Mrs. Oswald said, "and if this is true, it was a fine thing to do, and my son was a hero."

Dear Mr. Hoover:

There is a book in the store in this city that has canonized Lee Harvy Oswald. Such warship my hands felt filthy after handling it.
It states Oswald was a valuable agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I think this can not be true due to his reputation all through his life. especially his record in the Marines. Since he is dead I feel free to ask this question since there is no need for secrecy at this date. If you confirm it I will believe it and suffer my horrible shock in silence. Please tell me!

Was Lee Oswald an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation???

Thank you kindly in advance.

HARRY DUTT was interviewed at [redacted] Baton Rouge, Louisiana and furnished the following information after being advised he did not have to make any statement, any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law, and before he made a statement he could talk to a lawyer or anyone he chooses.

DUTT stated that he was visiting his nephew in Baton Rouge for approximately two weeks. He advised that on the evening of October 5, 1965 he had been drinking in the bar at the Capitol House Hotel in Baton Rouge and that this time he was accompanied by his nephew [redacted] He stated that he had made a statement regarding JACK RUBY and LEE HARVEY OSWALD but said he was drinking heavily at the time and he does not recall what he said. He stated that he did not know anything about anyone of these individuals except what he had read in the newspaper and that if he had talked about a plan to kill JACK RUBY he could not recall what he said. He advised that he does not know of such a plan. He also stated that he does not know of any plan or plot which might endanger his own life. DUTT stated that he frequently "talks when he is drinking" and cannot always be held responsible while drinking.

He advised that he had met a man named JACK RUBY in Juarez, Mexico about 5 years ago but he does not think, however, this is the same JACK RUBY who lives in Dallas. He stated, however, that he thought he would go to Dallas some time in the future to see JACK RUBY and to "talk to him." When asked how and where he intended to contact RUBY in Dallas he stated that he would "just go to Dallas and ask for him."

He also said that he met LEE HARVEY OSWALD in New Orleans about 5 or 6 years ago, but he does not believe he talked to OSWALD. He stated he just saw OSWALD on the street in New Orleans.

DUTT stated that he has suffered from "neurosis" that he had been confined to mental institutions on several occasions, once in 1945 at the Veterans Hospital, Augusta, Georgia for a mental condition. DUTT stated he had also been treated at the Halifax Hospital, Daytona, Florida on at least 7 occasions between 1955 and 1962 for a mental condition.

He also stated that he had been arrested by the Police Department, Daytona, Florida on several occasions for charges including drunk and disorderly conduct. He stated that on one occasion he attacked 2 Daytona Policeman with an axe when they tried to arrest him. He stated that the police subdued him and placed him under arrest and at the time they also confiscated his rifle.

He stated that he did not own any firearms at the present time but would like to get a pistol one, that would scare some one if he pointed it at them. He advised that he owned a hunting knife which he frequently carried with him.

DUTT stated that he was in total agreement with all the policies of the present administration and that he thought President JOHNSON was a fine president, was doing a good job and was following the policy of President KENNEDY. He further stated that President KENNEDY was the best president we have had.

DUTT stated that his plans for the immediate future were indefinite that he wished to find employment in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

During the course of the interview DUTT appeared nervous and on several occasions became highly excited. During a portion of the interview in which DUTT related an incident regarding attacking of two policeman with an axe he became excited.

The "New York Herald Tribune" newspaper, dated January 15, 1964, page 7, column 1, contained an article entitled "Oswald's Mother Hires Lane". This article stated that on January 14, 1964, Mrs. Marguerite C. Oswald, mother of accused assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, announced she had hired Mark Lane to represent her slain son before the Warren Commission investigating the murder of President John F. Kennedy. According to this article, Mrs. Oswald stated she had been in contact with Lane during his stay in Fort Worth, Texas, the previous weekend. It was also pointed out that Lane had accepted the case although Mrs. Oswald stated she had no funds with which to pay him.

The "New York Times" newspaper dated April 2, 1964, page 37, contained an article stating that Mrs. Marguerite C. Oswald had dismissed Mark Lane, her New York lawyer.

On June 10, 1963, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that at a meeting of the New York Council to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NYCAHUAC) held May 28, 1963, at 74 Fifth Avenue, New York City, Mark Lane was elected to the position of Vice Chairman of the organization.

Characterizations of the NYCAHUAC and the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC) appear in the Appendix hereto.

On November 30, 1964, a second confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Mark Lane is an attorney-at-law who then maintained his offices at 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City. This source continued that Lane was also

MAY 2 MOVEMENT (M2M)
Formerly known as May 2 Committee

A source advised on March 3, 1965 as follows:

The M2M is the name now used by the May 2 Committee which was organized on March 14, 1964, at New Haven, Connecticut, by a group of young people participating in a symposium "Socialism in America" being held at Yale University. The original aim of the M2M was to plan and execute a demonstration in New York City on May 2, 1964, demanding withdrawal of United States troops from Viet Nam.

The M2M is dominated and controlled by the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) and has for its aim and purpose the embarrassment of the United States Government by meetings, rallies, picketing demonstrations and formation of university level clubs at which a Marxist-Leninist oriented approach and analysis is taken of United States domestic and foreign policies.

This source advised on May 19, 1965, that the current headquarters of the M2M is 640 Broadway, New York City, Room 307.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE
UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" issued December 1, 1961, by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, page 115, contains the following citation regarding the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC).

"Cited as a 'new organization' set up in the Summer of 1960 to lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign. Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as Communists."

A source has advised that the NCAUAC changed its name on March 3, 1962, to include the word 'House' in its name, thereby becoming known as the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC).

A second source advised on June 28, 1965, that as of that date the NCAHUAC continued to function with headquarters at 555 North Western Avenue, Los Angeles, California.

NEW YORK COUNCIL TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

On March 9, 1961, a source advised that the New York Council To Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NYCAUAC), 150 West 34th Street, New York City, New York, was formed at a meeting held in New York City on November 17, 1960. This organization was founded principally through the efforts of FRANK WILKINSON, Field Representative of the National Committee To Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC).

ROBERT RONSTADT, 20515 Tiara Street, Woodland Hills, California, a former member of the Communist Party (CP) in Los Angeles, California, from 1946 to 1952 who furnished information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1949 to 1952 advised on September 17, 1952, that FRANK WILKINSON was a member of the Los Angeles County, CP as of September, 1952.

A second source furnished on September 14, 1961, a copy of resolutions of the New York Council to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NYCAHUAC) which were adopted by the NYCAHUAC. One such resolution affirmed the intention to continue to work for the abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA) and to continue its efforts to broaden the participation in this fight. Another resolution accepted as a modus vivendi the suggestion of the Field Representative of the "National Committee to Abolish the HCUA" (NCAHUAC) namely that local abolition committees may identify and co-ordinate their efforts as closely as they desire with NCAHUAC, still maintaining their autonomy for as flexible and independent a program as possible.

A third, fourth, and fifth source have advised during March, 1962, that CP members in the New York City area have been solicited to support activities of the NYCAHUAC during attendance at CP club meetings.

On May 7, 1964, a sixth source advised that the NYCAHUAC continues to function from its office at 150 West 34th Street, New York City, New York.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP)
PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT (PLM)

A source advised on April 20, 1965, that the PLP, formerly known as the PLM, held its first national convention April 15-18, 1965, at New York City, to organize the PLM into a PLP. The PLP will have as its ultimate objective the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism.

"The New York Times," City Edition, Tuesday, April 20, 1965, page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP. The PLP was described as an outgrowth of the PLM. Its officers were identified as MILTON ROSEN, New York, President, and WILLIAM EPTON of New York and MORT SCHEER of San Francisco, Vice Presidents. A 20-member National Committee was elected to direct the party until the next convention.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962 by Mr. ROSEN and Mr. SCHEER after they were expelled from the Communist party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

The PLP publishes the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly," a theoretical magazine; "Progressive Labor," a monthly magazine; "Challenge," a New York City newspaper; and "Spark," a west coast newspaper.

The June 1, 1965, issue of "Challenge," page 6, states that, "this paper is dedicated to fight for a new way of life-where the working men and women own and control their homes, factories, the police, courts, and the entire government on every level."

The source advised that the PLP utilizes the address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York, but also utilizes an office in Room 622, 132 Nassau Street, New York City, where PLP publications are prepared.

In the answer to the Libel of Information filed in the captioned case the Claimant admits that Lee Harvey Oswald used a name other than "Lee Harvey Oswald" in purchasing the weapons. Claimant further states that the name so used was "A. J. Hidell" or "A. Hidell," by which name he frequently went.

We will appreciate receiving any information you may have concerning the alleged use of "A. J. Hidell" or "A. Hidell" by Oswald, except, of course with respect to the use of such names when purchasing the weapons.

Reference is made to your letter dated October 14, 1965, captioned as above.

A review has been made of our files for information as to the use made by Lee Harvey Oswald of the name Hidell, except where he used the name when purchasing the rifle and revolver. References are set forth below to specific pages from FBI reports in the Oswald case. These reports are extremely voluminous and, therefore, only copies of those pages specifically referred to are enclosed with this communication. Of course, if you desire copies of the full reports, they will be furnished to you immediately.

The pages enclosed with this communication are as follows:

92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 99, 100, 101, 102, 140, and 141 of Dallas report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated November 30, 1963;

179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, and 186, of Dallas report of Special Agent Gemberling dated January 7, 1964;

Mr. Fred M. Vinson, Jr.

For your assistance, the following is the result of our file review. As you know, considerable information on this matter is set forth in the "Hearings Before the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy" (hereafter referred to as "Hearings") and this information is being referred to for your further assistance.

At the time of his arrest, Oswald possessed in his wallet three identification cards bearing the name Hidell. All of the articles found in the wallet are itemized on pages 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 140 and 141 of FBI report dated November 30, 1963, at Dallas, made by Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling in the Oswald case.

The first item containing the name Hidell was a Selective Service Notice of Classification card in the name of Alek James Hidell and bearing a photograph of Oswald. Photographs of this card are printed on pages 631, 632 and 683 of Volume XVII, "Hearings." The second item was a Certificate of Service in the United States Marine Corps card in the name of Alek James Hidell. Photographs of this card are printed on pages 689, 690 and 691 of Volume XVII, "Hearings." Finally, the third item was a membership card of the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee, New Orleans Chapter" in the name of L. H. Oswald, bearing the signature Lee H. Oswald and signed A. J. Hidell, Chapter President. A photograph of this card appears on page 697, Volume XVII, "Hearings."

Two Dallas police officers testified before the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy that they talked with Oswald about the name Hidell shortly after his arrest. Officer Guy F. Rose testified he asked Oswald for his name and Oswald replied "Hidell." Rose said he had Oswald's wallet before him at the time and noticed it contained cards with the name Hidell and with the name Lee Oswald. Rose said he then asked Oswald which of the two names was correct and Oswald refused to answer. Officer Richard S. Stovall testified when he asked Oswald for his name Oswald replied that it was Lee Oswald. It is noted both police officers indicated they were together at the time of this short meeting and conversation with Oswald. Their testimony on this point appears in Volume VII, "Hearings," pages 187, 188 and 228.

Oswald was specifically asked in interviews after his arrest about the name Hidell and he refused to furnish any information about it. To Captain J. W. Fritz, Dallas Police Department, he stated on November 22, 1963, that it was a name he picked up in New Orleans. When questioned further about it he refused to give any other information. (For the testimony of Fritz on this point see Volume IV, "Hearings," page 222.) On November 23, 1963, Oswald was asked specifically about the Selective Service card bearing his photograph and the name Hidell. He admitted he carried the card but refused to furnish any other information about it. (See Dallas report of Special Agent Gemberling dated November 30, 1963, page 101.) Again on November 24, 1963, Oswald was questioned about the name Hidell and again he refused to give any information about it. (See Dallas report of Special Agent Gemberling dated January 7, 1964, pages 181 and 185.)

The Selective Service and Certificate of Service cards were determined by Laboratory examiners to be forgeries prepared by Oswald. FBI Special Agent James C. Cadigan's testimony as to these conclusions regarding these cards is printed in Volume VII, "Hearings," beginning on page 427. Mr. Alwyn Cole, U. S. Treasury Department, also testified as to these conclusions, his testimony appearing beginning on page 380, Volume IV, "Hearings."

Concerning the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee, New Orleans Chapter" card bearing the name Hidell, Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald testified she wrote the signature A. J. Hidell on this card at the direction of her husband. She testified there was no Hidell and Oswald indicated to her that he was Hidell. (See "Hearings," Volume V, pages 401 and 402 and Volume I, pages 64 and 65 and also FBI report in the Oswald case of Special Agent Warren C. DeBrueys dated December 8, 1963, at Dallas, page 277.)

Further information as to Oswald's use of the name Hidell in New Orleans was received from Lieutenant Francis L. Martello, New Orleans Police Department (see Dallas report of Special Agent DeBrueys in the Oswald case dated December 2, 1963, beginning on page 364, and Volume X, "Hearings," page 54) who interviewed Oswald when he was arrested in New Orleans in August, 1963. Martello noted Oswald possessed a "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" membership card signed by A. J. Hidell, Chapter President. Two other New Orleans police officers also saw this card (see Dallas report in the Oswald case of Special Agent DeBrueys dated December 2, 1963, beginning on page 378) as well as an employee of a New Orleans radio station (see above report page 695). The latter advised he concluded from a conversation with Oswald that Hidell was a fictitious name or an alias used by Oswald. FBI Special Agent John Lester Quigley interviewed Oswald in New Orleans at this time and reported Oswald refused to furnish any information about A. J. Hidell. Mr. Quigley's testimony appears in Volume IV, "Hearings," beginning on page 431.

Oswald used the name A. J. Hidell also, in the Summer of 1963, on his application for a post office box in New Orleans. Although he applied for the box using the name L. H. Oswald, he indicated on his application that A. J. Hidell and Marina Oswald were persons entitled to receive mail through the box. (See Dallas report in the Oswald case of Special Agent DeBrueys dated December 2, 1963, page 100.) A photograph of this application is printed on page 697, Volume XVII, "Hearings."

Finally, there are enclosed photographs of two handbills, FBI Exhibit D-25, in the Oswald case, items Q43, and Q45, found among Oswald's possessions. You will note the handbills contain the name A. J. Hidell. You will also note that the above-mentioned Lieutenant Martello furnished information that Oswald was distributing "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" handbills in New Orleans in August, 1963.

No other information was developed in the Oswald investigation as to Oswald's use of the name Hidell, except, of course, as he used the name when purchasing the guns. However, he did use a variation of this name, that is, the name Dr. A. J. Hidegl, on a forged Certificate of Vaccination Against Smallpox. A photograph of this document appears on page 693, Volume XVII, "Hearings." This is being furnished to you for your information since it is such a close variant from the name Hidell.

Enclosures (50)

NOTE:

Department noted that in this case the claimant alleged Oswald frequently went by the name A. J. Hidell or A. Hidell. It requested any info concerning the use of these names by Oswald. The above are the places when the name Hidell appeared in the Oswald case. The references set forth are the best references to the material.

On May 31, 1965, T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the identification records maintained at the Monterrey Police Department and at the Nuevo Leon State Police Department, contained no references whatsoever to the name of MIGUEL FONSECA RIVAS.

On June 11, 1965, T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he made discreet neighborhood inquiries concerning MIGUEL FONSECA RIVAS, and he ascertained that FONSECA is a young man, reportedly employed as a waiter, who resides with his mother at Tecate 120, Colonia Las Mitras. He said neighbors appeared to know very little about FONSECA, contending that he was antisocial and had very little contact with anyone in the neighborhood. He stated the neighbors advised him FONSECA was employed as a waiter, but no one could furnish the name of the establishment where he worked. MEX-33 said FONSECA was considered in the neighborhood to be somewhat odd.

[redacted]

On June 22, 1965, T-2 advised that FONSECA was not listed as a member of the waiters' union in Monterrey, and he was not known to administrative officers of the union.

On July 31, 1965, T-3, who has furnished reliable information in the past, reported that FONSECA and his mother live alone at Tecate 120, Colonia Las Mitras, and that neither of them has much contact with neighbors. He said it was the general consensus in the neighborhood that FONSECA was not well adjusted mentally and the neighbors avoided his company in the same manner that FONSECA appeared to detach himself from them. T-3 said that while it was generally believed in the neighborhood that FONSECA was employed as a waiter, he had encountered no one who could identify the establishment in which FONSECA worked. T-3 stated that no one in the neighborhood seemed able to furnish any background information concerning FONSECA, and all those he contacted commented upon FONSECA's alleged mental condition.

On August 31, 1965, T-3 advised that he had on August 20, 1965, located and interviewed MIGUEL FONSECA RIVAS at the place of his employment, the Club Reno. He said FONSECA told him he had been previously employed at the Hotel Del Parque in Cuernavaca, Morelos, Mexico, and that he had seen LEE HARVEY OSWALD at that hotel accompanied by the hotel owner, ENRIQUE PEREZ BONIN, PEREZ' son ENRIQUE PEREZ SANCHO, EZEQUIEL BENEDICTO IZQUIERDO, and two other unidentified individuals. T-3 said FONSECA alleged that the individual believed by him to have been OSWALD was royally treated at the Hotel Del Parque, all of which appeared strange to FONSECA because of alleged previously displayed anti-American attitudes of PEREZ.

[redacted]

[redacted]

T-3 said FONSECA advised he had reviewed the Warren Report relating to the assassination of President KENNEDY and when he had encountered no mention of OSWALD's alleged visit to Cuernavaca, he had written a letter to Washington, D. C. He said FONSECA advised he would welcome an opportunity to disclose all he knew of OSWALD's alleged visit to Cuernavaca to a properly authorized representative of the United States Government.

T-3 advised that FONSECA expressed great bitterness toward ENRIQUE PEREZ BONIN and the Hotel Del Parque. T-3 described FONSECA as having an effeminate, waspish and vindictive manner.

T-4, who has furnished reliable information in the past, made available the following information on 9/29/65.

The following people were interviewed in Cuernavaca, Morelos, Mexico: ENRIQUE PEREZ BONIN, his son ENRIQUE PEREZ SANCHO, and Attorney GUILLERMO OROPEZA. PEREZ BONIN is the owner of the Hotel Del Parque located in the principal plaza in Cuernavaca. According to PEREZ BONIN, LEE HARVEY OSWALD had never been a guest in his hotel in Cuernavaca and so far as was known was never in the city of Cuernavaca. OROPEZA, PEREZ BONIN, and PEREZ SANCHO all advised that they had never seen or heard of LEE HARVEY OSWALD prior to the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY but, of course, after the assassination of President KENNEDY, due to the wide publicity involved, they all became aware of LEE HARVEY OSWALD as the assassin of President KENNEDY. PEREZ BONIN, PEREZ SANCHO, and OROPEZA all advised that if they had had any information relating to the assassination of President KENNEDY, they would have immediately advised the United States Government.

With regard to MIGUEL FONSECA RIVAS, PEREZ BONIN advised that FONSECA had for about a year managed another hotel, the Villa Galeana, which was the property of PEREZ BONIN. This was in 1962-1963; however, PEREZ BONIN became aware of the homosexual activities of FONSECA RIVAS and the bad manner in which he had managed the Villa Galeana Hotel in Cuervavaca and had instructed his attorney GUILLERMO OROPEZA to institute investigation of FONSECA. This investigation revealed that FONSECA RIVAS had stolen a considerable quantity of money from the Hotel. Consequently, FONSECA RIVAS was relieved of his duties at his hotel and Mr. EZEQUIEL BENEDICTO IZQUIERDO had been named as manager of the Villa Galena Hotel. This was in May, 1963, and FONSECA was brought to trial on a charge of theft of funds, was convicted, and jailed on August 22, 1963. FONSECA remained in jail for about a year thereafter before being released. FONSECA never was employed at the Hotel Del Parque.

Re reports of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING dated 8/31/65 and 4/22/65 at Dallas, and Legat, Mexico City, letter to Bureau, 10/13/65, all in captioned assassination case.

Referenced Legat, Mexico City, letter transmitted a two-page insert relating to the assassination case and bearing the sub-heading "Allegations by GABRIEL LOPEZ GUERRERO, also known as Gabriel James Lopez, Gabriel J. Lopez, Salvador Martinez, [redacted] Saltillo Coahuila, Mexico." Twenty-five copies of this insert, together with two copies of referenced Legat, Mexico City letter were forwarded the Dallas Office by Bureau routing slip dated 10/20/65.

The Bureau's attention is called to pages 8 through 11 of referenced report of SA GEMBERLING dated 4/22/65 which reflects information concerning the allegations by GABRIEL LOPEZ GUERRERO. The two-page insert enclosed with referenced Legat, Mexico City, letter does not appear to warrant inclusion in any report and a copy of such insert will be filed in Dallas file, UACB.

There are no outstanding leads at the present time in captioned assassination case, which since the early days of the assassination investigation has dealt mainly with miscellaneous allegations with respect to the assassination as it pertained to persons other than the assassin LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

The captioned file on LEE HARVEY OSWALD has been used by the Dallas Office with respect to investigation pertaining to OSWALD as well as all evidence in the assassination case as it related to OSWALD, either directly or indirectly.

In view of the above, the captioned assassination case is being considered closed in the Dallas Office subject to being reopened in the event information is received in the Dallas Divis or from other divisions, which should be included in a report.

The captioned OSWALD case will continue to be maintaine in a pending status in order to follow the disposition of all evidence in this case as well as the proceedings with respect to the disposition of the assassination rifle and the revolver used by OSWALD in killing Dallas police officer J. D. TIPPIT.

Rep. Sidney Leiken

Hon. Sidney Leiken:

It is immaterial to me how you advertise the showing of the film at the Ted Sorensen Banquet in Portland on November 13. As I pointed out to Mr. Howard, Officials in Washington will do almost anything to see that this film is never shown in public. I enclose photostatic copies of Court documents showing how these Officials have put pressure on the Court to make certain that the film of the assassination of President Kennedy, which was made from the upper reaches of the Texas Building by one of the Five members of the Organization JPCOTT, who planned and carried out the assassination is kept from Public view. If this film was ever shown in Public, it would put the present Administration in a very perilous position.

All of the documents, letters, etc. such as Mrs. Bray's statement to the Dallas Morning News telling how Mr. Sherk of the Portland FBI office came to our house there in Portland shortly after the assassination and stated "When the Officials who are in charge of the case in Texas come across your letter to Gov. Connally, they will contact us at once. Bray, did you write the letter?" will be displayed at the banquet.

There will be no deviation from the agreed method in bringing the Evidence Excluded From the Warren Report to Portland for the banquet. Your Committee will furnish Mrs. Bray and I with plane tickets to Casper, Wyo., Ft. Smith and Little Rock, Ark. and San Francisco, Calif. so that we will be in these cities during banking hours. Our entire expenses will be borne by your Committee. The two Oregon State Troopers who Mr. Howard said would accompany us during the entire trip will see that we return here safely the day after the banquet.

I plan to send photostat copies of this letter to the Federal Officials there in Portland who questioned us the latter part of August of '63 regarding my letter to Gov. Connally in which I gave the exact details of the Dallas plot, over 3 months prior to the tragedy in Dallas. The copy of this letter which was witnessed and notarized on August 12, 1963 at Meir & Frank's in Portland will be included in the display of Evidence Excluded From the Warren Report at the banquet.

Respectfully,

4. A letter from HARRY MC CORMICK, The Dallas News, to Mrs. E. F. BRAY, Portland, Oregon, dated 2/8/64.

5. Petition to the court by EDWARD F. BRAY.

Items 2 through 5 were received in Item 1 by the State Department. These documents were furnished to SA KENNETH J. HASER on 11/4/65 for any action considered necessary by the Bureau by Mr. RICHARD A. FRANK, Office of the Legal Adviser, U.S. Department of State, who has been coordinating State Department activity regarding the OSWALD case and matters bearing on the assassination for many months.

BRAY appears identical to the male subject in Portland's letter to the Bureau and all field offices dated 5/20/64 and dually captioned "EDWARD FRANK BRAY; Mrs. EDWARD FRANK BRAY, INFORMATION CONCERNING," Portland file 89-21. Therein is described how Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD FRANK BRAY, 2606 Northeast 12th Avenue, Portland, Oregon, were engaged in a very widespread mailing of letters and other materials to FBI offices, prominent individuals and Federal and State officials throughout the United States. The subject matter of the BRAY mailings were the sinking of the nuclear submarine Thresher, the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY, and an allegation that the Navy had lost an atomic warhead off the Pacific Coast. According to this Portland letter, BRAY himself was considered definitely psychopathic.

While Portland letter indicated that offices receiving BRAY material need not forward any of it to Portland, it is forwarded herewith in view of the reference to a Mr. SHARK of the Portland FBI Office in Item 3 above.

In view of the extensive investigation conducted in captioned matter and the likelihood that info re BRAY is already in possession of the Bureau, any action in connection with the enclosed material is left to the discretion of the Bureau and the office of origin.

INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA

Reference is made to the telephone call on November 11, 1965, of Mr. James Flug of your office to Special Agent John H. Kloinkauf, concerning a call Mr. Flug had received from Mrs. Oswald during the afternoon of that date.

Our files disclose that on November 30, 1963, the Odessa, Texas Police Department advised a Special Agent of our El Paso Office that William Ray Dobkins of Monahans, Texas, had been locked up. During the previous evening, Dobkins reportedly had entered the Odessa Police Department and told the desk sergeant that he had killed President Kennedy. The Odessa Police Department advised that in view of the fact Dobkins was drunk, he was arrested and placed in jail.

On November 30, 1963, Dobkins advised a Special Agent that he had been drunk the night before and that he had actually not had anything to do with the shooting of President Kennedy. Dobkins indicated that he resided in Monahans, Texas, and worked with his father in a bakery there.

MAILED 2
NOV 16 1965
COMM-FBI

Dobkins' employment at the bakery in Monahans was verified by the Special Agent on November 30, 1963, at which time it was determined that Dobkins was in Monahans, Texas, during the time of, and subsequent to, the shooting of President Kennedy.

In view of the above information, it appears that no further action is necessary with regard to Mrs. Oswald's allegations.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA

On 11-11-65, a woman identifying herself as Marguerite Oswald, mother of subject, called from Fort Worth Texas, asking to speak to the Director. When politely told that the Director was not available, she related the following.

She had just returned from Monahans, Texas, where she had been in contact with William R. Dobkins. She stated that Dobkins' physical description is almost identical to that of the subject; that he is a former Marine; that he was discharged from the Marine Corps about the same time as the subject; that he traveled to Mexico City by bus on or about the same time that subject allegedly traveled in 1963. She stressed the point that many of the allegations concerning her son's travels very likely could apply to Dobkins and the authorities have made a grave mistake.

She stated that she refuses to deal with our Dallas Office and reiterated that FBI Headquarters should look into this matter. She volunteered that when she contacted Dobkins she was accompanied by Ronnie Duggin, a newspaper reporter with the Texas Observer, Austin, Texas.

The above information was telephonically furnished to the Dallas Office. Dallas was instructed to check its indices regarding Dobkins, furnish a summary of any information in Dallas files and furnish its recommendation as to whether an interview of Dobkins is advisable. Dallas was instructed that no interview should be conducted without specific Bureau authority.

Subsequent to Mrs. Oswald's call to the Bureau, Mr. James Flug of the Attorney General's Staff telephonically advised on November 8, 1965 at 5:00 p.m. the same date that he had just received a call from Mrs. Oswald furnishing him the same information she furnished the Bureau. Mr. Flug requested that he would like a report of the results of any action taken by the Bureau in this matter.

Memorandum Branigan to Sullivan
RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
105-82555

The individual referred to by Mrs. Oswald is William Ray Dobkins of Monahans, Texas. Our files disclose that Dobkins had been locked up by the Odessa, Texas Police Department on the night of 11-29-63. The Odessa Police Department advised on 11-30-63, that on the previous night Dobkins had reportedly told a person at the Texas Cafe that he was investigating Lee Harvey Oswald. Dobkins reportedly then entered the Odessa Police Department and told the desk sergeant that he had killed President Kennedy. As Dobkins was drunk at the time, he was arrested by the Odessa Police Department and placed in jail.

On 11-30-63, Dobkins advised an agent of our El Paso Office that he had been drunk the night before and that he actually had not had anything to do with the shooting of President Kennedy. Dobkins indicated that he resided in Monahans, Texas, and worked with his father in a bakery in Monahans. This employment at the bakery in Monahans was verified by the agent on 11-30-63, at which time it was determined that Dobkins was in Monahans during the time and subsequent to the shooting of President Kennedy.

On 11-12-65, Mrs. Oswald sent a telegram addressed to the Director, in which she claimed there were new developments in the Kennedy - Oswald case. She stated that she reserved the privilege of testifying and giving information in person to interested parties.

OBSERVATION:

Mrs. Oswald has been in frequent contact with the Bureau since the assassination of President Kennedy by her son Lee Harvey. In our dealings with her it has been evident that she is given to flights of fancy and there has been some indication of mental instability. It will be noted that there is no substantial allegation in the fact that Dobkins resembled her son. Further Dobkins was interviewed in 1963 when he claimed that he was drunk when he made the allegation that he had assassinated President Kennedy. The fact that Oswald was responsible for the assassination of President Kennedy has been conclusively proven by the Bureau's investigation and through the President's Commission. In view of the above circumstances, there is no need at this time to further interview Dobkins nor is there any necessity to acknowledge the communications of Mrs. Marguerite Oswald.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY 11/22/63, DALLAS, TEXAS
MISC. - INFORMATION CONCERNING

At the present time there is a forfeiture proceeding instituted by the Government to obtain permanent possession of the rifle used by Oswald in shooting President Kennedy, as well as the .38 caliber pistol used by Oswald in shooting Police Officer J. D. Tippit.

SAC Shanklin advised that the Dallas Office had complied with the previous request of Assistant U. S. Attorney Timmins to make available certain documents which he had stated he needed in handling the forfeiture proceeding which has been brought on behalf of the Alcohol, Tax and Tobacco Unit of the Federal Government.

SAC Shanklin advised that Assistant U. S. Attorney Timmins today stated that in addition to the material made available he was of the opinion he would need a chronology prepared by the Bureau setting forth the exact location of the above-mentioned rifle and revolver from the date of November 22, 1963, up to the present time, accounting for the exact whereabouts of both of these guns during the intervening period. AUSA Timmins also indicated he felt it would be necessary to have information made available to him concerning the use by Oswald of the name A. J. Hidell, particularly with regard to whether or not this was used only in connection with the purchasing of the rifle from the mail order house in Chicago or whether this name had likewise been used on other occasions by Oswald.

NOT RECORDED
16 NOV 18 1965

Concerning the chronology of the rifle and pistol, SAC Shanklin stated Timmins had no specific reason as to why he needed such a chronology but did state he was going to be in touch with Departmental attorneys relative to this matter and would recontact the Dallas Office at a later date in the event he desired this chronology.

Memo to Mr. Belmont from A. Rosen
Re: Assassination of President

Concerning the information on A. J. Hidell, Shanklin advised Timmins indicated he felt the defense attorneys might make an issue out of the use of this name and wanted to be thoroughly familiar with what occasions Oswald had used the name Hidell. Dallas proposes to refer AUSA Timmins to the Warren Commission's reports which contain an index and sets forth in detail the pages of the Warren Commission's hearings where the name of Hidell was mentioned.

Subsequent to the foregoing call from SAC Shanklin, he telephonically advised at 3:45 p. m. today that AUSA Timmins had been in touch with Mr. Joseph J. Cella of the Criminal Division of the Department who concurred with Timmins that he should obtain the chronology mentioned above relative to the guns and that Timmins should make his request direct to the Dallas Office for this information. Shanklin is submitting a teletype to the Bureau tonight setting forth the details of this request and will also make available the information in the Dallas Office showing when the gun was in the possession of the Dallas Office.

ACTION:

This request has been telephonically furnished to Assistant Director Conrad's office in order that a chronology can be prepared of when the gun was in the possession of the Laboratory and when it was in the possession of someone else other than the Laboratory. As soon as this is completed the same should be made available immediately to the Dallas Office in order that the complete chronology can be made available to the U. S. Attorney's office, Dallas, Texas.

Dear Mrs. Oswald,

I am of the opinion that debate must be had at this time. That can compare the Cuba/Panama Ranch suicide to Ted Williams of early 1963, as well as to the Dempsey-Tunney re-match I furnished you. It is necessary to understand that this woman Richard built the Cuba pipeline and tried to work on wood on the land at the request of Cuba, in case of civil trouble.

Except to tell you that Kennedy's death freed the Federal Land Bank of Houston to count the land as belonging to the R.M. Reed estate in early December, 1963 and then caused the lien to be released to someone other than the R.M. Reed heirs, I can't advise any further without reading along information that would only confuse you. The fact is that things concerning the Reed estate were straightening out until the government became certain that the press would co-operate fully in suppressing the truth. Here are U.S. Treasury Forms 1099 and 3922 (9-62) that will have to be considered since they were made out to the R.M. Reed Estate as if the Reed heirs owned the 12 sections, which they do.

What is covered in the above paragraphs and the perjury against Cuba, plus the killing of R.M. Reed and his alleged killer, are just part of what would have become public if not for Ted Smith. The C.I.A. did send him to Russia and the C.I.A. and State Department did guide and direct him even to having him buy the 6.5 m.m. rifle after a U.S. Military Intelligence contact was made public on October 24, 1962; the date that Kennedy went down in history as having defeated both Russia and Cuba. This was calculated to make the public believe that Cuba really did kill Kennedy, as well as to divert the public anger against Cuba for what they covered up themselves. In other words, both sides framed a full-scale investigation. The night of October 24, 1962 would have been the date of Ted's final discharge from the Marine Corps but they just tricked him into working for the U.S. Government and then not lived up to their end of the bargain to give him a good discharge upon returning from Russia.

Cordially and sincerely yours,
William R. Dobbins

This is to confirm the telephonic conversations between Mr. Joseph J. Colla and Special Agent Kenneth M. Raupach on November 15, 1965, and November 17, 1965.

On November 15, 1965, Mr. Colla advised that Assistant United States Attorney B. H. Timmins, Jr., Dallas, Texas, required a chronology reflecting the location of the assassination rifle and the revolver used in the killing of Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit.

Mr. Colla was advised this Bureau would take immediate steps to obtain the information Mr. Timmins desired which information was located both at the Headquarters of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C., and in our Dallas Office.

On November 17, 1965, Mr. Colla was advised that the information relating to this matter available at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters had been furnished to our Dallas Office. In turn, our Dallas Office was incorporating all of the information Mr. Timmins desired into an appropriate communication which would be furnished to Assistant United States Attorney Timmins. Mr. Colla was advised he would be furnished a copy of the communication furnished to Assistant United States Attorney Timmins upon receipt at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters. This communication has been received and a copy is enclosed for your information.

NOTE:

This matter concerns the forfeiture proceedings instituted by the Government in Dallas to permanently acquire the assassination rifle and the revolver used by Lee Harvey Oswald to kill Police Officer Tippit. In connection with this matter, the Government has actually filed a Libel of Information against the rifle and pistol alleging false entries were made in the records required by regulations to be maintained by licensed dealers in firearms. Theoretically, such a record would not be accurate as the dealer who sold the aforementioned firearms have these weapons recorded in the name of A. J. Eidell. On the basis of these facts, this matter is being handled through the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit of the Department of Treasury in Dallas to prevent John J. King of Denver from acquiring these weapons as sole owner. The Dallas communication was expeditiously needed by the AUSA Dallas, in connection with hearings in U. S. District Court, Dallas, on 11/24/65. This communication confirms the contact with the Department and reveals the results of our efforts to assist in this matter.

HENSHAW stated he would make his copy of NT containing the article entitled RUBY and OSWALD Pals appearing on 5/17/64, available for copies to be made by WFO, but desired to have the newspaper returned to him for his file. He commented that he did not write the article, was advised by the then editor of NT that this article was appearing under his name. He stated he read the article and objected to the article and told the editor that he hoped the newspaper had the facts to support such an article because in the event he, HENSHAW, was questioned regarding this article he would have to tell the truth in that he did not write the article and he could not substantiate the facts appearing therein.

HENSHAW further commented that he had received several telephone calls from someone in Tennessee inquiring about the article on OSWALD and RUBY. He said he is unable to recall the identity used by the called, but thinks on one occasion the caller indicated his name was DAVIS. He also said as he recalls the caller indicated he was an unemployed salesman and HENSHAW said he thought it was rather odd that an unemployed individual would be spending an unusual sum of money for long distance phone calls for information regarding such an article.

New Review
The Oswald Case

Drew Pearson

Today's column is by Drew Pearson's associate, Jack Anderson.

WHETHER it or not, the Navy has submitted the case of Lee Harvey Oswald, who [illegible] with assassinated President Kennedy, to a civilian review board to determine whether he should receive an honorable or [illegible] discharge posthumously.

The Marines gave him an undesirable discharge in 1959 after he had asked to be released as a hardship case but turned up instead in Russia, declaring his preference for the Soviet system.

Oswald had forsaken his country, he went to the Under-Secretary of the Navy John [illegible] to request a reversal of his undesirable discharge. The discharge review board rejected his request.

The motive even have been the secret behind his terrible crime. It is significant that Connally, as Governor of Texas, was riding with President Kennedy in the motorcade which passed under Oswald's window on the route to downtown Dallas. The frustrated Oswald gunned down both cars, though Connally survived.

Now Oswald's widow, Marguerite Oswald, has appealed again to have set aside the undesirable discharge given him by the Marines. [illegible] discharge review board did not reject the request outright as it had done previously, but submitted it to the civilian board of corrections for a formal hearing.

A Navy spokesman assured this column that the handling of Mrs. Oswald's request was purely routine. The discharge review board has the option of rejecting the request or forwarding it to the board of corrections, he said. He would not predict what action the board will take.

* * *

LIKE MANY a father before him, President Johnson tried to talk his 19-year-old daughter, Luci, and her 20-year-old boy friend, Pat Nugent, into holding up their engagement.

But Luci and Pat were impatient, and Mr. Johnson was indulgent. Luci lightened the conversation by joking about the difficulty of courting with secret service bodyguards chaperoning every date. She remarked ruefully that she and Pat might be the first young couple to be married without ever having been alone together.

Note: During his recent visit with Pope Paul I, the President boasted that his daughter was keeping company with a "fine Catholic boy."

Honorable Leverett Saltonstall
U. S. Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Saltonstall:

Enclosed is an article under Drew Pearson's column, which you may have seen. "Navy to Review the Oswald Case."

Long ago it occurred to me that Oswald may have been trying to shoot the Secretary of the Navy due to the fact that he wanted his discharge made honorable. Having a dishonorable discharge and not being able to have a continuous job, likely caused the United States the biggest shock it ever had.

As you are on the Committee for the Armed Services, you have thought over the way alleged subversives, recalcitrants, and disaffected members of the services are treated.

From 1942 the life of Col. Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, would not have been very safe had I been trained to shot and had I been a man so I could do it. I am not sure that is even true. I know that some of the Navy orders originated in the White House, and went out to various Navy installations via the Secretary of the Navy. (I filed some of them in Trinidad, B.W.I.)

The first one I noticed was about "no race no color no creed." The only purpose that serves as far as I can see is that it makes no difference who you are, just so you vote for our Party. Actually, the Golden Rule, if demonstrated would have negated the need for "no race, no color, no creed." If the American people are a Christian nation, then they demonstrate Christianity, and the Gold Rule is one of the first principles of Christianity.

Considering diplomacy, you know that other psychological factors control the action around diplomatic affairs.

When businessmen seek trade in other countries, they go in and find out what nationals of other countries respond to, and then they talk up that line in order to sell merchandise. (Such things as the color of the shipping packages may be desirable to some countries and an insult to others.).

A salesman from the Chicago offices of Montgomery-Ward went to Port-au-Prince, Haiti. He said they were having a dance, and he went. I asked if he danced with the women (there were just native women in Haiti in 1936), and he said he did. For a long time I thought over how a white American would feel dancing with a colored woman. Could he and that company want business that much!

I should have known the answer to that, since I worked the year before in Venezuela among Standard Oil employees. They do not marry the native Venezuelan women, but they do live, off and on, with them, and until their contracts are finished. When they return to the States, they do not take the women nor the children, resulting from the situation.

105 [illegible] — ENCLOSURE

When service men, and it is Navy men I saw in Trinidad, plus 99 Marines, are stationed in a country, things also happen there. I think the second direct [illegible] things about the orders regarding [illegible]. There was no rule [illegible]

The fraternization regulation with pharmacy [illegible]cal control may have been entirely Navy. (The Army did not allow fraternization in Trinidad, and the penalty was 6 months in the brig.)

While I was attached to Navy as a civilian in Trinidad in 1941-42, I entertained some Marines in my home. Other times I had some of the ensigns and lieutenants and women from the U. S. Engineers were there to dance with them.

My early training was that of a school teacher in Texas. I taught high school Spanish for 7 years. Then I taught in Venezuela, after which I started with the U. S. government in the Federal Alcohol in the Justice Bldg.

The manners of some Navy officers did not amuse me in Trinidad at all. It was not the ones with lower rank, nor the enlistees. The top officer was Capt. Arthur W. Radford. He left in Dec. 1941. The Executive Officer was H. E. Regan, USN, Comdr. The Supply Officer and my supervisor was a man named Sam Dunham, USN, Comdr. There was a reserve comdr., the Port Captain, Arthur Sesselburg, Sr. of the New York Stock Exchange.

In the first place there was friction between all regular Navy and the one Reserve. I asked the reserve why this was so. He said he had done more business on the exchange that any of regular Navy had ever done, and so, there was jealousy.

The Port Captain did not have a secretary, so he began to ask me to do some of his work. The Supply Officer did not like it, so he turned his venom on me.

Texas is a dry State. I have never lived around people who drank alcoholic liquors. The amount of drinking that went on that Navy Base after the wives had to return to the States was very surprising, and it lead to trouble. That is all drinking does - lead to trouble. The rise in ego resulting from drinking causes men to feel they can do things they would not when sober.

The Japanese apparently knew what U. S. service men would be doing Saturday nites when they struck Pearl Harbor.

I saw the regulation about alcohol, and they were about how much could be bought, and it came in on Navy billing, and therefore was paid for by the Navy.

To me, a Texan, from a dry State, I feel that the country has made its first wrong move when it buys liquor (tho perhaps to be paid for later by the officer) and permits them to be drinking.

Then the men may fraternize. Mrs. Pearl Buck and I have a dim view of the results of fraternization, either in the Orient or in the British West Indies, 90% Jamaica Negro. (The Canadians described in their magazine The Canada-West Indian, what the new native of the West Indies will be like. So he is half American.

How about that for Cuba? From 1898, the Spanish American War? I saw in Miami, people who looked like Americans and spoke almost flawless English, but they were Cuban. I know enough Spanish to know what some of those people thought.

I learned in Mexico in 1930 that Mexicans were not great admirers of American ways. In Venezuela I saw the revolution which resulted from organization by communist Germany's national socialists. They told the natives the Americans were stealing their oil. The revolution was like a Labor Strike, however, there were a few guns in Caracas. Where I was, there were mostly machetes (sword-like knife that all of them carry every where).

The poor people in this country or any country do not like to see rich people come in and do all sorts of extravagant things when they have not enough to eat or w[illegible]

I had never been around Army or Navy people before I went to Trinidad except in the offices. The Navy men in offices before the war endured the stenographers.

In Trinidad the Navy wives were not going to accept a civilian woman since she "was a working girl." There was one there they did accept in their way. She was a C girl who typed for Capt. Radford. The way she spent her evenings did not leave her in the class with working girls, but she entertained the unattached young Navy officers. Figure that is all right with the wives.

Right off I started thinking about Kipling's The Women. In the last of each verse, he would say, "and I learned about women from her." The last stanza had the well-known statement about "the colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady."

There in Trinidad I observed how the great ladies of the Navy look at girls like Penelope Thorp. The Navy did not pay her enough to live on, and she knew how to make enough.

I had a decent job, which I got as a U. S. citizen, and with a rating, status, and a good working knowledge of policy from the Offices of the Secretary of the Navy.

So what happens on a base where there are no other single, American women to associate with? Right in front of you is this affair of the typist from Panama (Cuba and Puerto Rico) with the young officers with nobody paying it any mind.

There was the New York reserve commander, needing a secretary. His wife was no along. He told me he was separated from her. Yes, he was, and for the time he was out of the country - only, I suspected. Anyway, he had nice manners and he needed help, as the other officers meant to see that I did not help him.

My time after 5 PM was my own. Off the Navy Base and in my home, I could give my time to a Navy Officer's correspondence if I wished. It cost me that job and my entire Civil Service career. (I had career status, prior to Nov. 1940).

What service officers will say about women is what best serves their purpose at the time. When the Officer-in-Charge to follow Capt. Radford arrived from Pearl Har he was a former ship man, about 5' high, bald headed and greasy, wearing white tropical shorts, and manners he had not.

He sent a man to Washington and the Secretary's Offices had me evacuated. The order came Feb. 5, 1942. I could work for the U. S. Engineers, so I resigned from Navy. They promised I could transfer, but they did not mean it. The Navy Reporter in Washington as a friend, went to the Sec. of War Offices and got me a transfer to Engineers. An Army civilian girl gave the order to the Supply Commander. It was with much forethought and malice that he blocked my transferring to U. S. Engineers, and later had me black-balled from U. S. Engineers in Washington in the Engineers' Bldg., 21st St., N. W.

I was never fond of any of Navy after I saw how egotistical the officers were in Trinidad. I never met any of the wives, so when they said they did not want a working girl in their hotel, I said to the Port Captain that I had lived in the Wardman-Park in Washington, and I really did not think anything about me would rub off on them.

The drinking and the arrogance of the Navy officers and their wives ruined my career.

They were not willing to stop at that either. Their ex-service men have hounded me all over the U. S.

Does any one try to stop them? No, for nobody has the guts.

the Senate, I could go ahead and work. After he left Mr. C. J. Hull in Civil Service, and realizing pro for Navy, would not allow appointments to go thru for me.

By then they would say that I was a mental case. After what they put me thru, it is a wonder I am not. I have had periods when I stayed away from people because I thought they were not worth enough to bother about, and psychiatry can term that a "withdrawal from society."

Later I took Technical Psychiatry and so informed myself. I can answer Navy or Army now, also using the same method. In 1942 just Navy was using the mental health route for discipline. Later both Army and Air Force did. (The Navy Reporter took such a case before the Army Navy Board. He said the accused was not crazy, he just knew too much.)

I know nothing about Oswald, and actually outside of the fact that an ex-Marine killed the President and wounded the Governor of Texas, that is all there is to it.

If Oswald wanted to help the communists liquidate Pres. Kennedy, he could have received his orders in Mexico while he put on that act about not getting his passport or visa to Cuba.

The way his children showed in the pictures I saw to be undernourished and having to live around where people would accept them with almost no money could have been the cause of the hate that motivated him.

If he was the type to want to see if he could show the people of the U. S. that he could out shoot almost any one, he may have been "showing off."

In 1942 I did not actually want to do bodily harm to Sec. Knox. (I had seen him around the Hardman, but he did not interest me especially.) But I would think the Navy's policy needed some kind bringing down.

Those men in Trinidad did some of everything. (There are records, and J. Edgar Hoover has them.)

The American people will then go along with Navy talk that an American civilian woman is not of good character, while they keep a Cuban prostitute in her place for 6 years. (A Navy officer's wife in N. Y. went to Reno and got a divorce in 1940, naming Dominga Thorp as the other woman. Lt. Crum of N. Y. had to read a letter he got from Dominga in the court in Reno. On July 5, 1943, it was in the Washington Post.

Naval Intelligence got my job in Interstate Commerce for calling their attention to it. (Dr. Walter Splawn, a Commissioner from Texas, had put me in.)

I learned what American service people do out of the country in 1941-42. I did not like what they do.

I seriously doubt if foreigners enjoy seeing and knowing some of what they do either. The collusus of the North has a big job on his hands now. Have men been trained to fight. Has their background of drinking and other kinds of low-life made good, solid stuff of them, so they will go out there and bring down the enemy.

The above facts make me think that it will take more character than I have observed in the last 23 years..

Senator Saltonstall, I have heard you speak in the Senate, and I consider you the best informed of all the Senators. I doubt if you realize the kind of thing that goes on around service bases.

Respectfully,

Miss) Fannie H. Muse

For your information, it was never definitely determined during the course of our extensive investigation of subject, where he was during the first part of September, 1963. However, from all information developed, it appears that he was in New Orleans, Louisiana, residing with his wife during this period. On September 25, 1963, he left New Orleans to visit Mexico and thereafter returned to Dallas, Texas. Extensive interviews with his wife, Marina Oswald, and with their neighbors in New Orleans, failed to indicate that Oswald traveled from the New Orleans area during early September, 1963. In addition, extensive contacts with airlines, railroads, buses and the like failed to indicate that Oswald traveled to Mexico other than his trip to Mexico from September 26, 1963 to October 3, 1963.

In view of the highly questionable reliability of Mrs. Elena Garro De Paz, no further investigation need be conducted by your office in this matter.

NOTE: Mrs. De Paz has informed acquaintances in Mexico that she saw Oswald at a party in Mexico on September 2 or 3, 1963. She previously alleged that this event took place in early October, 1963, when we knew Oswald definitely was in the U.S. She apparently is now changing the dates in an effort to make her story sound convincing. She has a reputation for unreliability and no further action warranted in this particular inquiry.

He advised he received this print from his brother-in-law ROBERT RETZLAFF, 310 N. Illinois, Monticello, Ind., an employee of Pure Oil Co. and amateur photographer. He stated he has had the print in his possession for a considerable period along with other pictures of special interest RETZLAFF has given him, and recently showed it to some professors and other individuals at Wis. State University, Oshkosh, Wis., where he is currently a student. He stated they all remarked at the close resemblance between LEE HARVEY OSWALD and the person pictured in the center of the photograph closest to the camera and looking toward the photographer. He stated he then looked in some old magazines at the college for photographs of OSWALD and agrees the resemblance is so strong the person might, in fact, be OSWALD.

He stated the photograph was taken during the late President KENNEDY's campaign for the Presidency, and he believes it was taken about May, 1960, in Indianapolis.

He requested the print be returned to him after it has served its purpose.

The photograph is enclosed so that the Bureau may determine whether pictured individual might be identical with OSWALD.

Q621 Photograph of President Kennedy during 1960 campaign, taken by ROBERT RETZLAFF

Result of examination:

It was not determined whether the individual in the center foreground of the Q621 photograph is LEE HARVEY OSWALD, because the known photographs of OSWALD available for comparison are not sufficiently comparable as to angle of view. It is pointed out that significant differences in general facial characteristics were noted which strongly suggest that the individual in the center foreground of the photograph, Q621, is not LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Specimen Q621 is returned herewith. Photographs have not been retained.

Subject: APPEAL FOR YOUR RECOMMENDATION ON LEGAL ASSISTANCE

Dear Mrs. Oswald:

I have encountered great difficulties in attempting to obtain legal assistance and I request your recommendation on this matter.

The right of a person to leave his country and to return if he chooses to, is guaranteed to all persons everywhere, by Article 13, part (2), of The Universal Declaration of Human Rights, which states: Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own, and to return to his country. Yet, because I have chosen to avail myself of this right, I am being victimized by the United States government. (In 1959, I brought my wife and child with me to live in the USSR. We were unable to live there and we returned to the USA in 1962, still remaining citizens of the USA.)

For the past several years, I have been continually persecuted by the United States government. During the past few months, these activities have taken on the appearance of a corrupt conspiracy, where for example, one of their objectives appears to be to get my fingerprints on guns, by accidently touching them. Since these tactics have taken on such a dangerous aspect, I feel that I must obtain the assistance of a reliable lawyer. However, the attitude of some lawyers has been that ANY VIOLATION OF MY RIGHTS WAS JUSTIFIED because I had gone to the USSR; others were afraid to undertake my case because they feared that the government would financially ruin them.

Last year, in desparation, I appealed for assistance to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. To my horror, I received my reply the next day, from United States secret agents who shot dirty water into my eyes. My mail, my telephone, my personal life, my correspondence, my work and virtually everything else connected with my life is subjected to arbitrary interference. My home is broken into; my belongings are deliberately destroyed or stolen. I have been threatened and subjected to physical violence. In July, I received a threat that said, in effect: when they get through "fixing" me, they will "kick" me out of the country. Everything I have experienced thus far, here in the USA, has indicated to me how hopeless it is to try to get the legal protection of my rights, guaranteed to me by the Constitution Of The United States. (continued on p. 2)

Bronx, New York 10467

Most United States citizens do not realize that the United States government actually uses a group of Gestapo-like secret agents, whose task is to terrorize and wreck the lives of any individuals that they secretly accuse of being "unpatriotic". For this reason, I feel that it is very worth while to have an unbiased group of lawyers and investigators reopen a study of the Lee Harvey Oswald accusation. The following are 2 relevant points to consider:

1. The very real possibility that the United States government secret agents managed to get Lee Harvey Oswald to touch a gun by accident (perhaps by the same method that they have been trying to get me to touch guns) and then to claim that they found his fingerprints on the gun that was supposed to have been used for the assassination.

2. It is unreasonable to think that the United States secret agents ever left Lee Harvey Oswald alone at any time; they most certainly must have tripled the guard around him on the day when the president was supposed to have come to the same city where he lived. (The United States government secret agents have been hounding me, 24 hours a day, from the moment I returned from the USSR (in 1959)). It is a lie when they claim not to have been watching Lee Harvey Oswald on the day and the moment of the assassination. I think that the real reason the names of the individuals who were in the USSR and returned to the USA were never revealed by the press or the Warren Commission Report is that the reality of continuous harrassment would become clear to everyone (and not because they are trying to protect those who returned to the USA from the USSR), and the accusation would be exposed as the fraud it actually is.

I am sure that if an unbiased group of lawyers and investigators had the opportunity to make a detailed study of the facts for themselves, they would realize the following: that the United States secret agents conspired against an innocent boy (Lee Harvey Oswald), accused him of the assassination with the full factual knowledge that he was innocent, then had him killed before he could establish his innocence in a court of law. I feel sure that if the real truth were known, the whole case would dwarf the Dreyfus case in its debasement of the United States secret agents and of the judicial system that permitted such a shocking violation of law to go unchallenged.

I appeal to you, if you know the address of the law office of the lawyer for Lee Harvey Oswald, attorney Mark Lane, or his whereabouts and how he can be reached, please let me know as soon as possible. My need for a reliable lawyer is very great. Without the benefit of a trial according to law, these Gestapo-like agents have virtually destroyed my life and my professional practice. I would very much appreciate your reference to the names of ANY LAWYERS WHO YOU WOULD WANT TO RECOMMEND TO ME, who you believe may be able to help me.

Respectfully yours,

By letter dated 2/12/66, Mr. SAMSON WIENER, Wiener Lumber Company, Dallas, Texas, inquired as to when he could expect the return of an employment application of LEE HARVEY OSWALD which he had made available to the FBI during the course of the captioned investigation.

The Dallas files reflect that an application for employment of LEE HARVEY OSWALD for employment with the Wiener Lumber Company at Dallas, Texas, dated 10/14/63, was obtained by Special Agents of the FBI on 11/27/63 (see page 361 of the report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING, Dallas, dated 11/30/63). The files reflect that this application, identified as DL 24, was furnished to the Bureau along with other documents by Dallas airtel to Bureau dated 2/2/64 under the caption "LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka, IS - R - CUBA."

Mr. WIENER's letter has been acknowledged and he has been advised that the Department of Justice has under study the disposition of the numerous documents obtained during the course of this investigation and he has also been advised that inquiry would be made and any information indicating when such document would be returned would be made known to him.

It is requested that the Bureau advise Dallas the status of the Department's study with respect to documents obtained during this investigation inasmuch as other inquiries have, in the past, been received and the current status of any study by the Department would facilitate answering any inquiries received.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed you will find a copy of a self-explanatory letter dated March 7, 1966, received recently in this office from the American Photocopy Equipment Company, Washington, D.C. Enclosed also you will find the original of the lead card to which reference is made in the letter. The envelope forwarding these items is also enclosed.

In view of the address of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D.C., and the name A. Hidell on the lead card, these items are being forwarded for your information and possible investigative interest.

You will undoubtedly recall that the name A. Hidell was an alias of Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

This office contemplates no further investigation in this matter.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH D. PURVIS

Gentlemen:

For what this information is worth, I am passing on to you a lead card that we received here in the Washington office 3 or 4 days ago.

This is a tear out - mail back card attached to our TIME magazine advertisement that is filled out by an interested party and mailed back to us.

The name Hidell appeared quite often in the report of the President's Committee on the assassination of John F. Kennedy. As it is obviously not a lead for our equipment, but possibly ~~some prankster~~, or perhaps of some value to you, I am taking the liberty of mailing it to you.

If there is any additional information, please feel free to contact me at the above address.

Yours very truly,

Enclosed herewith for the Bureau is a copy of the book "The Day Huey Long Was Shot" by DAVID ZINMAN. On the inside cover of this book appears the following "To Derek My Chief H. L. Oswald."

The above described book was made available to ASAC DONALD W. MOORE, JR., on 3/4/66 by Mr. E. W. HAYS, Chief, Investigations Division, Civil Service Commission, Dallas, Texas. Mr. HAYS stated that one of his investigators, LEON WILSON, at Lubbock, Texas, had been contacted by Mr. J. E. PLATZ, Associate Librarian, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, who had advised that he (PLATZ) had obtained the enclosed book from a shipment of books received by the college from a book store in Pelham, New York. Upon receiving this shipment, and during the process of cataloging the books, the above described book was discovered.

COPY AND ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS RETAINED IN LAB.

Mr. HAYS indicated that Mr. PLATZ had information as to the exact name, address of the book store in Pelham, and possibly other background information, if needed. Mr. HAYS stated that he had not notified his supervisor in Washington concerning this matter and requested that receipt of the book from him be held in a circumspect manner. He stated he did not desire the book be returned to him but would like to be advised as to the outcome of any inquiries by this bureau.

REQUEST OF FBI LABORATORY:

The Bureau is requested to compare the writing on the inside cover of book with the known handwriting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, to determine if this writing can be identified as being his handwriting. The book should be returned to Dallas for return to Mr. HAYS.

A copy of this communication is being furnished New York Office in view of possible investigation being requested at Pelham, New York.

Q622 Book "The Day Huey Long Was Shot" bearing hand printed inscription on inside cover "To Derek, My chief _____ H. L. OSWALD"

Result of examination:

It was not determined whether the writing on the inside cover of the Q622 book was prepared by LEE HARVEY OSWALD because of characteristics that could not be explained on the basis of the known writing of OSWALD available for comparison. It is pointed out that significant differences were noted which strongly suggest that the inscription on the inside cover of Q622 may have been prepared by someone other than LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Specimen Q622 is returned herewith. Photographs have been retained.

On 3/22/66, [redacted] Sealy, Texas, no telephone but can be reached through Constable CHILDRESS at Sealy, appeared at the Houston Office and advised as follows:

He was employed as a truck driver for the [redacted] located in Houston, Texas, until 3/21/66. He stated about eight months ago while working for this company, he and a relief driver, [redacted], stopped at a Chevron Truck Stop at Van Horn, Texas. While at this truck stop, a truck belonging to G. R. Duke and Son, San Antonio, Texas, and driven by NICK FORSKISKI (Phonetic) drove into the truck stop. [redacted] said FORSKISKI and [redacted] were well acquainted with each other and that the three of them stayed at the truck stop for about three hours talking. He said during the conversation, FORSKISKI told [redacted] that at the time LEE HARVEY OSWALD was killed, he was wearing a ring which he described as having a large diamond in the center surrounded by three smaller diamonds on each side. OSWALD also had in his possession a key. FORSKISKI said he had loaned the ring to OSWALD after OSWALD had asked him if he could wear it. He said the key was to a locker containing a quantity of narcotics that OSWALD had obtained for FORSKISKI. After OSWALD's death, FORSKISKI said that the Dallas Police Department told FORSKISKI to stay away from the locker because it was being watched by Federal agents. ALLISON said he concluded from this that someone in the Dallas Police Department was involved with the narcotics being handled by OSWALD and FORSKISKI and was warning FORSKISKI to stay away from the locker or he would be arrested. to get narcotics for him and had been doing so for some time. He described OSWALD as a narcotics runner.

[redacted] related that after their conversation with FORSKISKI, he learned from [redacted] that FORSKISKI had been selling pills to truck drivers around the country for the past ten years. He said FORSKISKI obtained the pills somewhere in Mexico. He described the pills as being green and pink and heart-shaped. He said the pills were used by the truck drivers to stay awake. He said he actually saw FORSKISKI give [redacted] some pills during their conversation.

[redacted] stated he recently learned that FORSKISKI is confined at the Colorado Penitentiary after being arrested with one "PAPPY" for selling narcotics.

[redacted] said HOPKINS is presently employed by Western Commercial Transport Company and that he left Houston for California on 3/22/66, and he is to pick up approximately 1400 pills at the Big Ten Truck Stop in El Paso, Texas, on his way back to Houston. He is due to arrive in Houston some time on 3/27/66.

[redacted] described FORSKISKI as a white male, age 35, 5' 10", 190 - 200 pounds, light brown hair, brown eyes, wears mustache, has a tattoo on his chest, and resides with his mother in San Antonio, Texas.

He described [redacted] as a white male, 35, 6'2", 190 pounds, believed to have a tattoo on his left arm, resides in Houston, and is not married.

Re Dallas letter to Bureau dated 3/9/66.

J. E. PLATZ, Associate Librarian, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, advised SA BEN S. HARRISON on 3/14/66, that the Texas Tech librarian had negotiated in 1965 for the purchase of the stock of Pyetell's Book Store, 333 5th Street, Pelham, New York. He said that this book store was in the process of going out of business, and the entire stock was shipped to Texas Tech arriving on approximately 11/15/65. He said that the books purchased were packed in a number of boxes which were bound with heavy twine.

PLATZ advised that he began unpacking and classifying the books in question. He stated that sometime between Thanksgiving, 1965, and 1/1/66, he unpacked a copy of "The Day Huey Long Was Shot," by DAVID ZINMAN. He continued that inside the cover of this book was written, "To Derek My Chief - H. L. Oswald."

PLATZ stated he is certain that this writing was in the above book prior to its arrival at Texas Tech, as the boxes were unpacked and classified individually, and he remembers personally unpacking this box. He added that in order for this to have occurred at Texas Tech, someone would have had to go in, unpack the box in question, make the inscription in the book, and then repack the box just as it was.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT

Enclosed is a scrapbook in the French language which was transmitted to the President by Mr. Paul Orlue, 112 Avenue du General Leclerc, Boulogne-Billancourt (Seine), France. The communication was referred to the Department of State and an acknowledgement has been made to Mr. Orlue.

In transmitting this material to the Bureau, State included the translator's summary of the communication which is characterized as the writer's "report" on the Kennedy assassination. The writer believes that Oswald was the victim of a plot and that the real assassin is James Hidell, "who looks like him." The writer sends this "report" to help the FBI.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Translation Section of the Laboratory review the enclosed document so that the General Investigative Division will have a better idea if any further action is required.

Letter from Mr. Paul Orluc, addressed to the President of the United States.

Boulogne-Biffancourt, March 24, 1966

Mr. Paul Orluc
112 Avenue du General Leclerc
Boulogne-Billancourt
Seine, France

To the President of the United States:

I am sending you the result of my investigation into the assassination of President Kennedy and its consequences: racial riots in Harlem, the Bobby Baker Affair, the plot against you in Corpus Christi, Texas, etc. All this was for the sole purpose of preventing you from being elected in 1964. When this failed, all the foreigners responsible escaped so that they would not be seized by American justice. Evidently, only a few people were arrested, not the "big brains" who naturally had perfect alibis.

In my document you will find a letter from General de Gaulle, a few extracts from the Warren Report, some documents from the report, and some press articles whose accuracy I was not able to check, although they seem to agree quite well.

This document is to facilitate the task of the FBI in the President Kennedy assassination and in the shameful subversive plot against the White House.

My greatest desire is to see you re-elected in 1968. Many recent events force me to believe the worst, which would be to see Lyndon B. Johnson, President of the United States, treated as was Andrew Johnson. I would rather be deceived than see you belittled. I would not like to see the history of 1868 return in 1968. In order to avoid this, I am sending you my point of view on the current situation in the United States. You are the only person who can check my statements.

I await your response anxiously. Please accept my most profound respect.

Mr. Orluc

SUMMARY FROM FRENCH

Document entitled "Paul Orluc Presents: The Assassination of President Kennedy - or - The Untouchables against the Fourth Reich - or - FBI Agents against United States Fascist Organizations - or - The Plot against the White House."

In this document, the author describes the "real" story of the assassination of President Kennedy in the following manner. "On October 12, 1961, a man named Alex J. Hidell was released from the Marines. With the assistance of a former chief of the CIA he pretended to be Lee Oswald. He was hired to do this by a well-directed organization."

The author goes on to state that "Alex J. Hidell fired the shots that killed President Kennedy while Lee Harvey Oswald was in the crowd watching the Presidential motorcade.

"The best United States marshalls were then assigned to the case. They took fingerprints, reconstructed the crime according to details of the Dallas police. They saw that the accusation against Oswald was false. The marshalls looked at photographs of the crowds about the motorcade to try to find out who the true killer was. They were surprised to see Oswald in the crowd viewing the Presidential motorcade. The Dallas police told them that this was only a person who looked like Oswald. This was a good clue.

"On the night of November 22-23, the FBI arrested Hidell, took his fingerprints, recognized cigarettes left at the scene of the crime, etc. The FBI kept Hidell hidden, tortured him, disfigured him in the same places as Oswald, so that no one could tell the difference. Hidell was then taken by the Dallas police before the press. Hidell, thinking that the Organization was going to free him, walked confidently toward the photographers and was shot by Jack Ruby.

"Hidell was wounded gravely and taken to the same hospital as President Kennedy. Hidell died, but everything had been arranged by the FBI. With Hidell dead, Oswald could take his place. The FBI left the investigation of Hidell's death to the Dallas police.

"Oswald is a very intelligent man and he saw what the FBI was up to. He agreed to take Hidell's place and he memorized his instructions.

"Oswald's appearance was then slightly modified by plastic surgery so that he could take Hidell's place. Oswald went to the Organization and listed his reasons why he had not been around lately. The Organization thought Oswald was Hidell. Oswald then secretly visited an FBI Agent and furnished him with information. Oswald's mother and wife also cooperated.

"The FBI saw that its plan to throw the investigation off the track was working. The FBI had the case assigned to the Warren Committee. The FBI demanded that the Senate invoke an old law permitting false witnesses to be accused for false depositions. The demand was accepted by the Senate. In order to complete and control the scheme completely, the FBI made use of all methods to win the task of protecting Johnson. The CIA in order to avoid suspicion, accepted the plan. The FBI now has access to all secret papers and the marshalls control everything. The FBI has been given the cooperation of the American and World Press.

"The Organization is now completely deceived. It thinks its plans have been successful."

The author concludes his "report" by stating that "Oswald is now the perfect spy for the FBI, with everyone thinking that he is dead, and the Organization is completely unaware that Hidell is really Oswald."

Included along with the document are several letters from French publishing houses informing the author that they are not in a position to publish his work and a letter from the office of General de Gaulle thanking the author for his report and stating that "General de Gaulle is unable to assist you in having your report published because he makes it a rule never to intervene in such matters."

Dear Mr. Orluc:

Thank you for your communication of March 24, 1966 which included your report relating to President Kennedy's assassination. The report has been transmitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The Federal Bureau of Investigation is now responsible for matters relating to the assassination.

Sincerely yours,

SECURITY MATTER - PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY

Information concerning captioned individual has previously been furnished to your office. The most recent material in this regard is the report, captioned as above, of Special Agent Cornelius M. Sullivan dated January 23, 1966, at San Francisco, California.

We have received information to the effect that on April 1, 1966, Beagarie, in discussing the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, alleged that Lee Harvey Oswald was not responsible for the assassination. Beagarie reportedly accused President Lyndon B. Johnson of paying a large sum of money to have President Kennedy assassinated.

Beagarie reportedly boasted that when President Lyndon B. Johnson visited San Francisco, Beagarie took photographs of the President, on which occasions he utilized flash bulbs. He said that he deliberately attempted to upset President Johnson and was finally restrained by the United States Secret Service.

It is our understanding that the San Francisco Police Department is in possession of the foregoing information and that same has been reported to your San Francisco office by the police.

Bureau authority is requested to interview subject in accordance with existing instructions relating to interviews of security subjects. If this subject is cooperative, no affirmative steps will be taken during the initial interview to direct his activities and complete background investigation required by Section 107C of the Manual of Instructions will be conducted and Bureau will be requested to authorize recontact with subject as a PSI.

There are enclosed for the Bureau eight copies of a letterhead memorandum in this matter captioned: "JAMES HARRISON; PROTECTION OF THE PRESIDENT" dated at New Orleans, Louisiana, on 4/18/66.

The source contacted with negative results in the letterhead memorandum is [redacted] by SA ERNEST C. WALL, JR. IC CHARLES L. MURRAY did the credit and identification record checks at New Orleans. The remaining investigation at New Orleans, Metairie, and Michoud was conducted by SA J. WOODROW GILMORE.

Dissemination of this letterhead memorandum to the local Secret Service and to OSI, Barksdale Air Force Base, Louisiana, has been withheld pending the result of this request to the Bureau for authority to interview subject. The letterhead memorandum represents all of the investigation which has been conducted concerning this individual. It is felt that an interview with subject may be desirable to determine the meaning of the alleged statement by subject to the effect he has had association with LEE HARVEY OSWALD and the allegation that OSWALD had attempted to turn Scout meetings into "cell-blocks."

No. 14

New Orleans, Louisiana
April 18, 1966

JAMES HARRISON VANCE PROTECTION OF THE PRESIDENT

Mr. Alfred Heigtzman, an agent of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised at Lafayette, Louisiana, on January 20, 1966, as follows:

Maria Teresa Vance, nee Maria Teresa Contraras Ramos, Alien Registration number A-12 180 450, who entered the United States on January 12, 1961, from Guatemala, has applied for citizenship. She is married to James Harrison Vance, and they have two children. They were married on December 29, 1960 in Guatemala City, Guatemala. She is described as a white female, born October 10, 1936, at Guazacadan, Santa Rosa, Guatemala; 5'1", 115 pounds, brown hair, brown eyes; Father: Manuel Contrenas Garcia; Mother: Melida Martinez Ramos.

Vance was born January 15, 1941 at Memphis, Tennessee, and he and his wife had at that time, a current address of 300 Woodrow Street, Lafayette, Louisiana. Vance was then a student at the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, studying for his doctorate degree in physics. He reportedly has a Bachelor of Science degree from an unknown school. Vance and his wife resided at the following addresses:

July, 1963 - September, 1964:	7145 Airline Highway, Metairie, Louisiana
January, 1961 - June, 1963:	College Apartments, Hammond, Louisiana

Mr. Heigtzman advised that a [redacted] Lafayette, Louisiana, had been a sponsor for Mrs. Vance's wife for her naturalization, but had subsequently written a letter withdrawing her sponsorship because of certain information coming to her attention concerning Mr. Vance.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

On January 20, 1966, Mr. Heigtzman talked with [redacted], and she advised that she had met Mr. Vance's wife, who is a nurse, while [redacted] mother was ill in the hospital in Hammond, Louisiana, about three years ago, and Mrs. Vance was employed there. [redacted] had not met Mr. Vance until they went to Lake Charles, Louisiana, on the day of the hearing for Mrs. Vance's naturalization, and during this drive Mr. Vance made statements, which to [redacted] did not indicate that he had the best interest of the United States at heart. He said he was an atheist; complained of the school system and bragged about having been friends with Lee Harvey Oswald, and having attended scout meetings with Oswald, presumably in New Orleans. [redacted] apparently had some guidelines with which to judge subversives and Vance fit into this category. [redacted] told Mr. Heigtzman that Vance had an application in for work at the Boeing Company at the Michoud Plant in New Orleans.

On January 31, 1966, [redacted] Lafayette, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as follows:

[redacted] met Mrs. Maria Vance about three years ago in Hammond, Louisiana, where Mrs. Vance was employed in the hospital as a nurse and assisting with [redacted] ill mother. She later became acquainted with Mrs. Vance when the family moved to Lafayette about two years ago, where Mr. Vance attended the University of Southwestern Louisiana, working on his doctorate in physics. They resided in a run-down apartment on Woodrow Street. They indicated they received $1500 per year for his work at the University. Mrs. Vance was working at the Lafayette Sanitarium and later at the Lafayette General Hospital until about four months ago when she quit. Mrs. Vance and [redacted] both attended a sewing class together and became better acquainted in this manner. [redacted] did not meet Mr. Vance until December 19, 1965, when they traveled to Lake Charles, Louisiana, for a hearing on Mrs. Vance's naturalization.

Prior to this, Mrs. Vance had asked [redacted] if she would sponsor her and [redacted] agreed. Mrs. Vance said they had friends in Hammond, Louisiana, but it was too far for them to travel to Lake Charles.

During the drive to Lake Charles from Lafayette, Mr. Vance stated that the "state" controls an individual's education and he is not allowed to pursue a course of study without taking a number of unrelated courses. He said all he wanted to be is a physicist, and that it was a waste of time for him to take other courses. He said he would be leaving Lafayette at the end of January, 1966, and would work for the Boeing Company at the Michoud Plant in New Orleans, while attending school, possibly at Louisiana State University at New Orleans. He also indicated that he would later be sent to Texas for additional training for several weeks, and then return to New Orleans.

Upon his arrival in Lake Charles, he appeared very irritated and annoyed at the "red-tape" necessary for his wife to become a citizen. He expressed disagreement with the necessity of her taking tests to qualify as a citizen. It was also told to him that he could have sponsored his own wife, and he was visibly upset by this statement in front of other people.

On the return trip, he stated that he was an atheist and that he had no use for religion at this time. He indicated that he might, at some later date, have use for a god, but at the present he was only interested in being a physicist. He then entered into a discourse about certain theories and principles with respect to the content of material objects and that in effect all things are made up of "nothing". He also stated he did not believe in going to war. He wondered how long it would be until he would be exposed to classified information in his job with Boeing.

They also got into a discussion concerning the assassination of President Kennedy and Vance said that Oswald did not kill the President, that "it was the bullet". He then said that his mother and Oswald's mother were personal friends and that he, Vance, had slept and eaten with Lee Harvey Oswald and attended scout meetings with him. During these meetings, Vance said that Oswald attempted to turn them into "cell-blocks". [redacted] did not know where these meetings are alleged to have taken place, but she assumed in New Orleans.

A short time after this trip, [redacted] was listening to the radio and heard a program which set forth 12 guidelines for spotting a Communist, and it was her opinion that Vance "qualified", and she believed that he is a Communist. In addition, she said that because of his beliefs, it was her opinion that he could be used as a "tool" by the subversive element if he were to be employed in a sensitive position. She withdrew her sponsorship of Mrs. Vance because it is her understanding that Vance would not be considered for a sensitive position with the government as long as his wife was not a citizen.

[redacted] said the Vances have apparently moved to New Orleans, and she believes Mr. Vance is now employed at the Boeing Company.

On January 31, 1966, [redacted] Credit Bureau of Lafayette, advised their records contained no information identifiable with Vance or his wife.

[redacted] of the Boeing Company at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Center, Michoud, Louisiana, advised on April 6, 1966, from the personnel file of James Harrison Vance, that the latter individual, who was born on January 15, 1941, at Memphis, Tennessee, and presently resides at 2720 Fagot Avenue, Metairie, Louisiana, is married to Maria Teresa Vance, and was employed at the Boeing Company on January 31, 1966, as an Associate Research Engineer. He has been employed full time since the latter date.

A previous employment from June, 1963 to September, 1964 for Mr. Vance, was shown as being at the Southern Regional Research Laboratory, 1100 Robert E. Lee Boulevard, New Orleans, Louisiana, in connection with the scattering of light.

Schools attended were listed as follows:

Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana - September, 1958 to December, 1960
Southeastern Louisiana College, Hammond, Louisiana - January, 1961 to May, 1963
University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, Louisiana - September, 1964 to January, 1966

[redacted] stated Mr. Vance had studied physics and mathematics at these schools.

On his application for work, Mr. Vance had stated he desired to work in research in physics as applied to space flight or mathematics involving space flight.

As references, Mr. Vance listed:

[redacted] Mathematics Professor
Student

All of these individuals were listed as being connected with the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, Louisiana.

[redacted] did not personally know Mr. Vance. He stated Mr. Vance had been cleared for confidential information by the Department of Defense.

[redacted] of the Boeing Company at the NASA Plant, advised on April 6, 1966, that following the employment of Mr. Vance with the Boeing Company, Mr. Vance had received six weeks training at the Boeing Simulation Company, Huntsville, Alabama, and has now been back with the company in Michoud for a period of about one week. Mr. Morris explained that he has had very limited contact with Mr. Vance, and that such contact as he has had has been with Mr. Vance in his employment and has consisted principally of giving to him various assignments to perform.

[redacted] stated Mr. Vance has not had clearance for access to confidential information, but eventually he may get into trajectory information, which he believes is classified confidential. It was the opinion of [redacted] that Mr. Vance does not now have clearance for access to confidential information. [redacted] recalled that Mr. Vance obtained his Master's Degree at the University of Southwestern Louisiana at Lafayette, Louisiana.

Mr. Morris described Mr. Vance as follows:

Height	6'
Weight	160 - 165
Build	Slender
Hair	Brown
Eyes	Brown
Complexion	Fair

On April 14, 1966, [redacted] again advised he had determined that Mr. Vance does have clearance for access to confidential information, but that in his particular work, he has had no access to confidential information.

[redacted], Metairie, Louisiana, whose husband was formerly with [redacted] and is presently with [redacted] advised on April 8, 1966 that James Harrison Vance and his wife, Maria Teresa, reside[d] at 2720 Fagot with Mr. Vance's mother, Mrs. Charles Raybin, whose husband is also an engineer. [redacted] stated Mr. and Mrs. Vance have visited in her home [redacted] She stated Mr. Vance works for the Boeing Company at the Michoud Plant. He does not go to school.

[redacted] stated Mr. and Mrs. Vance and Mr. and Mrs. Raybin enjoy a good reputation in the neighborhood and appear to be entirely loyal. No unfavorable information concerning either one of them had come to her attention.

[redacted]idgeway Mobile Homes, and [redacted] Richardson's Trailer Park, 7145 Airline Highway, advised on April 14, 1966, that James Vance purchased a trailer and resided with his wife and child in Richardson's Trailer Park from approximately July, 1963 to September, 1964. He worked and also attended school at the same time. When leaving Richardson's Trailer Park, Mr. Vance sold his trailer and enrolled in school at Lafayette, Louisiana.

[redacted] stated he had had several conversations with Vance. He considered Vance to be of the studious type and was a bit flighty, but not really unstable. He stated Vance and his wife had made good tenants and also his wife may not have been naturalized at the time. There was never any indication to believe that either of them was other than a good loyal citizen and nothing unfavorable concerning either Mr. or Mrs. Vance had come to the attention of [redacted]

A confidential source acquainted with some Communist and Communist Front activities in the area about New Orleans, Louisiana, advised on April 1, 1966, that he did not know Vance and had no information in his possession concerning him.

Records of the New Orleans Retailers' Credit Bureau reflected as of April 14, 1966, James H. Vance and his wife, Maria, had resided at 7145 Airline Highway, Metairie, Louisiana, and at 3732 Gentilly Boulevard, New Orleans, Louisiana. His occupation was listed as being with the Southern Regional Research Laboratory as a collaborator chemist. The date of the report at the Credit Bureau was October 24, 1966.

MARGUERITE CLAVERIE OSWALD

On April 21, 1966, Mrs. Marguerite Claverie Oswald telephonically contacted the Fort Worth, Texas, Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and requested permission to view the clothes Lee Harvey Oswald, her deceased son, was wearing at the time he was shot and killed by Jack Ruby on November 24, 1963. She was advised that the Federal Bureau of Investigation did not have such clothing but that the Dallas Police Department might have information as to who had possession of such clothes at the present time.

Thereafter, on April 21, 1966, Mrs. Oswald again telephonically contacted the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and stated she had talked to Captain Will Fritz of the Dallas Police Department who told her that only the recognized next of kin could be permitted to view the clothing Lee Harvey Oswald was wearing when he was shot and killed by Jack Ruby and that such recognized next of kin was the wife of Lee Harvey Oswald, Marina Oswald Porter.

Mrs. Oswald stated she had a piece of cloth she desired to compare with the clothing of Lee Harvey Oswald and that she was still working on the assassination case but could get no one to listen to her. She stated she had contacted the Attorney General of the United States, as well as the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, and that it was her desire that she be allowed to convene with Attorney General Katzenbach, and other high government officials, at a conference table where she could sit at the head of the table and tell all parties present the results of her investigation into the assassination. She stated that she would see that the truth was revealed even if it took her until her death to do so.

Mrs. Oswald claimed that her efforts were being obstructed by government powers at all levels. She was advised that the Federal Bureau of Investigation could not, in any way,

In view of the allegation that Vance claimed to be acquainted with subject and attended scout meetings with subject, Bureau desires that you interview Vance in captioned matter. You should obtain from Vance specific details of his alleged association with Oswald and also determine how and the degree his mother and Oswald's mother were acquainted. Results of your interview with Vance should be promptly furnished to the Bureau in a form suitable for dissemination in captioned matter.

An extra copy of this communication is being furnished to your office for your file entitled "James Harrison Vance, SM - C," your file 100-17297.

NOTE:

Subject is employed as a Research Engineer of the Boeing Company at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Center, Michoud, Louisiana. New Orleans Office recently received information from INS and from an acquaintance of Vance that latter claimed acquaintance with Oswald. We developed no information during our extensive investigation of Oswald and the assassination that Vance ever had contact with Oswald. Desirable, however, he be interviewed and pinned down concerning his alleged acquaintance with Oswald.

Re Dallas letters to Bureau, 3/9 and 3/30/66.

On 5/4/66, Mr. CARLTON L. PYETELL, 333 Fifth Avenue, Pelham, NY, advised SA JAMES E. GORDON that he is a second-hand book dealer. He buys from individuals who are settling estates or moving from large homes to apartments and desire to reduce the quantity of books in their possession, and from people moving from one section of the country to another and who do not wish to pay freight charges. He also purchases books at auctions and estate sales. He advised that he does not maintain any records with regard to individual books and the place of purchase of such books. He does not maintain an index of each book that he purchases.

He had no recollection of having purchased the book "The Day Huey Long Was Shot", although he recalled that over a period of years he has had several copies of the book.

He stated that he sells books in large quantities through a broker in NYC and such was the case with the sale to the Texas Technological College. He sold the contents of his shop at that time, in the Fall of 1965, as he was overextended in stock and needed to liquidate in order to obtain capital. He stated that such a sale is supposed to contain a representative number of books which are usable and valuable for purposes of stocking a library.

He advised that he had no way of knowing how long the book in question had been in his possession and absolutely no way of knowing where he had obtained it.

Remarks:

NOTE:

The evidence in this case is being returned to the Charlotte Division because it has been concluded that the questioned hand printing and questioned handwriting were not prepared by LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Information received by the Counterfeiting Division of the Treasury Department reveals that the official release date for the one dollar Federal Reserve Note was November 25, 1963; however, this particular note was released by the Comptroller of Currency, Federal Reserve Issue and Redemption Office on December 17, 1965, nearly two years after the assassination of President Kennedy.

ENCLOSURE

JAMES HARRISON VANCE, 4311 Duplessis Street, Apartment B, New Orleans, Louisiana, was interviewed at the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, New Orleans, Louisiana, in response to an invitation to him for interview. He furnished the following information:

He is twenty-five years of age, having been born in Memphis, Tennessee, on January 15, 1941.

He was employed at the Boeing Company in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) site, Michoud, Louisiana, on January 31, 1966, and has been employed at this company since the latter date in the capacity as an associate research engineer.

He is married to MARIA TERESA CONTRERAS, age 29, who was born on October 10, 1936, in Guatemala. She has passed her citizenship examination at Lake Charles, Louisiana, and is scheduled to be admitted to citizenship in the immediate future in New Orleans. Sometime after the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY, JAMES HARRISON VANCE came to learn through acquaintances that he may have possibly been associated with LEE HARVEY OSWALD on three different occasions. When this was brought to his attention, however, he could not recall, and has not since been able to recall, that he has ever seen OSWALD or has ever had actual contact with him. He could not recall from the pictures of OSWALD published in newspapers following the assassination that he had ever seen OSWALD in person or that he had ever had any contact with him.

VANCE's alleged possible contacts with OSWALD came about in this manner:

VANCE is a friend of PALMER MC BRIDE, 400 East Grant Street, Apartment 4, Cocoa Beach, Florida, who is employed in the space flight field and who is regarded as being reliable by VANCE. Sometime in 1958, while both MC BRIDE and VANCE were living in New Orleans, MC BRIDE asked VANCE if he would work in his place for one day at the Pfisterer Dental Laboratory Co. in New Orleans. VANCE agreed to do this for MC BRIDE. MC BRIDE took VANCE to this laboratory on the day he was to substitute for him and introduced VANCE to some few individuals in the laboratory. In 1965, when VANCE subsequently had contact with MC BRIDE, MC BRIDE mentioned to VANCE that one of the individuals introduced to VANCE at the laboratory was OSWALD.

MC BRIDE was also the Vice President of the New Orleans Amateur Rocket Club (NOARC) which was also known as the New Orleans Amateur Astronomers Association or Astronomy Club, which consisted of twelve youths who were members of the club and interested in astronomy and rockets. VANCE was a member of this club in 1956 or 1957 while still in high school and then began gradually to break away from the club and discontinued attending meetings after he began to attend college. VANCE believed there was one meeting of this club in 1958 held at the home of his mother, Mrs. CHARLES RAYBIN, 2720 Fagot Avenue, Metairie, Louisiana.

VANCE stated he was also told by MC BRIDE in 1965 that OSWALD had attended some of the meetings of this rocket or astronomy club. VANCE stated that he was sure, however, that OSWALD could not have been a full-time member, if a member at all, and that undoubtedly any association OSWALD may have had with this club would have been prior to September, 1958.

VANCE also stated that while he was in high school he was not a member of but did attend a few meetings of the Moisant Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol Squadron of the U. S. Air Force in New Orleans in 1957 or 1958. He was interested in a radio class only in this school. Following the assassination of President KENNEDY, THOMAS COMPTON, III, who presently resides in the Parkchester Apartment area of New Orleans and who, according to VANCE, sometimes speaks with inaccuracies, told VANCE that OSWALD had been affiliated with the Moisant Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol.

VANCE reiterated that he has never to his knowledge either seen or been associated with OSWALD.

He stated he once mentioned to his mother that it could have been possible that OSWALD was one of twelve youths who had attended a meeting of the rocket club at her home in Metairie when he had alleged to have such a meeting at her home. He stated that to his best knowledge, his mother would have had no other possible contact with OSWALD and would have no knowledge concerning him.

VANCE declared he has never heard anything about OSWALD's being a member of the Boy Scouts. VANCE stated he himself had been a member of two different packs of the Cub Scouts but had decided he would not join the Boy Scouts. His affiliation with the Cub Scouts was in both New Orleans and Metairie, Louisiana.

VANCE declared he does not know anyone who is or has been a member of the Communist Party and volunteered that he himself has never had any interests in the Communist Party.

He also stated that he knows nothing about the assassination of President KENNEDY.

A description of VANCE as obtained from personal interview and observation is as follows:

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI (105-82555) DATE: 5/26/66

FROM : SAC, NEW ORLEANS (100-16601)

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka.
IS - R - Cuba

On 5/10/66, SA JOHN E. MC DANIELS contacted, in another matter, Mr. MORRIS GOLDSTEIN, Executive Vice President of Goldring, Inc., 810 Canal Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. Mr. GOLDSTEIN advised the agent that a short time after President KENNEDY's assassination, another FBI agent had obtained from him an employment application of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. At that time, the agent allegedly informed Mr. GOLDSTEIN that the original application would be returned to him. Mr. GOLDSTEIN advised further that at a later date he had received a photostatic copy of the application sent to him by letter from the FBI.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN stated that since it was his understanding at the time he furnished the application to the FBI that the application would be returned to him, he is now desirous that the application be returned.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN was advised by SA MC DANIELS that by executive order many of the items of evidence pertaining to the assassination and to OSWALD were being retained permanently by the Government. Mr. GOLDSTEIN was advised, however, that the matter would be looked into further and that either the original application would be returned to him or he would be advised why it could not be returned.

The report of SA JOHN T. REYNOLDS, dated at New Orleans, 1/30/64, in this matter, reflects that pages 11 and 12 indicate that this employment application was obtained from Mr. GOLDSTEIN by former agent MILTON R. KAACK.

NO 100-16601:emh

By airtel from New Orleans to the Bureau, attention FBI Laboratory, under date of 1/24/64, this employment application was forwarded to the Bureau.

The exhibit envelop, 1A-42, of the New Orleans file, which apparently contained the employment application, has not been located, but it would appear that the employment application has not been returned to the New Orleans Office.

The Bureau is requested to advise of what information should be furnished to Mr. GOLDSTEIN with reference to the final disposition of this employment application.

Reurlet 5/26/66.

A check of Bureau records on 6/1/66 disclosed that the employment application executed by Lee Harvey Oswald and furnished to your office by Mr. Morris Goldstein is in possession of this Bureau. It will be retained in Bureau files until appropriate instructions are received by the Bureau from the Attorney General concerning the disposition of all items of evidence in captioned investigation.

You should recontact Mr. Goldstein and inform him that the employment application previously furnished by him to your office is in possession of FBI headquarters and is being retained along with all other items of evidence which were collected by the FBI during the course of its investigation of the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. You should inform Mr. Goldstein that all such items of evidence will be retained by the FBI until appropriate instructions are issued by the Attorney General of the United States concerning the disposition of such data. You can suggest to Mr. Goldstein that if he desires to pursue this matter further at this time, he can correspond directly with the Attorney General.

NOTE:

During the course of our investigation of Oswald, we determined he filed an application for employment with a shoe firm owned by Mr. Morris Goldstein. Mr. Goldstein made the application available to the New Orleans Office on 1/24/64 and the application is in possession of the FBI Laboratory which is maintaining other items of evidence in this case. Instructions set out herein for the New Orleans Office are in conformance with similar instructions issued to field offices which have received inquiries from individuals regarding return of data made available by them to the FBI in connection with our investigation of the assassination.

Dear Sir

I know how busy you must be, but please indulge a semi-invalid who has always admired you, and placed you with such States men as Taft, such courageous men as Mac arthur, with such personal charm as Ike.

I feel privileged to have lived in the same century with men of that stature.

I realize that all the facts of president Kennedy having been killed in Dallas has not been made public but having had rather a fondness for his father, who never bothered to be hyprocriticil, and for the late president himself for his battles against pain and disease, so closely resembling my own, I have discovered every thing I could find on the assassination. I notice a rather startling accusation about the rifle oswald ordered, and the gun the commission alleges killed the president in a news magazine called the National Insider, a publication which I gather from contents tends to dramatize the shocking.

But, the magazine ariticle did call to mind some of the statements made by Marina Oswald and Mrs. Paine, as well as the mother. These statements were published from the files of the commission by the New York Times.

I have wondered why nobody has to my knowledge, pointed out, glaringly, contradictions about trivil things, that run through page after page of Marina Oswald's testimony! I have asked myself if, because of some of her talk's seemingly un-importance, it could be possible that some of these things escape a man's notice, and that they were, after all, something only a woman would notice?

Of course, Senator Russell become aware of some of her evasions, but it seems to me an attorney, any attorney, could have shot most of her testimony so full of holes, it would resemble a sifter!

The same is true of Mrs. Paine, though not as much as Marina's, possibly because there wasn't as much testimony out of her.

The mother, however obnoxious and extreme some of her deductions sound, gave the most consistant testimony of the three, as far as was published!

Please let me, just briefly, point out some of Marina's inconsistant statements. She professed not to know the difference in a rifle and shot gun, and the person questioning her assured his wife wouldn't know either, yet, in less than five minutes, she, when asked about telescopic lens, said "I know a rifle is a rifle, but I know nothing of telescopic lens."

She stated that on the morning of the assassination, she was, when she arose "surprised he hadn't fixed and eaten breakfast" but later, when she was explaining the money found in the wallet, she said he had saved it, as his expenses were light, he ate sandwiches for lunch, a $1.30 average meal for dinner and never ate breakfast! (My husband never eats at home in the morning either, but I've never expressed "surprise" over it, since it's his normal behavior pattern.

She gave, as her reason for being positive that Oswald never went to Ruby's club, or even knew Ruby, that "he was always with me and he did not care for drinking"

But her testimony and Ruth Paine's as well as the mother's, established beyond a doubt, that not only she and Oswald didn't live in the same house much of the time, but were not even in the same town, constantly moving from Fort Worth, to Dallas, back to Fort Worth, to New Orleans, to living, and had not lived in the same house since she left New Orleans! So why so positive about his not knowing Ruby?

She said he never discussed politics but later said most of his violent outbursts toward her, as others, was when they disagreed with him on politics!

She knew who Walker, Nixon, Gov. Connerly, the president and Jackie was, but claimed to have never heard about Johnson! I grant you there were people in the United States at that time who didn't know Johnson from Adam's off Ox (know who he was, I mean) but Marina Oswald wasn't one of them!

I could go on several more pages, but I think this suffices to show that Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald deliberately resorted to false hoods under oath, and I think that, in part, accounts for her staying away from his mother after the Oswald funeral, for she sensed that the mother couldn't be fooled as easily as Mr. Warren's Commission, and though clever, she knew the mother was processed of a certain brand of cleverness too!

I am sure there are unanswered questions that will never be answered, but I have often wondered why the Commission allowed such testimony to be published, when, with public skeptism high as it was and is, she obviously contridicted herself, not once, but numerous times? This fact alone invites skeptism.

NOTE: We have had prior communications from Mrs. McNeese which were not acknowledged in view of intemperate remarks she had made critical of this Bureau's work in the civil rights field. [redacted] In her communication correspondent states that she had read the results of the testimony of Oswald's mother and wife regarding the assassination of the President and feels that the testimony of Marina Oswald was sufficiently contradictory to warrant additional attention. It is her opinion that Oswald's mother was reasonably consistent in her testimony. She wonders why the Commission allowed conflicting testimony to be published when it will contribute to skepticism on the part of the public.

During the course of our intensive investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald and the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy, the Soviet Section maintained one copy of all reports submitted by our field offices in the Oswald investigation and also maintained a photographic copy of all of the items of evidence that were photographed by the FBI Laboratory. These data were maintained as working papers and were extremely useful in handling day to day inquiries by the President's Commission, inquiries by Bureau officials, or leads that have been set out since the assassination based upon receipt of additional information, allegations and the like.

The Soviet Section feels that retention of these extra copies of reports and duplicate copies of photographs of evidence by the Soviet Section is no longer necessary. The originals of the reports in question and copies of all the photographs of the evidence in the case are being maintained permanently by the Records Branch. In the event such data would be necessary for review by the Soviet Section, such review could be arranged by reviewing the original data maintained by the Records Branch.

This matter has been discussed with Assistant Director Ivan W. Conrad of the Laboratory and Supervisor John W. Marshall of the Records Branch.

ACTION:

EX-103 REC-4 - 5483

If you approve, Soviet Section will destroy its duplicate copies of reports and photographic copies of exhibits. This will release two filing cabinets for return to supply.

Re New Orleans letter May 26, 1966, and Bureau letter to New Orleans June 3, 1966.

Mr. MORRIS GOLDSTEIN, Executive Vice President of Goldring, Inc., New Orleans, Louisiana, was advised June 14, 1966, as requested in referenced Bureau letter concerning the employment application executed by LEE HARVEY OSWALD, which Mr. GOLDSTEIN had previously furnished to this office.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN was informed that the employment application which he had previously furnished to this office is in the possession of FBI Headquarters and is being retained along with all other items of evidence which were collected by the FBI during the course of its investigation of the assassination of the late President JOHN F. KENNEDY. He was advised that all such items of evidence will be retained by the FBI until appropriate instructions are issued by the Attorney General of the United States concerning the disposition of such data. It was suggested to Mr. GOLDSTEIN that if he desired to pursue this matter further at this time, he could correspond directly with the Attorney General.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN stated he did not wish to pursue the matter further; but, if in the future, some disposition is to be made of the application, he would like the record to show that he would appreciate getting the application back. He thought the application might be of some historical value to his children. He was advised that his wishes in this matter would be made a matter of record, and he was appreciative that this action would be taken.

PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF WARREN COMMISSION RECORDS

Reference is made to Public Law 89-318 passed November 2, 1965, which gave you the authority to determine which items of evidence pertaining to the assassination of President Kennedy should be acquired and preserved by the U. S. Government.

As you are aware, this Statute declared that the authority granted was to expire one year from the date of enactment. As pointed out in my memorandum to you of June 16, 1966, captioned, "Letter of Inquiry from Mark Lane dated June 8, 1966," I have not received any information as to what action is being taken relative to determining what items among the exhibits will be retained by the U. S. Government.

Since completion of the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy, this Bureau has been the temporary depository for approximately one thousand exhibits. With increasing frequency letters are being received requesting permission to examine these exhibits.

This Bureau would like to turn over this material to the National Archives and Records Service, or whatever agency you select as the permanent depository for these exhibits, at the earliest possible time. It is believed that an early determination concerning the disposition of these exhibits is most important in that it would remove any veil of secrecy the public might attach to any material presently being retained by the Federal Government.

PURPOSE:

To advise of the receipt of a telephonic request from Mr. John T. Duffner, Executive Assistant to Deputy Attorney General Ramsey Clark on 6-27-66. Information requested related to a radio formerly owned by Lee Harvey Oswald.

BACKGROUND:

At 4:50 p.m., 6-27-66, Mr. John T. Duffner, Executive Assistant to Deputy Attorney General Ramsey Clark, telephonically contacted the General Investigative Division. Mr. Duffner requested information concerning a radio which had been found in the possession of Lee Harvey Oswald. He specifically desired to know: (1) the make of the radio, (2) fixed megacycles, (3) how many tubes did it have, (4) would it be capable of receiving Cuban radio broadcasts, and (5) did it have a short-wave band. In addition to the above, Mr. Duffner desired to know whether Lee Harvey Oswald was capable of reading and understanding Spanish.

Mr. Duffner was advised that appropriate inquiries would be made and the information would be furnished to him in writing.

In connection with this radio, the Domestic Intelligence Division directed a letter dated June 24, 1966, to the Honorable S. Douglas Cater, Jr., Special Assistant to the President. Mr. Cater had contacted the Bureau on June 22, 1966, and requested available data we had in our possession regarding the portable radio which was obtained in the search of Lee Harvey Oswald's residence in connection with the investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Mr. Cater indicated that the publisher of Reporter magazine, described by Cater as a friend of the President, is planning to write a responsible article on the assassination of President Kennedy to rebutt some of the more sensational books recently published which have taken issue with the Warren Commission Report.

This matter concerning the radio was the subject of a memorandum dated June 23, 1966, Mr. W.A. Branigan to Mr. W.C. Sullivan. Since this matter was previously handled by the Domestic Intelligence Division, that Division was immediately contacted.

The Domestic Intelligence Division advised that the matter would be handled and appropriate research would be obtained from the Laboratory Division and the results of the research will be furnished to Mr. Duffner on June 28, 1966.

At 5:08 p.m., 6-27-66, Mr. Duffner was telephonically advised that appropriate research was being conducted in response to his request and that the information would be furnished to him in writing. Mr. Duffner expressed appreciation for the cooperation and handling of this matter.

ACTION:

Domestic Intelligence Division is coordinating this matter and will handle the necessary communication to Mr. Duffner.

On June 27, 1966, Mr. John T. Duffner of your office contacted Mr. Kenneth M. JUN 30 1966 COMM-FBI

For your information, this radio and its power supply unit are in the custody of this Bureau pending receipt of instructions from the Attorney General regarding disposition of all items of evidence maintained in this case. The radio is a small, brown, plastic, Russian-made radio known as the "Tourist." The receiver is designed to tune from approximately 175 kilocycles (.175 megacycles) through approximately 1875 kilocycles (1.875 megacycles) as indicated on the tuning dial. This covers the standard broadcast band as used on the common household radio in the United States and a little beyond but does not cover the short-wave frequencies. Inasmuch as the receiver was not in operating condition, the precise tuning range could not be verified; however, the tuning mechanism does not appear to have been altered to tune to frequencies other than those indicated on the tuning dial. The radio contains five tubes.

When operating properly, the radio, if used in the southeastern section of the United States, would be capable of receiving radio broadcasts from Cuban radio stations, particularly at night. The radio was designed to operate on dry cell batteries or on ordinary house current when used in conjunction with its power supply unit.

The radio was not in operating condition when it was received by this Bureau from the Dallas Police Department. No attempt was made by this Bureau to repair the radio since to have done so would have changed the physical condition of the radio from that in which it was received.

During the course of our investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald and the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy, we developed no credible evidence that Oswald could read, speak or understand the Spanish language. We closely questioned Marina Oswald, wife of Lee Harvey Oswald, on this particular point December 16, 1963, and she stated that Oswald could not read, speak or understand Spanish. She recalled that she had purchased a self-study book on the Spanish language while in Russia and on occasion Oswald would try to pronounce Spanish words; however, his pronunciations were very bad and she laughed at his attempts to speak the language.

The Warren Commission in its "Report of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy" also commented on Oswald's lack of proficiency in the Spanish language. On page 733 of its Report, the Warren Commission reported that Oswald, while on a bus en route to Mexico City on September 26-27, 1963, asked a fellow passenger how to say "How can I help you?" in Spanish. Several other passengers on the bus were of the impression Oswald did not speak Spanish. One girl on the bus noted that Oswald ate large meals during meal stops by the bus and she believed he did so because he could not make himself understood in Spanish and had to order by pointing at the menu.

On 6/22/66, Supervisor Robert Lenihan, Domestic Intelligence Division, called to inquire whether the brown plastic portable radio among Lee Harvey Oswald's effects was a standard broadcast band receiver or a short-wave receiver and whether it was in operating condition. He desired this information so he would be in a position to answer an inquiry from C. Douglas Cater, Jr., Special Assistant to the President, the details of which are set out in a memorandum of 6/22/66, from Mr. Donahoe to Mr. DeLoach.

SA Robert A. Frazier, Firearms Unit, advised Mr. Lenihan that the radio, called the "Tourist," Item 12 in our inventory of evidence being maintained in connection with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, was still in the custody of the Laboratory and had never been made an exhibit by the President's Commission. He further advised that Item 8C in our inventory is the power supply for the radio and is designed to permit use of the radio from house current, rather than from its own dry cell batteries. Incidentally, no batteries were in the radio when it was received and, in fact, one battery terminal was missing which would greatly reduce the length of time the radio could be operated on battery power. Further, one of the battery contacts and its mounting bracket was severely rusted.

The radio and power supply are of Russian manufacture and the Russian language markings on it were translated into English by SA Joseph Laverin, Washington Field Office. The translation is enclosed along with certain work notes and diagrams.

An examination of the radio and power supply was

The dial of the radio is marked "LE" (Long wave) and "CB" (Medium wave). The radio, therefore, will tune through and slightly beyond the broadcast band as used on the common household radio in the United States. The radio will not receive short-wave broadcasts; however, there is no reason to believe this radio would not be capable of receiving stations in Cuba, particularly at night, when located in the southern United States.

Mr. DeLoach's office was advised telephonically of the nature and condition of the radio on 6/22/64.

On June 22, 1966, Mr. S. Douglass Cater, Jr., Special Assistant to the President, contacted Mr. Donahoe in Mr. DeLoach's office and indicated that the publisher of Reporter magazine, described by Cater as a friend of the President, is planning to write a responsible article on the assassination of President Kennedy to rebut some of the more sensational books recently published which have taken issue with the Warren Commission report. Mr. Cater specifically made reference to a small portable radio which was found in Oswald's effects by the Dallas Police Department and which is now in custody of the FBI Laboratory until disposition is made of all evidence in this case.

Mr. Cater indicated that the article for Reporter magazine is being prepared by one Al Newman who has developed a theory that Oswald may have been influenced by listening to inflamatory remarks by Fidel Castro on the radio found in Oswald's possession. Cater requested that he be furnished all data in our possession regarding the radio, its capability to receive Cuban broadcasts and any data we may have received as to its use in this regard.

A small, brown, plastic, Russian-made radio commonly known as the "Tourist" was found in Oswald's effects after his arrest. This radio was designed for use on standard broadcast frequencies and is similar in this respect to American-made radios commonly found in the American home. The radio could be used with dry cell batteries or with a small power supply unit which would enable the radio to be operated on ordinary house current. Someone living in the Southeastern section of the United States could listen to Cuban broadcasts with this radio, particularly at night when reception would be better, if radio operating properly. The radio was not in operating condition when it was received by the FBI Laboratory from the Dallas Police Department. The battery terminals were badly rusted and one terminal was missing. condition of the radio from that in which it was received. Obviously, from an evidentiary standpoint, it was essential no steps be taken to alter the radio.

The Warren Commission was furnished data by this Bureau concerning the radio since it was listed in an inventory of all evidence obtained. The Commission did not assign an exhibit number to the radio and no mention of it was made by the Commission in its "Report on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy." During our investigation of Oswald, we developed no information indicating Oswald used this radio to listen to Cuban radio broadcasts.

Copies of photographs of the radio (FBI identification number A-2) and the power supply unit (FBI identification number A-6) are attached as enclosures to this memorandum.

ACTION:

Attached for approval is a letter to Mr. Cater furnishing him the information concerning the radio as set forth herein in accordance with his request. We are suggesting that Mr. Cater not release the data furnished him concerning the radio to any publication without clearing such release with the Attorney General. We are pointing out to Mr. Cater that under Public Law 89-318, which was enacted on November 2', 1965, the Attorney General was authorized to choose any item of evidence for retention by the Government as it relates to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Can't we get Dept to make one depository for all items in this case other than FBI? I would like to have all left in my drawer nothing possession. Cater said he did not know whether this theory was developed from facts publicly revealed about our investigation and, of course, the validity of the theory would depend upon whether or not the radio set was capable of receiving Cuban broadcasts. He said he understood the set was Russian-made and he wondered if it would be possible for Newman to look at the set. I told him in this regard the FBI was the custodian of exhibits in this case on behalf of the Attorney General and any question as to examining evidence acquired would have to be resolved by him with the Attorney General. Mr. Cater said he understood this but asked that we furnish him any available data regarding the radio and any possible use of it by Oswald to listen to Cuban radio broadcasts. In the alternative, he asked about putting Al Newman in touch with someone in the Bureau to discuss this theory. I told him I saw no necessity for this as we would not give out data to a reporter on this case.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend Domestic Intelligence Division prepare an appropriate written reply to Mr. Cater informing him as to what we know regarding the radio, its capacity to receive Cuban broadcasts and any data we may have received as to its use in this regard. Our reply should specifically suggest that prior to furnishing this information to any publication, it should be cleared with the Attorney General.

The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Cater:

In your conversation with Mr. Sterling B. Donahoe of this Bureau on June 22, 1966, you requested to be furnished any available data we possess regarding the small portable radio which was obtained in the search of Lee Harvey Oswald's residence in connection with the investigation of the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy.

For your information, this radio and its power supply unit are in the custody of this Bureau pending receipt of instructions from the Attorney General regarding disposition of all items of evidence maintained in this case. The radio is a small, brown, plastic, Russian-made radio commonly known as the "Tourist" and was designed to operate on standard radio broadcast bands. It is similar in this respect to American-made radios commonly found in the American home. When operating properly, the radio, if used in the southeastern section of the United States, would be capable of receiving radio broadcasts from Cuban radio stations, particularly at night. The radio was designed to operate on dry cell batteries or on ordinary house current when used in conjunction with its power supply unit.

For your added information, the radio was not in operating condition when it was received by this Bureau JUN 28 1966 the Dallas Police Department. No attempt was made by this Bureau to repair the radio since to have done so would have changed the physical condition of the radio from that in which it was received.

Honorable S. Douglass Cater, Jr.

During the course of our investigation of the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy, we developed no information indicating Lee Harvey Oswald used this radio to listen to Cuban radio broadcasts. A list of all items of evidence received by this Bureau in connection with our investigation of the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy was furnished by us to the President's Commission but the Commission did not assign an exhibit number to the radio nor was mention made of the radio by the Commission in its "Report on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy."

This information is being furnished to you in accordance with your request. It is suggested that you not release the data contained herein concerning the radio and its power supply unit to any publication without first clearing such release with the Attorney General. Under Public Law 89-318, which was enacted on November 21, 1965, the Attorney General was authorized to choose any item of evidence for retention by the United States Government as it relates to the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. This Bureau is acting as a temporary repository for items of evidence obtained during the investigation of the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy until we receive notification from the Attorney General as to the disposition of all items of evidence.

Sincerely yours,

Roy L. Stephenson, Jr., 56 Vaughn Drive, Denison, Texas, advised on July 1, 1966, that he was formerly a member of the U. S. Marine Corps having Serial No. 1231698. He entered the Marine Corps on November 7, 1951, served in Korea from June, 1952 to May, 1953 and was released on November 1, 1953, and was in the inactive reserve until November 6, 1959.

On December 2, 1962, he enlisted in the U. S. Army, having RA No. 18666032, and received basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana, in K Company. Sometime during the last two weeks in basic training, believed to be between February 1 and February 15, 1963, and while restricted to the barracks, a group of trainees got together and were drinking some liquor smuggled into the barracks. At this time, Stephenson observed a newspaper on the floor and upon picking it up noticed that it contained an article about the completion of a freeway through Dallas which was accompanied by a photograph of an underpass and in the background was observed a building which he believes was the Book Depository Building to the left. Stephenson commented at the time, "this would be a good place to knock off someone you don't like."

Just prior to this, a person dressed in civilian clothes and who was unknown to Stephenson, had entered the barracks and had remained in the rear of this building in the shadows and was not too easily seen by Stephenson. However, this party asked to see the newspaper and Stephenson handed it to him.

About this time the unknown individual also asked who the person was in the barracks that was a former marine and Stephenson replied that he was. This unknown civilian then started running down the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, stating it was not worth a darn and an argument ensued and Stephenson was ready to fight. This unknown civilian then ran out of the building and left. Stephenson then asked if anyone knew who this party was, and a corporal, (First Name Unknown) Mills of K Company, the acting platoon Sergeant and who was K Company's supply sergeant, replied "he is some ex-marine who has a buddy here in M or N Company.

Stephenson related he thought nothing more about this incident until recently while reading a book having to do with investigation on the assassination of President Kennedy, at which time this book indicated that Lee Harvey Oswald was believed to have been in the State of Louisiana during this period of February, 1963 but his exact whereabouts in Louisiana was apparently unknown.

Stephenson advised that he has observed photographs of Oswald but was unable to state whether or not the unknown civilian he referred to above as being in the barracks was identical and all he could recall was that this civilian was a white male, of fairly small build. He related he did not observe him close enough and this man had remained pretty much in the shadows at the barracks and he was unable to furnish any further identification.

Sometime after completing basic training, Stephenson was then sent to Germany. While there, Re: ROY L. STEPHENSON, JR.

President Kennedy arrived and made a speech at Frankfurt, Germany. Stephenson, on that day, was in town and was standing on the street where the procession was to pass when he was approached by a civilian who claimed he was a businessman over from the United States. This civilian commented that it would sure be horrible if someone should kill the President. Stephenson replied that it sure would, but that it would be easy to do. This civilian then asked how he would go about it, and Stephenson replied that he would get a high-powered rifle and be in one of the high buildings along the route over which the President was to pass. This civilian then asked Stephenson how he would get away and Stephenson said he had not considered this part of it since he had just been asked on the spur of a moment. He related that this unknown civilian was making notes during their talk and he asked why and the civilian replied that someday he might want to write about his own various experiences. According to Stephenson, about this time the President passed by where he was standing and there was a surge in the crowd and when Stephenson again looked around for the unknown civilian, he was gone.

Stephenson further commented that later while he was still stationed in Germany, one of the fellow servicemen who was returning to the states was given a going away party. He stated this was customary in all occasions and on this event, Stephenson was drinking when some person at the party asked Stephenson what he would do if someone harmed a person he loved very dearly. Stephenson replied that he would shoot such a person with a high-powered rifle. He related that two days later, President Kennedy was shot after his having made this statement, and it "sure gave him a shock," upon hearing it in view of his having commented about a high-powered rifle only a couple of days previously.

Stephenson related that he received an honorable discharge from the U. S. Army on September 9, 1965.

Stephenson stated that he has applied for a position with [redacted] and he believes that they are now checking him out and further commented that he had a "secret clearance" while serving in the military.

SUBJECT: RICHARD H. POPKIN, PROFESSOR, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT SAN DIEGO, ALLEGES LEE HARVEY OSWALD WAS PART OF A CONSPIRACY

"The Washington Post," 7-18-66 issue, contained an article titled "Professor Feels Oswald Had a Double." Article alleged a California educator, Professor Richard H. Popkin, University of California at San Diego, writing in the New York Review of Books, contended that an analysis of the Warren Commission Report and two new books on the Kennedy Assassination, provide "compelling" substantiation of the theory that Lee Harvey Oswald was part of a conspiracy. Popkin demanded the investigation be reopened. Popkin's own theory is that a man who looked like Oswald and often posed as Oswald was the actual assassin, while Oswald was used to create the illusion that a lonely, alienated man with pro-Castro leanings was the sole perpetrator of the crime.

Popkin used a review of Edward J. Epstein's "Inquest" and Harold Weisberg's "Whitewash," both of which take issue with the Warren Report, as a forum for his own speculation.

Mr. Hoover asked "What do we know of Popkin?"

She referred to telegrams she sent on 6/26/66 to the Director and the AG concerning an error pertaining to the guns and claimed she received no acknowledgment. Mrs. Oswald claims that from a review of the Warren Commission Report she found many errors and discrepancies which she feels obligated to correct and has been working at it for the past two and one-half years. Mrs. Oswald alleged her telephone was being tapped and she was being watched constantly, and her television appearances hve been cancelled.

She felt some Dallas police officer was responsible for this. There are indications Mrs. Oswald is mentally unstable, and we advised the Department on 7/5/66 that due to previous contacts with Mrs. Oswald, at which time she furnished no information of value, she was not being contacted, nor was her communication being acknowledged. U. S. Secret Service, New Orleans, was advised of Mrs. Oswald's presence in New Orleans in view of the visit of the vice-president to New Orleans on 7/18/66, and U. S. ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, DALLAS, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 22, 1963

Mrs. Marguerite C. Oswald, 4029 Byers, Fort Worth, Texas, New Orleans address Room 474, Royal Orleans Hotel, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, appeared at the New Orleans of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on July 18, 1966. Mrs. Oswald advised she sent separate telegrams on June 28, 1966, to Assistant United States Attorney Tim Timmons, care of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals; Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach; and John Edgar Hoover, Department of Justice, reading "Can show visual evidence error pertaining to guns." Mrs. Oswald said to date she has not received any acknowledgment of the receipt of these telegrams from any of the above-mentioned officials. She also informed that she sent a telegram on the same date to Chief Justice Earl Warren, which read: "Error about guns important I show evidence to other officials along with FBI and Secret Service Agent, etc." Mrs. Oswald said that she received a letter of acknowledgment from Chief Justice Earl Warren's Office advising that Chief Justice Earl Warren was out of the country and that she should furnish any information to the local FBI Office.

Mrs. Oswald alleged that from a review of the report of the Warren Commission on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, she has found many errors and discrepancies which she feels obligated to correct and has been working toward that end for the past two and a half years. She said that most of these errors have been in the testimony of various witnesses before the Warren Commission. She attributed these discrepancies to the fact that numerous investigative agencies, both Federal and state, had conducted investigation in connection with the assassination of President Kennedy and had interviewed numerous witnesses and had submitted reports containing the results of interviews with these witnesses. She said that undoubtedly these discrepancies occurred as a result of the witnesses being interviewed by representatives of so many different agencies. Mrs. Oswald stated her purpose in contacting the FBI was to furnish a statement regarding a serious error she had discovered relative to the gun used in the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, which she did not desire to furnish to the Dallas Police Department or to the FBI in Dallas. Mrs. Oswald furnished the following statement regarding this error:

"New Orleans, Louisiana
"July 18, 1966

"I, Marguerite C. Oswald, 4029 Byers, Fort Worth, Texas, am in the New Orleans Office of the FBI making a statement that I have in my possession proof of an error that was carried from the very beginning and I now give details of such proof.

"Approximately six months ago I was given information of a very serious error and I now have the error in my possession. When we found the error we realized that we had to prove said error, so at great expense and great research, we have now what we consider proof of the error.

"When I say 'we', I am speaking of myself and the American people who are interested in the case.

"It has been documented that A. J. Hidell, also known as Lee Harvey Oswald, filled out a Klein's Sporting Goods coupon, Department 358, and sent in for the gun, now in possession of the Government, claiming to be the gun that killed President Kennedy.

"The error started with Postal Inspector Harry Holmes, whose testimony is in Volume 7, page 294, of the Hearings Before the President's Commission. He had his secretary go out the day of the assassination and pick up a gun magazine to see if he could locate "an advertisement of the gun used in the assassination, which he did, and he testified to that fact. The magazine was Field and Stream of November, 1963.

"That magazine is Department 486 and shows a 6.5 Italian carbine, 40 inch overall, weighs seven pounds, the exact gun that is documented as the gun used to kill President Kennedy.

"This is the error I wish to bring to your attention. Department 358, which Lee Harvey Oswald filled out on his evelope addressed to 358, as proof of documentary evidence, shows a 6.5 Italian carbine, only 36 inches overall, weighing five and one-half pounds.

"I do not at this time know how I can go any further to prove what I am saying but I have in my possession hundreds of back magazines to prove this error and also can prove that Holmes' mistake, under Department 486, the 40 inch gun, was an error because that gun was not advertised at the time of purchase of gun by Hidell from ad 358.

"A study of Klein's advertisements shows that the longer, heavier model was not advertised until April, 1963, and that Department number in the ad is 405.

"No where in any of the twenty-six volumes, exhibits and testimony does the complete ad of Klein's Department Number 358 that A. J. Hidell was supposed to have ordered the gun, appear.

"The only time it appeared was in the August 27, 1965, issue of Life magazine when the reporter, Mr. Keith Wheeler, for the first time published the correct ad of Klein's Department 358 for the gun. This issue of Life magazine for the first time described the 6.5 Italian 36 inch gun advertised by Department 358, and this is when we caught the error. I would like to state "to my knowledge, much investigative work, all newspapers, magazines, AP, UPI stories, carried Inspector Holmes' error.

"I think as an American citizen, and as the mother of the man accused of this crime, that I should be given some satisfaction because as far as I know, we found an error as above specified and we have proof of the error.

"I sincerely hope that you will honor my request."

"/s/ Marguerite C. Oswald"

Mrs. Oswald also made available an advertisement of Klein's Sporting Goods, 227 West Washington Street, Chicago 6, Illinois, which appeared in the Field and Stream magazine issue of November, 1963, copies of which were obtained and the original document returned to Mrs. Oswald. She also made available an advertisement of Klein's Sporting Goods, which appeared in the American Rifleman issue of February, 1963, copies of which were obtained and the original document returned to Mrs. Oswald.

Mrs. Oswald alleged her telephone is tapped, she is watched constantly, and numerous television appearances which she has been scheduled to make have been cancelled without explanation. Mrs. Oswald said she feels that some Dallas police officer is responsible for these activities and that this officer is doing these things without the knowledge and consent of his agency. Mrs. Oswald said she suspects Pat Howard, a sergeant on the Hurst Police Department, who is a brother of Secret Service Agent Mike Howard. Mrs. Oswald claims that the Dallas police lieutenant to whom Lee Harvey Oswald was handcuffed at the time he was shot has been demoted by the Dallas Police Department. She also advised that she has been under surveillance during May, 1965, when Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey appeared in Dallas, Texas. Recently she was under surveillance when Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was in Fort Worth, Texas. Mrs. Oswald advised that she detected these surveillances and after making certain that she was being followed in each instance, she telephonically contacted the Chief of Police of the Dallas Police Department, who informed her that the representatives of his Department were following her but would never explain to her why she was being followed, other than to say that it was partly local and partly at the request of Washington.

Mrs. Oswald said that based on information developed during the course of the investigation into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, she is convinced that Lee Harvey Oswald was acting as an agent of the United States Government when he went to Russia immediately after his discharge from the Marine Corps. She said that Lee Harvey Oswald had been discharged from the Marine Corps because of a dependency hardship. She alleged that prior to the time he was discharged from the Marine Corps, he filed an application with the U. S. State Department for a passport. Mrs. Oswald said that it was necessary for a Marine Corps officer to certify that he would be discharged from the Marine Corps in the near future for Lee Harvey Oswald to obtain a passport while in the service. She said that as a result of this she believes that Lee Harvey Oswald went to the Soviet Union with the knowledge of both the U. S. State Department and the U. S. Marine Corps and was, therefore, operating as an Agent of the United States Government. Mrs. Oswald said that if this is true, it would logically explain all of Lee Harvey Oswald's subsequent actions.

Mrs. Oswald also stated that the photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald taken with the gun used in the shooting of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy and Officer Tippitt in front of the Dallas residence of Lee Harvey Oswald could not have been taken at the time of year the Government clai it was taken, and she believes the photograph is "fake."

Mrs. Oswald claimed that she has taken pictures from all angles at this address at the time of year the Government alleges the photograph was taken and, in addition, has had a commercial photographer take pictures at this location at the time of year it was alleged the picture was taken and in each instance due to foliage on bushes in the yard it would have been impossible to obtain a clear photograph such as appears in the photograph taken of Lee Harvey Oswald. She stated that she, therefore, believes that the photograph had to be taken prior to the time of year the Government alleges the photograph was taken because of the lack of foliage on the bushes in the yard of the residence, which would have been prior to the time Lee Harvey Oswald purchased the 6.5 Italian carbine from Klein's Sporting Goods in Chicago.

The Secret Service Office, New Orleans, Louisiana, was notified during the time Mrs. Oswald was being interviewed of her presence in New Orleans and her local address in view of the fact that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was in New Orleans on that date.

EXAMINED IN DEPTH.

The Warren Report is often wrong, is full of unchallenged contradictions in witnessed testimony, and is based on a closed mind approach.

For these reasons there is no doubt in my mind that the judgment as brought in by the SEVEN COMMISSION MEMBERS — "LONE ASSASSIN" — will be over-ruled.

To believe otherwise would be to dis-believe in America, REASON AND JUSTICE.

If there ever was a real trial to determine my son's guilt or innocence — and there never has been — "I would place on the stage the Warren Commission members and its dubious contribution to American history, the WARREN REPORT."

Also, I would like to state, in my opinion it was un-American of the Seven Commission Members not to include the words "ALLEGED OR ACCUSED."

In Scottish law, as you may know, there are not only two possible verdicts in a criminal case: "guilty" or "not guilty". There is a third: "NOT PROVED."

NOT RECORDED

You will note that my son, Lee Harvey Oswald never received his constitutional right of a trial by jury.

Therefore, when referring to my late son, Lee Harvey Oswald, I believe the words ALLEGED OR ACCUSED should be rightly used.

Enclosed are 10 copies of an LHM for possible dissemination by the Bureau, together with one Xerox copy of a rough draft of Chapter 6 of a forthcoming book entitled "The Kennedy Case" by ALBERT H. NEWMAN, consisting of 49 pages. Also enclosed is one Xerox copy of 18 pages concerning "The Militant's" letters referred to by NEWMAN.

NEWMAN was interviewed by SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING. At the outset of the interview, he was advised that no comments whatsoever would be made concerning the President's Commission Report or concerning his observations, but that any information he desired to furnish would be made a matter of record. He requested to be advised whether investigation would be conducted and he was advised that in the event investigation was warranted same would be conducted and the results made known to the appropriate government officials but that such results could not and would not be made available to him. He stated that he did not want to make any inquiries that might interfere with any investigation contemplated by this bureau and he was advised that any investigation he desired to conduct was strictly up to him and that he was free to interview anyone he desired.

It is felt that NEWMAN's visit had a two-fold purpose, 1. He was endeavoring to obtain additional information for his forthcoming book; and 2. when this failed he was endeavoring to furnish information which he felt required additional investigation which, if conducted, would permit him to take credit for having such investigation conducted.

It is recommended that no investigation be conducted into NEWMAN's allegations as it is felt any investigation conducted could possibly result in future embarrassment to the Bureau.

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

On July 27, 1966, Mr. Albert H. Newman, 310 East 75th, New York, New York, who identified himself as a correspondent for the "Reporter Magazine" and McGraw-Hill Book Company, both of New York, appeared at the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). He presented identification reflecting his affiliation as indicated above, and stated he had been sent to Dallas by the McGraw-Hill Book Company as they were considering publishing a book written by Newman entitled "The Kennedy Case." He stated he would be staying in Dallas for three or four days and could be contacted at Room 22, Dallas Park Motel, Dallas, Texas, telephone DA 1-6478.

Mr. Newman stated that the theme of his book was that Lee Harvey Oswald was a Trotskyite and a follower of Fidel Castro, and that Oswald committed the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy as an act of fanaticism and that he committed this act without any accomplice.

Mr. Newman stated the reason for his desiring an interview with a representative of the FBI was to bring to the FBI's attention certain information which he believed warranted additional investigation. He was advised that any information he desired to furnish would be accepted but that no comment with respect to the President's Commission's report on the assassination would be made.

Mr. Newman made available for review a rough draft copy of Chapter 6 of his forthcoming book. This chapter is captioned "Loose Ends and Unturned Stones." A review of this material reflects that Mr. Newman raises the following points, among others, which he states were not considered by the President's Commission during their investigation:

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency. It and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Re: The President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy

1. What happened to the parcel referred to in the Notice Card of attempt to deliver mail dated November 20, 1963, addressed to Mr. Lee Oswald, 2515 Post 5th Street, Irving, Texas, reflecting a parcel to be picked up?

   According to Newman, this Notice Card is listed in Exhibit No. 2003 as part of Oswald's effects and documents seized by the Dallas Police Department at the residence of Mrs. Ruth Paine.

2. What happened to the Dallas Public Library's copy of the book entitled "The Shark and the Sardines" by Juan Jose Arevalo, which according to a delinquent notice was charged out on November 6, 1963, by Oswald and never returned?

   The delinquent notice is mentioned in Exhibit No. 2612.

3. Newman suggests that there is far more likelihood that Oswald had a confederate of some sort in his attempt on the controversial General Edwin Walker than in the assassination of a popular President and states the attempt on Walker's life deserved more attention by the President's Commission. Newman then sets forth his beliefs compared to what was set forth by the President's Commission.

4. Newman points out that the March 11, 1963 issue of "The Militant" depicted in the photograph of Oswald (exhibit No. 133-A), on page 7, contains in the "Letters from our Readers" column a letter from "L. H.", and that this letter has some connection with Oswald because "L. H." are the first two initials of Oswald. He suggests that the contents of this letter are well beyond the limits of Oswald's ability to write and that Oswald asked a friend to write this letter. He relates that in the five years, beginning January 1, 1959, and ending December 31, 1963, "The Militant" printed at least 15 letters from Dallas, 14 of which were from one person, referred by Newman as "X", and that the 15th letter was the "L. H." letter. Newman identified "X" on

MAI
FOU

July 27, 1966, to a Special Agent of the FBI as Thelma Lucio, and suggested that Oswald had her write the "L..H." letter. He also suggests that the missing book from the Dallas Public Library, "The Shark and the Sardines" may have found its way to Thelma Lucio's book shelf.

> "The Militant" is a weekly newspaper of the Socialist Workers Party which has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

5. Newman pointed out what he calls a conflict in the testimony of George and Jeanne De Mohrenschildt with that of Marina Oswald concerning occurrences on April 13, 1963, at the Oswald apartment on Neely Street, with respect to the rifle.

6. Newman pointed out what he considers a conflict of testimony concerning the circumstances under which Marina Oswald left Lee Harvey Oswald on November 5, 1963, citing statements by George De Mohrenschildt and the testimony of Marina Oswald and Anne Meller.

7. Newman suggests that Lee Harvey Oswald and George De Mohrenschildt agreed in certain areas with respect to their political outlooks and that De Mohrenschildt could very well have been Oswald's accomplice in the attempt on General Walker's life, and that De Mohrenschildt's car could have been used. In this connection, Newman suggests that De Mohrenschildt could have been responsible for the fire death of William Thomas Wolf, 32-year old history professor who lived near De Mohrenschildt in Dallas on Dickens Street, and states that this would have been occasioned by the fact that Wolf may have seen something in connection with De Mohrenschildt's car being used on the night of the attempt on Walker's life.

Re: The President's Commission
on the Assassination of President Kennedy

8. Newman suggests that during the period October 9, 1962 to November 3, 1962, Lee Harvey Oswald could have spent time not accounted for at the residence of Thelma Lucio in Dallas.

The files of the Dallas Office of the FBI reflect that on May 13, 1964, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Thelma Lucio, 2719 Clymer, Dallas, Texas, was a subscriber to "The Militant", a weekly newspaper of the Socialist Workers Party, which has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States, pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On July 23, 1964, a second source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, also advised that Thelma Lucio was a subscriber to "The Militant."

On September 10, 1964, a third source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Thelma L. Lucio, and her husband Eusebio Lucio, moved from 2419 Tally Ho Lane, Dallas, to 2719 Clymer, Dallas, about one year ago. This source advised that Eusebio Lucio was a Latin-American male, about 60 years of age, whose only source of income appeared to be a monthly pension check from the Veterans Administration (VA).

On October 27, 1964, records of the VA, Waco, Texas, revealed that Eusebio Lucio served in the U. S. Army from December 14, 1942 to August 3, 1945. He was born March 4, 1903 at Matiguala, Mexico. He is 5'9" tall, weighs 140 pounds, has black hair, brown eyes, and an olive complexion.

On May 25, 1945, while attached to the Headquarters of the Quartermaster General Supply Company, APO 782, Eusebio Lucio was afforded a physical examination at which time the diagnosis was [redacted] The medical report related that Lucio was a Mexican male who had been reared in Dallas as a member of a very poor family.

The VA file contained a letter from Terrell State Hospital, Terrell, Texas, dated July 23, 1945, which related that Eusebio Lucio had been admitted to that hospital on July 12, 1935, and was released to his stepfather June 13, 1936, on furlough, being discharged from that hospital on July 6, 1937, at which time the final diagnosis was [redacted]

Re: The President's Commission
on the Assassination of President Kennedy

At the time of his discharge from the military service, Eusebio Lucio was awarded 100 per cent disability because of a nervous condition. He served two years in Italy in a non-combatant assignment.

On July 7, 1950, Eusebio Lucio was admitted to the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital in Fort Worth, Texas, and was thought to have [redacted] He eloped after the termination of a 90-day commitment to that institution. The VA file contained a copy of a judgment in case entitled "Thelma Lucio versus Eusebio Lucio Cause No. 19293-A in the 14th Judicial District of Dallas County," which was entered on March 22, 1948, in which a divorce was granted to Thelma Lucio and her name was restored as Thelma Smith.

A declaration of marital status of Eusebio Lucio, 2419 Tolly Ho Lane, Dallas, Texas, dated October 11, 1956, listed his spouse as Thelma Harris Smith, whom he claimed be married on June 1, 1953. In this declaration, Eusebio Lucio related he was previously married to the same woman. This document is evidenced by a copy of a marriage license between Eusebio Lucio and Mrs. Thelma Marcita Smith, issued in Dallas County on June 1, 1953, and filed for record after the ceremony was performed.

Eusebio Lucio and his wife Thelma have been divorced from each other and remarried.

The last diagnosis for Eusebio Lucio was on March 28, 1962, by the VA Hospital in Dallas, Texas, and was as follows:

[redacted]

The current May, 1966, Greater Dallas Telephone Directory lists Eusebio Lucio at 2719 Clymer, Dallas, Texas, telephone number FE 7-1729.

Mr. Newman, at the completion of furnishing the above information, requested to be advised as soon as possible whether investigation would be conducted concerning the points raised by him. He was advised that in the event additional investigation was warranted and was conducted, the results would be made available to the appropriate government officials but that the fact such investigation was or was not conducted, and the results of any investigation conducted, could not and would not be made available to him as a private citizen or as a writer. He stated that it was his desire not to interfere with any investigation which might be conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He was advised that any inquiries and interviews he desired to make were strictly his decision to make and that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had no objection whatsoever to any interviews and inquiries he wished to make.

Mr. Newman stated he planned to interview Captain Will Fritz of the Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, to endeavor to determine what Captain Fritz considered motivated Oswald to commit the assassination and that he possibly would interview other persons, the identities of whom he did not reveal.

Reairtel August 2, 1966, which had as an enclosure a LHM dated August 2, 1966.

Dallas immediately furnish a LHM suitable for dissemination setting forth the information contained in your LHM dated August 2, 1966, plus the following additional data:

Set forth a brief succinct answer to each of the 8 questions raised by Newman which were set forth in your memorandum on pages 2 to 4. In preparing the letterhead memorandum each answer to the eight questions is to be set forth immediately below the question to which the answer pertains. In other words, following question #1 will be the answer to question #1, following question #2 will be the answer to question #2, etc. For reference material, first refer to the Report of the President's Commission, but if the information needed to prepare the answer to a question is not set forth in that Report, then refer to your files. In each instance wherein you use information obtained from your files, a statement is to be set forth in the letterhead memorandum that this particular data had been furnished to the President's Commission.

NOTE: Albert H. Newman is currently preparing a book for publication to be entitled "The Kennedy Case." In conducting research he contacted the Dallas Office and raised a number of questions regarding the assassination which he felt were not considered by the President's Commission. Newman was advised that in the event additional investigation was warranted the results would be made available to the appropriate Government officials but whether such investigation was or was not conducted, the results would not be made available to him. Dallas furnished a LHM summarizing the interview of Newman and a rough draft copy of Chapter 6 of the book mentioned above. Some of the questions raised by Newman and set forth in the memorandum are left unanswered. Prior to dissemination to other Government agencies it is felt the answers to the questions should be incorporated into the memorandum.

On August 3, 1966, Mr. Frank M. Wozencraft, Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel, wrote the Bureau recommending a conference to be held at 2 p.m. on August 17, 1966, for the purpose of discussing the disposition of exhibits presently in the custody of the FBI. In order to make certain whether there were any exhibits being held by the Dallas Office in the captioned matters over and above those being retained in the Laboratory, telephonic inquiry was made with SAC Shanklin at Dallas.

SAC Shanklin advised that a careful check had been made in the Dallas Office and there were no exhibits in either of the captioned cases relating to evidence as such. He stated the only material available was originals of signed statements which the Dallas Office would continue to retain. SAC Shanklin explained that there were two items; namely the assassination rifle and the pistol used in the killing of police officer Tippett which were being held by the Dallas Office pending litigation in Federal court in Dallas. It is noted that under the Federal Firearms Act the Government won a judgment of forfeiture of those weapons from the District Court that judgment was appealed to the Fifth Circuit by Mr. King who claims to have purchased them from the Oswald estate. Arguments were heard on June 28, 1966, and a decision has been promised before the summer recess.

This is submitted for information.

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY (THE COMMISSION)

On July 27, 1966, Mr. Albert H. Newman, 310 East 75th, New York, New York, who identified himself as a correspondent for the "Reporter Magazine" and McGraw-Hill Book Company, both of New York, appeared at the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). He presented identification reflecting his affiliation as indicated above, and stated he had been sent to Dallas by the McGraw-Hill Book Company as they were considering publishing a book written by Newman entitled "The Kennedy Cure." He stated he would be staying in Dallas for three or four days and could be contacted at Room 20, Dallas Park Motel, Dallas, Texas, telephone RA 1-6478.

Mr. Newman stated that the theme of his book was that Lee Harvey Oswald was a Trotskyite and a follower of Fidel Castro, and that Oswald committed the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy as an act of fanaticism and that he committed this act without any accomplice.

Mr. Newman stated the reason for his desiring an interview with a representative of the FBI was to bring to the FBI's attention certain information which he believed warranted additional investigation. He was advised that any information he desired to furnish would be accepted but that no comment with respect to the President's Commission report on the assassination would be made.

Mr. Newman made available for review a rough draft copy of Chapter 6 of his forthcoming book. This chapter is captioned "Loose Ends and Unturned Stones." A review of this material reflects that Mr. Newman raises the following points, among others, which he states were not considered by the President's Commission during their investigation:

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency. It and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY (THE COMMISSION)

1. What happened to the parcel referred to in the Notice Card of attempt to deliver mail dated November 20, 1963, addressed to Mr. Lee Oswald, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, reflecting a parcel to be picked up?

According to Newman, this Notice Card is listed in Exhibit Number 2003 as part of Oswald's effects and documents seized by the Dallas Police Department at the residence of Mrs. Ruth Paine.

The Notice of Attempt to Deliver Mail Card dated November 20, 1963, to Lee Oswald, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas,—a parcel to be picked up, referred to by Mr. Newman above, is reflected on the 14th item of page 395, of the Dallas Police Department Exhibit (Commission's Exhibit Number 2003), same appearing on page 348, Volume XXIV, of the report of The Commission's hearings.

On February 20, 1964, Mr. Ivy F. Armstrong advised he is a postal inspector at the U. S. Post Office in Dallas, Texas; and he determined through contact with individuals at Irving, Texas, and Fort Worth, Texas, that a package for which an "attempt to deliver mail" notice dated November 20, 1963, addressed to Lee Oswald, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, and instructing Oswald to call at the Irving Post Office for a parcel on which 12 cents' postage was due, had been delivered to Mrs. Marina Oswald on November 21 or 22, 1963. He added this package had been determined to be a newspaper or magazine, other identity unknown.

On interview July 31, 1964, Mrs. Ruth Paine, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, stated that about a week following the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, she became aware that Lee Harvey Oswald had read "The Militant" since one issue of "The Militant" had been addressed to him at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas. She said she does not know the date of this issue of "The Militant" since she did not take it out of its wrapper. She stated that Oswald had one issue of "The Worker" addressed to him at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, and one copy of a Russian newspaper. She said she does not know the date appearing on any of these newspapers since she did not open the jackets. She said that the one issue of "The Worker" and the copy of a Russian newspaper arrived, addressed to Oswald at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, sometime during the approximate period November 12, 1963, to November 29, 1963; but she did not know the exact date each arrived. She said she destroyed all three of the above described items sometime within a week or so after the assassination, and she further advised that Marina Oswald did not see any of these items.

"The Militant" is a weekly newspaper of the Socialist Workers Party which has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

"The Worker" is an East Coast communist newspaper.

On interview February 25, 1964, Marina Oswald was questioned concerning a notice of the Irving, Texas, Post Office of "attempt to deliver mail" which was dated November 20, 1963, and concerned a parcel addressed to Lee Oswald, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, on which was due 12 cents' postage. Marina advised she recalls that a parcel had been delivered by the postman at the Paine residence on or about November 20, 1963, on which 12 cents' postage was due. She paid the postage and accepted the parcel. The parcel contained, she believes, a magazine. She thinks this magazine was one to which they subscribed. This magazine is "Ogonk", a weekly Russian news-type magazine.

Information furnished by Inspector Roy Armstrong, Mrs. Ruth Paine, and Marina Oswald was furnished to The Commission.

2. What happened to the Dallas Public Library's copy of the book entitled "The Shark and the Sardines" by Juan Jose Arevalo, which according to a delinquent notice was charged out on November 6 , 1963, by Oswald and never returned?

The delinquent notice is mentioned in Exhibit Number 2642.

It is pointed out The Commission's Exhibit Number 2642 as contained on page 901, Volume XXV, of the hearings is the report of interview with Mrs. Lillian Bradshaw, Director, Dallas Public Library, 1954 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas. During the interview, Mrs. Bradshaw made available two copies of a Dallas Public Library delinquency notice which reflects Lee Harvey Oswald, 602 Elsbeth, Dallas, was delinquent on a book entitled "The Shark and the Sardines", by Juan Jose Arevalo. The book was due November 13, 1963; and according to Mrs. Bradshaw, it would have been charged out on November 6, 1963. The delinquency notice was never mailed. According to library records, the book had not been returned.

Mrs. Bradshaw indicated her records contained no other delinquency for Oswald.

A review of the lists of property taken from 1026 North Beckley, residence of Lee Harvey Oswald as of November, 1963, and property taken from Ruth Paine's home, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, residence of Marina (Mrs. Lee Harvey) Oswald as of November, 1963, by officers of the Dallas Police Department failed to reflect instant book was recovered. (See The Commission's Exhibit Number 2003, pages 349 and 350, Volume XXIV, of the report of The Commission's hearings.)

On interview, November 25, 1963, Mrs. Earlene Roberts, 1026 North Beckley Street, Dallas, Texas, advised she was employed as a housekeeper at this address; and due to this employment and to the fact she resides on the premises, she has had occasion to be acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald, a roomer who had been there since October 14, 1963. During the interview, Mrs. Roberts stated she never saw a gun of any type in Oswald's room nor does she recall seeing any books.

The results of the interview with Mrs. Earlene Roberts was furnished to The Commission.

3. Newman suggests that there is far more likelihood that Oswald had a confederate of some sort in his attempt on the controversial General Edwin Walker than in the assassination of a popular President and states the attempt on Walker's life deserved more attention by the President's Commission. Newman then sets forth his beliefs compared to what was set forth by the President's Commission.

A review of The Commission's report and hearings reflects numerous witnesses were heard regarding the attempt on the life of Major General Edwin A. Walker (resigned U. S. Army) and [redacted] considered pertinent exhibits in this regard. The Commission's conclusion in this regard is contained on page 187 of the report and reads as follows:

"Based on (1) the contents of the note which Oswald left for his wife on April 10, 1963, (2) the photographs found among Oswald's possessions, (3) the testimony of firearms identification experts, and (4) the testimony of Marina Oswald, the Commission has concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald attempted to take the life of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker (Resigned, U.S. Army) on April 10, 1963. The finding that Lee Harvey Oswald attempted to murder a public figure in April 1963 was considered of probative value in this investigation, although the Commission's conclusion concerning the identity of the assassin was based on evidence independent of the finding that Oswald attempted to kill General Walker."

4. Newman points out that the March 11, 1963, issue of "The Militant" depicted in the photograph of Oswald (Exhibit Number 133-A), on page 7, contains in the "Letters from our Readers" column a letter from "L. H.", and that this letter has some connection with Oswald because "L. H." are the first two initials of Oswald. He suggests that the contents of this letter are well beyond the limits of Oswald's ability to write and that Oswald asked a friend to write this letter. He relates that in the five years, beginning January 1, 1958, and ending December 31, 1963, "The Militant" printed at least 15 letters from Dallas, 14 of which were from one person, referred to by Newman as "X", and that the 15th letter was the "L. H." letter. Newman identified "X" on July 27, 1966, to a Special Agent of the FBI as Thelma Lucio, and suggested that Oswald had her write the "L. H." letter. He also suggests that the missing book from the Dallas Public Library, "The Shark and the Sardines" may have found its way to Thelma Lucio's book shelf.

In this regard, Mr. Newman telephonically contacted a Special Agent of the Dallas Office of the FBI, on August 11, 1966, and stated that with respect to the information he had furnished on July 27, 1966, he had made inquiries and had determined that Mrs. Thelma Lucio "is absolutely clean", and had no connection whatsoever with Lee Harvey Oswald or the assassination.

5. Newman pointed out what he calls a conflict in the testimony of George and Jeanne De Mohrenschildt with that of Marina Oswald concerning occurrences on April 13, 1963, at the Oswald apartment on Neely Street, with respect to the rifle.

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
KENNEDY (THE COMMISSION)

The Commission's report, pages 243 and 249, Volume IX, reflect that George De Mohrenschildt testified that he and his wife visited the Oswalds at their residence on Neely Street in Dallas, Texas, on or about Easter Sunday, 1963. While there, his wife, who was with Marina Oswald in another room, called to him, saying, "Look George, they have a gun here", "and Marina opened the closet and showed it to Jeanne (De Mohrenschildt), a gun that belonged obviously to Oswald." De Mohrenschildt stated that he did not personally see the gun.

On page 315 of Volume IX, it is reflected that Mrs. Jeanne De Mohrenschildt substantiated the first part of her husband's testimony and further advised that while Mrs Marina Oswald was showing her their apartment, she opened a closet, and Mrs. De Mohrenschildt observed a rifle standing on its butt and against the wall in the closet. The rifle appeared very much like the rifle which was The Commission's Exhibit Number 139. Mrs. De Mohrenschildt further stated that she told her husband about the rifle when she returned to the room where he and Lee Harvey Oswald were talking.

On page 13 and 14 of Volume I, Mrs. Marina Oswald testified that while they were living on Neely Street in Dallas, the above mentioned rifle was always in her husband's room located out in the open. It was not in a closet and it was either in a corner or standing up in a corner on a shelf. She advised that she did not remember showing DeMohrenschildt the rifle, although she knew he had said that the rifle had been shown to him.

On page 32 of Volume I, Mrs. Marina Oswald, in reply to questioning regarding the rifle, admitted that she may have said something to De Mohrenschildt about the rifle, something similar to "Look what my crazy one has done? Bought a rifle."

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY (THE COMMISSION)

6. Newman pointed out what he considers a conflict of testimony concerning the circumstances under which Marina Oswald left Lee Harvey Oswald on November 5, 1963, citing statements by George De Mohrenschildt and the testimony of Marina Oswald and Anna Meller.

The Commission's report on page 232 of Volume IX reflects that George De Mohrenschildt testified that he could not recall what actually made him take Marina Oswald from her husband. He stated he could not remember whether she called them and asked them to take her away or whether George Bouhe (an acquaintance of the Oswalds and the De Mohrenschildts) suggested it.

De Mohrenschildt advised The Commission that on a Sunday they drove to the Oswalds' residence early in the morning and told Oswald that they were going to take Marina Oswald and her baby away from him and take them to Mr. and Mrs. Meller's (acquaintances of the Oswalds and the De Mohrenschildts). De Mohrenschildt stated he believed George Bouhe had made previous arrangements with the Mellers regarding Marina Oswald staying with them. De Mohrenschildt stated that Lee Harvey Oswald became quite upset regarding this; however, he was calmed by his wife and assisted them in taking Marina Oswald's clothing and personal items to their car. He stated they then drove Marina and her baby to the Meller's residence on the other part of town in Lakeside.

On page 310 of Volume IX is shown that Mrs. Jeanne De Mohrenschildt substantiated the testimony of her husband and the manner in which they took Mrs. Marina Oswald and her child from the Oswald residence to the home of Anna Meller.

On pages 11 and 34 of Volume I, Mrs. Marina Oswald testified that while she and her husband were residing on Elsbeth Street, Dallas, she had an argument with Lee Harvey Oswald, and she took her daughter, June, to Anna Meller's residence where she stayed for approximately one week.

SECRET

Mrs. Oswald stated that she called Mrs. Meller, and she told her to take a cab and she could stay with her.

On page 416 of Volume V, when one of the members of The Commission inquired of Mrs. Marina Oswald if Mr. George De Mohrenschildt took her to the Mellers, she replied in the negative, stating, "No; we had a quarrel, and I took the child and took a taxi and went by myself there."

On page 386 of Volume VIII, Anna Meller testified that in November on a Monday, about 10:00 in the evening, Mrs. Marina Oswald called her and told her that her husband had beaten her and she was calling from a filling station. She asked Mrs. Meller if she could come over to her house. After discussing the request with her husband, she told her to come to her house and to take a cab, and the Mellers would pay the way. She advised that about 10:40 or 11:00 PM, Mrs. Oswald arrived at their house with only a few personal items and no money.

On page 363 of Volume VIII, George A. Bouhe testified that Mrs. Marina Oswald ran away from her husband in the middle of November. After leaving the house, she called Mrs. Anna Meller from a gas station at 11:00 that night, stating, "He is beating me up and here I am with the baby and no diaper and no nothing, and so on, what can I do?" Bouhe stated that Mrs. Marina Oswald went to the Meller's residence and stayed there for about a week.

7. Newman suggests that Lee Harvey Oswald and George De Mohrenschildt agreed in certain areas with respect to their political outlooks and that De Mohrenschildt could very well have been Oswald's accomplice in the attempt on General Walker's life, and that De Mohrenschildt's car could have been used. In this connection, Newman suggests that De Mohrenschildt could have been responsible for the fire death of William Thomas Wolf, 32-year old history professor who lived near De Mohrenschildt in Dallas on Dickens Street, and states that this would have been occasioned by the fact that Wolf may have seen something in connection with De Mohrenschildt's car being used on the night of the attempt on Walker's life.

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY (THE COMMISSION)

On August 11, 1966, Mr. Albert H. Newman, 310 East 75th Street, New York, New York, who identified himself as a correspondent for the "Reporter Magazine" and McGraw-Hill Book Company, both of New York, telephonically contacted a Special Agent of the FBI at Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Newman advised that he had checked into the death of Professor William Thomas Wolf, previously mentioned by Mr. Newman, and that he had determined that this death was definitely accidental, and therefore neither Lee Harvey Oswald nor George De Mohrenschildt, had any connection with such death.

S. Newman suggests that during the period October 9, 1962, to November 3, 1962, Lee Harvey Oswald could have spent time not accounted for at the residence of Thelma Lucio in Dallas.

In this regard, it is noted that on August 11, 1966, Mr. Newman called the Dallas Office to report he had made inquiries and had determined that Mrs. Thelma Lucio is "absolutely clean" and had no connection whatsoever with Lee Harvey Oswald or the assassination.

The files of the Dallas Office of the FBI reflect that on May 13, 1964, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Thelma Lucio, 2719 Clymer, Dallas, Texas, was a subscriber to "The Militant", a weekly newspaper of the Socialist Workers Party, which has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States, pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On July 23, 1964, a second source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, also advised that Thelma Lucio was a subscriber to "The Militant."

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY (THE COMMISSION)

On September 10, 1964, a third source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Thelma L. Lucio, and her husband, Eusebio Lucio, moved from 2119 Tally Ho Lane, Dallas, to 2719 Clymer, Dallas, about one year ago. This source advised that Eusebio Lucio was a Latin-American male, about 60 years of age, whose only source of income appeared to be a monthly pension check from the Veterans Administration (VA).

On October 27, 1964, records of the VA, Waco, Texas, revealed that Eusebio Lucio served in the U. S. Army from December 14, 1942, to August 3, 1945. He was born March 4, 1908, at Matigoula, Mexico. He is 5'8" tall, weighs 140 pounds, has black hair, brown eyes, and an olive complexion.

On May 25, 1945, while attached to the Headquarters of the Quartermaster General Supply Company, APO 782, Eusebio Lucio was afforded a physical examination at which time the diagnosis was [redacted]. The medical report related that Lucio was a Mexican male who had been reared in Dallas as a member of a very poor family.

The VA file contained a letter from Terrell State Hospital, Terrell, Texas, dated July 23, 1945, which related that Eusebio Lucio had been admitted to that hospital on July 12, 1935, and was released to his stepfather June 13, 1936, on furlough, being discharged from that hospital on July 5, 1937, at which time the final diagnosis was [redacted].

At the time of his discharge from the military service, Eusebio Lucio was awarded 100 per cent disability because of a nervous condition. He served two years in Italy in a non-combatant assignment.

On July 7, 1950, Eusebio Lucio was admitted to the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital in Fort Worth, Texas, and was thought to have [redacted]. He eloped after the termination of a 90-day commitment to that institution. The VA file contained a copy of a judgment in case entitled "Thelma Lucio versus Eusebio Lucio Cause No. 19298-A in the 14th Judicial District of Dallas County," which was entered on March 22, 1948, in which a divorce was granted to Thelma Lucio and her name was restored as Thelma Smith.

FO

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY (THE COMMISSION)

A declaration of marital status of Eusebio Lucio, 2419 Tally Ho Lane, Dallas, Texas, dated October 11, 1956, listed his spouse as Thelma Harris Smith, whom he claimed he married on June 1, 1953. In this declaration, Eusebio Lucio related he was previously married to the same woman. This document is evidenced by a copy of a marriage license between Eusebio Lucio and Mrs. Thelma Marcita Smith, issued in Dallas County on June 1, 1953, and filed for record after the ceremony was performed.

Eusebio Lucio and his wife Thelma have been divorced from each other and remarried.

The last diagnosis for Eusebio Lucio was on March 28, 1962, by the VA Hospital in Dallas, Texas, and was as follows:

The current May, 1966, Greater Dallas Telephone Directory lists Eusebio Lucio at 2719 Clymer, Dallas, Texas, telephone number FE 7-1729.

Mr. Newman, at the completion of furnishing the above information, requested to be advised as soon as possible whether investigation would be conducted concerning the points raised by him. He was advised that in the event additional investigation was warranted and was conducted, the results would be made available to the appropriate government officials but that the fact such investigation was or was not conducted, and the results of any investigation conducted, could not and would not be made available to him as a private citizen or as a writer. He stated that it was his desire not to interfere with any investigation which might be conducted by the FBI. He was advised that any inquiries and interviews he desired to make were strictly his decision to make and that the FBI had no objection whatsoever to any interviews and inquiries he wished to make.

FE

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY (THE COMMISSION)

Mr. Newman stated he planned to interview Captain Will Fritz of the Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, to endeavor to determine what Captain Fritz considered motivated Oswald to commit the assassination and that he possibly would interview other persons, the identities of whom he did not reveal.

It is anticipated that in the near future all of the physical evidence in the possession of the FBI, most of which is being retained in the Laboratory, will be delivered to the National Archives. Photographs or other copies of this material have been made; however, as in the case of books, pamphlets and other items consisting of several printed pages not bearing any handwriting or other information of value, the photograph is of the outside of the article. The question of the adequacy of these photographs with particular reference as to whether each page of every book, pamphlet, et cetera, should be photographed was discussed with the Investigative Division and Domestic Intelligence Division and we were informed that the photographs we currently had would be sufficient and that it would not be necessary to exhaustively photograph these items.

On 8/15/66, from 8:06 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. the radio program "Long John Nebel vs-Criticism of the Warren Commission Report", was aired over radio station WNBC in NY and appearing on the show as a guest was MARK LANE. During the course of the evening, in discussing the aforementioned topic, MARK LANE stated that the majority of witnesses before the Warren Commission, when asked about FBI reports given to the Commission, stated that the FBI was inaccurate in presenting what they, the witnesses, had said to the FBI.

In regard to this, LANE cited the example of NELSON DELGADO (PH), whom LANE characterized as a Commission witness, who was with LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the Marine Corps. LANE quoted DELGADO as telling the FBI that OSWALD was a very poor shot and that DELGADO said the "FBI Agents did not like my testimony about this." They did not like "my" statement that OSWALD was a poor shot. LANE said DELGADO went on to swear to the Commission that Agents of the FBI tried to get him to alter his statement and as LANE said, "to suborn perjury, if you will, to take the position that OSWALD was in fact, a better shot than he actually was." LANE stated that this is typical of the witnesses who appeared before the Warren Commission when asked about FBI statements.

When questioned by NEBEL as to whether LANE was accusing the FBI Agents of being dishonest in their method of reporting, LANE replied that he did not believe that Agents of the FBI should be sent to jail for subornation of perjury based on the statements of the witnesses alone, but that the Commission had the responsibility of calling the agents and confronting them with these statements and this the Commission did not do. LANE stated that in view of DELGADO's testimony before the Commission, it shook his confidence in the FBI.

On 8/16/66, MARK LANE appeared on the same program together with guest panelists ROY COHN and KIERNAN O'DOUGHERTY, two well known attorneys in the NYC area. This show took the form of a panel discussion and the topics included LANE's discussion on the unavailibility of the hard physical evidence in the OSWALD case; that the FBI and other government agencies are holding this hard physical evidence and will let no one examine it; testimony of firearms identification experts before the Warren Commission; The FBI's inability to find the print on OSWALD's rifle. In regard to this, LANE stated that the print on OSWALD's rifle came from the Dallas Police Identification Bureau; the testimony of MARINA OSWALD regarding the mutilation of the photograph (Commission Exhibit Number 5) after it came into the possession of the FBI and the Warren Commission; testimony of MARINA OSWALD regarding her questioning by the FBI, in that she was threatened by the FBI in essence, with deportation, if she did not cooperate with them; a reiteration of the topic subornation of perjury by the agents, previously discussed on 8/15/66, and a reiteration of what DELGADO testified before the Warren Commission.

During the course of the evening, telegrams from listeners were read by NEBEL accusing ROY COHN and O'DOUGHERTY of MC CARTHYISM.

In regard to the above, O'DOUGHERTY said if there is any character assassination on this program it is the character assassination Mr. LANE is making upon the members of the Warren Commission, the Dallas Police Department, the FBI and on all the law enforcement officials of the US.

During the course of the evening, ROY COHN had this to say, "I wonder if the people who really did not have the grievance might be the members of the Warren Commission.....the FBI, the role of which Mr. Lane misunderstands completely. He mentioned my trial three times. I was prosecuted and acquitted. The FBI was the investigative agency. They did not help prosecute me. They assembled evidence and when they were called to the stand, they were right down the middle. They were fair and they were truthful all the way through and in the role of a defendant I developed more respect for the FBI than I have ever had before in my life...We had the assassination of the President. Mr. Oswald, as the evidence painstakingly developed by the FBI, gone into by the seven man Warren Commission, clearly demonstrated the link of motive, admission, design, plot, gun, forgery, delivery of the rifle, bullets, as airtight a case as we have ever had of the murder of President Kennedy, Officer Tibett in the history of the country".

Regarding the FBI, LANE stated that he has not said anything in the book about the FBI; that he has repeated in the book the quotes of the witnesses. He said the FBI is an agency for which he does not have a great deal of respect based upon the way they handled this matter and some other matters.

Verbatim copies of the radio shows of 8/15 and 8/16/66, regarding MARK LANE appears in his file in the NYO in memorandum form.

SUBJECT: MARK LANE
SECURITY MATTER - C

Mark Lane is an attorney who has maintained legal offices in New York City and has received considerable publicity for his criticism of the Warren Commission and its Report. Lane has a long history of affiliation with [redacted] groups and records of the office of the District Attorney, Queens County, New York, disclose Lane is [redacted]

Lane has authored a book entitled "Rush to Judgment," which has just been released by the publishers. Lane claims his book is a critique of the Warren Commission's inquiry into the murders of President John F. Kennedy, Officer J.D. Tippit, and Lee Harvey Oswald.

By airtel 8/19/66 New York Office reported Lane has appeared on two radio programs as a guest. His first appearance was over radio station WNEC of New York, wherein he discussed the Warren Commission Report and stated the FBI was inaccurate in presenting what witnesses told the FBI.

105-82555 - UNREC.

To make his point, Lane cited the case of Nelson Delgado, a former Marine Corps associate of Oswald. Delgado, according to Lane, stated the FBI did not like his statements and tried to get him to alter his statements.

NOT RECORDED

Delgado is a young Puerto Rican [illegible] with Oswald in the United States Marine Corps for a few months early in 1959 at Santa Ana, California. Delgado initially claimed that he was closely acquainted with Oswald, taught Oswald Spanish, discussed with Oswald the latter's plans to go to Cuba, and noted that Oswald was a poor shot with the rifle. Our interviews with Delgado regarding these points disclosed that Delgado was a fabricator and a liar and was greatly exaggerating his slight acquaintanceship with Oswald in order to achieve a position of prominence. We pinned Delgado down and he admitted he hardly knew Oswald and that he had no reason to say Oswald was a bad shot with the rifle since Oswald had qualified. One of our interviewing Agents was highly proficient in the Spanish language and noted that Delgado could hardly speak understandable Spanish himself, let alone teach it to anyone else. In addition, independent inquiries by us through other sources revealed Oswald had no command of the Spanish language.

Lane also appeared on a program on 8/16/66 with two guest panelists, Roy Cohn and Kiernan O'Dougherty, two well-known New York City attorneys. On this program, Lane was critical that he had not had access to the hard physical evidence in the Oswald case and complained that the FBI and other agencies were holding such evidence. He also complained that the FBI had threatened Marina Oswald that she would be deported if she did not cooperate with the FBI following the assassination of President Kennedy.

The hard evidence collected in our investigation of the assassination is in custody of the FBI Laboratory until appropriate disposition of it is made by the Attorney General. This matter is currently under discussion with the Department and it is anticipated in the near future all of the physical evidence will be delivered to the National Archives.

Lane's scurrilous allegation that the FBI had threatened Marina Oswald with deportation should she not cooperate has absolutely no basis in fact. While it is true Marina made such allegation during her testimony before the Warren Commission, such allegations by her were false. The interviewing Agents of Marina immediately following the assassination were SA Wallace W. R. Heitman of the Dallas Office and SA Anatole A. Boguslav, Russian-speaking Agent of the New York Office. Both SA Heitman and SA Boguslav categorically denied the allegation by Marina Oswald.

Immediately following the assassination during our first interviews with Marina Oswald, she was generally uncooperative and told a number of lies to both the FBI and Secret Service. Our Agents recognized her inaccuracies and correctly pressed her for full and accurate information in view of the vital importance of the investigation involving the murder of President Kennedy. As our interviews with Marina progressed and she recognized we would tolerate no foolishness or accept lies from her, she gradually became more cooperative and truthful.

In addition, it is to be noted that immediately following the assassination, Marina Oswald was told by Mr. Fred Harvey, an Immigration and Naturalization Service official, that her immigrant status in this country was legal and that there were no plans to deport her to Russia. Mr. Harvey further advised her that the Immigration Service could assure her residence in the United States and eventual citizenship if she so desired and qualified under law. Mr. Harvey also told Marina that she would be questioned by Federal officials concerning the assassination and it would be expected that she would give truthful answers to questions pertinent to this investigation.

Memorandum Branigan to Sullivan
RE: MARK LANE
100-409763

During this 8/16/66 radio program, Mr. Kiernan O'Dougherty accused Mark Lane of character assassination upon members of the Warren Commission, the Dallas Police Department, the FBI and on all law enforcement officials of the United States.

On the same program, Mr. Roy Cohn accused Lane of misunderstanding the FBI role completely. Cohn stated that he had undergone trial on three occasions and had been acquitted. He stated the FBI had been the investigative agency, had been fair and truthful all the way through and that he had developed more respect for the FBI than he ever had before in his life." He also stated that the FBI investigation of Oswald, which had been gone into by the Warren Commission, clearly demonstrated the link of motive, admission, design, plot, gun, forgery, delivery of the rifle, bullets and the like, resulting in as airtight a case as we have ever had of a murder in the history of this country.

Following this recital, Lane weakly stated that he had not said anything in the book about the FBI but was repeating the quotes of witnesses. He said the FBI is an agency for which he does not have a great deal of respect based upon the way they handled this matter and some other matters.

A detailed analysis is being made at Seat of Government concerning Lane's book "Rush to Judgment" and such data is being set forth by separate memorandum.

My dear Mr. DeLoach:

While I do not read many of the articles that come to me, particularly on riots, etc., I did glance through this article which I enclose herewith.

If the writer really warned about Oswald's threat months before the President was assassinated, he may be a valuable informant. I am sending this to you more out of curiosity to know if the FBI has heard anything about him and what Dr. Carlos Bringuier's reputation is.

The Black and Red Revolution in the U.S.A.

By Dr. Carlos Bringuier

A CALL FOR A CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION OF THE 'TECHNICIANS' BEHIND RACIAL RIOTING

Published by CUBAN STUDENT DIRECTORATE
NEW ORLEANS DELEGATION
P.O. Box 2506
New Orleans, Louisiana

An indisputable reality is the manner in which the U.S.A. is being jolted from one end to the other by the riots and violence, disguised by the "masters of deceit" as social-economic or racial incidents but that, after careful analysis, can be exposed in their true light as Marxist-Castroite in origin and inspiration.

Leon Trotzky said: "To start an insurrectional movement, one needs technicians in that art; only with technicians, as well, can such a movement be stopped."

Such an insurrection is being attempted in the U.S.A. The "technicians" are working on its foundations, in its gestation; if other "technicians" do not come out and put a stop to it now, only many sad days of blood and mourning can be expected for this great nation.

Previous Warning Not Heeded

Three months before the assassination of President Kennedy, I insistently requested through a news release an investigation by the Senate of one Lee Harvey Oswald; but no one cared to listen – not even to publish said news release. It was sad and shocking to learn later how easily that Oswald had killed the President of the U.S.A.

Today, I am again strongly recommending to this nation a detailed and extensive Senate investigation concerning the true origin of the riots which have been shaking lately some of the principal cities of this nation, and shocking the rest of the U.S.A. Sensible Americans do not believe the "easy" explanations and theories which we are being told is the "real reason" for racial revolution.

There is an absolute need to expose the agent provocateurs; but such investigation should be without the participation of Senators Fulbright and Morse, because of their recently demonstrated recklessness, regarding their pro-Communistic solutions concerning Cuba and Viet Nam.

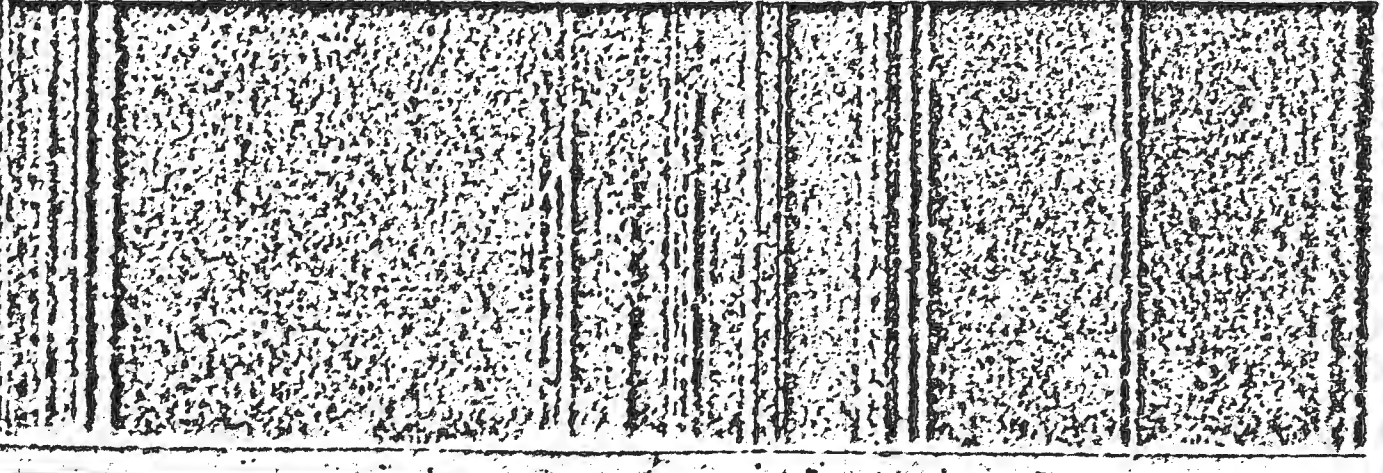
DR. CARLOS BRINGUIER

Carlos Bringuier is the only Latin American known to have debated the President's assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald. This now famous "radio debate" between the communist, Oswald, and the anti-communist, Bringuier, was broadcast on a New Orleans radio station on August 21, 1963, three months before President Kennedy's assassination. Bringuier was the man who exposed the self-admitted Marxist Oswald after he had made an unsuccessful attempt to infiltrate the anti-Castro movement which Bringuier headed in New Orleans.

Planned Guerrilla Warfare

Still, without knowing exactly why or how, riots were provoked and exploited in Rochester, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, and later in Chicago, New York, Cleveland, St. Petersburg, and Omaha. Each of them were immediately classified by the press as caused by the poor living conditions of the Negroes in said cities. However, we see that the immediate spark that precipitated each of those riots had no relation whatsoever with racial or economic-social problems. In San Francisco, a Negro policeman shot another Negro who was robbing a business place one night, and the streets were immediately filled with bands of Negro men shouting, "Death to Whitey!" with which they rally Negro support to ignite a riot among mobs. In some instances, the master strategy of these riots can be plainly seen. This is not spontaneous reaction because of discrimination or high temperatures. In one of the affected cities a building was set on fire, and the firemen rushed, as is their duty, to put out the fire and save property and life. They were shocked by the inhumanity of strategically placed sharpshooters who kept them away from the conflagration. This was not the case of an enraged mob setting fire to a building; it was a planned operation by the "technicians" who ordered the fire and then emplaced snipers around it in a typical guerrilla fashion, to create confusion and chaos, the victims of which later could be called "martyrs."

The saddest part of this insurrectional process is that those who instigate and direct these riots are always safely away from the path of bullets and the rest of the violence which they create. We see mothers in search of their children, innocent bystanders, and children who have not yet learned the real meaning of hate becoming victims of that violence and those bullets. There are those "technicians" and mercenaries who openly preach for extreme violence. Others hide behind the hypocritical call to "non-violence." Neither are trying to find solutions to problems but are seeking only to use martyrs for their personal ambition, or further exploitation for the Black-Red revolution.



are accused of "police brutality." When the police display an almost limitless patience, then the "technicians" place their sharp-shooters and snipers to victimize policemen and Negroes alike – because that is what they are really after: victims. When a Negro mother falls shot in a riot, the "technicians" rejoice because they very well know it is in this manner that hate can blind human intelligence. This is one of the typical strategies the Communists use in their struggle for conquest.

Pawns of Revolutionists

In my country, Cuba, it was the hate against Batista; later, hate against the so-called "capitalists." Here, it is hate between the races. The aim of the "technicians" is to promote the hate of the Negro against the white... and of the white against the Negro, because it is the "technicians" hope that the white will react violently to unthinking rampaging of the mobs of Negroes who are being used as pawns in this grim game of black-red revolution.

"Technicians" infiltrated into anti-Negro movements would not hesitate to promote hate among those whites whose mental capacity won't permit them to see that they are being duped, and are then pushed into murder and violence against the Negro citizens in furtherance of the hate campaign that serves so well the purposes of the "technicians."

They might show themselves in public with their eyes full of tears, but the "technicians" always rejoice at the news of violence between the races. Why is it that violence usually follows "non-violent" speeches?

There is still time to put a stop to this Communist-inspired and controlled insurrection. There are many whites with enough mental capacity and open-mindedness to search in earnest for solutions to the racial problem, and there is a majority of Negroes who want those answers to be peaceful. But those leaders of either faction who with their diatribes can incite the masses to revolt must be neutralized.

Is Sabotage Next?

Approximately a year ago, a friend of mine of the Negro race, a native of a Central American country but a resident in the U.S.A., explained to me how some of his fellow workers called him "white lover," only because he did not actively hate the white man. When during his talks the Viet Nam situation came up, one of his Negro fellow-workers who seemed to be active in racial affairs, told him that the Americans should not be in South Viet Nam and that they will lose the war there. When my friend pointed to the great production capacity of this country, he was told that such capacity would only exist until "they" receive the order to start sabotage. Then, the agitator claimed American production would be reduced to a minimum or even stopped, leaving this nation completely defenseless.

The Congress of the U.S.A. owes to the sensible Negroes and whites of this nation a thorough and immediate investigation of these riots? And, before it is too late...

Meanwhile, the honest, hardworking Negroes with a sincere desire for the social progress of his race in the community he lives, in order to reach the level to which he is entitled, must avoid being blinded by those "technicians" and denounce them whenever and wherever they are found. He must help his fellowmen from being taken in by the hate promoters who poison their minds with the excuses of their racial differences. These are typical Communist tricks to agitate the masses for their own designs, even when the price is the lives of innocent Negro mothers and children. On the other hand, the honest hardworking whites, with a sincere Christian spirit in the conviction that we are all children of the same God, and therefore, all deserve equal justice, must also refuse any attempt to make him react with hate and even violence against the Negro. If any white man ever takes the law into his own hands, let him be aware that at THAT moment he is acting as an unconscious agent of the Communist "technicians" whose only real aim is to destroy this nation. This red (Communist-inspired) and black (using the Negro problem) revolution inspired by the insurrectional thesis of Leon Trotzky and with the support and aid of Fidel Castro and his agents, can still be stopped!

It is in your hands, American citizens, to avoid the dismemberment and destruction of your country internally.

I had a country to where I could escape when the Communists took over mine. Where would you go if they ever take over yours?

What do these 'technicians' want?

These "technicians" are looki[illegible] for the confrontation of races, but only because they know that this is the only way in which they can break down the strength and fortitude of this nation, the first step to overcome the U.S.A.!

These "technicians" are not interested in the white and Negro living together in peace and mutual respect as human beings created by the same God; on the contrary, they infiltrate both segments to instigate hate and violence, and better to divide and separate the races. When police are forced to use their weapons in a riot, in their attempt to put a stop to violence before it gets out of hand, they

— DOCUMENTED PROOF —

For proof of Communist influences in racial rioting, we refer to a monthly newsletter entitled "The Crusader," published by Robert Franklin Williams, a Negro wanted by the FBI for crimes committed in Monroe, North Caroline. The June 1964 issue was discovered by police being distributed to Negroes in the Watts section of Los Angeles and other areas where violent insurrection has taken place. Detailed instructions were contained in the newsletter concerning the manufacture of gasoline fire bombs and methods of sabotage of public utilities and other techniques of guerrilla warfare in our cities. Robert F. Williams also was a regular broadcaster over Radio Free Dixie from Havana urging Negroes to arm and train themselves for revolutionary insurrection.

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, has repeatedly warned that Communists have insinuated themselves into key positions in the civil rights movement.

In 1963 Congressman Albert Watson of South Caroline revealed the Communist affiliations of 59 of the leading officers and directors and sponsors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Assistant Director of the FBI William C. Sullivan said that more than 200 Communists were among the civil rights marchers on Washington, D.C. in 1964.

Martin Luther King was revealed to have used identified Communists, Hunter Pitts O'Dell and Bayard Rustin, in key positions in his movement.

On September 1, 1966, Rev. Lyman Erickson, [illegible] an Servicemen's Center (CSC), 212 N. Alamo, San [illegible], Texas, appeared at the San Antonio FBI office and furnished the following information:

An elderly man he knew as John Howard Bowen, who had previously visited the CSC from time to time since April, 1966, advised Erickson on the night of August 29, 1966, that he, Bowen, was very ill as the result of uremic poisoning. Erickson immediately placed Bowen in the Medical Arts Hospital, San Antonio, where he died on the night of August 31, 1966.

In going through Bowen's personal effects to locate relatives or friends to notify, Erickson discovered Bowen appeared to be using two identities.

There were various credit cards, photographs, receipts, and identification cards showing John Howard Bowen, Social Security Card #449-36-9745, was born January 1, 1900, Chester, Pennsylvania, or CANADA LA [redacted] explained that he was unable, of course, to follow the entire conversation, but that he did hear the following remarks as well. One of the three asked about, "LADI OLAH" (phonetic). A second individual then stated that "OLAH" was in Seattle visiting "JUHASZ" (phonetic), an engineer with Boeing. The conversation also led [redacted] to believe that "OLAH" had lost some luggage at Greyhound, probably in Seattle, and that a search was being made to locate it. A further reference was also made by one of the persons to another individual in Vermont, but [redacted] was unable to detect the name of this person.

[redacted] recalled that the limousine left National Airport at 10:00 AM and at approximately 10:15 or 10:20 AM, it stopped at the Hay-Adams Hotel at 15th Street. The three Hungarians got out of the limousine with their luggage and presumably registered at this hotel. The limousine then continued on to the Statler Hotel where [redacted] got off to wait for a bus which was to take him to Virginia where he was to attend the ground breaking ceremonies of the Freedom Academy.

[redacted] disclosed that at no time did he have a clear view of the three individuals in question and is unable to properly describe them. He stated that he would guess them to have been in their middle forties and possessing high school educations. He also indicated that while they did not impress him as being "high class" they did not appear to be "run of the mill" types and might possibly have been commercial agents for the Hungarian Legation. [redacted] also emphasized that these individuals did not appear to be American Hungarians. Their conversation seemed to be in somewhat "cautious" tones and the words, "communist or communism" were not used. [redacted] also stated that the "party lawyer" referred to in their conversation was undoubtedly, JOHN ABT, who had declined to represent OSWALD.

ReButelcall to ASAC JOHN J. MC DERMOTT.

On 9/12/66, Congressman DON FUQUA of Florida advised SAs JAMES F. MORRISSEY and WILLIAM R. CARTER as follows:

In July 1966, while visiting in Florida, he was contacted by JENNINGS MURRHREE, Green Cove Springs, Florida, Sheriff of Clay County, Fla. MURRHREE told FUQUA he wanted the latter to meet someone; that the info this person had was not material to be discussed over the phone. FUQUA said he was subsequently introduced to WILLIAM H. COOPER, whom he said is also known as JOE COOPER. FUQUA said COOPER related the following theory regarding the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY.

COOPER believed that the assassination was the result of a conspiracy involving HERMAN G. ENGELHARDT, J. RUSSELL DOIRON, BRYAN CLEMMONS and JAMES WINFREE. FUQUA said he believed COOPER also mentioned a fifth person whose name he could not immediately recall. Plans for the assassination, according to COOPER's account, were formulated during a trip of the USS Shangri-La, CVA-38, during August of 1963. COOPER had established (Enclosure 1) that these individuals were reportedly aboard the ship during August 1963. Because of the fact they were aboard the ship and in line with his belief assassination plans were formulated there, COOPER thought the U.S. Navy was also involved. COOPER did not mean at the level of CNO, but someone with rank, somebody of the General WALKER bent of mind that this country was being led down a ruinous blind alley by President KENNEDY, and hence supplied the forum for such purpose.

COOPER said the group then chose LEE HARVEY OSWALD as the means to assassinate President KENNEDY. OSWALD had come to their attention through unknown mutual friends who were not communists. COOPER felt OSWALD was aboard the ship at the time, probably under an assumed name. The conspirators brainwashed OSWALD into performing the act.

COOPER felt that the action of the group was the result of their sharing a strong reactionary feeling in the U.S. against President KENNEDY and his policies. He felt their action and the resulting death of President KENNEDY paralleled to some extent the atmosphere and action resulting in the death of Senator HUEY LONG of Louisiana. According to FUQUA, COOPER mentioned that OSWALD had reportedly checked out a book on assassination of Mr. LONG.

Then, according to COOPER, before OSWALD could "squeal," he was killed through connections between BRYAN CLEMMONS, Sheriff BILL DECKER of Dallas and JACK RUBY. FUQUA was not clear as to the details in this respect.

FUQUA then related that COOPER has since sent him much correspondence attempting to support his belief. This has not accomplished this as yet, but had pointed out certain unrecalled coincidences that raised the question in FUQUA's mind that COOPER should be interviewed in depth to determine if there was anything definite to his contentions.

FUQUA said COOPER resides at 620 Wiltz Drive, Baton Rouge, La.

FUQUA made available enclosures 2 to 5 as being biographical data supplied by COOPER on the individuals involved.

SECRET

On 9/13/66, Congressman FUQUA telephonically contacted SA MORRISSEY and stated he had received additional material from COOPER that date. FUQUA advised SA MORRISSEY subsequently on the same date that he believed COOPER was or is an FBI informant, that he may also have been a KKK informant for the FBI. FUQUA also stated that he believed the fifth individual involved in the conspiracy, according to COOPER, is E. G. PARTIN, a business agent for the teamsters union. From info believed supplied by COOPER, PARTIN may have ties to Cuban Premier FIDEL CASTRO and may have been involved in a past apparent threat to Senator ROBERT KENNEDY. FUQUA had no details in this last respect.

On 9/14/66, copies of material included in the above enclosures were furnished by Congressman FUQUA's office to SA MORRISSEY. It was indicated that additional material was expected and the Congressman wished SA MORRISSEY to handle same. Subsequent contacts with FUQUA's office, as requested, failed to reveal any additional correspondence.

On 9/27/66, Congressman FUQUA telephonically advised SA MORRISSEY that he had received another letter from COOPER. A copy of same was obtained from FUQUA's office on 9/30/66 and is enclosure 17. FUQUA was unable to keep two requested appointments for any additional info in this matter due to prior schedule commitments.

In the attached material, originals are included. FUQUA thought that some of the material would be illegible if further reproduced, hence furnished his copies. He requested the Bureau retain same in case he needed it in the future.

FUQUA indicated the facilities of his office would be available at any time in this matter. He felt COOPER may have come to him under the impression the OSWALD case was a closed matter and his theory go unheeded. FUQUA was advised of the Bureau's continuing interest in this matter.

In view of the extensive investigation in this matter, any leads such as interview of COOPER are left to the discretion of the Bureau after appropriate analysis.

WFO indices are negative re COOPER.

Because of reported status of COOPER as possible Bureau informant, no LHM is being submitted in this matter. In the event that COOPER is interviewed, or additional investigation conducted, it is requested that above info be included in any dissemination.

FUQUA felt COOPER appeared rational and sincere. FUQUA also mentioned that he had inquired of the Bureau regarding COOPER in the past and was orally advised that he had furnished reliable info in the past. FUQUA, however, did not indicate, he believed, the purpose of his inquiry concerning COOPER. FUQUA stated that he understood that COOPER once opposed CLEMMONS in an election in some location. FUQUA did not have the details on this but suggested COOPER's loss in such election may have some bearing on this matter in action against CLEMMONS. Of this, however, he was not sure and it was only conjecture on his part.

An extra copy is designated for the Bureau for administrative handling.

Re WFOlet 10/6/66 reporting contacts with Congressman Don Fuqua of Florida in this matter.

Enclosed for the New Orleans Office are copies of the enclosures described in referenced WFOlet. William H. Cooper appears to be identical to an individual [redacted]

Bureau desires that the New Orleans Office immediately contact Cooper and pin him down on the allegations he has made in connection with the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. Specifically determine the basis for which he alleges Oswald was part of a conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy. Also determine the basis for his allegations that Herman G. Engelhardt, J. Russell Doiron, Bryan Clemmons, James Winfree and E. G. Partin were also involved in a conspiracy in the assassination of President Kennedy. [redacted]

If your interview with Cooper does not completely resolve his allegations, you should submit your recommendations to the Bureau for consideration as to additional inquiries you deem necessary to fully resolve Cooper's allegations. Upon review of your recommendations, Bureau will issue appropriate instructions to your office for further investigation in this matter.

Results of your interview with Cooper in this matter should be promptly furnished to the Bureau in a form suitable for dissemination.

ReWFOlet 10/6/66, setting forth info received from Congressman DON FUQUA of Florida re COOPER.

On 10/13/66, Congressman FUQUA telephonically advised SA JAMES F. MORRISSEY that he had just received a letter from COOPER; that COOPER advised him that he (COOPER) had been recently contacted by SA JAMES L. MEYENS (last name not completely clear) of ONI. The ONI agent wanted to know why COOPER was inquiring of the Navy regarding passengers on the USS Shangri-La. COOPER, according to FUQUA, did not advise the ONI agent of his interest in captioned matter and the relation of his request to it.

FUQUA stated that it is his personal desire that a representative of the FBI contact COOPER in this matter.

FUQUA was advised that his desire would be made known to the Bureau.

The above is submitted for the information and guidance of the Bureau. Relet pointed out that in view of extensive investigation in this matter, any leads such as interview of COOPER were being left to the discretion of the Bureau after appropriate analysis.

Congressman John O. Marsh, Jr., of Virginia, who is a personal acquaintance of Assistant Director William C. Sullivan, contacted Mr. Sullivan and reported that Congressman Don Fuqua possessed information on the Lee Harvey Oswald case which might be of interest to this Bureau. Arrangements were made for a Special Agent of the Washington Field Office to contact Congressman Fuqua in this regard.

Special Agent James F. Morrissey of the Washington Field Office contacted Congressman Fuqua on this matter, at which time the Congressman made available data which had been furnished to him by Mr. William H. Cooper of New Orleans, Louisiana. Congressman Fuqua stated that Cooper alleged that Oswald was part of a conspiracy which was responsible for the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. Congressman Fuqua added that other members of the conspiracy allegedly were Herman G. Engelhardt, J. Russell Doiron, Bryan Clemmons, James Winfree and E. G. Partin. Cooper has alleged to Congressman Fuqua that the above individuals brainwashed Oswald into performing the actual assassination and then arranged for Oswald to be murdered by Jack Ruby. Congressman Fuqua made available correspondence he has received from Cooper containing such allegations.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

At no time during our intensive investigation of Oswald or of the assassination of the late President Kennedy did Cooper or any of the other individuals mentioned herein as conspirators behind the assassination come to our attention as possessing information of value to the assassination. During our frequent contacts with Cooper during the period September, 1964, to January, 1966, he never made any allegation in connection with the assassination or Oswald. The allegations he is now making appear to be completely false. However, it is felt he should be interviewed to get the information first-hand and to be pinned down concerning his allegations before they are widely circulated and given credence by the public.

Bureau files contain no pertinent information concerning Herman G. Engelhardt, J. Russell Doiron or James Winfree. Bryan Clemmons is a sheriff in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and has held several responsible positions as a graduate of the FBI National Academy. Our relations with Clemmons have been excellent. Edward G. Partin was formerly Secretary-Treasurer of Teamsters Local Five, Baton Rouge, and was the principal Government witness against James Riddle Hoffa when Hoffa was convicted on charges of Obstruction of Justice on 3/4/64 at Chattanooga, Tennessee.

ACTION:

Attached is an airtel to the New Orleans Office instructing that Cooper be immediately interviewed and pinned down on his allegations that Oswald was involved in a conspiracy in the assassination of the late President Kennedy. We are instructing New Orleans that if its interview with Cooper does not completely resolve his allegations, New Orleans Office should submit its recommendations to the Bureau for consideration as to additional investigation deemed necessary to completely resolve this matter.

As noted in the memorandum, MARK LANE attempted to discredit the work of the Warren Commission and its conclusions, obviously in an effort to promote the sale of his book, "Rush to Judgment" which attacks the Warren Commission report. ALBERT E. JENNER, Jr. strongly defended the work of the Commission and was very critical of LANE's book.

DISCUSSION OF WARREN COMMISSION REPORT BY MARK LANE AND ALBERT E. JENNER, JR. ON JERRY WILLIAMS SHOW, 8 P.M. TO 11:30 P.M., 9/15/66, WBBM RADIO, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

The Jerry Williams Show is a local program regularly broadcast for about the past year on WBBM radio, Chicago, Illinois, in which the host, Jerry Williams, invites guests to appear and discuss various current and usually controversial issues. Part of the program is devoted to comments and questions from listeners who telephone the program. On September 15, 1966, Jerry Williams introduced on the Jerry Williams Show as his guest Mark Lane, author of a book, "Rush to Judgment" which Williams described as a critique of the Warren Commission inquiry into the murders of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Police Officer J. D. Tippett and Lee Harvey Oswald, and Chicago, Illinois attorney Albert E. Jenner, Jr. who served as a senior counsel to the Warren Commission.

Through the course of the program, Lane and Jenner disagreed concerning the validity of the Warren Commission report, Lane being critical of the report and Jenner supporting the report. Their remarks on the program included the following:

Lane said that contrary to the opinion of the Warren Commission, he felt the evidence was not conclusive that Oswald was the murderer of President Kennedy. Lane said that at one time, Oswald's mother wanted Lane to represent the deceased Oswald before the Warren Commission, but that the Warren Commission would not allow him to do so though he did appear before the Commission. His subsequent investigation into the circumstances of the assassination of President Kennedy led to his writing his book, "Rush to Judgment."

COPIES DESTROYED

Jenner said that Mrs. Oswald, the mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, had refused to allow Lane to act as her attorney before the Warren Commission, and he noted also that she had no standing to name an attorney to represent Lee Harvey Oswald before the Commission. Jenner said further that Mark Lane had appeared before the Warren Commission and offered little or nothing of value and further, that Lane declined to identify certain people to whom he had referred in speeches and articles. Lane responded that he had furnished pertinent information to the Commission.

Lane referred to the work of the Warren Commission as slovenly. In this connection, he said that the Commission's opinion that the shots which killed President Kennedy had come from the Texas School Book Depository was unjustified, and that he himself felt that while possibly some shots may have come from the Depository, there was also strong evidence that shots came from behind a fence and that the Warren Commission had ignored this latter evidence.

Lane referred to photographs taken of President Kennedy as President Kennedy was being struck by the assassin's bullets. He said these photographs were taken by an amateur photographer, Abraham Zapruder. Lane said further that the Warren Commission, in publishing these photographs, mislabeled frames 314 and 315. In proof of this statement, Lane said he had a letter from J. Edgar Hoover, signed by Hoover, December 14, 1965, in which Hoover stated, in answer to someone who had written to Hoover in "our" (Lane's) behalf, that frames 314 and 315 of Commission exhibit 885 were transposed. Lane said that the Zapruder film was not in the shape it should be because four of the frames had been taken out by the FBI and the film had then been spliced. Lane said that members of the Commission and lawyers for the Commission did not know that the film had been spliced. During the program, Lane referred several times to this film and to his allegation that the FBI had removed some of the film and then spliced it. On one occasion, in referring to the Zapruder film, Lane said that the frames between "207 and 212" were removed by the FBI and the film spliced and again said that no member of the Commission knew about this. Lane said that an attorney, Wesley Liebeler, who had assisted Jenner on the Commission, had learned of what the FBI did to the film and as a result of Liebeler's concern, Liebeler had written to J. Lee Rankin, counsel for the Warren Commission, and asked that the Warren Commission reopen its investigation because the FBI had spliced an important document, the Zapruder film.

Lane also raised the issue of the photographs and X-rays which he said had been made of the body of President Kennedy and which Lane said might show whether a wound in the President's throat was an exit or entrance wound and hence, would shed light on the direction from which the bullet came. Lane noted that "Newsweek" magazine had recently stated that its investigators could find no one in government who would admit knowing where those X-rays and photographs were.

In the matter of the location from which the assassin's bullets were fired, Jenner cited what he said was positive testimony from a number of witnesses which showed that the shots came from the Texas School Book Depository and not from anywhere else.

Lane said that a number of witnesses who might have been called by the Warren Commission were not called and further, that he believed that these witnesses were not called because their testimony might contradict pre-conceived opinions of the Warren Commission about the assassination.

When asked by Williams to comment on Lane's book, Jenner said that the book uses testimony from witnesses which is taken out of context, that the book offers no solid or fair proof for Lane's speculations about the assassination, and that the book ignores the background of Lee Harvey Oswald. Lane said that the background of Oswald was not relevant since Oswald might well have been only a spectator at the assassination.

Lane said that he was not one of those who held that Oswald was a government agent. Lane then went on to note that such allegations had been made. He said that in the book of Congressman Gerald Ford about the assassination of President Kennedy, Ford said that Dallas, Texas, District Attorney, Henry Wade, and Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr told Ford that Oswald was an FBI agent, that they knew the number assigned to Oswald, and that Oswald was paid $200 a month. Lane said he does not know if those allegations were true, but he thought they merited investigation. Jenner said that the allegations that Oswald was an FBI agent or government agent had been investigated and had been proven false by the Warren Commission.

Lane mentioned a cablegram, Commission exhibit number 917, from the American Embassy in Moscow to the FBI, the CIA, the Department of State and the Commandant of the Marine Corps concerning Oswald. In this cablegram, which referred to Oswald's desire to renounce his citizenship and to his giving information about radar to the Russians, Oswald is described, according to Lane, as a former Marine and apparently further described but this latter description had been deleted from the cablegram. Lane said this deletion was of a space large enough for 43 letters, and he asked Jenner if he knew what this deletion was. Jenner said he had never seen the cablegram in any condition other than with the blank space whereupon Lane asked how then does Jenner know whether Oswald was a member of the FBI or the CIA if he did not know what had been deleted from the cablegram. Jenner said that he knew because he had seen the records of the FBI and the CIA and other government agencies.

In the course of the discussion, Lane's motivation in writing the book was discussed. Lane said he had given up his political career and his law practice while pursuing his investigation, and that he and his wife have had to borrow money from his parents. He said he had obtained some money from lectures, but that he had contributed this money to the Citizens Committee for Inquiry, which committee sent amateur investigators into Dallas and these amateur investigators, according to Lane, turned up a lot more information than the professional investigators relied on by the Warren Commission. Jerry Williams then suggested that the publication of the book would now bring considerable money to Lane, to which Lane said he hoped people would buy the book, "Rush to Judgment." Lane noted that Jenner had said his book was a pack of lies. Lane went on to say that he, Lane, would not call the Warren Commission report a pack of lies although it was, according to Lane.

Lane also mentioned a secret meeting of the Warren Commission which was referred to by Congressman Ford in Ford's book which was concerned with allegations that Oswald was connected with the FBI. Jenner said that there was no evidence that Oswald was an FBI agent or even that Oswald was an agent of the Soviet Union.

Lane noted his differences with the Warren Commission concerning whether Oswald was as good a shot with a rifle as the Warren Commission report would indicate, and further expressed dissatisfaction with the suppression of a number of items in the government archives concerning the Warren Commission investigation which he said would not be released until the year 2039.

Lane also again made reference to what he said was the splicing of the Zapruder film by the FBI, and Jenner responded that even if the film was spliced, this would not mean that anything of significance had been deleted.

Lane also said that the Dallas Police Department prepared a transcript of its police radio broadcast during the time of the assassination, which transcript the Warren Commission felt was inaccurate with the result that an FBI agent was sent to the Dallas Police Department and there spent four days preparing an FBI transcript of the Dallas police radio broadcast. This FBI transcript, according to Lane, was entirely different in material respects from the Dallas Police Department transcript. This police radio broadcast was significant, according to Lane, because Lane said a description of Oswald was broadcast over the police radio in Dallas before Oswald was known to be a suspect.

Lane also asked why the Warren Commission files concerning Jack Ruby were classified, and Jenner pointed out in answer that they were classified because Ruby's case was still pending in court.

Lane said there are a number of people who do not believe the conclusions in the report of the Warren Commission. Jenner said that responsible people who had reviewed the work of the Commission supported the Commission's report. Jenner said that the Commission conducted a full and fair investigation and reported that investigation fully and fairly.

Jenner departed from the program at about 11 p.m. in order to catch a plane and during the last half hour of the program, Lane replied to telephone callers who had questions concerning his earlier remarks. In answer to one of the callers, Lane said that it was not his position that the members of the Warren Commission were charlatans. Lane said that people in government, however, sometimes found it necessary to satisfy the needs of government and in this connection, Lane said that Adali Stevenson, at the United Nations, had said that the United States was not involved in the invasion of Cuba by Cuban exiles when, in fact, the United States was definitely involved. Lane further mentioned that President Eisenhower had publicly stated that the plane of Francis Gary Powers, downed in Russia, had been a weather plane and that later, President Eisenhower publicly admitted that his earlier statement was not true and that he knew it to be untrue when he made it.

Lane, in answer to a question concerning why the Commission would issue an inaccurate or distorted report, said that the Commission had been faced with a situation in which the FBI, the Secret Service and the Dallas Police were all saying that Oswald had been the assassin. The Commission felt it necessary to settle doubts in the minds of the public by issuing a report saying that Oswald had been the assassin. Lane said that the Commission probably felt that to issue a report saying there were assassins who the Commission did not know about would have been unsettling. Lane noted that attorney Louis Nizer had said that the Commission's report was a contribution to national tranquility, and Lane said he agreed with this but Lane also said that the Commission report was a total disservice to the truth.

By airtel dated 9/16/66 the Chicago Office furnished a blind memorandum captioned "Discussion of Warren Commission Report by Mark Lane and Albert E. Jenner, Jr., on Jerry Williams Show, 8 P. M. to 11:30 P. M., 9/15/66, WBBM Radio, Chicago, Illinois." During the television program Mark Lane attempted to discredit the work of the Warren Commission and its conclusions in an obvious effort to promote the sale of his book "Rush to Judgment." Mr. Jenner strongly defended the work of the Commission and was critical of Lane's book. During the program, among other allegations Lane reportedly made erroneous references to some aspects of our examination of the amateur movie film of the assassination made by Abraham Zapruder. He reportedly stated that four of the frames had been taken out of the film by the FBI and the film had been spliced and that members of the Commission and lawyers for the Commission did not know that the film had been spliced.

This is completely in error; at no time did the FBI modify the original film in any manner. The facts are we never had custody of the original film which Zapruder sold to Life magazine. We made our original examination from copies of the film and later from slides made from each frame and furnished to us by Life magazine. At the request of the Commission, a representative of Life magazine did bring the original film to the Commission and in the presence of one of our Laboratory experts ran the film for the lawyers for the Commission. At that time and in the presence of the representative from Life magazine, an expert from the FBI was allowed to examine the original film briefly. The film was never out of the custody of the representative from Life magazine during this period. We at that time noted no splice; however, subsequently when Life made slides of each frame available to us, it was determined by reference to the FBI copy of the film that certain frames were not represented in the slides and that the film from which the slides were made, now had been spliced. It is interesting to note that in the footnote on page 66 of Lane's book "Rush to Judgment" he makes reference to the fact that the film was in the custody of Life magazine and that Life was reluctant to release it to the Commission.

The initial assignment of numbers to the frames was done in the Laboratory and was based on the frames in the copy of the original that had been furnished to the FBI and this copy of the Zapruder film contained all of the frames and was made before the splicing occurred. As indicated above, we first became aware of the splices when individual slides of the pertinent frames were made by Life magazine and furnished to the FBI. These slides clearly show the splice on frame 207 and frame 212 and no slides were furnished for frames 208 through 211. It can be assumed that the splicing was done by Life magazine. The four missing frames were examined from the FBI copy previously obtained and although there is slightly less detail in the copy than in the original film, there was insufficient loss of information to be pertinent to the study of the film.

During the printing of the Warren Commission report, testimony and exhibits, two photographs representing frames from the Zapruder film were transposed resulting in mislabeling. Lane in the television program also referred to this mislabeling. This matter had been previously discovered and it had been previously established that the photographs of the frames and their numbers as furnished by the FBI Laboratory were correct, and the mislabeling in the Commission Report is apparently the result of a printing error.

"RUSH TO JUDGMENT"

by Mark Lane

Mark Lane, an attorney, is the author of a book entitled, "Rush to Judgment." He claims it is "A Critique of the Warren Commission's Inquiry into the Murders of President John F. Kennedy, Officer J. D. Tippit, and Lee Harvey Oswald." It is considered to be a cleverly contrived piece of literature designed to discredit the President's Commission and its findings.

The American public should not be led into a state of belief by what Lane has written, as with all his criticisms and suppositions he has not established that any individual other than Lee Harvey Oswald was responsible for the assassination of President Kennedy or that a conspiracy was involved to kill our late President. The President's Commission in its report, supported by the 26 volumes of testimony and exhibits, clearly defines the investigation conducted which led to its final conclusion.

Lane, in his book, has set forth numerous irresponsible and speculative claims. In essence, his book is the result of the approach he has been assuming since the early days of the Warren Commission's inquiries and prior to the published findings of the Commission, when he appeared publicly on numerous occasions both in the United States and abroad. (100-409763-Vols. 2 and 3)

Lane states in his book, "If the Commission covered itself with shame, it also reflected shame on the Federal Government. The readiness with which its findings were accepted I believe to have been symptomatic of disease." Considering the extensiveness of the Commission's inquiry, Lane's rationale for the use of "readiness" is in itself cancerous. (page 398) press dispatch dated April 5, 1964, at Budapest, reported that Mark Lane, an attorney from New York, appeared before the Congress of the International Association of Democratic Lawyers in Budapest, at which time he asked for the creation of an international commission to be entrusted with the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy. At this meeting he made various statements that the official theory of the assassination of the President was false. It is noted the International Association of Democratic Lawyers has been cited as an international communist-front organization in the "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. (100-409763-43)

The May 27, 1953, issue of the "Daily Worker" stated that the National Lawyers' Guild held an election of officers on May 26, 1953, and that Mark Lane was elected an ex officio member of the Board of Directors of the National Lawyers' Guild. The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast communist newspaper which is no longer published. The House Committee on Un-American Activities report number 3123, dated September 21, 1950, cited the National Lawyers' Guild as a communist-front, which "is the foremost legal bulwark of the Communist Party, its front organizations, . . ." (100-409763-19)

The December 18, 1961, edition of "The Militant" reported that on December 6, 1961, Lane spoke at a rally sponsored by the New York Council to Abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and said his first official action during the coming session of the New York State Legislature would be to persuade Congress to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It is noted Lane was elected to the New York State Assembly in 1960, and in May, 1962, was defeated in an attempt to secure the nomination as candidate for the United States Congress from the 19th Congressional District of New York. (100-409763-19)

"The Militant" is a weekly newspaper of the Socialist Workers Party, which party was cited as a "subversive and communist organization which seeks to alter the form of government of the United States" ("Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised December 1, 1961).

"Rush to Judgment"

The introduction to Lane's book was written by Hugh Trevor-Roper, a historian at Oxford University in England. He contended the whole Warren Commission Report was a series of conclusions based on carefully selected evidence and that the full body of evidence does not point necessarily to the Commission's conclusions. He stated criticism should take place before judgment and that, "If the Warren Commission had allowed Mark Lane to contest their evidence before judgment, there would have been no need of his book." Newspaper articles published in England revealed Hugh Trevor-Roper was a severe critic of the findings of the President's Commission and he was taken to task by close associates for his reasoning which was "marred by bias and blotted with inaccuracies." (62-109060-3948; 62-109090 A-1/4/65)

Lane sets forth in his book many statements and hypotheses which, under close scrutiny, are found to be inaccurate or willful distortions. For example, Lane states on Page 301, "The case against Lee Harvey Oswald was comprised essentially of evidence from two sources: Dallas police officers and Marina Oswald." The basis for such a statement is incomprehensible when reviewing the Commission's Report, the 26 volumes of hearings and exhibits, the preponderance of physical evidence, as well as interviews with hundreds of individuals, all of which contributed to the Commission's final conclusion.

In addition, one should closely examine the following statement made by Lane on Page 141 of his book: "The rules of evidence ordinarily require an intact chain of events before a physical exhibit -- such as a murder weapon -- may be associated with the defendant. The Commission failed to present evidence of such a chain linking Oswald to the Mannlicher-Carcano. The evidence presented actually raised doubts that he could have possibly come by the weapon in the fashion described by the Commission."

This is a completely irresponsible statement since the Commission's Report, beginning on Page 118, traces the rifle from Klein's Sporting Goods Company, Chicago, Illinois, to Oswald, that the printing on the face of the money order coupon ordering the gun was that of Oswald, that the post office box to which the rifle was shipped was rented by Oswald, and finally that Oswald's palm print was located on the rifle barrel. This was established through the testimony of expert witnesses.

"Rush to Judgment"

Lane again clouds the issue by contending on Page 65, that if the FBI report of December 9, 1963, was accurate, the Commission's explanation of the throat wound in President Kennedy was inaccurate, as is the Commission's finding that a bullet entered the back of the President's neck. This report revealed "Medical examination of the President's body revealed that one of the bullets had entered just below his shoulder to the right of the spinal column at an angle of 45 to 60 degrees downward, that there was no point of exit, and that the bullet was not in the body."

This statement was accurately reported. The report reflects that the information was orally furnished to Special Agents of the FBI who attended the autopsy performed on the President at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Maryland. Following the autopsy of the President the FBI received the President's clothing and an examination by the FBI Laboratory determined that a slit having the characteristics of an exit hole for a projectile was located in the front of the shirt worn by the President. This information was contained in a supplemental report prepared by the FBI, dated January 13, 1964.

Commander James J. Humes, one of the physicians who performed the autopsy on President Kennedy, subsequent to the conclusion of the autopsy examination, concluded a bullet had passed through the President. He believed that a tracheotomy had been performed on the President at Dallas, Texas, which might have obliterated the exit wound. On the following morning, November 23, 1963, he telephonically contacted Dr. Malcolm O. Perry at Dallas, who verified there was a missile wound in the front of the President's neck and this wound had been used as the point to make the incision for the tracheotomy. (Page 89 of the Commission Report)

During the early stages of the autopsy the surgeons were unable to find a path into any large muscle in the back of the neck. When the surgeons learned that a whole bullet had been found on a stretcher at the Parkland Hospital, this led to the speculation that the bullet might have penetrated a short distance into the neck and dropped out onto the stretcher as the result of external heart massage. Further exploration during the autopsy disproved that theory. The surgeons determined that the bullet had passed between two large strap muscles and bruised them without leaving any channel since the bullet merely passed between them. (Page 88 of the Commission Report)

"Rush to Judgment"

Howard L. Brennan was an eyewitness to the assassination who subsequently identified Lee Harvey Oswald. Lane has gone into great detail in order to discredit Brennan. The President's Commission set forth the testimony of Brennan, which appears on Pages 84 and 85 of the President's Commission Report. In addition, his verbatim testimony appears in Volume III, "Hearings Before the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy," Pages 161, and 164 through 183.

In this connection, Lane in attempting to support his theory of a conspiracy refers to the testimony of 15-year old Arnold Rowland. Lane, on Page 397 of his book, states, "Rowland's testimony should have been accepted and Brennan's rejected." Rowland claimed he observed a man with a rifle on the southwest corner, sixth floor, of the Texas School Depository Building and had also seen an elderly man "hanging out that window" on the southeast corner of the sixth floor. In commenting on Rowland's credibility, the Commission Report, on Page 251, states "The investigation showed that numerous statements by Rowland concerning matters about which he would not normally be expected to be mistaken -- such as subjects he studied in school, grades he received, whether or not he had graduated from high school, and whether or not he had been admitted to college -- were false."

Lane devotes an entire chapter (Page 114) to the initial identification of the murder weapon as being a German Mauser rather than an Italian carbine. He alludes to statements made to the press by Dallas authorities initially identifying the gun incorrectly and by inference he attempts to substantiate his theory of a conspiracy and that the Commission should have explored this discrepancy more thoroughly.

"Tush to Judgment"

Actually, the Commission conducted extensive inquiries into this phase of the investigation. Deputy Constable Seymour Weitzman, one of the first officers to observe the weapon, testified on April 1, 1964, in Dallas, Texas. His testimony is revealed in Volume VII, Pages 105 through 109 of the "Hearings Before the President's Commission." Deputy Weitzman was questioned by Mr. Joseph A. Ball, Assistant Counsel of the President's Commission. On Page 108, Mr. Ball asked Deputy Weitzman, "In the statement that you made to the Dallas Police Department that afternoon, you referred to the rifle as a 7.65 Mauser bolt action?" Deputy Weitzman replied, "In a glance, that's what it looked like." Mr. Ball then asked, "That's what it looked like - did you say that or someone else say that?" To which Mr. Weitzman replied, "No; I said that. I thought it was one." (a Mauser)

The Italian carbine was conclusively established as the murder weapon by experts who examined the bullet found on the stretcher at Parkland Hospital and that the three cartridge cases found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Depository Building were fired from the rifle. (Pages 18, 19, 84 and 85 of the Commission Report)

Lane on Page 44 states there is some evidence to "suggest" that one or more shots may have been fired from the Book Depository as the Warren Commission maintained, but "it is considerably less compelling than the evidence suggesting that shots came from behind the fence." He was referring to the fence located on a grassy knoll near the triple overpass. Lane continued by saying, "To contend, however, that shots came from the knoll is not to say that no shots were fired from elsewhere. But it is impossible to contend at one and the same time that some shots came from the fence and that a lone assassin -- Oswald -- fired from the Book Depository window. As the Commission was to remain faithful to the latter conclusion, it had first to prove that no shots came from the knoll. In attempting to do so, the Report cited evidence out of context, ignored and reshaped evidence and - which is perhaps worse -- oversimplified evidence."

With reference to the above contention of Lane the Commission Report specifically states that "In contrast to the testimony of the witnesses who heard and observed shots fired from the Depository, the Commission's investigation has disclosed no credible evidence that any shots were fired from anywhere else."

Mr. Charles Simms, Office of Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, called today and advised that the legal action pending with respect to the rifle used by Oswald, as well as the revolver used by Oswald in shooting police Officer Tippit, has been disposed of. He advised that in view of this it would now be permissible to transfer the two weapons from the Bureau to National Archives in accordance with previous correspondence with the Department.

Mr. Simms was requested to furnish the Bureau a letter setting forth the action taken relative to this matter and to put a statement in the letter that the Bureau now has the necessary authorization to transfer these weapons to Archives.

ACTION:

(1) In view of the foregoing, when the letter is received from the Department, giving the Bureau the necessary authorization, the Dallas Office should be requested to ship the two guns referred to above, as well as the holster for the Tippit murder weapon, to the Bureau so they can be transferred to Archives.

(2) Upon receipt of the weapons from Dallas the Laboratory, which has handled the transfer of all exhibits to Archives, will make the necessary arrangements for transfer of the weapons to Archives.

instance when questioned further, that his opinion and feelings were based upon his "research" and that this "research" was in the form of the documents that he had made available to Congressman DON FUQUA of Florida.

During the interview of COOPER, he stated that he had been a candidate for the position of Sheriff in East Baton Rouge Parish, Louisiana in 1959 and 1963 and that his opponent on each occasion was the incumbent, Sheriff BRYAN CLEMMONS. He stated that the reason he moved from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, in the fall of 1965 to Florida was because of the fact that every time he got a job CLEMMONS would have him fired. He stated that he was never told this by anyone, but that he felt since he opposed CLEMMONS in the two elections, CLEMMONS was out to get him.

COOPER stated that he has been doing "research" into the assassination of President KENNEDY since about December, 1963, and that he had not completed this "research" when he left Baton Rouge for Florida in the fall of 1965. He stated that when he met Congressman FUQUA in Florida, he felt that his "research" had progressed to such a point that he had to advise someone.

It is noted that during the interview COOPER appeared to be highly nervous and was concerned about being seen with the interviewing agent.

William H. Cooper, 620 Wiltz Drive, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, advised on October 31, 1966, that he did not have any specific information regarding Lee Harvey Oswald being a part of a conspiracy to assassinate the late President John F. Kennedy. He stated that he had been doing "research" into the assassination and he thought "some stuff just didn't look right." Cooper stated that he "felt" that Herman G. Engelhardt, J. Russell Dorron, Bryan Clemmons, and James Wihfree, were part of a conspiracy involved in the assassination of the late President Kennedy. He stated that he also believed that Edward G. Partin was also involved. He stated that his reason for thinking and feeling this way was that he believed the above persons felt that President Kennedy was usurping the police powers of the State of Louisiana, and was also usurping the power of the United States Navy through Secretary McNamara.

He pointed out that all of the above individuals with the exception of Partin were guests on the USS Shangri-La CVA-38, in August of 1963. In addition to these four, he stated that Clinton Dowling, J. Harper Erwin, Jr., Adolph Vermont, Jr., William E. Carver, Jr., and Ben A. Miller were on this guest cruise. He stated that he had been unable to identify Vermont and Carver, and he felt that they might be some high ranking naval officers who wanted to conceal their identities. He stated that he felt that the assassination was planned by this group during this cruise and pointed out that in August of 1963 Lee Harvey Oswald was receiving front-page publicity in the New Orleans newspapers. He stated that he knew that Bryan Clemmons was in New Orleans on August 19, 1963 and that Oswald was also in New Orleans on that date. He stated he had no proof that Clemmons contacted Oswald on that date, but felt it was an odd coincidence that they were both in New Orleans on the same day. Cooper stated that the guest cruise on the Shangri-La had been arranged by Herman Engelhardt, who is head of the Navy League in Baton Rouge. He stated that his "research" had showed that Engelhardt worked with Oswald's father a number of years ago. He stated that Fred Croth, who he described as an ex-secretary of the Navy, was fired by Kennedy and that Croth and Engelhardt were employed in the same "company group."

Cooper stated that another thing that lead him to believe the above group was in on the assassination of President Kennedy was that two or three people closely associated with Sheriff Clemmons were in on the assassination of Senator Huey Long. He stated that the Warren Commission Report pointed out that Oswald had read a book on the assassination of Senator Huey Long, and he thought that this was more than coincidental.

Cooper stated that another coincidence was that Sheriff Clemmons is a good friend of Sheriff Decker of Dallas, Texas, and Sheriff Decker's jail is the one in which Oswald was killed.

Cooper stated that even though Edward G. Partin was not on the guest cruise on the Shangri-La, he knew that Partin had purchased a rifle in April, 1963, similar to the one that was used to assassinate President Kennedy.

Cooper stated that for these reasons he felt that the persons he had named were involved in a conspiracy to assassinate the late President Kennedy. He stated that he had no specific allegations other than the ones that he has mentioned regarding this matter.

Transfer of rifle and pistol involved in the assassination of President Kennedy to the National Archives

By a memorandum of August 19, 1966, the Attorney General authorized you to transfer to the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration all evidence and exhibits involved in the investigation conducted by the Warren Commission, except for the rifle and pistol which were subject to litigation in the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit (John J. King v. United States, decided July 29, 1966).

That memorandum also authorized you to transfer the rifle and pistol to the National Archives when the forfeiture litigation terminated or when title to those items was vested in the United States pursuant to Public Law 89-318.

Title to those items has been vested in the United States pursuant to Public Law 89-318 (See Part II of the Federal Register of November 1, 1966, page 13965, et seq.). Furthermore, the Solicitor General, in conformity with recommendations from the Criminal Division and this Office, decided not to appeal the adverse decision of the Fifth Circuit and time for any such appeal has expired. This, in effect, terminated the litigation.

Accordingly, in conformity with the Attorney General's memorandum of August 19, 1966, it is requested that you arrange for prompt transfer of the rifle and pistol to the National Archives

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

PURPOSE:

The Department, by letter dated 11/3/66, authorized transfer of assassination rifle and revolver used by Oswald to kill Police Officer J. D. Tippit to National Archives. These items were in possession of our Dallas Office pending disposition of court action as to ownership of these items.

BACKGROUND:

By memorandum dated 8/19/66, the Attorney General authorized the Bureau to transfer to National Archives all exhibits and evidence in the Bureau's possession relating to the assassination of President Kennedy, with the exception of the rifle and revolver. This has been done.

By letter dated 11/3/66, the Department authorized the Bureau to transfer to National Archives the assassination rifle and revolver (no mention made of the holster) used by Oswald to kill Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit. These items were previously shipped to the Dallas Office upon instructions of the Department in connection with a suit instituted by John J. King, a Colorado oilman. King paid Oswald's widow, Mrs. Marina Oswald Porter, $10,000 for these items and agreed to pay an additional $35,000 when he obtained possession.

Hearing held U. S. Federal Court, Dallas, Texas, and Judge Estes decided the guns were rightfully the property of U. S. Government. King appealed this decision to the 5th Circuit Court and, according to the Department's letter 11/3/66, the adverse decision of the 5th Circuit was not going to be appealed and since time for such an appeal has expired, the Department states this, in effect, terminated the litigation. The Department indicates that the title to these items was vested in the United States pursuant to Public Law 89-318. The Federal Register for 11/1/66, specifically lists the rifle and pistol as coming within Public Law 89-318. No reference is made to the holster; however, the Acting Attorney General's order specifies that all other items of evidence which were assigned exhibit numbers by the Commission would be included. The holster was given Commission Exhibit Number C-144.

Upon Bureau instructions, the Dallas Office shipped the rifle, pistol and holster to the Bureau and these items were received on 11/5/66, and are presently in the possession of our Laboratory. It is noted that in the Department's letter of 11/3/66, it neglected to mention the holster; however, this item is being transferred to the National Archives along with the assassination rifle and revolver.

ACTION:

A memorandum transferring these items to Archives is being prepared by the Laboratory, and, thereafter, the Department will be advised of the action taken.

The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend that the Crime Records Division contact Congressman Don Fuqua of Florida and inform Congressman Fuqua that interview of William H. Cooper by Special Agents of this Bureau revealed that Cooper possesses no factual information indicating Lee Harvey Oswald was involved in a conspiracy with several individuals in the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy.

BACKGROUND:

In memorandum Branigan to Sullivan dated 10/31/66 it was reported that Congressman Don Fuqua of Florida made available to a Special Agent of the Washington Field Office data Congressman Fuqua had received from Mr. William H. Cooper of New Orleans, Louisiana, indicating Oswald was involved in a conspiracy with several individuals in the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. The data made available by Congressman Fuqua revealed that Cooper claimed Oswald was involved with five other individuals in a plot to assassinate President Kennedy. The conspirators allegedly met in August, 1963, on a United States aircraft carrier, "U.S.S. Shangri-La." Cooper named the conspirators as Herman G. Engelhardt, J. Russell Dorron, Bryan Clemmons, James Winfree, and Edward G. Partin.

Bureau files contain no information identifiable with Engelhardt, Dorron or Winfree. Bryan Clemmons is a sheriff in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, who has held several responsible positions as a graduate of the FBI National Academy. Our relations with Clemmons have been excellent. Partin was formerly Secretary-Treasurer of Teamsters Local Five, Baton Rouge, and was the principal Government witness against James Riddle Hoffa when Hoffa was convicted on charges of Obstruction of Justice on 3/4/64 at Chattanooga, Tennessee.

62-113 REC-57 5511

Congressman Fuqua indicated he was concerned over Cooper's allegations and requested that a representative of the FBI contact Cooper in this matter.

DATA IN FBI FILES RE COOPER

William H. Cooper was [redacted]

At no time during our contacts with Cooper [redacted] did he ever make any allegations in connection with the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy or concerning Lee Harvey Oswald. At no time during our intensive investigation of Oswald or of the assassination of the late President Kennedy did Cooper or any of the other individuals mentioned herein as conspirators behind the assassination come to our attention as possessing information of value to the assassination.

INTERVIEW OF COOPER

By airtel 11/2/66 the New Orleans Office reported results of its interview with Cooper in this matter. Cooper informed the New Orleans Office that he had no specific information showing Oswald was part of a conspiracy to assassinate the late President Kennedy. He stated he had been doing "research" into the assassination and he thought "some stuff just didn't look right." He possessed no information indicating Oswald had any personal contact or acquaintance with the five other individuals named as conspirators but he believed these people were involved in the assassination since they felt President Kennedy was usurping the police powers of the State of Louisiana and was also usurping the power of the United States Navy through the Secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara.

During interview of Cooper by the New Orleans Office on 10/31/66, he indicated that he had opposed Sheriff Bryan Clemmons for election on two occasions for the position of sheriff. He also stated that he lost both elections and thereafter felt that every time he got a job, Sheriff Clemmons would have him fired. He stated he felt Sheriff Clemmons was out to get him.

Cooper also stated he had been doing "research" into the assassination of President Kennedy since December, 1963, and has continued his "research" up to this time. He stated that when he recently met Congressman Fuqua in Florida, he felt that his "research" had progressed to such a point that he had to advise someone.

During our interview with Cooper on 10/31/66, he appeared to be highly nervous and was concerned about being seen with the interviewing FBI Agent.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of Congressman Fuqua's interest in Cooper's allegations, it is recommended that the Crime Records Division contact Congressman Fuqua and inform him that we have interviewed Cooper in connection with his allegations surrounding the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. Crime Records Division should inform Congressman Fuqua that Cooper was unable to produce any specific basis for the allegations he has made and he admitted these allegations were either his opinion or he felt they were true. Crime Records Division should also inform Congressman Fuqua that this Bureau's intensive investigation of the assassination produced no evidence that anyone else was involved with Lee Harvey Oswald in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

TO : Mr. Conrad

DATE: 11/8/66

FROM : R. H. Jevons

SUBJECT: WARREN COMMISSION EXHIBITS

In my memorandum of 11/3/66, I reported a telephone call from Mr. Marion Johnson of the National Archives and Records Service. He advised of an inquiry from Harold Weisberg, author of "Whitewash: The Report on the Warren Report" concerning information pertaining to spectrographic examinations in our FBI reports. In view of Weisberg's suspected Communist background, it was recommended that Johnson be advised that the FBI could not be of assistance to Weisberg in this matter. The Director noted "O. K. I assume we have given all exhibits & evidence to the Archives as previously directed by A. G."

Pursuant to Bureau approval, Johnson was advised that the FBI could not be of assistance to Weisberg in this matter.

With regard to the Director's comment concerning transfer of evidence and exhibits to Archives, further reference is made to Mr. Rosen's memorandum of 11-7-66 advising of the prior transfer of available material to Archives and the fact that the assassination rifle together with Oswald's pistol and associated holster had been held in Dallas at the Department's instructions pending adjudication of title, and pending receipt of the instant authorization for release. The Director instructed that all such items should be transferred to Archives at once.

This is to advise that immediately following initial receipt of Mr. Rosen's memorandum and the Departmental authorization attached thereto for transfer of the remaining items, Laboratory representatives telephonically contacted Mr. Johnson of Archives to arrange for the transfer at the earliest possible date. Johnson subsequently called back to advise that he could receive this material on 11-8-66. Accordingly, the assassination rifle, Oswald's pistol, and its associated holster were personally delivered to Mr. Johnson on 11-8-66, and an appropriate signed receipt was obtained therefor.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN F. KENNEDY
INFORMATION CONCERNING

On 11/15/66, RUSSEL ALLEN, white male, age 65, 143 West Van Buren, Apartment 301, Battle Creek, Michigan, appeared at the Battle Creek Resident Agency and advised SA WILLIAM F. MORAN as follows:

ALLEN advised that the information which he was furnishing at this time had come to his attention approximately 18 months prior to this date. He advised that he was furnishing the information at this time because of the recent publicity given to the assassination of President KENNEDY and the subsequent Warren Report. He advised that the information had come to him through a letter written by Mrs. WILLIAM (DELPHIA) ALLEN who is the wife of his brother, WILLIAM ALLEN, who resides at 1019 West Wheatland Road, Apartment 117, Dallas, Texas. ALLEN advised that his brother's father-in-law, JACK TOBIAS, manages an apartmenthouse in Dallas and that LEE HARVEY OSWALD and his wife and child resided at this apartment house prior to President KENNEDY's assassination. ALLEN continued that this letter had been written to either MELVIN or DAVID ALLEN, his brothers, who reside at Battle Creek, Michigan, and that the letter was passed on to him. ALLEN continued that in her letter Mrs. ALLEN had stated that she had learned from Mrs. JACK TOBIAS that shortly before the assassination, OSWALD had abandoned his wife and child at the apartment house and had left them with no money or food. Two or three days after this Mrs. OSWALD had used the public telephone in the hallway of the apartment house and had called someone to come and get her and the baby. On the same day a male individual came to the apartment house and moved OSWALD and the baby together with their personal belongings. Mrs. TOBIAS had stated that she had gotten a good look at this individual and later after the assassination when she saw JACK RUBY's picture in the newspapers she stated that she believed that the person who had moved Mrs. OSWALD earlier was identical to RUBY. ALLEN also advised that this letter had also stated that Mrs. TOBIAS had claimed that she knew nother things which she had not told to the FBI when she was interviewed. ALLEN advised that the letter had either been misplaced or destroyed and that he would make an attempt to determine if it could be located. ALLEN stated that because of this he was of the opinion that RUBY and OSWALD had known one another prior to the assassination of President KENNEDY.

On 11/23/66, LEO SAVAGE, Box 367, Joaquin, Texas, telephone COngress 9-2421, telephonically advised SA THURMAN P. KELLEY at Shreveport, Louisiana, that a short time before the assassination of President KENNEDY, he, SAVAGE, was with LEE HARVEY OSWALD, JOE SMITH, and NICK KEOULMAN at Corpus Christi, Texas. He stated that OSWALD, SMITH, and KEOULMAN planned to go to Moscow, that they were all acquainted with JACK RUBY; JOE SMITH is the son of J. W. SMITH of Robstown, Texas, and formerly of Brownsville, Texas.

SAVAGE said he had talked to FBI Agents in Houston shortly after the assassination but possibly has additional information of value as he has been studying "personality behavior" and as he has seen in the paper that the case may be re-opened.

As noted above, SAVAGE has talked to FBI and, therefore, no recommendation is being made as to whether or not he should be contacted, this being left to the discretion of the Bureau or the office of origin.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INFORMATION CONCERNING

At 2:02 p.m. today Bertram Worthington, Duty Agent of the San Francisco Office, telephonically advised Weekend Duty Supervisor R. H. Horner as follows:

The San Francisco Police Department had received a call from an individual who had appeared to be drunk but who nevertheless reported he had a girl friend, one Frances Hise, who had told him she knew for a fact that Lee Harvey Oswald had known Jack Ruby prior to the assassination of President Kennedy. Worthington stated that according to the police Hise had made this remark as a result of the Director's statement to the press on 11/25/66 (concerning the investigation conducted following the death of President Kennedy).

Worthington stated the San Francisco Police on interview of Hise, had adjudged her to be an alcoholic. She told the Police Department, however, that while sitting at a bar in Dallas on 10/23/63 (a month prior to the assassination) she had seen Oswald and Ruby drinking together.

Worthington inquired as to whether San Francisco should conduct additional investigation of Hise in view of the information furnished by the San Francisco Police Department to the effect that Hise was an alcoholic.

Worthington was advised that all information obtained from Hise by the San Francisco Police should be obtained from that Department and furnished to the Bureau in form suitable for dissemination.

ACTION:

None, for information. Upon receipt of report from San Francisco Office, consideration will be given to interviewing Hise in this matter if it appears she possesses information of value.

Honorable Marvin Watson
Special Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Watson:

With reference to the inquiry of Mr. Hayes Redmon on November 29, 1966, concerning the identity of the former FBI Agent who allegedly placed flowers on the grave of Lee Harvey Oswald, the following is submitted:

Inquiry at Fort Worth, Texas, revealed that Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, was aware flowers were being delivered to be placed on her son's grave and that there had been a typewritten note accompanying the flowers signed "Junior." It was determined flowers were delivered on Thanksgiving Day for Oswald's grave and a typewritten note signed "Junior" was attached. A United Press International news release datelined at Los Angeles was received in Dallas, Texas, stating Harry Dean, thirty-eight years of age, had advised he was responsible for sending the flowers and had a note typed by the florist signed "Junior." He also stated he was an undercover man for the FBI and had used the code word "Junior." This Bureau has never had an Agent by the name of Harry Dean in its employ.

EX-113 REC-138 105-125517-5517

Harry J. Dean presently resides in Alhambra, California, previously lived in Chicago, Illinois, and in the early 1960's gratuitously furnished some information concerning the organization known as the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

DEC 1 1966

As a result of a background check showing mental instability, Dean was requested to discontinue his telephonic contacts with our Chicago Office as his assistance was not desired. Subsequently, in 1963 and on frequent occasions since that time, it has been necessary for Agents of our Los Angeles Office to locate Dean and request him to desist from making statements that he was connected in any way with the FBI.

Concerning the handling of Oswald by the State Department, it is noted this matter has been thoroughly looked into and was the subject of a memorandum from Sullivan to Belmont dated October 4, 1964, copy attached.

In addition to the information set forth in the October 4, 1964 memorandum, the Warren Commission report, on pages 26 and 27, makes the following comment: "The Commission has examined the Department of State's handling of the Oswald matters and finds that it followed the law throughout."

There is also attached for information an article from the Washington Post dated October 4, 1964.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the foregoing it is not believed any reference should be made in the proposed statement to the handling of Oswald by the State Department.

"How intensive or how extensive that interview in Moscow was I don't know. But, nevertheless, it was in a State Department document that was furnished to us."

Basis of Director's Testimony

The Director's testimony before the President's Commission wherein he testified that "the report of the State Department that indicated this man was a thoroughly safe risk" appears to have been based upon data we had received from the State Department during the course of our investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald. This data was contained in a foreign service dispatch from the American Embassy to the Department of State, Washington, D. C., dispatch No. 29, dated July 11, 1961. This dispatch set forth a summary of Lee Harvey Oswald's visit to the American Embassy in Moscow on July 8, 1961, wherein he requested to return to the United States with his wife. This dispatch sets forth the following paragraph relating to Oswald as noted by the American Embassy interviewing official, Mr. Snyder.

"Twenty months of the realities of life in the Soviet Union have clearly had a maturing effect on Oswald. He stated frankly that he had learned a hard lesson the hard way and that he had been completely relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union at the same time that he acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the United States and the meaning of freedom. Much of the arrogance and bravado which characterized him on his first visit to the Embassy appears to have left him. He stated that he is in contact with his mother and a brother in the United States. He stated that he had about 200 rubles and that he and his wife would save more for eventual costs of traveling to the United States."

State Department records reflect that Oswald executed an application for renewal of his United States passport on May 24, 1962, and such passport was renewed "valid only for direct return to the United States." Oswald was also given a loan in the sum of $435.71 to finance the transportation of he, his wife and child to the United States.

Analysis

The Director in his testimony before the Commission did not quote from a State Department document when he testified that the report of the State Department "indicated this man was a thoroughly safe risk, he had changed his views, he was a loyal man now and had seen the light of day, so to speak." The Director was summarizing for the Commission the data that appeared in the State Department memorandum prepared by Mr. Snyder mentioned above. Anyone reading

 CONTINUED - OVER

Mr. Snyder's comments would arrive at the conclusion that Oswald was a thoroughly safe risk and certainly did not pose a threat to the President of the United States. In addition, it must be noted that the State Department renewed Oswald's passport for return to the United States and gave him a loan for his transportation. Obviously State Department would not have taken such action if it considered Oswald any type of risk.

This is further borne out by the fact that when Oswald requested a new passport for travel abroad on June 24, 1963, wherein he indicated he planned to stay abroad for from three months to one year and to visit England, France, Germany, Holland, Russia, Finland, Italy and Poland, State Department saw fit to issue him a passport for such travel on the following day, June 25, 1963. Obviously State Department did not consider Oswald a risk in issuing him a passport on this occasion.

Hoover Claim Oswald Was Called A Safe Risk Makes State Cry 'Foul'

The State Department believes it has been hit below the belt by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's contention that it had concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald was "a thoroughly safe risk."

Officials of the Department said Friday night that they could find no reports or documents to support that statement by the chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The Department did make available to newsmen a 1961 and a 1962 document on Oswald, who stands accused of assassinating President Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963.

One document, from the American Embassy in Moscow, appears to be the one to which Hoover referred when he testified before the Warren Commission last May 14. But the document says nothing that indicates that Oswald was "a thoroughly safe risk," or a "loyal man," nor does it give him "a clean bill," as Hoover said a State Department report concluded.

One State Department source said it was "undignified" for two departments of Government to be thrown into public dispute in the way they were when Hoover's accusation was prematurely made public on Friday.

A widespread view in official Washington yesterday was that Hoover authorized advance disclosure of his testimony before the Warren Commission, to try to offset criticism of the FBI. The Commission report said that the FBI had taken "an unduly restrictive view of its role in preventive intelligence work" prior to the President's assassination.

The Embassy report to the State Department, to which Hoover seemed to be referring, was a 2½-page document dated July 11, 1961. It was signed by Boris H. Klosson, American counselor for political affairs in Moscow. It said in part:

"Twenty months of the realities of life in the Soviet Union have clearly had a maturing effect on Oswald. He stated frankly that he had learned a hard lesson the hard way and that he had been completely relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union at the same time that understanding and appreciation of the United States and the meaning of freedom.

"Much of the arrogance and bravado which characterized him on his first visit to the Embassy appears to have left him.

Oswald, at that time, had come to the Embassy asking help to return to the United States. In 1959, soon after he arrived in the Soviet Union, he had gone to the Embassy and said he wanted to renounce his citizenship. The Embassy, under its normal cautionary procedures, suggested he think over his intention. Oswald never followed through on the renunciation. Hoover, in his recent testimony, said he personally feels that such people should be able to renounce their citizenship "at once."

A State Department document from Washington dated March 16, 1962, said the Office of Soviet Union Affairs believed it was in the interest of the United States to give Oswald, his wife, and their child opportunity to return to the United States.

To refuse to do so, the memorandum said, could "weaken" efforts by the United States to get the Soviets to allow Russian relatives of American citizens to leave the Soviet Union. That report, however, far from "clearing" Oswald in any way, referred to him as "an unstable character, whose actions are entirely unpredictable."

ENCLOSURE

TRUE COPY

November 14, 1966

To: Mr. J. Edgar Hoover,

Dear Sir,

It seems that a great injustice has been done to you and the F. B. I agents in regards to the investigation made in the assassination of the late President Kennedy.

After reading and evaluating thoroughly the circumstances of his death, with material, such as, "Inquest" by Edward Jay Epstein & etc. I firmly believe that the F. B. I. was not allowed to complete their investigation because of the time element and authority taken away from your office and given to the Warren Commission.

The Warren Commission should have been given the authority only (as per ethics of judges and lawyers) to evaluate the investigation made by your office. The F. B. I. is a trained organization in the investigating field and the Warren Commission is not. When one part of the team is trained (The F. B. I.) and the other part is not trained (the Warren Commission) in the field of investigation, then there can never be a true and accurate account presented. There is too much overlapping of jurisdiction to contend with, also.

The issues at the present time should not be who is right or wrong (The F. B. I or the Warren Commission) nor on the methods taken either, or any legal red tape but to solve a problem of most importance.

First, the authority to investigate further evidence should be returned to your office.

Second, based upon your further investigation, the Warren Commission should be reopened to evaluate your office's investigation.

I believe strongly that Jack Ruby was the accomplice that fired approx. three shots at the same time Oswald was firing from the 6th floor of the Depository Bldg.

NOT RECORDED
199 NOV 23 1966

I believe Jack Ruby to be located within range to the President's car, close to Zupruder's film frome number 313, and fired approx - three shots with the same gun he shot Oswald with later, Only he had a silencer on the gun at the time he shot at the President's car.

Oswald was a decoy for Jack Ruby.

Where was Jack Ruby at the time President Kennedy, et all, were shot at?

Was a test ever made of Ruby's gun in which he shot Oswald with: (a) in connection with the fragments found in the President's car? (b) for markings of a silencer? (c) has he ever been questioned in connection with President Kennedy's assassination and was he ever questioned about owning a silencer?

Ruby shot Oswald, probably with the thought it is better to be tried for killing an assassin than for being an accomplice of an assassin.

The first shot from the 6th floor of the Depository Bldg. hit President Kennedy in the back. The next two shots went wild, one hitting the car (a fragment may have hit Connally's wrist) the other hit the curb (which ricoheted at James Tague, the innocent by stander).

The other shots from Jack Ruby's gun, with silencer, one hit President Kennedy in the throat & went clear through the back of the head, the other shots hit Connally.

Oswald, on the 6th floor was a diversionary method for Ruby who got away without being noticed.

I am hoping that the aforementioned information, which I am submitting to you to use as you see fit, will be accepted only on the sole purpose of it coming from a sincere citizen doing her duty in the best interest of her country.

Most sincerely,

November 25, 1966

On November 21, 1966, Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, received a letter from a newsman expressing concern over the rash of books, articles and statements which are "creating confusion and doubts about the validity of the findings of the Warren Commission regarding the assassination of President Kennedy." The newsman said that one of the "conflicts" concerned the alleged variance of the results of the medical examination of the President's body, recorded in FBI reports dated December 9, 1963, and January 13, 1964, and the official autopsy report.

The newsman said he would appreciate any comment Mr. Hoover would make concerning these matters.

The newsman requested that Mr. Hoover prepare a statement regarding the alleged conflict between information reported by the FBI and the autopsy report.

By letter dated November 23, 1966, to the newsman, Mr. Hoover said he shared the concern of the newsman regarding the criticisms of the Warren Commission's findings. He pointed out that while the critics had every right to state their views, they "should show more regard for the facts on record. They have ignored certain facts, misinterpreted others, and expressed pure speculation as truth."

ENCLOSURE

Mr. Hoover sent the newsman the attached statement and stated, "I am speaking only for the FBI, not for any other agency or group involved in any phase of the inquiry into the assassination of President Kennedy."

Enclosure

November 23, 1966

The Warren Commission and its findings concerning the assassination of President Kennedy currently are being severely criticized. The conclusions of the Commission, especially its conclusion that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination, have been openly challenged.

In support of their speculations, some of the critics allege, among other things, that there is a "conflict" between portions of two FBI reports and the official autopsy report regarding the wounds found in the President's body.

While there is a difference in the information reported by the FBI and the information contained in the autopsy report concerning the wounds, there is no conflict. The FBI reports record oral statements made by autopsy physicians while the examination was being conducted and before all facts were known. The autopsy report records the final findings of the examination.

Briefly, this is what happened. The autopsy was conducted at Bethesda Naval Hospital on the evening of November 22, 1963. Two 105-125

ENCLOSURE

FBI Agents were present. They reported that Dr. James J. Humes, chief autopsy surgeon, located what appeared to be a bullet hole in the back below the shoulder and probed it to the end of the opening with a finger. The examining physicians were unable to explain why they could find no bullet or point of exit.

Unknown to the Agents, the physicians eventually were able to trace the path of the bullet through the body. On the morning of November 23, 1963, Dr. Humes contacted doctors who treated the President at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Texas, the previous day and confirmed his assumption that a tracheotomy had been performed using a bullet hole in the front of the neck as the point of incision.

The information reported by the Agents present during the autopsy was summarized on page 16 of the FBI report dated December 9, 1963. Meanwhile, the clothing worn by the President when he was shot was examined in the FBI Laboratory. This examination revealed a small hole in the back of his coat and shirt and a slit characteristic of an exit hole for a projectile in the front of the shirt one inch below the collar button. A nick on the left side of the tie knot, possibly caused by the same projectile which passed through the shirt, also was noted.

These findings clearly indicated the examining physician's early observation that the bullet penetrated only a short distance into the President's back probably was in error. Since this observation had been included in the FBI report of December 9, 1963, another reference was made to it in the report of January 13, 1964, in conjunction with the Laboratory findings to point up this probability.

The FBI and the Warren Commission each received a copy of the official autopsy report on December 23, 1963, from Secret Service following a specific request for this document. Since the FBI knew the Commission had a copy of the official autopsy, its contents were not repeated in an FBI report.

Recently the charge has been made that the FBI altered the film of the assassination taken by Abraham Zapruder. This is totally false. The FBI never had the original Zapruder film in its possession--it was purchased by a national magazine. The FBI obtained a copy of the original uncut film and reproduced this for the Commission which since has turned it over to National Archives.

At the direction of President Johnson, the FBI conducted a prompt, intensive, objective [illegible] investigation of the assassination. The results of this investigation were accurately reported to the Warren Commission. Not one shred of evidence has been developed to link any other person in a conspiracy with Oswald to assassinate President Kennedy. All available evidence and facts point to one conclusion--that Oswald acted alone in his crime.

SUBJECT: ROBERT BENJAMIN SMITH - MURDER

For your information we are in receipt of a current request for examination of some evidence from the Police Department, Mesa, Arizona, in the murder case involving the subject, 18 years old, who is suspected of the mass murder of five people at a beauty college and the wounding of two others. The evidence consists of two cards contained in subject's wallet, one bearing the typewritten name "Alek James Hidell" and the other being a photograph of a "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" card bearing the signature "V.T. Lee." There are obvious alterations of this photograph and it appears that Smith's typewritten name and handwritten signature have been superimposed over the partially eradicated name of Lee H. Oswald. The Mesa Police Department asks that we attempt to verify the name Lee H. Oswald is the partially eradicated name underneath the subject's name as it now appears on the photograph.

For your information the 2/21/64 issue of Life Magazine on page 78 carries a reproduction of a photograph of Oswald handing out leaflets and a reproduction of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee card bearing his typed name and written signature underneath.* From the imperfections and individual characteristics observable in the photograph submitted by the Mesa, Arizona, Police Department it was almost certainly made directly or indirectly from the Life Magazine reproduction appearing in the 2/21/64 issue. A Xerox copy of the current evidence in question and of the page from Life Magazine referred to is attached.

In view of the notoriety surrounding the mass murder with which Smith is charged, this matter is receiving immediate attention and a Laboratory report will be submitted without delay.

Re: Robert Benjamin Smith - Suspect
Case 66-10545 Murder

Dear Sir:

On November 12, 1966, at approximately 8 a.m., we had a mass murder at a beauty college where seven people were shot killing five. These people were all shot in the head. An 18 year old suspect, Robert Benjamin Smith, WMA, DOB 2/10/48, was arrested and is awaiting trial. This man's father is a retired Major Robert L. Smith, HQUSAINTC & Fort Holabird, MD.

In Robert Benjamin Smith's wallet we found a card with the following:

Item #1--Fair Play for Cuba Committee. It appears that he has altered the signature, and underneath his own signature it appears to be the name Lee H. Oswald. Will you please check this.

Item #2--Card has the name of Alek James Hidell. Please check your files on this name or any other information you may be able to give us.

On November 14, we sent to your lab other evidence in reference to this same case.

Thank you for your assistance.

Very truly yours,

Flowers Placed On Oswald Grave

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—A yellow chrysanthemum bouquet graced the grave of Lee Harvey Oswald Friday. On it was the message, "He has left all the world confused."

Oswald was the man named as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy. Oswald himself was slain in Dallas Nov. 24, 1963, two days after Kennedy's death.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, his mother, said the flowers were put on Oswald's grave Thursday by "a former FBI man," whom she would not identify. She said he sent a bouquet last year also.

Some 600 persons visited Oswald's grave Thursday.

The note with the flowers said, neatly typed, "Lee Harvey Oswald. Did he assassinate the President? Was he truthfully accused? Guilty, Yes? Or was he innocent? He has left all the world confused. (Signed) Junior."

INFORMATIVE NOTE

Date 11/29/66

San Antonio has advised that the radio program referred to in attached involves interviews of usually controversial figures and is designed to be provocative in nature. Mrs. Marguerite Oswald is typical of the individuals appearing on the program.

Allen Dale, who conducts the radio program, will later have Mrs. Oswald on a local news program on television in the evening.

Although Mrs. Oswald has demonstrated by her actions and statements that she may be mentally unbalanced, the San Antonio Office has been instructed to monitor the radio and television shows mentioned in attached and furnish the Bureau pertinent information. The program will be broadcast on 11/30/66.

Hundreds Visit Gravesite On Oswald Anniversary

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 25 (AP)—A note attached to a large bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums on the grave of Lee Harvey Oswald said "... He has left all the world confused."

Hundreds of visitors filed by the grave in the Rosehill Cemetery yesterday on the third anniversary of the day that Oswald, named by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President Kennedy, was shot to death by Jack Ruby, Dallas night club operator.

The neatly typewritten note on the flowers read: "Lee Harvey Oswald. Did he assassinate the President? Was he truthfully accused? Guilty, yes? Or was he innocent? He has left all the world confused."

In a 3-hour period on Thanksgiving Day, more than 600 persons visited the grave.

Some stood, looked and said nothing. But others were quick to voice their opinions of the Warren Commission report and recent demands that the investigation of the assassination at Dallas Nov. 22, 1963, be reopened.

Some said they thought the investigation should be reopened. Others said they were satisfied with the conclusion of the Warren Commission report that Oswald acted alone.

In the crowd were two Catholic nuns. Asked why they came, one replied:

"I came to get a reflection in the heart that it doesn't pay to do something wrong and to say a prayer for Lee Harvey Oswald."

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

ALLEGATION FORMER FBI AGENT PLACES FLOWERS ON GRAVE OF LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. Hayes Redmon at the White House telephonically advised Mr. DeLoach today that the President desired to be advised of the identity of the former FBI Agent who had allegedly placed flowers on the grave of Lee Harvey Oswald. No former Agent involved.

It is noted a United Press International release dated 11/26/66 at Fort Worth, Texas, commented on this, stating that flowers on Oswald's grave carried a card, "He has left all the world confused." This release stated Oswald's mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, said the yellow chrysanthemums were put on her son's grave Thursday, 11/24/66, by a former FBI man.

105-82555-

SAC Shanklin, Dallas, was contacted concerning this matter and the following information was made available: James Earl Johnson, caretaker of the Rosehill Cemetery at Fort Worth, Texas, who requested his identity not be disclosed, advised Mrs. Oswald had called him on November 23, 1966, stating that flowers would be delivered that day with a typewritten note signed "Junior." She requested Johnson to be on the lookout for the flowers. Johnson advised the flowers were not delivered on the 23d; however, they were delivered on the 24th, Thanksgiving Day, and they did have a typewritten note attached which was signed "Junior," which note subsequently disappeared from the flowers. Johnson also advised that the newspaper stories to the effect that 600 persons visited Oswald's grave were grossly exaggerated and he would estimate that the usual number of visitors for Thanksgiving Day did appear at the cemetery, approximately 100, and he had no knowledge of how many of these visited Oswald's grave. The caretaker advised the flowers had been delivered by Henry Goodgame, Fort Worth florist. Goodgame, on contact, advised he had received an order for the flowers to be delivered several days before Thanksgiving. He most reluctantly admitted that after learning that a press release out of California identified the sender as Harry Dean that the flowers had been ordered through a florist in Alhambra, California.

Memo DeLoach from Rosen
Re: Assassination

Dallas ascertained through a newspaper contact in Dallas that the UPI in Los Angeles carried a story that Harry Dean, 38, Alhambra, California, had stated he was responsible for having flowers left on the grave of Lee Harvey Oswald. He stated he had a note typed by the florist to be attached to the flowers; that he left the flowers because he thought Oswald had nothing to do with the killing of President Kennedy. He also stated he was a former undercover man for the FBI and had used the code name "Junior."

Supervisor Neal McGinnis of Los Angeles advised the Los Angeles Times and the Los Angeles Herald Examiner both carried stories on November 26, 1966, based on a UPI release from Fort Worth, Texas, to the effect that flowers had been left on Lee Harvey Oswald's grave and that a typewritten note had been attached to the flowers. The two papers had a statement indicating that according to Marguerite Oswald, the flowers had been sent by a former FBI Agent.

Supervisor McGinnis also advised that Dean had been the subject of numerous items of correspondence with the Bureau and had been interviewed on numerous occasions to try and persuade him to desist from claiming employment with the Bureau. The FBI Identification Division contains a record on Dean which reflects he enlisted in the armed services in 1945 and was absent without leave in 1946. In 1948 he was charged with the theft of a radio by the Windsor, Canada, Police Department. Disposition on this offense is not known. In 1956 he was charged in Michigan for using obscene language and was sentenced to ninety days.

Bureau files reflect a great deal of correspondence with Harry J. Dean, who did at one time in the early 1960's furnish information to the Chicago Office concerning the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. He was never an informant and was never encouraged in his activities. After he gratuitously furnished information a background check was made, at which time it was determined he was a former mental patient with a criminal record. He was told in June of 1961 that his assistance was not desired. The Los Angeles Office, since November of 1963, has periodically found it necessary to contact Dean and request that he desist from making claims concerning past relationship with the Bureau.

In 1965 we received information he was considering writing a book regarding his work with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee and that it would concern the work he did for the FBI in Chicago for a year when he was a member of the Committee. The most recent correspondence concerning Dean was a reply to Senator George Murphy (R. - Calif.)

on October 18, 1966, wherein Murphy asked for any information we might have which would assist in replying to a letter from Dean.

ACTION:

It is recommended the attached letter be sent to Mr. Marvin Watson furnishing the true facts concerning the allegation that a former FBI Agent had placed flowers on Oswald's grave.

OK I think the President certainly must receive with interest attention even if it had been a former agent there was nothing we could do.

When Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD came to San Antonio on a visit on November 29, 1966, pre-police trainee CAMERLIN B. POSEY and he were assigned the duty of observing Mrs. OSWALD during her stay and to be alert for any possible trouble. As far as he could ascertain, there were no incidents during her visit to San Antonio.

On December 1, 1966, during the time he was in Mrs. OSWALD's presence at the International Airport in San Antonio while she was awaiting her plane, she made the following remarks, which were unsolicited, which she said she could not make on the radio or television because she knew they would cut her off:

She stated that she has letters from Cuba and Russia stating that LYNDON JOHNSON was connected with the assassination of former President KENNEDY.

She also stated that President JOHNSON broke the law when he removed former President KENNEDY's body from the hospital without proper papers or autopsy by the coroner.

Mrs. OSWALD also stated that when President and Mrs. JOHNSON went before the Warren Commission to testify in connection with the assassination of former President KENNEDY, he was not placed under oath. On the other hand, such witnesses as JACQUELINE KENNEDY and J. EDGAR HOOVER were placed under oath when they testified. Mrs. OSWALD pointed out that this was done so that if President JOHNSON was not telling the truth, he could not be charged with perjury.

common people such as herself. She did not mention how she thought the President allegedly violated the law.

Mrs. OSWALD advised that the day her son was murdered, agents of the Secret Service had visited her home and took her and her daughter-in-law, MARINA OSWALD, to a town south of Fort Worth, Texas, for their own protection. SCOTT could not recall if she mentioned the name of the town. She stated that while they were driving in the car, a report came over the radio in the Secret Service car about her son, LEE HARVEY OSWALD. When she questioned the agents about this, they stated that he had been shot in the shoulder. She then asked to be taken to him, however, one of the Secret Service agents stated that such a move could endanger the life of MARINA OSWALD.

SCOTT advised that Mrs. OSWALD stated that if they could protect the life of JACKIE KENNEDY, she could not see why they could not afford protection to the mother and wife of a person like LEE HARVEY OSWALD. The Secret Service agents finally gave in, took them to the hospital, and stated that once they entered the hospital they could offer neither Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD nor the wife of LEE HARVEY OSWALD any further protection, that this would be up to the Texas State officials.

Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD was then led to her son who was dead on a slab in the hospital covered with the exception of his head. She learned that he had been shot in the stomach while handcuffed. She said that at this moment she got a message, she does not know from where, and she recalls shouting, "This boy has not killed anyone and someday the world will know."

SCOTT advised that he asked no questions of Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD since he was under instructions not to.

SCOTT advised that Mrs OSWALD left San Antonio at approximately 11:00 a.m., December 1, 1966, on Flight 68 of Braniff Airlines en route to Ft. Worth, Texas.

When POSEY accompanied Mrs. OSWALD to the airport in San Antonio at approximately 10:30 a.m., December 1, 1966, she was very talkative and in his presence made the following unsolicited remarks which he thought would be of interest to the FBI:

She advised that although she could not make these remarks on the radio or television, she thought that he would be interested in knowing. She stated that she has letters from Cuba and Russia stating that Lyndon Johnson was connected with the assassination of KENNEDY.

She also stated that when President and Mrs. JOHNSON were called before the Warren Commission to testify, that neither was placed under oath. However, when Mrs. JACQUELINE KENNEDY and J. EDGAR HOOVER were called to testify, they were placed under oath. She stated that this shows that if the President did not tell the truth, he could not be held on a charge of perjury.

She advised that if an attempt had been made on her life while she was in San Antonio, the American people would not have stood for the murder of a son and his mother as the result of the same assassination. She said any attack on her would cause a furor throughout the United States.

She pointed to a man at the counter of Braniff Airlines in San Antonio, and stated that he follows her wherever she goes. She said he always travels first class and she referred to him as a "FED". She offered no further explanation of her remarks. POSEY advised that they did not check the man since they had specific instructions to observe and make no inquiries or investigations unless there was an incident. POSEY described this unidentified male as follows:

Weight	165 - 170 pounds
Hair	Wore hat but gray around the edges of the head

POSEY advised that he did not observe the man pay any attention whatsoever to Mrs. OSWALD.

Mrs. OSWALD also remarked that fifteen persons connected with her, her son LEE HARVEY OSWALD or JACK RUBY prior to or about the time of the assassination of KENNEDY had been killed. She stated that the most recent person was an individual who owned a night club in Dallas. He was dead a week before the police found him. He was a friend of RUBY's.

She continued by stating that the taxi driver who had taken her son LEE HARVEY OSWALD across town following the assassination attempt on the life of President KENNEDY, was killed later in a collision. She stated that his passenger was an important Government employee from Washington, D. C. He was not injured and just disappeared following the accident. She thought this was very peculiar.

She never did state who the fifteen persons were nor their relation to the case except the owner of the club and the taxi driver.

Mrs. OSWALD advised that the day her son was murdered, the Secret Service came to her home and told her that they were taking her and her daughter-in-law, MARINA OSWALD, then wife of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, to a small town south of Ft. Worth, Texas, for their own protection. While riding in the Secret Service car a notice came across the two-way radio about LEE HARVEY OSWALD being shot. The agent driving the car took the receiver and told the person on the radio not to repeat the news. When she inquired as to what had happened, she was informed that her son had been shot in the shoulder. She looked at the Secret Service agent for a monent, then got a feeling and said to the agent, "My son has expired." The agent did not give her a straight answer. She insisted that she be taken to the hospital where her son was. The Secret Service agent said that any such move would endanger the life of MARINA OSWALD.

Mrs. OSWALD said that she told the Secret Service agents that she thought it funny they could protect JACKIE KENNEDY with no trouble, yet they could not protect a mother who wanted to see her own son accompanied by his wife. After a short discussion, the Secret Service agents gave in and took her to the hospital where her son had been taken.

Upon arriving at the hospital the Secret Service agents told her that once she entered the hospital they could afford her no protection, and that it would be up to the Texas State officials to take over.

Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, went into the hospital and were taken to the room where her son lay dead. He was on a slab completely covered with the exception of his face. She looked at his face and turned to the attendants and said he had been crying and they agreed. She then said she got a message, she does not know from where, and she recalls shouting, "This boy has not killed anyone and someday the world will know."

POSEY advised that Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD boarded Braniff Flight 68 en route to Ft. Worth, Texas, at approximately 11:00 a.m., December 2, 1966.

On December 1, 1966, GUY HARRIS, General Manager of San Antonio Radio Station WOAI where Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD appeared as a guest, advised POSEY that Mrs. OSWALD told him that the FBI and Secret Service opens her mail and because of this she does not get all of her mail.

HARRIS stated that he challenged her on this point, stating that he felt certain that neither the FBI nor the Secret Service open her mail. She said that they must use "X-ray" and after reading it take the mail they don't want her to get.

San Antonio subsequently advised that Mrs. Oswald appeared on a local television station. The only additional remarks of pertinence were that the Warren report was inaccurate because of the voluminous data which had to be evaluated. She also said that an FBI Agent interviewing someone would not write a report until two days later and that perhaps the Agent could not remember word for word what had been told to him.

Mrs. Oswald, by her actions and her statements, has repeatedly proved that she is a mental case.

The Director, in his testimony, has adequately shown that Lee Harvey Oswald was not an informant of the FBI.

No further action is necessary in regard to attached.

At 1:30 a.m. on November 26, 1966, Mr. Tooze telephonically contacted the San Francisco Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He did not further identify himself by name and admitted being quite intoxicated. He did advise that at one time he was a former Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, a former private detective and a retired government agent.

Tooze indicated that a girlfriend of his, not further identified at this time, could verify a meeting between Jack Ruby and Lee Harvey Oswald prior to the assassination of President Kennedy.

At 3:00 a.m. on November 26, 1966, Tooze again telephonically contacted the San Francisco Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation identifying his girlfriend only as Frances stating she was a waitress at Jack Ruby's bar in Texas and had seen Oswald in the bar on several occasions. In addition, Tooze stated that Frances had seen Ruby and Oswald confiring in the office at Ruby's bar.

ENCLOSURE

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On November 26, 1966, Inspector Gino Marionetti of the San Francisco Police Department telephonically contacted the San Francisco Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation advising that Tooze had contacted the San Francisco Police Department furnishing information similar to that mentioned above. Inspector Marionetti indicated that he had interviewed Tooze's girlfriend, who identified herself as Frances Hise, and that he would prepare a report regarding this interview.

On November 28, 1966, Inspector Gino Marionetti of the San Francisco Police Department made available a copy of his report regarding the above mentioned interview. He indicated that Frances Hise, who was born on August 2, 1924, was residing at 507 Bush Street, Apartment 109, San Francisco and was an unemployed cocktail waitress. Inspector Marionetti noted that he had interviewed Frances Hise regarding the information furnished by Mr. Tooze. He stated that she appeared frightened and nervous about volunteering any information. In his report he indicated that she had been drinking but was not intoxicated.

According to the aforementioned police department report, Frances Hise advised she was [redacted] She indicated that on October 23, 1963 she was in Jack Ruby's place in Dallas, Texas. She described his place as being across the street from the Dolphus Hotel on Commerce Street and next to the Colony Club in Dallas. She indicated she was talking to Ruby about employment as a cocktail waitress when a person she described as white, male, American, five feet five inches, dark hair and approximately thirty years of age came on to the premises.

Continuing, Frances Hise advised Inspector Gino Marionetti that Ruby referred to this man as "Ossie" and told him to go into the back room. He then joined this man immediately and Miss Frances Hise left the premises.

Finally in the aforementioned police report, Inspector Marionetti stated that Miss Hise advised him that there was no doubt in her mind that "Ossie" and Lee Harvey Oswald were one and the same person.

Elaborating on the above mentioned report Inspector Marionetti orally advised Special Agent John P. McHugh on November 28, 1966 that Mr. Tooze was not present during the course of the above-mentioned interview. He stated that Miss Hise offered him no explanation as to why she had not reported the aforementioned alleged meeting between Jack Ruby and Lee Harvey Oswald at an earlier date.

On May 20, 1966, Frances Irene Hise [redacted] was interviewed by Special Agent Daniel J. Buckley. She advised that she is also known as Frances Hawkins and Lola Rambo Jones. She stated that she was born on August 7, 1924 at Kensington, Georgia.

At the time of the above-mentioned interview she furnished her permanent residence at 5812 La Vista Court, Dallas, Texas, care of friends Mr. and Mrs. Morgan. She noted that she had served [redacted]

On May 24, 1966, complaints were filed before the United States Commissioner, San Francisco, California, charging Frances Irene Hise [redacted]

On May 24, 1966, [redacted] and Hise were afforded an appearance before United States Commissioner Richard S. Goldsmith at San Francisco, California. At that time the matter was continued until June 2, 1966.

Records of the Identification Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation contain the following Identification Record, under Federal Bureau of Investigation [redacted] regarding Frances Irene Hise]

Contributor of Fingerprints	Name and Number	Arrested or Received	Charge	Disposition

On November 28, 1966, Special Agent Larry D. Newman, Secret Service, San Francisco, advised Special Agent John P. McHugh the San Francisco Police Department had on that date made available a copy of the above-mentioned report concerning the report of Frances Hise by Inspector Gino Marionetti.

Newman noted that he had located and interviewed Frances Hise at her place of residence, Apartment 109, 507 Bush Street, San Francisco, California, on November 28, 1966.

Newman advised that Frances Hise indicated that she did not wish to discuss anything pertaining to her being at Jack Ruby's or make any comment on any matter pertaining to this incident until January 16, 1967.

Newman explained that by checking the docket of the United States District Court he later ascertained that Frances Hise is scheduled to go to trial on this date in connection with the aforementioned complaint but noted that she did not indicate this when he was talking to her.

Continuing, Newman advised that on November 28, 1966 he located and interviewed the "Mr. Tooze" mentioned above.

Newman identified Tooze as Walter Lincoln Tooze and stated that he to resided at an apartment at 507 Bush Street, San Francisco. Tooze informed Newman that he was employed as Chief Purser by the Military Sea Transport Service and was presently waiting to go to sea.

According to the story related by Tooze in the early hours of the morning on November 26, 1966 he was drinking with Frances Hise in her apartment at 507 Bush Street. He stated that Hise was quite drunk and informed him that she had been working in Ruby's bar in Dallas, Texas. He noted that she informed him that Lee Harvey Oswald came into the bar and asked her if he could buy her, Hise, a drink. Later Ruby took Oswald into his office in the back of the bar according to the story Hise related to Tooze.

Mr. Newman noted that Tooze informed him that he was able to secure this information because of his investigative background. He informed Newman that he had once been associated with the Veteran's Administration where he had worked for the Federal Bureau of Investigation or in connection with the Federal Bureau of Investigation but he was not clear on this point.

Records of the San Francisco Police Department reflect that Walter Lincoln Tooze was born on October 9, 1913 at Dalles, Oregon.

According to the aforementioned records, Tooze was

On May 4, 1954, SF T-1, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that she had known Walter Lincoln Tooze and had observed him in a number of bars in the "tenderloin" section of San Francisco. This source indicated that on a number of occasions she had heard Tooze state that he was a retired Navy Commander, a former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent and was continually telling those around various bars he frequented of his years in the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He further stated that his father is a Superior Court Judge in Salem, Oregon. This source noted that Tooze is a very heavy drinker.

SUBJECT: REACTION OF SOVIET AND COMMUNIST PARTY OFFICIALS TO THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY

Re memorandum Mr. DeLoach to Mr. Tolson dated 11-29-66, reporting a conversation Mr. DeLoach had with Marvin Watson of the White House on 11-29-66. Mr. Watson indicated the President desired to have anything in FBI files reflecting immediate reaction of the Soviet Union following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and any reactions noted since then concerning the assassination. The President was also interested in receiving any "trends" indicating that a specific group, including the Communist Party, was back of the attacks on the Warren Commission.

During this same conversation, Mr. Watson indicated that the President had recently seen somewhere a newspaper article reporting that a member of the French Government had recently denounced the assassination investigation. Mr. Watson requested that if we could find this news clipping, we should furnish the President with what we had in our files concerning the matter. A cablegram was sent to the Legal Attache, Paris, in connection with this specific request on 11-30-66, and as soon as results of our inquiries are received, such data will be immediately furnished to Mr. Watson.

sensitive sources that the Soviets were very much concerned over the assassination and, particularly, because they knew so little about President Lyndon B. Johnson and his foreign policy plans as they related to the Soviet Union. The Soviets have frequently expressed the opinion they thought the assassination was a conspiracy planned by the "ultraright." The Soviets were fearful such group planned to effect a "coup" in the United States and utilize this act to stop negotiations with the Soviet Union, attack Cuba and spread the war.

Our files indicate Communist Party officials in the United States followed the Soviet party line and also expressed the opinion the assassination was committed by individuals of the "ultraright" and that more than one individual was involved in the assassination.

From time to time articles have appeared in the Soviet press and in communist publications in this country disagreeing with the conclusions of the report of the Warren Commission. Frequently, authors of these articles quote or use data published by many of the authors who are highly critical of the Warren Commission report, including Mark Lane, Joachim Joesten, Edward Epstein, Richard Popkin, Harold Weisberg and Leo Sauvage.

Marvin Watson called me from the White House at 12:45 p.m. today to indicate [redacted]

Watson referred to the assassination of President Kennedy and stated that he would appreciate receiving, on plain paper, any "trends" which indicated that a specific group, including the Communist Party, was back of the attacks on the Warren Commission. He stated that the President in giving him these instructions had told him that he, the President, had specifically noted that a number of individuals of left-wing beliefs had made denunciations of the Warren Commission.

Watson advised that the President would also like to have anything in FBI files which would reflect the immediate reaction of the Soviet Union following the assassination and any reactions noted since then concerning the assassination. He stated the President had told him that he had seen somewhere a newspaper article reporting that a member of the French Government had recently denounced the assassination investigation. Watson stated that if we could find this news clipping we should furnish the President anything we had in our files concerning the matter.

Watson raised the question as to whether the FBI was investigating the leak of information by the Presidential Crime Commission to the "New York Times." I told him we were not, that no one had requested such an investigation. He asked if one should be conducted. I told him this was entirely up to him and the President, however, he should know that such investigations were usually a waste of time, particularly when you considered that Fred Graham of the "New York Times" to whom the information had been Watson stated he agreed thoroughly and if the President raised the issue once again, he would try to talk him out of it.

Honorable Marvin Watson
Special Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Watson:

On November 30, 1966, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, appeared on radio and television programs in San Antonio, Texas. During her appearance on these programs, Mrs. Oswald was critical of the investigation of the assassination conducted by the Warren Commission, and she contended that the investigation of the assassination has not proved that her son was either innocent or guilty.

Mrs. Oswald also contended that her son, Lee Harvey Oswald, was sent to the Soviet Union as an undercover agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with full knowledge of the United States Marine Corps and the United States State Department.

She also alleged that reports of the Warren Commission, Federal Bureau of Investigation and Secret Service prepared in connection with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy contained numerous errors and attributed such errors to the fact that the individuals who prepared the reports were only human beings who were subject to error.

Following her appearance on the aforementioned radio and television programs, Mrs. Oswald proceeded to the San Antonio Airport to return to Dallas, Texas. While at the airport, she made unsolicited remarks concerning the assassination to two members of the San Antonio Police Department who were assigned at the San Antonio Airport in connection with Mrs. Oswald's visit to San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. Oswald told the two police officers that she has letters from Cuba and Russia stating that President Lyndon B. Johnson was connected with the assassination of the late President Kennedy. She also alleged that when President and Mrs. Johnson were called before the Warren Commission to testify concerning their knowledge of the assassination, neither was placed under oath. She alleged that this showed that if President Johnson did not tell the truth, he could not be held for perjury. She noted in this regard that "Mrs. John F. Kennedy and J. Edgar Hoover" were placed under oath when they testified before the Commission.

Mrs. Oswald also stated that in her opinion, President Johnson and his family violate the law but should not be allowed to do so. She did not state, however, how President Johnson or his family allegedly violate the law.

For your information, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald's behavior since the assassination has been highly erratic. In my testimony before the Warren Commission on May 14, 1964, I stated that I considered Mrs. Oswald somewhat emotionally unstable.

The above is being furnished as of possible interest to the President. This information has not been furnished to the Acting Attorney General.

Sincerely yours,

On 12/13/66, Mrs. MARGUERITE CLAVERIE OSWALD telephonically contacted SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING of the Dallas Office of the FBI, at which time she requested FBI assistance to insure that when it is publicly released that JACK RUBY has died from cancer, she be given complete assurance that RUBY is actually in the coffin. She continued that she believes RUBY will be taken out of the country, although it will be publicly announced that he has died and is being buried.

Mrs. OSWALD made several rambling statements concerning her beliefs with respect to the assassination, commenting that she does not believe RUBY actually has cancer because if he did he would be in pain, claiming she has acquired this knowledge because she is a nurse.

When Mrs. OSWALD was advised that no assistance could be given her by the FBI in connection with her request, she specifically asked that her request be made known to FBI Director J. EDGAR HOOVER. She stated that Enclosed for the Bureau are two (2) newspaper clippings, one from the "Dallas Morning News," Dallas, Texas, 12/9/66, and one from the "Ft. Worth Star Telegram," Ft. Worth, Texas, 12/8/66.

Recent newspaper publicity in the "Dallas Morning News," 12/9/66, and "Ft. Worth Star Telegram," 12/8/66, reflects that ROBERT OSWALD, brother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, is planning to write a book in order that the American people will have additional details as to why and how LEE HARVEY OSWALD assassinated President KENNEDY. One of the articles stated that a professional writing team, Mr. and Mrs. MYRICK LAND of New Rochelle, New York, is helping ROBERT OSWALD prepare the manuscript for his book.

Writing Book

Oswald Kin to Explain Why Lee Was Slayer

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) — Robert Oswald says he agrees with the Warren Commission that his brother, Lee Harvey, killed President Kennedy, but asserts that the commission failed to determine why.

He said Americans are entitled to more details and so he is writing a book which he hopes will help explain why.

"One thing that has always bothered me is the why of this thing," he said in an interview. "That's the reason for the book. I'm putting, as completely as possible, my entire recollection of Lee into it.

"I would hope it is done in a manner which will shed additional light on Lee's overall general character, which, in my opinion, was cut short in the commission report."

Oswald, 32, sales manager for a brick company here, said "There is no doubt in my mind," that the Warren Commission was correct in naming his brother as the assassin who shot and killed Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Still, the public's confusion about the report shows the need for additional details, he said.

"Lots of people are confused. The books and articles have left people with considerable doubt."

He suggested that a committee of some sort to be created to look into the so-called "unanswered questions," raised by critics of the commission.

Oswald explained that he previously had turned down many offers to write articles and books about his brother.

"But now I feel an obligation to expand and elaborate on the commission's findings, especially in the areas of how and why this assassination came about."

A professional writing team, Mr. and Mrs. Myrick Land of New Rochelle, N.Y., is helping him prepare the manuscript, he said.

Oswald moved his family in 1964 to Wichita Falls, which was selected Tuesday as the site for the second murder trial of Jack Ruby early next year.

It was Ruby who gunned down Lee Harvey Oswald two days after Kennedy's assassination.

He was convicted and sentenced to death, but the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the verdict and ordered a new trial.

"It doesn't bother me personally to have the trial here in Wichita Falls, but for my family it is unfortunate," he said. It is just something else we will have to face up to since the assassination."

He and his wife have two children, a girl, 9, and a boy, 5.

"I won't comment on the verdict," Oswald said, "because it is a personal thing for me. But I believe the trial in Dallas was fair to Ruby."

Brother Plans Oswald Book

ROBERT OSWALD
. . . agrees with Warren report

By JERRY FLEMMONS
Star-Telegram Writer

WICHITA FALLS — Robert Oswald wants the American people to have additional details of why and how his brother, Lee Harvey Oswald, assassinated President Kennedy.

He plans to reveal many of the whys in a book he now is writing about Lee.

But, the 32-year-old father of two said in an interview here yesterday that the public needs more details from the Warren Commission report.

• • •

OSWALD, AREA sales manager for a brick company, gave the Star-Telegram a full-length interview after he concluded that announced plans for the second Jack Ruby trial in Wichita Falls would once again place him in the spotlight he has so studiously avoided for the last three years.

Robert has become the almost forgotten Oswald in the assassination case since his younger brother, Lee, was shot by Ruby on Nov. 24, 1963.

He has talked to reporters hardly at all since that date, limiting his contacts with the case to a brief statement after release of the Warren Commission report in September 1964.

• • •

OTHER family members—Marina, Lee's widow (now Mrs. Kenneth Porter), and Marguerite Oswald, his mother—frequently have been in the news in the ensuing months.

A second brother, John Pic, en Air Force sergeant stationed in San Antonio, also has managed to remain out of the public eye.

Oswald, who only faintly resembles his brother, Lee, but has the same wiry physique, said he agrees with the Warren Commission conclusions.

Robert is convinced his brother acted alone and without conspiracy in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas.

• • •

STILL, THE public's confusion about the report shows the need for additional details, Robert contends.

Robert Oswald did not join the hue and cry asking for a recalling of the Warren Commission or for the reopening of the investigation into the assassination, but said simply some sort of a detailed government report should be made available to the public.

Oswald moved his family to this North Texas city in the summer of 1964. Now the Ruby case has followed him here.

The announcement came Tuesday that Ruby's second trial will be held in Wichita Falls in mid-February or early March.

• • •

"IT DOESN'T bother me personally to have the trial here in Wichita Falls, but for my family it is unfortunate," he explained.

Oswald is the father of a girl, 9, and a boy, 5.

"It is just something else we will have to face up to since the assassination."

He does not plan to attend the trial, explaining, "It would serve no purpose for me to go. Naturally, I have an interest in it. But I'll follow the trial's progress through the newspaper. That's all."

• • •

RUBY SHOT Lee Harvey Oswald in the basement of Dallas City Hall two days after Kennedy was assassinated. He was convicted and sentenced to death, but the Texas Supreme Court threw out the verdict and ordered a new trial.

Ruby will receive a fair trial in Wichita Falls, Robert Oswald believes.

"I won't comment on the first verdict," he said, "because it is a personal thing for me. But I believe the trial in Dallas was fair to Ruby."

• • •

IS BOOK, which he has been writing since August, will evaluate further and explain some of the "whys" of his brother, Lee.

Oswald said he feels the Warren Commission did not go deep enough into why Lee shot President Kenndey. In the past three years, said Oswald, he has turned down all offers to write articles and books about his brother.

"And there have been many," he said.

"But now I feel an obligation to expand and elaborate on the commission's findings, especially in the areas of how and why this (the assassination) came about."

• • •

HE PROMISED the book, which he plans to publish sometime next fall, will not be "sensationalized."

"One thing that has always bothered me is the 'why' of this thing. That's the reason for the book. I'm putting, as completely as possible, my entire recollection of Lee into it."

"I would hope it is done in a manner which will shed additional light on Lee's overall general character, which in my opinion, was cut short in the commission report," Oswald said.

A professional writing team, Mr. and Mrs. Myrick Land of New Rochelle, N.Y., is helping Oswald prepare the manuscript.

• • •

IF AND WHEN his book is published, it will be the first to come from one who intimately knew Lee Harvey Oswald.

Both Marina Porter and Marguerite Oswald have announced they were planning books, but neither has released a manuscript.

The Warren Commission was correct, said Oswald, in finding that his brother acted alone in shooting President Kennedy, a fact now disputed by at least three recent books and several articles.

• • •

"I FEEL the final conclusion that Lee Oswald was the lone assassin is correct and, in fact, he was the assassin. There is no doubt in my mind. I said this Sept. 27, 1964, when the Warren Report was released."

Oswald, however, called for "at least some type of subcommittee to answer all the 'so-called' unanswered questions" raised by critics of the commission.

"Lots of people are confused. The books and articles have left people with considerable doubt," he said.

By airtel dated December 15, 1966, the Dallas Office reported that Hugh Ainsworth, reporter for the "Dallas Morning News," Dallas, Texas, informed the Dallas Office that he had been retained by "Life" magazine in connection with inquiries being made by "Life" concerning the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. Ainsworth stated that "Life" magazine was attempting to determine whether more than one person was involved in the assassination and whether Lee Harvey Oswald and Jack Ruby were acquainted.

According to Mr. Ainsworth, representatives of "Life" magazine have been in contact with one Joe R. Hummel, who allegedly was acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald and also claims to know of an association between Lee Harvey Oswald and Jack Ruby of a homosexual nature. According to Ainsworth, Hummel [redacted]

Ainsworth informed our Dallas Office that he personally does not believe the allegations of Hummel, nor does he believe the allegations of various authors who have raised the question that there was more than one assassin and that Oswald and Ruby were acquainted.

During this contact, Ainsworth also stated that he had come into possession of information that Frank O'Connor, former New York District Attorney and Democratic candidate for governor, came upon information a few years ago which identified Mark Lane as an active [redacted] Lane, according to Ainsworth, was a former New York Assemblyman who did not seek a second term after his [redacted] were discovered and the Democratic organization had prevailed on him not to run for re-election.

A check of Bureau files disclosed that Joseph Roland Hummel appeared at the Dallas Office on November 30, 1963, to volunteer information concerning Oswald. Hummel claimed he first met Oswald in 1960 in New Orleans and again saw him sometime in 1961. Hummel also indicated that he had heard rumors that Oswald and Jack Ruby were homosexuals, but he had no proof of same. During this interview, Hummel admitted to the interviewing Agent that he had been [redacted]

Our investigation of the assassination and of Oswald disclosed that Hummel's allegations were completely false. At the time Hummel claims to have known Oswald in New Orleans in 1960 and 1961, we have determined that Oswald resided in Russia during that entire period. Oswald resided in Russia from September 19, 1959, to June 13, 1962, on which date he returned to the United States and took up residence in Fort Worth, Texas.

AINSWORTH has been retained by "Life" magazine to give local assistance in connection with "Life's" attempt to develop additional facts shedding light on the assassination and, particularly, whether more than one person was involved and whether OSWALD and JACK RUBY were acquainted. AINSWORTH advised that in this connection, "Life" proposes, within the next several days, to bring one JOE R. AINSWORTH as a [redacted] HUMMEL has reportedly previously lived in Dallas and has been used in an undercover capacity by the Dallas Police Department, possibly the Homicide Bureau.

AINSWORTH furnished for reproduction a memorandum dated 11/30/66, to "Billings for Kern, New York," from "Fincher, SanF," a copy of which is enclosed for the Bureau. According to AINSWORTH, BILLINGS and KERN are "Life" magazine representatives in New York, and FINCHER is a "Life" representative in San Francisco. The memorandum of 10 pages deals with information reportedly furnished by HUMMEL, presumably to FINCHER, concerning HUMMEL'S meeting OSWALD first in New Orleans, later in Dallas, his meeting with RUBY and alleged homosexual connections between OSWALD and RUBY.

AINSWORTH stated he felt he should advise the Dallas FBI Office of "Life" magazine's intention, and stated he does not personally believe there is anything to the allegations [redacted] or, in fact, to the allegations of various authors who would raise the question of more than one assassin, and the OSWALD - RUBY association.

AINSWORTH stated that in this connection, he has come into possession of information that FRANK O'CONNOR, former New York District Attorney and Democratic candidate for governor, came upon information a few years ago which identified MARK LANE as [redacted] participant. LANE, according to AINSWORTH, was a former New York Assemblyman, but did not seek a second term after his [redacted] connections were discovered and the Democratic organization had prevailed on him not to run for re-election.

AINSWORTH also mentioned the allegations reportedly made by some persons that they saw smoke coming from a point near the railroad overpass west of the Texas School Book Depository Building at the time the assassin's shots were fired. He stated that a GEORGE A. DAVIS, a Union Terminal employee who has not been interviewed, has reportedly stated that the smoke referred to probably came from the motorcycle of a Dallas police officer named HARKNESS.

The above data is furnished the Bureau for its information, and is not being incorporated in an LHM in view of the fact Mr. AINSWORTH specifically requested that it not be disseminated outside the Bureau.

TO: Billings for Kern, New York

FROM: Fincher, SanF Nov. 30, 1966

In the one-volume report of the Warren Commission (New York Times edition) the commission acknowledges that it investigated rumors that Jack Ruby and Lee Harvey Oswald were homosexuals but dismissed them because "...no evidence has been uncovered to support the rumors, the closest acquaintances of both men emphatically deny them, and Ruby's nightclubs were not known to have been frequented by homosexuals." In its appendix on Ruby, the report says further that there were statements that Ruby was a homosexual but "available evidence does not support the allegation.../Ruby did not frequent known gathering places for homosexuals, many of the reports were inherently suspect or based upon questionable or inaccurate premises, and Ruby and most of his associates and employees denied the charge.

"All the allegations were based on hearsay, or derive from Ruby's lisp or a 'feeling' that Ruby was a 'sissy,' seemed 'weird', acted effeminately, and sometimes spoke in a high-pitched voice when angry."

Joe R. Hummel is probably one of those who gave such testimony, since he claims to have talked about it with an FBI agent whom he identifies in writing as a "Mr. Bachshar," but pronounces Bashoar. He made the statement in the YMCA where he was staying on approximately Nov. 30, 1963, and turned over to the agent, he says, several sketches which had come into his possession of buildings, or blocks of buildings, or street plans -- sketches Hummel now feels may have been unfinished and preliminary drawings of President Kennedy's fateful route past the Texas Book Depository. Both the drawings and his story, Hummel professes to believe, support his contention that Ruby and Oswald were homosexuals, members of the same gay crowd, perhaps lovers; at any rate, practicing fairies who knew each other in the shadowy gay world of Dallas.

I believe Hummel -- about 30 years old, semiliterate but not unintelligent, an itinerant cook and sometimes special investigator with ambitions of becoming a private detective -- is telling the truth as he believes it. There were a couple of guys in thecome-and-go, quick-trick atmosphere of the Dallas YMCA who reminded him, in retrospect, of Ruby and Oswald. And reminded others, as well. Hummel claims further that he met a probable homosexual whom he claims was Oswald in a New Orleans bar a year and a half before the assassination -- and that "Oswald" was with a fairy who tried to make out with his (Hummel's) friend, and that he (Hummel) saw both of them together several months later in Dallas, on more than one occasion. Hummel is not good on dates but is firm on the time span and it conflicts on only one occasion with the Warren Report's rundown of Oswald's whereabouts.

I think Hummel is telling the truth as he believes it because he has taken the trouble to give me a long list of names. And because I made it clear to him he wouldn't get a buck unless something significant comes out of this. So he has nothing to gain by outright lying (which doesn't preclude, of course, a little window dressing here and there, conscious or otherwise).

Here is the substance of his story, with names,addresses and phone numbers where pertinent and available -- over and against the Warren Commission report of Oswald's comings and goings at the same time:. I made a tape recording should you want to recheck his exact words:

Hummel says he first met the man he believes to have been Lee Harvey Oswald the first week of July, 1962, in a French Quarter seamen's bar called the La Marina Cafe Bar. (According to the Warren commission, Oswald was interviewed by the FBI in Fort Worth June 26 and worked for a sheet metal firm there until Oct. 8, when he moved to Dallas. No mention of New Orleans). Hummel, who says he was a "special investigator" (i.e., in my lexicon, a glorified stoolie) for U. S. Customs, trying to find out about incoming drug traffic, was in the La Marina that night playing the bongos. The bar, says Hummel, was "mixed gay and straight" and Oswald seemed "at home and at ease" there. Hummel noticed Oswald watching him play, and when he broke to get a package of cigarets from a vending machine, Oswald approached him and complimented him on his playing. From his manner, Hummel said, Oswald appeared to be "cruising him." (Hummel, curiously, was careful to avoid in this interview any indication that he himself might be homosexual, although I have little doubt he is one. In fact I believe he said a couple of things in our first conversation that constituted an admission, though I can not recall the particulars.) When he returned to the drums, Hummel said he saw another young man watching him, a darkly good looking guy of about 23, Spanish perhaps, or French. After a while Oswald came over to the other side of the band stand and, from the way they looked at each other, Hummel got the feeling they knew one another. Later they left in a cab together. But before they did, Hummel passed Oswald a another table and he was talking in "a strange language, maybe Spanish" to another dark haired young man with a deathly white face. (According to the commission report, Oswald could speak little or no Spanish. The bar, says Hummel, was frequented by Latin Americans. He described Oswald, when pressed, as having essentially an olive complexion.) The young man also looked Spanish or French; he appeared very anemic, says Hummel, and was very skinny, knocked-out looking, as if he were high on dope. (Hummel says too that he turned off Oswald when the other was cruising him because Oswald looked "weird, not high, or turned on, but weird, strange-looking, like a sadist, orsomething.") The skinny young man Hummel calls "Skinny"to this day. (Skinny reappears later).

When "Skinny" left, Hummel asked his friend about the three of them and his friend said the other guy who left with Oswald had made a pass at him but he had turned him off.

In October/ 1, 1962, says Hummel, he moved to Dallas where he got a job hashing in a waffle shop. In December of that year, he says, he was in the Mayflower coffee and donut shop when who should he see at a table across the room but Oswald and Skinny. They were huddled over some sheets of paper with writing, or sketching on them, talking, first intently, then casually. If they saw Hummel they didn't recognize him. He remained about thirty minutes; they were still there when he left, drinking coffee. (The commission confirms that Oswald was working for ax commercial advertising photography firm in Dallas from Oct. 12, 1962 to April 6, 1963.)

In May, 1963, says Hummel, he moved into the YMCA. (He was at this time either a cookis helper at the Hilton, or had justleft to go to work for a Motor hotel called the Cabana). In the months that followed, he says, he saw Oswald in a Mexican bar, downstairs from the Worth hotel near Live Oak and Ervoy (?) streets, and another time with Skinny in front of the YMCA. That was in October and it was that month when Hummel believes he had his most significant run-in with both Oswald and Ruby. He left his room one day ~~xxxxx~~, room 710, and on his way to the sundeck almost collided with Oswald, who was coming off the sundeck. Oswald smiled and spoke to him. He was wearing, says Hummel, only a pair of dark trunks. Hummel doesn't remember whether he was burned, tanned or neither, especially. Hummel went on out to the sundeck and lay down. There were, he says, at least four other guys out there-- one of whom he was later to identify as Ruby. He says Ruby started making up to him; "smiling at me, acting friendly-like." Ruby was wearing a pair of light trunks with perhaps a red stripe, maybe rubber clogs, and carried a towel that seemed to match the trunks. ~~Xxxxx~~ Both of them, he says, came from the health club in the basement of the Y. Ruby he later saw many times in the lobby or ~~xxxx~~ on his way upstairs from the health club. The Y trunks were dark, says Hummel.

After a few minutes, Hummel decided he wasn't comfortable being cruised by Ruby, who was attempting to converse with him, so he left and went back to his room, leaving his door slightly ajar. Ruby came padding down the hall, past his door, looked in and grinned, then went on and --Hummel is certain-- back/ up toward the main hall. (~~xxxx his towel. He was just coming around the far corner of the crossing hall, but, says Hummel, "when he saw he he just turned and went back the way he had come, all in one motion." The way he had come, Hummel adds, is a blind hall with no exit other than into a room .xx Since both Ruby and Oswald (sic) were on the sundeck at the same time, and in view of what Hummel sayshe was to learn later, Hummel feels he could only have been coming from, and going to, Oswald's room.

(The commission, you'll remember, fixes Oswald's xx lodgings between Oct. 15 and 19 as the YMCA. After that, Oswald's presence for several days, the commission speculates, was "an apartment or rooming house in Dallas that hasx not been located." On Nov. 3 Oswald rented an apartment at 604 Elsbeth st. and subsequently moved his family in. The landlady said he had first looked at it a week before).

This much Hummel says he told the FBI man. Hummel was knxthe still living in the Y at the time of the assassination, he says, and when he saw Oswald on television he blurted out, "why I know that guy," and some of those around him agreed. It was then, he says, that word got back to the FBI and Bachshar, or Beshoar, c am e to see him. Backshar interviewed him Nov. 30, he says, heard his story, betrayed no special interest, and never interviewed him again.

From this point on Hummel gets pretty foggy about dates and the story th at followsix is one he never told the FBI or, he says, anyone. (Although somehow the drawings which he says the FBI took from him came into his possession during this time, and from someone now to be named. Confusing.)

After the assassination (but apparently before his Nov. 30 FBI interview) Hummel says he "met" in a men's room a heavy-set man in his early 40s whom he knows only as "Frank." Frank tried to cruise him, they became acquainted (whatever that means) and Frank told him that he "knew" Ruby in the homosexual sense. Hummel says he believes that because he had often seen Frank around and on a couple of occasions had seen him having a drink with Ruby in the Zoo bar. He had also seen Frank and Skinny together there. While at the Y, Hummel also met a young guy named John Whitman (or Whiteman, pronounced Whiteman), whom he describes as a hustler, who told him he had been with Frank on a couple of tricks and also had seen Frank and Ruby at the same homosexual parties. (Oh yes, the men's room where Hummel met Frank was in the Medical Arts building, a notorious pickup spot, says Hummel.) Hummel's friend Whiteman had a friend named Richard Ross, from El Paso, who was living in the YMCA. Whiteman told Hummel he "went to a lot of parties with big-shots around town." A couple of them; an older man named Gordon (40ish) and a younger man named Larry (22ish) hung out at a place called Toppers on Ervy street across from the YMCA.

Whiteman, says Hummel, also told him that a friend of his at the Y, an somewhat extravagant resident fairy named Herman Delany (he had a color TV in his room) had done tricks with both Oswald and Ruby in his room. Delaney (or Delany), says Hummel, no longer lives at the Y; he was asked to move when his activities became too flagrant. Hummel also mentioned a young hustler named John Mason who "went with older men for money," Frank included.

Through Whiteman and Ross, I gather, Hummel became acquainted with two basically non-cruising fairies, sweethearts, I suspect, who lived in the San Jacinto district of Dallas. Their names were Willie Rodriguez and Jim Painter and according to Hummel they were intimate friends of Jim Koethe, the Dallas Times Herald reporter who, Time says in dismissing Ramparts' charges that he was silenced forever with a karate chop, was strangled by a jealous homosexual lover. (Hummel does not impress me as a man who reads Time, or anything else, for that matter, except perhaps detective magazines.) From them, Hummel says, he learned of Koethe's murder by a jealous lover. (Hummel spent a week at their apartment when he moved out of the Y.) According to Hummel, Rodriguez and Painter said that Koethe feared he might be killed and gave them a box of private papers which he asked them to destroy if anything happened to them. It did and they did, says Hummel, except for a photograph of Kennedy the Kennedys and Connally in the limousine before the shots were fired. This was the picture Hummel brought to me. I can get it if you wish. It looks very much like one of several I've seen; Kennedy smiling three-quarter face into the camera, Jackie looking away, Connally in profile. Rodriguez and Painter for some reason gave Hummel the print, about a 3X4 incher, I thought at the time it was laminated. Now I've had second thoughts and feel it might by a Fairchild plastic, or some such technique, though the line gradient was not as pronounced as I remember from my newspapering days. I still vote for lamination until or unless I see it again. At any rate, Hummel says Rodriguez and Painter told him they had obeyed Koethe's wishes. However, he has no way of knowing if that's true. Perhaps they only told him that; perhaps they might still have Koethe's papers. Hummel thinks they only pertained to his homosexual liasons but of course he doesn't know that.

The only other thing of possible interest that I recall Hummel saying about this aspect is how he came by the sketches he gave the FBI man. Hummel says he took them from Whiteman's clothes one day when Whiteman was taking a shower in Hummel's apartment. Whiteman told him he had gotten them from Painter, who in turn had gotten them from Ross, whose father, says Hummel, is a well-to-do contractor (builder? construction company owner?) in El Paso.

So much for Hummel's story. Here, aswell as he knows them, are a list of addresses phone numbers, pick-up places for some of these people when he knew them:

John Mason, 919 Cameron st., Dallas. TA-7l094.

Willie Rodrigues and Jim Painter, 4919 San Jacinto, Dallas. One of them works for a department store called Titshe (Titche?) at RI-84811. Perhaps still extension 584.

John Whiteman, according to mutual friends, says Hummel, is back in New Orleans, in the French quarter.

For personal references, Hummel offers the following.

1. Bill Barnett (Barnum?), now has his own detective agency in Jackson, Miss., was with Lee Detective Agency in Dallas when Hummel knew him. Hummel did a job for him in Jackson, the one I told you about where he found out if a candidate for Chamber of Commerce president was queer. ("He was," says Joe Hummel). Hummel says he was waylaid by a couple of young toughs soon after he got to Dallas and robbed. When he went to the police to tell his story he ran into a cop he had known in New Orleans (a Mac McElroy, or McLeroy, in the burglary detail) who made him known as a possible undercover operator to Capt. Will Fritz.

hummel 10-10-10

2. Mr. Harry L. Crawford, U. S. Customs in New Orleans. (JA 53608, X. 6320). Albert J. Sigenorell (signorel?), formerly customs, now FBI, home VE-11471. Patrolman Arthur M. Jenson, special unit New Orleans (car 472), phone HO 2l161, exte. 229.

3. Also in Dallas, homocide Sgt. Level (Lavelle?), Sgt. Graves.

On the off-chance you can make more of this than I can, I'm enclosing Hummel's list of contacts, a map he did of the gay world in Dallas, and, finally, the tape itself.

Hummel, obviously, is on his uppers. He's trying to get into Maritime cook school here so he can eventually ship out under the aegis of the International Longshoremen's union, I gather. He needs money and has called me a couple of times this week. Would it be possible for you to ~~xxxxxxxxx~~give me some indication Monday latest as to whether he can expect any money at all, whether it seems worth pursuing, etc.? I told him my position hasn't changed: We can't give him any money until we determine whether these guys is any reason to believe these guys are Ruby and Oswald.

Hidell—Fidel

By Harry J. Taylor

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 30 — William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President," like most of the coverage of the Dallas horror, deals with a martyrdom. But what about the culprit?

Millions think of Lee Harvey Oswald as a crackpot. But Police Chief Joseph I. Giarrusso stated: "Anybody who calls Lee Oswald a crackpot simply does not know the truth. Sometimes I think the public has been brainwashed about him."

Born of a New Orleans mother and father, Oswald used an alias here. It was A. J. Hidell. "He said he chose it to rhyme with Fidel," Thomas A. Dranke, director of the Police Intelligence Division, told me. This was the same alias Oswald ultimately used to purchase the assassination weapon.

He sailed from New Orleans for Russia on Sept. 20, 1959, aboard the Marion Lykes. Oswald, five-feet-nine-inches, 136 pounds, brown-eyed, brown-haired, ruddy and slender (the official New Orleans Police Department description under its Bureau of Identification Docket No. 112-723) took off for the USSR only 11 days after being released from active duty in his Marine Corps Air Control Squadron.

He was soon to write his brother, Robert, from Moscow: "In the event of war I would kill any American who put a uniform on in defense of the American government — any American."

Oswald stated to Travel Consultants, Inc., a travel bureau here, that he was leaving the country on a two-month pleasure trip. He presented U.S. passport No. 1733242, dated Sept. 10, a forged smallpox vaccination certificate signed Dr. A. J. Hidell, P. O. Box 30061, New Orleans, La., and paid the firm $220.75 for his ticket. It read to Le Havre, France, and New Orleans immigration officers counted only four passengers aboard.

Oswald disembarked at Le Havre Oct. 8, left for England that same day and reached London Oct. 9. He claimed to Southampton customs officials that he was en route to the Albert Schweitzer College of Churwalden, Switzerland, and carried a valid registration receipt from the college for $25. But, within hours, Oswald flew to Helsinki, Finland.

The Russian consulate there gave him a visa (No. 403339) and he crossed the frontier at Vainikkala. Oswald arrived in Moscow Oct. 16, and immediately declared his defection to the USSR. He attempted to renounce his U.S. citizenship to American Embassy Second Secretary Richard E. Snyder on Oct. 21.

When Oswald returned to New Orleans with his Russian wife (April 24, 1963, seven months before the Dallas assassination), Police Chief Giarrusso credits New Orleans surgeon Alton Ochsner with being the first man to uncover Oswald's pro-communist activities. Dr. Ochsner, founder and head of the Ochsner Medical Clinic, where I went to see him, is a world-traveled consultant to the Surgeon General of the U.S. Air Force on the medical side of subversive matters.

An important and widely ignored point about Oswald is that nothing in his Marine medical record, after his childhood, finds him mentally unstable or otherwise psychologically unfit.

Dr. Ochsner's first-hand impressions of Oswald's ideological pitch proved completely valid and led to a statement by Oswald to Police Lt. Francis L. Martello that "I refuse to speak English in my family because I do not want them to become Americanized."

This put Cuban exile expert Carlos Bringuier and Edward S. Butler, executive vice president of New Orleans' Information Council of the Americas, on Oswald's trail even before Oswald picketed the U.S. carrier Wasp (June 16) at the Dumaine-st wharf.

These are the two men who confronted Oswald in his Aug. 21 radio debate over station WDSU, less than 100 days before the assassination. I found them utterly mystified and deeply concerned over the widespread whitewash of Oswald as a "crackpot."

The "Washington Daily News" newspaper for 12-30-66 carried a column on page 19 by Henry J. Taylor entitled "Hidell-Fidel." The tenor of the article is that Lee Harvey Oswald was not a "crackpot," but was motivated in the assassination of President Kennedy by his procommunist and pro-Castro beliefs.

In connection with Mr. Taylor's article, mentioned above, the Director has requested to be advised what facts we have regarding matters in Mr. Taylor's article.

For the Director's information, the background data concerning Oswald, as set forth in Taylor's article, is generally accurate. Facts concerning Oswald's birth, his trip to Russia, his attempts to denounce his American citizenship in Russia and his return to the United States are all correct and probably were taken by Taylor from the Warren Commission Report.

Taylor is also accurate in reporting that Oswald did engage in some pro-Castro activities in New Orleans during the period May and June, 1963. It was during this period that Oswald passed out pro-Cuban leaflets and engaged in a debate on radio with Carlos Bringuier, anti-Cuban refugee in New Orleans, and with Edward S. Butler, an officer of the New Orleans' Information Council of the Americas. This organization claims that its objective is to counteract communist influence in South America through radio programs and other means of communication.

EX-104 REC 39 5534

In his article, Mr. Taylor states that New Orleans' Police Chief Giarrusso credits New Orleans' surgeon, Alton Ochsner, with being the first man to uncover Oswald's procommunist activities. Why Police Chief Giarrusso would make such statement is not known, if he is accurately quoted. Our files disclose that Dr. Ochsner is a prominent surgeon in New Orleans who was an SAC contact from 11-12-57 to 10-21-59. To our knowledge, Dr. Ochsner had no contact with Lee Harvey Oswald. He was, however, the President of the New Orleans' Information Council of the Americas, mentioned above; and on 5-20-64, he signed a letter offering to the public a sale of a phonograph record which contained the transcript of Oswald's appearance on the New Orleans' radio program. The record sold for $5.00 per copy and its makers claimed it was an historical document not a mere conversation piece.

OBSERVATIONS:

The fallacy in Mr. Taylor's column lies in the fact that he completely ignored the psychiatric analysis of Oswald at age 13 in New York City by the Children's Court, Probation Bureau, New York City. This report showed that Oswald possessed traits of a greatly disturbed person and he was diagnosed as having a personality-pattern disturbance with schizoid features and passive-aggressive tendencies. At that time, Oswald was afforded psychiatric treatment in New York City, but such treatment was terminated in January, 1954, when Oswald and his mother left New York City to return to New Orleans, Louisiana.

Furthermore, Mr. Taylor also ignored the incident on 4-10-63 when Oswald attempted to murder Major General Edwin A. Walker in Dallas, Texas. This act obviously was the work of an unstable person. Taylor also ignored the testimony of Marina Oswald and a number of social acquaintances of Marina and Lee Harvey Oswald, who furnished information indicating Oswald was a "loner," a social misfit and a person who was generally against everything.

ACTION:

None. This is for the Director's information.

[redacted] now employed by District Attorney JIM GARRISON, Parish of Orleans, advised that he was not personally acquainted with the reasons why DA JIM GARRISON was interested in the investigation of the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY. He advised that he has heard comments in the office that there is a reporter from a national publication, possibly Life Magazine, in New Orleans and it is his personal belief that DA JIM GARRISON intends to expose errors in the Warren Report. [redacted] and former investigator for the Parish of Orleans, advised that GARRISON is obsessed with the investigation into the assassination of President KENNEDY. [redacted] stated he told GARRISON to forget the matter and he would not assist GARRISON in the investigation and was not interested in anything GARRISON was doing in connection with this investigation. He stated he has no knowledge of what GARRISON is attempting to prove and the only contact he has had with the investigation has been a call he received from DAVID FERRIE. He stated that FERRIE has been trying to get him, [redacted] to arrange an interview with GARRISON, which he has declined to do.

[redacted] advised he has been contacted by LEON IVON, Patrolman, New Orleans Police Department, assigned as investigator to the District Attorney's Office and questioned re his knowledge of the activities of W. GUY BANISTER (deceased), former New Orleans private detective and former SAC of FBI, Chicago. [redacted] advised that [redacted] was interested in obtaining the names of former associates of BANISTER in various Cuban movements with which BANISTER was connected and also a photograph allegedly taken by JOSEPH NEWBROUGH, private detective employed by BANISTER, of some jeeps and trucks being shipped to Cuba. [redacted] was also attempting to locate [redacted] files. Based upon comments made by [redacted] it was apparent to informant that [redacted] and [redacted] both former associates of [redacted] have been interviewed.

[redacted] advised that in talking with [redacted] it was apparent that IVON was attempting to develop facts which would tend to indicate that a conspiracy orginated in New Orleans involving Cuban Nationals and OSWALD for the purpose of assassinating President KENNEDY.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] had in his possession a copy of the Warren Report which reflected an interview in Dallas by the Warren Commission of a woman by the name of "GUDO" (PH). This woman was a Cuban Exile with family apparently living somewhere in Cuba. Informant did not have the actual name of the woman. (It is noted that Esquire Magazine, December, 1966, issue, reflects that a Mrs. SYLVIA ODIO claims she was contacted by OSWALD and two Cuban Nationals prior to the assassination.)

[redacted] states that JACK S. MARTIN and JOSEPH NEWBROUGH are both known to him and personally regards them as mental cases.

The alleged photographs taken on New Orleans docks regarding the shipment of trucks to CASTRO's Cuba are probably referring to the news item which appeared in the Carribbean newsletter dated September 15, 1960, and forwarded to the Bureau by airtel dated December 9, 1960, in the case entitled [redacted] This newsletter published a reprint from the Standard Times, New Bedford, Mass., Friday, September 9, 1960, concerning shipment of trucks to Cuba.

[redacted]

[redacted] advised that in talking with [redacted] of the District Attorney's Office, he learned that the District Attorney Office has also apparently talked to SID DEVILLE, operator of the Mardi Gras Lounge on Bourbon Street, New Orleans, and a woman named ANDERSON who knew JACK RUBY and now may possibly be employed by DEVILLE.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] indicated that he planned to talk to [redacted] and had either talked to or planned to talk to [redacted] New Orleans attorney.

NO 89-69/sab

[redacted] advised that in the event he received any additional information he will call it to the New Orleans Office's attention.

No further investigation is being conducted by the New Orleans Office regarding the inquiry being conducted by District Attorney JIM GARRISON. For the information of the Bureau, JIM GARRISON is a former Bureau Agent and various rumors have been circulating in the City of New Orleans which indicate that he may be a candidate for Lieutenant Governor with the current Governor JOHN McKEITHEN, which election will be held in December, 1967.

Enclosed for the Bureau are the original and one Electrostat copy of letter mentioned in above caption as well as the envelope in which it was enclosed, and one Electrostat copy of that envelope.

This letter was received by the San Antonio Division on 12/23/66, from the Austin, Texas, Police Department.

The letter is typed on flimsy paper and both sides of the paper were utilized, making part of the letter illegible; also it is written with many misspelled words and in poor English; therefore, it is difficult or impossible to discern the letter's true and complete contents.

Although the envelope is postmarked Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, the writer of the letter lists a Monterrey, N. L. address.

The letter appears in the main to accuse certain individuals living in Mexico of being Cuban spies. Also it appears to mention "they" were in Dallas with Oswald when the assassination took place. The name of the writer

From the information set forth in the LHM, it is not felt further investigation into BEECH's allegations are warranted as it appears he obtained his information from the information attributed to PAUL EDWARD MURPHY, a fellow Marine of OSWALDs, who was present at the time OSWALD shot himself while in the U. S. Marine Corps. Throughout the investigation into OSWALD's Marine Corps record and his associates while in the Marine Corps, no mention has ever been made of an individual by the name of ROBERT C. LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On January 8, 1967, at 10:40 p.m., the Pittsburgh Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) received a telephone call from a male who identified himself as Robert C. Beech, 1431 Oak Drive, Pittsburgh 34, Pennsylvania, telephone (unlisted) 884-0974. Beech advised he telephonically contacted the "Pittsburgh Press" and the "Pittsburgh Post-Gazette," January 8, 1967, to determine if they would be interested in his knowledge of Lee Harvey Oswald while assigned with the United States Marine Corps in Japan during 1957, or early 1958. Beech stated that the interest exhibited by the two papers gave him doubt as to the propriety of such a disclosure. He was instructed to call the City Editor of each paper on January 9, 1967. Beech declined to furnish his name, address, etc., to either paper. He stated that he was motivated in making the above calls in that he is short of money (specifically, a month behind on his car payment).

Further discourse with Beech determined that he is not at all certain that the individual he has in mind was in fact Oswald. He does recall of an individual who was in his radar group (interceptor unit) and assigned to his barracks. This individual had illegal possession of a .22 caliber pistol with which he sustained a self-inflicted wound. Beech stated that as a result of this incident this individual was removed from his group and he did not see or hear of him thereafter. He stated the name Oswald and the photographs of him bring this individual to mind. Beech could not recall the spelling of the name of the base to which he was assigned in Japan.

On January 9, 1967, Special Agents of the FBI located and interviewed Beech at his place of employment, Career Personnel Service of Pittsburgh, Jenkins Arcade Building, Fifth and Liberty, Downtown Pittsburgh.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Having been advised of the identities of the interviewing Agents, Beech voluntarily furnished the following information:

During his period of active service with the United States Marine Corps, he was stationed in Japan with a fellow Marine, who may have been identical to Oswald. He could not be at all sure of the dates involved, but thinks it may have been in late 1957, or early 1958, when he came in contact with this individual. Beech said he was a radar technician attached to the United States Marine Corps Air Control Squadron One, with headquarters at a naval air station located near Atsuigi (phonetic), Japan. This other Marine, known to Beech only as (first name unknown) Oswald, was a radar operator with the same unit. Beech pointed out he was not friendly with this Oswald person, knew him only casually, even though they did live in the same barracks room. At this time Beech was a corporal, and he believes Oswald was either a corporal or a PFC. He knows nothing concerning this person Oswald's background, prior to their meeting in Japan. In fact, the only incident concerning this person which sticks in his mind is the following:

One night while they were in the barracks along with several other Marines, Oswald was sitting on his bed, cleaning a pistol, when it discharged. Beech and several other Marines, hearing the sound of the weapon, hurried over to Oswald's bunk, and noted an obvious gunshot wound in his left inner forearm. He stated the most peculiar thing about the incident to him was Oswald's reaction. The latter, sitting there with this obvious wound, said very matter of factly, "I believe I shot myself." Beech further recalled that the weapon was not a Marine Corps issue and he believes it was a .22 caliber pistol. That night Oswald was taken from the barracks for treatment and never returned to reside there again. He understood that Oswald received some sort of disciplinary action for possession of a privately owned weapon and he thinks he recalls having observed this person named Oswald in the mess hall a short time after the above incident with a Marine Corps Prison Chaser, leading him to believe that Oswald was given some brig time.

Beech could furnish absolutely no other information concerning this Marine named Oswald. He recalled that at the time of the assassination of President Kennedy and the period shortly thereafter when photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald appeared, that these photographs brought to mind the person with whom he was stationed in Japan, although he could not say for sure that the Marine he knew as (first name unknown) Oswald was identical with Lee Harvey Oswald. He said his reason for not coming forth with the above information at any time since November 22, 1963, was because thinking about the Marine with whom he was stationed and the possibility that he was identical with Lee Harvey Oswald, he experienced "very base emotional response and felt he would like to kill him if he met him."

Beech said he is positive he never read anywhere or heard from any source that Lee Harvey Oswald ever suffered a self-inflicted wound while serving in the United States Marine Corps.

He explained to the interviewing Agents that he and his wife are currently undergoing a rough period financially and have fallen behind on their car payments. Therefore, they felt that by contacting the local newspapers anonymously they might be able to sell the above information regarding the Marine he knew as Oswald. However, after getting an interested response from two newspapers contacted, they felt they should seek the advice of the FBI, before going any further.

Beech voluntarily furnished the following information concerning himself:

Assigned to El Torro, USMCAS, Santa Anna, California.

Thirty days furlough proceeded his transfer to Japan, where he remained for the next fourteen months.

It should be noted that on page 683 of the Report of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy, it is reflected that on October 27, 1957, Lee Harvey Oswald opened a locker to remove some gear and a .22 caliber derringer pistol fell to the floor and discharged, the bullet hitting him in the left elbow. At this time Oswald was assigned to the Marine Air Control Squadron No. 1, Marine Air Group 11, First Marine Aircraft Wing, based at Atsugi, Japan, about twenty miles west of Tokyo. Paul Edward Murphy, a fellow Marine, was in the next cubicle to Oswald, heard the shot and rushed in and found Oswald sitting on the locker looking at his arm, and without emotion Oswald allegedly said to Murphy "I believe I shot myself." Oswald was in the hospital at Yokosuka, Japan, until November 15, 1957. He was court martialed on April 11, 1958, and on April 29, 1958, was sentenced to be confined at hard labor for twenty days, and to forfeit $25.00 per month for two months, and reduced to the rank of private. His confinement was suspended for six months.

An affidavit from Paul Edward Murphy concerning the above incident is contained on pages 319 and 320 in Volume 8, of the Hearings Before the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy.

SUBJECT: "PLAYBOY" MAGAZINE
FEBRUARY, 1967, ISSUE

The current "Playboy" contains a lengthy interview of the notorious Mark Lane, author of "Rush to Judgment," a conscienceless attack upon the Warren Commission and its conclusions concerning the assassination of President Kennedy.

A review of Lane's book was made on October 6, 1966, shortly after its issue, and the many false allegations he made about the Bureau and the Commission were refuted in detail. A copy is attached.

The interview is a rehash of the scurrilous and irresponsible charges he made concerning the Warren Commission's conclusions. It is replete with allusions indicating the FBI did not thoroughly investigate the assassination.

He was questioned by the "Playboy" interviewer regarding the comment in his book that the Warren Commission "covered itself with shame" and asked whether or not he was accusing the Commission of lying to the American people. He replied he did not care to say that the Commission lied, but "it did issue a false report." Many of the half-truths, irresponsible statements, and downright lies reflected in his book were repeated in the interview. It does not appear necessary to again analyze these charges.

The current issue of "Playboy" magazine is enclosed.

Interviews with IRVING DAVID GEWERTZ and his wife, ANITA, 6422 Walnut Hill Lane, Dallas, Texas, are reflected on pages 52 thru 59 of the report of SA GEMBERLING dated 5/28/64.

On 2/3/67 Mrs. IRVING (ANITA) GEWERTZ telephonically contacted SA GEMBERLING at which time she stated she had endeavored to place an ad in the "Dallas Morning News" requesting individuals who had pictures of the presidential motorcade on 11/22/63 to contact her. She stated she was advised by officials of the "Dallas Morning News" that they would not run this ad until it was cleared by appropriate officials. Mrs. GEWERTZ asked if the FBI had any objection to such an ad and she was advised that the FBI would have no comment with respect to this matter. Mrs. GEWERTZ was most polite and stated it was strictly an effort to present all available photographs of the motorcade prior to the assassination. It was obvious from the conversation that Mrs. GEWERTZ was endeavoring to commercialize on any film obtained by her.

2-16-67 delivered

Dear Mr. Rowley:

Thank you for your letter dated February 13, 1967, advising me of your discussion with Chief Justice Earl Warren on January 31, 1967, and the information he furnished to you.

In connection with the allegation that a Castro conspiracy was involved in the assassination of President Kennedy, our investigation uncovered no evidence indicating Fidel Castro or officials of the Cuban Government were involved with Lee Harvey Oswald in the assassination of President Kennedy.

This Bureau is not conducting any investigation regarding this matter. However, should Mr. Pearson, Mr. Morgan, or Mr. Morgan's source of information care to volunteer any information to this Bureau, it would be accepted. Thereafter, consideration would be given as to whether any additional investigation is warranted.

I am taking the liberty of furnishing a copy of your letter and my reply to you to the Acting Attorney General.

Sincerely yours,

New Orleans Office previously advised that the District Attorney (DA) of New Orleans James Garrison has been conducting an independent investigation regarding the assassination of President Kennedy. His investigators are attempting to develop facts to show a conspiracy originated in New Orleans involving Cuban nationals and Oswald for the purpose of assassinating President Kennedy. In connection with the alleged Castro conspiracy, the Domestic Intelligence Division advised that during the investigation of Oswald, no evidence was uncovered indicating the Cuban Government had any connection with assassination. New Orleans was instructed to keep the Bureau advised of developments.

Attached teletype states that Garrison's investigators have contacted the DA's Office, Dade County, Florida, looking for an unnamed Cuban who allegedly associated with Oswald.

CHARLES R. CARSON, retired FBI Agent, who operates Southern Research Company of New Orleans, Inc., 333 St. Charles Avenue, at 8:35 AM, 2/17/67, telephonically advised he had received information that District Attorney JAMES GARRISON, Orleans Parish, had been conducting a Grand Jury investigation concerning the shooting of President JOHN F. KENNEDY.

CARSON advised he heard that JACK MARTIN, Private Investigator, who had worked for numerous investigative agencies in New Orleans, reportedly had made the statement that DAVID WILLIAM FERRIE and LEE HARVEY OSWALD were working together in the organization for Fair Play for Cuba.

CARSON stated he understood that in one or two days, GARRISON intended to break a big story in the newspapers concerning this, and that both MARTIN and FERRIE had been subpoenaed to testify before the Orleans Parish Grand Jury.

THE ASSASSINATION OF
PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

BACKGROUND:

The Sunday editions of the "Washington Post" and the "Washington Evening Star" for February 19, 1967, carried articles indicating that District Attorney Jim Garrison in New Orleans was conducting an investigation of the assassination and was claiming that the Warren Commission Report is inaccurate in stating Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President Kennedy. Garrison did not furnish details of his investigation to the press but stated that arrests will be made, charges will be filed, and convictions will be obtained.

The newspaper articles indicated that Miguel Torres, a 26-year-old Cuban who formerly lived only a block from Oswald's last known New Orleans address "is known to be connected with the District Attorney's investigation." The "Washington Evening Star" article also reported that David William Ferrie, part-time private investigator and operator of a New Orleans flying service, informed the press that the District Attorney's Office informed him it had "positively uncovered a plot in New Orleans to assassinate Kennedy."

DATA REGARDING GARRISON:

Bureau files reveal Jason O. Garrison was a former Bureau Agent who entered on duty 3/6/51 and resigned 7/24/51 for military purposes. His services were listed as satisfactory. He took office as District Attorney in New Orleans in May, 1962, and immediately became involved in a dispute with the New Orleans Police Department over his professed desire to clean up the so-called "minor vice" in New Orleans. In November, 1962, Garrison accused eight judges of delaying justice in New Orleans which resulted in the judges filing a defamation suit against Garrison. He was found guilty of such charges on 2/6/63 and was fined $1,000. He appealed his conviction and on 11/25/64 the U.S. Supreme Court reversed the conviction holding that the element of deliberate malice was lacking in the statements attributed to Garrison regarding the judges in New Orleans. [redacted] a reliable source, has informed the New Orleans Office that Garrison is politically ambitious and plans to run for Lieutenant Governor in Louisiana during the Fall of 1967.

ALLEGATIONS OF CONSPIRACY IN NEW ORLEANS:

During the course of our investigation of the assassination, we received a number of allegations indicating Oswald was in contact with Cuban or pro-Castro Cubans in New Orleans. Each allegation was very carefully and thoroughly run out and we found no evidence of any contact between Oswald and pro-Cuban sources in New Orleans. Furthermore, our investigation uncovered no evidence indicating Fidel Castro or officials of the Cuban Government were involved with Lee Harvey Oswald in the assassination of President Kennedy.

RE: Miguel Torres

During the course of our investigation of the assassination, we developed no information indicating acquaintanceship or contact between Oswald and Miguel Torres, mentioned above. On 10/25/62 we received information from a U.S. Customs investigator in New Orleans that Miguel Torres, his father, mother, and two brothers were all in his opinion pro-Castro in their beliefs and reportedly had a short-wave radio in their home for the purpose of receiving Cuban broadcasts. (105-117817) We initiated investigation of Miguel Torres and other members of his family on the basis of such allegations but found no information to corroborate such allegations. Our investigation did disclose that Miguel Torres was an unsavory character who had a criminal record. [redacted]

RE: David William Ferrie

Immediately following the assassination, we received allegations that Ferrie was acquainted with Oswald and was involved in the conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy. According to sources of the allegations, Ferrie, a qualified pilot, was to fly Oswald from Dallas following the assassination. We conducted extensive investigation of such allegations including interviews of Ferrie. No evidence was found to show that Ferrie knew Oswald or was involved in the assassination.

 CONTINUED - OVER

Memorandum W. A. Branigan to W. C. Sullivan
RE: THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
62-109060

Our New Orleans Office advised on 2/19/67 that a New Orleans newspaper carried an article on 2/19/67 quoting Ferrie as saying that the Garrison investigation of the assassination in New Orleans is a "big joke." Ferrie reportedly told the New Orleans newspaper that he had been "pegged as the getaway pilot in an elaborate plot to kill President Kennedy. Our New Orleans Office also reported that Ferrie had contacted the New Orleans Office and indicated he planned to take civil action against those accusing him of being involved in a plot to kill President Kennedy.

OBSERVATIONS:

As early as December, 1966, New Orleans advised Garrison was conducting some type of an investigation regarding the assassination. Upon instructions, New Orleans has been following this through reliable and confidential sources. One source with whom we were in contact advised Garrison did not want this information furnished to the FBI.

We do not know what evidence Garrison possesses, if any, corroborating his claim that other individuals besides Oswald were involved in the assassination of President Kennedy. We recognize Garrison is politically ambitious and this may be an attempt by him to keep his name before the public. It is not known what part Miguel Torres plays in Garrison's investigation. However, he may be furnishing information of some type to Garrison in exchange for a reduction in his prison sentence.

In view of Garrison's background and political ambitions, it is not felt we should lend any credence to Garrison's investigation by interviewing him at this time.

ACTION:

Attached are letters to the White House and the Acting Attorney General with copies to the Deputy Attorney General and the Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, enclosing a letterhead memorandum setting forth data concerning Garrison's statements to the press and results of our inquiries and file reviews in this matter.

BERNARDO TORRES

TORRES advised that his full name is BERNARDO GONZALEZ DE TORRES ALVAREZ, but that he is generally known as BERNARDO G. DE TORRES. He stated that he held the position of Military Coordinator of the 2506 Brigade organization. He displayed a resident alien Registration Card No. A 13 310 536, reflecting he had arrived in the U. S. from Cuba on 1/3/55 to take up permanent residence in the U. S. He said he had completed his high school education in Havana, Cuba, and had not attended school in the U. S. He advised that when he first came to the U. S., he lived in Detroit, Michigan, where he was employed by the Ford Motor Co. at Dearborn.

F/R

TORRES stated that although he is a permanent resident of the U. S., and considers himself loyal to the U. S., he felt compelled to fight against the CASTRO Government in Cuba, because Cuba is the land of his birth. He said that although his efforts to fight against Communism in Cuba might result in violation of U. S. law, he would not cease such efforts.

He said that he did not believe he would be imprisoned for a violation of Neutrality statutes, for the reason that the U. S. is also committed to the fight to overthrow CASTRO and further, the U. S. was involved in violation of neutrality in its support of the Cuban invasion of 4/61.

Description of TORRES obtained from interview is as follows:

Age:	32
Born:	3/26/34 Havana Province, Cuba
Height:	6' - 6' 1"
Weight:	157 pounds

Hair:	Black, straight, balding on top
Eyes:	Dark brown, large
Complexion:	Olive
Brother:	CARLOS DE TORRES, employed by a private detective agency in Miami.

On 5/18/66, TORRES was briefly contacted by the Miami Office concerning the anti-CASTRO plans of the Association of Veterans of the Bay of Pigs (an organization of Cubans who participated in the Cuban invasion of 4/61), and at that time, TORRES advised he was residing at 110 N. W. 41st Avenue in Miami, and was the military leader of the association, and had been working on military plans, which he declined to reveal.

The Miami Office is taking no investigative action with respect to the matters published in the enclosed newspaper articles, in the absence of instructions from the Bureau, New Orleans, or the OO.

Kennedy Murder 'Plot' Probe Shifts To Miami Cuban Area

By BILL BARRY
Reporter of The Miami News

Somewhere in Miami's Cuban colony today, Bernardo Torres is probably a little nervous.

For the past month or so he has been helping detectives from New Orleans look for an old friend of his. They told him that his old friend was wanted for questioning in a criminal investigation.

Torres got nearly $600 for his help.

He could not lead the detectives to his old friend.

Today Bernardo Torres probably realizes the detectives want his old friend because they think he knows the people who planned the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

At least 13 investigators from the Orleans Parish District Attorney's office have come to Miami in the past three months, seeking Torres' friend. They have a picture which allegedly shows Lee Harvey Oswald in a comradely pose with a group of Cubans -- one of whom is Bernardo's friend.

A New Orleans source says that Jim Garrison the D.A. began his investigation into the assassination because of tips from a private investigator. Garrison will not say why he is investigating, nor even confirm that he is. He was one of the investigators who came to Miami and has spent more than $3,000 — most of it last month — in the investigation.

The New Orleans States-Item reported yesterday that Garrison is investigating, "the possibility of a well-organized assassination plot in which New Orleans and New Orleans residents were somehow directly involved."

Evilio Santana used to be a New Orleans resident. He is not Torres' old friend. Now he lives in Miami. Once he was a commercial fisherman. He is a convicted burglar. He was told that if he did not go to New Orleans voluntarily and answer questions raised in the investigation, he would be extradicted. He went on Feb. 8 and again on the 13th.

Garrison's men got the reputation of going through the Cuban colony here like bulls in a china shop.

Maybe that's why Bernardo Torres' friend was able to keep one jump ahead of them until he disappeared completely in Fort Lauderdale. The investigators also almost missed Evilio Santana. The investigator who was supposed to meet him in New Orleans never showed up. Evilio stayed till his money ran out and then came home. Garrison sent him some more money to come back.

Garrison's investigators have also sought people and investigated leads in Houston, Dallas, Washington, San Francisco and the Louisiana State Penitentiary. They moved one Cuban from the State Penitentiary to a prison nearer the D.A.'s office.

In the summer before the assassination this Cuban lived one block away from Lee Harvey Oswald on Magazine Street in New Orleans.

All in all, Garrison has used at least 20 investigators on the case. New Orleans sources say that that is a large number for the size of his office. But one source said this may indicate Garrison is on to something of major significance.

Mrs. Sylvia Odio, a Cuban who lives in Miami, told the Warren Commission that Oswald and two men who appeared to be Cubans were talking about killing Kennedy because he let the Cubans down during the Bay of Pigs invasion attempt. She said she met them and heard the talk in Dallas on Sept. 26 or 27, 1963. At that time Oswald was in Mexico.

Two theories exist about when the Oswald-Cuban picture was taken in New Orleans. One says it was taken in November of 1962 — when Oswald was in Russia. The other says it was taken one week before the assassination — when Oswald was in Dallas.

Garrison's investigation has thus given impetus to the independent investigators who theorize that an Oswald double was used to frame him for the assassination.

They say that the double was seen firing a rifle expertly, driving a car, and smoking cigarets. They also say Oswald was a poor shot, could not drive, and did not smoke.

Warren Report Wrong'

JFK Death Probe Sees Conspiracy

By CARLOS MARTINEZ
Of Our Latin America Staff

A highly secret probe launched by New Orleans authorities to determine if Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone when he killed President Kennedy will prove the Warren Report wrong, key investigators in New Orleans and Miami predicted Saturday.

New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison, who started the investigation last fall out of "curiosity," disclosed that he has come to the conclusion that the Warren Report is "wrong" in stating Oswald was part of no conspiracy.

Similar statements were aired in Miami by a Cuban private detective Garrison hired to look into the backgrounds of several Cubans who associated with Oswald shortly before the assassination.

"The Warren Report and the FBI report will crumble when this investigation is released," Bernardo Torres, 32, head of the Associated Investigators Inc. told The Herald.

Torres was identified by a New Orleans newspaper, The States-Item, as a close friend of one of Oswald's Cuban friends. The paper said he had identified one of the Cubans from a picture of Oswald with the group.

Torres, a private eye since 1958, confirmed the existence of the unpublished pictures which he said were taken in New Orleans shortly before the assassination. He strongly denied knowing any of the Cubans in it.

In New Orleans, Garrison said in a press conference that his investigation shows that a plan was developed in New Orleans which culminated in the assassination of Kennedy. "Arrests will be made," he warned.

"There were other people besides Lee Harvey Oswald involved," he said. "New Orleans was a factor in the planning beyond the shadow of a doubt."

"We already have the names of the people in the initial planning," the prosecutor said. "We are not wasting our time and we will prove it. Arrests will be made. Charges will be filed and convictions will be obtained.

Garrison said his office had jurisdiction in the case because of a Louisiana law "which forbids conspiracy of any kind."

Garrison, who has spent more than $8,000 in covering ground which he claimed was left virgin by the Warren investigators, said he thought the Warren Commission "did not have sufficient evaluation machinery."

In Miami, Torres said Garrison sent for him Saturday after their provate probe was revealed in New Orleans and stories were carried by Miami newspapers.

He said he has been working with the prosecutor for "several months" and added he was charging no fees because he considered the investigation to be "in the public's interest." He said he's only charging expenses, $1,500 so far.

A veteran of the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba and presently the Brigade 2506 military coordinator, Torres was reluctant to discuss results of the Miami side of the investigation. He said some of the angles were "classified," such as reports of an Oswald visit here.

He said, however, that he agreed with Garrison in that the Warren Report is "incomplete..."

Torres was among a group of ten Cuban who helped Secret Service men protect President Kennedy when he visited Miami four days before his assassination.

He said the Secret Service had requested the help of trustable Cubans during the visit to spot possible Cuban assassins.

"The Secret Service definitely expected an attempt against Kennedy," Torres commented.

JFK Death Prober Seeks Miami Cuban

By KARL WICKSTROM
Herald Staff Writer

New Orleans authorities are searching for a Cuban who lived in Miami in an investigation of reports of a conspiracy in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Investigators have obtained a photo showing the Cuban posing with the assassin of President John F. Kennedy, Lee Harvey Oswald, informed sources told The Herald. And the probe has included at least six trips to Miami since last Nov. 25. since last Nov. 25.

New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison, who is directing the inquiry and has spent more than $8,000 thus far, confirmed that a probe is under way but wouldn't discuss it.

Some facets of the highly secret investigation came to light Friday in a news article in the New Orleans States-Item, which cited the "possibility of a well organized assassination plot" against Kennedy involving New Orleans residents.

The States-Item traced expenditures by Garrison's men for trips and other items.

One expense voucher showed that the DA's office in New Orleans paid $598 to Bernardo Torres of Miami. The payment was dated Jan. 20 "for investigative expenses." Information about Torres was unavailable.

Garrison was not available for comment on information about a purported photo linking Oswald to the missing Cuban.

In visits to Miami, Garrison's men have looked through thousands of law enforcement photographs in their manhunt.

Investigators are checking a report which came from a prison inmate to the effect that Oswald and the Cuban met several times and that the Cuban assisted Oswald in the killing of the President on Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas.

There were no hints to the identity of the Cuban except that he had lived in Miami. New Orleans investigators have a full description and identification, besides the photo, informed sources said.

Expense records published by States-Item showed $101 was paid to Russell W. Buckbolt Jr. for a trip last Monday from Miami to New Orleans.

The first Miami trip, according to the expense records, was Dec. 2 for one of Garrison's investigators, John Voltz, to come from New Orleans to Miami.

One of the searches of records was at the Dade Sheriff's Office two weeks ago, involving four New Orleans detectives attached to Garrison's office. They were Fenner Sedgeber, Kept Simms, Clancy Navarre and Charles Jonau.

Arthur Huttoe, executive assistant state attorney in Miami, confirmed that New Orleans authorities had been here looking for a Cuban. But Huttoe directed all other inquiries to Garrison.

Other investigative trips included visits to Dallas, Houston, Washington and San Francisco.

The States-Item story said Garrison chief assistant Charles Ray Ward confirmed reports of the investigation several weeks ago.

Miami area officials would make no statements and federal sources remained silent.

The States-Item said Garrison's office put 24-hour surveillance last month on a man who was arrested in New Orleans on Nov. 26, 1963, as a fugitive from Texas. The man was supposed to appear before the Parish Grand Jury but it wasn't known whether he did.

This apparently referred to pilot David Ferry, who had been detained for questioning in New Orleans four days after the assassination.

Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade shrugged off that phase of the investigation by saying:

"Rumors were flying around that he (Oswald) was supposed to go to an airport and somebody was supposed to fly him away, but as far as I know the reports were nothing but rumors. I don't even know that he was ever in the air."

The Warren Commission reported it found no evidence of any conspiracy in the assassination and concluded that Oswald acted completely alone.

The Second Man Theme

LEE HARVEY OSWALD, a marksman, owned a rifle which was found abandoned in a building in Dallas. Fired from a window in that building where Oswald was known to be, bullets from that rifle struck and killed President John F. Kennedy. Oswald fled the building, was seen in flight, and was captured in a theater. He denied everything.

This is some of the circumstantial evidence which identified Oswald as the President's assassin. Because of inept police procedures which, however, do not indicate a conspiracy, he was never tried.

Now the second man theme has been revived in New Orleans and in Miami, where police reportedly are looking for a co-conspirator. The chances that one will be found are slim, for the real evidence against Oswald has yet to be impeached. The chances are rather that a pursuit of conspiracy, based on romantic evidence, will go on through history. In that kind of tragedy, the last suspicion is never put to rest.

Hard-Nosed DA Vows Arrests in JFK 'Plot'

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Jim Garrison, a pistol-packing district attorney best known for his political brawls, is bidding for the investigative jackpot of the century — trying to prove a conspiracy existed in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The 6-foot-6 district attorney said "arrests will be made" and added:

"This is no Mickey Mouse investigation. There were other people involved besides Lee Harvey Oswald."

The exhaustive investigation by the Warren Commission showed that Oswald — a former New Orleans resident — killed the president in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963, and that there was no evidence anyone else was involved.

Many critics of the Warren Report have long contended there had to be several people involved in the slaying.

Word that Garrison was sniffing along new trials in an investigation of the assassination leaked out Friday in a newspaper story. Garrison was not happy about the public stir.

Reluctantly, he confirmed the newspaper's report that the probe was in progress. An assassination conspiracy was hatched here, he said, which "culminated in what happened in Dallas."

"Charges will be filed and convictions will be obtained," he said.

That was about all Garrison had to say about the situation but it causes ears to perk up all over the world.

Garrison, 44, reelected to a second four-year term last year, has played his cards close to his vest. Police Chief Joseph Giarrusso said he had no knowledge of the district attorney's activities regarding the assassination.

The FBI declined comment.

During hin span in office — he went in as a reform candidate — Garrison has been consistently and exuberantly controversial.

His political fights are always bigger than life. The opponents have included the Police Department, the mayor, the Legislature, a citizens crime commission and even the eight Criminal District Court Judges.

All eight judges charged Garrison with defamation of character in 1963, after he accused them of trying to cripple an anti-vice drive in New Orleans' French Quarter, a tourist stomping ground of night clubs and strip joints.

Before it was over, the fight went all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court, where Garrison won.

The high court ruled that critics have an unconditional freedom to criticize official conduct of public officials, if the element of deliberate malice is lacking.

Garrison, a greying and persuasive giant who wears size 14 shoes and carries a little snub-nosed pistol under his coat, succeeded in getting the last Legislature to pass a law setting a maximum penalty of death for armed robbery.

A shrewd and ambitious man, Garrison's casual conversations have a pungency and directness rare in political circles.

He has swung a lot of political weight hereabouts because he was one of John J. McKeithen's most active backers in the gubernatorial campaign. McKeithen, a dark horse candidate, won.

Despite his prowness in political guerrilla wars, Garrison has yet to handle a court case of national scope. None have come his way.

The Kennedy case, if critics of the Warren Commission are right, holds a potential and historic jackpot.

Public disclosure of the investigation put the pressure on Garrison. Most officials reserved comment but in Stamford, Conn., John J. McCloy, a commission member, said:

"Let's see what his evidence is. We did not say Oswald acted alone. We said we could find no credible evidence that he acted with anyone else."

McCloy said the commission checked Oswald's activities in New Orleans and the investigation, "at least at that time, didn't produce anything."

By letter dated 2-12-67 (attached), Richmond refers to an article in the 2-25-67 issue of "The Saturday Evening Post" which reports an interview with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. In this interview Nixon discusses the assassination of President Kennedy and relates to a conversation he had with Mr. Hoover on 11-22-63. According to Nixon, he called Mr. Hoover and asked, "What happened? Was it one of the nuts?" Mr. Hoover is reported as saying "No, it was a Communist." Richmond asked if Mr. Hoover remembers the call from Mr. Nixon and whether the statement attributed to Mr. Hoover is correctly quoted.

A review of Bufiles does not disclose a record of Mr. Hoover's conversation with Mr. Nixon on 11-22-63; however, the Director's Office does have a record indicating Mr. Nixon telephonically contacted Mr. Hoover about 4 p.m., 11-22-63. During the conversation with the Attorney General at 4:01 p.m. on 11-22-63, the Attorney General asked Mr. Hoover if Oswald was a communist. Mr. Hoover said Oswald is not a communist but has communist leanings. Mr. Hoover told the Attorney General it is entirely possible Oswald may have some communist sympathies but, so far as we know, he is not a member of the Communist Party.

OBSERVATION:

Since a record of the 11-22-63 conversation between Mr. Nixon and Mr. Hoover is not available, it is believed we should not make a positive statement either affirming or denying the quote attributed to the Director in the 2-25-67 issue of "The Saturday Evening Post." The attached letter to Mr. Richmond leaves open the question as to exactly what was said during this conversation.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

Lee Harvey Oswald

"The Washington Post" on 2/20/67 carried article captioned "Assassination Report Will Grow, Cuban Says." Article in summary states that Bernardo Torres, Cuban exile and military coordinator of Brigade 2506, anti-Castro group, stated he helped Secret Service guard President Kennedy in Miami, Florida, four days before the assassination. Torres, a private detective who has been helping New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison in an investigation looking toward reopening the Kennedy assassination case, stated he believes the Warren report will be proved incomplete.

Pursuant to the Director's request concerning Bernardo Torres, Burrill Peterson, Assistant to the Director, Secret Service, was contacted by liaison on 2/20/67. Peterson stated that he contacted the Secret Service Special Agent in Charge in Miami, John Marshall, concerning the above-mentioned news article. Peterson advised that President Kennedy was in Miami on November 18, 1963, and spoke at the Orange Bowl. Since there were rumors prevalent that some Cubans might try to embarrass the President, Secret Service contacted several Cuban groups before the Kennedy visit and asked for their assistance. Brigade 2506 was one of the groups contacted but Secret Service did not talk to Torres. Torres is known to be a member of Brigade 2506, but not known as one of the top leaders. Some Cubans did mingle in the crowd to try to identify trouble makers.

ENCLOSURE

Our files indicate that Torres is identical with Bernardo Gonzalez de Torres Alvarez, Cuban exile born 3/26/34 in Cuba and military coordinator of Brigade 2506. Torres participated in the April, 1961, invasion of Cuba and has been periodically reported as being involved in plans of Brigade 2506 to launch attacks on Cuba and vessels trading with Cuba. He has been interviewed on several occasions and has been cooperative.

Assassination Report Will Grow, Cuban Says

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19 (AP) A Cuban exile who says he helped the Secret Service guard John F. Kennedy here four days before his assassination asserted today he believes the Warren report will be proved incomplete.

The exile, 32-year-old Bernardo Torres, has been helping New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison in an investigation looking toward reopening the Kennedy assassination case.

Garrison said yesterday that the assassination was the culmination of a conspiracy that began in New Orleans. He said arrests would be made but would not elaborate further.

"Another chapter will be added to the Warren report when the investigation is released," predicted Torres, now a private detective.

Torres said he was one of 10 Cubans who helped protect Mr. Kennedy in Miami, which has a large Cuban colony. He said the Secret Service had asked trusted Cubans to spot suspicious looking Cubans.

Torres told newsmen "the Secret Service definitely expected an attempt against Mr. Kennedy."

The exile said Garrison engaged him to look into the background of some Cubans reported to have been with Oswald shortly before the Nov. 22, 1963, tragedy in Dallas.

Torres said he had seen photographs of Oswald with some Cubans. But he said he was not acquainted with the Cubans. The photographs were reported to have been taken in New Orleans shortly before the assassination.

He declined to discuss a report that Oswald had visited Miami to talk with Cubans.

Nor would he talk about reports that some exiles, angry at Mr. Kennedy's failure to take action which might have saved the unsuccessful 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion, were talking about killing the President.

Torres was a member of the invasion brigade. He now is military coordinator of its veterans' organization, called Brigade 2506.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Watson:

The Sunday editions of two Washington, D. C., newspapers for February 19, 1967, carried articles indicating that District Attorney Jim Garrison in New Orleans, Louisiana, is conducting an investigation of the assassination of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Allegedly Garrison claims that the Warren Commission Report is inaccurate in stating Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Enclosed is a memorandum which sets forth a concise summary of the results of our investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald from April, 1963, when he returned to New Orleans from Dallas, Texas, until September, 1963, when he traveled to Mexico City, Mexico. Also set forth is information in our files concerning District Attorney Garrison and data concerning Miguel Torres and David William Ferrie who are mentioned in these newspaper articles.

I thought this information would be of interest to the President. Additional pertinent information concerning this matter that comes to our attention will be immediately furnished to you.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

The Sunday editions of the "Washington Post" and the "Washington Evening Star" dated February 19, 1967, contained articles reporting that District Attorney Jim Garrison of New Orleans, Louisiana, was conducting an investigation of the assassination of the late President Kennedy and was claiming that the Warren Commission Report is inaccurate in stating that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination. Garrison did not furnish details of his investigation to the press, but stated that arrests will be made, charges will be filed, and convictions will be obtained.

The newspaper articles indicated that Miguel Torres, a 26-year-old Cuban who formerly lived only a block from Oswald's last known New Orleans address, is known to be connected with the investigation conducted by the District Attorney's office. The "Washington Evening Star" article also reported that David William Ferrie, a part-time private investigator and operator of a New Orleans flying service, informed the press that the District Attorney's office informed him it had "positively uncovered a plot in New Orleans to assassinate Kennedy."

James C. Garrison, District Attorney in New Orleans, Louisiana, is a former Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He entered on duty with this Bureau on March 5, 1951, and resigned on July 24, 1951, to enter military service. His services with this Bureau were satisfactory.

Garrison was elected District Attorney, Parish of Orleans, New Orleans, Louisiana, and took office in May, 1962. On November 1 and 2, 1962, the New Orleans "Times-Picayune" carried statements by Garrison charging that the parish criminal-court judges were clogging up the city jail and delaying justice by taking excessive vacation periods. Following such charges, the judges involved instituted a defamation charge against Garrison. The trial received nation-wide publicity and Garrison was found guilty on February 6, 1963, of the charges and was fined $1,000. Garrison appealed his conviction and on November 24, 1964, the United States Supreme Court reversed the conviction of Garrison. The United States Supreme Court held that the element of deliberate malice was lacking in the statements attributed to Garrison regarding the trial judges involved.

A confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past has informed this Bureau that Garrison is politically ambitious. Our New Orleans Office has advised that rumors have been circulating in the city of New Orleans indicating Garrison may be a candidate for Lieutenant Governor of the State of Louisiana in the next election to be held in December, 1967. [redacted]

Following the assassination of President Kennedy, this Bureau conducted an extensive investigation in New Orleans, Louisiana, concerning Oswald's residence there from April, 1963, to September 25, 1963, when he left New Orleans to travel to Mexico City, Mexico. Following his move to New Orleans from Dallas, Texas, in April, 1963, Oswald, responding to a newspaper advertisement, obtained a position with William B. Reily Company, Incorporated, an enterprise engaged in the roasting, grinding, canning, bagging, and selling of coffee. Oswald's task was the lubrication of the company's machinery. Oswald obtained an apartment at 4905 Magazine Street and made arrangements for his wife, Marina, and his child to join him in New Orleans. On July 19, 1963, Oswald was dismissed by the Reily Company because of inefficiency and inattention to his work.

On July 25, 1963, Oswald received another personal setback when he was notified that, in response to the request for review which he had made in 1962, his undesirable discharge from the United States Marine Corps had been affirmed. It was during the same period that Oswald began to evidence thoughts of returning to the Soviet Union or going to Cuba. On July 24, 1963, Oswald applied for a new passport, which he received on the following day.

In late May and early June, 1963, Oswald apparently had begun to formulate plans for creating a New Orleans branch of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. Using a false name, Oswald ordered a number of printed circulars, demanding "hands off Cuba" in large letters, and application forms and membership cards for the proposed chapter. On August 5, 1963, he visited a store managed by Carlos Bringuier, a Cuban refugee and avid opponent of Castro and the New Orleans delegate of the Cuban student directorate. Oswald indicated an interest in joining the struggle against Castro.

On August 9, 1963, Bringuier saw Oswald pass out Fair Play for Cuba Committee leaflets. Bringuier and Oswald got into a dispute which resulted in their arrests for disturbing the peace. Oswald pleaded guilty to the charges against him and paid a $10 fine.

On August 17, 1963, Oswald appeared on a radio program in New Orleans representing himself to be a member of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. On August 21, 1963, Oswald engaged in a debate on another radio program at which time he defended the Castro regime and discussed Marxism.

During this period, Oswald wrote several letters to V. T. Lee, the National Director of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. Oswald informed Lee in exaggerated terms of his activities in New Orleans. He also wrote to the Communist Party in New York City and informed Communist Party officials of his activities. On September 25, 1963, Oswald left New Orleans by bus en route to Mexico City.

During the course of our investigation of Oswald's activities in New Orleans, we received no evidence that Oswald was in personal contact with pro-Castro Cubans nor any indication that he might be involved in an assassination plot with others to kill President Kennedy.

In the "Washington Post" article, mentioned above, it is reported that Miguel Torres is known to be connected with the investigation being conducted by the District Attorney in New Orleans. On October 25, 1962, this Bureau received a complaint that Miguel Torres, along with his father, mother, and two brothers, was pro-Castro in his belief. It was also alleged that the Torres family had a short-wave radio in their home for the purpose of receiving Cuban broadcasts. We initiated investigation of Miguel Torres and other members of his family on the basis of such allegations but found no information to corroborate such allegations. Our investigation did disclose that Miguel Torres had a criminal record. He was arrested February 1, 1959, on an armed robbery charge and was sentenced on October 2, 1959, for a period of ten years in the State Penitentiary. On February 2, 1961, he was discharged from the Louisiana State Penitentiary. He was arrested again on September 5, 1964, by the New Orleans Police Department on burglary charges and was sentenced to nine years in the Louisiana State Penitentiary. In September, 1964, he was also arrested by the Bureau of Narcotics for violation of the Federal Narcotics Law. He was sentenced on January 6, 1965, to three years in a Federal Penitentiary with the sentence to begin after completion of the nine-year sentence in the Louisiana State Penitentiary.

During the course of our investigation of the assassination, we developed no information indicating acquaintanceship or contact between Lee Harvey Oswald and Miguel Torres.

In the "Washington Evening Star" article, mentioned above, it was reported that David William Ferrie, part-time private investigator and operator of a New Orleans flying service, stated the New Orleans District Attorney's office informed him it had "positively uncovered a plot in New Orleans to assassinate Kennedy." Immediately following the assassination of the late President Kennedy, this Bureau received an allegation that Lee Harvey Oswald may have been acquainted with David William Ferrie through a Civil Air Patrol group in New Orleans. The source of such allegation stated that Ferrie was an amateur hypnotist and the source felt that Ferrie may have hypnotized Oswald and planted a post-hypnotic suggestion that Oswald kill President Kennedy. We also received allegations that Ferrie, a qualified pilot, was to fly Oswald from Dallas following his assassination of President Kennedy.

We conducted extensive inquiries concerning the allegations surrounding Ferrie, including interviews of Ferrie. We developed no evidence that Ferrie knew Oswald or that Ferrie was involved in the assassination of President Kennedy.

On February 19, 1967, our New Orleans Office advised that the New Orleans "Times-Picayune" newspaper for February 19, 1967, carried an article which indicated that Ferrie stated the investigation of the assassination carried on by District Attorney Garrison is a "big joke." Ferrie reportedly told a New Orleans reporter that he had been pegged as the getaway pilot in an elaborate plot to kill President Kennedy. Ferrie has contacted our New Orleans Office and has stated he plans to take civil action against those accusing him of being involved in a plot to kill President Kennedy.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

The Sunday editions of two Washington, D. C., newspapers for February 19, 1967, carried articles indicating that District Attorney Jim Garrison in New Orleans, Louisiana, is conducting an investigation of the assassination of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Allegedly Garrison claims that the Warren Commission Report is inaccurate in stating Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Enclosed is a memorandum which sets forth a concise summary of the results of our investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald from April, 1963, when he returned to New Orleans from Dallas, Texas, until September, 1963, when he traveled to Mexico City, Mexico. Also set forth is information in our files concerning District Attorney Garrison and data concerning Miguel Torres and David William Ferrie who are mentioned in those newspaper articles.

Additional pertinent information concerning this matter that comes to our attention will be immediately furnished to you.

This data is also being furnished to the Honorable Marvin Watson, Special Assistant to the President.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

We have received a letter dated February 14, 1967, from Dr. Carlos Bringuier, a New Orleans, Louisiana, businessman alleging that the New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison is attempting to place the blame for the assassination of President Kennedy on a group of Cuban refugees in New Orleans. Dr. Bringuier requested that this Bureau direct a complete investigation of those "who are spreading these false rumors." Dr. Bringuier is a Cuban refugee and outspoken opponent of Fidel Castro. He is the New Orleans delegate of the Cuban student directorate. During the course of our investigation of the assassination, we determined that Lee Harvey Oswald visited a store managed by Dr. Bringuier on August 5, 1963. Oswald indicated an interest in joining Bringuier's group in their struggle against Fidel Castro.

On August 9, 1963, Bringuier saw Oswald pass out Fair Play for Cuba leaflets in New Orleans. Bringuier and Oswald got into a dispute which resulted in their arrest for disturbing the peace. Oswald pleaded guilty to the charge against him and paid a $10 fine.

On August 21, 1963, a New Orleans radio station arranged a debate between Oswald and Dr. Bringuier concerning Cuba. In the course of this debate, Oswald defended the Castro regime and discussed Marxism. Bringuier claimed that Oswald was a communist.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

I have previously furnished you information received concerning the investigation being conducted by New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison concerning the assassination of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

A source who has furnished reliable information in the past has advised it was his impression that District Attorney Garrison was having difficulty establishing that Mr. Clay Shaw, who was recently arrested by the District Attorney's office, and Clay Bertrand were the same. The District Attorney's office also, according to this source, has been inquiring about two men who have been described by that office as friends of Shaw. These two are Grady Durham and William Wayne Dalzell.

The files of this Bureau reveal that Grady Clifford Durham was apprehended by Special Agents of the FBI on April 23, 1964, in Washington, D. C. Durham was arrested as a fugitive from New Orleans, Louisiana; he was wanted for [redacted] He was described as a [redacted] Durham was born April 28, 1907, in Louisiana.

Bureau files also reveal that in 1961, Durham was associated and involved with anti-Castro groups in New Orleans.

In connection with Durham's arrest in 1964, Bureau files reveal that Jack S. Martin, a private investigator who has been mentioned by news media as a figure in Mr. Garrison's assassination investigation, and the above-mentioned Dalzell helped Durham by removing certain files from his office in order to keep them from the hands of New Orleans authorities.

Dalzell was investigated in 1958 to determine if his activities in Ethiopia were such that he should register under the Registration Act. The investigation was closed when it was determined that there was insufficient evidence that his activities came within the requirements of the Registration Act.

In 1961, Dalzell was involved with individuals in New Orleans in anti-Castro activities. An investigation of his activities at the time yielded no evidence that he was violating any law of the United States.

The criminal records of the Identification Division of this Bureau reveal that Dalzell was fingerprinted in February, 1963, at the Central Louisiana State Mental Hospital, Pinesville, Louisiana. The files of this Bureau reveal that Dalzell admitted that in January, 1963, he was hospitalized in a Louisiana State mental hospital from which he was discharged on March 20, 1963.

DA Attempts Tighter 'Plot' Case Secrecy

District Attorney Jim Garrison says that, while he is quite confident he will prove the existence of a plot to murder President Kennedy, that arrests in his probe are "months away."

Garrison, at an hour-long press conference yesterday afternoon, said that he is clamping strict secrecy on his investigation and will set up a special fund so he won't have to file public expense vouchers which give a clue to the activities of his investigators.

The district attorney contends there was a conspiracy born in New Orleans which resulted in the assassination of Mr. Kennedy Nov. 22, 1963.

THE OFFICIAL report by the Warren Commission said Kennedy was shot by Lee Harvey Oswald — a former New Orleans resident—and that it found no credible evidence anyone else was involved.

The press conference was by special invitation to all interested newsmen except representatives of the States-Item and The Times-Picayune.

Representatives of dozens of newspapers, television companies and wire services were called into a small room in Garrison's office a few at a time and told there would be a press conference at the Fontainebleau Motor Hotel.

They were asked not to reveal this information to other newsmen.

ALL PRESS repreesntatives who had been waiting for Garrison since 10 a. m. were asked to sign their names and news affiliations on a sheet of paper about 1:30 p. m.

All of these persons were called into the room except representatives present from the States-Item and The Times-Picayune.

Private Detective William Gurvich, who has been hired by Garrison as a special aid in this investigation, told Mrs. Rosemary James of the States-Item she would be barred.

Other representatives barred from the conference were Bert Ilyde of the States-Item, Bob Ussery and Joe Darby of The Times-Picayune and photographers Mike Bates and Robert Steiner.

Garrison said he was displeased with the States-Item for disclosing that he was conducting an investigation.

IN THE hour-long conference he revealed no new information of any significance concerning the investigation. One reporter remarked after the conference that Garrison gave an "hour-long no comment".

Garrison said that the disclosure of his investigation had put the life of one witness in danger and then said this witness was not very important to the case.

Garrison complained that he was short-staffed. When asked by one reporter present at the conference why he doesn't turn his information over to a federal agency to pursue, Garrison's reply was, "What? And wait three years?"

Asked if he thought any foreign country or any official was involved in the alleged conspiracy, Garrison said no.

He turned away most questions with "no comment."

GARRISON'S investigation has stirred both interest and skepticism.

In Washington yesterday, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., urged that the Warren Commission reopen its investigation.

Detroit attorney for the late Jack Ruby, Sol A. Dann, telegraphed Garrison urging him to arrange for a federal or state grand jury probe. Dann sent a similar letter to state attorney general Jack P. F. Gremillion requesting that an inquiry be made into "Jim Garrison's information or evidence."

Garrison said he has no intention now of turning over his information to either federal or state officials.

IN BATON Rouge, Gov. John J. McKeithen said he will provide state cooperation if Garrison needs it.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald of Fort Worth, Tex., mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, offered any help she could give to Garrison in his investigation.

Dean A. Andrews Jr., assistant Jefferson Parish district attorney, said he was contacted by a man named Clay Bertrand shortly after the assassination and asked to defend Oswald. The Warren Commission was unable to locate the man identified as Bertrand.

GARRISON'S INVESTIGATION, LONG id, is centering around Oswald's former sociates in New Orleans.

The senator said Garrison was keeping n informed of developments "only in a neral way."

In New Orleans, Garrison threw a cloak secrecy today around his investigation.

Garrison told a press conference that it may be months before his promised arrests and convictions in connection with the alleged plot.

He blamed the duration of the probe on what he considers premature publicity. The DA had made an agreement to break the story in a national magazine, but the States-Item dug out the news on its own and revealed it last Friday.

ASSASSINATION OF

DALLAS, TEXAS

Assistant Attorney General Harold Barefoot Sanders, Jr., Civil Division, Department of Justice, called the Bureau at 5:35 p.m., February 20, 1967, and made reference to an article in the "Washington Daily News" for February 20, 1967. According to this article, David Lewis, a bus station express handler who worked as a private investigator in New Orleans in the months before the assassination, claimed to have the names of five persons allegedly involved in the planning phase of the plot on President Kennedy's life. Mr. Sanders requested that he be furnished information in Bureau files that can be identified with David Lewis.

Our files disclose that James S. Martin, a private investigator in New Orleans who reportedly is a mental case and who was a psychiatric patient in a New Orleans hospital in 1956-1957, informed our Dallas Office on January 13, 1967, that the District Attorney's Office had interviewed David Lewis in connection with the assassination. According to Martin, Lewis claimed to have met Lee Harvey Oswald while working for former SAC W. Guy Banister in New Orleans, at which time Mr. Banister was a private investigator. Martin claimed Oswald was in contact with two Cuban nationals at the time Lewis met Oswald.

[redacted] reliable source of the New Orleans Office, advised on January 27, 1967, he had been [redacted] and one of the individuals under investigation is David Lewis.

On February 19, 1967, [redacted] advised he learned that Lewis had been interviewed by investigators of the District Attorney's Office in New Orleans and had identified Raul Torres, Sergio Arcacha Smith and Carlos Quiroga as individuals under suspicion by the District Attorney's Office as being involved in the conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy.

Our files contain no information identifiable with Raul Torres. Sergio Arcacha Smith is a Cuban emigre who has cooperated with our New Orleans Office in anti-Castro matters. He is a former delegate of an anti-Castro organization in New Orleans. He is not known to be an acquaintance of Lee Harvey Oswald and we have received no evidence he is involved in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Carlos Quiroga is a Cuban refugee in New Orleans who volunteered information to our New Orleans Office on November 27, 1963, reporting he had become aware of Oswald's activities in New Orleans in August, 1963, at which time Oswald was passing out Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature. Quiroga stated he contacted Oswald to determine the extent of his pro-Castro activities and had reported such contacts to the New Orleans Police Department. We have received no evidence that Carlos Quiroga is involved in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Sir:

As you have to know I am the same persona who was arrested in New Orleans on August 9, 1963 with Lee Harvey Oswald and the same who debated him on a radio debate.

The reason of this letter is to let you know of an amazing thing that is going on in this city. The District Attorney Mr. Jim Garrison is carrying on an investigation in regard to the conections of Lee Harvey Oswald in the city as if Oswald were in contact with some anticomunist people en New Orleans.

When I am writing you this letter I have just returned from a lie detector testo which was offered to me by Mr. Garrison. Some of the general ideas of Mr. Garrison are that:

1) Oswald bas brought to New Orleans by Mr. Riley from the Riley coffee co. and according to Mr. Garrison this man Mr. Riley is an anticomunist comervative.

y are trying to tie facts and issues that are impossible be tied, showing contacts of Oswald with Cuban refugees.

As I understand that this whole thing will finish in zero in regard to try to find any posible Cuban refugge participation in the assassinatio I don't have any fear as a single person or as part of the group of Cuban refugges in the city, but as an anticomunist I am convinced (alre I received the information that Life Magazine will carry an article on this investigation) that the ones who are going to use this thing are the communists. They first put the blamen on the CIA, the FBI and even on you. Later they put the blame, as Radio Havana Cuba implied on Nove 22nd., 1966, on President Lyndon B. Johnson. Now they are ready to put the blame on us "Cuban refugges". We don't have the power, that the CI the FBI or the President of the United States have to oppose the smea that they will use against us. For that reason I am asking that you direct a complete investigation, in those who are spreading these false rumors.

Very truly yours,

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
DALLAS, TEXAS, 11/22/63
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION
CONCERNING
(OO: Dallas)

The New Orleans States-Item of 2/21/67 set forth information that DEAN A. ANDREWS, JR., Assistant Jefferson Parish District Attorney, said he was contacted by a man named CLAY BERTRAND shortly after the assassination and asked him to defend OSWALD. The Warren Commission was unable to locate the man identified as BERTRAND.

BILL ELDER, newsman, WWL-TV, Channel 4, New Orleans, stopped an Agent of this Office on the street, and advised that CLAYBOURN BERTRAND, who had supposedly called an attorney to defend OSWALD, was currently being sought by the District Attorney's office. ELDER said he had information that CLAY BERTRAND was located in Lafayette, La., working as a real estate agent. ELDER stated BERTRAND supposedly has a "violent temper and is radical." BERTRAND, according to ELDER, is about 30 years old and supposedly punched the sheriff of St. Tammany Parish. ELDER said BERTRAND was supposedly in New Orleans during the "critical period."

The above is being furnished for the information of the Bureau.

Dear Mr. Watson:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter dated February 14, 1967, which was directed to this Bureau by Dr. Carlos Bringuier, a New Orleans, Louisiana, businessman.

For your information, Dr. Bringuier is a Cuban refugee and is an outspoken opponent of Fidel Castro. He is the New Orleans delegate of the Cuban student directorate.

During the course of our investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy, we determined that Lee Harvey Oswald visited a store managed by Dr. Bringuier on August 5, 1963. Oswald indicated an interest in joining Dr. Bringuier and his associates in their struggle against Fidel Castro. On August 9, 1963, Dr. Bringuier observed Oswald pass out Fair Play for Cuba Committee leaflets in New Orleans. Dr. Bringuier and Oswald got into a dispute which resulted in their arrests for disturbing the peace. Oswald pleaded guilty to the charge against him and paid a $10 fine.

On August 21, 1963, a New Orleans radio station arranged a debate between Oswald and Dr. Bringuier concerning Cuba. In the course of this debate, Oswald defended the Castro regime and discussed Marxism. Dr. Bringuier claimed that Oswald was a communist.

I thought this information would be of interest to the President. Additional pertinent information concerning this matter that comes to our attention will be immediately furnished to you.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

The "Washington Daily News" for February 20, 1967, carried an article entitled "Says 5 Aided Oswald." According to the article, David Lewis, a bus station express handler who worked as a private investigator in New Orleans, Louisiana, in the months before the assassination of President Kennedy, claimed to have the names of five persons allegedly involved in the planning phase of the plot on the President's life.

In accordance with your request, there is attached a memorandum which sets forth information in our files identifiable with David Lewis. Also set forth in the attached memorandum is other information we have received concerning the investigation being conducted by the District Attorney's office in New Orleans concerning the assassination.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

On December 20, 1966, Mr. Aaron Kohn, Managing Director, Metropolitan Crime Commission, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised that he has previously received information that the District Attorney's Office in New Orleans has been conducting investigation into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Mr. Kohn stated he is not aware of the scope of the investigation. He also stated that Jack S. Martin, a private investigator in New Orleans, Louisiana, is the original source of information on which basis District Attorney Jim Garrison of New Orleans has instituted current investigation. Mr. Kohn also advised that, in his opinion, Jack S. Martin is a mental case.

Mr. Kohn further advised that he was told by a newspaper reporter, who does not wish his identity revealed at this time because he "does not want to get into a disagreement with Garrison's Office at this time," that Garrison, in a recent interview, made an off-the-record statement that he had offered information to the FBI regarding his investigation, but the FBI was not interested. (This alleged statement of Garrison's has not appeared in New Orleans' newspapers and is completely untrue.)

Mr. Kohn also advised that approximately ten days ago Martin called him in the early morning hours and, in an incoherent manner, indicated he would have to obtain a court order to protect his civil rights, as he was being harassed by Garrison by subpoenas and was "sick of it."

Immediately following the assassination of President Kennedy, we received information from several sources reporting that Jack S. Martin was claiming that David William Ferrie, a New Orleans citizen, was acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald and was involved in the assassination plot with Oswald. We conducted extensive investigation in this matter and developed no evidence that Ferrie was acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald or was involved in the assassination of President Kennedy. During the course of such inquiries, we interviewed Ferrie, at which time he indicated Martin was a mental case and had a grudge against him.

ENCLOSURE

SEE NOTE PAGE FIVE

Our files also disclose that in January, 1957, we received information from a local store in New Orleans that Jack Martin had become involved in an altercation with a woman he claimed to be his wife in the store and, as a result, was ejected from the store. Martin exhibited identification to store authorities and claimed to be an FBI Agent. We instituted inquiries in this matter at that time to locate Martin and determined that he was in a psychiatric ward, Charity Hospital, New Orleans, as of January 17, 1957. His psychiatrist informed our Agents that Martin was suffering from a character disorder and indicated an interview of Martin by this Bureau at that time might prolong his hospitalization.

On January 13, 1967, Jack S. Martin contacted the New Orleans Office of the FBI and reported that New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison was conducting an investigation concerning the Lee Harvey Oswald case. Martin claimed that Garrison was paying him $20 for each visit for "professional services" and that Garrison had admonished him not to tell the FBI of his investigation. Martin further advised that Garrison had located David Lewis, a former private investigator in New Orleans, who claimed to have met Lee Harvey Oswald while working for Mr. W. Guy Banister, a former private investigator in New Orleans, Louisiana. (Mr. Banister is a former Special Agent of the FBI who retired from this Bureau on December 31, 1954, at which time he was Special Agent in Charge of our Chicago Office. Mr. Banister passed away on June 6, 1964, in New Orleans, Louisiana.) Martin stated that Lewis formerly was employed as "office boy" or "errand boy" for Mr. Banister and now is employed as a clerk at the Trailways Bus Station in New Orleans, Louisiana.

On January 27, 1967, Martin contacted our New Orleans Office and demanded that the FBI stop the New Orleans District Attorney's Office from "harassing him." Martin was incoherent in his conversation, but managed to state that the District Attorney's Office had left a summons at his residence requesting him to appear at the District Attorney's Office. Martin informed our New Orleans Office that the scope of Garrison's investigation is that there was a conspiracy involved in the assassination and there was a second assassin firing at President Kennedy in Dallas, Texas. Martin alleged that this conspiracy originated in the rooms above the office of Mr. W. Guy Banister in New Orleans, Louisiana.

[redacted]

Our files reflect that David Lewis was interviewed by this Bureau in 1961 in connection with an allegation of voting irregularities in New Orleans. Our inquiries at that time revealed that Lewis was born May 12, 1940, Houston, Texas. He claimed to have received a diploma from a New Orleans' high school by passing a general educational development test. He also claimed military service in the United States Navy from May 29, 1958, to July 17, 1958.

On February 20, 1967, Mr. Edward McCluskey, Night Manager, Associated Press, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised that David Lewis informed the news media in New Orleans that he feels his life is in jeopardy for his having furnished information to District Attorney Garrison several days ago to the effect that four or five persons were involved in the plot to assassinate President Kennedy.

We have not interviewed David Lewis in connection with the assassination of President Kennedy. Lewis has not volunteered any information to this Bureau indicating he was acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald nor has any information previously come to our attention during the course of our extensive investigation of the assassination alleging Lewis knew Oswald.

For added information, Mr. W. Guy Banister, a former Special Agent in Charge of this Bureau, never contacted this Bureau after the assassination to report that he was personally acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald. We feel certain that had Mr. Banister had previous contact with Oswald before the assassination, he would have immediately contacted this Bureau and reported such information.

We have checked our files concerning the three individuals alleged by Lewis to be under suspicion by the District Attorney's Office in New Orleans as being involved in a conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy.

Our files disclose no information that can be identified with Raul Torres.

[redacted]

Our files contain no information that Smith ever knew Lee Harvey Oswald or was involved in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Carlos Quiroga, a Cuban refugee residing in New Orleans, Louisiana, contacted our New Orleans Office on November 27, 1963, shortly after the assassination of President Kennedy. Quiroga reported that he learned Lee Harvey Oswald was passing out Fair Play for Cuba handbills in New Orleans in August, 1963. He stated that in order to obtain information concerning Oswald and the Fair Play for Cuba Committee in order that he could turn such information over to police authorities, he visited Oswald at his residence at 4905 Magazine Street, New Orleans. He stated he informed Oswald he had obtained a leaflet that had been passed out by Oswald and that he was interested in learning more about the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. He also claimed that Oswald was very pro-Fidel Castro and that Oswald told him that if the United States would invade Cuba, he would fight with Fidel Castro against the United States. According to Quiroga, he told Oswald he would like to read some literature on the organization and was given a booklet on Cuba by Oswald and a blank application to join the Fair Play for Cuba Committee in New Orleans.

Quiroga further stated that following his conversation with Oswald, he contacted Lieutenant Francis Martello, First District, New Orleans Police Department, to furnish information concerning his contact with Oswald. He stated he told Martello he was willing to fill out the application given him by Oswald and report any information he obtained to Martello in an effort to do away with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee in New Orleans. He added that he received no encouragement from Martello and took no further action.

A check of our files disclosed no information identifiable with Bob Guzman, who allegedly is being sought by the District Attorney's Office in New Orleans for questioning in this matter.

Enclosed to Dallas is one copy each of the above enclosures.

Dr. CARLOS BRINGUIER voluntarily appeared at the New Orleans Office and furnished the above-listed enclosures. BRINGUIER advised that he is making the information available because he has come to the conclusion that GARRISON is engaged in a big publicity stunt and is attempting to blame the Cuban refugees for the assassination of President KENNEDY.

BRINGUIER advised that he has been given a lie detector test in which he was asked questions regarding OSWALD's being a member of the Communist Party, and "....did he believe OSWALD acted alone?" He was also questioned as to where he may have met OSWALD; if ARCACHA SMITH knew OSWALD; if RICHARD DAVIS knew OSWALD, and if

DAVID FERRIE knew OSWALD. BRINGUIER advised that based upon information received from ALBERTO FOWLER, publicity director City of New Orleans, he has learned that GARRISON is of the opinion that OSWALD was contacted to assassinate FIDEL CASTRO by a group in New Orleans and this plan could not be carried out. An alternate plan was that some of the individuals in the first plan contacted OSWALD to kill President KENNEDY.

BRINGUIER also advised "TIME-LIFE" magazine is working with GARRISON and that the wife of the "TIME-LIFE" reporter, whose name he does not know, is of French nationality, and is suspected of being a communist and is supposed to represent two communist magazines in Europe. These individuals have access to GARRISON's investigation because FOWLER had difficulty with a telephone call and reported the matter to GARRISON, and shortly afterwards the wife of "TIME-LIFE" magazine reporter contacted FOWLER and commended him for the manner in which he handled the incident. BRINGUIER advised that FOWLER believes the FBI is tapping his telephone.

BRINGUIER advised the District Attorney's office is attempting to locate ARCACHA SMITH, and he located SMITH in Dallas, Texas, and furnished this information to the District Attorney's office. He also contacted SMITH and determined the District Attorney's office had already located him but had not interviewed him and that SMITH is supposed to have contacted the FBI regarding this matter in Dallas.

BRINGUIER advised that GARRISON is supposedly getting bad information, as an individual (FNU) SANTANANA, who is on probation in Miami, Florida, was brought to New Orleans and questioned by the District Attorney's office and this individual identified ARCACHA SMITH as being in New Orleans in 1964. BRINGUIER advised that (FNU) SANTANANA had SMITH confused with an individual by the name of LOUIS BRETOS, Alfa 66 representative in New Orleans in 1964, who is now living in Miami.

SANTANANA also indicated that he had been employed by CIA for two years.

BRINQUIER stated he was making this information available because he feels that the District Attorney's office is attempting to implicate the Cuban refugees in the assassination of President KENNEDY. Also mentioned in questioning by the District Attorney's office representative was the name W. GUY BANNISTER, former New Orleans private detective, and CARLOS MARCUS, Cuban Consul-General, who BRINGUIER said died in Venezula prior to the assassination.

NO 89-69

BRINGUIER stated that ALBERTO FOWLER told him that Mayor VICTOR SCHIRO of the City of New Orleans had told FOWLER that Congressman HALE BOGGS had first brought this investigation to the attention of JIM GARRISON.

BRINGUIER advised that it is his understanding that a man named JACK MARTIN, whom he does not know, originally developed the information being investigated by GARRISON.

FBI - NEW ORLEANS
DEC 3 3 38 PM '63

MEMORANDUM

From: Dr. Carlos Bringuier.

To: District Attorney's Office, New Orleans, La.

Subject: Investigtion in regard to a possible New Orleans plot to take the life of President Kennedy.

Date: February 20th., 1967.-

A) POSSIBLES REASON WHY LEE HARVEY OSWALD CONTACTED ME IN AUGUST 5th., 1963:

1) As there was a Castro's spy infiltrated in an anti-castro training camp in existence at that moment across the Lake Pontchartrain, and the Castro's Spy (Mr. Fernando Fernandez Barcenas alias "el Chinito") was sending his information to the cuban anbassador in Mexico city (Mr. Carlos Lechuga). It is possible and logical that the cuban government could have put that situation in the aknowlegment of any of the pro-Castro organizations in this Country. In that way Lee Harvey Oswald; from the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, could have received the order of infiltrate the anti-castro movement in New Orleans,La. We could not forget that Oswald visited that very same Cuban Embassy at Mexico City were the Castro's spy was sending his information, and that Oswald visit was carried out just few week before the assassination.

2) On the spring of 1963 I went to the Jakson square in a Sunday in which was supposedly to be carried out a march hel by the "New Orleans Council for Peaceful alternatives". That march was not allowed in that day because the city of New Orleans was holding a celebration in the Cathedral. At the time I was watchi the celebrations from the Jackson Square I met a man by the name of Donald Savery (Quaquer) who was among the "pacifists" that gathered there. I gained Mr. Savery simpathy when I introduced myself to him as a pro-castro cuban. Mr. Savery invited me to drink some coffe at the "Cafe Dumonde". During our conversation Mr. Savery explained to me that the communist will take over the United States by evolution, because, according to him, 75% of the american people have a "robot mentality", that that 75% just take care of making some dollars and will not pay attention to the communist infiltration and that when the communist would already had taken over, then those 75% will try to survive and the other 25% would be wiped out by the communists. Some weeks later, on a saturday afternoon, the "New Orleans Council for Peaceful alternatives" held his march this time on Canal St. As they gathered just half a block from the place where I worked I found out about the march and joined them but with an anti-communist placard, in other words I went to picket against them. Among them was Mr. Donald Savery and Mr. Bruce Waltzer. After the march was over they disbanded it just in front of the place where I was working, and I recall Mr. Savery telling me what if he would have know that I was an anticommunist he would have not pay my coffee at the Cafe Dumonde. This means that members of 105-82555-

ENCLOSURE

of the New Orleans Council for Peaceful alternatives knew that I was an anti-castro cuban and even they know where I was working. All of this just few weeks before Oswald came to my place of business asking if there were the offices of the Cuban exile headquarters.

B) POSSIBLES CONECTIONS OF LEE H. OSWALD IN THE CITY OF N.O.

1) Testimony of Lt. Francis L. Martello-Volume X. p51-62 W.C. "Oswald was asked how many members of the FPCC were in the New Orleans Chapter and he stated there were 35. I asked him to identify the members of the FPCC in New Orleans and he refused to give names of the members or any identifying data regarding them. Oswald was asked why he refused and he said that this was a minority group holding unpopular views at this time and it would not be beneficial to them if he gave their names. Oswald was asked approximately how many people attended meetings of the New Orleans Chapter of the FPCC and he said approximately 7 attended the meetings, which were held once a month. He was asked where and he said at various places in the city. He was asked specifically at what addresses or locations were the meetings held and stated that the meetings were held on PINE ST He was asked at whose residence the meetings were held and he refused to give any further information. It should be noted at this time during prior investigation conducted, while I was a member of the Intelligence unit, information was developed th FPCC literature was found in the 1000 block of PINE ST., N.O. which was near the residence of Dr.LEONARD REISSMAN a profesor at Tulane University.This investigation was conducted by me. "As I remember, Dr. REISSMAN was reported to be a member of th New Orleans COUNCIL FOR PEACEFUL ALTERNATIVES which is a "ban the bomb" group recently established in the city and had conducted meetings and two or three demostrations in the city. Knowin that Dr. REISSMAN was reportedly a member of the NEW ORLEANS COUNCIL FOR PEACEFUL ALTERNATIVES, I thought there might be a tie between this organization and the FPCC. When Oswald stated that meetings of the FPCC had been held on PINE St. the name of Dr. REISSMAN came to mind. I asked Oswald if he knew Dr.REISSMA or if he held meetings at Dr. REISSMAN's house. Oswald did not give me a direct answer to this question, however I gathered from the expression on his face and what appeared to be an immediate nervous reaction that there WAS POSSIBLY A CONNECTION BETWEEN DR. REISSMAN AND OSWALD; this, however, is purely an assumption on my pwn part and I have nothing on which to base this. I also asked OSWALD if he knew a DR. FORREST E. LA VIOLET a profesor at Tulane University. I asked him this question - because I remembered that LA VIOLETTE allegedly had possession of FPCC literature during the year 1962.

2) INFORMATION SUPPLIED BY MR. RAFAEL AZNAREZ,118 S. Pierce.N.O. I This man had referred to me that he saw Lee Harvey Oswald workin at the Bookstore that is in Canal St. near Royal St.

3)a) Richard Payne in which house Oswald lived on Neely ends just prior to the assassination admited that his father is either a communist or a trockysto, says that he is a member of the Unitarian Church in Dallas, and member of the American Civil Libertios Union. He said that he visited his father at Los Angeles, Calif. just a few months before the assassination and they expend one whole week end discussing the REVOLUTION that is going on in the United States headed by the racial conflicts. At that meetingwhere some other persons were presents they started talking good in record to Castro and the Communist Revolution in Cuba. The Cuban Student Directorate received information that the Fair Play for Cuba Committee was holding their meetings at the local of the First Unitarian Church in Los Angeles, Calif and that in one of their meetings the members of the FPCC decided to infiltrate the Delegation of the Alpha 66 in los Angeles, Calif..

b) Ruth Payne wrote to Mrs.Ruth Kloepfer, Clerk of the Quaker meeting in New Orleans, and possible working with the Unitarian Church in New Orleans, and to Mrs. Paul Blanchard, Secretary of the Unitarian Church in N.O., to help the - Oswalds while in New Orleans. (Which by the way contradicts your theory that Lee Harvey Oswald was brought to New Orl by "conservative" new orleneans and more specifically that he could not have brought by Mr. Riley from the Riley Coffee Co. as you mentioned to me in our meeting of February 14th 1967).

1) Mrs. Ruth Kloepfer, who is a Quaquer as Mr. Donal Seaver is it too, (the same one from the New Orleans Council for Peaceful alternatives) visited Oswald while in New Orleans, she went with her daughter who had came back recently from Ruscia.

2) Mrs. Paul Blanchard: Belong to the Unitarian Church t which also belong Mr. Richard Payne, and it which loca in Los Angeles, Calif, the FPCC held meetings and conspired to infiltrate the Delegation of Alpha 66.

4) As I heard Silvia Odio's name pronounced by you at our conversation of February 14th., 1967, I would like to suggest to you the questioning of: Mr. Loran Eugene Hall, Lawrence Howard and William Seymour to clarified that situation.

5) Saturday evening(February 18th.,) Mr. Sergio Arcacha called me to explain that he had talked to your office, and he expressed to me that he was willing to come and clarify a thing that you want. He prefers if is possible that some from your office go to Dallas and question him, because that way he would not have to lost any day of work.

Federal Bureau of Investigations.
Washington, D. C.

Sir:

As you have to know I am the same persona who was arrested in New Orleans on August 9, 1963 with Lee Harvey Oswald and the same who debated him on a radio debate.

The reason of this letter is to let you know of an amazing thing that is going on in this city. The District Attorney Mr. Jim Garrison is carrying on an investigation in regard to the conections of Lee Harvey Oswald in the city as if Oswald were in contact with some anticomunist people en New Orleans.

When I am writing you this letter I have just returned from a lie detector teste which was offered to me by Mr. Garrison. Some of the general ideas of Mr. Garrison are that:

1) Oswald was brought to New Orleans by Mr. Riley from the Riley coffee co. and according to Mr. Garrison this man Mr. Riley is an anticomunist conservative.

2) Oswald was not a communist but an anticomunist and as that he carried on the assassination.

3) They are trying to tie facts and issues that are impossible to be tied, showing contacts of Oswald with Cuban refugges.

As I understand that this whole thing will finish in zero in regard to try to find any posible Cuban refugge participation in the assassinati I don't have any fear as a single person or as part of the group of Cuban refugges in the city, but as an anticomunist I am convinced (airc I received the information that Life Magazine will carry an article on this investigation) that the ones who are going to use this thing are the comunists. They first put the blames on the CIA, the FBI and even on you. Later they put the blame, as Radio Havana Cuba implied on Nove 22nd., 1966, on President Lyndon B. Johnson. Now they are ready to put the blame on us "Cuban refugges". We don't have the power, that the CI. the FBI or the President of the United States have to oppose the smear that they will use against us. For that reason I am asking that you - direct a complete investigation in those who are spreading these false

Fears for Life, Asserts Ex-Private Investigator

Says 'People Involved in Plot Are Vicious'

David F. Lewis Jr., a former private investigator, said Monday he fears for his life as a result of his role in District Attorney Jim Garrison's investigation to uncover a New Orleans-based plot in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Lewis admitted being questioned by Garrison several days ago and singling out four or five persons as implicated in the plot.

"The people involved in this plot are very vicious and capable of anything. If they're capable of assassinating a United States president, they would not hesitate in getting rid of any of the witnesses," Lewis asserted.

The 26-year-old New Orleanian, now a frieght agent for a bus line here, said he believes his life and the lives of his wife and four children have been placed in jeopardy as a result of the probe, and he plans to ask the district attorney for protection.

DAVID F. LEWIS JR.

Lewis said he was not at liberty to reveal anything about the investigation. Asked how he gained his information, Lewis maintained he was in the "right place in the right time" back in 1963 when Oswald lived in New Orleans prior to moving to Dallas, scene of the assassination Nov. 22, 1963.

Lewis said he met Oswald several times in 1963, but would not disclose where or when or the circumstances leading to the meetings. He also refused to discuss whether Cuban exiles are involved in the alleged plot.

"Garrison's got himself a case. I'm convinced of that. He's doing something that should have been done a long time ago. This investigation definitely is not a hoax on anyone's part. There was a plot. I know about it. And I know the people who were involved," Lewis stated.

Oswald's Mother Offers to Help Garrison Probe

Believes Conspracy Behind Death of JFK

The mother of Lee Harvey Oswald told the Times-Picayune Monday night she believes a conspiracy was behind the death of President John F. Kennedy but that her son had nothing to do with it.

Interviewed by telephone at her Fort Worth, Tex., home, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald said she was "delighted" that New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison is conducting a probe into the death of President John F. Kennedy.

She said she has always contended, as does Garrison, that a conspiracy was involved and that the Warren Report is full of errors.

OFFERS TO HELP DA

Mrs. Oswald said she has not been contacted by the New Orleans DA in his investigation, but she added, "If I can help him in any way at all I will."

She expressed the hope that Garrison will conduct the investigation with an "open mind" about the innocence of her son. Mrs. Oswald said she is "devoting my life" to proving that Lee was "framed."

At a Monday afternoon press conference, Garrison said he believed that no foreign country was behind the conspiracy. Mrs. Oswald said she too had always contended it was a domestic plot.

She said that although Cubans had been mentioned in press dispatches on Garrison's probe "I certainly hope no one tries to link Lee to Cuba."

DENIES CONTACTING

Mrs. Oswald denied a report that she had contacted New Orleans attorney Sam Monk Zelden to defend her son. She said that her son was killed so quickly that she had no time to contact a lawyer.

Dean A. Andrews Jr., assistant Jefferson Parish district attorney, has said that he was contacted by a man named Clay Bertrand shortly after the assassination and asked to defend Oswald.

He said he recommended Zelden.

The Warren Commission was unable to locate the man identified as Bertrand.

BARS N.O. REPORTERS

mphasizing his displeasure the two New Orleans news- ers, he barred their report- from the news conference, at a local motel.

Garrison's probe, first reported last Friday, has drawn worldwide attention. It has been received with both praise and skepticism.

In Washington, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., called for the Warren Commission to reopen its investigation of the assassination to determine if Lee Harvey Oswald had Communist conspirators. The commission, in its report, named Oswald as the slayer and said it found no evidence of a plot.

WILL SHOW PLOT—DA

Garrison has said he has no intention of turning his information over to the Warren Commission or other federal agencies. He said he will show the conspiracy was plotted in New Orleans, where Oswald lived during the summer of 1963.

In Dallas, Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Alexander said he places little faith in Garrison's claim a plot existed and was hatched in New Orleans. Kennedy was shot fatally in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Two days later Oswald was shot and killed by Jack Ruby, Dallas nightspot operator.

One of Ruby's former attorneys, Sol A. Dann of Detroit, called Monday for an immediate inquiry by either a Federal or Louisiana grand jury into whether a plan was developed in New Orleans—as Garrison claims—which culminated in Kennedy's assassination.

Dann said he made the request in telegrams to Garrison and Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion.

"The Warren report is unsuccessful and not complete," Garrison told the news conference.

Asked to pinpoint any sections of the Warren report that were shaky, he said: "There is too much information about some areas, and not enough about others."

Garrison said he has set up "a small task force of unusually competent police officers, assistant district attorneys and a privale detective" to handle the investigation. "We have made progress. Arrests will be made and convictions will be obtained."

'SOME CONTRIBUTIONS'

The remainder of the investigation, he said, will be financed from money borrowed from banks and "some contributions I think I will receive."

Garrison said this would prevent New Orleans newspapers from checking expense vouchers in the clerk's office and determining where his investigators are going. The States-Item last week published records which showed his office has spent over $8,000 to date on its investigation.

T-P REPORTER BARRED

When reporter Joe Darby of The Times-Picayune attempted to enter the room at the start of the press conference, his way was barred. Garrison shouted, "Remove 'em by force. Throw them out if necessary."

The district attorney spent better than half of the hour-long news conference explaining his reasons for excluding the two local newspapers. He said questioning of his witnesses by the two newspapers caused a serious setback to his investigation.

"We can't chance a risk to our witnesses," he said. "I am not trying to punish them (the newspapers) . . . I can't take any further risks."

Garrison said a talk he had last fall with Sen. Russell Long, D-La., touched off the investigation. He said the Senate majority leader talked about "the incongruity of getting all those shots off in the sequence

Mrs. James asked William Gurvich of the DA's staff if she would be barred from the conference.

"Yes, Mr. Garrison does not want any representative of local newspapers at this press conference," he answered.

In other developments a Parish Prison inmate named in the investigation said Monday he does not feel his life is in danger, although Garrison had said newspaper publicity placed him in danger.

Miguel Torres, in jail on a burglary count, told Criminal Sheriff Louis Heyd he didn't feel it was necessary that he be placed in a private cell for his protection.

LIVED NEAR OSWALD

Torres has declined to talk to newsmen.

The man, a Cuban, lived near presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald on Magazine st. in 1963.

Garrison had said earlier that publicity had endangered the lives of witnesses in the case. Heyd said Monday he will ask the DA for specific details about threats to principals in the case.

Bernardo Torres (no relation to Miguel Torres), a 33-year-old Cuban exile living in Miami, was reported planning to come to New Orleans in connection with the investigation. However, when contacted by a newspaper, he said he didn't know whether he would come.

Torres had helped guard Kennedy while the late President was in Miami shortly before his trip to Dallas.

Richard Gerstein, Florida state attorney for Dade County (Miami), said he had conferred with Garrison at length last month on the investigation.

'LENT INVESTIGATOR'

"I lent them an investigator to help the men they had sent here," he said. "I expedited their activities with several law enforcement agencies. Garrison is convinced he will be able to show the Warren report is in error."

Gerstein said he would not comment on his personal opinion of the investigation, but said he had a high regard for Garrison.

Mayor Victor H. Schiro, asked if he felt the investigation would hurt the city's image, said "I have never interfered with any investigation in the DA's office.

"I am sure Mr. Garrison must know what he is doing and we are willing to help in any way we can. If an investigation is needed to bring out important historical facts, I think it should be done whether it is in New Orleans, Dallas or Kalamazoo.

TEXANS DOUBTFUL

In Dallas, assistant district attorney Bill Alexander said his offices place little faith in Garrison's allegations.

Alexander, along with DA Henry Wade, helped prosecute Jack Ruby in his 1964 murder trial for the slaying of Oswald. Ruby died Jan. 3 in the same Dallas hospital in which the late President was pronounced dead.

Gov. John J. McKeithen said in Baton Rouge he has kept in confidence since Christmas the knowledge that Garrison was probing an alleged presidential assassination plot.

McKeithen said Garrison, a personal and political friend, told him he would be able to prove there was a plot leading to the assassination of Kennedy.

'CONFIDENTIAL NATURE'

"What he told me was of a confidential nature, and I left it that way," the governor said.

He said Garrison had said nothing to him about any extra funds from the state to conduct the investigation. McKeithen, when asked if the state was cooperating with Garrison's office in the probe, said if any cooperation should be needed it would be provided and he referred further questions to State Police Supt. Thomas Burbank.

Burbank said "We have received no request from Mr. Garrison or his office to my knowledge. If Mr. Garrison would request assistance we would be most happy to cooperate with him as we have done in the past."

Questioned further whether he knew of the investigation, Burbank said, "I'll have to stick to my statement."

Garrison had praised the assistance of William Gurvich, executive vice-president of New Orleans Private Patrol, in the investigation.

New Orleans Private Patrol is a detective agency.

Gurvich, contacted Monday night, said the DA had asked him to make no comment on the matter and "I feel I should respect his wishes."

However, he did say his firm's role was one that covered every phase of the investigative procedure, from locating persons to protography. He said he began assisting the DA's office in the probe in December.

When asked if most of his work had been in New Orleans or outside the city, he had no comment.

Ruby Ex-Attorney Calls for Inquiry

DETROIT (AP) — Sol A. Dann of Detroit, former attorney for Jack Ruby, asked Monday for an immediate inquiry by a federal or Louisiana grand jury into whether a plan was developed in New Orleans which culminated in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Such a plan was reported Saturday by New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, who said, "There were other people besides Lee Harvey Oswald involved."

COMMISSION FINDING

A U.S. investigation commission headed by Chief Justice Early Warren said its exhaustive probe showed there was no credible evidence that anyone else but Oswald was implicated in the 1963 assassination.

The INCA leader said he was contacted by the DA's office in December and "I assume I was one of the first questioned in this regard. I hope this search will uncover further facts soon."

Butler asserted that Oswald was undoubtedly incited to act by Communist propaganda.

He said he debated Oswald 93 days before the assassination about his political beliefs and was later called to Washington within 48 hours after the tragedy to testify before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

Butler said he has written Garrison to offer INCA's facilities, contacts and know-how in the area of Communist "phycho-political warfare."

"I have given instructions that the individual tape recordings (of Oswald's political beliefs) be made available to Dist. Atty. Garrison for his investigation.

Butler is in Hollywood in connection with an INCA-produced television documentary, "Oswald: Self-Portrait in Red." and will return to New Orleans within the next few days.

JUST BEFORE ENTERING Patio Room I in the Fontainebleau Motor Hotel a surprised-looking District Attorney Jim Garrison eyes Times-Picayune reporter Joe Darby (back to camera, foreground) who has just told the DA he desires entrance to a Monday afternoon press conference. Garrison said he would call a halt to the press conference if Darby entered, but moments later an investigator for Garrison shoved Darby from the room. Assistant DA Andrew J. Sciambra is at right. "Yes," said Gurvich. "Mr. Garrison does not want any representative of local newspapers at this press conference."

EARLIER today, a parish prison inmate linked to the probe declined to be moved to a private cell despite assertions by Garrison that the lives of some witnesses are in jeopardy.

Miguel Torres, in jail on a burglary count, reportedly was under questioning in the case. He lived near accused presidential assassian Lee Oswald on Magazine st. in 1963.

Criminal Sheriff Louis Heyd said Torres was kept in the same public tier as usual at his own request. He quoted Torres as saying he doesn't feel his life is in danger.

HEYD SAID HE will ask Garrison for specific details of threats against witnesses. The sheriff said Torres has declined to speak to newsmen.

Garrison said earlier that publicity in the case has endangered the lives of some of the principals. He did not name anyone.

Garrison remained mum about further developments in his investigation, which he has promised will lead to arrests and convictions. He reportedly planned a news conference later in the day. Dozens of out-of-town newsmen were standing by.

A MIAMI Cuban exile who helped guard Kennedy and has been working with Garrison on the probe was reported planning to come to New Orleans today.

However, the exile, Bernardo Torres, 33, was contacted in Miami by the States-Item and said he "doesn't know yet" if or when he will come here.

Asked if he thought Garrison has a valid investigation, he replied, "I think so, but I am not allowed to give any information until Jim Garrison give me an OK."

RICHARD GERSTEIN, Florida state attorney for the Miami area (Dade County), confirmed he had conferred with Garrison at length last month on the investigation.

"I lent them an investigator to help the men they had here," he said. "I expedited their activities with several law enforcement agencies. Garrison is convinced he will be able to show that the Warren report is in error."

Gerstein said he would not comment on his personal opinion of the investigation, but said he had a high regard for Garrison.

He said the Secret Service had asked trusted Cubans to spot suspicious Cubans.

TORRES SAID Garrison engaged him to look into the background of some Cubans reported to have been with Oswald, named as the assassin, shortly before Kennedy was shot Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas.

Torres predicted that "the Warren Report and the FBI report (on the assassination) will crumble when the investigation is released."

The private detective said he has made several trips between Miami and New Orleans in connection with the Garrison probe.

HE WAS LISTED in the DA's records as receiving money for a "special investigation."

Torres said he had seen photographs of Oswald with some Cubans, although he was not acquainted with them. The photographs in question were reportedly taken in New Orleans shortly before the assassination.

Torres refused to discuss a report that Oswald had visited Miami to talk with Cubans. Nor would he talk about reports that some exiles —angry at Kennedy's failure to take action which might have saved the unsuccessful 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion— were talking about killing the President.

TORRES WAS a member of the invasion brigade. He now is military coordinator of its veterans' organization, called Brigade 2506.

Garrison lashed out at newspaper stories on the probe.

"We have not mentioned anyone's name," he said. "I think that one of the most outrageous things, one of the most irresponsible things perpetrated by the newspapers in their sensational grab of our investigation, turning it into headlines, was to show pictures of individuals and infer that they were subjects either on the verge of arrest or to be arrested down the line." (No such pictures were published in the States-Item.)

ASKED TO SUM up his investigation thus far, Garrison replied:

"Well, I can't sum it up in terms of individuals or what might turn out to be evidence. I can say that we have been investigating the role of the city of New Orleans in the assassination of President Kennedy, and we have made some progress—I think substantial progress. At least, we were making progress until the newspapers revealed a number of details."

The DA also replied to a statement by Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., that he should forward his findings to the U.S. attorney general who could then convey them on to President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Said Garrison, "I am running this investigation, not the President, not the attorney general.

"WE ARE investigating a conspiracy which appeared to have occurred in New Orleans and they don't have a thing in the world to do with it. Now, if they want to help me, I'll welcome their help. But I'm not reporting to anybody."

He said involvement with federal officials would slow his probe.

Meanwhile, several Latins in New Orleans had something to say about the investigation.

Alberto Fowler, a Cuban refugee and director of international relations for the city, said of Garrison's probe into the assassination:

"If he's gone to all the trouble of an investigation he must have some pretty hot lead."

Manuel Gil, New Orleans delegate to the Miami-based Movimiento Insurreccional de Recuperacion Revolucionaria, asserted that "the" hand of Castro was directly behind the suspected plot."

Gil said there is a possibility of a conspiracy having been hatched in New Orleans and he expressed the belief that Oswald had other people working with him at the time of the assassination.

In Baton Rouge, Gov. John McKeithen said today he has kept in confidence since Christmas the knowledge that the New Orleans district attorney was probing a presidential assassination plot.

M'KEITHEN SAID Garrison, a personal and political friend, told him then he would be able to prove there was a plot leading to the assassination of President Kennedy.

"What he told me was of a confidential nature, and I left it that way," McKeithen said in an interview.

The governor said Garrison had said nothing to him about any extra funds from the state to conduct the investigation.

McKeithen was asked whether the state was cooperating with Garrison's office in the probe. He indicated if any cooperation should be needed it would be provided, and he referred further questions along this line to State Police Capt. Thomas Burbank.

THE STATE police superintendent gave a carefully worded statement on this matter.

"We have received no request from Mr. Garrison or his office, to my knowledge," Burbank said.

"If Mr. Garrison would request assistance we would be most happy to cooperate with him as we have done in the past."

Burbank was questioned further whether he knew of the probe, and he replied:

"I'll have to stick to my statement."

Disclosures Forecast by Private Cop

By DAVID SNYDER

A Miami Cuban exile who helped guard President John F. Kennedy and has been working with Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison in a new investigation of the assassination is scheduled to confer with the DA in New Orleans today.

Bernardo Torres, the 32-year-old exile, predicted in Miami, where he helped guard Kennedy, that "another chapter will be added to the Warren report when the investigation is released."

Meanwhile, Garrison kept mum on details of his investigation but insisted there will be arrests and convictions in connection with a New Orleans-based plot to assassinate the late President.

THE DA RELUCTANTLY admitted that the investigation was under way following disclosures Friday in a copyrighted story in the States-Item.

Torres said he would leave for New Orleans today accompanied by Ralph Bequer, his partner in a private detective business.

He said yesterday he believes the Warren Commission report, which pinpointed Lee Harvey Oswald as the lone assassin, will be proved incomplete.

HE SAID HE has been helping Garrison in a probe looking toward reopening the Kennedy assassination case.

Torres said he was one of 10 Cubans who helped protect Kennedy in Miami, which has a large Cuban colony.

He said the Secret Service had asked trusted Cubans to spot suspicious Cubans.

TORRES SAID Garrison engaged him to look into the background of some Cubans reported to have been with Oswald, named as the assassin, shortly before Kennedy was shot Nov. 22, 1963, in COMMENT ALSO was heard from another part of the country.

In San Diego, Calif., attorney Melvin Belli said yesterday that it was just a coincidence that Jack Ruby and Oswald were in New Orleans at the same time.

Belli, who defended Jack Ruby, the slayer of Oswald, said the two were in New Orleans at the same time but this was coincidental. He said he does not believe there was a conspiracy to kill President Kennedy.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

Enclosed is a copy of a letter dated February 14, 1967, which was directed to this Bureau by Dr. Carlos Bringuier, a New Orleans, Louisiana, businessman.

For your information, Dr. Bringuier is a Cuban refugee and is an outspoken opponent of Fidel Castro. He is the New Orleans delegate of the Cuban student directorate.

During the course of our investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy, we determined that Lee Harvey Oswald visited a store managed by Dr. Bringuier on August 5, 1963. Oswald indicated an interest in joining Dr. Bringuier and his associates in their struggle against Fidel Castro. On August 9, 1963, Dr. Bringuier observed Oswald pass out Fair Play for Cuba Committee leaflets in New Orleans. Dr. Bringuier and Oswald got into a dispute which resulted in their arrests for disturbing the peace. Oswald pleaded guilty to the charge against him and paid a $10 fine.

On August 21, 1963, a New Orleans radio station arranged a debate between Oswald and Dr. Bringuier concerning Cuba. In the course of this debate, Oswald defended the Castro regime and discussed Marxism. Dr. Bringuier claimed that Oswald was a communist.

Additional pertinent information concerning this matter that comes to our attention will be immediately furnished to you.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Greg Lessig, Instructor of Political Science and I are gathering information for an article for the Southwestern Historical Quarterly, dealing with the Kennedy assassination. We wish to assure you that our purpose is historical knowledge rather than cheap sensationalism.

The theory we are attempting to gather evidence on is: that Oswald had his .38 Special revolver, V510210, with him in the Texas School Book Depository; that he fired two or three shots with his 6.5 mm. Rifle, C2766, and then drew his pistol and fired one or two shots from it at the presidential car. This theory would explain the doubts arising from the testimony of Royce G. Skelton, Patrolman J. W. Foster, James T. Tague, and Patrolman L. L. Hill. We are, thus, attempting to prove that Oswald was the only assassin.

As to the revolver, no one saw him with it, at or near the Depository, but this does not mean that he did not have it in his belt, under his jacket. Of the four bullets recovered from the body of Patrolman Tippit, three were Winchester-Western (lead with a trace of copper) and one was Remington-Peters (plain lead or lead alloy). The empty cartridge cases found at 10th Street and Patton Avenue were, however, two Winchester-Western and two Remington-Peters.

You can help us if you have information on the metal content of the bullet splash found on the south curb of Main Street by Tague, and the content of the Remington-Peters bullet removed from Tippit. Were they the same?

Dear Dr. Stonesifer:

With reference to your communication of February 16th, this is to advise that all the material developed by the FBI in connection with our investigation of the assassination of former President Kennedy was turned over to the Warren Commission for its consideration and the results of our inquiry into this matter were subsequently made available to the National Archives by the Warren Commission.

In view of the foregoing, it is suggested answers to any questions you may have concerning the work performed by the Warren Commission or the FBI would be available through review at the National Archives.

Sincerely yours,

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
11-22-63, DALLAS, TEXAS

In line with the instructions issued by the Director today relative to the captioned matter, SAC Rightmyer of the New Orleans Office was telephonically advised that the Director wanted all personnel in the New Orleans Office told emphatically that there was to be no talking about the assassination and that in the event any questions were asked, all should be no commented and that this same answer should be given to any inquiries received at the Seat of Government. Mr. Wick's Office was telephonically advised of this instruction.

SAC Rightmyer was further advised that no information was to be furnished to U.S. Attorney's Office in New Orleans, it being noted that requests were being received from him based on telephone calls received by the U.S. Attorney from the Department. He was told that any such requests should be handled by advising the U.S. Attorney that we are keeping the Acting Attorney General advised of all developments and all information was being furnished to him.

SAC Rightmyer was also advised that in the event any requests should be received from District Attorney Garrison or any of his employees for any information concerning the assassination, nothing should be furnished to Garrison or his employees. He was told that the Bureau did desire to be informed, in as much detail as possible, of the activities on the part of Garrison or his employees for information purposes through whatever sources this could be handled, but that we should not conduct any direct interviews with employees of Garrison's office, and we should under no circumstances interview any of the persons being contacted by Garrison.

SAC Rightmyer was advised that any information volunteered to the office by anyone should be accepted but that we should not conduct any active investigation concerning this matter.

Memorandum to Mr. DeLoach
RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

It was pointed out to SAC Rightmyer that the Director felt any effort on the part of the FBI to obtain information from Garrison as to what he is working on would probably result in a publicity campaign aimed at the FBI in a derogatory manner and could possibly result in Garrison then having an excuse to "dump" this entire matter on the FBI. He would then be able to publicly state the entire matter had been turned over to the FBI and it was up to the FBI to come up with the right answers from his material.

In line with the Director's instructions, the Domestic Intelligence Division is thoroughly reviewing all of the background information relating to Lee Harvey Oswald as it relates to the New Orleans situation and the General Investigative Division is thoroughly checking all matters relating to New Orleans relative to the investigation of the assassination. This is being completed at the earliest possible time for any gaps or possible loopholes in our investigation and a memorandum will be submitted as expeditiously as possible.

ACTION:

(1) The above-mentioned memorandum will be submitted as early as possible.

(2) A communication is being prepared to be sent to all offices advising them of the necessity of no commenting any inquiries relative to the assassination as it relates to the New Orleans situation at the present time and also that any information volunteered by anyone should be accepted but no active investigation should be conducted. This action is necessary inasmuch as several offices today have furnished information that they had received telephone calls concerning disclosures made by District Attorney Garrison's office and they were desirous of being informed as to what action should be taken.

On February 22, 1967, Mrs. Maureen Keough, 715 Jones Street, Bridge City, Texas, telephonically advised the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Houston, Texas, as follows:

On the evening of February 22, 1967, at approximately 11:30 p.m., Mrs. Keough was listening to the Jim Young Show on radio station KLVI, Beaumont, Texas. The Jim Young radio program is a radio audience participation program. A woman called radio station KLVI and stated that Lee Harvey Oswald and some Cuban friends had stayed at her, the caller's, home.

On February 23, 1967, Jim Young, radio announcer, radio station KLVI, 27 North 11th Street, Beaumont, Texas, advised as follows:

Nightly, Monday through Friday from 10:00 p.m. until midnight, Young conducts a radio program called "Comment." The purpose of the program is to encourage radio audience participation. In this regard, a person calling the radio station is heard not only by the announcer but by the radio listening audience.

At approximately 11:30 p.m., on the evening of February 22, 1967, a woman whose identity is not known, called Jim Young and asked if he was aware that Lee Harvey Oswald had been in Beaumont, Texas, "just prior to the assassination of President Kennedy." When Young replied that he was not aware that Oswald had been at Beaumont, the caller stated that Oswald had stayed at her home and at that time had stated to her that Jack Ruby had sent him, Oswald, to New Orleans which was his destination. The caller stated that Oswald was without money and was hungry. Young stated that he tried to draw the caller out as to her association with Oswald but the caller evaded the question. The caller stated that she heard from Oswald after he, Oswald, got to New Orleans. The caller did not elaborate as to the means of communication by which she had heard from Oswald. Young stated that he asked her, the caller, if she had made this information available to the Federal Bureau of Investigation at the time of the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy. The caller replied that she made the information available to Billy James Harges (phonetic), an evangelist, to whom she was closer.

The caller stated that she would be glad to answer any questions that the radio audience might want to ask her about this event.

Young stated that he politely advised the caller that he, Young, already had another caller waiting to answer questions for the radio audience.

Young stated that the caller sounded to him like a middle aged woman. Young recalled that immediately prior to receiving the above mentioned phone call, he had been conversing over the air with another program caller on the topic of the recent allegations made by the District Attorney at New Orleans, Louisiana, relative to the assassination of President Kennedy.

Young stated that from his experience in conducting his program, "Comment," he is usually flooded with similar-type phone calls from the radio audience wherein the caller alleges to have sensational information on the topic being discussed. In reality, the caller often times is a crank or prankster who makes unfounded statements solely for the purpose of seeking recognition.

On 2/20/67, Mr. NORMAN ORRMINNS, Inspector, INS, Los Angeles, appeared at the Los Angeles Office and stated that he was furnishing the following information for whatever we feel it is worth.

ORRMINNS said a fellow INS Inspector, J. B. He indicated it was significant to note that when LEE HARVEY OSWALD was picked up, he was headed in the direction of the Red Bird Airport in Dallas and had almost reached that airport. ORRMINNS said that AMERSON had a subject he was working on in Dallas prior to the assassination, and the name of this subject not recalled by ORRMINNS but can be determined from AMERSON, who is now working out of the Los Angeles INS Office. He advised that JACK RUBY was well acquainted with AMERSON's subject, who is or was an airplane pilot and was mixed up in smuggling.

The above is made available for information of the Bureau and the Dallas Office, and no contact will be made with AMERSON re the above unless instructed by the Bureau or Dallas.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

On February 20, 1967, U. S. Attorney Louis C. Lacour, Eastern District of Louisiana, contacted our New Orleans Office and requested to be advised whether David Franklin Lewis, Jr., or Jack S. Martin had a criminal record. Mr. Lacour requested he be furnished identification records of Lewis and Martin if the FBI possesses such identification records. A check of the files of our Identification Division disclosed no record identifiable with David Franklin Lewis, Jr. Under Martin's true name, Edward Stewart Suggs, this Bureau does have an arrest record, FBI Number [redacted]. Sheriff Bryan Clemmons, East Baton Rouge Parish Sheriff's Office, Louisiana, informed this Bureau in October, 1955, that Jack Martin had an arrest record in Texas under the name of Edward Stewart Suggs, FBI Number [redacted]. During January, 1957, a detective of the Homicide Division, New Orleans, Louisiana, Police Department, informed a Special Agent of this Bureau that Mrs. Paula Mae Martin had advised that Martin was then a patient in the Psychopathic Ward, Charity Hospital, New Orleans, Louisiana; that Martin's true name is Edward Stewart Suggs.

Two copies of Martin's arrest record as maintained by the Identification Division of this Bureau are enclosed.

For your information and to avoid duplication, we have instructed our New Orleans Office to inform Mr. Lacour that we are furnishing all information in this matter directly to you.

Joseph B. Zucht an attorney in Albuquerque, New Mexico, has advised that his client in a divorce action, one Evelyn R. Beall, has advised Zucht that she had seen among her husband's possessions a night club-type photograph showing her husband between two individuals whom she stated were Lee Harvey Oswald and Jack Ruby. Albuquerque being instructed to pursue the matter.

According to Attorney Zucht, Mrs. Beall's husband, Richard W. Beall is a former member of the Texas Highway Patrol and was formerly stationed at Dallas, Texas. He was subsequently transferred to Amarillo, Texas. He is no longer with the Texas Highway Patrol and the Bealls have been in Albuquerque, New Mexico, for approximately a year operating an ambulance service.

Zucht said that in a conversation with Mrs. Beall at Albuquerque on 1-15-67, she alleged that she had seen in a manila envelope among her husband's possessions a night club-type photograph showing her husband between two individuals whom she stated were Lee Harvey Oswald and Jack Ruby. Additionally, she had seen this photograph on two occasions and on one occasion had shown the photograph to her daughter, Laurie Bartlett, aged 13. Zucht reported he had questioned the young girl about it and she also stated she had seen the picture and these were the individuals in the photograph with her stepfather. In compliance with a court order for Richard Beall to vacate the premises occupied by the Bealls, Mrs. Beall informed Zucht she had not been able to locate the manila envelope or the photograph, after her husband moved out.

Zucht advised that Mrs. Beall is emotionally disturbed over the divorce action and has been hospitalized as a result of a severe beating from her husband. Both Mrs. Beall and her husband have been examined by a psychiatrist as a part of this divorce action. Mrs. Beall has apparently informed Zucht that her husband once mentioned that the photograph would prove to be worth some money sometime, but there was no further elaboration on this point.

Attorney Zucht has stated that he would have no objection to our interviewing his client or her daughter concerning this matter provided he first has an opportunity to talk to her to advise her of his action in reporting this matter to us. Zucht advises he is the only one to whom Mrs. Beall has spoken concerning the photograph. Zucht himself has not seen the photograph and could, of course, furnish no information as whether such a photograph actually exists or the present location of it.

On basis of information available, Bureau files contain no information relating to Richard W. or Evelyn R. Beall or Laurie Bartlett. The Warren Commission Report makes no mention of either Mr. or Mrs. Beall or Laurie Bartlett, Mrs. Beall's daughter. Dallas reports in the Oswald case make no mention of the Bealls. This information appears to have no connection with the current activities and information involving District Attorney Garrison in New Orleans, and is the type of lead we would normally run out.

ACTION:

J. Edgar Hoover, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On January 28th, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald took part in a taped interview on the Alan Burke Television show, which was viewed in the New York area on Saturday, Feb. 18th. My husband and I, along with six friends, attended that show, and it was the concensus of opinion that I should bring several facts to your attention.

Mrs. Oswald made several very serious accusations, many of which involved your bureau. She stated that if her son had, indeed, assassinated the President, he had done so as an agent of the FBI, or the Secret Service, or some other governmental department. She said that Oswald was released from the Marine Corps., three months prior to the normal termination of his three-year hitch, as a result of a "dire hardship claim", entered, on her behalf, by the American Red Cross, but, that instead of coming home, he obtained a visa and made his now famous trip to Russia, WITH the knowledge, and approval, of the Marine Corps. and the United States Government!

Mrs. Oswald made many contradictory and confusing statements, during the course of the interview, Mr. Hoover, and concluded by stating that she KNEW the name of the person who "framed" her son. She said that it was a man, and that he "used to live in Texas." It was obvious, by the reaction of the studio audience, that she had succeeded in casting suspicion on President Johnson.

While the things she said were of a most serious nature, Mr. Hoover, other factors concerned us, perhaps, even more. For instance, we all agreed that whenever Mrs. Oswald was discussing anything pertaining to the Warren Commission Report, she gave the distinct impression of being articulate and well-educated. However, when she was questioned, by people in the studio audience, about anything OUTSIDE of this area, it was obvious that she was a simple, poorly-educated woman. This, of course, led us to conclude that she had been carefully coached by someone.

When Mrs. Oswald entered the studio, prior to the taping, we noticed that she was accompanied by a very strange looking woman. This woman took a seat in the audience, which she had carefully selected, right in the center, directly in front of Mrs. Oswald's position on the interview platform. During the course of the interview, Mrs. Oswald constantly looked toward this woman, as if she were seeking some sign of approval. The woman, however, exhibited absolutely no expression of any kind, at any time!

EX-103 REC-59

After the show, we were waiting for our car and were clustered at the door inside of the lobby when Mrs. Oswald, and her "secretary-companion", emerged from the elevator. As they stepped out, Mrs. Oswald said something to this woman and the woman was just about to answer her, when she noticed us standing there, and then said nothing. Mrs. Oswald repeated her remark, and when she realized that her companion was remaining silent, and looking in our direction, Mrs. Oswald also turned around, saw us, and proceeded past us, hurriedly, and both of them got into their waiting automobile.

Several members of our group, including myself, noted that the mystery woman was physically controlling Mrs. Oswald. Whenever Mrs. Oswald walked from one place to another, her "guide" gripped her by the elbow, with such force, that the woman's knuckles were white. She was sinister looking and, though, decidedly foreign in her physical appearance, created the impression, to us, at least, that she was attempting to look American....without quite succeeding. Her effect on Mrs. Oswald was obvious to others, outside of our particular group.

I believe a comment, made by a member of our group, will prove to be of interest to you, Mr. Hoover. This man was born in East Germany, and lived there, under the Communists, for several years after the end of World War II. When HE saw Mrs. Oswald's traveling companion, he was visably shaken! His face drained of color and he exclaimed: "My God! That woman looks like a Russian commissar!"

Considering the seriousness of the effect which Mrs. Oswald's words and actions are having on the American people, Mr. Hoover, and realizing that she, like so many others today, seems bent on creating more confusion in an already extremely confusing situation, the possibilities concern us gravely. We look to you in the hope that you might be able to relieve our minds in some manner. We realize that you are probably aware of these facts but on the slim chance that you might not be, we feel obligated to bring them to your attention.

We shall all be patiently awaiting some word from you and let me say, for all of us, that we extend to you our heartfelt thanks for your many years of dedicated service to our beloved country.

Sincerely yours,

J.E. Thomas

Dear Mrs. Thomas:

I have received your letter of February 19th and want to thank you for the interest which prompted you to write and furnish me the information set forth in your communication. You may be certain I appreciate your generous remarks concerning my work.

As you may know, data in our files must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice; therefore, I cannot comment specifically on the matters you mentioned. I can assure you, however, that Lee Harvey Oswald was never an employee or "agent" of the FBI nor did he have any affiliation whatsoever with this Bureau.

I would like to add the FBI conducted a prompt, intensive, objective, and thorough investigation of the assassination at the direction of President Johnson. The results of this investigation were accurately reported to the Warren Commission.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On February 21, 1967, Mr. Joseph B. Zucht, Attorney at Law, 420 Lomas Northwest, Albuquerque, New Mexico, advised that he represents in a pending divorce suit Evelyn R. Beall, age 30-35, against her present husband, Richard W. Beall, age 35-36. The Bealls were married on December 8, 1964 at Amarillo, Texas, and Mrs. Beall has a stepdaughter, age 13, living with her named Laurie Bartlett. The Bealls own and operate the Gold Cross Ambulance Service at 2400 Miles Road Southeast, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

According to information Zucht has received from Mrs. Beall, her husband, Richard W. Beall, is a former member of the Texas Highway Patrol, was formerly stationed at Dallas, Texas, and then transferred to Amarillo, Texas where they were married. He was apparently discharged from the Texas Highway Patrol in Amarillo, date unknown, and then the Bealls moved to Gallup, New Mexico, where they operated an ambulance service, and have been in Albuquerque, New Mexico for approximately a year operating the Gold Cross Ambulance Service.

Zucht advised he, on behalf of Mrs. Beall, filed suit for divorce against her husband on January 6, 1967 in the Court of District Judge D. A. McPherson, Bernalillo County, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Zucht said that he had a conversation with Mrs. Beall at Albuquerque on Sunday, January 15, 1967, when she alleged that she had seen in a manila envelope among her husband's possessions, a nightclub type photograph showing her husband between two individuals whom she stated were Lee Harvey Oswald and Jack Ruby. Further, that she had seen this photograph on two occasions and that she had, on one occasion, shown the photograph to her daughter, Laurie Bartlett, age 13.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE 105-82555-5543

Zucht said that he had questioned the young girl about it and she also stated she had seen the picture and these were the individuals in the photograph with her stepfather.

Zucht said that a day or two after January 15, 1967, he had obtained a court order for Richard Beall to vacate the premises occupied by him and his wife at 2400 Miles Road Southeast, Albuquerque, and Beall then followed the direction of the court order. After this he instructed Mrs. Beall to find the photograph mentioned and show it to him, however, she told him that she could not locate the manila envelope or the photograph in this envelope.

Zucht advised that Mrs. Beall is disturbed emotionally over the divorce action and in fact, has received several severe beatings from her husband, and has been hospitalized as a result of one of the beatings. He said that both Mrs. Beall and her husband have been examined by psychiatrists, as a part of this divorce action, and he is expecting these psychiatric reports in the near future.

Zucht told him that her husband once mentioned that the photograph would prove to be worth some money sometime, but there was no further elaboration on this matter. Zucht stated that he would have no objection to having his client or her daughter interviewed concerning this matter, as long as he first had an opportunity to talk to her and advise her of his action in reporting this matter to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Zucht further stated that his client, Mrs. Beall, is the business head of the Gold Cross Ambulance Service, which she and her husband operate; she handles the books and does most of the paper work in the business. He said that her husband more or less "sits around" and is not very active in the business operation.

He further advised that he had asked Mrs. Beall if she had ever discussed the photograph, mentioned above, with anyone else, and she told him that she had not and that he was the only person to whom she had mentioned this matter.

Zucht advised that he could furnish no further information concerning this matter, has never seen the photograph mentioned himself, and could furnish no further information as to whether such a photograph actually existed, or the present location of the photograph. He said, however, that it was his impression that Mrs. Beall had seen this photograph and had shown it to her daughter when the family was living in either Amarillo, Texas, or Gallup, New Mexico.

On 2/10/67, J. W. Gallaher, a merchant seaman, advised Seattle he saw Lee Harvey Oswald in a New Orleans hotel shortly prior to the assassination. Gallaher furnished a somewhat similar but more specific story in 12/63. This was checked out and discounted at that time.

BACKGROUND:

On 2/10/67, a merchant seaman, James W. Gallaher, advised the Seattle Office that shortly prior to the assassination of President Kennedy he saw Lee Harvey Oswald in the Capitol House Hotel, New Orleans, Louisiana, with two other men and heard one of the other men say, "If we can't vote the man into office we want, we will vote him in with a rifle." Seattle advised Gallaher was first contacted on 2/9/67 but was too intoxicated and confused that date to be interviewed.

Bufiles reveal Gallaher advised Vice Consul William J. Boudreau, American Consulate, Hamilton, Bermuda, in 12/63 that he had overheard four men talking on either 11/10, 11 or 12/63 in the Capitol House Hotel, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and one of the men stated, "If we can't put a man in by ballot, we'll get rid of this one with a 30-30-." Gallaher, when telling this story in 12/63, made no comment that one of the four men was Lee Harvey Oswald.

NOT RECORDED
15 MAR 8 1967

Investigation was conducted at the Capitol House Hotel, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and revealed that during the period mentioned by Gallaher, a political convention was taking place in Baton Rouge. Persons interviewed in the hotel could furnish no information about anyone who had made a remark similar to that related by Gallaher and commented that such a remark could have referred to any politican. A number of persons were interviewed in the hotel and shown photographs of Oswald and all advised they had never seen the man in the hotel.

It is noted investigation of Oswald's activities determined he was in Irving and Dallas, Texas, from 11/8/63 through 11/12/63.

OBSERVATIONS:

Gallaher has changed his original story so that he is now stating he saw Oswald in the hotel. It is unlikely his recollection is better now than it was three years ago. Investigation at the hotel failed to uncover any information that Oswald had ever been there. It is noted the hotel is in Baton Rouge; Gallaher in his recent story placed it in New Orleans. He apparently is confused on this.

RECOMMENDATION:

No further investigation is necessary concerning Gallaher's story. For information.

On 2-23-67 Carl John Stanley, Louisville, Kentucky, who calls himself "Most Reverend Christopher Maria Stanley," and purports to be "Archbishop of the Metropolitan Eastern Province, American Orthodox Catholic Church," volunteered information to a Special Agent of the Louisville Office and two Louisville Police Department detectives that he is acquainted with David William Ferrie and John J. Martin through church activities.

According to Stanley, "last year or the year before" Martin was in Louisville for approximately three months, at which time Martin told Stanley that Lee Harvey Oswald and David William Ferrie were "buddies" and Martin was also "connected with them." According to Stanley, Martin said he would shoot Ferrie if he could get him in the right place and also stated that "Ferrie was also in that plot to assassinate the President."

Stanley further stated Martin claimed that one Jerry De Pugh, address unknown, George Augustine Hyde, Washington, D. C., Ferrie, Martin and Lee Harvey Oswald lived together, worked together, were close friends and were connected with a Cuban organization.

Stanley stated that approximately 1-5-67 he received a telephone call from Jerry De Pugh in New Orleans asking Stanley to come to New Orleans to start a mission and a church newspaper. Stanley added that he received another telephone call from De Pugh, whose voice he recognized but who did not identify himself, telling Stanley "if you open your mouth about us, I will shoot you."

Stanley further advised that "about a month ago" he called the Chief of Police at New Orleans and gave him the above information about the association between Oswald, Ferrie, Martin, De Pugh and Hyde.

A check of our files disclose that Martin is acquainted with Stanley. Martin sent a letter to the Director dated 4-27-66, at which time he claimed that Stanley was engaged in numerous activities of a fraudulent nature which should be of interest to Federal and State Governments. Martin's letter is a rambling affair, strongly suggesting that its writer is mentally ill (62-109081). Our files contain no information identifiable with Jerry De Pugh or George Augustine Hyde.

The Louisville Office reported that indices check of Stanley reveals that he has arrests for sending obscene letters in the mail, was convicted for automobile theft and was arrested on burglary charges in San Francisco. Chief of detectives at Louisville regard Stanley as crazy and as a confidence man.

OBSERVATIONS:

Although Stanley claims he furnished the information he received from Martin to the Chief of Police, New Orleans, "about a month ago," it appears quite possible that Stanley furnished this information to New Orleans Chief of Police before that time and that it was such information that touched off New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison's investigation of the assassination and led to his known contacts with Jack Martin in connection with his investigation. Martin reportedly is a mental case and was hospitalized in 1956-57 for mental illness.

FROM: C. D. DE LOACH

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

Merriman Smith is a senior White House correspondent. He is a very sharp newspaperman and undoubtedly one of the cagiest reporters in the Nation's Capital. He returned this morning after spending three days in New Orleans. He contacted numerous individuals while there. He interviewed Garrison lengthily. Smith called this morning to let me know in strict confidence the results of his investigation in New Orleans.

Smith told me that Garrison's case was based mainly on David William Ferrie who recently died. He stated that of course Garrison can now make additional claims concerning Ferrie without being challenged. Many people have thought that Garrison's case was based on claims made by Jack S. Martin, however, this is not so.

Smith stated that Garrison's allegations and claims go back to the period in 1961 and 1962 when some of the leading citizens of New Orleans became greatly disturbed about the growth of communism in the Caribbean area. These citizens donated considerable funds in the hope that Castro could be removed. These funds were used to train guerillas at Lake Pontchartrain. A group of local perverts in and around New Orleans eventually infiltrated this group and after a short period of time took over control.

David William Ferrie was one of the individuals who became a member of this group. A number of obviously mental cases also became involved with this group. For a while the group had an adequate supply of arms and ammunition. Their funds eventually were dissipated and the citizens of New Orleans refused to replenish these funds. The group then moved from Lake Pontchartrain back to the city of New Orleans where they eventually gravitated to William Guy Banister who at that time was a private detective in New Orleans. The group became disenchanted with Banister and started spending more time with Ferrie rather than with Banister. One of the topics of conversation of the group was the possible assassination of President Kennedy.

C. D. DeLoach to Mr. Tolson
ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Garrison claims that Lee Harvey Oswald lived with Ferrie for approximately one month before leaving New Orleans to go to Dallas, Texas. Garrison claims that he has five or six individuals who are willing to testify to the fact that they had seen Oswald living in Ferrie's apartment. Garrison states that Oswald definitely did fire at the Presidential Motorcade in Dallas and that one of his shots hit Governor Connally. He additionally alleges, however, that Oswald did not fire at the President. Garrison strongly claims that a black haired, heavy set individual shooting from the overpass in front of the motorcade was the individual who fired the fatal shot at the President.

Garrison alleges that the conspirators in this plot consisted of Sergio Arcacha Smith, David William Ferrie, Carlos Quiroga, David Lewis, William Guy Banister, Jack S. Martin (true name Edward Stewart Suggs), and one Mrs. Kloepher, as well as a number of Cubans including Batteau and Guzman. Garrison also implicates a local New Orleans lawyer believed by Smith also to be a mental case whose name is Lon.

Garrison tells the story that Martin and Ferrie became a bishop and a priest, respectively, in a specific religious order they joined. Martin and Ferrie wore cassocks and conducted self-styled masses. On one occasion Martin took Ferrie to Louisville where they met with Archbishop Stanley of this religious order. At that time Ferrie was ordained as a priest. Later on, Eastern Airlines told Archbishop Stanley that Ferrie was a homosexual and had been fired by them for such activities. The self-styled Archbishop unfrocked Ferrie by addressing a letter to him indicating that he was being kicked out of this order. Ferrie refused to be unfrocked, however, and continued holding self-styled "masses."

The New Orleans coroner is receiving great pressure from Garrison to change his opinion of the cause of Ferrie's death from "natural causes - cerebral hemorrhage" to suicide. Smith stated the coroner will definitely not change his opinion. However, there are strong indications that Ferrie, knowing that his health was bad and knowing that he was susceptible to either a coronary or cerebral hemorrhage, walked himself to death in his apartment.

Smith told me that David Lewis was moving heaven and earth in order to make as much money out of this situation while it was still a cause celebre. Lewis will then attempt to get out of town as soon as possible. Lewis tried to get United Press International to give him $1,000 for his story but Smith refused to give him any money. Someone in New Orleans did finance a trip for Lewis several days ago to California. Smith thinks that Lewis should be locked up inasmuch as he appears to be a dangerous mental case.

Smith told me that Garrison is crafty, shifty and cunning. He alternately lies and tells the truth, consequently, it is difficult to pin him down. One of Garrison's claims is that Oswald was hypnotized by Ferrie. Garrison's chief hero and model is the late Huey Long. Garrison is copying the motto of Huey Long in that he constantly states he believes that "anyone who can supply the entertainment will get the power."

Garrison told Smith that his ambition goes far beyond the Lieutenant Governorship of Louisiana. He actually aspires to be the Vice President of the United States.

Smith told me that the danger of this entire matter lies in the fact that Garrison may be able to file several cases and get one or two convictions. He stated that Garrison has no reasonable credibility and that he has not surfaced anyone or any new facts. Smith stated that Garrison, if he had any facts, would not be able to keep such facts on a confidential basis inasmuch as he is not the type of individual who can keep a secret.

Smith stated that the foreign reporters in New Orleans unfortunately believe that Garrison is telling the truth and that he is a courageous reporter who is interested in uncovering a heinous plot. Smith mentioned that Garrison is aiming for accessory convictions of either Lewis or Martin or both of these individuals. Garrison claims Quiroga will be the best witness and knows all facts with respect to the assassination plot. Garrison also places great faith in a deep sea diver whose name is Sidney Manning. Manning was with the homosexuals during the early training period at Lake Pontchartrain.

Garrison told Smith that he hopes he will not have to call Martin to the witness stand inasmuch as Martin is insane and would ruin his case.

Smith is writing a complete feature story on this matter which will be sent to all subscribers to UPI for appearance in next Sunday's newspapers.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

La
of Lee Harvey Oswald

In accordance with the Director's instructions, a activities thorough and penetrating review has been conducted at Seat of Government concerning our investigation in the New Orleans area of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. This was a joint analysis, the Domestic Intelligence Division reviewing our investigation of the assassination as reported in the Lee Harvey Oswald file (105-82555) and the General Investigative Division reviewing the assassination file (62-109060).

No gaps in our investigation of the assassination were found, nor did we find any logical leads which were not covered. Our investigation of Oswald and of the assassination which was conducted in New Orleans was extremely thorough and full details were accurately reported to the Warren Commission. We found no evidence that Lee Harvey Oswald was involved with anyone in a conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy. Instead, all of our investigation overwhelmingly shows that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, assassinated President Kennedy.

There was one individual who was in contact with Lee Harvey Oswald whom we were unable to identify. Details of this situation are as follows:

On August 16, 1963, Lee Harvey Oswald and two young men were observed passing out leaflets urging "Hands Off Cuba" in front of the Trade Mart Building in New Orleans. A New Orleans television station photographed this activity by Oswald and his two associates and the film was shown on a New Orleans television station on the evening of August 16, 1963. Following the assassination of President Kennedy when it had been determined Oswald was being held in connection with the assassination, the same film was again shown over a New Orleans television station on the evening of November 23, 1963. The television announcer reportedly said that the FBI was interested in identifying the individuals who were distributing literature with Oswald. EX-111

Memorandum Branigan to Sullivan
Re: ASSASSINATION OF JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
62-109060

On November 24, 1963, Mr. Charles Hall Steele, Sr., 1488 Madrid Street, New Orleans, contacted our New Orleans Office and advised that his son, Charles Hall Steele, Jr., was one of the two individuals who assisted Oswald in passing out leaflets on August 16, 1963. New Orleans, La.

On November 24, 1963, we interviewed Charles Hall Steele, Jr., and he reported that he was sitting in the Louisiana State Employment Service on the afternoon of August 16, 1963, waiting for his girlfriend to take a typing test in connection with an application for employment. He stated that while he was in this office, an individual whom he now knew to be Lee Harvey Oswald was asking people in the office if they would be interested in making $2 by distributing some literature. Steele stated that he was approached by Oswald and agreed to help Oswald distribute the leaflets.

Steele stated that thereafter Oswald, he, and another person whom he described as a young man, approximately 19-20 years of age, approximately six feet tall, and of olive complexion proceeded to pass out leaflets. Steele added that Oswald did not speak to the other individual who was assisting in distributing leaflets and Steele got the impression that this person had also, like Steele, been hired to hand out leaflets.

We conducted an exhaustive investigation in New Orleans in an effort to identify the unknown individual. Sources in New Orleans who were familiar with Cuban refugee personnel were exhibited photographs of this unknown individual but could not identify him. Despite the fact the unknown individual's picture was carried on New Orleans television programs, the unknown individual never contacted our office to identify himself nor did anyone else do so.

We fully reported Oswald's activity on August 16, 1963, to the Warren Commission along with the results of our exhaustive efforts to identify the unknown individual concerned. The Warren Commission in its Report on page 292 set forth the activity of Oswald and his two associates passing out leaflets. The Warren Commission Report erroneously indicated the activity took place on August 9, 1963, when actually it took place August 16, 1963, as correctly reported herein. The Warren Commission noted in connection with the unknown individual "The second individual has never been located; but according to the testimony of the youth who was found, he, too, seemed to be someone not previously connected with Oswald."

PERSONAL ATTENTION

Re 2-28-67, [redacted] furnished the Bureau on strict confidence the results of his investigation in New Orleans after spending three days and contacting numerous persons there. [redacted] There is set forth below the information furnished by [redacted] You are cautioned that since this information was furnished in strict confidence it must be maintained as such.

Garrison's case is based mainly on David William Ferrie. In view of Ferrie's recent death Garrison can now make additional claims concerning Ferrie without being challenged. Many people thought Garrison's case was based on claims made by Jack S. Martin; however, this is not so.

Garrison's claims go back to the period in 1961 and 1962 when some of the leading citizens of New Orleans became greatly disturbed about the growth of communism in the Caribbean area. These citizens donated considerable sums in the hope that Castro could be removed. These funds were used to train guerrillas at Lake Pontchartrain. A group of local perverts in and around New Orleans eventually infiltrated this group and after a short period of time took over control.

Ferrie was one of the individuals who became a member of this group. A number of obvious mental cases also became involved with this group. For a while the group had an adequate supply of arms and ammunition.

The funds of this group were eventually dissipated and the citizens of New Orleans refused to replenish these funds. The group then moved from Lake Pontchartrain back to New Orleans where they eventually gravitated to William Guy Banister, who at that time was a private detective in New Orleans. The group became disenchanted with Banister and started spending more time with Ferrie. One of the topics of conversation of the group was a possible assassination of President Kennedy. LA

Garrison claims that Lee Harvey Oswald lived with Ferrie for approximately one month before leaving New Orleans to go ultimately to Dallas. Garrison claims he has five or six individuals who are willing to testify to the fact that they had seen Oswald living in Ferrie's apartment. Garrison states that Oswald definitely fired at the Presidential Motorcade in Dallas and that one of his shots hit Governor Connally. He additionally claims, however, that Oswald did not fire at the President. Garrison strongly claims that a black-haired, heavy-set individual shooting from the overpass in front of the motorcade was the individual who fired the fatal shot at the President.

Garrison alleges that the conspirators in this plot consisted of Sergio Arcacha Smith, David William Ferrie, Carlos Quiroga, David Lewis, William Guy Banister, Jack S. Martin (true name Edward Stewart Suggs) and one Mrs. Kloepfer, as well as a number of Cubans including Battenu and Guzman. Garrison also implicates local New Orleans lawyer believed also to be a mental case whose name is Lon. LA LA

March 2, 1967

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

On February 23, 1967, Carl John Stanley of Louisville, Kentucky, furnished information to a Special Agent of the Louisville Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and to two detectives of the Louisville Police Department that he was acquainted with David William Ferrie and John Martin through church activities. Stanley calls himself "Most Reverend Christopher Maria Stanley" and refers to himself as "Archbishop of the Metropolitan Eastern Province, American Orthodox Catholic Church." John Martin is identical with Jack S. Martin, private investigator who has previously reported to us concerning his contacts with James Garrison, District Attorney of New Orleans, Louisiana, in connection with Garrison's investigation of the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Stanley claimed that in July, 1961, on the recommendation of Bishop John Martin he and Martin consecrated David Ferrie as a bishop. He said Ferrie was deposed as a bishop in January, 1962, when it was learned that he had been discharged from his position with Eastern Airlines because of homosexual activity.

Stanley alleged that last year or the year before Martin was in Louisville from Thanksgiving Day until February 25th. He continued that Martin drinks a great deal and on one occasion while drinking Martin said that David Ferrie and Lee Harvey Oswald were "buddies" and that he, Martin, was connected with them. Martin allegedly made the statement that he would shoot Ferrie if he could get him in the right place and that "Ferrie was also in that plot to assassinate the President." Stanley also named Jerry De Pugh, address unknown, and George Augustine Hyde, a bishop in another church, as associates of Ferrie and Martin.

Later in the interview Stanley placed the date he received the information from Martin as January 3, 1966. In addition, he claimed that Martin said Ferrie, De Pugh, Hyde, Lee Harvey Oswald, and Martin lived together, worked together, were close friends, and were connected with a Cuban organization. When Stanley asked Martin further about Oswald, Martin "clammed up."

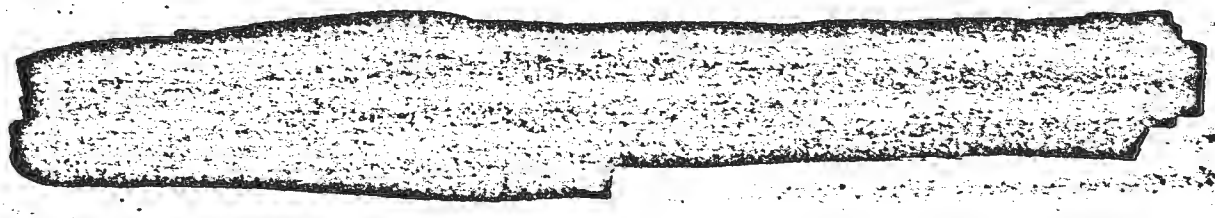
SEE NOTE PAGE THREE.

In addition to the above, Stanley alleged that he received two telephone calls from De Pugh in New Orleans about January 5, 1967, asking Stanley to start a mission in New Orleans. Thereafter he received a third telephone call from a person who did not identify himself but known to Stanley as De Pugh in which he was told "if you open your mouth about us, I will shoot you."

Further, Stanley claimed that "about one month ago" he called the Chief of Police in New Orleans and gave him the information about the association existing among Oswald, Ferrie, Martin, De Pugh, and Hyde. It is possible, of course, that this information was furnished to the Chief of Police at an earlier date and could well have formed the basis for the investigation currently being conducted by District Attorney James Garrison of New Orleans.

According to Stanley, in 1963 and 1964 Martin lived in Houston, Texas, and worked as a writer for a newspaper. In addition, Martin claims to have been in the Air Force during World War II, to have worked for the Central Intelligence Agency, and also carries numerous police "commissions" with him. Martin indicated to Stanley that his job is to spy on other policemen and that while he was in Louisville he worked for "Echo Blue," a publication of the Fraternal Order of Police.



Our files show that J. S. Martin, Sr., of New Orleans sent a letter dated November 25, 1963, to the Director of this Bureau in which he complained about an investigation being conducted of his wife based on allegations made by a telephone switchboard operator described by him as a mental case. In this regard he also enclosed a letter he had written on the same date to Richard E. Robey of the Federal Aviation Agency. In this latter communication Martin makes the allegations that Ferrie was connected with the Cubans, that he was friendly with Oswald, that he helped Oswald join the United States Marine Corps, and that he was capable of having planned the assassination.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

These allegations made by Martin were fully investigated shortly after the assassination of John Kennedy, and no evidence was ever developed to show that David W. Ferrie knew Lee Harvey Oswald. One copy of Martin's letter to the Director of this Bureau and one copy of Martin's letter to Mr. Robey are attached.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

This Bureau received allegations as early as 1954 that Clay Shaw, former managing director of the International Trade Mart in New Orleans, Louisiana, was a homosexual. One source informed this Bureau on March 19, 1964, that he has had relations of a homosexual nature with Clay Shaw. The source described Shaw as a brilliant and powerful man, given to sadism and masochism in his homosexual activities. On February 24, 1967, we received information from two other sources that information available to them led them to believe Clay Shaw has homosexual tendencies.

On February 24, 1967, we received information from two sources that Clay Shaw reportedly is identical with an individual by the name of Clay Bertrand, who allegedly was in contact with Dean Andrews, a New Orleans attorney, in connection with Lee Harvey Oswald, the facts of which are as follows:

On November 25, 1963, Andrews informed Agents of this Bureau that he had met Lee Harvey Oswald in late June, 1963, at which time Oswald appeared at his office with several individuals who impressed him as being homosexuals. Andrews claimed that Oswald requested assistance in making inquiries concerning Oswald's bad conduct discharge from the United States Marine Corps. Andrews further stated that Oswald asked him questions concerning the citizenship status of Oswald and his wife.

Andrews further stated that on the evening of November 23, 1963, at which time he was in a hospital in New Orleans under heavy sedation, he received a telephone call from an individual who said his name was Clay Bertrand. He added that Bertrand asked him if he would be interested in handling the defense of Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas, Texas, for the murder of President Kennedy.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

We conducted extensive investigation concerning the data furnished by Andrews and could find no supporting evidence that Lee Harvey Oswald ever visited Andrews' office. There was no record of Oswald in Andrews' files and his secretary could not recall Oswald ever having been to the office. In addition, we determined from Andrews' doctor that during the period Andrews was in the hospital he was seriously ill and was under heavy sedation. The doctor informed us that he did not believe Andrews was capable of using a telephone on November 23, 1963.

We questioned Andrews again on December 3, 1963, concerning his alleged association with Lee Harvey Oswald. On that date, Andrews stated that, after considering all the facts and discussing the matter with other members of his office staff, he believed the entire incident concerning the telephone call he received from Clay Bertrand could have been dreamed by him in view of his physical condition at that time.

We conducted extensive investigation in an effort to locate an individual by the name of Clay Bertrand but were unable to do so. Results of our investigation were furnished to the Warren Commission and Andrews was called as a witness before the Commission.

On 3/1/67, on The Talk of The Town radio program, WOAI Radio Station, San Antonio, Texas, ALLEN DALE, who is Master of Ceremonies on that program, said that earlier on the program that date he had telephonically interviewed a Mr. X, an anonymous man, who had heard and been invited to be a part of a plot two months before the assassination by a group that he called Minutemen who were going to assassinate the President in Dallas. According to DALE, this man said he told his story to the FBI after it happened. He did not believe it before. Also he told some of his friends, one was a military man. According to DALE, the man who told him (Mr. X) could not be found again. Mr. X said he did not believe this man was FERRIE.

According to DALE, Mr. X has high blood pressure and DALE will not reveal Mr. X's identity under any circumstances.

Also during this program, a woman called anonymously and in essence told the following story:

In 1959, she met a millionaire in Texas whom she described as a mad man and a Minuteman. She said the second meeting she had with this man, he had some information on how to put your currency in Switzerland. She told him this would break our country and that she felt this was wrong. She said he became violent and told her of the plan to take over the country. The people would be enslaved, they would sleep on the floor, they would have uniforms to wear, they would have a tab on them, they would put men in Washington to run the government and not the "so and so Kennedys."

This woman said she knew this man made a trip to New Orleans about the time that GARRISON reports some of these people were in New Orleans and even several months previous to that. She said she thought this is just a link in the assassination and this man assured her that they were going to kill the President and she discounted it. She said she feels this is something in New Orleans and she said she thanks God that GARRISON has the knowledge and courage to go forth with it.

Another anonymous caller on the program said that she reported something to the FBI on the day of the assassination which could have endangered her son's career. She said a boy drove to her son's house a car registered in Cuba from Miami to Houston and there was no one there to claim it. She said this was a brand new Rivera. She said he got to Houston an hour after the President left. He was supposed to have delivered the car two hours before. She said the car was registered in Cuba but carrying a Texas plate. She said something to the effect that this was a sailor wanting transportation and arriving three hours too late and no one would claim the car.

In view of the above, no further action in these instances appear warranted. In the event further pertinent information comes to the attention of the San Antonio Division, the Bureau and appropriate offices will be advised.

Date 2/28/67

Detective Sergeant HERMAN MITCHELL, Homicide Squad, Louisville Police Department, advised as follows:

On the morning of February 23, 1967, he received a telephone call from CARL JOHN STANLEY, 4018 Vermont Avenue, Louisville, Kentucky. STANLEY calls himself "Most Reverend CHRISTOPHER MARIA STANLEY" and purports to be Archbishop of the Metropolitan Eastern Province, American Orthodox Catholic Church. STANLEY in a long rambling telephone conversation told MITCHELL that DAVID WILLIAM FERRIE and JOHN J. MARTIN, both of whom were then "Bishops" in STANLEY's church were in Louisville, Kentucky, in November, 1961. While they were drinking and "hitting the bars" they told STANLEY that FERRIE had been involved in a plot against President KENNEDY. MITCHELL indicated he was positive as to the date November, 1961, because he had had STANLEY repeat the date.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 2/28/67

CARL JOHN STANLEY, 4018 Vermont Avenue, Louisville, Kentucky, advised as follows:

He is the "Most Reverend CHRISTOPHER MARIA STANLEY" and is "Archbishop of the Metropolitan Eastern Province, American Orthodox Catholic Church". STANLEY exhibited a number of documents purporting to support his identification. STANLEY advised as follows:

In July, 1961, upon the recommendation of "Bishop" JOHN J. MARTIN then of 1311 North Prieur Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, he and MARTIN consecrated DAVID WILLIAM FERRIE as a Bishop in his church. FERRIE, STANLEY said, was identical with the individual receiving publicity in New Orleans in connection with the investigation being conducted by District Attorney GARRISON there. It is noted that FERRIE's death had been reported. FERRIE was "deposed" as Bishop in January, 1962, at which time STANLEY claimed to have learned from an Eastern Airlines representative that FERRIE had been discharged by Eastern Airlines because of homosexual activity. STANLEY said that FERRIE had been discharged by a Captain GRENNIER whose address was International Airport, New Orleans, Louisiana.

"Last year or the year before" MARTIN was in Louisville "from Thanksgiving to the twenty-fifth of February", MARTIN drinks a great deal and while drinking on one occasion told STANLEY that LEE HARVEY OSWALD and FERRIE were "buddies" and that MARTIN was also "connected with them". In discussing FERRIE, STANLEY criticized MARTIN for having recommended FERRIE as a "Bishop". MARTIN at that time said he would shoot FERRIE if he could get FERRIE in the right place and that "FERRIE was also in that plot to assassinate the President". STANLEY named one JERRY DE PUCH, address unknown, reputedly a relative of Teamsters Union President JAMES HOFFA, and GEORGE AUGUSTINE HYDE, "a Bishop in another church," 1657 Park Road, Northwest, Washington, D. C., characterized by STANLEY as a homosexual, as associates of FERRIE and MARTIN.

Later in the interview when asked to repeat this information, STANLEY placed the date MARTIN gave him the information as January 3, 1966, and said MARTIN had said that FERRIE, DE PUGH, MARTIN, HYDE, and LEE HARVEY OSWALD lived together, worked together, were close friends, and were connected with a Cuban organization. When STANLEY asked MARTIN, "You mean LEE HARVEY OSWALD was with you?" MARTIN "clammed up" and would talk no more about it. In answer to a direct question STANLEY said MARTIN had not mentioned the assassination specifically.

It is noted that STANLEY indicated that MARTIN had talked to him about the association of FERRIE, OSWALD, himself and the others on only one occasion although STANLEY gave three different versions.

Beginning about January 5, 1967, STANLEY received two telephone calls from JERRY DE PUGH in New Orleans, Louisiana, asking that STANLEY come to New Orleans to start a mission and a church newspaper. Thereafter, STANLEY received a third call from DE PUGH, whose voice he recognized but who did not identify himself, telling STANLEY "if you open your mouth about us, I will shoot you". STANLEY explained "they knew MARTIN had talked to me and had referred to the plot against the President".

STANLEY said that "about a month ago" he called the Chief of Police at New Orleans giving him the above information about the association between OSWALD, FERRIE, MARTIN, DE PUGH, and HYDE. STANLEY said he offered to go to New Orleans but the Chief of Police told him it would not be necessary.

STANLEY said he did not report the information he obtained from MARTIN previously because the Warren Report indicated that there was no conspiracy involved in the assassination of President KENNEDY. STANLEY indicated that he was reporting this information now because from recent newspaper publicity it appeared that there might be a plot.

STANLEY continued "MARTIN had a connection with CASTRO because he asked me to consecrate a Bishop to go to Cuba". Later he said he did not know whether the Cuban organization with which he alleged OSWALD, MARTIN, FERRIE, DE PUGH, and HYDE to have been connected was pro or anti-CASTRO. Still later STANLEY said he had received a telephone call from Colonel "something or other," the head of an anti-CASTRO group in New Orleans. STANLEY said he could not recall the name of the Colonel but said he had read about him in the newspaper as the head of an anti-CASTRO group.

STANLEY said that MARTIN, when in Louisville, carried two .32 caliber revolvers. STANLEY said he had argued with MARTIN about carrying these revolvers.

STANLEY exhibited what purported to be a record of the "consecration" of FERRIE as a Bishop. This record indicated FERRIE's address as of 1961 as 331 Atherton Drive, Metarie, Louisiana.

STANLEY said that MARTIN in 1963 and 1964 resided at 207 Mason Street, Houston, Texas, and worked as a writer for a newspaper. MARTIN during this period also corresponded with STANLEY from New Orleans and STANLEY feels MARTIN is now in New Orleans. MARTIN claims to have been in the Air Force during World War II, has worked for CIA, and carries numerous police "commissions". MARTIN has indicated that it is his job to spy on other policemen. While in Louisville, MARTIN reputedly worked for "Echo Blue," the publication of the Fraternal Order of Police. STANLEY described MARTIN as a white male, 45 to 50 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall, 150 pounds, wears glasses. STANLEY described DE PUGH as follows:

White male, short, chunky, dark hair, and complexion, 35 to 40 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, and tough when drinking.

STANLEY has never seen HYDE but said that HYDE had been arrested for homosexual activity in Washington, D. C.

At the beginning of this interview when STANLEY was first approached, STANLEY said he would not talk to an FBI Agent but would talk only to the police officers. He refused to give a reason for not talking to an FBI Agent, but thereafter when the interviewing Agent offered to leave, STANLEY suddenly changed his mind and agreed to talk to police and the Special Agent together.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On March 8, 1966, Stanley complained to a Special Agent of the FBI that he had been refused a permit for a fund drive to raise funds with which to build a church. He claimed that the permit had been refused on the basis of an FBI arrest record which he claimed did not pertain to him. Stanley voluntarily submitted to fingerprinting. A set of his fingerprints were submitted to the Identification Division of the FBI following which the following Identification Record was furnished under date of March 18, 1966, FBI [redacted]

On February 23, 1967, Major Priest Fry, Chief of Detectives, Louisville Police Department, advised that the Detective Bureau of the Louisville Police Department has a file of Stanley but that that file is currently in possession of the City Law Department in connection with a suit brought by Stanley against the City of Louisville apparently in connection with the refusal of the City to issue a fund soliciting permit to him. Major Fry indicated that he knows Stanley as mentally unstable and as a con-man.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963 AT DALLAS, TEXAS

By letter dated February 24, 1967, Mr. R. C. Dougherty, 1827 South Marsalis Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75216, furnished the Dallas Office a typewritten note enclosing a mimeographed report and the envelope in which same was received addressed to Mr. Jack Dougherty, c/o R. C. Dougherty, 1827 South Marsalis Street, Dallas, Texas. The postmark on the envelope is illegible.

A Xerox copy of the above-described items received by Mr. Dougherty follows, which is self-explanatory.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency. It and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE

Dear Mr. Dougherty

The enclosed report may be of interest to you. In it you are accused of nothing. If you are guilty of nothing, you have no need to fear. If, however, you were involved in the assassination, you may wish to make a statement to the press in some northern city in exchange for protection. Within the next few days I will mail copies of this report to a number of prople who might find it of interest.

With best wishes,

NINETEEN AGAINST LYNDON JOHNSON.

"Jack Ruby: There is an organization here, Chief Justice Warren, if it takes my life at this moment to say it, and Bill Decker said be a man and say it, there is a John Birch Society right now in activity, and Edwin Walker is one of the top men of this organization--take it for what it is worth, Chief Justice Warren.

"Unfortunately for me, for me giving the people the opportunity to get in power, because of the act I committed, has put a lot of people in jeopardy with their lives.

"Don't register with you, does it?

"Chief Justice Warren: No; I don't understand that.

"Jack Ruby: Would you rather I just delite what I said and just pretend that nothing is going on?"

--June 7, 1964, Dallas County Jail.

At the end of its investigation the Warren Commission concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President Kennedy. For the following reasons this conclusion may be rejected:

1. Because the Commission did not study and make available to independent specialists in pathology the photographic and X-ray record of President Kennedy's wounds, no statement regarding these wounds may be accepted.

2. Because no bullets were found in or near President Kennedy or Governor Connally, the assassination weapon cannot be identified.

3. Because Jack Ruby was not questioned in circumstances of maximum security to himself, his family, and members of the Commission, no statement regarding his motive or possible participation in a conspiracy can be accepted.

4. The Commission found no evidence that a conspiracy did not exist.

5. The commission found no evidence that the man who killed Patrolman J.D. Tippit also killed President Kennedy.

6. If Oswald shot at and missed Maj. Gen. E.A. Walker on April 10, 1963, it is doubtful that on November 22, 1963, he possessed sufficient skill as a marksman to hit President Kennedy twice. The Commission found no evidence that, on November 22, Oswald possessed sufficient skill as a marksman to commit the assassination.

7. If Oswald, after his arrest, lied to the police, this proves nothing in respect to the assassination--especially as Oswald could have been charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

8. The Commission found no evidence that Oswald had a weapon in his possession at the time of the assassination.

9. No witness saw a rifle in Oswald's possession on November 22, 1963.

10. The only witness--Howard L. Brennan--who ever claimed to be able to identify Oswald as the man who fired shots from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository, declined to do so on the day of the assassination (Report, p. 145). There is no way to determine whether Brennan lied on November 22 or during his later testimony before the Commission or on both occasions. No other witness claimed to have seen Oswald on the sixth floor at the time of the assassination.

11. The fact that a rifle, said to belong to Oswald, was found on the sixth floor of the Depository does not prove that Oswald was the assassin.

12. The brown paper bag (38" long) found on the sixth floor was longer than the one described by the only witnesses--Mrs. Randle (27-28") and Buell Frazier (24-28½")--who saw Oswald in possession of a paper bag on November 22. The longest part of Oswald's disassembled Mannlicher-Carcano is 34.8". No one saw Oswald carry a paper bag into the Depository. (See Report, pp. 133-134.)

13. The Commission found no evidence that the three used cartridge cases found on the sixth floor belonged to bullets fired on November 22.

14. The Commission found no evidence that Oswald had a distinct motive for the assassination.

15. Jack Edwin Dougherty, a Depository employee, testified that, on November 22, he arrived at the Depository about one hour earlier than the other employees and that he was on the sixth floor immediately before and on the fifth floor during the assassination. While it is unlikely that he fired the fatal shot, he, more easily than Oswald, could have brought a rifle into the building, manufactured the brown paper bag, and arranged the screen of boxes at the sixth floor window. As Dougherty descended on an elevator from the fifth floor after the assassination but immediately before Roy Truly and Patrolman Baker reached the fifth floor via the stairs, Dougherty could have taken the assassin down with him. Were this the case, the assassin would be someone other than Oswald and there would have been a conspiracy. (See Report, pp. 149-154 and Hearings, vol. 6, pp. 373ff.)

16. Suppose someone laid before the Dallas police seemingly tangible evidence that the assassin was Tippit, not Oswald. Could the Dallas police exonerate Oswald and accuse a fellow officer? What did Ruby tell District Attorney Henry M. Wade and Justice of the Peace David L. Johnston, and why did Ruby act as Wade's press-agent about an hour before Oswald was arraigned before Johnston for the murder of President Kennedy? (See Report, pp. 198,342.)

17. Suppose someone laid before the Warren Commission seemingly tangible evidence that Oswald was an agent of the federal government. Could the Commission have concluded that Oswald was both a federal agent and the assassin? Or, could the Commission have found that Oswald was a federal agent but not the assassin? As the Commission could adopt neither of these alternatives, it had no choice but to find that Oswald was the assassin but not a federal agent. Why, at the outset of the Commission's investigation, did Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr and District Attorney Henry M. Wade fly secretly to Washington to report a rumor that Oswald had been employed by the FBI as undercover-agent number 179 since September, 1962, at a salary of two hundred dollars per month? (Ford and Stiles, Portrait of the Assassin, p14)

18. Having attempted to deceive the American people, the members of the Warren Commission have rendered themselves morally unfit to hold public office.

19. Because the Constitution of the United States provides that the Vice President automatically becomes President when a President dies in office, if the President is assassinated, suspicion falls first and automatically upon his Vice President. Having failed thus far to purge himself of this suspicion, Lyndon Johnson is morally unfit to serve as President and should resign.

Note: the above observations are based on a study of the Warren Report. If the Commission's conclusions are not substantiated by evidence presented in the Report, the Report falls.

Note: while we do not believe that Lyndon Johnson fired the fatal bullet, we simply do not know that his policies are not today inspired by those who initiated the attack on President Kennedy.

SUBJECT: Conversation with Dr. Hovda
February 23, 1967

M E M O R A N D U M

Male subject would be the type of police officer who really liked his authority and would take advantage of it; the type that would love the red light and siren operation. His operation of the Ambulance Service is a good substitute for this outlet.

When I asked the Doctor if subject was the type that would be prone to belong to any conspiracy (if in fact there was one) the Doctor answered in the affirmative and utilized as an example that subject would be a good member of the Mafia. Subject not truthful type.

Female subject tells the truth as she is too conscious-ridden to do otherwise. She could not be a member of a mafia-type organization though could be a member's girl.

I explained to the Doctor about the concerned purported picture with three subjects and the Doctor informed me that she had told him about a picture with husband whose arm was around Ruby but she left out the third party from the picture.

When I asked the Doctor if he had any explanation about the version of the story she told him and the version she told me, he was of the opinion that female subject has very good control of herself although at the time she related the incident to me after just being released from the hospital she was emotionally upset and hence had less control of herself.

I asked the Doctor if he believed her story about the three subjects in the picture and he said "if she told you this, I would believe there is such a picture in existence".

The foregoing is related to you for the primary and sole purpose of assisting your Bureau in evaluating the amount of time which you may desire to expend in this particular investigation.

Yours very truly,

Joseph B. Zucht

JOSEPH B. ZUCHT

AQ 89-27

In the recontact with Mr. ZUCHT on 3/2/67, he was questioned concerning the discrepancy concerning two individuals or three individuals in the photograph with RICHARD BEALL. He stated that he discussed this matter at length with Dr. HOVDA, the psychiatrist, and Dr. HOVDA advised him that this was undoubtedly brought about the the fact that when Mrs. BEALL talked to ZUCHT she had just been released from ten days in the hospital as a result of a severe beating by her husband and was somewhat hysterical and undoubtedly emotionally upset. In the interview with Dr. HOVDA, which was sometime later, she was completely composed and definitely mentioned that there were only two persons in said photograph. ZUCHT further advised that RICHARD BEALL is a complete bully who tends to exaggerate and distort facts to suit his own purpose. He stated that BEALL, according to his wife, was discharged from the Texas Highway Patrol

Richard [illegible]

In view of the fact that there were only two persons in the photograph instead of three as originally alleged and inasmuch as the person with BEALL was not JACK L. RUBY, no further investigation being conducted in this matter, UACB.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mrs. Richard W. Beall, 2400 Miles Road, S.E., Albuquerque, New Mexico, advised on March 2, 1967, that her husband was employed on the Texas Highway Patrol for eight and a half years, which employment terminated on July 16, 1965, at Amarillo, Texas. She was questioned concerning any photograph in her or her husband's possession which depicts her husband with Jack L. Ruby or Lee Harvey Oswald. She stated that her husband formerly had a picture which was taken while he was on the Texas Highway Patrol at least ten years ago which pictures him with Ruby. She stated that there are definitely only two individuals in this photograph, both of whom were intoxicated and in the picture, her husband has his arm around Ruby and he is holding a bottle. She said this picture was found in his belongings at Amarillo, Texas, while they were going through their belongings prior to moving to Albuquerque, New Mexico, and they definitely threw away the photograph at the time. She stated that the person in the photograph with her husband had a large face with a considerable quantity of black curly hair. The photograph was taken while her husband and Ruby were standing in a doorway. She believed it was a night club type photograph, however, she could not specifically recall.

She stated she does not recall who took the photograph, but is certain that they have thrown it away and did not know how to obtain additional copies. She stated she did not know either Ruby or Oswald and did not recognize Ruby in the photograph, but believes she was told by her husband that the individual with him was Jack Ruby.

Mrs. Beall, who is described as white female; born December 10, 1934, at Denver, Colorado; 5'5½"; 111 pounds; brown hair; brown eyes; slender build; attractive appearance; advised she was previously married to Wesley Bartlett from April 16, 1953, to October, 1964. During this period, he was serving in the U. S. Air Force and they resided in the United States and in foreign countries until July, 1963, when they moved to Amarillo, Texas, from Norway. She married Richard W. Beall at Amarillo, Texas, on December 8, 1964, and she has one daughter, Laurie Bartlett, age 13, by her first marriage.

Miss Laurie Bartlett, age 13 years, 2400 Miles Road, S.E., Albuquerque, advised on March 2, 1967, that she has no knowledge of any photograph in possession of her mother or stepfather which depicts him with Jack L. Ruby or Lee Harvey Oswald. She stated that she has never heard any conversation which would indicate that such photograph is or has been in existence.

Richard W. Beall, 2400 Miles Road, S.E., Albuquerque, advised on March 2, 1967, that to his knowledge, he has never personally been associated with Jack L. Ruby or Lee Harvey Oswald. He stated he was employed by the Texas Highway Patrol from January 3, 1957, to July 16, 1965. He stated that he was born July 16, 1935, at Wellington, Texas, and is described as 6'4", 285 pounds, brown hair, brown eyes, an extremely large build and fair complexion. He stated he graduated from high school at Perkins, Oklahoma, in June, 1954, and thereafter served in the U. S. Navy from June 28, 1954, to June 11, 1956. He held Navy service number 4303195. Upon his discharge from the Armed Forces, he returned to Amarillo, Texas, where he was employed by McKnight Transfer and Storage Company as a furniture hauler from July to October, 1956. He, thereafter, was employed by the Phillips Chemical Company at Borger, Texas, for two months. He, thereafter, was employed by the Texas Highway Patrol as set forth above and served for approximately one year in Fort Worth, Texas, prior to moving to Amarillo, Texas. Subsequent to his services with the Texas Highway Patrol, he was employed five months by the R. D. Hopson Claims Service at Amarillo, Texas, prior to moving to Albuquerque, New Mexico, where he has been the owner and operator of the Gold Cross Ambulance Service since that time.

He was questioned concerning any photograph presently or formerly in his possession depicting him with Ruby or Oswald or both. He stated that to his knowledge, no such photograph has ever existed nor has he ever told anyone that this was the case. He stated he is aware of the fact that the FBI had previously talked to his wife and the only photograph he can possibly imagine that she is referring to is one which was taken of him with a wrestler whose real name is Alex Perez. This picture was taken at the wedding of a friend, Bob Hunter, in Amarillo, Texas, in either 1962, 1963 or the early part of 1964. The photograph was taken by an airman of the U. S. Air Force and Hunter may still have a copy of same. He stated, however, that this was approximately Hunter's fifth marriage, therefore, if he has remarried, it is probable that Hunter has destroyed the picture. This picture depicts him in a doorway along with Perez and no other individuals are included therein. In this picture, he has his arm around Perez and both are intoxicated and believed each has a bottle in his hand. He stated that Perez wrestles under many different names and is generally characterized as a "bad guy" in the wrestling circles. He belives that Perez is presently wrestling as a masked individual. Perez is a short, extremely husky individual who has a large round face and a considerable amount of black curly hair. He stated it is possible that in describing this photograph to his wife, he may have used one of the numerous wrestling names used by Perez and she may have misunderstood this to be Jack L. Ruby. He described the photograph as approximately 8 x 10 typically glossy wedding photograph and is reasonably certain that he and his wife threw the photograph away prior to the time they moved to New Mexico. This photograph was taken while he was wearing glasses and showed a discolored upper front tooth he had received as a result of an injury. He advised he did not start wearing glasses and the tooth did not become discolored until sometime after they moved to Amarillo, Texas.

Mrs. Richard W. Beall was reinterviewed March 2, 1967, and advised that the photograph described above which allegedly included her husband and Jack L. Ruby portrayed her husband as wearing glasses and having discolored upper tooth. She reiterated the fact that there was only one other individual in the photograph with her husband and believed that her husband claimed this individual having a large round face and dark curly hair was Jack Ruby. A photograph of Jack L. Ruby was displayed to her and she stated that the person in the photograph is definitely not Ruby.

During past contacts with SA REGIS L. KENNEDY at New Orleans, JACK S. MARTIN, true name EDWARD STEWART SUGGS, advised him he was a Bishop in a Catholic Church in Louisville, Kentucky. Due to the above information, it is believed JOHN J. MARTIN is identical to JACK S. MARTIN.

The Bureau's attention is directed to New Orleans airtel to the Bureau 12/3/63, New Orleans file 94-448, entitled "J. S. MARTIN, SR., aka, Jack S. Martin, Sr., Col. Jack Martin, Edward Stewart Suggs (true name), RESEARCH (CORRESPONDENCE AND TOURS), with enclosure as entitled above.

The enclosure is a summary of information contained in New Orleans file regarding JACK S. MARTIN. Page seven of this enclosure reflects information contained in a news article of the "New Orleans States-Item", New Orleans, La., in the 6/19/63 Red Flash edition, that MARTIN filed a $50,000 damage suit against District Attorney JIM GARRISON and his Chief Investigator, PERSHING O. GERVAIS, in Civil District Court, charging MARTIN and his family were threatened due to an investigation he conducted into the activities of GARRISON and GERVAIS.

It was alleged that one DAVID WILLIAM FERRIE had taught LEE HARVEY OSWALD how to use a telescopic sight on a rifle. HERMAN S. KOHLMAN, Assistant Orleans Parish District Attorney, advised Bureau Agents 11/25/63 that MARTIN alleged there was an association between FERRIE and OSWALD.

New Orleans teletypes to Bureau and Dallas dated 11/26/63 and 11/27/63, captioned as above, include details concerning MARTIN's allegation that FERRIE taught OSWALD how to use a telescopic sight. Portions of referenced teletype are summarized as they apply to information furnished by MARTIN.

JOHN S. MARTIN advised Bureau Agents on 11/25/63 at New Orleans that he had witnessed a television program on 11/23/63 on which several individuals reported an association of OSWALD and DAVID FERRIE. MARTIN stated FERRIE was a former Commander of the Civil Air Patrol and he, MARTIN, surmised that FERRIE may have trained OSWALD in the use of a telescopic rifle. MARTIN reported his suspicions to WWL-TV, the New Orleans Police Department, and a representative of the District Attorney's Office. Other than remarks MARTIN heard on television, and his general knowledge of FERRIE, he had no information to connect FERRIE and OSWALD.

G. WRAY GILL, attorney, New Orleans, advised he obtained information concerning MARTIN from former New Orleans bail bondsman W. HARDY DAVIS. GILL was led to understand JACK MARTIN was the source of information concerning possible implication of DAVID FERRIE in the assassination of President KENNEDY.

DAVIS advised that on the evening of 11/23/63 he visited MARTIN at MARTIN's home and discussion speculated on the possibility FERRIE might have had something to do with killing President KENNEDY. MARTIN recalled seeing a photograph of the rifle allegedly used to kill President KENNEDY, which MARTIN thought similar to a rifle he had seen in FERRIE's possession several years ago. MARTIN also stated FERRIE had once discussed a short story plot which involved shooting the President of the United States.

MARTIN later that evening called DAVIS and stated he had heard a television program which named FERRIE as a Civil Air Patrol instructor of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. DAVIS commented that information regarding FERRIE's possible ownership of firearms and the instruction of OSWALD in the use of firearms was a matter of pure speculation on the part of JACK MARTIN.

MARTIN was interviewed 11/26/63 and advised he had never heard DAVID WILLIAM FERRIE make any statement that President KENNEDY should be killed and never heard FERRIE outline means by which this could be accomplished.

MARTIN admitted conversations with DAVIS on the evening of 11/23/63 re possibility FERRIE was involved in the shooting of President KENNEDY following a television program in which FERRIE's name was mentioned. He also admitted discussing with DAVIS the fact that FERRIE owned guns.

NO 100-16601 /sam

MARTIN also admitted he discussed the possibility with New Orleans Assistant District Attorney KOHLMAN that FERRIE taught OSWALD to shoot and use a telescopic sight because he knew FERRIE had taught military training to Civil Air Patrol cadets.

MARTIN stated that his suspicions of FERRIE were based upon his observation of the 11/24/63 television program on WWL-TV, New Orleans, and his personal knowledge of FERRIE from prior association.

MARTIN stated he told no one FERRIE had flown OSWALD to Dallas, Texas.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

News media during the evening of March 1, 1967, reported the arrest of Clay Shaw, 54 years old, the former managing director of the International Trade Mart in New Orleans, Louisiana, that date. According to United Press International, District Attorney Garrison arrested Shaw in his investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy and booked him on a charge of "conspiracy to commit murder."

According to the news media, Shaw spent some time in New York City where he was engaged in advertising and public relations work. During World War II he reportedly served in the United States Army in Europe attaining the rank of major. He received the Croix de Guerre of France and the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star from the United States. Following the war, he returned to New Orleans in 1946 at which time he became managing director of the International Trade Mart. He resigned this position in August, 1965. He is currently engaged in the remodeling and sale of real property in the French quarter of New Orleans.

A check of our files disclosed that we received allegations as early as 1954 that Shaw was a homosexual. [redacted] advised on March 19, 1964, that he has had relations of a homosexual nature with Clay Shaw. The informant described Shaw as a brilliant and powerful man, given to sadism and masochism in his homosexual activities. On February 24, 1967, we received information from Aaron Kohn, Managing Director, Metropolitan Crime Commission, New Orleans, and from [redacted] that information available to them led them to believe Shaw has homosexual tendencies.

MAR 3 1967

On February 24, 1967, we received information from Aaron Kohn and from [redacted] that Clay Shaw is identical with an individual by the name of Clay Bertrand who allegedly was in contact with Dean Andrews, New Orleans Attorney, in connection with Lee Harvey Oswald, the facts of which are as follows:

RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

On November 25, 1963, Mr. Andrews informed Agents of our New Orleans Office that he had met Lee Harvey Oswald in late June, 1963, at which time Oswald appeared at his office with several individuals who impressed him as being homosexuals. Andrews claimed that Oswald requested assistance in making inquiries concerning his bad conduct discharge from the United States Marine Corps. Andrews also indicated that Oswald asked him questions concerning the citizenship status of he and his wife.

Andrews further stated that on the evening of November 23, 1963, at which time he was in the hospital in New Orleans under heavy sedation, he received a telephone call from an individual who said his name was Clay Bertrand who asked him if he would be interested in handling the defense of Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas, Texas, for the murder of President Kennedy.

We conducted extensive investigation concerning the data furnished by Andrews and could find no supporting evidence that Lee Harvey Oswald had ever visited Andrews' office. There was no record of Oswald in Andrews' files and his secretary could not recall Oswald ever having been to the office. In addition, we determined from Andrews' doctor that during the period Andrews was in the hospital he was under extreme sedation and he did not believe Andrews was capable of using a telephone on November 23, 1963. Andrews was questioned again on December 3, 1963, concerning his alleged association with Lee Harvey Oswald and Andrews stated after considering the facts in discussions with his office staff he believed the entire incident could have been dreamed by him in view of the physical condition he was in at the time.

We conducted extensive investigation in an effort to locate an individual by the name of Clay Bertrand but were unable to do so. Results of our investigation were furnished to the Warren Commission and Andrews was called as a witness before the Commission. In the Warren Commission's report his testimony was noted with emphasis upon the facts tending to show the unlikelihood of his having contact with Lee Harvey Oswald. A review of the records of the Identification Divison disclose no criminal record for Clay Shaw.

Re New Orleans teletype, 9:24 p.m., 3/1/67, to Bureau and Dallas.

Retel stated that [redacted] stated SHAW was apparently the man that a Levee Board policeman was supposed to have seen with LEE HARVEY OSWALD on the lakefront in New Orleans. This source stated that his source for the above information was an unknown television reporter. This informant has no information concerning any incident involving OSWALD and a Levee Board policeman but believes the remark referred to a short-lived news article appearing on 2/28/67 in the New Orleans States-Item.

The New Orleans States-Item of 2/28/67 states:

"The States-Item learned today that District Attorney JIM GARRISON has been given testimony that WILLIAM DAVID FERRIE and LEE HARVEY OSWALD were seen together in New Orleans shortly before President JOHN F. KENNEDY was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

"This is in direct contradiction to FERRIE's statements before his death that he did not know OSWALD.

"GARRISON's investigators were told by a New Orleans area law officer that he was making a routine check on Breakwater dr. at the lakefront in the early morning hours in the fall of 1963 when he found two men sitting in a parked car.

"One of the men identified himself as OSWALD, the officer said. The States-Item's informant was not clear on how the other man identified himself. But the officer has since identified FERRIE's body positively as that of the man he saw in the car.

"The officer took the pair to his headquarters where his superior declined to arrest them on the grounds there was insufficient evidence they were guilty of any wrongdoing.

"After the assassination, the officer said, he recognized OSWALD's face and name from the pictures when he was accused of killing the President. He said he took no action because it was well known that OSWALD had lived in New Orleans.

"Last week, when FERRIE's name was prominently linked to the probe, the officer gave the DA's office his information."

An article in the next edition of the New Orleans States-Item states that a New Orleans law officer has told investigators for the District Attorney that he picked up LEE HARVEY OSWALD on the lakefront here in late 1962. The officer denied to newsmen an earlier report that he picked up DAVID WILLIAM FERRIE at the same time.

The above is submitted for the information of the Bureau.

RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

On March 2, 1967, a source of known reliability informed this Bureau that he had received information from sources close to New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison relating to the investigation being conducted by Garrison of the assassination of the late President Kennedy.

According to our source, Garrison has developed information that there was a group of Cuban refugees training near Lake Pontchartrain, Louisiana, presumably during the period Lee Harvey Oswald resided in New Orleans from late April, 1963, to September 25, 1963. These Cubans reportedly had been "left in the lurch" and had become angry at everyone. According to our source, Garrison learned that some of these Cubans attended a meeting in the apartment of David William Ferrie. One of these Cubans was named Diaz and another was named Gonzales. Also allegedly present at the meeting were Clay Bertrand, also known as Clay Shaw; an individual named Martin Layton (phonetic); and a man named R. Richard Davis who according to our source was killed in Tampa, Florida, in late February, 1967. Most, if not all, of these people were allegedly homosexuals. According to our source, Lee Harvey Oswald was not present during this meeting in Ferrie's apartment.

Our source further advised that the assassination of President Kennedy was allegedly planned at this gathering in Ferrie's apartment. Allegedly, members of this group took a laundry truck to Dallas and Martin Layton (phonetic) was "the trigger man."

Our source stated that Garrison has reportedly located this laundry truck and has stashed it away in New Orleans. Our source further stated that Garrison claims to have two witnesses who were present in Ferrie's apartment at the meeting when the assassination of President Kennedy allegedly was planned. Our source does not know exactly the nature of Oswald's alleged relationship with this group, but he reportedly did have some connection and was believed to be a latent homosexual.

A check of our files disclosed that in July, 1963, we received information from several sources that a number of Cuban refugees had come to New Orleans from Miami, Florida, through the efforts of Rudolph Davis, reportedly to attend a training camp after which they would be sent to a training camp in Guatemala. Sources reported this group became disenchanted and returned to Miami shortly after their arrival.

We interviewed Rudolph Davis in this matter and he indicated he acted as a coordinator between the Movimiento Democratica Cristiano (MDC), an anti-Castro organization, and the New York City Police Department in 1961 and that he was the delegate for this anti-Castro organization in New Orleans. He stated he came to New Orleans in August, 1961, and in early 1963 made friends with persons in the lumber business in Guatemala with whom he formed the Guatemalan Lumber and Mineral Corporation. Davis said he brought approximately 19 men to New Orleans to train for lumber cutting work in Guatemala. He added that when the men learned they were to work in a lumber industry and were not recruited for military operations against Cuba, they became disenchanted and returned to Miami. Our files contain no information indicating that David William Ferrie or Lee Harvey Oswald had any contact or connection with Davis or the anti-Castro organization which Davis represented. Data concerning Davis and the group he brought to New Orleans in July, 1963, was disseminated to the Warren Commission during our investigation of the assassination.

Our files contain no information identifiable with Martin Layton (phonetic) or the Cubans, Diaz and Gonzales.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY,
DALLAS, TEXAS, 11/22/63

On 3/2/67, AL SEPE, Assistant State Attorney, Miami, telephonically contacted the Miami Office and advised that about 10 days ago, Mrs. LILLIAN SPINGLER visited his office and furnished information concerning a Cuban whom she had previously reported to the Miami Office as possibly being an associate of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. He said she did not recall the name of the Cuban, but thought it was MARTINEZ, having learned of the name following FBI investigation.

Mr. SEPE desired to know if the Miami Office had checked out this matter. He requested the identity of the Cuban, whose name, JORGE ANTONIO MARTINEZ SOTO, was furnished him. He indicated he might interview MARTINEZ. He stated his inquiry was not related to the current investigation at New Orleans. He was told results of investigation re MARTINEZ were furnished to the Warren Commission.

Interviews of Mrs. SPINGLER and JORGE MARTINEZ are set out in Miami reports dated 12/31/63 and 4/4/64 under caption of "LEE HARVEY OSWALD, IS - R - CUBA," (Bufile 105-82555).

Miami contemplates no renewal of this phase of investigation.

JAMES R. LEWALLEN, Apartment 9, 1309 Dauphine Street, was interviewed in a Bureau automobile in the 3300 block of Louisiana Avenue Parkway. LEWALLEN advised that he is employed at the National Car Rentals, 740 Baronne Street, New Orleans, Louisiana.

LEWALLEN informed he has known DAVID FERRIE since the end of 1947 having met him in Cleveland, Ohio when he was a member of the Civil Air Patrol where FERRIE served as an instructor. LEWALLEN said that he went on active duty during the Korean War in 1950 and at that time FERRIE was still living in Cleveland, Ohio. He said that he returned to Cleveland, Ohio on leave in September, 1951 and at that time learned from FERRIE's mother that FERRIE had taken a job with Eastern Airlines.

LEWALLEN said that he was discharged from the service on May 28, 1952 but did not see FERRIE again until the Christmas Holidays, 1952 when FERRIE visited his mother in Cleveland, Ohio.

LEWALLEN said that in May, 1953 he telephonically contacted DAVID FERRIE who at that time was living in New Orleans and inquired about the possibilities of getting a job in New Orleans. He said that he moved to Kenner, Louisiana where he roomed with DAVID FERRIE from May, 1953 to May, 1955.

In May, 1955, he re-entered the Air Corps and did not see FERRIE until he returned to New Orleans to live about the end of August, 1955. LEWALLEN stated he graduated from pilot training in October, 1956 and was assigned as a pilot with the Louisiana National Guard at Callender Field. He stated since that time he has lived in the New Orleans area.

LEWALLEN stated that he has seen DAVID FERRIE from time to time and on occasions has visited in FERRIE'S home. He stated he saw DAVID FERRIE at his residence, 3330 Louisiana Avenue Parkway on November 20, 1963 but did not see him or have any contact with him on November 21 and 22, 1963 and did not see him again until the evening of November 26, 1963.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

LEWALLEN stated that during the time DAVID FERRIE was connected with the Civil Air Patrol in New Orleans he had voluntarily assisted him with the squadron; however, he had no official connection with it. He stated that he does not recall anyone by the name of LEE HARVEY OSWALD being a member of the Civil Air Patrol Squadron in New Orleans.

LEWALLEN further remarked that he has never seen anyone by the name of LEE HARVEY OSWALD in FERRIE's company, has never been introduced to anyone by that name and has never heard DAVID FERRIE mention anyone by that name.

A photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was exhibited to LEWALLEN at which time he advised he does not know OSWALD.

LEWALLEN further advised that he has never seen anyone in FERRIE's company or been introduced to anyone by FERRIE with the names A. T. HIDELL, A. J. HIDELL, ALEC JAMES HIDELL, ROBERT HIDELL, V. T. LEE or O. H. LEE.

LEWALLEN advised that DAVID FERRIE owns a Stinson 150 monoplane which is presently at the Lakefront Airport. He stated to the best of his knowledge this plane has not been in flying condition for at least the past year.

He further informed that he recalls on one occasion FERRIE borrowed a Piper Cub Plane but this was at least two years ago. LEWALLEN said he does not know who this Piper Cub belonged to and does not know whether FERRIE has access to this plane at the present time.

After 5:00 PM on 3/3/67, SA JOHN D. HURLEY, JR. was telephonically contacted at the Babylon Office by Mrs. CHARLES KRAUS. Mrs KRAUS was interviewed subsequently at her house by SA HURLEY at which time she advised the following:

Mrs. CHARLES KRAUS, nee DOROTHY YOUNG, who will be 41 years of age in April of this year, advised that she has resided at 1093 South Gardiner Drive, Bay Shore, NY, for the past six years and who formerly resided at 557 Lincoln Ave., Lindenhurst, NY, from 1946-1961.

She stated that between Halloween and Thanksgiving of 1957, while she was en route from Ft. Walton Beach, Florida, to Lindenhurst, NY, that she stopped for a hitchhiker somewhere in Virginia. She said that this hitchhiker was a young boy about 17 or 18 years of age and that he identified himself to her as being LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

She said that he was carrying a brown suitcase filled with Communist propaganda including training manuals concerning various weapons, a document bearing his name as LEE HARVEY OSWALD indicating that he was a member of an organization headed by JACK RUBY who signed his name as JACK RUBY as an official of that organization. She stated that aforementioned brown suitcase bore the initials LHO and that the suitcase also contained a picture of LEE HARVEY OSWALD's mother and some photographs of girlfriends.

She stated that LEE HARVEY OSWALD, in her opinion, appeared to be completely brainwashed and a follower of Communistic causes. She stated that he contantly referred to KENNEDY, who later became President of the US, as "JFK" and he also stated that CASTRO had said that he would get KENNEDY or else he, CASTRO, would get somebody to get JFK.

She stated that this individual, who identified himself to her as LEE HARVEY OSWALD, mentioned to her that he had been recruited along with other young men by JACK RUBY to fight with CASTRO's guerrillas and that he was receiving pay from this organization. She stated that OSWALD told her he had been sent along with other young men from New Orleans to Florida to board a boat to join forces and fight with CASTRO's forces in Cuba.

She stated OSWALD told her that when he arrived in Florida this boat had already departed and that he was presently en route to NYC to contact JACK RUBY for additional orders. She stated that OSWALD told her that he hoped that RUBY would send him out again to join CASTRO's guerrillas and that RUBY held meetings for this organization which RUBY headed, whose name she cannot recall, in the back room of a 53rd Street restaurant [redacted] she heard OSWALD tell the individual alleged to be RUBY that he was going to meet him at this 53rd St. restaurant because he had missed the boat in Florida which was to take him to Cuba. She also said that OSWALD said do you want to talk to RUBY, at which time she got on the phone and said hello to the individual to whom OSWALD was speaking and he replied hello and that was the end of their conversation.

She said that OSWALD wanted her to drop him off at this 53rd St. restaurant in NYC, whose name she cannot recall, but that she was afraid of getting lost in NY and just dropped him off and continued on her way out to Lindenhurst, NY, to join her husband. She said that the only other person who was in her vehicle at this time was her four-year-old son, DANIEL. Furthermore, she advised that she had been separated from her husband and had been in Florida with her child and was en route to Lindenhurst, NY, to join her husband. She was lonely during this period. She said that she advised her husband immediately upon arrival in Lindenhurst, NY, of this 17 or 18 year old hitchhiker named LEE HARVEY OSWALD whom she had picked up, and that she felt sorry for this boy as he appeared to be completely "brainwashed in Communist causes."

She said that she did not think any more about this until the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY, at which time she saw LEE HARVEY OSWALD's picture on television and recognized him as the boy she had picked up 6 years previously. Later on, when JACK RUBY was mentioned as having killed LEE HARVEY OSWALD, she recalled that that was the name that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had mentioned in her car while en route to NY in 1957. At this time, she consulted her husband, CHARLES KRAUS, as to what she should do concerning her knowledge of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. Her husband advised her to consult her priest.

Mrs. KRAUS advised that she called the St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church Rectory in Bay Shore, NY, and arranged for a consultation with one of the priests. She said that she contacted a young priest at aforementioned rectory whose name she cannot recall, and was advised by him as follows: "Do not mention it to anyone as your life and children would not be worth a plug nickel."

Later the same evening Monsignor MYRON PURICK, Pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, 6 North Clinton Ave., Bay Shore, NY, was contacted re the possibility of any woman having contacted a young priest of that parish shortly after 11/22/63, with information concerning LEE HARVEY OSWALD. Msgr. MYRON PURICK advised that he had only one young priest in the parish at that time and that the priest's name was Father WILLIAM KARVELIS and that this priest had gone to NYC for the evening and would not be returning to Bay Shore until Saturday around noon. He said that to the best of his recollection he had not heard any of the priests having any information concerning LEE HARVEY OSWALD immediately after the assassination of the late President.

On 3/4/67, SA HURLEY contacted Father WILLIAM KARVELIS of above St. Patrick's Rectory regarding the possibility of that priest having had any one of his parishioners contact him immediately after 11/22/63, regarding information concerning LEE HARVEY OSWALD. Father KARVELIS advised that a woman of about 33 years of age, whose name he cannot recall, contacted him regarding such information and that she mentioned that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had been picked up by her as a hitchhiker while she was returning from Florida and that this individual, alleged to be LEE HARVEY OSWALD, made a telephone call from Howard Johnson's Restaurant on the New Jersey Turnpike to an individual alleged to be JACK RUBY in NY. He said he cannot remember these details too clearly and because, in his opinion, the woman's story appeared to be a bit wild he frankly did not believe her. He said he got the general impression that this woman did not seem to be too reliable and he had a feeling at the time that some of the incidents she related were probably true but that she used her imagination along with whatever semblance of truth there might be to her story. He stated that he thinks he told this woman that she should report this information to the FBI but that she appeared to be reluctant to do so.

He stated that without further consultation with this woman he could furnish no additional information regarding details of his conversation with her.

Mr. CHARLES KRAUS, husband of aforementioned Mrs. KRAUS, confirmed that his wife had advised him of having picked up this hitchhiker immediately after his wife's arrival in Lindenhurst, NY, from her trip from Florida. He further advised that he has been employed by Tool Craft Specialty Company, 115 Allen Boulevard, Farmingdale, NY, for approximately two years.

Mrs. KRAUS specifically advised she had never received psychiatric car of any kind and had never been confined to a mental institution.

Based on information available re Mrs. KRAUS, the NYO is unable to identify her with any reference in NYO files.

NYO is not in a position to evaluate this information. It is suggested that Bureau advise NY if OSWALD was in fact traveling to NY during this period and whether or not RUBY was in NY during this time. Pending results of above, NYO is not conducting further investigation of above allegation at this time.

On February 27, 1967, TRINIDAD ORTIZ, apartment number 16, 1204 Harmon Place, Minneapolis, Minnesota, age 26, and unemployed, made available to the Minneapolis Office of the FBI a United States one dollar bill, Serial Number R66135454A, which bears several handwritten ink impressions, including the written names, "L. Oswald" with date March 7, 1963, and "Heideel". ORTIZ stated he received this bill in change from an unknown store in Minneapolis in about March, 1964. He has spent approximately $50.00 with the Minneapolis Document Examiners to have the handwriting on the bill compared with known handwriting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, (writings of OSWALD were taken from the Warren Commission Report).

The opinion of the examiner (ANN B. WOOTEN, examiner of questioned documents, 3806 West Calhoun Boulevard, Minneapolis), was that her findings furnish conclusive evidence of identity between the genuine known writings and the "L. Oswald" and "Heidell" signatures appearing on the face of the one dollar bill. She further concluded, after making a detailed study of photographs, that the additional writings appearing on the bill were written by OSWALD.

The Laboratory is requested to compare the handwriting on the enclosed one dollar bill with available known handwriting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, noting that OSWALD had used the name HIDELL.

After Laboratory examination of instant one dollar bill, it should be returned to Minneapolis for return to owner, ORTIZ.

EX-103 REC-21 105-82555-5557

All indications are that ORTIZ feels instant one dollar bill will be valuable to him monetarily, therefore,

Re Miami airtel to Bureau dated 3/1/67.

Re Miami airtel contained information to the effect that on 2/28/67, Miss JEAN MAHAFFEY, Administrative Assistant, Cuban Relief Center (CRC), Miami, Fla. advised that Sgt. E. W. McCRACKEN of the Miami PD had made inquiry about mid-January concerning MANUEL GARCIA GONZALEZ, indicating it was "very confidential".

According to Miami airtel on 2/22/67, Mrs. MARTA TRELLES, Aide to Miss MAHAFFEY, contacted Sgt. McCRACKEN to ascertain if MANUEL GARCIA GONZALEZ had been identified. Mrs. TRELLES did this in view of an article with a photograph which appeared in the 2/21/67 issue of the "Miami News", a Miami daily newspaper. This photograph showed LEE HARVEY OSWALD with two other males. The photograph was originally taken from a film strip by New Orleans TV Station WDSU of OSWALD passing out handbills. The caption below the photograph described the male standing next to OSWALD as a Cuban sought in Miami by New Orleans District Attorney JAMES GARRISON. The Cuban's name was said to be MANUEL GARCIA

GONZALEZ. The Miami Division enclosed a xerox copy of the photograph with the caption below the photograph. The files of the New Orleans Office reflect that this is apparently an enlargement of a portion of a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and several other males taken by the TV Station WDSU, New Orleans, at the time OSWALD distributed handbills in front of the International Trade Mart Building in New Orleans. The files of this office show that the individual to whom the arrow in the newspaper clipping referred to above has been identified through investigation by this office as JOHN ALICE.

During the investigation by this office in connection with the assassination of President KENNEDY, JESSE R. CORE, III, Director, Jesse R. Core Public Relations Firm, Room 211, International Trade Mart, 134 Camp St., New Orleans, La., heard a rumor that someone was picketing the International Trade Mart and telephonically contacted WDSU to inquire if the trade mart was being picketed. He was informed that it had been reported that pickets were located at the trade mart and he immediately went over to the trade mart to see what was going on and noticed two persons who appeared to be handing out leaflets bearing the notation "Hands Off Cuba" with the name "L. H. OSWALD, 4907 Magazine St., New Orleans, La." stamped on them.

Mr. CORE stated that at this location he immediately conferred with a friend of his, a trade mart associate, named JOHN ALICE, owner of John Alice, Inc. Import-Export Firm, International Trade Mart, New Orleans, La. He stated ALICE showed him a handbill similar to the one described above. A photograph taken by WDSU-TV was exhibited to Mr. CORE and identified JOHN ALICE as one of the individuals in the photograph.

JOHN ALICE, John Alice Export Co., Room 308, International Trade Mart, New Orleans, La. advised on 11/29/63 that he had observed a photograph showing LEE HARVEY OSWALD passing out handbills or leaflets on 8/16/63 in front of the International Trade Mart. ALICE stated that he recognized his own picture in the photograph and ALICE recognized J. EHARA, Kasuga and Co., Ltd., whose office was also located in the International Trade Mart. ALICE stated on 8/16/63, he had walked out in front of the International Trade Mart sometime around the noon lunch hour and at that time noticed either four or five men walking toward the front entrance of the International Trade Mart. ALICE stated once the men reached an area immediately in front of the International Trade Mart entrance they started handing out handbills or leaflets to people coming out of the International Trade Mart as well as pedestrians walking on the sidewalk. ALICE stated one of the handbills had been handed to him and he noted it was captioned "Hands Off Cuba" and had additional verbiage to the effect that the United States should be more fair to Cuba and that additional trading should be done with Cuba. ALICE stated that the entire thought as expressed by the handbill was opposed to everything he believed and in no uncertain terms he had advised the individual, who he now knows was LEE HARVEY OSWALD, of his thoughts and in fact had balled up the handbill and thrown it into OSWALD's face.

Enclosed for the Bureau are two copies of an enlargement of the portion of the photograph taken by TV Station WDSU, New Orleans, during the time OSWALD was passing out handbills in front of the International Trade Mart on 8/16/63.

Also enclosed for Dallas and Miami is one copy each of this same photograph.

It is to be noted that the individual identified by the #1 is J. EHARA, the individual identified by the #2 is LEE HARVEY OSWALD and the individual identified by #3 is JOHN ALICE. It is to be noted that the newspaper article appearing in the Miami News with the arrow directly over his head and the individual District Attorney GARRISON's Office was endeavoring to locate in Miami is JOHN ALICE.

On 3/1/67 ALTON GRIFFIN, District Attorney, Lubbock, Texas, advised SA BEN S. HARRISON that he had a good friend named Mrs. STAN (EVELYN) SHEPPARD, who is employed in the personnel department of the Continental Oil Company, Houston, Texas.

Mr. GRIFFIN stated that he had seen Mrs. SHEPPARD on the weekend of 2/25-26/67 and she was quite concerned over statements made by District Attorney JAMES GARRISON of New Orleans, Louisiana, to the effect that anyone who had had contact with OSWALD and had not volunteered such information was guilty of withholding information.

Mr. GRIFFIN continued that Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that in October, 1963, approximately one month prior to the assassination, OSWALD applied for a job at the Continental Oil Company, Houston, Texas, and that she had interviewed him in this regard. She reportedly told Mr. GRIFFIN that OSWALD had not been given a job and had not recontacted the company, and for this reason Mrs. SHEPPARD did not feel this information was important; however, in view of GARRISON's investigation, she felt that she should now make that information known to the proper authorities and Mr. GRIFFIN volunteered to furnish same to the FBI.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

James C. Garrison, District Attorney of New Orleans, Louisiana, has been conducting an independent investigation relating to the assassination of President Kennedy.

His activities have been the subject of numerous press releases which in themselves have been controversial. He has been quoted as saying "I have no reason to believe at this time that Lee Harvey Oswald killed anybody in Dallas on Nov. 22." Garrison has been quoted as saying he had no intention of calling in the FBI, and "we've been able to make more progress in three months with a handful of men than they've been able to do in three years with 5,000 men."

Due to Garrison's irresponsible actions in connection with this matter, no contact is being made with him or any member of his staff.

You are instructed to insure each employee in your Division understands that if he is asked for any information relating to this matter there is to be no comment made; further, this matter is not to be discussed outside the Bureau. However, should information be made available to you voluntarily it will be accepted, and the Bureau is to be promptly advised. No active investigation is to be conducted.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

PURPOSE:

To recommend airtel to the field furnishing additional instructions as to the manner information received concerning the assassination of President Kennedy should be handled.

Lee Harvey Oswald

BACKGROUND:

By airtel dated 2/24/67, all offices were instructed to accept any information furnished relating to District Attorney Garrison's investigation; to advise the Bureau promptly of data received, but that no active investigation was to be conducted. In addition, this airtel instructed that no comments concerning Garrison's investigation should be made and this matter was not to be discussed outside the Bureau.

There has been widespread publicity concerning Garrison's activities in New Orleans and, as a result, we are receiving voluminous information concerning speculation and rumors regarding the assassination. Such information, even though having no apparent connection to developments in New Orleans, should be completely evaluated at the Bureau prior to conducting further inquiries. Accordingly, attached for approval is an airtel to all SACs, instructing that we should continue to accept any information concerning the assassination; however, no investigation is to be conducted without first obtaining Bureau authorization.

ENCLOSURE In addition, field is being instructed to submit the same day data received a letterhead memorandum containing the pertinent information which can be used for dissemination purposes. In addition, this airtel instructs the field to advise the Bureau by either telephone or teletype of any pertinent information received or data which by necessity should be immediately investigated.

ReBuairtel to all SACs 2/24/67, containing instructions concerning the handling of information regarding investigation being conducted by District Attorney James C. Garrison in New Orleans.

As a result of publicity concerning this matter, the volume of mail regarding the assassination has increased measurably. A majority of the information received is speculative and rumor-type, alleging other individuals are involved in the assassination.

All offices should continue to accept any information regarding the assassination; however, no investigation is to be conducted without Bureau approval irrespective of the nature of the data furnished.

Should pertinent information be received, which by necessity requires immediate investigation or other action, the Bureau is to be notified either by telephone or teletype, depending upon the urgency of the situation.

Any pertinent information relating to the assassination is to be incorporated into a letterhead memorandum suitable for dissemination and furnished to the Bureau by airtel the same day that it is received. Copies of the letterhead memorandum are to be furnished to Dallas, the office of origin and other interested offices.

Dear Mr. Manning:

I have been advised by Inspector H. Lynn Edwards of his conversation with you on March 1, 1967, relative to the investigation being conducted by New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison, as well as the information you furnished concerning sex deviates and the possibility of a "shake down" racket involving individuals in the New Orleans, Louisiana, area.

Based on the information you made available to Inspector Edwards, there is no violation within the jurisdiction of this Bureau, and on the contrary, there appears to be a most serious violation of state law concerning which you have had information for some time. Consequently, I would suggest that any investigation of this "shake down" racket of sex deviates would be more appropriately made by state authorities.

Sincerely yours,

I have previously furnished you information received concerning the investigation being conducted by New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison concerning the assassination of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. In the memorandum on this matter dated March 3, 1967, which was enclosed with my letter to you of the same date, mention was made of a Martin Layton (phonetic) who, allegedly, was the "trigger man" in a plot to assassinate President Kennedy.

Although our files contain no information identifiable with this individual, Special Agents of this Bureau interviewed a Layton Patrick Martens in the course of the assassination investigation and our files do contain some information about him. Because of the similarity of names, especially when "Martin Layton" is reversed, there is attached a copy of a memorandum which sets forth information on Layton Patrick Martens.

This information is also being furnished to the Honorable Marvin Watson, Special Assistant to the President, and to the Director of the Secret Service.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

Layton Patrick Martens, born February 19, 1943, was interviewed on November 25, 1963, by Special Agents of this Bureau. At that time he was living at the home of David William Ferrie, who died on February 22, 1967. (News media have indicated New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison has named Ferrie as being one of the major figures in his assassination investigation.)

Martens advised on November 25, 1963, that he had moved in with Ferrie on November 17, 1963, at Ferrie's suggestion, after he, Martens, had been "kicked out" of his mother's home. Martens stated he had known Ferrie since 1958, when Martens was a student in the Civil Air Patrol in New Orleans and Ferrie was an instructor.

Martens related that Ferrie was working in November, 1963, for a New Orleans attorney, G. Wray Gill, as a research librarian and about 1 p.m. on November 24, 1963, Gill stopped at Ferrie's residence and said he was looking for Ferrie. Martens was home alone and Gill told him he understood Lee Oswald, when arrested, had been carrying a library card with Ferrie's name on it. (This was not true.) Gill also told Martens that Jack S. Martin had told authorities that Ferrie had planned the assassination of the President. Gill told Martens to have Ferrie contact him and he, Gill, would represent Ferrie. Martens advised that several hours later on the same day, November 24, 1963, Ferrie telephoned. Martens said he relayed Gill's message to Ferrie and Ferrie stated he had already talked with Gill. Martens said Ferrie told him during the conversation that the name "Oswald" meant nothing to him and that he did not know Oswald. Martens, during the interview, said Ferrie had been a great admirer of President Kennedy. Martens stated Oswald was unknown to him. He added that to his knowledge there had been no association between Ferrie and Oswald.

The criminal records of the Identification Division of this Bureau reveal Layton Patrick Martens was fingerprinted on August 30, 1961, by the New Orleans Police Department. Martens was interviewed on that date by Special Agents of this Bureau and stated he had been [redacted] He believed his arrest resulted from his association with Ferrie, who was being investigated at the time by the New Orleans Police Department for contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile. Criminal records indicate the New Orleans Assistant District Attorney refused to pursue the charges against Martens.

Martens was fingerprinted again on November 25, 1963, by the New Orleans Police Department and charged with [redacted] He was released the same date when the Assistant District Attorney refused to pursue the charges. It was shortly after his release that he was interviewed by Special Agents of this Bureau, as set forth above.

This information concerning Martens was furnished to the Warren Commission.

It is known Oswald came to Toronto. He visited several Communists here. Dr. Fica, Dr. Artis, Dr. Petrykanyn, the Ukrainian chiropractor. It is possible Oswald, Fica, and Artis all received their instructions from Petrykanyn. Fica and Artis went to Dallas and they also went to Mexico City, like Oswald. Oswald came from Japan and Fica was going to Japan.

Petrykanyn is now in Montreal. He has not practiced as a chiropractor since about 1961, when Oswald came here. He is now giving out drugs. Red activity was largely transferred to Montreal, several years ago. Four secessionist parties in Quebec, one a Camouflaged Red party.

Petrykanyn's address is 7 Cardinal St. Dollard Des Ormeaux, Montreal. Till 1966 he lived 3138 St. Lonbranch, a suburb of Toronto. His mother lives there now.

In the summer of 1961, I was with Fica and Artis in front of the Fica clinic on Roncesvalles Ave, Toronto. Artis said " Oswald has come." I said " Who is Oswald? " Fica said "Oswald is a friend of ours." Fica said " What does Petrykanyn say?

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On March 6, 1967, Bob Delph, 261 East Oakview, San Antonio, Texas, a driver for the Greyhound Bus Company, San Antonio, Texas, telephonically contacted the San Antonio Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with the following information:

Delph explained he wanted to furnish information to the FBI concerning an individual he talked with in Kenedy, Texas, during November 1963, approximately a week before the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Delph stated that on that particular day he stopped at the bus station in Kenedy, located at that time at a Gulf Service Station located on a hill on Highway 181 on the south side of Kenedy. Delph explained he was driving the Brownsville, Texas, route.

Delph stated that when he arrived at the station the attendant, an elderly man hired as temporary help, told him a man was inside the station who wished to go to Brownsville, Texas.

Delph stated he went inside the station to help the man who asked the fare to Brownsville. Delph stated he checked a rate book, ascertained the fare to be $9.[illegible], and gave this information to the man who became somewhat "upset" about the price. The man questioned Delph why the fare was so high, and Delph replied this was due to the fact the route went through Corpus Christi, Texas, at which time the man asked if there was a more direct route.

THE JAF

Delph stated he had spent about as much time as he could spare as he was running late and told the man that if he would hitchhike to Three Rivers, Texas, he could catch a Continental Trailways Bus directly to Brownsville. Delph stated he then departed and did not see the man again.

Delph stated that since that time and the assassination of President Kennedy, he has read a great deal about Oswald's actions and recalled Oswald reportedly attempted to seek employment at a radio station in the vicinity of Kenedy, which he thought was Radio Station KAML, Karnes City, Texas, and understood Oswald was "short-tempered with people who tried to help him. Based on the foregoing reasons, Delph stated he thought the man with whom he had talked may have been Lee Harvey Oswald.

Delph stated he does not know what the man did following the foregoing incident; however, Delph attempted to ascertain this by questioning the service station attendant, but this met with negative results.

Delph described the man as follows:

Race:	White
Sex:	Male
Age:	Middle 20's
Height:	5'11"
Hair:	Light-colored
Dress:	Wore a long dark blue overcoat and carried an old leather bag held closed with a leather strap
Characteristics:	Bare-headed and extremely wind-blown

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
DALLAS, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 22, 1963

Mr. Frank W. Manning, Chief Investigator for Attorney General Jack P. F. Gremillion of Louisiana, has advised a representative of this Bureau that he has been extremely concerned over the activities of New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison. He stated Garrison has absolutely no basis for his present publicity stunt in claiming that he has reason to believe Oswald acted as a part of a conspiracy in the assassination. Manning stated Garrison is a "psychopath" who has to have publicity, otherwise he falls into "fits of moodiness and depression." Manning commented that he felt Garrison's activities, unless stopped and exposed, are damaging to the FBI and likely to hurt the entire country.

Manning alleged that several years ago he conducted an extensive investigation of Garrison with reference to the prosecution of Garrison for defamation which was handled by Attorney General Gremillion. He advised Gremillion obtained a conviction of Garrison, but the United States Supreme Court reversed the case. Manning commented that he would be glad to make his entire file available to the FBI on a confidential basis and that he is convinced this file contains the ground work for developing a good extortion case on Garrison which would prove that Garrison is involved in a had enough evidence on the defamation charge. His investigation into Garrison's activities with sex deviates was designed to give the Attorney General "an ace in the hole" if he should need it. After the Garrison case was reversed on appeal, Attorney General Gremillion washed his hands of any further efforts to "get" Garrison and, therefore, Manning's file on Garrison was closed.

It is alleged by Manning that his file contains the names of several hundred individuals in the French Quarter who were charged by Garrison's office with some sex deviate violation. In many of these cases, Manning found that after the individual was charged, suddenly the case was either dropped by Garrison or the charge was reduced to some minor offense. In still other cases Manning stated that there was a clear-cut indication that Garrison's office had maneuvered the case so that it would be handled by another judge and thereby the individual would be acquitted, the charge dismissed, or he would be given a suspended sentence. Manning advised his investigation led him to believe there are the earmarks of a definite pattern of maneuvering and control by the District Attorney's office and he is convinced that if the FBI dug into these cases and developed a few informants, the FBI would be able without too much difficulty to establish the fact that Garrison was shaking down these individuals for considerable sums of money and after they paid off, Garrison would see that the case was cleared up.

In addition, Manning advised there is another individual named Persian Gervais, who was formerly with the District Attorney's office and was forced to resign after some adverse publicity indicating income tax fraud. According to Manning, the Internal Revenue Service has an extensive file on Gervais which would document this information. Manning stated Gervais is at [redacted] despite the fact that he was forced out of the District Attorney's office, he still has Garrison "under his thumb." Manning alleged that almost every day Garrison and Gervais can be found in the back room at the Fontainebleau Motel in New Orleans. Manning believes that Gervais could be involved in this shakedown racket with Garrison.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
DALLAS, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 22, 1963

With reference to previous information furnished to you concerning the activities of District Attorney James C. Garrison in New Orleans, I thought you would be interested in the attached memorandum which sets forth information made available to a representative of this Bureau by Mr. Frank W. Manning, Chief Investigator for Attorney General Jack P. F. Gremillion of Louisiana.

The information made available by Mr. Manning is not within the jurisdiction of the FBI and is a matter which should be handled by state authorities, it being noted that they have had this information for some period of time. I have directed a letter to Mr. Manning advising him that the information concerning sex deviates and possible shakedown of these deviates is not a matter within the jurisdiction of the FBI, but a matter for state authorities and should be thoroughly investigated by them.

This information has been made available to the Honorable Marvin Watson at the White House.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

News media reported on 3/2/67 that New Orleans District Attorney Garrison had issued a subpoena for the appearance of Dean Adams Andrews, Jr., at 5 p.m. that date. This recommends we furnish the White House, the Attorney General and the Director of the Secret Service a summary of the facts available in our files concerning Dean Andrews.

Andrews is a New Orleans attorney. He was interviewed several times by us in connection with Lee Harvey Oswald, the first time on 11/25/63. At that time he was ill with pneumonia and hospitalized (in the hospital from 11/20/63 to 11/29/63).

He related in the 11/25/63 interview that he met Oswald in late June, 1963, when Oswald appeared at his office with several individuals who impressed him as being homosexuals. (Andrews could not identify the people with Oswald.) Oswald requested assistance, according to Andrews, in making inquiries concerning his bad conduct discharge from the Marine Corps; he was also interested in his citizenship status and the immigration status of his wife. Andrews said he talked with Oswald two or three times but never opened a file on him and was never paid anything by him. Andrews recalled a person, possibly named Clay Bertrand, who accompanied Oswald, and described him as 22 to 23 years old, 5'7", blond hair.

Andrews further stated that on the evening of 11/23/63, when he was under sedation and asleep, the telephone in his hospital room rang and the caller identified himself as Clay Bertrand. The caller asked Andrews if he would be interested in handling the defense of Oswald and indicated he would call Andrews back later. He never called back. 105-82555-
NOT RECORDED
100 MAR 8 1967

Andrews related that on 11/24/63, he telephoned Sam Monk Zelden, another New Orleans attorney, and asked him if he would be interested in assisting in the defense of Oswald, but while they were talking, the news was received that Oswald had been shot. (Zelden, interviewed on 11/25/63, confirmed that Andrews had telephoned him as indicated above.)

CONTINUED - OVER

Andrews had no file on Oswald or Clay Bertrand. Andrews was specifically asked if he had any information that Oswald was a homosexual and he stated he had none.

Andrews was reinterviewed on 11/27,29 and 30/63 and 12/3 and 5/63. In the interview of 12/3/63, he described Bertrand as 6'1" to 6'2" with brown hair. He stated at that time the telephone call incident could have been dreamed by him in view of his physical condition and on 12/5/63 he concluded that it was a figment of his imagination. Aside from the conflicting descriptive data he could furnish no leads to Bertrand.

The Secret Service interviewed Andrews on 11/25 and 29/63 and on 12/2/63 and he furnished it substantially the same information he furnished to us. Extensive and thorough investigation was conducted by our New Orleans Office and Secret Service to identify and locate Clay Bertrand with negative results. On 7/21/64, Andrews testified before the Warren Commission (Volume XI, Hearings, pages 325-339). The Warren Commission Report noted Andrews' information and that Bertrand was never located.

There is no record in the criminal files of our Identification Division on Dean Adams Andrews, Jr.

Bureau files reveal Andrews was born in 1922. In 1951 he applied for the position of Special Agent with the FBI; he was never employed. In 1954 he was investigated as an applicant for a position with Immigration and Naturalization Service. Persons who knew him described him as poorly adjusted and not well-balanced, as unstable, and as a "big talker" who had the habit of stretching the truth.

OBSERVATIONS: Newspaper accounts have reported that District Attorney Garrison has determined Clay Bertrand was an alias of Clay Shaw. It is noted in this regard that Clay Shaw, arrested on 3/1/67 in New Orleans, is 54 years old, whereas the Clay Bertrand described by Andrews was 22 to 23 years old.

ACTION: Attached is a letter to the Honorable Marvin Watson of the White House, to the Attorney General, and to the Director of the Secret Service summarizing the information concerning Dean Andrews.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION CONCERNING

New Orleans States-Item this date reflects that CLYDE LIMBAUGH, 52, who said he worked as a singer in JACK RUBY's night club in 1961, 1962 and 1963, went into District Attorney GARRISON's office shortly before noon today and emerged shortly thereafter.

The paper reflects that LIMBAUGH told newsmen in a lengthy statement that he had information that JACK RUBY was part of a conspiracy to assassinate President KENNEDY.

WILLIAM GURVICH, Special Investigator for GARRISON, told LIMBAUGH to move away from the District Attorney's Office and told newsmen, "This man is totally unreliable. He came to us of his own accord."

New Orleans indices negative on LIMBAUGH.

According to 6:30 p.m. news broadcast of WDSU, New Orleans Orleans Parish Criminal Sheriff LOUIS HEYD today confirmed that an inmate of Parish Prison was taken from his cell yesterday and questioned by District Attorney GARRISON regarding the assassination. The unidentified inmate claims he knew both LEE HARVEY OSWALD and JACK RUBY in Illinois. He also claims he has pictures of both in his possession. The commentator noted that prior to this no indication OSWALD and RUBY knew each other before assassination.

Dear Mr. Rowley:

We have previously furnished you information we have received concerning the investigation being conducted by New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison concerning the assassination of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, and particularly information pertaining to Mr. Clay Shaw, 54 years old, who has been arrested by Mr. Garrison.

News media have reported that Mr. Garrison has said "Clay Bertrand" is the alias used by Mr. Clay Shaw. The name "Clay Bertrand" was introduced into the assassination investigation by Mr. Dean Adams Andrews, Jr. There is attached a copy of a memorandum which sets forth information in our files concerning Dean Andrews and the investigation to identify and locate Clay Bertrand.

It is noted Andrews described Clay Bertrand as a 22- to 23-year-old young man.

This information is also being furnished to the Honorable Marvin Watson, Special Assistant to the President, and to the Attorney General.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

We advised the White House, Secret Service and the Justice Department on 3-3-67 of information that New Orleans District Attorney Garrison had developed information of a plot planned in the New Orleans residence of David William Ferrie (who died on 2-22-67) to assassinate the late President Kennedy. The name "Martin Layton" (phonetic) was mentioned as one of the plotters and we advised we had no information identifiable with him. Our files do contain information about a Layton Patrick Martens and in view of the similarity of names, especially when "Martin Layton" is reversed, this recommends we furnish the White House, Secret Service and Justice Department with this information.

Layton Patrick Martens, born 2-19-43, was interviewed by us on 11-25-63. He was living in New Orleans at the time with Ferrie, having moved into Ferrie's residence on 11-17-63.

Ferrie had been working for a New Orleans attorney, G. Wray Gill, and this man contacted Martens on 11-24-63 and indicated that authorities were looking for Ferrie in connection with the assassination of President Kennedy. Gill indicated to Martens that he was willing to represent Ferrie.

Martens said that several hours later the same day, 11-24-63, Ferrie telephoned. Martens relayed Gill's message and Ferrie stated he had already contacted Gill. Ferrie added he did not know Oswald. Martens, during the 11-25-63 interview, said Ferrie had been an admirer of President Kennedy. Martens also said Oswald was unknown to him and he knew of know association between Ferrie and Oswald.

Identification Division criminal records revealed Martens was arrested by the New Orleans Police Department on 8-30-61. He told Agents this arrest arose out of his association with Ferrie, who the Police were investigating at the time for contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile. The charges against him were dropped.

On 11-25-63, Martens was arrested by the New Orleans Police Department. No charges were ever pursued against him and he was released the same day, following which he was interviewed by our Agents.

OBSERVATION:

The name "Martin Layton" (phonetic), which has been mentioned in connection with the Garrison investigation, is similar to the name Layton Patrick Martens. In view of this similarity we should furnish the White House, Secret Service and the Justice Department with information concerning Martens.

ACTION:

Attached for approval are letters to the Honorable Marvin Watson of the White House, to the Attorney General and to the Director of the Secret Service containing information concerning Martens.

Reference is made to the request on March 3, 1967, of Special Agent Bowen F. Rose by Mr. Edwin H. Stevens, Chief, Personnel Security Branch, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, for a check of this Bureau's files regarding James Lewallen.

Pursuant to the request of Mr. Stevens, there are enclosed two copies of an interview report setting forth the results of an interview with James R. Lewallen on November 27, 1963, at New Orleans, Louisiana. This interview was conducted in the course of this Bureau's investigation into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy on November 22, 1963, in Dallas, Texas.

During that same investigation, David William Ferrie was interviewed by Agents of this Bureau on November 25, 1963, in New Orleans, Louisiana. At that time, Ferrie furnished the names of individuals who could possibly furnish information concerning his, Ferrie's, activities and whereabouts. Included among those names was that of Jim Lewallen, 1309 Dauphine, New Orleans, Louisiana.

The criminal records of the Identification Division of this Bureau, under arrest record number 88 367 E, disclosed David William Ferrie was arrested by the Sheriff's office, Gretna, Louisiana, on August 22, 1961, for indecent behavior; "crime nature; cont juv," (crime against nature; contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile). WARREN COMMISSION RECORDS

By letter dated 3/13/67, the Attorney General requested to be advised by Bureau whether approximately 50 pages of Commission Document Number 75 which has been excluded from public disclosure can now be made available to public disclosure. The Attorney General also requested to be furnished copies of FBI investigative reports dealing with the investigation being conducted by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison or to any alleged New Orleans area plot to assassinate President Kennedy.

COMMISSION DOCUMENT NUMBER 75: Commission Document Number 75 is a copy of the report of Special Agent Warren C. DeBrueys dated 12/2/63 at Dallas, Texas, entitled "Lee Harvey Oswald, Internal Security - Russia - Cuba." It consists of 737 pages. Fifty-five pages of this report contains information dealing with David William Ferrie, who was alleged by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison to be involved in the plot to assassinate the late President Kennedy. Ferrie died 2/22/67. By memorandum dated 2/24/67, we informed the Attorney General we had no objection if the Department made these 55 pages of our report relating to Ferrie available to the public, but pointed out that the final decision as to public disclosure of such material rests with the Department of Justice. The reason these 55 pages were originally withheld from the public domain was because they contained data showing Ferrie was a homosexual. Following Ferrie's death, the news media carried numerous articles reporting Ferrie was a homosexual and accordingly, we told the Department we had no objection if the Department desired to make the material relating to Ferrie available to the public in the public interest.

NOT RECORDED
165 MAR 21 1967

An additional 63 pages of Commission Document Number 75 is currently being withheld from public domain, since these pages contain information that prohibits public disclosure of them under guidelines approved by Mr. McGeorge Bundy, former Special Assistant to the President. These pages deal with confidential bank records, telephone company records, hospital records, arrest records of individuals not involved in the assassination and similar other material which was volunteered to us in confidence.

Memorandum Branigan to Sullivan
Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY
62-109060

By memorandum dated 8/10/65 entitled "Public Disclosure of Warren Commission Records," we furnished the Department a list of FBI documents that we had reviewed in accordance with Departmental instructions. We listed those documents which could or could not be placed in the public domain under the guidelines set by Mr. Bundy. Included in our list was Commission Document Number 75, and we specifically pointed out to the Department the exact pages that required exclusion from the public domain and the guidelines which dictated such exclusion. We also told the Department that the final decision as to public disclosure of the material in question rests with the Department of Justice.

DEPARTMENT'S REQUEST FOR FBI INVESTIGATIVE REPORTS: In his letter dated 3/13/67, the Attorney General requested copies of all FBI investigative reports which related to the investigation now being conducted by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison or to any alleged New Orleans area plot to assassinate President Kennedy. The Department stated it did not desire to be furnished Commission Document Number 75 or memoranda beginning about 2/20/67 relating data concerning Garrison's investigation. The day-to-day developments of the investigation of Garrison which comes to our attention through our sources has been immediately made available to the Department. We will continue to make such dissemination. The request of the Attorney General to be furnished all FBI reports relating to any alleged New Orleans area plot to assassinate President Kennedy is a sweeping request. Throughout our investigation, we received a tremendous number of allegations of plots by pro-Castro Cubans, anti-Castro Cubans, left wing elements, ultra-right elements and the like. To pinpoint each investigative report concerning such allegations will necessitate a serial by serial file review. The New Orleans Office can best handle such review, since all data concerning such plots are contained in New Orleans files regarding the assassination case and the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

ACTION: 1. Attached is a memorandum to the Attorney General referring him to our letter of 8/10/65 and the list attached thereto which set out the pages to be excluded from the public domain in accordance with guidelines established by Mr. McGeorge Bundy, former Special Assistant to the President. We are informing the Attorney General that the final decision as to public disclosure of the material in question presently excluded in Commission Document Number 75 rests with the Department of Justice. We are also informing the Attorney General we are making a thorough review of our files and will furnish to him copies of FBI communications containing any alleged plot in the New Orleans area to assassinate President Kennedy.

2. Attached is an airtel to the New Orleans Office furnishing such office with a copy of the Attorney General's letter of 3/13/67, and instructing the New Orleans Office to review its files and furnish to the Bureau for transmittal to the Department copies of all FBI reports and letterhead memoranda setting forth information regarding any alleged New Orleans area plot to assassinate President Kennedy.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

CUBA

Information was recieved from the Dallas Office, that Mr. Alton Griffin, District Attorney, Lubbock, Texas, had advised that he had a good friend named Mrs. Stan (Evelyn) Sheppard, who is employed in the Personnel Department of the Continental Oil Company, Houston, Texas. Griffin stated that Mrs. Sheppard advised him that in October, 1963, approximately one month prior to the assassination of President Kennedy, that Oswald had applied for a job at the Continental Oil Company, Houston, Texas, and that she had interviewed him in this regard.

Mrs. Sheppard furnished the following information at Houston, Texas on March 16, 1967:

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

1 Date 3/16/67

Mrs. EVELYN SHEPPARD, advised that she resided at 220 10th Avenue N., Texas City, Texas, and was Personnel Placement Advisor at the Continental Oil Company, Houston, Texas.

Mrs. SHEPPARD advised that sometime from the middle to the last part of September or the first part of October, 1963, a man who greatly resembled LEE HARVEY OSWALD, came to the personnel office of the Continental Oil Company and spoke to the receptionist about a job with the company. Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that the receptionist relayed the information to her and stated that this individual practically insisted on an interview and that according to the receptionist he "would not take no for an answer".

Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that the individual came into her office, that she handed him a short form or preliminary application which he made out hurriedly in pencil and did not fill in all of the blanks in the application. She stated that he wanted to make an application for a mail clerk and that when she asked him for more information regarding his family background, his former employment, income and education, he was very evasive and, in fact, more or less took the attitude that it was none of her business. He stated that he did have a wife and child and that they were staying with his mother, although as Mrs. SHEPPARD recalls, he did not elaborate on where they were staying. She said that somewhere in her mind she recalled that he mentioned New Orleans, Louisiana, but that she could not remember whether it was in connection with where his wife was staying or whether he had just stated that he had been in New Orleans. She advised that he also told her that he was qualified as a mail clerk, but that he would not tell her any other information regarding former employers or places of employment.

SA HOLLIS Q. BOONE:sm 2 3/16/67

by Date dictated

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that she remembered one thing, however, clearly, that was he told her that he had just returned from Mexico where he had gone with a friend and that they had tried to proceed from Mexico to Cuba, but that they could not do so. Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that she thought it was rather queer at the time for an American or someone from the United States would be trying to go to Cuba in view of the Cuban crises and the trouble that the United States was having with CASTRO.

Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that he did not mention his friend's name and that there was no one who accompanied him to the Continental offices. She stated that the individual had a peculiar look out of his eyes which could be described as a piercing look and also appeared as if he might have been taking narcotics or some kind of drugs. She stated that he had an unusual stare. Mrs. SHEPPARD further stated that this man was dressed neatly, wore a white dress shirt open at the collar, with a light brown wool sports coat on. He wore no hat and his hair appeared to be wind-blown or unkempt, that he spoke rather correctly and that she did not notice any particular accent. She stated that he said that he was staying at the Savoy Apartments which was at that time an apartment hotel, two blocks south on Main Street from the Continental Oil Company offices. Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that since the assassination of President KENNEDY and again after the GARRISON investigation in New Orleans, Louisiana, in regard to the KENNEDY assassination, that she had tried to locate the application blank which the individual filled out, but that she was unable to do so. She stated that she apparently threw the application away after the man had left the Continental Office as she wanted to get rid of him and was certain that the company would not wish to hire him.

Mrs. SHEPPARD advised that she thought no more about this man until after President KENNEDY was assassinated in Dallas, and that when she saw the picture of LEE HARVEY

OSWALD in a "Life Magazine" and the story regarding his association with the Cubans, that she immediately thought that OSWALD was the man that she saw and interviewed in the Continental Offices as referred to above. She stated that she saw the picture on television where OSWALD was shot by JACK RUBY, but that she did not recognize him from that picture.

After seeing this picture of OSWALD, after the KENNEDY assassination, she stated that she thought about referring this information to the authorities, but after she mentioned it to some people that they were rather skeptical and reminded her that she interviewed a lot of people, including some "nuts" and that after OSWALD was caught and killed in Dallas, that she decided it was of no importance any more. She stated that when she read the statement by District Attorney GARRISON in New Orleans that anyone who withheld information on OSWALD was not honest or was un-American, that she decided that she had better report it to some authorities.

Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that she was a friend of Mr. ALTON GRIFFIN, District Attorney at Lubbock, Texas, and that she and her husband decided they would talk to him and get his impression as to what they should do. She stated that they saw him in Kerrville, Texas, about the 25th of February, 1967, and that he told her that he would think the matter over and would advise her what to do. She stated that after she returned to Houston, that he called her and told her that he had referred the matter to the FBI at Lubbock, and that she should furnish any information that she had to the FBI.

Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that a mail clerk in the Continental Building had the duty to deliver mail to all sections of the building without restriction and that at that time the door to the roof of the building was unlocked and that people could go upon the roof of the building and look about over the City of Houston and use it more or less as an observation tower. She stated that the building was located in the 1300 Block of South Main Street, and that when parades were held in downtown Houston, the parades would go South on Main Street to about Bell Street, then turn west on Bell and back north on Travis Street and, therefore, pass the Continental Offices on three different sides. She stated, however, that the side next to Main Street was blocked by a pent house, but that the side to Polk Street and Travis Street was open. She advised that as she recalled when President KENNEDY was in Houston the day before he was assassinated in Dallas, that they had a parade that followed this route.

Mrs. SHEPPARD stated that as well as she could remember, she believed that this individual gave the name of LEE OSWALD, but that she was not sure. She advised that in the first place, the writing in pencil on the application was scribbled and hurriedly written out. Mrs. SHEPPARD advised that she could not remember at this time who the receptionist was who brought this individual in to see her, but that they change receptionists quite frequently. She stated that she never discussed this with the receptionist, however, and that no one else saw this man while he was in the office. Mrs. SHEPPARD again stated that although, of course, she was not sure that it was OSWALD, that in view of all the circumstances that she believed it was and that the individual closely resembled the picture that she had seen of OSWALD.

Mr. SCHILLER said he believed he has additional information concerning some homosexual aspects of the individuals involved or mentioned in the investigation of the KENNEDY assassination, but prior commitments on March 16, 1967, precluded him from discussing the matter further. He said he will furnish this information at a later date. He mentioned information concerning alleged lesbian relationship between MARINA OSWALD and RUTH PAYNE and alleged homosexual relation between LEE HARVEY OSWALD and RUTH PAYNE's husband.

REQUEST OF BUREAU

Bureau is requested to consider whether SCHILLER's tape of his conversations with GARRISON and DONDSON mentioned in attached LHM are of value to current inquiry and consider requesting New York Office to contact Mr. RICHARD BAILEY, Editor, "Life" magazine, New York City, to have Mr. BAILEY make copy of tape available. Los Angeles, California
March 16, 1967

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

On March 16, 1967, Mr. Lawrence Schiller, Photographer-Journalist, 3064 Elvol Drive, Bel Air, California, advised as follows:

Schiller recently completed a study for "Life" magazine concerning homosexuality in the United States; and, in the course of this study, developed considerable knowledge of the homosexual problem and developed many valuable and confidential sources of information within various homosexual groups throughout the United States. On the basis of this knowledge and information, Schiller recently was commissioned by "Life" magazine to conduct inquiry concerning the alleged homosexual nature of Mr. Clay L. Shaw of New Orleans, Louisiana, who recently has received wide newspaper publicity in connection with the investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy being conducted by District Attorney Jim Garrison, New Orleans.

Schiller decided that one important aspect of the investigation of Shaw probably would be to determine where Shaw was the moment Shaw learned of the assassination and to determine Shaw's reaction. Schiller sent out photographs of Shaw to various homosexual sources throughout the United States. He subsequently learned that Shaw had spent the night of November 21-22, 1963, in a San Francisco, California, hotel room in the company of Jim Dondson, 2408 - 15th Street, San Francisco. Dondson is an admitted homosexual, according to Schiller. Schiller said the identity of the hotel could be obtained from Dondson.

During the past week, Schiller traveled to San Francisco and interviewed Dondson. He learned Dondson resides at the above address with an individual named Jim or James Clade (phonetic).

ENCLOSURE 105-82

ENCLOSURE

The apartment apparently is listed under Clade's name. Dondson is a steward in the Merchant Marine and has known Shaw since 1959. Dondson visited in Shaw's home in New Orleans as recent as four weeks ago, is a close friend of Shaw's, and has received money from Shaw.

Schiller learned that Dondson and Shaw were in the San Francisco hotel room the night of November 21 and the morning of November 22, 1963. Shaw received a telephone call at the hotel room on the morning of November 22, 1963, apparently from one Richard Randoff, 435 Frederick Street, San Francisco. In the call, Shaw was advised that President Kennedy had been shot. In Dondson's opinion, Shaw reacted as though it was an accepted fact that the President had been killed although the news media did not announce the death of the President until about one hour later. Shaw immediately made several telephone calls from the hotel room. Dondson was not aware of the identity of the individuals called or the subject matter of the conversations.

Schiller said that on March 9, 1967, he was in Las Vegas, Nevada, with Dondson running out additional investigation in this matter and learned that District Attorney Jim Garrison was in Las Vegas at the same time ostensibly on a vacation but in fact to interview a source. Schiller made an appointment and talked with Garrison in Garrison's hotel room at about 11:00 p.m. on March 9, 1967. Dondson accompanied Schiller on this appointment. Garrison questioned Dondson concerning his knowledge of Shaw, but Dondson refused to discuss the matter with Garrison, according to Schiller.

Schiller said he learned from Garrison that Garrison's theory of the assassination is on a "homophile" basis, and Garrison is of the opinion that Jack Ruby is part of the conspiracy. Garrison did not mention names to Schiller but described three witnesses to Schiller that he apparently plans to present to the grand jury which witnesses have not been utilized to Schiller's knowledge as of March 16, 1967. Garrison also advised Schiller that in his opinion the Winter Wonderland Ice Skating Rink, Houston, Texas, was used as the

GARY F[illegible]

"message center" by the conspirators in the assassination. Garrison mentioned the name of Larry Rost, an ice skating instructor at this rink, apparently as having some connection with the "message center."

Schiller said the results of his conversations with Garrison and Dondson were dictated by him on a tape recorder and the tape has been forwarded to Mr. Richard Bailey, Editor, "Life" magazine, New York City. The tape consists of about forty-five minutes of dictation.

Schiller said that because he conducted his inquiry under contract with "Life" magazine that he did not feel at liberty to discuss all the details of his conversation with Garrison without some clearance from the magazine. He believed that Mr. Richard Bailey would make a copy of the tape available upon request from appropriate authority.

Supervisor George Tucker, WFO, at 8 p.m., 3-20-67, advised Duty Supervisor D. A. Schmidt that he and another Agent had this date interviewed Washington attorney Edward P. Morgan.

Morgan declined to furnish the pertinent information, stating that he could not do so because of attorney-client relationship. Morgan said he could not identify his clients without their authority.

Morgan indicated that his clients are responsible individuals who entered a project which they understood had high-level Government approval. Morgan inferred that this project involved a plot to assassinate Fidel Castro, which plot did not materialize.

ACTION:

Supervisor Tucker will prepare a letterhead memorandum to be forwarded to the Bureau with appropriate cover communication on 3-21-67, setting forth the details of the interview.

Winnipeg man says assassination discussed

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Free Press says it has passed to the New Orleans district attorney's office information from a Winnipeg man who believes he overheard David Ferrie and another man discussing the Kennedy assassination at Winnipeg airport three years ago.

The newspaper quotes Michael Karmacin, assistant to District Attorney Jim Garrison, as saying New Orleans authorities will be in touch with the unidentified Winnipeg informant as soon as possible.

Garrison recently reopened an investigation into the death of the former U.S. president, slain by Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas in November, 1963. Ferrie, a free-lance pilot who died last month, was a key figure in the investigation and Garrison has linked him with a New Orleans businessman he is seeking to have indicted on a charge of conspiring to murder Kennedy.

The conversation in the bar at Winnipeg airport was alleged to have been overheard Feb. 13, 1964, and was reported by The Free Press the following May. The newspaper added at the time the Winnipeg man had been questioned by an FBI agent from Grand Forks, N.D., acting for the Warren commission, after telling RCMP of what he had heard.

FBI agent Merrill Nelson, the newspaper says, interviewed the Winnipeg man Feb. 27, 1964, and told him to forget the matter. The incident, it says, was not reported to the Warren commission.

Gentlemen:

I am presently working on a paper to be submitted for a graduate seminar course at San Fernando Valley State College in Northridge, California. The subject of this paper concerns investigating the validity of the thesis that Lee Harvey Oswald had someone of a very similar description impersonating him for two months prior to the November assassination of President Kennedy.

This thesis seems quite difficult to substantiate. If I am to be successful in proving or refuting the thesis I must be able to find out the whereabouts of Oswald for the two months prior to November 22, 1963. If you find it possible would you please send me any available information that you have concerning the living quarters and travels of Oswald during the above mentioned months. If this request proves impossible, please suggest any sources to which I might turn for help.

Thank you very much for taking the time to read this letter.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Pomeroy:

Your letter of March 15th requesting information pertaining to the assassination of President Kennedy has been received.

The results of the FBI's investigation into the assassination were transmitted to the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy. This Commission has since furnished all data in its possession to the National Archives, Washington, D. C. Certain material in possession of the Archives is now available for public inspection and for legitimate research purposes.

The FBI has no authority to independently release any information contained in these reports; however, since certain material is available for inspection, I suggest you communicate with the Archivist, National Archives and Records Service, 8th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20408, for the data you desire.

Memorandum

TO : The Director

DATE: 3-15-67

FROM : N. P. Callahan

SUBJECT: The Congressional Record

Pages S3401-S3[illegible]. Senator Thurmond, (R) South Carolina, stated "the honorable Ezra Taft Benson is known as one of the most distinguished moral leaders of this Nation. A great churchman and a great statesman, he has served both God and country with equal ardor. - - - - In his recent address, "Trade and Treason," he ranges far beyond the narrow economic considerations of trading with the enemy, to consider the philosophical significance of our actions. He says 'we are betraying the intellectual and moral heritage of the West.' He included Benson's address in the Record which in part stated: 'As Americans, lovers of freedom and high moral principles, we are face to face with the greatest evil in the world and the greatest threat to all we hold dear. Consider the following shocking facts. Since World War II the Communists have brought under bondage—enslaved—on the average approximately 9,000 persons per hour, 144,000 per day, 52,000,000 per year—every hour of every day of every year since 1945. - - - -J. Edgar Hoover, the best informed man in government on the Socialist-Communist Conspiracy stated: '- - -we must now face the harsh truth that the objectives of communism are being steadily advanced because many of us do not readily recognize the means used to advance them ---No one who truly understands what it really is can be taken in by it. Yet the individual is handicapped by coming face to face with a conspiracy so monstrous he cannot believe it exists. The American mind simply has not come to a realization of the evil which has been introduced into our midst.' - - - -It may shock you to learn that the first communist cell in government, so far we know, was organized in the U.S. Department of Agriculture in the early 1930's. John Abt was there. It was John Abt whom Oswald, the accused assassin of President Kennedy, requested for his attorney. - - - -Consider with me the following 12 significant and sobering questions: 1. Would you have been concerned if, during World War II, a Nazi had murdered our President right here in our own country? Yet, a Communist, Lee Harvey Oswald, who maintained contact with Party headquarters in New York, murdered President Kennedy."

WARREN COMMISSION RECORDS

Attached is a copy of a letter to the Bureau from the Attorney General dated 3-13-67 in captioned matter. Your attention is directed to paragraph three of the Attorney General's letter, wherein he requests to be furnished copies of all FBI investigative reports dealing with any alleged New Orleans area plot to assassinate President Kennedy.

You should immediately make a thorough review of your files concerning both the Assassination File and the Lee Harvey Oswald File to locate any information dealing with an alleged New Orleans area plot to assassinate President Kennedy. Copies of reports or letterhead memoranda reporting such alleged plots should be forwarded to the Bureau for transmittal to the Department. One copy of each report or letterhead memorandum reporting such plots should be submitted.

This matter must be given your immediate attention in order that this data may be furnished to the Attorney General at the earliest possible date.

It will not be necessary for your office to check the list of names attached to the enclosed Attorney General's letter through your indices. Information concerning these individuals is being furnished to the Department at Seat of Government where warranted as developments occur involving them.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

PURPOSE

This memorandum advises of information received from New Orleans publisher that the Garrison investigation was based on a "scheme" of Jack S. Martin, on information "made up" by Martin and David Lewis; that Martin is completely untrustworthy and Garrison knows this and that Lewis is a mental case; that Martin has remarked the arrest of Shaw was a "frame"; and that there is a group of masochists numbering 70 prominent individuals in New Orleans which includes Martin and Garrison.

BACKGROUND

A New Orleans publisher, Mr. Ray Berg, has advised that in January, 1967, he formed a corporation and New Orleans attorney Thomas Baumler, assisted by Jack S. Martin, did the legal work. Martin has previously been mentioned by news media as a figure involved in the assassination investigation being conducted by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison.

In the course of his association with Martin, Berg has heard Martin say that Garrison's investigation was based on information "made up" by Martin and David Lewis. We have previously received information that Lewis has figured in Garrison's investigation. According to Berg, Lewis is supposed to have taken four lie detector tests from four different polygraph operators and passed all of them. Berg regards Lewis as a mental case with a mentality that could easily pass a lie detector test.

Berg believes the original investigation was a "scheme" conceived by Martin. In Berg's opinion, Martin is completely untrustworthy and a mental case. Berg believes Garrison knows this. Berg has heard Martin remark that the arrest of Clay Shaw was a "frame." Berg stated Martin has moved to Houston, Texas. Martin thinks someone is trying to kill him.

Berg also furnished information he had received from his attorney, Thomas Baumler, concerning a group of masochists in New Orleans. Baumler asked Berg to publish a book dealing with masochists in New Orleans. Berg stated he declined to publish the book but in discussing the matter with Baumler, learned there was a group of masochists in New Orleans consisting of 70 prominent individuals. Berg believed Baumler, Martin and District Attorney Garrison were members of this group. Berg stated he had no personal knowledge of this group.

My letters of March 8 and 9, 1967, transmitted information concerning the subject who, according to an article in "El Tiempo," New York Spanish-language newspaper, was a member of an assassination team which allegedly had been sent to the United States by Fidel Castro to assassinate President Kennedy. It was indicated that the subject was confined to the Creedmoor State Hospital for the insane in Queens, New York.

On March 16, 1967, Seymour Philipson, a free-lance writer, advised that he had some information concerning the subject and wanted the FBI to have the benefit of it before it was published. He furnished a manuscript captioned "The Gongora Case," a copy of which is attached.

Philipson explained that he had planned to do a story on "Cuba Today," a current events documentary, and had contacted the North American Newspaper Alliance to ascertain if it would be interested in publishing such a story. When the article appeared in "El Tiempo," however, he decided to "look into it."

Philipson's principal reason for making the manuscript available was that he felt that if it were factual it could be embarrassing to the U. S. With respect to Philipson's concern about being characterized as an "anti-Government writer," he was advised that his personal sentiments would be made a matter of record with the FBI. Philipson stated that he felt a responsibility to furnish information of this type to the proper Government agencies. He noted that he had telephonically contacted the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and was reportedly told that if CIA had any interest in this matter CIA would contact him.

No record of Philipson was located in our investigative files.

According to the data on page one of the attachment, the subject allegedly was arrested by the FBI on November 19, 1963, and reportedly confessed to the FBI that he was a member of a team of assassins. It is noted that the subject has been neither arrested nor interviewed by the FBI.

With reference to the allegation set forth at the bottom of the next to the last page concerning another Cuban being held in Leavenworth Penitentiary, it is noted that our files concerning the assassination of President Kennedy contain no incident of the type described by Philipson. The Warren Commission Report on pages 305 - 309 noted that literally dozens of allegations of a conspiratorial contact between Lee Harvey Oswald and agents of the Cuban Government were investigated by the Warren Commission. The Warren Commission reported that without exception the rumors or allegations of conspiratorial contact were shown to be without any factual basis. The Warren Commission also pointed out that it had uncovered no indication that the Cuban Government had any involvement in the assassination.

We have no information concerning the report on the last page of the enclosure that the subject knew the two Cubans reportedly being held by New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison and that Garrison was going to send a man to New York City to interview the subject.

NOTE: In February, 1967, article re subject written Stanley Ross, editor of "El Tiempo," appeared in his newspaper. The article contains statements originally made by Ross in February, 1964, concerning which Ross was interviewed and the results furnished the Warren Commission. According to Ross, subject, Cuban alien, allegedly informed U. S. authorities that President Kennedy would be killed three days before the assassination; that Castro had sent several teams to the U. S. to carry out assassination; and that subject was member of one of teams.

Philipson in attached manuscript discusses subject's case. He erroneously states subject arrested by FBI 11/19/63 and "confessed" to FBI. (It is noted subject was arrested locally for carrying concealed knife on 11/14/63 and this data has been furnished the Attorney General.) Philipson claimed in next to last [illegible] page that there was another Cuban being held in Leavenworth Penitentiary who tells same story. This individual (unidentified) allegedly went to FBI on 11/15/63 to tell of Castro plot to assassinate the President. Allegedly FBI would not listen to him so he went out and robbed a bank feeling that if he was under FBI jurisdiction FBI would have to listen to him. Allegedly this individual was also certified as insane and is incarcerated.

According to Philipson, subject allegedly admitted knowing two Cubans being held by New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison and that Garrison was, according to Ross, going to send a man to New York City to interview subject.

Thomas Johnson
THREAT AGAINST THE PRESIDENT

Re Chicago tel to Bureau 3/23/67, captioned "UNSUB, aka, Thomas Paul Daugarrd, Thomas O'Neil, Thomas Johnson, THREAT AGAINST THE PRESIDENT."

Enclosed for the Bureau are five (5) copies of a letterhead memorandum dated and captioned as above. One copy of this letterhead memorandum has been disseminated locally to U. S. Secret Service, Chicago. No other dissemination is being made in view of Secret Service advice that Secret Service is continuing its investigation of this matter and will, thereafter, handle dissemination required.

It is noted that referenced teletype referred to one ROBERT WILLIAMS as one of three men said by subject to reside at the Diplomat Hotel. The name actually given by subject was ROBERT JOHNSON rather than ROBERT WILLIAMS and ROBERT JOHNSON appears in the enclosed letterhead memorandum.

In view of the nature of this investigation, close liaison with Secret Service was maintained. It is noted that subject has a history of mental illness and further that there appears to be no FBI jurisdiction in this matter. Accordingly, no further investigation is being conducted.

An information copy of this communication is being sent to the Dallas Office in connection with its file 100-10461 captioned "LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka, IS-R-CUBA."

THOMAS PAUL DAUGAARD, ALSO KNOWN AS THOMAS O'NEIL,
THOMAS JOHNSON
THREAT AGAINST THE PRESIDENT

At 5:15 PM, March 23, 1967, an individual who identified himself as Thomas O'Neil telephonically contacted the Chicago, Illinois Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). O'Neil said he resided at 2741 Hampden Court, Chicago, telephone 525-7999, and was employed at Robert's Bakery on Davis Street in Evanston, Illinois. He said further that three men named Robert Johnson, William Roberts and Ken Williams, all of whom were said to reside at the Diplomat Hotel in Chicago, had told him three or four weeks ago that they had met with Lee Harvey Oswald in New Orleans three years ago and planned then to kill President Kennedy. O'Neil described the three men as follows:

Robert Johnson, white male, age 23, 5'9" tall, 135 pounds;

William Roberts, white male, age 23, 5'11" tall, 120 pounds;

Ken Williams, white male, age 19, 6'tall, 165 pounds.

These three men also told him they may kill President Johnson. They also threatened his, O'Neil's, life if he told police about this. O'Neil then hung up the telephone when he was asked for further details.

A few minutes after the above call on March 23, 1967, an individual, apparently identical with the earlier caller, telephonically contacted the Chicago FBI Office and identified himself as Thomas Johnson, 2741 Hampden Court, Chicago. He said he was the same man who had called earlier and he apologized for hanging up on the previous call. He said he had called before about William Roberts, Ken Williams and one other man. He was asked the identity of the other man he had mentioned previously and he said, "I don't know, I'm confused now," and again hung up the telephone when asked for further information.

At 5:30 PM, March 23, 1967, an individual identifying himself as Thomas Johnson, 2741 Hampden Court, Chicago, telephoned the Chicago FBI Office and again said he was the one who had called earlier concerning Roberts and Williams. On this occasion he said he was a Communist and a Socialist, that he was from Russia and that he had no permanent residence. He said he was going to "sit on the White House lawn and shoot President Johnson with machine gun sticks." He then began speaking incoherently, rambling on about Russia, the United States and submarines, and no other information could be obtained from him.

The above information was furnished to Special Agent Joseph Noonan, United States Secret Service, Chicago, at 5:35 PM, March 23, 1967, by Special Agent Maurice J. White. Special Agent Noonan advised that Secret Service agents would be dispatched immediately to investigate this matter in view of the threat to President Johnson.

At 5:50 PM, March 23, 1967, an individual identifying himself as Thomas Johnson again telephoned the Chicago Office of the FBI. He said he wanted to "give himself up" for threatening the President and he said he was at that time in a restaurant at Clark and Diversey Streets in Chicago, and that he was wearing a green jacket. He described himself as a white male, 26 years old, 6' tall, 135 pounds.

The above information was immediately furnished to Special Agent Noonan of United States Secret Service by Special Agent White.

Later on March 23, 1967, information was received from Special Agent Noonan that subject was not located in the vicinity of Clark and Diversey Streets, however, a landlady at the address furnished by subject, 2741 Hampden Court, did furnish information concerning Thomas Paul Daugaard. The landlady, Mrs. E. Schroeder, said that no one named Thomas Johnson or Thomas O'Neil resided at that address, however, she further said that she was suspicious of an individual named Thomas Paul Daugaard who lives in Apartment 301 at that address. Mrs. Schroeder said that Daugaard has acted strangely in the past and she thinks he may be mentally ill. She believes he has caused trouble in the past by using his telephone to make false reports to police, including a recent false report about a non-existent shooting incident in the vicinity of 2741 Hampden Court. Agent Noonan of United States Secret Service advised that after interviewing Daugaard on the night of March 23, 1967, he believes that Daugaard appears identical with the individual who made the above telephone calls to the FBI. When interviewed Daugaard gave his name as Thomas Paul Daugaard, born August 9, 1940, in Chicago, Illinois, age 26, described as white male, 5'6" tall, 135 pounds, telephone 525-7980, residence Apartment 301, 2741 Hampden Court, Chicago. Daugaard said he was now unemployed, but has worked in the past at a number of bakeries including bakeries in Evanston, Illinois. At the time of the interview Daugaard said he had just returned from a restaurant at Clark and Division Streets and that he had worn a green jacket to the restaurant. He said, however, that he had made no phone calls while in the restaurant, that he had not called the FBI at all that day, and that he had never threatned the President.

[redacted]

Daugaard said he was in New Orleans in 1964 or 1965 for a few weeks, but he heard nothing there or in Chicago about Oswald, and he said further that he does not know anyone who knows anything about Oswald, and further denied knowing anything about Robert Johnson, William Roberts or Ken Williams. Daugaard also said that he has used other names in the past in connection with getting jobs in bakeries, but he does not remember what these names were.

Special Agent Noonan advised following the interview of Daugaard that Secret Service is continuing its investigation of this matter.

SUBJECT: "THE DEATH OF A PRESIDENT"
BY WILLIAM MANCHESTER

SYNOPSIS

The New York Office has obtained from Harper & Row an advance copy of captioned book which will be officially released April 7th. Book is lengthy (647 pages of text; 710 pages total). Contains appendices, chronology of events for period November 20-25, 1963, source materials utilized by Manchester, identities of persons interviewed by author, maps and index. Key portions of book previously serialized in Look Magazine. Book deals with events surrounding assassination of President Kennedy; not subsequent investigation. Reflects tremendous amount of work and compilation by Manchester. FBI mentioned frequently, but does not play prominent role in narrative. Major comments about FBI previously publicized in Look series. For example, the comment that the Director did not send Attorney General Robert Kennedy a letter of condolence and that the Director's attitude was one of "no compassion;" a so-called favorite joke of President Kennedy in which Kennedy would state that the three most overrated things in the world were the State of Texas, the FBI and whatever else came to mind; that President Johnson applied a prod to the FBI to get the Dallas investigation underway; that Johnson showed Ted Sorenson an FBI memo that the rulers of an unfriendly power had been hoping for Kennedy's death. The memo was too vague for serious consideration and Sorenson allegedly commented that it was "meaningless." (The Director did send Mr. Robert Kennedy a letter of condolence. In this connection Mr. Hoover has commented, "Manchester is a liar, but it is obvious he was fed this by RFK." In reference to the Sorenson incident, no such FBI memo could be identified by the Bureau). In evaluating the assassination, Manchester comments that Lee Harvey

Oswald's visit to Russia and subsequent behavior had brought him "under the active surveillance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation." Manchester adds that "one might have assumed that the seventy-five man FBI office in Dallas would have relayed word of his presence to the five-man Secret Service office there. Nothing of this sort happened." Manchester speculates on all the factors involved: "Conceivably the FBI and the Secret Service did do all that could have been done... Perhaps the blow could not have been averted. Perhaps it was hindsight to suggest otherwise." Toward the end of the book, Manchester comments that "the Secret Service had failed." Investigations of the assassination had begun but "the first steps were disquieting. The FBI assigned fifty agents to a crash study, wrote a skimpy report which dismissed thorny questions with the recurrent phrase 'There is no evidence' - and then leaked the report to a news magazine. The episode was a dismaying example of how threatened bureaucracies, turning a blind eye to the national interest, rise in defense of themselves." In general, Manchester approves of Warren Commission report, but has some reservations. "Although the conduct of the Secret Service, the FBI, and the Dallas police was found to have been less than admirable, they were handled gingerly, and corrective suggestions lacked clarity and force. Their subsequent fate was disheartening. J. Edgar Hoover, furious that his bureau should be criticized at all, protested so vehemently that the public overlooked the report's harsher censure of the Secret Service (which wisely laid low); by the time the Director had finished disciplining his Dallas agents, including the unfortunate Hosty, a great many newspaper readers had forgotten which agency had really been accountable for John Kennedy's safety." Relative to security of notables walking from White House to St. Matthew's Cathedral, Manchester mentions a "vague " warning received from the FBI that the "Director" was "concerned" and "advised against" the march. This warning angered Sargent Shriver who reportedly stated that all were concerned and one didn't have to be Director of FBI to know the march would be dangerous. "It's a ploy, so that if anybody gets shot the Director can say, 'I told you so.' It'd be a different story if he'd turned up hard proof that some famous gangster had taken an apartment on Connecticut Avenue, or if the best agent in the OGPU had checked in at Washington National. Then I'd have to do a double-take. But this is just a self-serving device." The Director, in an exchange of letters with Manchester in February, 1967, relative to the series in Look Magazine, commented that Manchester's "lack of research and irresponsible reporting in this instance (referring to comments on alleged failure to send note of condolence) are most disgusting." Over-all, book is long, full of many surmises and items of gossip, and is critical of Bureau in some instances.

DETAILS

BACKGROUND:

The Bureau has received through the New York Office an advance copy of William Manchester's book, "The Death of A President," which is to be published April 7, 1967. This book, which has been highly publicized, deals with the period of President Kennedy's assassination, November 20-November 25, 1963. Excerpts were previously published in Look Magazine. It is an extremely lengthy book (647 pages). It contains an Appendix, a list of source materials, maps pertaining to routes in Dallas and Washington and a diagram of the Presidential plane and an Index.

Mr. Hoover and the FBI are frequently mentioned. The major listings are being set forth below:

p. 32-33

Manchester speculates about Lee Harvey Oswald. Oswald's ravings stamp him as an "incoherent hater, nothing more. Looking for doctrine in them is like looking for bone in a polyp. Yet he had tried to defect, and both his conduct in Russia and his bizarre behavior after his return brought him under the active surveillance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Inasmuch as the Bureau's handbook charged agents to 'be on the alert for information 'indicating the possibility of an attempt against the person or safety of the President,' one might have assumed that the seventy-five man FBI office in Dallas would have relayed word of his presence to the five-man Secret Service office there. Nothing of the sort happened. His file was in the hands of FBI Agent James P. Hosty, Jr., a husky, thirty-five-year-old Notre Dame graduate and an outspoken admirer of John F. Kennedy. Since November 4, 1963, Hosty had known that Oswald was employed as a laborer in the Texas School Book Depository at the corner of Houston and Elm Streets. This warehouse provided the deadliest sniper's roost on the Presidential motorcade route, because the motorcade was scheduled to first zig and then zag directly beneath its windows. A gunman could size up the President's car as it approached the building from the front, wait until it pivoted sharply at his feet, and fire as it crept slowly out of the turn to his right. Hosty, however, didn't make the connection. He had received no official notification of the route, and when local newspapers published a map of it, his sole concern was whether or not Jim Hosty would catch a glimpse of Kennedy. 'I noticed that it was coming up Main Street,' he said five months later. 'That was the only thing I was interested in, where maybe I could watch it if I had a chance.'"

Manchester then goes on - talking about all the factors involved: "Conceivably the FBI and the Secret Service did do all that could have been done...Perhaps the blow could not have been averted. Perhaps it was hindsight to suggest otherwise."

p. 119

Makes mention of Kennedy's "pet joke," the last line of which could be adapted to the occasion. It went: "The three most overrated things in the world are the state of Texas, the FBI, and hunting trophies."

p. 181

Immediately after the assassination virtual panic erupted at Parkland Hospital in Dallas. In one instance, "a tall man in a light gray speckled suit shouldered his way past her (Nurse Doris Nelson), shouting, 'I'm FBI!' He appeared violent, and Andy Berg, the closest agent (Secret Service), knocked him down. Sprawled on all fours the intruder gurgled, 'You're not in charge now. What's your name?' 'What's yours?' demanded Kellerman (Roy Kellerman, Secret Service), moving in. Credentials and commission books were whipped out; it turned out that the man really was from the Bureau's Dallas office, though his presence in the hospital was unauthorized. Dragging himself away, he protested, 'J. Edgar Hoover will hear about this!' Hoover did, and the unfortunate agent vanished into the limbo reserved for FBI men whose blunders embarrass the Director."

p. 192

Says that a United Press International Bulletin on the assassination went out from Dallas and that Mr. Hoover, along with other Government officials, learned about the news.

Continued

p. 195-196

Mr. Hoover is shown as calling the Attorney General's office. Mr. Robert Kennedy is not there and Mr. Hoover talks with Angie Novello, an assistant. The Director then calls Mr. Kennedy at the latter's home in Virginia. Kennedy was at his swimming pool. The Director advises that the President has been shot, and that he would call later when he learns more details.

p. 257

Mr. Hoover calls Attorney General Kennedy again. The Director had been on the phone with Gordon Shanklin, Special Agent in Charge of the Dallas office. "Until a moment ago he hadn't been learning much (he was among those who thought Parkland was called Lakeland), but the most important of the details which he had promised that he would endeavor to get had just come through." Mr. Hoover said that the President was dead, "snappily and hung up."

"He expressed no compassion; he did not seem to be upset. His voice, as the Attorney General recalled afterward, was 'not quite as excited as if he were reporting the fact that he had found a Communist on the faculty of Howard University.' Ordinarily garrulous, he had suddenly turned curt with his superior. It would be charitable to attribute the swift change to the stresses of that afternoon. Yet although Bob Kennedy continued in the Cabinet for over nine months, Hoover, whose office was on the same floor, never walked over to offer his condolences. One of his assistants wrote Kennedy a moving letter, and the agents in the FBI's crime squad sent him a message of sympathy, but their Director, unlike the Director of the CIA, remained sphinxlike. He did speak to Bob one day when they happened to enter the Justice Department together, and he accepted a Christmas gift from him, a pair of cufflinks bearing the Justice seal, but those were their only contacts. It was his brittle consistency which made Hoover unique."

p. 287

Mention is made that Dallas District Attorney Henry M. Wade's assistant, William F. "Bill" Alexander prepared to charge Oswald with murdering the President "as part of an international Communist conspiracy." However, Nicholas Katzenbach persuaded two members of the Vice President's Washington staff to have their Texas contacts kill it. A footnote at this point reads: "Shanklin of the FBI was especially helpful in aborting Alexander's folly."

p. 405

On Friday, November 22, 1963, after the Presidential plane had returned to Washington with the coffin, Mr. Johnson is in the White House. At 7:25 p.m., he called Mr. Hoover. "The Director was home. Unaware that regular programs had been suspended, he had waited until seven o'clock before turning his television on, thinking to catch NBC's nightly newscast on Channel 4. He was watching a rerun of Kennedy's October 22, 1962, missile speech and wondering whether this was the best Huntley and Brinkley could do when the phone rang. His old neighbor said he wanted a complete FBI report on the assassination. Depressing the receiver, Hoover called his office, ordering a special assistant and thirty agents to Dallas."

p. 432

Mention is made that an autopsy made at the Bethesda Naval Hospital: "...the metal from Oswald's bullet was turned over to the FBI."

pp. 457-459

A discussion of the Dallas situation relative to plans for convicting Oswald. Manchester comments that the publicity relative to Oswald and the so-called evidence possessed by law enforcement made responsible lawyers wince - that their comments to the press and television would make their legal case weak. In this connection, Manchester states: "...and when the FBI informed Chief Curry that its handwriting experts had identified the calligraphy on Klein's American Rifleman coupon as Oswald's, Curry revealed the details at a televised press conference. J. Edgar Hoover was furious. The Director called Dallas and warned that there must be no further discussion of FBI evidence in public. Curry admired Hoover and proudly displayed a signed photograph of him on his office wall."

p. 472

Mention is made that Johnson was extremely aggressive in ordering things done. Manchester mentions the new President "fenced sharply with the soft-spoken but immovable Nick Katzenbach over whether the assassination should be investigated by a federal or state board of inquiry; he applied the Johnsonian prod to J. Edgar Hoover, who by now was dispatching fleets of agents to Love Field...."

CONTINUED

p. 481

The President and Ted Sorenson confer. The President asked whether Sorenson felt any foreign government might be involved in the assassination, and Sorenson questioned, "Do you have any evidence?" "The answer was that there were no hard facts. Johnson showed him an FBI memo advising him that the rulers of an unfriendly power had been hoping for Kennedy's death. The report was too hazy for serious consideration. There were no names or facts, and the name of the FBI's informant was in code. 'Meaningless,' said Sorenson, handing it back. The President said nothing."

p. 520

Manchester says that in both Kennedy's assassination and Oswald's murder "two vivid threads are evident: warnings of disaster had come from responsible sources, and peace officers, in weighing them, had miscalculated gravely." He then goes on to make the following mention of the FBI: "Actually, the Dallas Police Department's original plan had been to move Oswald at ten o'clock Saturday evening, and J. Edgar Hoover, among others, had retired under the impression that it was being carried through. At 2:15 a.m. Sunday, Hoover's Dallas office began receiving anonymous telephone calls threatening the prisoner's life. The Dallas FBI urged a 3 a.m. transfer - in vain."

p. 528

Manchester comments that after Oswald's murder by Ruby just about everyone thought the assassination actually was a conspiracy. "Indeed, the more a man knew about conspirators, the firmer his conviction was. In the West Wing lobby a Secret Service agent watched Ruby disappear and muttered tightly, 'That was the messenger.' Independently of one another the (Secret) Service, the CIA, and J. Edgar Hoover all assumed a previous link between Ruby and Oswald."

p. 560

For the funeral at St. Matthew's Cathedral were large numbers of security men of all types"...there were squads of FBI agents and the pick of the CIA...."

CONTINUED

pp. 574-575

The discussion here centers on the walk of the notables from the White House to St. Matthew's Cathedral. A number of warnings of possible trouble were received - from the RCMP, the FBI and the CIA. "The RCMP had 'received information' that an unidentified French Canadian with an unidentified grievance was heading south to shoot General DeGaulle. The FBI was even vaguer: 'The Director' was 'concerned' and 'advised against' the march. This was too much for Sargent Shriver. Once more the precise businessman was confronted by the gray custard of bureaucracy, and once more he recoiled, emitting sparks. 'That's just ridiculous,' he snapped. 'We're all concerned. You don't have to be the Director of the FBI to know it's going to be dangerous - even the White House doorman knows that. It's a ploy, so that if anybody gets shot the Director can say, 'I told you so.' It'd be a different story if he'd turned up hard proof that some famous gangster had taken an apartment on Connecticut Avenue, or if the best agent in the OGPU had checked in at Washington National. Then I'd have to do a double-take. But this is just a self-serving device.'"

pp. 630-631

Mrs. Kennedy is now leaving the White House and Manchester does some summarizing. He comments that the President pinned the Treasury's highest award on Rufe Youngblood, the Secret Service agent, while, at Mrs. Kennedy's insistence Secretary Dillon also decorated Clint Hill of the Secret Service. He adds that these ceremonies left an undercurrent of dissatisfaction in much of official Washington. "The central fact was that the Secret Service had failed, and there was feeling that the first reaction ought to have been one of collective shame and not of pride in exceptional men - that the medals should have followed investigation of the failure. Investigations had begun, of course, but here, too, the first steps were disquieting. The FBI assigned fifty agents to a crash study, wrote a skimpy report which dismissed thorny questions with the recurrent phrase 'There is no evidence' - and then leaked the report to a news magazine. The episode was a dismaying example of how threatened bureaucracies turning a blind eye to the national interest, rise in defense of themselves."

Continued

In general, Manchester approves of the Warren Commission report. "The Commission had met its mandate. Oswald was correctly identified as the assassin; the absence of a cabal was established." However, he has some reservations. "The treatment of related questions was less satisfactory. This was especially true of the findings on Presidential protection. Although the conduct of the Secret Service, the FBI, and the Dallas police was found to have been less than admirable, they were handled gingerly, and corrective suggestions lacked clarity and force. Their subsequent fate was disheartening. J. Edgar Hoover, furious that his bureau should be criticized at all, protested so vehemently that the public overlooked the report's harsher censure of the Secret Service (which wisely laid low); by the time the Director had finished disciplining his Dallas agents, including the unfortunate Hosty, a great many newspaper readers had forgotten which agency had really been accountable for John Kennedy's safety."

In the source section of the book, Manchester mentions that he had interviews with the Director, Mr. DeLoach and Agent Hosty. File 62-111371 reflects that he talked to Mr. Hoover and Mr. DeLoach at the Bureau. On September 24, 1964, (the date Manchester lists for interview with Hosty), he called the Dallas Office and asked to speak with Hosty, without previously identifying himself. Manchester asked several questions, but Hosty said he was not in a position to answer.

OBSERVATIONS:

Manchester's book is a massive compilation of facts, surmises and suppositions. It is tremendously wordy. Already, even before publication, it is a controversial book and will probably continue to be. Manchester makes snide and critical remarks about the FBI and sometime reports information which is completely at variance with the facts, such as the comment that Mr. Hoover did not send a letter of condolence to Mr. Robert Kennedy. In an exchange of letters with Manchester in February, 1967, relative to Manchester's comments about this matter, Mr. Hoover stated: "Frankly, your lack of research and irresponsible reporting in this instance are most disgusting, and I have no alternative but to believe you have set forth a deliberate falsehood specifically designed to malign my reputation." The Look serialization earlier this year contained most of the comments about the FBI which have been outlined above. Manchester is quick to be critical and obviously has interviewed more of the Kennedy than the Johnson people, inasmuch as the book was originally commissioned by the Kennedy family.

The book is being maintained in the Crime Research Section (in the Bureau library).

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

Herb Aller, Business Agent, International Photographers Union, Local 659, 7715 Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, furnished the following information on March 23, 1967, to a Special Agent of the FBI:

Jack Taylor, KNXT-CBS News, Los Angeles, and Dexter Alley, NBC News, Los Angeles, had recently been conducting interviews in New Orleans, Louisiana, among the homosexual element in an attempt to substantiate claims made by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison that a conspiracy had taken place in New Orleans during September, 1963, to assassinate President Kennedy. A considerable amount of film was shot during interviews of these homosexuals and some had been used in television news releases and in a CBS special broadcast on March 18, 1967, at 7:30 p.m. in Los Angeles. Taylor reportedly has a great deal of film footage which was taken in connection with this project that he could not use on television.

Taylor and Alley claim that it is a well-established fact that Lee Harvey Oswald associated with homosexuals in New Orleans and had the reputation of being bi-sexual; further, that all connected with the alleged plot were thought to be homosexuals, and that Garrison had favored them as a group when he was conducting a vice crusade in New Orleans. There also appeared to be evidence developed during these interviews by Taylor and Alley indicating that a reported diagram relating to the plot found in Ferrie's apartment had in fact been made after the assassination and during a discussion of the assassination.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
DALLAS, TEXAS,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963

At 4:45 p.m., March 23, 1967, Clyde Malcolm Limbaugh, 323 Dauphine Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, Telephone Number 532-3249, personally appeared at the New Orleans Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and volunteered the following information:

Limbaugh advised that he has the "answer to the assassination probe by District Attorney James C. Garrison" and has been trying to see Mr. Garrison for about two weeks, but Mr. Garrison "does not appear to be interested in seeing him." He stated, "Mr. Garrison appears to be interested in getting votes and making a name for himself." Limbaugh remarked that he "was there when the assassination took place" and "was propositioned to take part in it."

Limbaugh said he knew Jack Ruby very well and worked for Ruby for "four years, from 1959 until about three days before the assassination in 1963." At the same time he worked for Ruby in Ruby's three night clubs in Dallas, Texas, Limbaugh also worked at Dinwiddie Direct Mail Advertising Company, Dallas, part-time for five hours a day.

Limbaugh advised that Jack Ruby was a "queer," a "known homosexual," and "everybody called Ruby 'Pinkie'." He said J. D. Tippit, the Dallas, Texas, policeman who was shot by Lee Harvey Oswald, was a "bouncer and friend of Jack Ruby." He stated that Tippit "worked for Ruby day and night, never went to police headquarters in regard to his work as a police officer, and reported to the Dallas Police Department by telephone." According to Limbaugh, Tippit had lived with Ruby at an apartment at Oakcliff, between Dallas and Fort Worth, since about 1958, and Tippit was living with Ruby at that apartment at the time Tippit was shot by Oswald. He said Ruby and Tippit also had an apartment above the Colony Club, one of the night clubs owned by Ruby, on the main street of Dallas, next to the Neiman Marcus Store.

ENCLOSURE

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Limbaugh advised that one of his duties when he was employed at Ruby's night clubs was to look after the girls who worked in the clubs. He stated that approximately one week or ten days before the assassination of President Kennedy, he went into Ruby's office in the Colony Club in order to get some money from Ruby to give to one of the girls so she could buy some stockings, and he saw three men in conference with Ruby in the office. He said Tippit was one of the men because he knew Tippit, and said he recognized another one of the men as being Lee Harvey Oswald since he had recently seen Oswald's picture in a newspaper for passing out posters in New Orleans. He said Ruby later told him the other man was David William Ferrie. After Ruby gave him money for the girl, Limbaugh left the office. After a few minutes, Tippit left Ruby's office, and Limbaugh asked him who the other man was, but Tippit told him he did not know.

Limbaugh stated that about three days before the assassination, he again went into Ruby's office in the Colony Club in order to get money from Ruby to give to one of the girl employees of the club. At that time he saw Tippit, Oswald, and a woman in the room with Ruby, and on a table in the room he saw a map of the sixth floor of the wholesale book store building from where "the shot was fired by Oswald." After Ruby gave Limbaugh the money, Limbaugh departed from the office. A few minutes later, Tippit left the office and Limbaugh asked him who the people were in the office. Tippit told Limbaugh he did not know, at which time Limbaugh called Tippit a "liar" and told Tippit he knew one was Oswald. At that time Tippit told Limbaugh that he might as well ask Ruby if he wanted to know who the people were. He said he later asked Ruby who the man and woman were, and Ruby told him the man was Oswald and said the woman was "really a man named Ferrie, who he had previously seen in the office, who was dressed as a woman and is known as Cappie Bertrand." Ruby further commented that Cappie Bertrand was a female impersonator. Ruby related to Limbaugh that "they are going to do a job for me," and Ruby remarked that "if Oswald does not do what I want him to do I am going to kill him." At that time Ruby also commented that he was "not going to harm the lady," and Limbaugh believes he was referring to Ferrie, who Ruby had previously said was Cappie Bertrand. At that same time, according to Limbaugh, Ruby asked Limbaugh, "How would you like to make $1,000 for one night?" Limbaugh asked him how he could do that, and Ruby stated it was "something dealing with politics." Limbaugh asked Ruby if it had anything to do with the President coming to Dallas, and Ruby "remarked something to the effect that it did concern the President's visit." Limbaugh asked Ruby "if it was to be the Lincoln-Booth incident repeating itself," to which Ruby replied they "were going to hurt President Kennedy and Governor Connally but were not going to kill them." Limbaugh said he told Ruby he did not want any part of that"business."

Limbaugh advised that he left Ruby's club that day, three days before the assassination, and went to Pineville, Louisiana, where he "put himself in the Central State Hospital for Mental Patients because he had had a nervous breakdown."

Limbaugh stated that Jack Ruby had had cancer since about 1951, even while Ruby was in Chicago, and he said that several of Ruby's employees, as well as some of Ruby's relatives knew Ruby had cancer. Limbaugh said he went to see Ruby when Ruby was in the Dallas Jail and he asked Ruby why he had shot Oswald. He said Ruby told him he "did it because of Jackie, John F. Kennedy, Jr., and Caroline; because the man had taken their father and had robbed us of the President of the United States." Limbaugh advised that he also visited Ruby in the hospital in Dallas about two days before Ruby died. At that time Ruby told Limbaugh he "had shot Oswald because he (Ruby) always wanted to be popular, and that now he would be famous and would be remembered in history."

Limbaugh advised he "had known Clay Shaw for nine years in New Orleans." He said that "ten years ago Shaw was very gay and liked to dress up in women's clothing." He stated he "does not think Shaw had anything to do with the assassination matter." He said that "Perry Russo is lying when he says he (Russo) saw Shaw with Oswald on the waterfront because that on the first date Russo claims he saw Shaw and Oswald, Shawwas at the Central State Hospital for Mental Patients in Pineville, Louisiana, visiting with him (Limbaugh)." He said that "on the second date Russo claims he saw Shaw and Oswald together on the waterfront, he (Limbaugh) and Shaw were having lunch together at the Court of Two Sisters Restaurant in the French Quarter in New Orleans."

Limbaugh stated that "Mr. Garrison thinks Bertrand is a man" but that "Bertrand was Ferrie dressed as a woman." Limbaugh advised he had seen Ferrie dressed as a woman in clubs in New Orleans on two occasions--once at Lafitte's Bar in the French Quarter in New Orleans, and once at a "party held in a house located in about the 1300 block of Dauphine Street, New Orleans." Limbaugh stated he could not recall the dates on which he had seen Ferrie dressed as a woman.

Limbaugh advised that the "whole assassination plot was arranged in Washington, D. C.; was carried to San Antonio, Texas; then carried to Dallas, Texas; and was carried back to Washington, D. C." He said the "persons who took part in the assassination were part of the President's tour or was arranged by part of Vice-President Johnson's group." He stated "the assassination never came to New Orleans." Limbaugh stated that, in his opinion, "Oswald shot Governor Connally and Ferrie shot President Kennedy."

The following background data were voluntarily furnished by Clyden Malcolm Limbaugh for himself:

Race:	White
Sex:	Male
Date of birth:	June 14, 1914
Place of birth:	Birmingham, Alabama
Height:	5' 10½"
Weight:	170 lbs.
Hair:	Grey - blond
Eyes:	Brown
Scars or marks:	Wears a brown mustache; Has a bullet wound on lower part of left leg.
Military service:	Two years, 1947-1949, in U. S. Army, where member of 101st Airborne Division; Serial Number was 13 276 301; received honorable discharge.

Occupation:	Singer; is known as the "American Baritone."
Employment:	Presently singing in Joe Burton's night clubs in New Orleans; in approximately two weeks Limbaugh is going to become self-employed and open the Chez Limbo Coffee Shop, which will be located on Dauphine or Carondelet streets in New Orleans.
Previous residence:	Green Briar Motel, Alexandria, Louisiana, first 7 months of 1968; came to New Orleans from Alexandria in October, 1966.

When furnishing the foregoing background data, Linbaugh advised that he had been in the Central State Hospital for Mental Patients in Pineville, Louisiana, on two occasions. He said he was "in that hospital for six months, from September, 1963, to January, 1964," and on another occasion he stayed there "about one year, from the latter part of 1964 until the first part of 1965." Linbaugh also advised that he spent about one year in a mental hospital in San Bernadino, California, in about 1950 or 1951, for a "nervous breakdown which was caused by his wife being murdered, raped, and beaten on a farm near Birmingham, Alabama, in 1947."

As Linbaugh was departing the FBI Office, he remarked that he had furnished the foregoing information to an assistant district attorney to Mr. Garrison about two weeks ago and the assistant district attorney told him that Mr. Garrison would be talking with him, but that Mr. Garrison nor any of his staff have talked further with him.

DATE: 3-28-67

FROM : M. A. Jones

SUBJECT: "THE DEATH OF A PRESIDENT"
BY WILLIAM MANCHESTER

By memorandum dated March 24, 1967, the captioned book was reviewed in which it was pointed out that, among other things, Manchester had charged that immediately after President Kennedy's assassination the FBI had assigned fifty agents to a crash investigation, wrote a "skimpy report," and then "leaked the report to a news magazine." Relative to the "leak," Mr. Tolson has asked, "What about this?"

A review of our files reflects that the Bureau's first report was completed on December 9, 1963. Through Deputy Attorney General Katzenbach, copies were sent to members of the Warren Commission, the Department of Justice and the Secret Service. In a memorandum from Mr. DeLoach to Mr. Mohr on that date it was pointed out that the Bureau told Mr. Katzenbach that it was "charging him with the safety and handling of these reports inasmuch as we have discharged our duties, other than the continuing investigation."

Manchester, in making his leak charge, is manufacturing a falsehood. This is consistent with the other snide and inaccurate remarks in his book about the FBI. The FBI did not leak the results of its investigation and did everything it could to maintain the security of its reports. Of course, the press was full of all kinds of speculation as to what the FBI was or was not finding in its investigation. Manchester offers no proof of his allegation which is just a wild statement on his part.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I thought you might be interested to know that I am giving a lecture this coming Friday on Lee Harvey Oswald, whose personality make-up I have studied for over a year. Based upon his personality structure and his early twisted childhood, I find that it is probable that he was capable of carrying out murder. To my mind Lee Harvey Oswald did not need to have any conspirators to carry out his deed. He was himself a conspirator against his own family.

I thought this information might be of interest to you. Kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

DATE: April 3, 1967

FROM : R. E. Wick

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

James Phelan, the writer for "Saturday Evening Post" who in September of 1935 did the Post cover story "Hoover of the FBI," called my office today and said he had information he wanted to pass along regarding Garrison's investigation in New Orleans. Although we have stayed away from Phelan, it was felt we should hear what he had to say and Leinbaugh in my office talked to him.

POST STORY ON GARRISON:

Phelan said that the editors of the Post decided a couple of weeks ago that he should go down to New Orleans and try to do an in-depth cover story on Garrison's investigation of the assassination. Phelan said he was given this assignment inasmuch as he had done an extensive story on Garrison several years ago, and it was felt Garrison trusted him. Phelan said his story will appear in the Post, which is scheduled to come out April 24. Phelan pointed out that his article will completely discount Garrison's entire investigation.

TRIP TO LAS VEGAS:

Phelan reported that he arrived in New Orleans right during the middle of Garrison's investigation, that he had considerable trouble getting in touch with him, but finally made contact and eventually was able to persuade Garrison to go to Las Vegas with him for two days to rest. Phelan said they got rooms at the Sands and that he had a couple of five-hour sessions with Garrison going over the entire matter. Phelan said he felt quite positive in his own mind that Garrison was leveling with him and that he felt Garrison was being completely candid.

GARRISON'S THEORY OF THE ASSASSINATION:

According to Phelan, Garrison had become obsessed with the assassination and the Warren Report. He apparently has read the report from cover to cover and he told Phelan that he flew to New York once with Senator Long from Louisiana and Long expressed doubts regarding the authenticity of the Warren Report.

Phelan said it was almost impossible to carry on a rational interview with Garrison. He would quiz him about aspects of the New Orleans investigation and Garrison was unable to stay on the subject for more than a minute or two and then would wander off and start "damning" the Warren Report. Phelan said his reaction is that Garrison is no doubt sincere in his belief the assassination was hatched in New Orleans. He said Garrison, however, is completely disorganized, impulsive and obviously knows nothing about running an investigation.

As best as he could tell, Phelan thinks Garrison's thesis boils down to the fact that the masterminds behind the assassination were David Ferrie and Clay Shaw. He described these two men as brilliant homosexuals and feels they planned the assassination for "kicks." Garrison thinks Oswald was the "decoy" and the "fall guy."

STATEMENT OF PERRY RUSSO:

Garrison gave Phelan a copy of the 6 1/2 page statement (attached) which one of his investigators, Andrew J. Sciambra, took from Perry Russo on February 27th. Phelan gave Leinbaugh a copy of this statement with the stipulation that it be "closely held" and that his identity be completely protected. Phelan said that it is most vital that this statement not get out, but he did say if the FBI felt the Attorney General or the President should see it, he had no objections.

It will be noted that the statement of Russo is rambling and disorganized. It is pertinent to note that in this statement, which is dated February 27, 1967, Russo claims that he had only seen Clay Shaw on two occasions--both briefly. Russo also claimed in his statement that Lee Harvey Oswald was the person whom he knew as Ferrie's roommate, and he mentioned the possibility that four people in Ferrie's Civil Air Patrol Unit would be able to name Oswald as Ferrie's roommate. On page 7 of this statement it is interesting to note that Russo suggested that he be hypnotized so he might have total recall on names, places and dates.

CONTINUED-OVER

PHELAN'S INTERVIEW OF SCIAMBRA:

Phelan said after obtaining this statement of Russo's, he talked with Garrison's investigator, Andrew J. Sciambra. Phelan described Sciambra as a young oddball, 31 years old who had just received his law degree. Phelan quizzed Sciambra regarding the inconsistencies in Russo's written statement as contrasted to what Russo testified to at Clay Shaw's trial. Sciambra was unable to resolve the inconsistencies and when Phelan asked him about his original notes taken when he interviewed Russo, Sciambra said he had burned them. It was Phelan's opinion that Sciambra was completely untrained and knew nothing about investigative matters.

EXAMINATION OF RUSSO UNDER HYPNOSIS BY DR. FATTER:

Phelan said that he questioned Garrison and Sciambra regarding Dr. Fatter's examination of Russo under hypnosis. Phelan said he elicited information which indicated that Dr. Fatter led Russo along, suggested answers to him, and that the whole session was a complete farce. Phelan said he is convinced in his own mind that Russo gave the story of a secret meeting in Ferrie's room under post-hypnotic suggestion. Phelan added that as far as he was concerned, it was like a hypnotist telling a subject to bark like a dog while under hypnotic trance. He was of the opinion that Fatter was a charlatan through and through.

PHELAN'S CONCLUSIONS:

After spending considerable time with Garrison, Phelan said he had reached the definite conclusion that Garrison's whole investigation was farcical and he characterized Garrison's actions as a "goddamned atrocity." Phelan said he told Garrison before leaving New Orleans that he was going to write his story for the "Saturday Evening Post" and knock down Garrison's contentions. Phelan added that this disturbed Garrison and disappointed him; however, on the whole, he took the matter rather philosophically.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be furnished the Domestic Intelligence Division for information. If this information, including Russo's statement, is disseminated, Phelan's identity should be protected, and it should be noted that this information was received on a highly confidential basis and should be closely held.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Jack Anderson came in to see me at 11:55 a.m. today. He has just returned from New Orleans where, at the invitation of District Attorney Jim Garrison, he interviewed Garrison for approximately six hours at his home. Anderson and Garrison later had dinner at the Latin Quarter restaurant in New Orleans.

Anderson stated that he went to New Orleans fully prepared to present a hostile viewpoint to Garrison. After listening to Garrison for approximately 90 minutes he began to believe Garrison's story. Anderson describes Garrison as a very convincing talker who has considerable facts at his disposal. Anderson now believes there is some authenticity to Garrison's claims and future plans. Garrison told Anderson that he will undoubtedly hold a full-scale trial within six months.

Basically, Garrison told Anderson that the entire assassination plot stemmed from David W. Ferrie, who was the genius and mastermind of the entire thing, and with Clay Shaw, who was in the beginning subsidized by the Central Intelligence Agency. Garrison has facts, as well as witnesses, according to Anderson, to prove that Lee Harvey Oswald came to the attention of Ferrie and Shaw when Oswald first arrived in New Orleans. At that point both Ferrie and Shaw recognized the fact that Oswald was a former marine, had had lengthy experience in the Soviet Union, was married to a Soviet citizen, and therefore had ties and background which would lend themselves to gaining easy access to Cuba. Shaw at this point already had been approved by the CIA, through an appropriate cut-out, to engineer a plot that would result in the assassination of Fidel Castro.

Upon learning of Oswald's background, Ferrie conceived the idea of setting up Oswald in an attempt to establish a Fair Play for Cuba organization in New Orleans. Ferrie and Shaw arranged for Oswald to obtain an office which formerly had been rented by an anti-Castro organization. Ferrie and Shaw also conceived the idea of sending Oswald to Mexico in a fake attempt to obtain permission to re-enter the Soviet Union. Garrison, according to Anderson, can prove that Oswald did this merely to establish a good atmosphere so that he could gain ready access to Cuba.

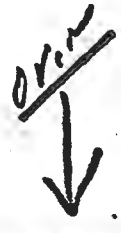
Garrison claims that it was at this point that Oswald became disillusioned and refused to go through with the plot to assassinate Castro. Upon returning to New Orleans from Mexico, Oswald advised both Ferrie and Shaw that he would not go through with their plans. Shaw and Ferrie, being guided by several Cubans in their midst, then conceived the idea (mostly because of the fiasco at the Bay of Pigs) of assassinating President Kennedy. Ferrie and Shaw believed that Oswald could be the "patsy" and instructed him to go to Dallas for the purpose of the assassination.

They also engineered the idea of him buying the gun under the name of A. J. Hidell, and the use of the mails in procuring this gun so that it would be an open, public record which could be traced to Oswald. They additionally told Oswald that he should keep certain papers in his possession which would trace back to the gun.

On the day of the assassination, Ferrie traveled to Houston, allegedly for the purpose of ice skating. Witnesses at the ice skating rink remember Ferrie as being at the rink and have indicated to Garrison that Ferrie, while he did not ice skate, did stand near a pay telephone at all times on the day of 11/22/63.

Garrison also has witnesses who will testify that Jack Ruby was the eyes and ears for Ferrie at all times. Ruby sent two of his people to Houston so that, upon the success of the assassination attempt, these two people could use a local pay phone to advise Ferrie of the success of the plot. Garrison claims that a long distance phone call from Dallas to Houston could, of course, have been traced; hence the desirability of using the local phone. Anderson stated that Ruby was definitely in on the plot and was later instructed by Ferrie and Shaw to take care of Oswald.



Anderson next sprang the "Sixty-four dollar question." He stated that at the close of Garrison's six-hour recitation of facts, he (Anderson) was of the opinion that Garrison was not only sincere, but very convincing. Anderson stated that Garrison firmly believed his facts. Anderson then told me that he bluntly asked Garrison why Garrison had not given all these convincing facts to the FBI, whereupon Garrison replied, "I got started off on the wrong foot with the FBI." Garrison added, "I would be more than willing to give the FBI everything I have and let them finish the investigation if they so desire."

Anderson told me that he, of course, is now in a position to contact Garrison and indicate that the FBI will or will not take over this case. I told Anderson that the FBI would not under any circumstances take over the case. I stated that Garrison had made it quite plain that he did not want the cooperation of the FBI and, as a matter of fact, Garrison had threatened to put handcuffs on any of our agents who approached him for information.

I also told Anderson that, while we of course would accept any information that was voluntarily given to us, we at the same time would not take over Garrison's "dirty laundry."

Anderson told me that if the Bureau had any change of policy in the above regard he would appreciate knowing about it. I told him we would keep his offer in mind; however, there definitely would be no change of policy.

Anderson also told me that he had discussed this entire matter with George Christian, the President's Press Secretary, at the White House. He stated that Christian was also convinced that there must be some truth to Garrison's allegations. Christian told Anderson to get in touch with the FBI. Anderson stated he had already been planning to do this, but that he now especially wanted to advise us of the full facts because of Christian's request.

In this connection, Marvin Watson called me late last night and stated that the President had told him, in an off moment, that he was now convinced that there was a plot in connection with the assassination. Watson stated the President felt that CIA had had something to do with this plot. Watson requested that any further information we could furnish in this connection would be most appreciated by him and the President. I reminded Watson that the Director had sent over to the White House some weeks back all the information in our possession in connection with CIA's attempts to use former agent Robert Maheu and his private detective outfit in contacts with Sam Giancana and other hoodlums, relative to fostering a plot to assassinate Castro. Watson stated this was true and he remembered our memorandum in this regard, but that if we had anything else we should by all means forward it to the White House. I told him we had no further information in this regard.

ACTION: For record purposes. There is no need to make further contact with Anderson.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN F. KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963,
DALLAS, TEXAS

The purpose of this memorandum is to set forth allegations from a Dutch correspondent indicating George De Mohrenschildt and his brother, Dimitri De Mohrenschildt, were involved in the assassination of President Kennedy.

On 4-3-67 Mr. Willem L. Oltmans, a Dutch correspondent in the United States who presently represents the Netherlands Television Company (NTC), contacted the New York Office and advised that NTC received information from an informant in Western Europe that George De Mohrenschildt was the principal organizer in the assassination of President Kennedy and that his brother, Dimitri De Mohrenschildt, was a participant in the plot and possibly was the second assassin who fired from the woods, simultaneously with Lee Harvey Oswald. The informant told NTC that an unknown individual was in the Hotel Baker in Dallas several days prior to the assassination and directed the assassination.

According to Mr. Oltmans, the Netherlands Television Company is making inquiries in the United States at this time in connection with these allegations and plans to release a story to the public via television in two or three weeks.

A check of Bureau files disclosed Willem Oltmans is a Dutch citizen and has previously come to our attention because of his association with communist-bloc diplomats, [redacted] He reportedly has traveled extensively and allegedly is a close friend of President Sukarno of Indonesia and of Fidel Castro.

and his wife were socially acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald and Marina Oswald in Dallas, Texas, in 1962 and 1963. Our investigation developed no evidence that De Mohrenschildt was involved in any way in the assassination of President Kennedy or was involved in subversive activities inimical to the internal security of the United States. At the time of the assassination, De Mohrenschildt and his wife were residing in Haiti, having departed the United States for Haiti in the Spring of 1963, where De Mohrenschildt had a contract with the Government of Haiti to make a geological survey.

Our files contain no derogatory information concerning Dimitri Von Mohrenschildt, brother of George De Mohrenschildt. Our files indicate Dimitri Von Mohrenschildt was a professor of languages at Dartmouth College, Hanover, New Hampshire, at the time of the assassination.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963,
DALLAS, TEXAS

On April 3, 1967, Mr. Willem L. Oltmans, a Dutch correspondent in the United States who presently represents the Netherlands Television Company (NTC), contacted our New York Office and advised that NTC had received information from an informant in Western Europe that George De Mohrenschildt was the principal organizer in the assassination of President Kennedy and that his brother, Dimitri De Mohrenschildt, was a participant in the plot and possibly was the second assassin who fired from the woods, simultaneously with Lee Harvey Oswald. The informant told NTC that an unknown individual was in the Hotel Baker in Dallas several days prior to the assassination and directed the assassination.

According to Mr. Oltmans, the Netherlands Television Company is making inquiries in the United States at this time in connection with these allegations and plans to release a story to the public via television in two or three weeks.

A check of our files disclosed that [redacted]

[redacted] our letter to you dated August 22, 1966, entitled "Willem Leonard Oltmans; Internal Security - Rumania," set forth a concise summary of data in our files concerning Oltmans.

For your information, we conducted a full scale intelligence-type investigation of George De Mohrenschildt and his wife, Jeanne De Mohrenschildt, at the request of the President's Commission on the Assassination. George and Jeanne De Mohrenschildt were socially acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald and Marina Oswald in 1962 and 1963. Our investigation disclosed no evidence that either George or Jeanne De Mohrenschildt was involved in any way in the assassination of President Kennedy

Hon. Richard B. Russell
United States Senate
Washington, D. C. 20515

Dear Senator Russell:

Thank you for your tactful response to my letter dated January 3. It suggests you have neither jumped to conclusions about the information furnished nor rendered any harsh judgement on me personally, notwithstanding the implications involved. If this is the case I am grateful. I feel if the authorities had exercised similar tact in dealing with me from the very beginning, the overall situation would be quite different today.

One purpose in communicating with you at this time is to advise that I am no longer certain the letter I dispatched to the Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, in September 1963 was sent via postal registry, or, for that matter, even mailed. I am not in a position to elaborate on this aside from saying the reference made in my previous letter was made in good conscience.

I think you should also be apprised that all information resulting from my surveillance of Mr. Oswald's activities, including his involvement in a conspiracy to murder President Kennedy, was passed on to Soviet officials without delay. In fact, my last report concerning him was dispatched the evening before my arrest.

Regarding the inquiry currently underway in New Orleans, I can only point out that my knowledge of Mr. Oswald's contacts and associations during the summer of 1963 indicate that he had no relationship with the persons identified as Messrs. Clay L. Shaw, David W. Ferrie and Perry R. Russo.

In closing, I would like to assure you that while I am quite aware of the stigma attached to me as a result of my defense of insanity and my present location, I am not now, nor have I ever been, incompetent or otherwise devoid of my mental faculties.

Sincerely,

ENCLOSURE

Hon. Richard B. Russell January 3, 1967

United States Senate

Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Russell:

Reference is made to the enclosed clipping which is, I believe, self-explanatory. In regard thereto I would urge rather than attempting to learn more about Mr. Oswald's stay in the U.S.S.R. and his "dealings with a pro-Castro committee," that any future inquiry be directed along more productive lines. Further, I suggest any full investigation deemed necessary be conducted by an agency that has no private axe to grind.

Mr. Oswald and his activities came under my scrutiny during 1962 and 1963. My inquiries, coupled with data furnished me by reliable sources, ascertained the following:

Mr. Oswald had no significant connection with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. He had no significant contact or relationship with so-called pro-Castro elements, though he was led to believe he had such. He maintained no significant association with any Marxist-oriented group or movement. He was not affiliated with a racist group or movement. He was not an agent or informant, in the generally accepted sense of the words, for any investigative, police, or intelligence agency, domestic or foreign. He was involved in a conspiracy to murder the former Chief Executive during the latter part of September 1963. This conspiracy was neither Communist inspired nor was it instigated by any foreign government or organization or individual representative of any foreign government.

In the summer of 1963 I received instructions to initiate certain actions against Mr. Oswald, who was the indispensable tool in the conspiracy, and thereafter deport the United States, legally. Although I did neither, I did, subsequent to obtaining a valid passport and prior to my arrest, dispatch a letter via registered mail to the Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, advising in sufficient detail of the aforesaid conspiracy and the identity and whereabouts of Mr. Oswald.

After the tragedy at Dallas, when I became convinced the F.B.I. was more concerned with keeping me in custody (and with cleaning its dirty linen) than it was in resolving facts which would have shed light on the assassination, I clammed up completely. Later, however, when I felt I was going to be railroaded into either a prison or a mental institution, I made every reasonable effort under the existing circumstances to testify before the Warren Commission. I even sent letters to the Chief, Secret Service Division and Mr. J.L. Rankin, then General Counsel for the commission.

For what little it is apparently worth now, my opinion is that the death of President Kennedy was indirectly, if not directly, resultant from a conspiracy and also due in great part to the stupidity or negligence of the F.B.I.; that Mr. Oswald definitely was the only assassin; and that his own demise was not attributable to any conspiracy of which I was cognizant.

Very truly,

Richard C. Nagell

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

On April 8, 1967, Margarita Chambers appeared at the San Antonio FBI Office and furnished the following information:

She is presently separated from her husband, Ray Chambers. She resides at 335 S. W. 29th Street, San Antonio, Texas, and is unemployed.

On about February 21, 1963, her husband, Ray, with whom she was then living at 309 S. San Eduardo, San Antonio, Texas, brought a man to their house whose name was Jimmy (phonetic) Oswald. Ray had picked Oswald up off the street at the park located near Santa Rosa and Houston in San Antonio. Oswald was trying to get some money to get to New Orleans. Mrs. Chambers explained that at the time, she and her husband each had a truck which they used in selling fertilizer and that her truck was idle because she had to care for her children. Oswald worked several days for Ray Chambers selling fertilizer. Oswald said he stayed in a hotel in downtown San Antonio for two days before he came to the Chambers' home for three nights.

Every night Oswald made long distance telephone calls. He called Houston and New Orleans and he made these calls from a phone booth at a drug store in about the 6000 block of W. Commerce. Mrs. Chambers said that she did not know for sure that he made long distance phone calls but he said he was going to and he had a lot of change.

The first night he said he was going to call Houston. He borrowed Mrs. Chambers' car to drive to the phone booth, which was only a few blocks from her house. The second night she thinks he said he was going to call New Orleans.

On the third night he was at the Chambers' house, he borrowed the car and took Irene Washburn, a friend of Mrs. Chambers, with him. Irene said he made two or three phone calls; that he was not interested in her but interested in making telephone calls. Irene said she had about three beers while he failed to finish one beer. She said he just sat and talked about his wife and child.

The following morning at about 9:00 a.m., Jimmy Oswald took Mrs. Chambers' truck to work. At about 8:30 p.m. that night she became concerned because he did not return with the truck and she started to look for her truck. She notified the police she was looking for her truck. Ray Chambers got a call from the police or someone that the truck was located about two blocks from the Greyhound Bus Depot in San Antonio on a parking lot. Mrs. Chambers advised that she and Ray went to the parking lot and she paid $.50 to get it off the lot. Ray drove the truck away and this occurred about 10:00 p.m. the same night, which was on a Saturday.

Mrs. Chambers said she figured that Jimmy Oswald got on a bus at the Greyhound Bus Depot because the truck was parked close to the depot. Subsequently, she advised, later that same night she saw an old man known to her only as Pablo who had helped Oswald load the fertilizer. She said she asked Pablo where Oswald was and Pablo said he had cashed the checks and boarded a Greyhound Bus. Pablo was about 60 to 65 years of age and is now deceased.

Concerning the checks, Mrs. Chambers explained that Oswald got some checks for payment of fertilizer which should have gone to Mrs. Chambers. Pablo said that Oswald cashed them. Oswald had given three checks to Ray Chambers which were "draftsman's checks". Ray thought they were the checks Oswald had received for the fertilizer; however, they were not. They were checks made by Oswald. Ray Chambers cashed these checks with a friend, Victor Pizzina, who cashed them at the West Side State Bank in San Antonio but they were returned because payment on them was not honored. Mrs. Chambers did not know the bank on which they were drawn but she still has these checks. They total about $53. The checks were not good. The last check was made on February 26, 1963.

She had to pay Pizzina for these checks.

The last she saw of Jimmy Oswald was the morning on which he took her truck to work, which is set forth above.

She said that he had no luggage and that he acted very strange explaining that he would take several matches to light a cigarette; that he would snap his fingers when he talked; and that he seemed to resent her children.

According to Mrs. Chambers, when Lee Harvey Oswald appeared on television right after the assassination, she and her children recognized him as the Jimmy Oswald mentioned above. She said she did not report this matter previously because she was frightened. She wants no publicity on this and is fearful for herself and for her children.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
DALLAS, TEXAS
NOVEMBER 22, 1963

On March 30, 1967, Mr. HERSHEL H. GIBBS, 917 Southwest 2nd Court, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, furnished the following information:

During the past several days, he had received frequent long distance telephone calls from an individual identifying himself as ALLEN SHAMROCK of the District Attorney's office in New Orleans, Louisiana, which calls were for his brother, WILLIAM DREW GIBBS. Mr. HERSHEL GIBBS stated that this brother is currently residing with him and is a painter by trade who travels throughout the United States.

Mr. HERSHEL GIBBS stated that according to information furnished to him by this brother, the latter, during 1963, had been working as a painter in Dallas, Texas, for a woman who was associated with JACK RUBY in the real estate business. This brother has also informed him that on November 21, 1963, he saw LEE HARVEY OSWALD and gave OSWALD cigarettes and a dollar.

Mr. HERSHEL GIBBS stated that ALLEN SHAMROCK desired that his brother travel to New Orleans and thereafter go to Dallas, Texas, for the purpose of identifying someone, possibly the above-mentioned woman and her place of business. Mr. GIBBS stated he had no further details but there was some question in his mind as to whether his brother "made up the whole story." He stated Mr. SHAMROCK had advised him that he would furnish funds for the trip of WILLIAM DREW GIBBS.

Mr. HERSHEL GIBBS stated that until about two months ago his brother had mentioned nothing to him about

NOVEMBER 22, 1963

This is to advise that Navy has developed information that a Marine Corps sergeant being checked for clearance to work on maintenance of the Presidential helicopters is a brother of Layton Patrick Martens who has been prominently mentioned in connection with New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison's current investigation of an alleged plot to assassinate President Kennedy. The Marine is Sergeant Edward Christian Martens, Jr., and Navy will advise Secret Service and the White House regarding the family relationship.

The above was learned by Liaison on 4/7/67 from Mr. J. W. Lynch, Head, Investigations Branch, Naval Investigative Service (NISO), Office of Naval Intelligence. Lynch said that Sergeant Martens, born 10/30/39 at New Orleans, Louisiana, is now stationed at Buford, South Carolina. The National Agency Check on him, including FBI file and fingerprint checks, was entirely clear, Lynch said. The information about his relationship to Layton Patrick Martens had just been brought to attention of Navy headquarters by NISO, New Orleans, Lynch added. Lynch said he doubted Sergeant Martens would be assigned to maintenance of the Presidential helicopters in view of this development, once the White House and Secret Service get the Navy's report.

ORIGINAL FILED IN

We interviewed Layton Patrick Martens on 11/25/63 in connection with President Kennedy's assassination. He was then living in New Orleans with David William Ferrie, who died 2/22/67. Martens said he did not know Lee Harvey Oswald, nor did he know of any association between Oswald and Ferrie. During the current investigation being conducted by District Attorney Garrison, he supposedly developed information of a plot, planned in the residence of Ferrie, to assassinate President Kennedy and "Martin Layton" (phonetic) was mentioned as one of the plotters. In view of the likelihood that this

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
DALLAS, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 22, 1963

An individual who is a Government employee who conducts criminal investigations advised that a source of his offered for $2,000, information that District Attorney Jim Garrison, Parish of Orleans, received a payment from a news media for an exclusive interview.

The individual advised the source that he was not in the position to pay for this type of information; however, during the conversation with this source, he developed from the source that prior to the indictment of Clay Shaw by the New Orleans Parish Grand Jury for conspiracy to murder President Kennedy, a representative of a national magazine transported $50,000 in small bills to New Orleans; and a representative of this national magazine was granted an exclusive interview.

The source alleged that the national magazine was to receive a copy of two letters that Lee Harvey Oswald, alleged presidential assassin, wrote after the assassination of President Kennedy. Individual presumes that this was while Oswald was in jail.

Source advised that he received no additional detail but is watching national publications to see if the magazine quotes an exclusive interview.

Individual further advised that Frank Grimsley, former Department of Justice Attorney, now employed by a television network, was also in New Orleans at the time of the indictment of Clay Shaw, attempting to obtain an exclusive interview with District Attorney Jim Garrison for the television network. Individual advised that Grimsley claimed that Garrison demanded a fee for this exclusive interview and later remarked that a magazine had outbid the television network and obtained an exclusive interview.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On April 21, 1967, Robert Clifford Burns, 318 East Reeves Street, Tyler, Texas, was interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at his residence.

Burns stated that in either the late summer of 1961 or 1962, possibly 1962, he was in Alpine, California, about twenty miles out of San Diego, California. He was hitchhiking to San Diego when he met a man on the side of the road whose name was Oswald. He stated it was late in the afternoon and when they finally caught a bus the rest of the way into San Diego, they went to a flop house on skid road, location not now recalled. He stated they stayed over night and then parted company the next day at a cigar store, possibly about 10:00 AM. [redacted]

During his brief encounter with this person who gave the name of Oswald, this man talked about Marxist and Communist ideology. He stated he never did see this man in person again but recalls that when he saw the television pictures of Lee Harvey Oswald being shot by Jack Ruby in Dallas, Texas, he is certain this Oswald is the same person he met in California. He recalls that this man in California using the name of Oswald made one remark to the effect that President John F. Kennedy would never live through his first term as President because someone would kill him.

Burns stated he is not certain of the date he saw this man in California but wrote the Attorney General of the United States asking for the dates Oswald was in Russia so he could help determine if this man was identical with Oswald. (Note: Burns was not furnished the dates Oswald was in Russia.)

Burns stated he was arrested in Fresno, California, during the time William Knowland and Pat Brown were running for Governor of California, and that he made a speech in Fresno against Knowland when he was drunk and was arrested and fingerprinted and charged with "making a lecture off limits." He stated this arrest could be verified and it took place two to three weeks before he met the man near San Diego who used the name of Oswald.

Burns stated he has written Jim Garrison, the District Attorney in New Orleans, Louisiana, concerning this matter to tell Garrison he is wrong about the dates and that Oswald planned to kill President Kennedy in 1962, not 1963. He further stated he thinks Garrison is "rabbit hunting" and does not have any case.

Burns stated he is an ex-narcotic addict and was once arrested in Tyler, Texas, about 25 years ago, but stated he is now under a doctor's care and is not using narcotics. When asked the identity of his doctor he became very beligerent and refused to divulge the name of his doctor and stated his doctor was a very reputable man and he did not want to get him into any trouble. Burns could furnish no other information concerning this matter.

Burns is described as follows:

Race:	White
Sex:	Male
Birth date:	December 30, 1903
Birth place:	Ben Wheeler, Texas
Height:	5'11"
Weight	174 pounds
Hair:	Brown, balding
Eyes:	Hazel
Employment:	Mother Francis Hospital, Tyler, Texas, doing housekeeping work.

It should be noted that during the investigation of the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy it was determined that Lee Harvey Oswald departed New Orleans, Louisiana, for Russia in September, 1959, and returned to the United States in June, 1962. From June to September, 1962, Lee Harvey Oswald resided at Fort Worth, Texas. No information was developed to indicate that Lee Harvey Oswald was in California during the summer of 1962.

Re memorandum Mr. DeLoach to Mr. Tolson dated 4-24-67 reporting the conversation Mr. DeLoach had with Senator Russell Long (D - Louisiana) on 4-24-67. Senator Long asked Mr. DeLoach if FBI investigation reflected to whom Dallas Post Office Box 19106 was rented to at the time of the assassination. Senator Long stated he had been requested by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison to obtain this information from the FBI. Mr. DeLoach referred Senator Long to the Department or National Archives.

FBI investigation of the assassination and of Lee Harvey Oswald did not disclose any reference to Post Office Box 19106 as of 11-22-63. We do not know the significance of this information as it pertains to Garrison's investigation.

Our investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald disclosed that he used the following post office boxes in the U. S. following his return from the Soviet Union in 1962:

Post Office Box 2915, Dallas, Texas - Rented on 10-9-62 and relinquished on 5-14-63.

Post Office Box 30061, New Orleans, Louisiana - Rented on 6-3-63 and relinquished on 9-24-63.

Post Office Box 6225, Dallas, Texas - Rented on 11-1-63 and was in use by Oswald at the time of the assassination.

assassination were initiated upon a conversation he had with Senator Long on an airplane several months ago when Senator Long expressed his doubts in the accuracy of the Warren Commission Report.

We have frequently pointed out that it is our firm opinion that Garrison's investigation was largely based upon information he received from Jack S. Martin, the mental case in New Orleans. By letter dated 11-25-63 Martin wrote to the Director, setting forth his unsubstantiated allegations concerning the assassination. Extensive investigation of Martin's allegations disclosed they had no basis in fact. It is to be noted that at this same time in November, 1963, Martin also wrote a letter to Senator Long making his same unsubstantiated allegations of the assassination.

This appears to be another effort on Garrison's part to unload his investigation on this Bureau. In memorandum Mr. DeLoach to Mr. Tolson dated 4-4-67 it was reported that Jack Anderson contacted Mr. DeLoach to report that Garrison told Anderson "I would be more than willing to give the FBI everything I have and let them finish the investigation if they so desire." It should further be noted that in recent weeks Garrison is beginning to get a bad press throughout the country. Prominent reporters and publications are attacking his conspiracy theory and a number of his key suspects and witnesses are attacking him in the press. It is obvious that Garrison has nothing and in desperation is attempting to unload his "fiasco" on the Bureau.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. DeLoach to Mr. Tolson dated 4/4/67 reporting summary of Mr. DeLoach's conversation with Jack Anderson 4/4/67. Anderson informed Mr. DeLoach that he had recently visited New Orleans District Attorney Garrison regarding Garrison's investigation. Anderson stated he was fully prepared to present a hostile viewpoint to Garrison but after listening to Garrison for 90 minutes he now believes thereis some authenticity to Garrison's claims and future plans.

The purpose of this memorandum is to set forth a brief analysis of certain items which Garrison used to "sell" Anderson on the validity of his investigation:

1. Garrison's claim: That David William Ferrie and Clay Shaw masterminded the assassination and that Clay Shaw was in the beginning subsidized by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

[redacted]

MAY 2 1967

2. Garrison's claim: David William Ferrie and Clay Shaw arranged for Oswald to get an office in New Orleans in connection with his Fair Play for Cuba activities.

Facts: Lee Harvey Oswald had no office in New Orleans. While engaged in Fair Play for Cuba activities in New Orleans during the Summer of 1963, Oswald resided at 4905 Magazine Street and maintained Post Office Box 30061. The Fair Play for Cuba leaflets distributed by Oswald carried one of these two addresses.

3. Garrison's claim: David Ferrie and Clay Shaw sent Oswald to Mexico in a fake attempt to obtain permission to reenter the Soviet Union.

Facts: Oswald's trip to Mexico in an effort to return to Russia via Cuba was no fake. Oswald's correspondence with the Soviet Embassy November 9, 1963, and information received by CIA's sensitive coverage of the Soviet Embassy and the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City gave strong corroboration to the fact that Oswald was earnestly attempting to depart the United States via Cuba.

4. Garrison's claim: David Ferrie and Clay Shaw instructed Oswald to go to Dallas for purpose of assassinating President Kennedy.

Facts: It was pure chance that Oswald was employed in the Texas School Book Depository building on the day of the assassination. He got this job through a lead supplied by a neighbor. It was not decided until November 14, 1963, that President Kennedy's Motorcade would pass directly by this building on November 22, 1963.

5. Garrison's claim: David Ferrie and Clay Shaw engineered the idea of Oswald buying a gun under the name of A. J. Hidell.

Facts: Oswald had purchased both the assassination rifle and the .38 caliber revolver which he used to kill Officer J. D. Tippit while residing in Dallas prior to moving to New Orleans in late April, 1963. The two weapons were shipped to Oswald by the firms from whom they were purchased in late March, 1963, approximately one month before Oswald moved to New Orleans from Dallas.

6. Garrison's claim: David Ferrie stood by a telephone at an ice skating rink in Houston, Texas, at all times on November 22, 1963, the day of the assassination.

RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

Facts: Our investigation disclosed David William Ferrie was in New Orleans on the afternoon of November 22, 1963. He did not leave for Houston in the company of two associates until the evening of November 22, 1963, and did not arrive in Houston until the morning of November 23, 1963. This was corroborated through motel registration and individuals who were cognizant of Ferrie's activities during this critical period.

OBSERVATIONS:

Had Jack Anderson taken the time to become even vaguely familiar with the findings of the Warren Commission as set out in its report, he would not have been a "sitting duck" for Garrison's wild accusations.

FERRIE MAY HAVE BEEN B'HAM CHURCH BOMBER

Oswald May Have Helped Plan The B'ham Bombing

David William Ferrie and two associates may have been the Birmingham Bombers. This is the thesis of a packet of information furnished to Alabama Police officials by The Councilor.

The Birmingham explosion went off under a church stairway at 10:22 a.m. on Sept. 15, 1963, instantly killing four innocent negro children and injuring 19 other persons. Preliminary investigation showed that it was obviously the work of agents provacateur, followed by a well-planned national hate campaign toward ordinary Southern whites.

The Councilor has worked on the theory that Ferrie and two other men planned the bombing to create a Hate-the-South mood as a necessary part of their overall assassination strategy. If they could get Northern whites hating Southerners, falsely marking Dixie residents as murderers, this would make it easier to convince Northerners that Kennedy's death was the work of so-called Southern "bi-

Kennedy was killed 68 days later.

DEMOLITIONS

More than three years The Councilor suspected David Ferrie of being the strange pilot in a "sympathy bombing" of a negro Masonic lodge and the fishing camp of a negro dentist in Bossier Parish. No one was hurt in these bombings, stagecrafted in April, 1961.

Immediately after the phoney Bossier bombings, a Hate-the-South campaign was launched on network television and in leftist newspapers, especially the leftwing papers in the San Francisco area. The Councilor believed that this was part of an elaborate plan to kill John Kennedy in New Orleans on May 4, 1962. Informants have told The Councilor that Ferrie and his companions were unable to make their plan work on that occasion.

Ironically, Clay Shaw was reported to have participated in the Kennedy appearance to dedicate the Nashville Avenue Wharf, as part of his duties with the International Trade Mart.

ENCLOSURE

Ferrie, a demolitions expert, apparently stole oilfield munitions for use in the Bossier and Birmingham explosions.

The New Orleans visit coincided with high tensions created by the school-mix situation. New Orleans undercover agents reported that Lee Harvey Oswald worked with integrationist groups upon his return to that city. Officially, he was still in Russia at the time of the New Orleans attempt, probably had no part in the plan.

Immediately after the Bossier Parish bombings, an estimated 44 Justice Department agents swarmed that area to harrass the parish's best citizens, including the families of elected officials. They remained for weeks without making an arrest.

Later, it was learned that the alleged "victim" had met in Washington with Attorney General Bobby Kennedy 14 days BEFORE the explosion! He is identified as Dr. C. O. Simkins, who was active in a civil rights organization known to use sympathy tactics. The Councilor DOES NOT have any information that would indicate Simkins had advanced knowledge that the explosions were coming.

Informants stated that Simkins' meeting with Bobby Kennedy took place on the afternoon of Tuesday, April 9, 1962, and that an unidentified third man was present at this meeting. The tipster said this person knows details of the Red apparatus in New Orleans and that he is personally "more important" in sinister world affairs than even Bobby Kennedy!

The Councilor was told that Lee Harvey Oswald may have helped plan the Birmingham bombing, in addition to two men who are still alive.

In 1964 an airlines pilot told The Councilor that Ferrie was a frequent visitor in Birmingham and that Oswald was a visitor with him on one such occasion.

SIMILAR AFTERMATH

The aftermath of the Birmingham bombing was similar to that of the Bossier bombing. Justice Department agents rushed to the city and hounded innocent patriots and segregationists day and night. They never made any arrests.

After the assassination of John Kennedy, a German newspaper charged that Lee Oswald was known to Bobby Kennedy and had received protection from him. Police raiders in New Orleans found a letter from Bobby Kennedy to a New Orleans Communist, James Dombrowski. Dombrowski's lawyer and treasurer (Bruce Waltzer and Ben Smith) were active with Oswald in Castro activities. This prompted a New Orleans detective, Lt. Martello, to ask Oswald if he knew Dombrowski, but Oswald evaded the question.

Ferrie was a master technician and prided himself on working out such matters as "triangulation of crossfire" and ingenius devices. There is a belief among two well-informed investigators that one of the weapons used to kill Kennedy was not a conventional rifle, but a short barreled device which used smokeless powder. It is possible that such a device was fired from a point near the south curb of Elm Street in Dallas.

Despite exhaustive search, the FBI did not find in the debris at either Birmingham or Bossier Parish any conclusive physical evidence of the bomb or timing device, and does not know how the explosive was donated. One official in the Birmingham case revealed that the only piece of physical evidence found was a fishhook.

On September 25, ten days after the church explosion, a booby trap in Birmingham blew up. It was contrived of shrapnel and apparently planned to kill police officers. Under the exact conditions, it might have killed 50 police.

Again there were not enough clues for an arrest.

COUNCILOR FURNISHED B'M POLICE CHIEF AND DIR. OF PUBLIC SAFETY WITH FACTS

The Councilor has furnished its facts, tips and background information to Chief Jamie Moore of the Birmingham police. A copy of the material was dispatched to Col. C. W. "Bill" Russell of the Alabama State Police.

Reairtel enclosed an article from "The Birmingham Independent," a weekly newspaper, its issue of April 19 - 25, 1957. The article carries the headline "Ferrie May Have Been B'ham Church Bomber." This article states that David William Ferrie and two associates may have been the "Birmingham bombers." It also contains statement "The Councilor was told that Lee Harvey Oswald may have helped plan the Birmingham bombings in addition to two men still alive. In 1954 an airline pilot told The Councilor that Ferrie was a frequent visitor in Birmingham and that Oswald was a visitor with him on one such occasion." This article also indicates that "The Councilor" has furnished its facts, tips, and background information to the Birmingham Police Department and the Alabama State Police.

This same article contains statements indicating that "The Councilor" suspected David Ferrie of being the strange pilot in a "sympathy bombing" of a Negro Masonic Lodge and the fishing camp of a Negro dentist in Bossier Parish, Louisiana. It is alleged that these bombings launched a "hate-the-South campaign." According to the article, "The Councilor" believed that this was part of an elaborate plan to kill President Kennedy in New Orleans on 5/4/62. There is also a reference in the article to one of the alleged victims of the Bossier bombings as being C. O. Simkins.

For the information of Birmingham, it should be noted that on 4/25/62 explosions occurred in a Negro Masonic Lodge in the vicinity of Lake Bistineau near Shreveport, Louisiana, a recreation camp for Negroes in a state park on Lake Bistineau, and at a summer camp owned by Dr. C. C. Stephens, a local Negro leader in the vicinity of Lake Bistineau. All of these bombings were investigated by the FBI.

The Bureau has no information indicating that Ferrie or Oswald were ever linked to any of the Birmingham bombings or the bombings at Lake Bistineau, Louisiana.

Although it appears that the information set forth in the Birmingham Independent is the result of stories concerning the investigation of the Kennedy assassination being conducted by Jim Garrison, District Attorney, New Orleans, Louisiana, this is not entirely clear. The article frequently refers to "The Councilor" as a source of its information.

If you have not already done so, you should immediately contact reliable sources in the Birmingham Police Department to ascertain the original source of the information published in the Birmingham Independent. Any material concerning the Birmingham bombings or Louisiana bombings, or other matters of interest to the Bureau which has been furnished to the Birmingham Police Department should be completely reviewed. If any substantive information not previously developed concerning captioned case is obtained, immediate investigation should be undertaken.

Within three days of the receipt of this communication advise Bureau by airtel of the results of your review of material in the possession of the Birmingham Police Department and advise the Bureau what additional action, if any, is contemplated concerning any allegations and insinuations contained in the Birmingham Independent.

NOTE:

This is the case involving the bombing of the 16th Street Baptist Church, Birmingham, Alabama, September 15, 1963, in which four Negro girls were killed.

The Birmingham Independent is a small weekly independent newspaper which described itself as "conservative." Other newspapers and news media have not carried similar articles.

David William Ferrie, recently deceased, was a person named as a conspirator in the President Kennedy assassination plot by Jim Garrison, District Attorney, New Orleans, Louisiana, during his free wheeling investigation of the Kennedy assassination. Lee Harvey Oswald was shot and killed by Jack Ruby after Oswald was arrested for President Kennedy's assassination.

MEXICAN JOURNALISTS OPERATING IN NORTHERN MEXICO AND TEXAS

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

An undated letter was received by the Austin, Texas, Police Department, and thereafter turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation on December 23, 1966.

An examination of this letter indicates that it was typed on a flimsy paper, using both sides of the paper. The letter was written in poor English and contained many mis-spelled words. The typing is faint, making it impossible to understand the full meaning of the contents. It bore the caption in Spanish "Defensa Civil del Estado de Nuevo Leon," and was addressed to the Chief of Police in the town. The envelope in which it was contained was postmarked at Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas. The letter bore a typewritten signature which appears to be FRANCISCO L. BARRAGAN, Director of "Mas Noticias," Calle Colon 108, Monterrey, Nuevo Leon.

It should be noted that "Mas Noticias" is a daily Monterrey newspaper which is located at Calle Colon 108, Monterrey, Nuevo Leon. Set out below is a summary of pertinent information contained in that part of the letter which can be understood:

MEXICAN JOURNALISTS

Spies and Bolsheviks from the Kremlin and from the Republic of Cuba are being watched in Mexico. Three of these spies are operating in your county, (apparently meaning Texas). Their names are DONACIANO PADILLA ARVIZU, FERNANDO JUAREZ JIMENEZ and CARLOS DIAS RODRIGUEZ, who is the Director of the newspaper "Temple." FERNANDO JUAREZ JIMENEZ is the Director of the "Reportero," and PADILLA is a representative of "Todo" and other newspapers. These men are not true newspapermen, but are really frauds and cheats who use trickiness in order to outwit businessmen in various cities along the border of the Rio Bravo (Rio Grande River). They work in connection with Mr. ERNESTO GARCIA, who is Director of the "Laredo Post" in Laredo, Texas. Their boss in Monterrey is CARLOS HUERTA, a Cuban citizen who has offices at 620 Zaragoza Street Sur, Office #110. He is the Director of the newspaper "Lente Politico," and is the Director of a communist cell of newspapermen, which is a part of the Communist Party of Mexico. He receives orders from Communist Cuba.

These men travel to the United States, principally to the State of Texas, where they have connections with the communists of the State of Texas. They claim that they are newspapermen, but they are really Cuban communist spies. They sell advertising to businesses along the border, but actually cheat the businessmen through trickery. I know this because they go to a certain bar in Monterrey and have been heard to say that they were in Dallas, Texas, with OSWALDO, the killer of KENNEDY, when the homicide occurred. They all claim they sell advertisement, but they are really spying for the Cuban government.

Here in Monterrey we know that CARLOS HUERTA is not Mexican, but is Cuban. Maybe he bought his Mexican identification papers. PADILLA was born in El Paso, Texas, and is not Mexican. They live here in Monterrey. In another letter we shall give other names of spies like ARTURO SILVA, PORFIRIO ARIZPE MORENO, ALFREDO TREVINO GONZALEZ, TOMAS JORGE RUIZ, HUMBERTO GARCIA RUIZ, RAUL COUDA LOPEZ, CATARINO JUAREZ, ANTONIO FRIAS MUNOZ and HUMBERTO FRIAS MUNOZ, and also the Director of "La Voz de Monterrey." All of these people have the same office on Zaragoza Sur. They work like spies for the Cuban government and use trickery against American businessmen.

We trust you will take a personal interest in the above matter in the interests of the American businessmen in the different cities in the State of Texas along the Mexican-U.S. border, and in the interests of Mexican-U.S. friendship.

Yours very truly,

FRANCISCO L. BARRAGAN

JOHN GEORGE APPEL,
also known as
"Red" Appel

As a result of his request to be contacted by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, John George Appel was interviewed at the Salt Lake County Jail, Salt Lake City, Utah, on May 5, 1967, by Special Agents Charles J. Shepherd and William J. Geiermann.

Appel said he is serving [redacted]
He claimed he had not slept for three days.

Appel said he has served [redacted] He was released from the Louisiana State Prison during October, 1963. About a week after his release, which would be the last week in October or the first week in November, 1963, he went to Thompson's Restaurant in New Orleans, Louisiana, to make a contact to get narcotics. He said Thompson's is a known hangout for narcotics addicts. While there Appel was contacted by a girl named Shirley, last name unknown, who was previously unknown to him. Shirley was an addict and introduced him to two other addicts named Lee and Larry, who were also in the restaurant. They both spoke Spanish and were "sinister" looking. Appel showed Shirley how to forge a prescription, and she left for about half an hour. During this time Appel conversed briefly with Lee and Larry. He said he had never seen these individuals before but that Lee claimed to know him. When Shirley returned, she had three bottles containing narcotics. She gave one each to Lee and Larry, and he and Shirley took the third bottle and left the restaurant. They went in Shirley's car to a place near the waterfront in New Orleans, where they each took a shot. Later in the day when they parted company, Shirley indicated she wanted to meet Appel again; however, they never did get together.

At the time of the assassination of President Kennedy several weeks later, Appel realized the photographs in the newspapers of Lee Harvey Oswald were identical with the Lee he had met in Thompson's Restaurant. He insisted there is no question in his mind about this.

Appel described Larry as:

Race	White
Sex	Male
Nationality	Puerto Rican
Age	About 28
Height	5'10"
Build	Thin
Weight	About 135 pounds
Hair	Black, receding
Complexion	Olive
Characteristic	Wearing a goatee.

He described Shirley as:

Race	White
Sex	Female
Nationality	American
Age	About 27
Height	5'4"
Build	Thin
Weight	110 pounds
Hair	Dyed red
Remarks	She was a "beatnik type," who claimed to be from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, but drove a car bearing Texas plates.

Appel said that during the time they were in Thompson's Restaurant, he, Lee, Larry and Shirley were all under the influence of narcotics.

Subsequently Appel was again [redacted] and served time in jail. Thereafter he went to California for a few days and came to Salt Lake City in February, 1966. He has been in Salt Lake City since that time but declined to discuss his activities.

In December, 1966, Appel was with his girl friend, whom he identified only as Mary Jane. When they came back to Appel's apartment, there was a note on the door indicating something to the effect that "What are you doing with this square chick? (Signed) Someone who loves you very much." He did not know at that time who had written the note; however, later in the day as he was writing a prescription, it dawned on him that the handwriting on the note was the same as the handwriting on the prescription filled out by Shirley in New Orleans over three years before.

The following day Appel and Mary Jane were eating in a restaurant when a woman, identified by Appel as Shirley, came in, sat down nearby and stared at Appel. Appel and Mary Jane left immediately. Later that same day Appel was arrested and has been in custody since that time.

Shortly after his [arrest] Appel spent thirty to forty days in the Utah State Hospital at Provo, Utah. During that time he read an article in a magazine written by someone named Epstein, in which there was some indication that there was more than one assassin of President Kennedy. Appel immediately "felt in his bones" that Larry, whom he had seen with Oswald in New Orleans a month before the President's death, was also an assassin. Appel said he had no further evidence in support of this contention but that the feeling was so strong he felt compelled to tell someone about it.

JOHN GEORGE APPEL,
also known as
"Red" Appel

Appel stated that about two weeks ago he was taken into court for another appearance, and as he left the courtroom, he observed Shirley and Larry in the corridor. They made no sign of recognizing him. He said it is his feeling, however, they have followed him to Salt Lake City, because he observed Larry with Lee Harvey Oswald a month before the assassination.

Appel stated he is well known in New Orleans to police and to narcotics addicts. He said he is also acquainted with District Attorney James Garrison and that it is his intention to contact Garrison in the near future and relate the above information to him.

Following is a description of John George Appel:

Race	White
Sex	Male
Nationality	American
Birth date	November 17, 1933
Birthplace	New Orleans, Louisiana
Height	5'7"
Weight	160 pounds
Hair	Brown, crew cut
Eyes	Hazel
Military service	None
Tattoos	"Red" outside right wrist; "Apple" outside left wrist; hand with yo-yo on a string on left upper outer arm.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director
The Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In Mark Lane's recent book several facts, or what Lane claims to be facts are stated.

On pages 311-312 of the paperback edition (second printing) I take this quote in regard to Oswald being employed by a government agency.

> The Comission made the decision to ask the Texas Attorney General, District Attorney Wade, and any other Dallas officials who had knowledge of the allegations to come at once to Washington and secretly present what they had heard. There should be absolutely no publicity. (This is a quote from Congressmen Ford's book Portrait of the Assasin , 13-14, as in Lane's book)
> The Texas officials slipped into the nation's capital with complete anonymity. They met with Lee Rankin, and other members of the staff and told what they knew. The information was that Lee Oswald was actually hired by the FBI; that he was assigned the undercover-agent number 179; that he was on the FBI payroll at two hundred dollars a month starting in September 1962 and that he was still on theipayroll the day he was apprehended in the Texas Theatre after having gunned down Officer J.D. Trippit! The officials returned to Dallas after their visit on Friday, January 24. Their presence in Washington was unknown to the press or the public.

Further, in Lane's book, page 314---

> (talking about going to you inconnection with Oswald, and the FBI.)
> REC 51
> The Chief Justice then expressed the opinion that the scources of infomation should be questioned at the outset. (ftnte 25-Pot. of the Assn.) He noted that 'Lee (Rankin), on the other hadd, felt it would be the better part of the cooperation to go over and see Mr. Hoover'. (Ftnte 26, ibid 25) Hoover could be asked, the Chief Justice said, 'if he can supply us with information to establish these facts (in the other quote) are not true'. (Ftnte 27. ibid 25)
> The purpose of the proposed investigation had been outlined by Rankin: it was intended to assure the public that Oswald had not been affiliated with the Government. (Ftnte. 28-NY Times 1/12/64) Unlike Rankin however, the Commissioners who spoke at the meeting evinced a desire to initiate a serious inquiry into the charges. (Footnote 29- Port. of the Assn.-25) -- yet the investigation they proposed and specifically authorized never took place.

A friend of mine told me that in a recent issue of Playboy magazine, there was an interview with Lane. I looked at this interview. In it Lane tells Playboy that he has a signed letter from J. Edgar Hoover stating that Oswald had badge number 179, and was employed by the FBI.

Would you please kindly answer my following questions:

1. Taking my first quote-is this ture?
2. Was L. H. Oswald ever hired by the FBI, or is it classified at this time?
3. (a.) Was Lee H. Oswald, or someone fitting his description in any way an undercover agent (b.) with badge number 179, or is it classified?
4. (a.)Was Lee Harvey Oswald ever on the FBI payroll (b.)Was his starting salary $200. a month, or is it classified at this time?
5. For how long was Lee Harvey Oswald on the FBI payroll, or employed by the FBI, or is it classified?
6. (a) Did you ever write Mark Lane a letter (b.) to do with Lee Harvey Oswald (c) that stated something to the effect that Lee Harvey Oswald was employed by the FBI at some time?
7. Was Lee Harvey Oswald ever employed by the FBI?
8. Was a man identified as someone else than Lee Harvey Oswald, but fitting Lee Harvey Oswald's description in any respect, employed by the FBI?
9. To whoom did undercover badge number 179 belong to from September 1962 to the time of Oswald's death?
10. Did Oswald ever have in his possesion badge number 179, or any other number?(Lee Harvey Oswald)
11. Do you honestly think that (a) Oswald killed Kennedy (b) alone (c) Was there a plot?

If there is any question in the group that is impossible for you to answer, I would appreciate your telling me, by return mail those questions which cannot be answered (with a reason) and please answer those that can be answered.

Thank you so much for all the time and consideration, as well as effort you have put into this letter. I am,

Numerous, scurrilous and false allegations have been made against the Bureau by Lane in his book and no effort has been made to refute each of his irresponsible and ridiculous charges. Although Gamberg asks numerous questions, they all revolve around the issue as to whether Oswald was associated with the FBI and it is believed this is an appropriate reply.

During late afternoon of 5/4/67, Mr. ROBERT STEVEN, the Administrative Assistant to the Ambassador, brought Mr. BERNARD DIEDERICH to my office. Mr. DIEDERICH is the representative in Mexico of Time-Life magazine.

Mr. DIEDERICH explained that his bureau chief at Time-Life headquarters had been pushing him on a lead previously sent down to him relative to a picture which had appeared in a previous issue of Esquire magazine in an article relating to the OSWALD case. That picture was a reproduction of one which had appeared in the Warren Report and the sub-caption was to the effect that "this was not OSWALD." The Esquire article, with which the Bureau is undoubtedly familiar, stated that this picture had been furnished to the FBI in Dallas by CIA on the day of President KENNEDY's assassination. The Time-Life bureau chief had instructed DIEDERICH to ascertain in Mexico the facts concerning this photo.

Mr. STEVEN explained that Mr. DIEDERICH felt that to satisfy his bureau chief he should make inquiries concerning this matter with the Embassy and Mr. STEVEN, therefore, brought him to my office.

I advised Mr. DIEDERICH that I had no comment whatsoever to make concerning the matter which appeared to satisfy Mr. DIEDERICH, who obviously understood that no comment could be made here. Mr. DIEDERICH further stated that he considered this request from his bureau chief to be unreasonable and stated that he was going to suggest that if Time-Life wanted any comment or clarification concerning the Esquire article and the photograph, such inquiry should be made at Washington.

The above is submitted for the Bureau's information inasmuch as some Time-Life representative may contact the Bureau relative to this matter.

ASSASSINATION OF
PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
DALLAS, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 22, 1963

At 10:37 a. m. on April 6, 1967, Carlos Quiroga, 3134 Derby Place, New Orleans, Louisiana, appeared at the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and furnished the following information:

Carlos Bringuier, an active anti-Castro Cuban, has been told by Alberto Fowler, investigator for District Attorney James Garrison, that Garrison plans to serve a subpoena on the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), in order to make that organization produce a photograph which was supposedly taken by them of Lee Harvey Oswald and a companion entering the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City. Fowler states that the individual accompanying Oswald is an agent of the CIA.

On April 22, 1967, Quiroga was interviewed by Hugh Aynesworth, correspondent of Newsweek Magazine. Quiroga told Aynesworth everything he knew concerning the Garrison investigation and in turn Aynesworth advised him that the attorney of Alvin Beaubouef, former associate of David W. Ferrie who is one of the figures in the Garrison investigation, has a tape recording of an investigator of Garrison's office offering a $3,000 bribe to Beaubouef to change his testimony regarding Garrison's investigation. Garrison is reportedly aware that this tape recording exists and is now blackmailing Beaubouef with a photograph which shows he and David Ferrie engaged in sexual activities. Aynesworth indicated that an article critical of Garrison's inquiry will shortly appear in Newsweek.

On April 29, 1967, Quiroga met with Walter J. Sheridan, correspondent for the National Broadcasting Company (NBC). Sheridan indicated to Quiroga that he was aware of the existence of the aforementioned tape recording and that he had attempted to acquire it from Beaubouef's attorney but the price wanted for it was too high. Sheridan stated that NBC plans a television program regarding the Garrison investigation.

ENCLOSURE

Quiroga indicated that both of the above correspondents were directed to him by Sergio Arcacha Smith, a key figure in the Garrison probe and former Cuban exile leader in New Orleans. Quiroga advised them, as he had advised District Attorney Garrison's office when given a lie detector test, that he, in the past, has in no way been affiliated with the CIA or the FBI.

Quiroga advised that when the investigation by District Attorney Garrison first began he thought that Garrison might actually have something, but it is now his belief that Garrison's investigation is a witch hunt. Initially in the investigation, Quiroga made available to Garrison an album which he, Quiroga, and his wife had compiled regarding the, "Crusade to Free Cuba," in the New Orleans area. Since that time, names appearing in this album have continually appeared in the Garrison investigation.

Quiroga indicated that the, "Crusade to Free Cuba," was organized in New Orleans to raise funds among Cuban exiles and American citizens to fight against the Castro Goverment.

Bringuier advised Quiroga that Alberto Fowler had told him that Garrison wanted to have lunch with him in the coming week, but this may now be called off because Bringuier has filed a law suit against Garrison and Author Jack Wiesberg. Bringuier reportedly has photographs which he recently took of Jack Wiesberg and a Garrison investigator taking photographs of Bringuier's bar, "La Habana," on Decatur Street in New Orleans

Jack Wiesberg is the author of Whitewash.

Quiroga stated that he and his wife will travel to Texas in the next week, during which he will visit Arcacha Smith. Quiroga plans to question Arcacha Smith concerning his knowledge of munitions thefts from bunkers in the New Orleans area.

FROM : Mr. W. A. Branigan

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963,
DALLAS, TEXAS

The purpose of this memorandum is to summarize information furnished to our New Orleans Office on May 6 and 7, 1967, by Gordon D. Novel. Novel is the individual who was involved in a burglary of ammunition at Houma, Louisiana, and who now is residing in Ohio. New Orleans District Attorney Garrison is attempting to have Novel returned to New Orleans for questioning.

Novel claims that Andrew Blackmon, a former close associate of David William Ferrie, allegedly was present at a meeting in Ferrie's apartment when Novel, Sergio A. Smith, Ferrie and others planned the burglary at Houma, Louisiana. Novel states Blackmon very likely will be Garrison's star witness in the latter's attempt to prove a conspiracy in the death of President Kennedy.

Novel believes New Orleans District Attorney Garrison is directly responsible for the death of David Ferrie. Novel claims he saw Garrison leave Ferrie's apartment at approximately 5:30 a.m. February 22, 1967, the day Ferrie was found dead.

Novel also claims that Garrison believes a laundry truck owned by Louis Rabel, a New Orleans resident, was involved in transporting Sergio Smith, David Ferrie, Novel and several others to Houma, Louisiana, to commit the burglary. Bureau files indicate Rabel probably identical with an individual who was head of the Cuban Revolutionary Council in New Orleans, Louisiana, which was an anti-Castro organization with headquarters in Miami.

Novel claims Garrison reportedly has in his possession various letters to substantiate his conspiracy theory. These letters consist of: 1. Letter from Clay Shaw to David Ferrie; 2. Letter from David Ferrie to Jack Ruby; 3. Letter from ~~Jack Ruby to~~ Lee Harvey Oswald; 4. Letter from former Attorney General Robert Kennedy to David Ferrie supposedly thanking Ferrie for the latter's anti-Castro activities. Novel added that in the near future New Orleans District Attorney Garrison will accuse the FBI of possessing originals of the four letters listed above. This is false. We know of no such letters.

Memorandum to Mr. W. C. Sullivan
RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
62-109060

Novel claims Garrison plans to ask FBI Agent presently under subpoena (Special Agent Regis Kennedy of the New Orleans Office) two questions: 1. "Was David Ferrie a communist acting under an anti-communist cover?" 2. "Did an FBI Agent to your knowledge have a meeting with Gordon Novel on February 20, this year?"

In connection with the two questions listed above, our files contain no information indicating Ferrie was a communist. He was very active in anti-Castro activities in New Orleans. Regarding question number two, Novel did contact our New Orleans Office on February 20, 19[illegible] and volunteered information to Special Agents J. Peter Chase and Max M. Marr. The data volunteered by Novel concerned his participation with Ferrie, Sergio Smith and others in robbing an ammunition bunker at Houma, Louisiana.

Novel also states Garrison is interested in locating a William Wayne Dalzell who allegedly was contacted by Special Agent Regis Kennedy of our New Orleans Office and a Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) employee by the name of Logan. Our files disclose Dalzell was active in anti-Castro activities in New Orleans in 1961. Our files reveal that in January, 1963, Dalzell was hospitalized at a Louisiana State mental hospital. New Orleans Office advised that Special Agent Regis Kennedy has interviewed Dalzell in the past concerning Cuban matters. He has not been interviewed by Special Agent Kennedy or any other Agent of the New Orleans Office concerning the assassination of President Kennedy. Dalzell's present whereabouts are unknown. Special Agent Kennedy does not know a CIA agent by the name of Logan.

OBSERVATIONS:

Novel's reliability is highly questionable. He has frequently made charges which have been found to have no basis in fact. He reportedly claimed ties with CIA which CIA denied. It seems incredible that if Novel saw Garrison leave Ferrie's apartment at 5:30 a.m. on the day Ferrie was found dead that he would not have come forward with this information up till now. He has contacted our FBI Offices several times since February 22, 1967, and did not volunteer such data.

ACTION:

The data furnished by Novel will be summarized in a letterhead memorandum and disseminated to the Department, Secret Service and CIA.

GARRISON ALSO CONFIRMED A COPYRIGHTED STORY APPEARING IN THE STATES-ITEM ON FRIDAY OF LAST WEEK WHICH REVEALED THAT GARRISON'S INVESTIGATION CENTERS AROUND EVIDENCE OF CIA INVOLVEMENT IN KENNEDY'S DEATH. THE DA SAID HE HAS LEARNED THE TRUTH BEHIND THE ASSASSINATION AND CHARGED THAT THE CIA HAS KNOWN ALL ALONG THAT THE WARREN COMMISSION'S REPORT IS UNTRUE IN ITS CONCLUSION THAT KENNEDY WAS SHOT BY LEE HARVEY OSWALD ACTING ALONE.

ACCORDING TO THE ARTICLE, GARRISON ~~BY~~ ASSERTED THAT THE INTELLIGENCE AGENCY DUPED THE COMMISSION BY FLOODING ITS MEMBERS WITH A GUSH OF IRREVELENT INFORMATION IN ORDER TO ~~C~~OSURE THE TRUTH.

GARRISON SAID OSWALD WAS NOT A COMMUNIST, AS DEPICTED BY THE WARREN COMMISSION BUT IN ACTUALITY, A REVOLUTIONARY WORKING CLOSELY WITH ANTI-CASTRO ORGANIZATIONS IN NEW ORLEANS AND DALLAS, USING HIS COMMUNIST COVER AS A MASK FOR HIS REAL ACTIVITIES.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
DALLAS, TEXAS,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963

Gordon Dwane Novel, fugitive witness in District Attorney James Garrison's investigation into the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, telephonically contacted the New Orleans Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) on May 7, 1967, and advised that in the near future, District Attorney James Garrison will accuse the FBI of possessing originals of five letters; namely, letter from Clay Shaw to David Ferrie; letter from Lee Harvey Oswald to Clay Shaw; letter from David Ferrie to Jack Ruby; letter from Jack Ruby to Lee Harvey Oswald, and letter from former Attorney General Robert Kennedy to David Ferrie.

Novel further informed that District Attorney Garrison is in possession of the typewriter owned by David Ferrie in 1963 and is also in possession of the typewriters of Clay Shaw, both personal and business. According to Novel, the business typewriter was the one reportedly used by Shaw's secretary, (first name unknown) Hug.

Novel advised that District Attorney Garrison plans to ask the FBI Agents who have been subpoenaed the following two questions: (1) "Was David Ferrie a communist acting under an anti-communist cover?" (2) "Did an FBI Agent, to your knowledge, have a meeting with Gordon Novel on February 20, this year?"

Novel further advised that District Attorney Garrison's Chief Investigator William Gurvich has a close relative presently residing in Russia who was instrumental in designing the Russian Mig Aircraft.

ENCLOSURE

Novel further informed that Garrison plans to subpoena an attorney (first name unknown) Martin, who is allegedly associated with the Central Intelligence Agency.

Novel stated that the other Ex-Marine involved in the 1961 burglary of the munitions bunker at Houma, Louisiana, is probably Layton Martens.

The New Orleans Times Picayune, a daily New Orleans newspaper, in its issue of March 10, 1967, reported that Mrs. Josephine Hug, 4500 Elysian Fields, New Orleans, Louisiana, who formerly worked for Clay L. Shaw at the International Trade Mart, was subpoenaed to appear before the Orleans Parish Grand Jury in connection with District Attorney Jim Garrison's presidential murder probe on Thursday, March 9, 1967.

The New Orleans States-Item, a daily New Orleans newspaper, final edition of April 5, 1967, reported that Layton Patrick Martens, roommate of David Ferrie at the time of the assassination of President Kennedy on November 22, 1963, and who was arrested with Ferrie two days later, was indicted on that date by the Orleans Parish Grand Jury for perjury in connection with the investigation of the murder of President Kennedy.

NOTE: Mackey is currently serving a sentence in San Quentin after his conviction for manslaughter in Los Angeles County during 1/65. This conviction resulted from his association with the masochistic homosexual whom he beat with a belt and later stabbed 189 times. While in prison, he became a chief suspect in another killing within the prison where the victim was stabbed at least 72 times. Prison officials intercepted a letter written by Mackey directed to another prisoner which revealed Mackey's disjointed thinking regarding sexual perversion and his alleged association with Lee Harvey Oswald. As a result, Bureau previously furnished San Francisco authority to interview Mackey regarding his association with Oswald. When interviewed, Mackey indicated the entire story of his association with Oswald was a complete fabrication. Mackey is now being tried for the prison murder. The testimony of our San Francisco Agent may be needed only if statements made by Mackey regarding his alleged association with Oswald should arise and such statements were fabricated. Clarification is being requested from San Francisco concerning information furnished by a District Attorney Investigator alleging copies of a hotel register show Oswald resided at a hotel a few days before the assassination. This appears to be in error as Oswald was known to have lived in a rooming house in Dallas and the District Attorney's investigator could possibly be referring to Mackey who resided at the hotel.

THE ARTICLE REPORTED THAT THE DISCLOSURE WAS MADE IN A FORMAL ANSWER TO DEFENSE MOTIONS FILED IN JUDGE EDWARD A. HAGGARTY, JR.'S COURT SEEKING THE RETURN OF SHAW'S NOTEBOOK, WHICH WAS SEIZED MARCH ONE, ALONG WITH FIVE CARTONS OF MATERIALS FROM SHAW'S FRENCH QUARTER HOME.

THE ARTICLE REPORTED THAT REPLYING TO AN ATTACK ON THE RELEVANCE OF THE NOTEBOOK, GARRISON'S FORMAL ANSWER SAID THAT "WHILE THE STATE CONSIDERS THE OTHER ITEMS RELEVANT ALSO, THE ADDRESS BOOK IS SO CONNECTED WITH THE ISSUE THAT IT WOULD BE AN INJUSTICE TO ALLOW IT TO BE RETURNED, WITH THE POSSIBILITY THAT IT MIGHT BE DESTROYED FOREVER." GARRISON WAS QUOTED AS SAYING SHAW'S ADDRESS BOOK "CONTAINS A UNIQUE ADDRESS WHICH WXISTS ALSO IN THE ADDRESS BOOK OF LEE HARVEY OSWALD AS PRINTED IN THE WARREN COMMISSION EXHIBITS, VOLUME SIXTEEN, PAGE FIFTYEIGHT."

ACCORDING TO THE ARTICLE, THE DA /DISTRICT ATTORNEY SAID THE BOOK CONTAINED THE SAME DALLAS POST OFFICE BOX REFERENCE, " P. O. BOX ONE NINE ONE ZERO SIX". HE FILED PHOTOGRAPHS TO SUPPORT THE ASSERTION.

GARRISON ALSO CLAIMED THAT SHAW'S NOTEBOOK CARRIES A NOTATION WHICH IS A "REFERENCE TO ONE LEE ODOM OF DALLAS, TEXAS." THE ARTICLE CONTINUED THAT GARRISON SAID "WHAT MAKES EVEN MORE SIGNIFICANT, THIS INTERESTING CONCURRENCE OF ADDRESS, IS THE FACT THAT IN NINETEEN SIXTYTHREE, THERE EXISTED NO SUCH POST OFFICE BOX NUMBER IN DALLAS". THE PLEADING ALSO STATED "WHEN TWO PARTIES EACH HAVE PRECISELY THE SAME NON-EXISTENCE OR FACTUAL NUMBER IN THEIR RESPECTIVE ADDRESS BOOKS, THE POSSIBILITY OF COINCIDENCE IS REMOVED BECAUSE OF THE UNIQUENESS OF A SELECTED NON-EXISTENT NUMBER.

"THE FACT IS THAT P. O. ONE NINE ONE ZERO SIX HAS BEEN FOUND TO BE A CODED DESCRIPTION OF AN UNPUBLISHED PHONE NUMBER IN DALLAS, TEXAS IN NINETEEN SIXTYTHREE. THE CODE INVOLVED IS ONE WHICH IS USED IN OSUALD'S NOTEBOOK QUITE SYSTEMATICALLY, APPARENTLY FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONCEALING PHONE NUMBERS HE REGARDED AS SENSITIVE".

END PAGE THREE

THE ARTICLE REPORTED THAT THE PLEADING GOES ON TO INDICATE THAT THE POST OFFICE BOX NUMBER "INEVITABLY AND UNAVOIDABLY" PRODUCES THE UNPUBLISHED TELEPHONE NUMBER OF RUBY DURING SIXTYTHREE.

IN THE PLEADING, GARRISON SAID WITH MANY FIVE DIGIT NUMBERS FOUND IN OSWALD'S NOTEBOOK, THE ORDER OF THE LETTERS ABCDE IS TRANSPOSED, FOR THE PURPOSE OF CODING, TO ACBDE. GARRISON SAID A REVERSE PROCESS IS USED IN UNSCRAMBLING. REFERRING TO THE PREFIX TELEPHONE EXCHANGE LETTERS, THE GARRISON PAPERS DECLARED "OSWALD INVARIABLY USES THE DIAL OF THE TELEPHONE AS CONVERSION MACHINERY TO CONVERT LETTERS INTO NUMBERS AND BACK AGAIN. HE SYSTEMATICALLY ADDS THE NUMBER VALUES RESULTING IN A SUM WHICH CAN BE LATER BROKEN DOWN INTO THE REAL EXCHANGE LISTING". ACCORDING TO THE ARTICLE, BY USING THE TELEPHONE DIAL FOR CONVERSION OF LETTERS TO NUMBERS, GARRISON EXPLAINED, THE LETTERS "P.O." BECOME THE DIGIT THIRTEEN. THE ONLY EXCHANGE WHICH THE NUMBER THIRTEEN CONVERTS TO IN DALLAS IS WHITEHALL.

END PAGE FOUR

THE POST OFFICE BOX NUMBER FOUND IN THE SHAW AND OSWALD ADDRESS BOOKS, ONE NINE ONE ZERO SIX, WHEN UN-SCRAMBLED, BECOMES ONE-SIX NINE ZERO ONE. BY SUBTRACTING ONE THOUSAND THREE HUNDRED FROM ONE - SIX NINE ZERO ONE, THE RESULT IS ONE - FIVE SIX ZERO ONE, WHICH ACCORDING TO GARRISON PLEADING WAS RUBY'S UNPUBLISHED TELEPHONE NUMBER AT DALLAS IN NINETEEN SIXTYTHREE.

IN EXPLAINING THE USE OF THE NUMBER THIRTEEN HUNDRED FOR FINAL CONVERSION THE DA SAID OSWALD'S CODE USES AN INVARIABLE PROCESS WHICH IS "ALWAYS DONE THE SAME WAY". HE SAID OSWALD USED A STANDARD OUTSIDE NUMBER FOR THE "OBVIOUS PURPOSE" OF SUPERFICIALLY CHANGING THE APPEARANCE OF THE DIGITS. ACCORDING TO THE ARTICLE, GARRISON SAID THE TWO STANDARD NUMBERS USED BY OSWALD IN CODING NUMBERS IN HIS ADDRESS BOOK ARE FOUR THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND THIRTEEN HUNDRED".

Current news media and the "States-Item," New Orleans, Louisiana, May 12, 1967, reported that District Attorney James Garrison told the Criminal District Court that his office had broken a telephone number code which appeared in the notebooks of Lee Harvey Oswald and Clay L. Shaw.

Replying to a motion to return property seized from the defendant Shaw, Garrison claimed that the books of Shaw and Oswald listed the same Dallas Post Office Box reference, "P.O. Box 19106." Garrison claimed that by transposing certain digits and subtracting the number 1300, the result was WHitehall 1-5601, Jack Ruby's unpublished telephone number in Dallas in 1963. Allegedly, the address book of Clay Shaw contained the notation "Lee Odom, P.O. Box 19106, Dallas, Tex."

BACKGROUND:

On April 24, 1967, Senator Russell Long (D-Louisiana) called Assistant to the Director DeLoach stating he needed help from the FBI and he added that Garrison had specifically requested him to obtain information from the FBI, noting that Garrison wanted to cooperate fully with the Bureau. Specifically, Garrison wanted to find out to whom Dallas Post Office Box 19106 was rented at the time of the assassination. The Senator was referred to the Department or to the Archives of the United States. At that time we contacted our Dallas Office who advised there were no five-digit Post Office Boxes and all those used by Oswald had only four digits.

The item of current interest in Garrison's probe appeared on page 57 of Oswald's address book. Contrary to Garrison's claim, this notation in the Russian language was not Post Office Box 19106, but was translated as DD19106. All of the items contained on page 57 of Oswald's address book appeared to have been made by him during his stay in Russia from 1959 to June, 1962.

For example, among the items listed was a reference to the Department of Visas and Registration in Moscow. A telephone number listed on the page (K-45026) was listed to the Moscow City Executive Committee. Another reference was made to a hotel where Oswald and his wife, Marina, stayed for a few days prior to their departure from the Soviet Union to return to the United States.

The other two items appearing on the page are what appear to be telephone numbers DD19106 and DD10206 or 19206.

During our investigation of the assassination, at our request the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) analyzed these data for us. CIA determined that there was no telephone listing DD19106 in Moscow. However, there was, in 1962, a telephone listing for D-19106 which was listed to a railroad station restaurant in Moscow. It may be speculated that Oswald, in his comparatively unfamiliarity with the Russian language, could have erroneously copied the double "D" as a prefix to a Moscow telephone listing.

WEAKNESSES OF GARRISON'S CLAIM:

It would appear that Garrison is again trying to introduce gimmicks to support his claim that Shaw was involved in a conspiracy with Oswald and Ruby. The number WHitehall 1-5301 is publicly identified in the Warren Commission Report as an unpublished number of Jack Ruby. This is Commission Exhibit number 2300. Although Garrison has come up with Jack Ruby's unlisted telephone number, it is noted that he could have taken any number in Oswald's address book and by adding or subtracting digits he could have arrived at the same result.

In connection with Garrison's allegation that Oswald's address book contains coded material, immediately after the assassination we had Oswald's address book thoroughly examined by our Cryptanalysis Section and no discernible evidence of any coding was noted therein. As indicated above, numerous telephone numbers in the notebook were readily identified.

With respect to the notations appearing in Clay Shaw's address book, we have never examined his effects nor have we investigated or interviewed Shaw in connection with the assassination. We recognize there is a possibility that Garrison may be manufacturing evidence and, since he has had Shaw's effects in his possession for several weeks, he or a member of his staff could have inserted a fraudulent entry into Shaw's address book. In this connection, it is to be noted that on May 10, 1967,

CONTINUED - OVER

Mr. Edward Wegmann, one of Shaw's attorneys, contacted Inspector T. E. Bishop of this Bureau and indicated he was concerned that Garrison, by means of bribery of witnesses and the like, may make a mockery of justice and secure a conviction of Shaw through such means.

THINGS THAT COULD BE DONE:

(1) That Cryptanalysis Section review the so-called coding procedures of Garrison to determine their authenticity. (2) That we go again to CIA and determine if CIA possesses any additional information that might help identify the entry appearing on page 57 of Oswald's address book which is of current interest.

OBSERVATIONS:

This may be another attempt by Garrison to involve the Bureau in his investigation. This would be a grave mistake.

ACTION:

This is submitted for information. If you agree, we will take the affirmative steps previously outlined. A Xerox copy of page 57 of Oswald's address book is attached.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
DALLAS, TEXAS

The New Orleans "States-Item" newspaper for May 12, 1967, carried an article entitled "Coded Ruby Phone Listing in Oswald, Shaw Notes--DA." A copy of this article is attached. The article reports that New Orleans District Attorney James C. Garrison claims that the address books of Clay Shaw and Lee Harvey Oswald listed the same digits, 19106, concerning a Post Office Box in Dallas. Garrison further claims that by interposing the digits and subtracting the number 1800, the result was telephone number Whitehall 1-8801, which Garrison identified as Jack Ruby's unpublished telephone number in Dallas in 1963.

For your information, on April 24, 1967, this Bureau received an inquiry from Senator Russell Long of Louisiana which appears to be related to this particular matter. Senator Long, in his contact with this Bureau, stated that he had been specifically requested by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison to contact the FBI and determine to whom Dallas Post Office Box 19106 was rented at the time of the assassination of President Kennedy. No information was furnished to Senator Long but he was referred to the Department of Justice or to the National Archives of the United States.

ADDENDUM: Dallas

The number of current interest in Garrison's probe appears on page 57 of Lee Harvey Oswald's address book. A copy of this page is attached. Contrary to Garrison's claim, this notation was contained among the number of items in the Russian language which appear in Oswald's address book and is not Post Office Box 19106 but instead is translated as BD19106. All of the items contained on page 57 of Oswald's address book appear to have been made by him during his stay in Russia from 1959 to June, 1962.

For example, among the items listed on page 57 is a reference to OVIR which is the Department of Visas and Registration in Moscow. A telephone number listed under this particular entry, K-48023, was listed to the Moscow City Executive Committee. Another reference on this page is to the Hotel Cosmhino in Moscow. On December 4, 1963, when questioned about this item, Marina Oswald, wife of Lee Harvey Oswald, informed our Agents that she and her husband stayed at the Hotel Cosmhino for a few days prior to their departure from the Soviet Union in 1962.

Three other items appearing on page 57 appear to be telephone numbers DD19103, DD10203 or DD19203 and D19107.

During the course of our investigation of the assassination, we made available to the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), for analysis, a copy of the address book of Lee Harvey Oswald. In connection with the telephone number, DD19103, CIA determined there was no telephone listing in the then current Moscow telephone directory for such number. However, there was a listing for telephone number D19103 which was listed to a railroad station restaurant in Moscow. It appears possible that Lee Harvey Oswald, in his comparative unfamiliarity with the Russian language, could have erroneously copied the double "D" as a prefix to a Moscow telephone listing.

It appears that Garrison is again attempting to introduce gimmicks into his investigation of the assassination to support his claim that Clay Shaw was involved in a conspiracy with Lee Harvey Oswald and Jack Ruby. The telephone number Whitehall 1-5801 is publicly identified in the Warren Commission Report as an unpublished telephone number of Jack Ruby. This is Commission Exhibit number 2300. Although Garrison has come up with Jack Ruby's telephone number in his so-called coding procedures, it is recognized that Garrison could have taken any number in Oswald's address book and by adding or subtracting certain digits to or from such number could have arrived at the same result.

We have carefully examined and analyzed Garrison's decoding procedure as set forth by news media. Garrison's coding system appears to involve a complex manipulation of two letters and five digits which Garrison misinterprets as "PO 12103"

FBI/DOJ

The Attorney General

and thereafter arbitrarily changes by adding telephone dial equivalents for "P" and "O," or 7 plus 6 equals 13. Garrison then arbitrarily splits this 13 into two segments of 9 and 4 which he recognizes on the telephone dial to "WH."

In a similar arbitrary fashion, Garrison changes 19106 by rearrangement into 16901 and then subtracts 1300 from this rearranged number to obtain 15601. Combining the two manipulations, he comes up with "WH 1-5601" which was Jack Ruby's telephone number. Garrison's purported decipherment is an arbitrary manipulation of letters and numbers to arrive at a predetermined conclusion and no technical validation for it can be found.

We recontacted CIA on May 15, 1967, to ascertain if CIA possesses any information which would shed additional light on Russian telephone number MA19106. CIA has informed us that it possesses no additional information in this particular matter.

With respect to the notation appearing in Clay Shaw's address book as noted in the enclosed newspaper article, please be advised that this Bureau has never examined Clay Shaw's personal effects nor have we investigated or interviewed Clay Shaw in connection with the assassination of President Kennedy. We recognize that there is a possibility that Garrison may be manufacturing evidence and, since he has had Shaw's effects in his possession for several weeks, he or a member of his staff could have inserted a fraudulent entry into Shaw's address book.

In this connection, your attention is called to my letter of May 3, 1967, which set forth data volunteered to this Bureau by Mr. Hugh Aynesworth, correspondent for "Newsweek" magazine. On page two of a memorandum which was attached to my letter of May 3, 1967, it is reported that Mr. Aynesworth alleged that one John Cancler, a notorious burglar, had told attorneys of Clay Shaw that he was released from jail in a "deal" provided he would enter Shaw's residence and "plant" something. Aynesworth further reported that Garrison had resorted to intimidation and bribes in order to develop favorable testimony for his investigation.

COD'ED RUBY PHONE LISTING IN OSWALD, SHAW NOTES—DA

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison told Criminal District Court today his office has broken a telephone number code which he said appears both in the notebooks of Lee Harvey Oswald and accused Kennedy murder conspirator Clay L. Shaw.

The result of the decoding, he asserted, was that the 1963 unpublished telephone number of Jack Ruby at Dallas was discovered in both Oswald's and Shaw's notebooks.

Garrison made the disclosure in a formal answer to [illegible] filed in Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr.'s

THE ANSWER WAS MADE BY THE DA to a motion filed by the defense last week. Defense attorneys sought the return of Shaw's notebook, which was seized March 1 along with five cartons of materials taken from teh defendant's handsome French Quarter home.

Garrison has charged that Oswald, Shaw and the late David W. Ferrie conspired here in September, 1963, to kill President John F. Kennedy at Dallas.

Shaw was indicted March 22 and is free on $10,000 bond. Oswald, the man the Warren Commission named as Kennedy's lone slayer, was shot to death by Ruby in the Dallas Police headquarters two days after Kennedy was killed Nov. 22, 1963.

Replying to a state attack on the relevance of the notebook, Garrison's formal answer said:

"While the state considers the other items relevant also, the address book is so connected with the issue that it would be an injustice to allow it to be returned, with the possibility that it might be destroyed forever."

Oswald's address book, from which Garrison said the code was broken, is published in full in the Warren Commission report.

Garrison said Shaw's address book "contains a unique address which exists also in the address book of Lee Harvey Oswald, as printed in the Warren Commission exhibits (Volume XVI, Page 58)."

THE DA SAID the books contain the same Dallas post office box reference, "P. O. Box 19106." He filed photographs to support the assertion.

Shaw's notebook, he added, carries a notation which is a "reference to one Lee Odom of Dallas, Texas."

"What makes even more significant this interesting concurrence of address is the fact that in 1963 there existed no such post office box number in Dallas," the Garrison answer contends.

"WHEN TWO parties each have precisely the same non-existent or fictional number," the DA's answer continues, "in their respective address books, the possibility of coincidence is removed because of the uniqueness of a selected none-istent number.

"The fact is that P. O. 19106 has been found to be a coded description of an unpublished phone number in Dallas, Tex., in 1963. The code involved is one which is used in Oswald's notebook quite systematically, apparently for the purpose of concealing phone numbers he regarded as sensitive . . ."

The pleading goes on to indicate that the post office box number "inevitably and unavoidably" produces the unpublished telephone number of Ruby during 1963.

IN THE PLEADING, Garrison said that with many five digit numbers found in Oswald's notebook, the order of the letters A B C D E is transposed, for the purpose of coding, to A E B D C Garrison said a reverse process is used in unscrambling.

Referring to the prefix telephone exchange letters, the Garrison papers declared:

"Oswald invariably uses the dial of the telephone as conversion machinery to convert letters into numbers and back again. He systematically adds the number values resulting in a sum which can be later broken down into the real exchange listing."

By using the telephone dial for conversion of letters to numbers, he explained, the letters "P.O." become the digit 13. The only exchange which the number 13 converts to in Dallas, he added, is WHitehall.

The post office box number found in the Shaw and Oswald address books, 19106, when unscrambled, becomes 1-6901, the DA continued. By subtracting 1300 from 1-6901, he added, the result is 1-5601.

ACCORDING TO the Garrison pleading, Ruby's unpublished telephone number at Dallas in 1963 was WHitehall 1-5601.

Explaining the use of the number 1,300 for final conversion, the DA said Oswald's code uses an invariable process which is "always done the same way."

He said Oswald used a standard outside number for the "obvious purpose" of superficially changing the appearance of the digits.

"The two standard numbers used by Oswald in coding numbers in his address book," Garrison said, "are 4900 and 1300."

Observers noted that Oswald lived in the 4900 block of Magazine when he was here in the summer of 1963. Shaw's home is in the 1300 block of Dauphine.

IN OTHER ACTION today, the state replied to a defense motion for a bill of particulars and prayer for oyer in the case of Layton Patrick Martens, a one-time Ferrie roommate charged with perjury.

Martens, a 24-year-old college student, was indicted for allegedly lying in connection with the mysterious disappearance of munitions from a dump at Houma in 1961.

Asst. DA Richard V. Burnes defended the rule of secrecy surrounding grand jury proceedings and said the defense was not entitled to a transcript of the complete grand jury hearing at which Martens is accused of lying.

He said Martens was warned that "failure to tell

Re memorandum Branigan to Sullivan dated May 14, 1967, in captioned matter which summarizes data in news media relating to a code system being utilized by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison to connect Lee Harvey Oswald, Clay Shaw and Jack Ruby (attached).

Garrison's decoding procedure as set forth by news media was examined in the Cryptanalysis-Translation Section. That Section reports that it would appear to involve a complex manipulation of two letters and five digits, which Garrison misinterprets as "PO 19106" and thereafter arbitrarily changes by adding telephone dial equivalents for "P" and "O", or 7 plus 6 equals 13, then arbitrarily splits this 13 into two segments of 9 and 4 which he re-equates on the telephone dial to "WH." In a similarly arbitrary fashion, Garrison changes 19106 by rearrangement into 16901 and then subtracts 1300 from this rearranged number to obtain 15601. Combining the two manipulations he comes up with "WH 1-5601" which was Jack Ruby's telephone number. Garrison's purported decipherment is an arbitrary manipulation of letters and numbers to arrive at a predetermined conclusion and no technical validation for it can be found.

We again contacted the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) on May 15, 1967, to ascertain if CIA possesses any additional information which might set forth additional light on the Russian telephone number DD19106 which appears on page 57 of Lee Harvey Oswald's address book. This is the item which Garrison is attempting to claim is an abbreviation for Post Office Box 19106. CIA advised that it possesses no additional information regarding this particular Russian telephone number.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN F. KENNEDY
11-22-63
DALLAS, TEXAS

Reference is made to memorandum 5-14-67 which summarized data in news media relating to a code system being utilized by New Orleans District Attorney Garrison to connect Lee Harvey Oswald, Clay Shaw and Jack Ruby.

Garrison claims that Oswald's notebook contains an entry relating to Post Office Box 19106. He also stated that the address book of Clay Shaw contains an entry for a Lee Odon, Post Office Box 19106, Dallas Texas.

Actually, the entry in Oswald's notebook is PO19106 and is an entry apparently made by Oswald while he was in Russia to record a telephone number in Russia. In connection with Garrison's reference to "Lee Odon, Post Office Box 19106, Dallas, Texas," a check of Bureau files and files of the Dallas Office disclosed no information identifiable with Lee Odon. On 5-16-67 Special Agent (SA) Robert Gemberling, Dallas Office, advised that while there are no post office boxes in Dallas at this time containing five digits, such five-digit post office boxes did exist in 1963. According to SA Gemberling, it was his recollection that the first two digits designated a postal zone and it was his belief that Post Office Box 19106 would have been a postal box in the Lemon Avenue area of Dallas.

RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY

It will be noted that the New Orleans 'Times-Picayune" newspaper of 5-16-67 carried an article wherein the attorney for Clay Shaw advised that the defense would prove that the listing by Oswald was a Russian phone number and that he would bring Odom into court.

ACTION:

This is further evidence of the falsity of Garrison's claims.
